"Peruna is one of the best remedies for grippe, cold in the head, sore throat, nervous headaches, and coughs that has ever been discovered. After the use of one bottle in my family I don't feel safe without Peruna in my house."

In a later letter Mrs. Hayes says: "I am never without a bottle of Peruna in the house. I find it good for most every complaint. I give the children Peruna if they have a cold and it always relieves them. I do think I could find a better remedy to give my children."

It is so easy to criticise things about which the critic knows nothing.

Take, for instance, Peruna. There are plenty of people who are willing to say Peruna is this and that, who never have tasted Peruna, and have never known anything about its effects upon the human system.

There are people who say, and probably believe, that Peruna is used as a beverage by some people. It would be the easiest thing in the world to show the falsity of such a belief.

Let any one who reads this go to the drug store and purchase a bottle of Peruna. If, after attempting to use it as a beverage or to take it in doses sufficient to produce anything like intoxication, if after putting it to this test such a person is still of the opinion that Peruna is a disguised alcoholic drink, he will be warranted in making such a statement. Practically, Peruna cannot be so used. Any one who knows anything about Peruna by personal use knows that Peruna is a medicine. The very label on the bottle, giving the principal active ingredients, furnishes indisputable proof that Peruna is a medical compound. We will be willing to guarantee that no normal person can or will use Peruna as a beverage. If any one thinks this remedy can be so used one trial will be sufficient to disabuse his mind.

Peruna is a great and useful family medicine. It is used in multitudes of homes. It has become a standard remedy for various petty ailments in the home. It is especially useful for climatic diseases. It is an excellent remedy for colds. It is a well-tried remedy for catarrh in all forms.

We have a multitude of testimonials recommending it for colds, for bronchitis, for various affections of the respiratory and alimentary organs.

"Cures All Catarrhal Diseases."

Mr. I. W. Kightlinger, Cambridge, Neb., writes: "I don't have any more trouble in my throat, and have not had a headache for four weeks.

"Peruna is the very medicine for catarrh. There is no medicine like it in the United States, for I have tried a good many before using Peruna.

"I will keep it in my house to guard against catarrh, as it cures all catarrhal diseases."

THAT OTHER INTERVIEW.

Kaiser's Suppressed Statements Contain Startling Information.

London, Nov. 21.—Exactly what Emperor William said on world politics to Dr. William Bayard Hale, distinguished clergyman, traveler and writer, on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Bergen, Norway, July 19, in the famous interview which was suppressed, is now being given out.

The Emperor talked to Dr. Hale for several hours. He was very bitter against England and full of the "yellow peril." He declared that England was a traitor to the white man's cause. He predicted she would ultimately lose some of her colonies through her treaty with Japan.

Germany and the United States would, however, find a solution of the eastern question. There is a complete understanding between Emperor William and President Roosevelt on this point. They intend to divide the east against itself by becoming the recognized friends of China.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—Acting upon the advice of Chancellor Von Buelow, Count Von Stolberg, the president of the Reichstag, will endeavor to prevent all reference to Emperor William, for the present in the Reichstag discussions.

This course has been decided upon in order to quiet public feeling and to lessen the opportunities for agitation.

Prince Von Buelow was reported yesterday to be nervously depressed and more than ever disposed to resign from office when a good opportunity arises.

LEGAL COCK-FIGHTS.

Kentuckians Will Decide Merits of Birds In Court-room.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 21.—In a pit built on the judge's rostrum in the courthouse in this city there will be several cock-fights in the first week in December for the purpose of determining the best game cock in Kentucky.

This is a new departure in judging cocks at a poultry exhibition, for heretofore it has been beauty, size, and style that have won the blue ribbon, but this year the best and gamest "scrapper" will be rewarded.

The fights will be conducted in the presence of all comers, men, women and children, and they will have an opportunity to see, many of them for the first time in their lives, the principal pastime of Southern men.

It is a felony to fight cocks in Kentucky, so that when the county officials are among the spectators the cocks will spar with muffs, but when the county officials are not on duty there will be something doing in the oldest courthouse in Kentucky.

Killed In Quarry.

Kingston, Nov. 21.—Robert Moxley, aged 28, unmarried, was killed in Tait's stone quarry yesterday. He was working near a derrick when one of the legs fell, striking him on the head and jamming him against the boiler. He lived two hours.

ROBBED ON STREET.

Nervy Hold-Up Man Robs Montreal Man on Busy Street.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—One of the most barefaced hold-ups of recent years was attempted yesterday afternoon in a thickly-populated section of the business part of St. Henri ward.

R. G. Tolmie, cashier of the Colonial Bleaching & Printing Co., while on his way from the bank to the firm's promises in St. Henri, carrying a satchel containing $4,000, was stopped by a man who snatched the valise, and, pointing a revolver at Tolmie, exclaimed: "I'll shoot you if you follow me."

Then the hold-up man wheeled round and ran along Notre Dame street, the cashier in hot pursuit. The thief seemed to lose his nerve and dropped the bag containing the money, climbing up a hayloft. Although every effort was made to effect his capture he is still at large. The streets were crowded at the time of the affair, and it is regarded by the authorities as one of the boldest attempts at robbery for a long time.

TO HAVE ANNUAL FAIR.

Montreal Is Planning Exhibition Bigger Than Toronto's.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—At a meeting of ex-mayors and prominent citizens yesterday it was decided to hold a permanent exhibition in Montreal each year from now on like the exhibition in Toronto, only it is to be held on a much bigger scale.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has promised $50,000 towards the accomplishment of the object, and the Provincial Legislature $10,000.

Although no site has been decided upon, it is more than likely that the exhibition may go on St. Helen's Island, which, some day or other will be connected with Montreal by a bridge.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

The local option campaign in Brantford may knock out the proposed old boys' reunion there next summer.

A swindler got next to several Sarnia folks by selling three tons of chesnut coal for $7.50, cash in advance, and skipping out.

The Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' Association have announced that no reduction of wages would be made on Dec. 17, as anticipated.

Charles E. Keniston, head of a large real estate concern on Fifth avenue, New York, committed suicide in the Hotel Seville by shooting himself in the temple.

At Brownsville, Pa., one man was blown to pieces and five others probably fatally injured when a quantity of dynamite exploded in the shaft of the Simpson coal mine.

Several hundred warlike Moros have gathered near Malabong, P. I. A column of five companies of infantry with a couple of guns has been sent out to make a reconnaisance.

A Mena, Ark., despatch says that fifteen miles of solid fire is sweeping through the Kiamish Mountains, in Eastern Oklahoma, and threatens to destroy the Arkansas national forest reserve.

W. L. M. King Goes to Pekin.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—An interesting interchange of correspondence has taken place between Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and W. L. Mackenzie King, M.P. elect for North Waterloo, in respect to King's appointment as one of the British commissioners on the anti-opium commission, which is to meet at Shanghai on Jan. 1.

The net result of correspondence is that King, who raised some objections to being sent, has given way, and will sail from Vancouver on Dec. 2nd.

The appointment was made by the British Government, and received the approval of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues.

New Sheriff of Essex.

Windsor, Nov. 21.—Joseph Eugene d'Avignon, Windsor, has been appointed sheriff of Essex County, in place of the late Sheriff Iler. Mr. d'Avignon is well known in the county. He has been a member of the Ontario Pharmacy Board. He is a member of the English Church and a prominent Mason.

James Reed, ex-M.P.P., Addington, has been appointed registrar of Lennox and Addington in place of the late Stephen Gibson.

Taft Cabinet Not Formed.

Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 21.—"I wish you would say that my Cabinet is not made up nor started. No one has been decided upon for any place in it, and no offers of any Cabinet position have been made to anyone."

This was the response of President-elect Taft yesterday to the statement from Minneapolis that Frank B. Kellogg had been invited to become Attorney-General in the Taft Cabinet.

Why He Stabbed Her.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Pasquale Vespe, an Italian youth who stabbed Mrs. Sangole in the neck with a stiletto on Thursday, pleaded not guilty to a charge of attempted murder yesterday. He said he tried to kill the woman because she threatened to kill him. He had lived with her for five months, he said, and now she wanted to get rid of him.

The woman may die.

At Oswego, Benjamin Lee, a private of the 24th United States Infantry, stationed at Fort Ontario, was arrested, charged with the murder of Emma Leicher, with whom he has lived as his wife.

Historical Pageant.

Windsor, Nov. 21.—The executive of the Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich Old Boys' Association is planning to have an historical pageant in connection with the re-union celebration next August.

It is proposed to reproduce the landing of the Jesuit Fathers at Sandwich, nearly two centuries ago, and also hold a sham-battle to represent the stirring scenes which took place in this vicinity during war of 1812.

A Madri Gras festival and military demonstration will likely be held in Windsor, and a regatta at Walkerville.

McVety Criticises Lemieux Act.

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—In a statement given out yesterday, J. H. McVety, organizer of the International Machinists' Union, says regarding the recent C.P.R. machinists' strike.

"The laws of the country were not enforced, mandates of the Railway Commission were disregarded, and if the Government had publicly stated its intention of supporting the company, very little more practical assistance could have been given."

Mr. McVety freely criticizes the Lemieux Act.

TAKES OVER HEINTZMAN AGENCY

J. M. Greene Co. Will Have Charlotte Street Showroom and Carry Latest Music in This Stand.

The J M Greene Music Company, has taken over the agency for the city of Peterborough and this district of the Heintzman Company, who have had an office on Charlotte street opposite the White House since the new buildings were thrown open for use. The Greene Company will handle the Heintzman pianos which are considered as good as any that are offered on the market to-day. There are many who consider them the best and their new agents should have no difficulty in placing more of them in Peterborough homes. Mr. J M Greene stated to a reporter that in the Charlotte street showrooms he would also add phonographs, etc., and would carry a fine line of only the latest music. The other classes of music will be kept on the shelves of the George street store.

LECTURE IN FRENCH GIVEN AT CONVENTION

Madame Fiedler the Speaker—Anti-Tuberculosis the Subject.

Examiner Special

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Madame Fiedler, a prominent French worker, gave an interesting lecture in French last evening at the Tuberculosis Exhibition which is being held in Auditorium Hall under the auspices of the Montreal Tuberculosis League. Her subject was the anti-tuberculosis movement in Europe and America, and she gave an exceedingly interesting account of the work which is being carried on by the French societies. Demonstrations of different methods of treatment and of the proper cooking of food for patients were given in the afternoon.

CROWDS ATTEND THE MONTREAL EXHIBITION

Being Held Under Auspices of the Tuberculosis League.

Examiner Special

Montreal, Nov. 20.—A large crowd yesterday afternoon visited the Tuberculosis Exhibition which is being held under the auspices of the Montreal Tuberculosis League in Auditorium Hall. In the morning a number of children from the city schools were given an opportunity of viewing the exhibits. In the evening a lecture on "Sanitoria and Auxiliary Work" was delivered by Mrs. Newcombe, of New York. Mrs. Newcombe told of the work accomplished in the various sanitoria of the United States and gave a detailed description of the systems of treatment employed.

Music and Drama

"HARRIGAN'S" SUCCESSOR

Recognizing the success that his famous son "Harrigan," made in popular fancy, and which proved probably the hit of "Fifty Miles From Boston," George M. Cohan has written a new one in his latest production "The American Idea," and has given it the name "Sullivan." From its catchy air and the general style of the music and words it should spread as far as did Harrigan. In fact in New York and the larger cities in America it is already being whistled and sung everywhere, and not a few copies have crossed the border. To those who like Cohan's style it should readily appeal. Not long ago in the theatre in which it is now appearing a special night was held for the clan Sullivan when all the front seats of the orchestra circle were occupied by members of the clan. This is one of the many ways in which Cohan boosts himself, and at the same time delight his admirers.

Instead of "Harrigan, that's me," the expression in the new piece is "Sullivan, that's my name." The music is entirely different from the other.

A Consensus Of The Work Covered By The Camera Club

A Member of the Peterborough Organization Writes of Benefits to be Derived by Being a Member—Meetings of the Club.

HOPE FOR EXHIBITION

The advantages offered for those who pursue the making of photos as a pastime, are not considered by those who use the kodak and hand camera, or there would not be a hall big enough in Peterborough to hold those who wish to attend their meetings.

Photography is essentially conducive to sociability, and it may be said with due regard to truth, that amateur photographers are among the most sociable people on earth, consequently constituting a class particularly available for club membership, and it is astonishing to note, how small a percentage of the ever increasing brotherhood of the camera, is to be found in the organizations devoted to their interests. This can only be explained by, that the real advantage to be derived from our fraternal societies have not been fully appreciated by the unconnected thousands who press the button and leave fate to do the rest.

For Beginners

It is safe to assume that few beginners ever enter the photographic field without a hope of ultimately comprehending something of the higher phases of the art, or if it is taken up only as a passing fad will sooner or later awaken a commendable ambition to know more of its inner mysteries. Let such a beginner meet with fair success, working as an independent or unattached recruit of the great army of the camera, and it will not be long before he will reach a point where further advancement will seem well nigh impossible to him, for without the association of others, more proficient in the art, he will fall uncorrected into habits that only seem to confirm him in his faults, and render his pictures an unchanging series of conventional and stereotyped views. Whereas if in the earlier days of his novitiate he is fortunate enough to join a camera club, he will not only find associates ready and able to save him from many of his earlier failures, but will find encouragement and inspiration from the success of experts, daily achieved and exhibited in the Camera Club. All this is only the personal side of this matter as affecting individual members, while the true and lasting motive for maintaining our photographic clubs should be found in a desire to advance the interests of the art and encourage its experimentation, and raise the standard of photography to higher artistic and scientific planes. The majority of photographic clubs are so limited in membership and finances that their habitations partake of little more than work rooms, while in clubs founded upon other ideas, the social side is always placed well to the front.

The local club is endeavouring to bring together those interested, for social and mutual benefit to each other, and to the photographic art. They hope to have salons, and exhibitions both private (for members only, and public, papers and addresses on subjects which will be a benefit to all, and demonstrations on the many finer phases of the art.

The club meets on Tuesday evening next in the Tate Taylor Optical Co.'s parlours, and hope to enlist as many as possible in the mutual benefit, which may be derived by co-operation and association.

The Exposure Of Some Of The Illegitimate Games That Are Frequently Seen At Fairs

How the Three-Shell-Game is Played—The Ban Has Now Been Placed Upon it as Well as on the Magic Knife.

PLAYED IN PETERBOROUGH

Folks at country fairs who are accustomed to "take in" everything on the noisy midway, and who often lose a quantity of their hard-earned cash in unsuccessfully attempting to beat the "spellers" behind the stand in their own illegitimate games, may be pleased to learn the inside facts in connection with a few of them. The Examiner has been furnished with some interesting facts by a Peterborough man, which expose the famous "Three Shell Game," "The Chiv," and some others, all of which have at one time or another been accomplished with success in Peterborough. The writer says:—

I cannot see why there are so many holdups and highway robberies committed as there are. Everyday you pick up a paper and the first thing your glance falls on is a robbery by force. Now a much easier way for the man who wants money and don't care how he gets it is (if he is clever enough) to try some of the fakes old or new, for the woods are full of suckers. Only the other day I saw the old three-shell game, or the "bucks" played right in a George street establishment, and the artist who manipulated the shell just cleaned up $33.00 in about five minutes, and he was a rank amateur at that. But it goes to show you that all the suckers are not dead yet.

I will explain in as few words as possible the way some of the fakes and grafts are worked, and I want to say right here I am speaking from experience, not as one who lost his bank roll, but as one who has worked them all. But no more of it for mine. I have said good-bye to it all and from now on it's me for the pickaxe. I never knew but one or two grafters who were successful in life. One of them owns a big circus and the other seven theatres and all the rest — well I won't say anything about these, only the world lost some of the brightest lights when these men did not put their talents to later use.

Three Shell Game

Now to explain a few of the frauds that are worked on the guileless public. First comes the three shell game. It consists of three men — the manipulator and two boosters. They open up the joint in a place where there are a large number of people, and soon a sucker butts in and then the game starts. The man behind the joint shifts the shells and the pea around, and you see the pea under the edge of shell No. 2. Then he bets five you can't find it, and the booster takes up the bet. When he takes his money out of his pocket, the man behind the joint touches the shell with the pea under it and shifts No. 1 around to the place where No. 2 was. The booster picks up the shell he thinks it is under, but he is apparently "stung." Mr. Sucker now gets into the game for he knows it is under No. 2, but lo! it has gone under No. 3 and here goes five more hard earned "bucks" for the bunch and so on. My advice is keep away from it all.

The Magic Knife

Then the "Chiv" is another old timer but a money getter just the same. Mr. Faker is standing in a prominent place with an innocent pocket knife in his hand. He nails the first passer-by and shows him the new trick knife he has, and asks him to try and open it, but he can't. The sucker is then shown the trick and is able to open it at will. "Johnny Grafter" No. 2 drops in on the scene, and is shown the knife, but he fails to open it. He bets "Mr. Easy Money" he can't open it either, and of course Mr. E. Money takes the bet only to find out that try as he may, the knife won't open. The trick is that instead of one there are two ways to lock the "chiv," or knife. It's funny how they fall but 'tis true and always will be: There are suckers born every minute.

I suppose some of you have bought a gold ring from a poor man who has got a letter from home stating that his rich aunt is just about to pass away and he is unable to get work. He is compelled to sell his wife's wedding ring. It looks good and feels heavy. It is engraved on the inside "from H. to L., 1903," and you buy it for half the value of the gold, only to find it is—well they cost $1.60 a dozen in New York City. I have known some hoop spillers to sell 40 to 50 rings or hoops as the spiller calls them, in a day.

The Magazine Game

The meanest graft that is worked is the magazine and premium, and one the ladies always fall to easily. The way it is worked is this: First a store is rented in the town or city, and filled up with valuable furniture, cut glass and fine china, and many other useful and costly things. Secondly, the agent gets busy: He calls on you and secures your subscription to the magazine at 10 cents per week for one year and then you are entitled to one of the handsome premiums; but after you have taken it for about forty-nine weeks you find the store closed, your money gone as well as the grafters. You have about 20 cents worth of old paper left.

From time to time I will write these sketches, so that you will see how most all the "skin" games are worked, and perhaps these articles may save you some of your hard earned money. In conclusion I might say: "Always look before you leap."

NEW CURLING RINK ASSURES INCREASED MEMBERSHIP FOR THE LOCAL CLUB THIS WINTER

Mr. G. N. Brown is Again Elected President--The Advantages Now Offered Will be Greater Inducement to Get into the Game—Fees are Not High.

THEY WILL HAVE FINE ICE

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club was held last night in the chambers of the Dominion Bank, and judging from the enthusiasm shown by the members the coming season will likely see greater interest than ever in the good old game.

The president, Mr. C. N. Brown, occupied the chair, and conducted the meeting along lines that were of most importance.

The financial statement was read, showing a balance to the club's credit on deposit of $30.36. The amount received from membership fees last year was $334.

Mr. R. Hicks read a statement of what the approximate expenditure of the club during the coming season would be. There will be a rental for the rink which will have to be paid to the Curling Rink Company—electric light, janitor, waterworks, etc. making a total of $980. At this rate the club should raise through membership fees $1,000.

Officers Elected

The officers of last year were re-elected as follows:—

Hon. President—T. F. Matthews.
President—C. N. Brown.
Vice-President—R. M. Waddell.
Sec.-Treasurer—Harry Foote.
Representative Members — W. G. Ferguson and T. F. Matthews.
Chaplain—Rev. E. A. Pearson.
Executive Committee—R. Neill, W. G. Ferguson, J. H. Conal, J. E. A. Fitzgerald and C. Rutherford.

The membership committee was selected as follows—Messrs. P. Lang, W. E. Talbot, A. H. Webb, D. Hall, R. M. Waddell, R. Neill, R. Hicks, D. Davidson, Harry Foote, Thomas Brightman, and W. G. Ferguson.

It was decided that the Rink Company and the Curling Club should be conducted jointly. A certain sum will be paid the company for interest on their investment, etc., while the club will furnish all conveniences. This will continue for a year or two when it is likely the company will become an independent body and will charge a straight rental, and the curlers will have to pay for no conveniences.

It was announced that the Curling Club had placed an order for forty pair of new stones, which will cost $15.75, and all curlers who desire to purchase stones can do so by communicating with Mr. W. G. Ferguson.

A Large Membership

There should be from 200 to 300 supporters of the roarin' game in this city who will be glad to subscribe to the sport, and who will turn out this winter and take advantage of the opportunity to curl on probably the best sheet of ice in Ontario. There will be plenty of room for all. The membership fee for this season has been placed at $8, which is considered, very reasonable when one considers the advantage to be obtained.

OF IMPORTANCE TO CARPENTERS

Will Vote on General Officers at the Meeting on Monday Night—Large Attendance Expected.

THE LOCAL UNION AFFAIRS

Monday night's regular meeting of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, is of particular interest to the local members in that they will have an opportunity of casting their ballots for the election of the general officers. By the rules of the society the election must be held during the week commencing the third Sunday of November, on a special day set apart by the local union for that purpose. In Peterborough this will be held on Monday night and the officers desire a large attendance in order that the vote registered may be one representative of the local union. Speaking to one of the members it was learned that the feeling in this city is one of satisfaction with the progress that has been made, although there was a break last year in the prolonged activity. Mr. William D. Huber and Theo. M. Guerin are the nominees for the Presidency. The former has held the position during the past two years.

NO GREASE OR DANGEROUS DRUGS

In "Herpicide" the new Scientific and Successful Dandruff Treatment

Have you dandruff? Then you have a contagious parasitic disease, unpleasant, unhealthy and one that will eventually lead to baldness. To cure it you must destroy the parasite that eats at the root of the hair. The only preparation for destroying these germs is Newbro's Herpicide. Charles Klein, of Laramie, Wyo., says: "Herpicide allayed the itching, cured the dandruff and stopped my hair's falling out, and it is bringing a new crop of hair." Herpicide is free from grease or dangerous drugs, and makes hair glossy and soft as silk. One bottle will convince you of its merits. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. McDermid & Jury and Payne Drug stores, special agents.

How Much Are Your EYES Worth?

If you were offered $10,000 for your eyes you would laugh the proposal to scorn. You practically cannot get along without them.

They are in use every waking moment—working, reading, gazing at what you see around you. That is why perfect vision is absolutely necessary to you; why its monetary value is inestimable.

The vision value of our lenses will help you see better than ever you saw before.

If your eyes are worth only $10,000 a pair, figure out for yourself the actual value of a pair of our lenses that will increase your seeing power.

Mr. Stirling will take Mr. Thornton's duties.

KEEP BABY WELL

No matter whether baby is sick or well, Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the house. They not only cure the minor disorders of childhood, but prevent them and should be given whenever the little ones show the slightest signs of illness. Children take the tablets as readily as candy, and they are absolutely safe. Mrs. Geo. Howell, Sandy Beach, Que., says:—"My baby was greatly troubled with colic and cried night and day, but after giving him Baby's Own Tablets the trouble disappeared. I advise all mothers to use this medicine." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A DRAMATIC PRODUCTION OF AN EXCELLENT QUALITY

The Coming of the Company to Peterborough Arousing Considerable Interest.

That Peterborough appreciates the importance of the production here for the first time on Wednesday night, Nov. 25, at the Grand Opera House, of Bourget's extraordinary drama, "Divorce," is evidenced by the interest that has been aroused not only by the play itself, but by the fact that Miss Marion Terry, a sister of Ellen Terry, will portray the leading role.

Mr. Whitney has done even more than to pick a great play and put a well-known leading woman in the principal role; he has had the play adapted by Stanislaus Stange, a dramatic author of large reputation, and he has gotten together the best cast of players that has been seen in this city for a long time. As a matter of fact, we doubt if it has ever been excelled.

Miss Terry who makes her first appearance here on this occasion, is an actress of the highest rank in England. It has always been a mooted question over there as to whether she or her sister, Ellen Terry, was the greater actress. There seems to be no doubt, however, that in emotional roles Miss Marion Terry is among the greatest living actresses.

The rest of the cast includes Miss Ida Conquest, who is well-known to theatre-goers here as an actress of sterling ability and great personal charm. The three leading male parts of the play will be played by men who are the head of their profession, and include Vincent Serrano, Eben Plympton and John Glendinning.

The Dairy Commissioner Writes On Inferior Cheese, Giving Hints To Grocers

INTERVIEWED BY EXAMINER

Some time ago the Examiner published an interview with Mr. J. A. Ruddick, Chief Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner for Canada, secured from him while he was in Peterborough, in which he stated that Canadian grocers as a rule handled inferior cheese. The statement at the time aroused considerable discussion, some objecting to and others agreeing with it. A report of the interview found its way to the Canadian Grocer in Toronto, and was widely circulated among the grocers of the country, and more discussion was called forth. Mr. Ruddick has now written to the Canadian Grocer explaining his statement and giving some hints on the buying and handling of cheese. He writes:—

"I am constantly being asked the question, Why is it so difficult to procure good cheese in this country? Moreover, my own experience as a traveller and family man compels me to admit that the difficulty is a real one. Unless I take advantage of my intimate acquaintance with the cheese business, instead of depending upon the ordinary channels of trade, I find it very hard indeed to secure cheese of first quality or in proper condition for home consumption.

"Before proceeding to give some of the reasons which, in my opinion, are responsible for this condition of things, I wish to make it clear that my references are of a general character, and that I admit there are exceptions which are said to prove the rule."

"There are a few grocers who have given this question some study and attention, and who are succeeding in supplying their customers with a really good article and, as a result, have built up a large trade in cheese. There are some hotels and restaurants where the same care and attention enable them to supply their patrons with an article fit to eat, but I am bound to say that the great majority of those who cater in cheese to the public of Canada have not studied the business sufficiently to enable them to handle it intelligently. I am prepared to endorse the statement that the people of Canada are required to eat much of the cheese which is rejected by the exporters as not being up to the mark for the trade in Great Britain. This cheese is not by any means worthless, but it lacks the necessary quality to insure of its being eaten in large quantities. A cheese may be just a little too dry, leathery, or a little acidy, crumbly or slightly off in flavor, but not sufficiently faulty in any of these particulars to be classed strictly as a cull, but more properly as a second grade cheese. The difference between a really first class cheese and a second grade cheese is so slight that the inexperienced man does not detect the difference on casual inspection. Now, the average grocer gets the "culls"—using the term in the sense already mentioned—because the cheese factory manager knows that he can induce him to buy at full prices many cheese which are rejected by the exporter. It is common knowledge among cheese men that this sort of thing happens every day. I do not mean to say that the grocer deliberately buys the culls, or that he gets all of them. He very often thinks he is buying cheese of the highest quality and really desires to procure that grade.

The Contention Proved

"The following incident will serve to illustrate the point. Some months ago the writer was visiting one of the leading cheese districts of Ontario (Peterborough), and, being interviewed on this question by the representative of a local paper, I made a reference to the purchase of inferior cheese by the grocers. One of the city grocers was rather indignant at the suggestion and wrote a letter to the paper attempting to prove that I was wrong in my inference, and stating that he sold a large number of cheese (I have forgotten the number) annually, and that he never bought culls, etc. He further stated that he did not believe there were fifty culls in the district in a year. This is the sort of thing which proves my contention. Here is a grocer who, according to his own figures does much more than an average trade in cheese and yet he knows so little about the general quality of cheese as to say that there are not more than fifty inferior cheese in a large district in a whole year. Any cheeseman knows how far wrong he is.

Some Hints on Buying

"I would offer this word of advice to grocers. Never buy cheese which are peddled by a cheese manufacturer. There is always some reason for offering cheese in that way, for there is no difficulty about selling cheese of good quality in the export market. It has been a not uncommon practice to offer the cheese made at the tail-end of the season for local consumption. Cheese made in the latter days of October or November are not usually as clean in flavour as those made earlier in the season, and owing to the low temperature which usually prevails, the ripening process proceeds very slowly and the cheese take a longer time to reach proper maturity. Even September cheese, which are supposed to be better than those made in other months of the year, but which are not if the others are properly made and properly ripened, are not in a condition to be consumed during the early part of the following winter. September cheese should not be offered to the public under six months old. And now we come to the principal weakness in the whole business of selling cheese in Canada. Tons of cheese are cut on the counters and given to the public, only to cause dissatisfaction, owing to the fact that they are not sufficiently matured to have developed a real cheesy flavour or to have acquired that mealiness of texture which is so desirable. Moreover such cheese is to most people indigestible and cannot be eaten in any quantity. These same cheese if held at suitable temperatures a few months longer, acquire a difference in value from the consumer's standpoint which is most marked.

"If I were in the business of supplying the public of Canada with cheese, I should try to lay in my stock from the June make and buy only from factories provided with cool curing rooms. I would keep the cheese in a temperature of not over 60 degrees for at least five or six months before cutting. To save loss in weight, I should have these cheese coated with paraffin wax when they were about two weeks old. This will also prevent mould. Such cheese, if properly made, will have a rich, meaty texture, and a real cheesy flavour, both of which characteristics promote a large consumption of cheese and create a desire for more."

The death occurred on Friday morning of Dorothy Lenore Hawes, the little daughter of Mr. Geo. Hawes, aged four years and seven months. The many friends of the bereaved parents extend to them their sincere sympathy in the loss of their little one, whose illness from croup was only of short duration.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from the family residence, 670 Water street, and proceed to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The Contracts Let For Snow Ploughing On City Streets

The snow ploughing contracts for the city streets were let last night at a meeting of the Board of Works. Twenty-eight tenders were received, the following being accepted:

District No. 1—City.
District No. 2.—E. Flaherty, $187.
District No. 3.—Jas. A. Reid, $150.
District No. 4.—S. Harper, $125.
District No. 5 — Robert Nicholls, $127.50.
District No. 6.—M. Ritchie, $110.
District No. 7—R. Mitchell, $114.
District No. 8.—Ben Revoy, $100.

The contractors for snow ploughing this year will be compelled to carry out their contracts, and in case they fail to do so their sureties will be called upon to pay. No one will be given any bonus at the end of the season, as several have asked for in the past.

On motion it was decided that the boardsmen must be satisfactory to the Chairman.

City Engineer Hay notified the committee that when Mr. Fitzgerald was repairing the Hunter street bridge he found that it was so bad that the whole floor would have to be replanked. It will require 850 feet of elm plank, and as the work was very necessary the Chairman ordered the work to be done.

Those present at the meeting were Ald. Phelan, Chairman; Mayor Ruah, and Ald. Elliott, Butler, McIntyre and Bradburn.

The Dairy Commissioner Writes On Inferior Cheese, Giving Hints To Grocers

INTERVIEWED BY EXAMINER

Some time ago the Examiner published an interview with Mr. J. A. Ruddick, Chief Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner for Canada, secured from him while he was in Peterborough, in which he stated that Canadian grocers as a rule handled inferior cheese. The statement at the time aroused considerable discussion, some objecting to and others agreeing with it. A report of the interview found its way to the Canadian Grocer in Toronto, and was widely circulated among the grocers of the country, and more discussion was called forth. Mr. Ruddick has now written to the Canadian Grocer explaining his statement and giving some hints on the buying and handling of cheese. He writes:—

The Contention Proved

"The following incident will serve to illustrate the point. Some months ago the writer was visiting one of the leading cheese districts of Ontario (Peterborough), and, being interviewed on this question by the representative of a local paper, I made a reference to the purchase of inferior cheese by the grocers. One of the city grocers was rather indignant at the suggestion and wrote a letter to the paper attemping to prove that I was wrong in my inference, and stating that he sold a large number of cheese (I have forgotten the number) annually, and that he never bought culls, etc. He further stated that he did not believe there were fifty culls in the district in a year. This is the sort of thing which proves my contention. Here is a grocer who, according to his own figures does much more than an average trade in cheese and yet he knows so little about the general quality of cheese as to say that there are not more than fifty inferior cheese in a large district in a whole year. Any cheeseman knows how far wrong he is.

"I would offer this word of advice to grocers. Never buy cheese which are peddled by a cheese manufacturer. There is always some reason for offering cheese in that way, for there is no difficulty about selling cheese of good quality in the export market. It has been a not uncommon practice to offer the cheese made at the tail-end of the season for local consumption. Cheese made in the latter days of October or November are not usually as clean in flavour as those made earlier in the season, and owing to the low temperature which usually prevails, the ripening process proceeds very slowly and the cheese take a longer time to reach proper maturity. Even September cheese, which are supposed to be better than those made in other months of the year, but which are not if the others are properly made and properly ripened, are not in a condition to be consumed during the early part of the following winter. September cheese should not be offered to the public under six months old. And now we come to the principal weakness in the whole business of selling cheese in Canada. Tons of cheese are cut on the counters and given to the public, only to cause dissatisfaction, owing to the fact that they are not sufficiently matured to have developed a real cheesy flavour or to have acquired that meatiness of texture which is so desirable. Moreover such cheese is to most people indigestible and cannot be eaten in any quantity. These same cheese if held at suitable temperatures a few months longer, acquire a difference in value from the consumer's standpoint which is most marked.

"If I were in the business of supplying the public of Canada with cheese, I should try to lay in my stock from the June make and buy only from factories provided with cool curing rooms. I would keep the cheese in a temperature of not over 60 degrees for at least five or six months before cutting. To save loss in weight, I should have these cheese coated with paraffin wax when they were about two weeks old. This will also prevent mould. Such cheese, if properly made, will have a rich, meaty texture, and a real cheesy flavour, both of which characteristics promote a large consumption of cheese and create a desire for more."

The death occurred on Friday morning of Dorothy Lenore Hawes, the little daughter of Mr. Geo. Hawes, aged four years and seven months. The many friends of the bereaved parents extend to them their sincere sympathy in the loss of their little one, whose illness from croup was only of short duration.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from the family residence, 676 Water street, and proceed to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The Contracts Let For Snow Ploughing On City Streets

The snow ploughing contracts for the city streets were let last night at a meeting of the Board of Works. Twenty-eight tenders were received, the following being accepted:

District No. 1—City.
District No. 2.—E Flaherty, $187.
District No. 3.—Jas. A Reid, $150.
District No. 4.—S Harper, $125.
District No. 5 — Robert Nicholls, $127.50.
District No. 6.—M Ritchie, $110.
District No. 7—R Mitchell, $114.
District No. 8.—Ben Revoy, $100.

The contractors for snow ploughing this year will be compelled to carry out their contracts, and in case they fail to do so their sureties will be called upon to pay. No one will be given any bonus at the end of the season, as several have asked for in the past.

On motion it was decided that the bondsmen must be satisfactory to the Chairman.

City Engineer Hay notified the committee that when Mr. Fitzgerald was repairing the Hunter street bridge he found that it was so bad that the whole floor would have to be replanked. It will require 850 feet of elm plank, and as the work was very necessary the Chairman ordered the work to be done.

Those present at the meeting were Ald. Phelan, Chairman; Mayor Rush, and Ald. Elliott, Butler, McIntyre and Bradburn.

MURDER ON A MONTREAL STREET

HUNT FOR BRUTAL CARTER

Young Men on Street Car Tell of a Strange Fight In Which a Man Presumably Andrew Fox, the Victim of the Outrage, Was Thrown From Sleigh and Dragged In Snow and Mud by His Feet.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—The body of Andrew Fox, a Toronto commercial traveler who boarded at 32 West Gerrard street, in this city, was found on St. James street early yesterday morning, and there is every reason to believe that he was murdered.

Fox had a deep gash in his right arm, probably inflicted by a knife, and a gash on the side of his head. The latter wound was the cause of death.

The police are after a carter who is stated to have treated the man brutally, if he did not cause his death.

Some time after 1 o'clock in the morning, a St. Denis car was boarded west of Inspector street by a couple of young fellows who remained on the rear platform and engaged in conversation with an elderly man who had boarded the car before them. The conductor of the car is named Forget. Forget informed the police that the elderly man, whose name he did not know, got off the car at St. Elizabeth street, St. Henri, some time after the young fellows.

But before he left the car he said that the young fellows told him they had seen a man thrown out of a sleigh at the corner of Inspector street and St. James street. The carter had smashed the man in the face and knocked him, apparently unconscious, to the ground.

After knocking the man down, the carter got into the sleigh, caught hold of the unconscious man by the foot and drove off down the street in an easterly direction at a furious pace, dragging the man after him over the rough snow.

Conductor Forget said that he was so astonished at what he heard that he believed it to be a made-up story, and did not even ask the old man where he lived. As for the boys, he did not have any conception as to where they lived.

After Forget came around his route again, down St. Denis and along St. James street, he was astonished to see police officers on the street. There were there Detective Charbonneau, Sergt. Lantaigne and Constables Charland and St. Pierre. He immediately stopped the car and told them what he had heard in his car. There is plenty of corroboration of the story told by the young fellows on the car.

When the body was picked up on the street by Constable Lafrance, it was lying extended full length between the sidewalk and car tracks. The overcoat was stretched out at full length too, behind the body, and was almost completely covered with mud.

Fox left Toronto two weeks ago for Montreal, saying he would return not later than January. He was an unmarried man, about 50 years of age, who had no regular occupation, but received an allowance from friends in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Pastor Ruined.

La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 21.—Alleged by relatives to have contracted the liquor habit at society functions in Newport, where he was pastor of members of the Vanderbilt family, Rev. S W. Moran, Episcopal clergyman, was committed to the Wisconsin State Hospital for the Insane at Mendota, yesterday.

Assignment to a fashionable parish in Newport, where he became an habitual user of liquor and where he acquired other expensive habits, is said to have caused his downfall.

ALARMING CHILDREN DISEASE

EXPORTATION IS STOPPED

Foreign Supply Will Be Badly Hampered by Shutting Down on Shipments of Cattle From New York and Philadelphia — Canadian Border Is Guarded — Britain Is on Guard Against Disease

Washington, Nov. 21.—Alarming results following the outbreak of a contagious foot and mouth disease in New York and Pennsylvania, causing those states to be quarantined against interstate shipments of cattle, were shown yesterday in advices that reached Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, stating that four children in Danville, Pa., had contracted the disease.

The officials believe that the spread of the contagion will be checked, although admitting that the situation is grave and will require energetic and concerted action by the state and federal authorities.

New York, Nov. 21.—Shipments of cattle to foreign ports from New York and Philadelphia were brought to an abrupt close yesterday by a cattle quarantine established in this state and in Pennsylvania. The quarantine does not affect ports outside of New York and Philadelphia, except as to cattle from the two states affected by the ruling. Western cattle may still be shipped abroad from either Boston or Baltimore. While there is not likely to be any scarcity of beef or raise in prices as a result of the cattle quarantine, the foreign trade will be undoubtedly seriously hampered for a time.

Even Canadian cattle received in these ports in bond cannot be reshipped to England, and dealers with such consignments on hand will be forced to send them back, because the duty on Canadian cattle makes their local use prohibitive.

Buffalo, Nov. 21.—Sheriff Smith yesterday swore in six extra deputy sheriffs, who are directed to see that no cattle or sheep are imported into Buffalo from Canada while the quarantine is in force.

All stock received last night and today will be disposed of immediately, and after that time no more shipments will be received, from whatever sources they come.

Especial attention will be given to the Niagara river, where it is comparatively easy to bring stock into the city.

All available men in the sheriff's department are detailed to this duty of maintaining the quarantine. Men have been stationed at the ferry landings, at the International Bridge and at various points on the river bank where there is a boat service or a landing place. All railroads have been instructed that no stock will be received.

London, Nov. 21.—The announcement of the outbreak in New York State, as well as in Pennsylvania of the foot and mouth disease among cattle, has caused considerable perturbation here, as the prohibition of the importation of cattle from the port of New York opens up the prospect of a serious shortage in the meat supply of Great Britain and a consequent rise in prices. As soon as the first information of the outbreak of the disease reached the British Board of Agriculture two days ago, the entire staff of inspectors was at once mobilized to meet all incoming ships to prevent the introduction of the disease into this country. The importation of hay and straw, as well as live stock from Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey has been prohibited.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Telegraph orders were sent to all customs officers along the frontier to establish a rigid quarantine against cattle and hides from the United States.

A Highland Regiment.

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—The military spirit is certainly abroad in the west at the present time, and almost every town and village is aspiring to have either a foot or cavalry corps. A highland regiment is being organised in Winnipeg, and will be on parade next season. Another battalion of foot is talked of for the provincial towns, and the latest suggestion is an all-French-Canadian corps to be known as the Chasseurs la Verendrye.

Four Killed.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Four track laborers on a handcar were run down by a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad passenger train between Highland and La Grange, Ill., yesterday, and killed. Five were hurt and three escaped.

Marie LeBlanc Dying.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Marie LeBlanc, the young woman who fell at the exhibition on Labor Day while doing a tightwire act and has been lingering on at the General Hospital with her back broken, is now said to be dying.

Chinese Smugglers Convicted.

Buffalo, Nov. 21.—Charles Slossberg and Henry Reischle were convicted of being implicated in the smuggling of five Chinamen into this country from Canada last August.

Both Drowned.

Gimli, Man., Nov. 21.—Capt. John Stevenson, while setting nets on the ice, broke through and was drowned. His partner, Henry Vidal, went to his assistance, and was also drowned.

Child Killed In Fall.

London, Nov. 21.—Harriet Durdin, a two-year-old girl, fell from a chair Thursday afternoon and died as a result of concussion of the brain.

Carnegie and Steel Tariff.

New York, Nov. 21.—When questioned concerning an article by him on the tariff which is soon to appear in a New York magazine, Andrew Carnegie declined to deny that he had advocated the removal of the entire tariff on steel.

Indians Near Starvation.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 21.—Five hundred northern Indians are on the verge of starvation, according to information received yesterday from Fort George. A tribe 200 miles east of that supply post had run altogether out of supplies three weeks ago and were living on what they could beg from white prospectors.

The overrunning of the country by packs of wolves is primarily responsible for the condition of the Indians.

Conceal Opium In Cement.

Manila, Nov. 21.—Evidences of an extensive plot to smuggle opium here from China have been discovered. A fortnight ago workmen employed on the military building at Camp Stotzenberg discovered a quantity of opium concealed in cement, which had been shipped from Hong Kong.

Fog Horn Adrift.

Parry Sound, Nov. 21.—During the heavy southwest gale last Sunday the gas and fog horn buoy broke away from Lone Rock on the Waubine Channel. It has not been recovered as yet.

Mariners are asked by the Marine Department to look out for it.

Samuel Carsley Dead.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—The great dry-goods man, Samuel Carsley, died last evening after three days' illness, which was brought on by being thrown from his carriage.

Samuel Carsley, who was perhaps the best known departmental store proprietor in this part of Canada, came from England when he was 22 years old, and after passing a few years in Kingston, came to Montreal. He was several times a millionaire.

French Cruiser on Rocks.

Ajaccio, Corsica, Nov. 21.—The French cruiser Conde ran on the rocks off the Corsican coast yesterday during a heavy storm, and her position is critical. There was no loss of life. The accident occurred during manoeuvres.

The Conde is a cruiser of 10,000 tons displacement, and is 400 feet long. She was launched in 1902. She has a complement of 615 men.

Twenty Men Entombed.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 21.—Fire in the Northwestern Improvement Co.'s mine at Red Lodge yesterday caused the death of six miners and entombed about 20 others, who have a slim chance to escape.

A local fire department and 50 local volunteers took out of the mine more than 100 men, many of them completely exhausted.

GREAT INTEREST IN TUESDAY NIGHT'S BIG BURRIDGE-FITZPATRICK BOUT

Next Tuesday night is the date of the big wrestling bout between Ned Fitzpatrick and Harry Burridge and it looks as it there would be a record crowd at the Auditorium Roller Rink for the event, which promises to be one of the hardest fought mat contests ever pulled off in this city. On their past performances the men look to be evenly matched and there is every reason to expect a strenuous battle, a hard task ahead of the winner whoever he may prove to be. For once the wise ones are at a loss and they are hesitating to pick a winner.

Young Hackensmidt expects to have a busy little cup of tea on his hands when he attempts to throw five local men in ten minutes.

There will be plenty of entertainment in the six round boxing preliminary between Geo. Lillie and B. Guerin.

REPORTS GIVEN AT O. H. A. ANNUAL MEETING IN TORONTO TO-DAY

The annual meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association was held to-day in the Temple Building, Toronto, when reports were received from the different officers. Treasurer Dr. A. W. McPherson, of Peterborough, reported showing a cash balance in the bank of $1,962.63, as compared with $1,451.75 the year before. The financial statement was very satisfactory.

Secretary-Treasurer W. A. Hewitt gave the report of the executive committee, which stated that last year, despite the predictions of the detractors and malcontents, the season proved in every respect to be the most successful ever held by the association. The keenest competition developed in the different series, and the winners were certainly entitled to all the glory and honour that went with the championship cups. Kingston was the senior winners, Midland the intermediate champions, while Stratford captured the junior honours. Eighty-one teams entered the association.

President Dwight L. Turner's report indicated that the association was never so prosperous as it is today, and that there never was such a great season of hockey as was enjoyed last year.

TIGERS AHEAD AT END OF FIRST QUARTER

Examiner Special.

Hamilton, Nov. 21.—Despite the fact that the result of the game is regarded here as a foregone conclusion, a large crowd turned out this afternoon for the Dominion championship semi-final game between Toronto A.A.C. and the Tigers. The contest is regarded as alight funeral for the Tigers. Don Lyon and Ben Simpson, who are recovering from injuries received in the last games, will not play to-day unless in the event of some of the other players being hurt.

The quarter time score was:
Hamilton—8.
T.A.A.C.—3.
Half Time score:
Hamilton—21.
T.A.A.C.—3.

VARSITY AHEAD 4-0 AT HALF-TIME TO-DAY AT OTTAWA

Special to The Examiner.

Ottawa, Nov. 21. — Varsity and Queen's are playing off here this afternoon at Varsity Oval for the championship of the Inter-Collegiate Union. A big crowd is on hand. In addition to several hundred from Queen's and many students from Toronto, Ottawa people turned out in large numbers. The Ottawa College students are keeping practically neutral, although Toronto seems to have the most supporters. The weather is mild and ideal for spectators. The field, considering that there was six inches of snow on it yesterday, is in fine shape.

At half time the score was as follows:
Varsity—4.
Queen's—0.

CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE MEETING ON TUESDAY

The annual meeting of the City Hockey League will be held in the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday night, for the election of officers and the transaction of other important business. It is desired that there should be a large representation at this meeting. All clubs intending to enter are asked to have representatives present. The league promises to be the most successful on record this season.

Sporting Comment

In yesterday's issue it was mentioned that the T.A.S. had placed a team in the Bowling League recently formed. This was an error as the T. A.S. will not have a team in the league.

HOCKEY.

Montreal, Nov. 20.—The first hockey of the season takes place on Dec. 28 and 30, when Edmonton comes East after the Stanley Cup, which will be defended by Wanderers.

Hockey fans are beginning to wonder what the line-up of the defenders will be. In view of the unsettled state of affairs in the hockey world, all sorts of speculations are being made. How does this strike you?
Goal—Jack Winchester.
Point—Arthur Ross.
Cover-point—Ernie Johnston.
Rover—Pud Glass.
Right wing—Cecil Blatchford.

It is stated that Cecil Blatchford has consented to turn out for a few games if it is necessary.

Port Hope Ready

Port Hope, Nov. 19.—At a fairly representative gathering a junior team was organized to represent Port Hope in the O.H.A. The following officers were elected:
President—Capt. Jas. Peacock.
Vice-Pres.—H. Soulthorp.
Manager—H. C. Brundrett.
Sec.-Treas.—O. McMillan.

"SHINY" FAT FOLKS

One of the fat woman's chief griefs in life is her shiny, greasy skin. If it be pimply besides, as it probably is (or may be), her cup of anguish is full. Powder and cosmetics simply hide these horrors for a season—a very short season. They are not a cure for them, except getting rid of the grease beneath. When she does that she finds her complexion improves.

In this way only can I account for the clear, natural complexion acquired by those who use the Marmola receipt: One-half ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, 4 3-4 ounces Peppermint Water. By causing the excess flesh to be absorbed, it clears the blood of the globules of fat, which, physicians say, cause the greasy, oily skin of the over-fat.

This simple receipt makes a mixture both pleasant and harmless. It causes neither wrinkles nor stomach disturbances. It is also quite inexpensive. Make it a point to try some; take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime for a week or two and see if your oily skin does not quickly disappear. As you lose your fat your complexion should progressively improve, and after a month or so, when you have lost 25 or 30 pounds of flesh, it should be nearly perfect.

LITERARY NIGHT OF THE INTHON BIBLE CLASS

The second literary meeting of the Inthon Bible Class of the season was held in the Church Parlour last night. A good, enjoyable time was participated in by those present.

Mr. R. J. Sodon, the chairman of the literary committee, was unable to be present; but notwithstanding that fact, an improvised programme was successfully carried through, and the evening passed all too quickly.

The main feature of the evening was a spelling match. Two Normal School boys — Messrs. Clancy and Leary—acted as captains and they acquitted themselves admirably. Mr. George Robertson called the words and it seemed to be an especial delight for him to pick out the hardest words in the Practical Speller.

It was the cause of much humour and knowledge and some very queer combinations of letters were made up from comparatively easy words such as "pizzava," "littice," and "furtill" for piazza, lettuce and fertile.

Before the line-up for the Spelling Match, six fellows were called upon for impromptu speeches, which were also the cause of much laughter.

The meeting came to a close about 10.15, and everybody went home happy.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT BY COURT CHEMONG

A concert under the auspices of Court Chemong No. 530, Independent Order of Foresters, will be held in the S.O.E. Hall, Hunter street, on Thursday evening, Nov. 26th at 8.30 p.m. The committee in charge of the arrangements announce that the famous singer, elocutionist and reciter, Mr. J. C. Morgan, M.A., Supreme I.O.F. organist, of Toronto has consented to be present, and take part in the programme.

EUGENE HURTUBISE,
One of the Peterborough athletes to whom credit for this city's place in the athletic world, was given at the presentation of The Examiner prizes last night.

He Was Very Charitable.

Among the features of a charity bazaar held in London was a refreshment stall, to which charitable donors contributed supplies, thus enabling all the takings to represent clear profits. The lady in charge requested a gift for this purpose from a well known and wealthy gentleman in the city, but one not famous for "parting." To her surprise she received next day a note to the effect that he was sending her a sirloin of beef and two ox tongues.

The same morning the lady happened to go to her butcher (who was also the butcher of Mr. X.), and, after giving him a large order for her stall, asked him if he would like himself to give anything.

"I should very much, ma'am," replied the worthy tradesman, "but I yesterday gave to Mr. X., at his request for this purpose, a sirloin of beef and three ox tongues."

Net gain to Mr. X.: One ox tongue and a cheap reputation for charity!—London Standard.

St. Augustine and His Flower.

St. Augustine of Hippo, the great doctor of the church, whose festival falls on Aug. 28, is a sadly neglected saint among modern ritualists and even occasionally confused with his namesake, who insulted the British bishops. Yet he is pronounced by Hooker "without any equal" and regarded by Harnack as "the first modern man." He has been better honored in the floral world, for to him is dedicated the goldenrod, or woundwort (Solidago virga-aurea). Old Gerard, with whom this was a favorite remedy, tells us that goldenrod fetched a high price as a foreign herb until discovered growing near London, when the plant was neglected. He adds the caustic comment, "This verifieth our English proverb, 'Far fetcht and dear boughts is best for ladies,' or for fantastical physitions." Before tobacco the goldenrod also furnished snuff for our mediæval forefathers.—Westminister Gazette.

It Did Not Work.

Mr. Seabury and his wife were on the point of moving to another flat. Both of them were anxious that the transfer should be made at the least possible expense, and the nearness of the new home promised materially to further this aim.

"I can carry loads of little things over in my brown bag," announced Mrs. Seabury, "and you can take books and so on in your big satchel."

In discussing further the matter of transportation Mrs. Seabury remarked that notwithstanding the heat she could wear her winter coat over, leave it and return for her spring coat. The idea charmed her impractical husband.

"Why, I can do the same thing!" he said. "I'll wear over one suit and then come back for another!"—Youth's Companion.

Hard on the Messenger.

Tommy had been spanked by Miss Manners, his first grade teacher, but his next teacher had not reached the point where she felt she could do justice to him in spite of all his naughtiness.

"Send him to me when you want him spanked," said Miss Manners one morning after her colleague had reported his many misdemeanors.

About 11 o'clock Tommy appeared at Miss Manners' door. She dropped her book, grasped him firmly by the hand, led him to the dressing room, turned him over her knee and administered punishment.

When she had finished she said, "Now, Tommy, what have you to say?"

"Please, miss, my teacher wants the scissors," was the unexpected reply.—Success Magazine.

What the Duke Meant.

His grace the Duke of Argyll was addressing a select company in a London drawing room on the present state of things in South Africa. "I look forward to the time," he said, "when the Englishman will marry the Boer girl and have an English wife as well!" Respectable downgers looked their surprise, and the men began to smile. Then the duke carefully explained that he meant, of course, that the Boer girl should become an Englishwoman to all intents and purposes.—Reynolds' Newspaper.

A "Place of Learning."

Sydney Smith, once asked why a certain college was called a place of learning, replied that, although a great many had been there to get learning, no one had ever taken learning away; hence it was appropriately named.

Perils of Our Dwelling Houses.

The scholars in one of the Fuchow Chinese schools were recently desired to write an essay in English on the subject of "Which Are the Healthier, Chinese or Foreign Dwelling Houses?" One young man "spook" about the matter with his "friends," and they said that the "Chinese building is much better than foreigners." This, he adds, was the "senses of their debate:"

"The foreign building is too heigh and coverless and always built on the top of the hill. In the summer time it receives the most heat from the sun. The people who living in it is the same as putting in the stove, but in winter it is fully filled by the sharp air which cut the faces of whom living in it. So that the foreigner is compeled to put themselves on fire. The fire would do our bodies harm. As we were prepared our dinner; we put the beef on the fire by and by the beef dry in that case the of course man would dry too."—London Telegraph.

Walt Whitman's Pride.

Whitman's grandmother was a Quaker, and the bard had been all his life used, Quaker fashion, to sitting in the house with his sombrero on if it suited him to do so. One day, with a friend, he entered the gloomy and half empty precincts of Trinity church, New York, and took a back seat in the obscurity and for a moment forgot to remove his hat or was probably just about to do so when an officious verger stepped up and requested him to take it off. Walt, a man of immense pride, not seeing fit to do so instantaneously or being very slow in his mental processes, was taking the matter into consideration for a second when the verger knocked the offending hat off his head. Walt picked up the huge felt and, doubling it together, smote the fellow vigorously twice or thrice with it on the head and slowly left the church, the red faced sexton following and threatening him with the law.

Mozart's Skull.

"If we were all constituted like Hamlet and could handle a skull as philosophically as he," writes a sentimentalist in a Hamburg paper, "we could visit the Mozart museum at Salsburg, enjoy the sights it offers and leave there without finding any fault. Unfortunately, however, we are not so cold, and therefore the protest which I make. Among the Mozart souvenirs which are pointed out to the visitor, in the same line with the old piano, letters, manuscript music, portraits, etc., is the skull of the great master. It matters little whether the skull is really that of the composer or one used for show purposes. The fact remains that in the Mozart town, in Salzburg, there seems to be no one who can make the city fathers believe that the exhibition demonstrates a lack of reverence which shocks many people."

Afloat on Hot Air.

Members of the house of representatives are fond of poking fun at the florid style of speech affected by a certain congressman, who invariably contributes much "hot air" to any debate in which he may participate.

On one occasion the politician in question ventured to air his views touching a financial act under consideration, when he drew the following ribald observation from an opponent:

"Our able and adventurous friend has undertaken to present his views upon this question. In this he reminds me of a beautiful swan breasting the sea with arched neck and wings outspread to catch the glint of the sea, moving along in serene and stately splendor, but blissfully unconscious of the unfathomable depths below."

He Explained.

At a school one day a teacher, having asked most of his pupils the difference between an island and a peninsula without receiving a satisfactory answer, came to the last boy.

"I can explain it, sir," said the bright youth. "First get two glasses. Fill one with water and the other with milk. Then catch a fly and place it in the glass of water. That fly is an island, because it is entirely surrounded by water. But now place the fly in the glass of milk, and it will be a peninsula, because it is nearly surrounded by water."

The boy went to the top of the class.

Fulton's Power of Thought.

Robert Fulton possessed to a remarkable degree the power of concentrated thought. He studied French, Italian and German and acquired a proficiency in the three languages. Higher mathematics, physics, chemistry and perspective also demanded his attention as he progressed in scientific research.—Century.

Not Led.

"So she was led to the altar at last?" remarked the girl in blue.

"Led!" repeated the bride's dearest friend. "Led! I fancy you didn't see her. She didn't have to be led. When she started down the aisle you couldn't have driven her off with a regiment of cavalry!"—London Telegraph.

Stuck to It.

Her Husband—If a man steals, no matter what it is, he will live to regret it. His Wife—During our courtship you used to steal kisses from me. Her Husband—Well, you heard what I said.

Easy.

Jack—The fortune teller said I would marry a blond. Belle—Did she say how soon? Jack—In six months. Belle (coyly)—I can easily be a blond by that time, Jack.—Sketch.

BOY CHARGED WITH STONE THROWING

Willie Billington informed the Court, however, That He Was Merely Playing With Door Knobs.

Willie Billington, an eleven year old boy, appeared before City Clerk Armstrong, at the police court this morning, on a charge of throwing stones yesterday on Townsend and Park streets. Willie pleaded not guilty.

Mrs. Ball, however, testified to having seen the youngster throw stones at her mother-in-law's shed and also at the front door, and another witness corroborated the evidence.

The boy as a defence stated that he had been simply playing with a number of doorknobs and produced the same as exhibit A.

His mother intimated that the boy had another witness, and accordingly the case was enlarged until this afternoon.

From the auditor's report made on Sept. 29th, 1908 the present value of this plant is fixed at $238,045.00 which includes besides the land and buildings also the machinery and patterns. For a detailed statement see the prospectus.

The Company has on hand raw material and stock-in-trade worth upwards of $25,000.00 which is not included in the value of the plant given above.

The working cash capital required is $30,000.00. $130,000.00 of Preference Stock pays for the entire plant, the stock-in-trade and provides the working cash capital of $30,000.00.

THEREFORE back of the Preference Stock stand assets which secure your investment (the Principal) more than twice over.

ASSETS		LIABILITIES
Plant	$238,045.00	Preference Stock	$130.000.00
Stock-in-trade	25,000.00	Surplus	163,000.00
Cash	30,000.00
	293,045.00		293,045.00

Earning Power

The Company can easily earn the money to pay the dividend [or interest] of eight per cent. The average sales per year for the six years prior to 1907 was $258,675.00. A profit over all charges of 15 per cent. of the amount of sales is a very conservative estimate. This would give a net profit of upwards of $38,000.00 a year on the average sales.

To pay a dividend of 8 per cent. on $130,000.00 of Preference Stock requires only $10,400.00 leaving $27,000 for a reserve fund and a dividend on the Common Stock. One share of Common Stock is given as a bonus with every two shares of Preference Stock you buy.

THEREFORE you share in all surplus earnings of the Company. You are invited to inspect the plant and the books of the Company. Apply for a Prospectus to the Company, Bell Phone 76

Tag-Day Has Already Netted A Hundred And Fifty Dollars

Yesterday was Tag Day for the St. James' Methodist Church, and the results as reported this morning were very gratifying.

The sale of tags in the city was very large, judgings from the number of those seen wearing them. The actual results will not be known for several days, until all those who were selling make their returns, but there have already been some $150.00 accounted for. There were a large number of tags sent out of town. The total number issued was 2,400, and these were handled by members of George Street Church, Charlotte Street Church, Mark Street Church, the Y. W. C. A., and Y. M. C. A., besides the members and friends of St. James' Church. The price was 5 cents each, and very few could resist the invitation to buy. It is therefore expected that the sum to be raised will be two or three times that which is really needed for the heating of the auditorium of the new edifice. Tag Day was for the purpose of raising funds for putting in the heating apparatus in the new church, which will cost about $400. The actual returns of the sale will be made known later.

NOTES FROM TO-DAY'S MARKET

Quotations That May be of Interest to Those Who Were Not There.

The prices at the market this morning were generally considered very favourable and a large amount of produce was sold. Butter went at 27 and 28 cents, and eggs generally at 30 cents. There was a good supply of the former article, but eggs seemed a scarcity, in the meat line there was more than a sufficiency of beef at 4 and 4 1-2 for front quarters, and 5 and 5 1-2 for hinds. Pork sold at 10 and 11 cents and lamb at 9 and 11 cents. Potatoes were to be had mostly at 35 cents a bag, although some were five cents cheaper.

In the poultry department there was grand business. Plenty of chickens, ducks, geese and turkeys. During the early hours the prices were somewhat high, but towards noon they dwindled slightly. Turkeys were from $1.25 to $1.50. Geese were to be had at from 90 cents to $1.00, ducks per pair were to be had at the same figures. Chickens could be had at from 65 to 75 cents per pair. Apples were none too plentiful and were practically all bought up. Carrots, beets, etc., were to be had at 10 cents a peck. In the vegetable line there was a good shewing and prices were easy. The attendance of townspeople was large, the weather being no doubt responsible in no small degree.

APPALLING PICTURE PRESENTED AT SCENE OF DISASTROUS WRECK NEAR PONTYPOOL IN WHICH THREE TRAINMEN LOSE THEIR LIVES

West Bound Double Engine Freight Runs Into Open Switch at the Sand Banks, Causing Collision---Brakeman Reid Who, It is Alleged, Caused the Wreck, Reported to Have Disappeared---Eye Witnesses Describe Scene.

INQUEST WILL BE HELD AT BURKETON JUNCTION TO-NIGHT

Examiner Special.

Pontypool, Nov. 23. — Three men almost instantly killed and one seriously injured tells in brief the terrible result of a head-on collision in the early morning at the Sand Bank siding about four miles west of this village. The disaster, so far as can be learned, was due to an open switch. Someone had blundered, neglecting to close it, and thus allowed the fast west-bound double-engine C. P.R. freight train to turn off on to the siding and crash with immense pressure into an engine and train waiting there until the other had passed by on the main line.

As intimated above the accident has brought gloom and dismay into three homes at least. The engineer, brakeman and fireman of the front engine of the double header were the unfortunate trio. Mr. Findlay, of Toronto Junction, was the engineer, and Mr. Conway, of the same place was brakeman who met their death in such an unexpected manner. The fireman is yet unknown. The simple moving of the switch a distance of four or five inches would have meant as much safety as if the three drivers of the "iron-horse" had been reposing on their beds of ease.

But it was not to be. The switch was open, the men rushed headlong into danger that was not known to be existing and the terrible consequences have been described.

Death in Horrible Forms

Masses of twisted iron, and cars and engines in a promiscuous heap are all that apparently remain of the collision. The dead men are scarcely distinguishable. The breast of one was completely torn open, the head of another was crushed in, and the body of the third was burnt to a crisp, his hands being completely consumed until only the stumps of his wrists could be seen.

Some ten or a dozen cars were hurled through the air into an adjoining field where they now lie broken and disabled. Many, too, tumbled into the ditch beside the rail track, so great was the force of the collision. One engine is completely demolished and can scarcely be recognised as an engine. The other two are badly damaged.

The dead men as they lay side by side after being taken from the wreck, the hopeless mass of iron and the disordered cars, presented an appalling picture and one not often observed in this section of the country. C.P.R. officials are here investigating the cause and the result, but they refuse to enlighten the inquiring crowds who have gathered.

Trains Delayed

This morning the two west-bound express trains were delayed at Pontypool and a couple of freights at Peterborough. The morning express going east was stalled at Burketon Junction for one and a half hours, delaying the passengers with it.

The Cause Explained

Mr. U. E. Wright, 175 Edinburgh street, was visiting in Pontypool this week, and this morning he visited the scene of the wreck before coming back to Peterborough. In relating the cause of the wreck to the Examiner, he stated that train No. 54, which was coming east had a time order on train No. 555, going west. No. 54 stopped at the siding at the sand bank until No. 55 passed by on the main track. The brakeman on the east bound train, whose name is Reid, and who is supposed to have caused the wreck, after a train had passed by opened the switch and signalled to his engineer to go on. The latter either did not see the signal or did not answer it and the brakeman returned to find out the cause. In the meantime No. 35 train came along and turned into the siding at the open switch, thus causing the disastrous collision.

Brakeman Disappears

Mr. Wright states that Reid, who had been on the run for the first time, has disappeared and cannot be found. Findlay, whose wife and family live in Cleveland, has only been back from that city about a month to work with the C. P. R. Darroch, the engineer on the big Mogul engine of the double header, is badly injured with several splinters in his head. The west bound train was in charge of Conductor T. Hay, of Toronto Junction.

Inquest Ordered

To-night at Toronto Junction an inquest will be opened to consider the nature and cause of the deaths of the three men.

Flour, oil, boots and machinery are some of the cargo of the freight train which are strewn all over the scene of the wreck.

LAKEHURST BOY SHOT WHILE DUCK HUNTING AND BROUGHT TO PETERBOROUGH IN FAST TIME

Was Struck by Stray Bullets While Lying Down Behind Mound of Earth—Brought 18 Miles in 1 Hour 32 Minutes.

ONE BULLET RECOVERED

Accidentally struck this morning by several stray bullets from a shot gun fired by Mr. N. G. Bell, of Bridgenorth, George Coons, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. William Coons, who resides near Lakehurst, was driven to the city by his father and Mr. Bell, the eighteen miles being covered in one hour and a half. The boy was taken to the office of Dr. Morgan, where one of the bullets was extracted, after which he was taken to the Nicholls Hospital, where the other was to be probed for. One of them entered his arm, the other located itself in the abdominal region. Both were rather painful, but were not considered very serious.

How it Happened

Mr. Bell and Mr. Coons explained the affair to a reporter this afternoon.

It seems that George Coons was out along the shore of Pigeon Lake for ducks, in company with his uncle, Harold Coons. The latter told him to lie behind a little mound and if the birds came near to give a warning. He thus waited, when Mr. Bell appeared from the opposite direction and could not see him on account of the mound of earth. Mr. Bell was after a fox, and was probably one hundred yards away from the boy.

Suddenly the fox darted from the marsh and at the same instant Mr. Bell fired. Just how the shots struck the boy is something that could not be clearly explained. He was lying on his side and was completely sheltered by the rise in the ground. It is believed that they glanced from some object and the appearance of one of the shots taken from the boy seem to bear out this supposition. It seemed to have struck an object before it entered the ground, as it was flattened on one side.

Fast Time Made

No time was lost in getting the boy down to Peterborough. The eighteen miles were covered in one hour and thirty-two minutes.

Automobile Went Over Fifty Foot Cliff, Killing Daughter Of Former Peterborough Man

A few days ago the Examiner noted the death of Miss Mary Nicholls at Spokane. The deceased lady was a daughter of Mr. W D Nicholls, a former Peterborough resident, who is a brother of the Misses Nicholls, 216 London street, who yesterday received a telegram from Spokane informing them that Miss Nicholls' death was due to accident. She, another sister and two brothers were driving to church in an automobile. On the way, owing to some misadventure, the chauffeur permitted the auto to fall over a cliff, a distance of about 50 feet. All the members of the party were more or less injured, but Miss Mary was fatally injured. The other four of the party will recover.

Fell Down Trap-Door Into Cellar; Mrs. Fowler Had Painful Accident

Mrs. John Fowler, wife of the proprietor of the well known George street restaurant, was the victim of a very painful accident on Saturday night, that might have been attended with still more serious results. She was purchasing some meat in Alex Gordon's butcher shop in the Market Arcade, and while she was there one of the employees of the store had occasion to go down cellar and, on returning, left the trap door open. Mrs. Fowler did not notice the opening and, on stepping away from the counter, fell down the stairs to the bottom, striking heavily, with the result that she sustained several bad cuts upon her head. She is resting easily to-day, although she is not yet able to be around.

An Attempt At House Breaking; Tries To Climb Into Window Upstairs

Some unknown man made several bold attempts to enter the residence of Mrs. Mann, over the bakeshop at the corner of George and Dublin streets early on Sunday morning. A north end resident who was returning home noticed a man looking up at the windows and as he approached, run along Dublin street and hide in a doorway. He was suspicious and after he had passed the corner, returned in time to see the stranger attempting to reach the upstairs windows by climbing upon the iron rod of the awning. The would-be house breaker on seeing him come back, jumped to the ground and made his escape down Dublin street.

Addresses On Temperance Are Entertaining Features At Meetings

The regular meeting of St. Peter's T. A. S was held on Sunday afternoon, when arrangements were made to hold a concert on the ninth anniversary of the society, which will be celebrated during the first week in January. The occasion will be fittingly marked, and for this purpose a committee was formed to prepare the programme and to determine on what kind of concert will be held.

During this meeting yesterday Mr. Leo Derocher gave an address on temperance, in which he dwelt particularly on the life of the "Apostle of Temperance," Father Theobald Matthew. The feature of the meetings is proving most entertaining, and the manner in which the subjects have been handled by those who thus far have spoken is most commendable to them and to the whole society.

EARLY CHRISTMAS BUYING.

With the happy smile of the sun in the ascendant, with genial airs and frostless days, it is hard to realise that we are within one month of Christmas Day. But the calendar keeps up its count, no matter how the weather behaves. There are now only four more Saturdays and Wednesdays till Christmas; only four more weeks in which to do the Christmas buying. The merchants are ready for customers; why not the customers get ready for Santa Claus? It is in the interest of both buyers and sellers that buying be done early. Self evidently the early buyers get the best choice, and opportunity for leisurely selection, and enhanced chances of making satisfactory purchases. To the merchant and his overworked, or to-be overworked, staff, every dollar spent now means so much less strain as the Christmas holidays draw near. For material reasons the people of Peterborough could with good advantage do their Christmas buying now. Lack of ready means need not deter them. The goods can be purchased, parcelled and put aside, to be paid for and called for or delivered when needed. They will, many of them, find it as convenient to do their buying now as later on, they would thus leave the field to necessarily later buyers, and taking it altogether, early buying will not only secure the early buyer's advantage, but that also of the necessarily late purchaser and of the merchant and his salesmen and saleswomen. On other and higher grounds than material advantage can this be done. There are good moral reasons, too. By taking steps to defer to the convenience of others and practically do a kindness to others, we shall be putting to practice the Christmas spirit, as expressed in the Golden Rule. Christmas does not get its highest significance from its being a mere holiday and the centre of the year-end holiday season. Its spirit is to be upon us the year round and today or to-morrow is none too soon to adopt our means to show that we heed the golden rule, by considering the convenience and feelings of others. Christmas and the Christmas spirit do not receive their highest expression from devouring larded fowl and seasoned pastry; they can be better expressed by doing something that contributes to the convenience, comfort and to a degree the happiness of others. Begin to do your Christmas shopping early.

SCHOOL SAVINGS BANKS.

Statements of the Penny Bank of Toronto, for the year ending June 30th, 1907, and 1908, present a splendid showing. The bank was opened for business on April 3rd, 1905. Within only fifteen months from that date there were in the schools alone, deposits to the number of 225,887 and 12,270 new deposits had been opened, the average amount of deposits being twenty cents. At this time the pupils of the public schools of Toronto, have $50,190 to their credit.

This involves a very important matter and deserves the attention of the Peterborough Board of Education, which at one time had investigated the subject and had practically decided in establishing saving banks in connection with the schools, but by some oversight the sense of the majority of the Board was nullified, and the project fell through. In an article on Saturday, The Examiner pointed out that a great deal of the poverty, destitution and want of popular success in money matters, was due to lack of thrift, absence of habits of saving. This in turn is due to the fact that in home training or example there is little place, for inculcating habits of thrift. This is a condition that cannot be remedied to any appreciable extent. But the schools through school savings banks can be made to teach this lesson, and at the same time provide an accumulation of means that in time of stress may tide families over financial difficulties. The public school system that only trains the mind in the rudiments and practice of the three R's and their scholastic sequelae falls far short of what it should accomplish. There should be some provision for forming character—in the main, and in the long run it is only character that counts. Character is largely accumulated habit. If we teach, by the practical medium of school savings banks habits of thrift and saving, we lay the foundation of character that equips the child for life as no mere head stuffing can do. We should make independent and self-reliant citizens, make embryonic capitalists instead of embryonic paupers and burdens on society—pensioners upon the industry of the thrifty and provident. Recognising the vast importance of the subject of penny banks and to endeavour to enlist interest of the members of the School Board the following from the second report of the directors of the Penny Bank of Toronto, is submitted:—

Owing to the great success of the work of the banks in the public schools in Toronto, the directors thought it advisable to extend the system to other cities and towns in the province of Ontario. With this object in view branches of the bank have been opened in the public schools of Port Hope and Orangeville, and on different occasions your directors have addressed or interviewed members of the school boards of St. Catharines, Guelph and Woodstock.

A branch of the bank has also been opened in Galt in continuation of the school banking system introduced there by Mr. Jarvis some twelve years ago. In the past it has been a great success, the children having now on deposit about $4,500. This sum was transferred upon the opening of the branch.

The bank has now branches in forty-eight of the public schools of Toronto, an increase of six over the previous year. The total number of branches now in operation is fifty-six.

At this time the school deposits were:

Public schools, Toronto	$64,937
Public schools, Oakville	238
Public schools, Port Hope	476
Public schools, Orangeville	61

A total of nearly $66,000.

In the report for the year ended June 30, 1908, the directors say:

The policy amounted in the report last year has been pursued of extending the operations of the bank to schools of the province outside of Toronto.

The banks opened a branch in the public schools of Guelph in March, 1908, and before the close of the school term over 1000 accounts had been opened and the children had on deposit $947.18.

Some of your directors have addressed meetings of the trustees and teachers of the schools at Cobourg, Bowmanville, Whitby and Ottawa, with a view to the introduction of the system of school savings.

A growing spirit of interest has been manifested in the encouragement of thrift among the children of our schools and your directors hope to report a still more substantial progress in another year.

On the first of July last the school deposits in the Penny Bank were as follows:

Public schools, Oakville	$ 224.99
Public schools, Port Hope ...	950.52
Public schools, Orangeville ...	170.32
Public schools, Galt	3,867.55
Public schools, Guelph	741.50
Public schools, Toronto	68,114.74
	$74,079.62

THE RULES OF PARLIAMENT

(Manitoba Free Press.)

It is announced from Ottawa that there is every likelihood that at the first session of the new Parliament legislation will be introduced amending the present rules of procedure, a view to expediting the business of the House and preventing useless prolongations of the debates. There should be more than likelihood of this essential reform; there should be certainty of it. The rules of the House, as they stand at present, allow every member to speak once on a motion. On the proposal to go into committee of supply every member on the Opposition side and every member on the Government side can speak, if they wish to, and each for hours. But it is not often that hold-ups are thus worked on a motion before the House. Hold-ups in recent sessions have usually been worked after a motion has passed that the House go into committee, when any member can speak as often and as long as he cares to, about anything he likes. Half a dozen members, taking turn about, can thus hold the House for twenty-four hours. The Speaker is out of the chair; a chairman of the committee presides, and the rules of committee are much less stringent than the rules of the House.

The Canadian Parliament is the only Parliament in the world which has rules that allow such proceedings. In the British House of Commons they have a cloture which forces an issue to a vote, and the Government by means of the rules are in a position to limit the discussion of the estimates to two or three short debates. They can jam all the estimates through in an hour, if they want to, and they have done it. In the House of Representatives, at Washington, rules are, if anything, more strict. At Ottawa the Government is placed absolutely at the mercy of the Opposition, under the present rules. Another peculiar feature of the present procedure is that while the Opposition are carrying on tactics of this sort, the Government members have to keep up a quorum. The one object of the Opposition is to get an adjournment, and so they need only keep a few men in the House to do the talking for the time being, while the Government must keep at least twenty men in the House to hold the quorum. Otherwise the House would adjourn automatically on the attention of the chairman being called to the fact that there was no quorum. When a hold-up is under way the strange spectacle is presented of the Opposition taking turn about in speaking about anything they choose, and twenty weary men on the Government side, sleeping. This has been a frequent spectacle at Ottawa in recent sessions.

The need of reform of the procedure is a pressing one. The needs of the public business demand it. The Opposition must have, of course, the fullest and fairest opportunity to place their contentions before the House and the country. Nobody dreams of curtailing that right. Such an idea is out of the question. But it should not be possible for the debates to be turned into tests of physical endurance, the business of Parliament being kept at a standstill, at enormous expense to the country, while mere obstructionism is being carried on. Reform of the rules is inevitable; and the time to reform the rule is at the first session of the new House.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is reported that Andrew Carnegie is in favour of a revenue tariff—"What is he giving us?" Hasn't he had in the form of high protection, which enabled him to manipulate the steel industry so much to his advantage, an advantage that has procured him a revenue tariff so productive that he is putting up nights trying to get rid of it?

TOP-HEAVINESS OF MARKETS

Condition of the Stock Markets in New York—Occurs After Upward Movement Lasting Months.

Examiner Special

New York, Nov. 21 — After a steady upward movement which has lasted for months, the stock market has begun to show top-heaviness. This was to be expected. The great men and part of the public bought stocks and bonds during the panic at prices from 15 to 20 points below those now ruling. It is only human nature to wish to turn those profits into real profits. Consequently there has been considerable profit taking and the big banks and trust companies have sold stocks and bonds carried over the panic. The stock market is now overloaded. As a result it is not as easy for the bull pools to advance prices. Not only do the bulls get all the stock they want and more, but there has been developed a strong bear party which believes that prices for the time being have discounted business for 6 months at least. The result will be that from now on there will be two sides to the market, and violent fluctuations will be the rule. For traders the market will be ideal, and will one minute look weak and the next strong, moved by news both good and bad.

The recent activity in the stock market has broken all records. Never before in a little time has there been so many million share days. Cammack once remarked to a fellow broker, "When ever the sales on any day reach 1,000,000 shares, that day will mark the end of either a bull or bear movement." Since November 4 there have been fourteen trading days with two Saturdays. Every one of the days with the exception of the two half days have shown more than a million shares traded in. On six of these days the trading exceeded 1,500,000 shares. Many stocks made the highest prices since 1906. Union Pacific made a new high record, selling at 184, and St. Paul was at 159. Steel, L. & N., and a dozen or more issues also touched high prices. James J. Hill and many other good men who are good judges, and who are conservative, have sounded notes of warning against excessive speculation. But these warnings are never heeded.

Business has improved steadily but slowly. This is a healthy sign, for an immediate plunge from depression into prosperity would be unhealthy. The steel trade has shown a steady increase in business, but there has not been that great rush of orders that some predicted. The unfilled orders on the books of the steel corporation for the second month since the depression started have shown an increase and this is encouraging, but U. S. Steel stocks are selling at high figures.

RATEPAYER ALLEGES FAVOURITISM

In the Award of the Snow Ploughing Contracts—Lowest Tender, He Says, Was Not Accepted in One Case.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Would you be kind enough to allow me space in your valuable paper to explain to the citizens the kind of Aldermen we have in this city, on the Board of Works. They are using economy in a strange way. They advertise for tenders for snow-ploughing the sidewalks, and when the tenders are received and opened and the Board has considered them, they have decided to give the snow-ploughing to—not the lowest bidder—but next lowest—in the No. 4 district anyway, and I have every reason to believe they have done the same all over the city, because they will not show any favours; for they have all taken a solemn oath to do their duty without fear or favour. Now, if this is their duty to give the contracts to the higher bidder in the one section, it would certainly be their duty to do the same all over the city, and as they are all gentlemen of high degree, I know they would not give the contracts to the lowest bidder in one district and the highest in another. They would use all alike. So by using all alike, of course, they would give it to the higher bidder, no matter how well qualified the lowest bidder might be, or how good his securities might be. This year, I see, they have only published the names of the parties who got the contracts. Last year they published the names of all who tendered and the amount tendered, but this year, perhaps, they think it would not look good in print, so they only published the successful parties. I suppose there will be no extra charge asked for this winter, if the winter is a little harder than anticipated, when tendering, as the clever gentlemen have given notice already that there would be none given.

Hoping Mr. Editor, I have not taken up too much space, I remain, as ever,

Yours for fair play,
ONE RATEPAYER.

MOUNT JULIAN BASKET SOCIAL

Handsome Sum Secured to Assist in Church Driving Shed Erection—A Pleasant Programme.

Examiner Special

Mount Julian, Nov. 20. — Rev. Mr. Garbutt, of Eden church, conducted a Thanksgiving service on Sunday night, Nov. 8th, for which the church was tastefully decorated. On Monday evening a very successful and enjoyable basket social was held at which there was a large attendance and a very pleasant time was spent. Rev. Mr. Garbutt occupied the chair and gave out the numbers of a programme in which the choir favoured the audience with several fine selections. Recitations were given by Mrs. I. D. Church, Mrs. Charles Lander and Miss Windover, and were received with applause. The singing by the Misses and Messrs. Shewen, Miss Wigg, Miss Sanderson and Miss M. Reid was encored with enthusiasm, while the amusing dialogues in which Miss J. Reid, Miss King, Miss Windover, Mr. C.S. Shewen and Mr. Rollie Northy took part, kept the audience in a happy humour. Mr. I. D. Church was chosen as auctioneer, and a lively bidding began for the baskets, resulting in the sum of $35.60, which will be applied towards the cost of the driving shed. This sum with what has already been subscribed will very nearly pay the cost of the entire building.

An organ has been bought for the church, and was used for the first time at the Thanksgiving service.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE OTONABEE COUNCIL

Requests Presented to Have New Roads Opened—Accounts Ordered To Be Paid.

On Nov. 16, the Otonabee Council met in regular session. R. P. Carey was present, requesting that the established road through lot 18, con. 9 be opened, and Messrs. R. Miller, P. Doherty, Charles Edwards and James Manly were present, requesting that the 8th line from the Base line north be made fit for travel. On motion these requests were laid over for further consideration. Henry Crane asked to be relieved from paying the statute labour tax on the Garlick lot as he had purchased it, and this was granted. F. Elmhirst asked to be relieved of the statute labour on the Fraser cottage, as the labour was performed, and this was also granted. H. McIntyre, overseer of the Keene streets, was authorized to build a plank sidewalk from the south Hall door to the travelled road. Mr. Stewart was appointed to investigate the claim of James Duffus for a wire fence, and the clerk was instructed to charge W.G. Hunter for tile for his private road at cost price. The following accounts were passed:—R. Nurse, wire fence, $13.00; D. Hayes, damages, $5.00; E. Wood, $4.00, gravel, $4.97; D. Esson, $9.68; R. J. H. Short, $25.30, drawing gravel for tile $10.50; Indian Reserve gravel, $2.50; H. Howson, $10.14; D. Kelly, $4.30; F. Weir, $4.70; Peterborough Lumber Company, $20.16; John Brokenridge, drawing culverts, $16.25; J. G. Galvin, $1.00; H. Crane, $5.25; W. Stark, $1.50; H. Heffernan, $1.75; J. Steel, $1.50; W. Read, oil for crusher, $2.10. The council adjourned to meet Dec. 15th.

HIS FAMILY ARE ALL ALIVE

Father of Fifty Children Sentenced for Non-Support.

Taunton, Mass., Nov. 23 — Clement Cunha, 43 years old and father of fifty living children, was sentenced to the workhouse for a year on a charge of non-support and neglect of his four-day-old twins.

Cunha two days ago reported to the authorities that a woman and her newborn twins were starving. An investigation showed Cunha was the woman's husband and he was arrested.

On the witness stand he admitted he had a divorced wife living in New Bedford, to whom he had been married eleven years. During that time she had given birth to two sets of twins, two sets of triplets and two odd sons—18 children. Another divorced wife, who now is in Portugal, is the mother of all his other children, except a set of twins born to his other wife and a daughter who preceded them.

"How many children, all told, have you?" asked the judge.

"Fifty living," was the answer.

PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine for Woman's ills in the world has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

No other medicine has such a record of success for woman's diseases, or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, Inflammation, Ulceration, and consequent spinal Weakness.

It has relieved more cases of Backache and Local Weaknesses than any other one remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregularities and periodic pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly yield to it; also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system.

It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, irritability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, fickleness, melancholy or the "blues." These are indications of Feminine Disorders, which this medicine overcomes as well as slight derangement of the Kidneys of either sex.

Women who are sick and want to get well should refuse to accept any substitute for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ROBERT DI BARNARDO

The New Hired Man Does Work Easily On Long Island Farm

Schenectady, Nov. 16. — (Special Electric News Service.)—Contrary to most opinions the methods of farming in this country have been improved and revolutionized until agriculture is little short of an exact science. Each year sees new and successful machines invented to take the place of the old hand drudgery on the farm; each year farming becomes more human, with less backache and hard work for the men and women on the farm; each year the conditions of the rural inhabitants of the country are improved with new and better farming machinery, telephones, rural free delivery and better prices for farm produce.

For years the most perplexing problem of farm life has been the employment of suitable labour. Farm hands are very scarce and they must be paid good wages or they will not stay. Modern invention has produced a machine for nearly every disagreeable chore on the farm but these diverse machines require power—if there is no engine handy then the wheels of these machines must be turned by hand.

And it is right here that science, remembering this eternal worry of the farmer, has stepped in and solved the power question with electrical apparatus and motors just suited for farm work. This new "hired man" never kicks at getting up at 3.60 a.m.; never objects to scrubbing the milk cans and never gets mad and quits the very morning that five acres of hay are ready for the barn. And he will even do the chores at the barn and help about the house at the same time.

An idea of the extent to which electricity is being used in agriculture may be gained from a description of a 300-acre electrically operated farm on Long Island. This farm, a portion of which is salt marsh land not cultivated, was for years allowed to grow wild. It was about 3 years ago that the present owner, a New Yorker, purchased the property and proceeded to farm it along modern lines.

The first thing the new owner did was to wire the house and barns for electricity for light and power. One hundred and sixty electric incandescent lamps were installed about the premises. All the machines about the barns were old, but were easily cleaned up, and by supplying a few missing parts, were arranged for belt drive from a countershaft. The feed cutter, root cutter, fodder cutter, tanning mill, grindstone, circular saw, corn sheller, a small drill press and a horse clipper were grouped so as to be driven by one three-horse-power motor. The fact that no two of the large machines were needed at the same time made it possible to use such a small motor.

It cost $3,500 to install the private plant consisting of a 10-horse-power gas engine driving a 5 kw. generator. But the yearly cost figured out as low as $650—less than two-thirds of what the owner must have paid to rent electrical power. That $670 was made up of, first, interest on investment and depreciation of plant at 12 per cent., $450; and, second, of running expenses for fuel, lubricating oil and minor repairs, $250. There was no cost for labour, because the plant required no expert attention after the daily starting of engine and generator. One could do a full day's work and give the electric hired man, between times, all the attention requisite.

The power plant was installed in an unused one story carriage shed, located at the westerly end of the L formed by the linked group of farm buildings. That was about 250 feet from the building containing the farm machinery and the creamery, but it permitted of utilization of a structure otherwise idle.

It was found to be most economical to install a storage battery to provide a continuous supply of current, so the engine need not run all the time, or in case anything happened to the plant.

The new farmer turned loose this current on a churn, electrically driven, and made it grind out regularly every day from ten to twelve pounds of butter inside of fifteen minutes.

A serious mistake was made by erecting an 18,000-gallon water tank, with a windmill; when for $300 a one-horse-power electric pump could have been installed which would have been far more simple, reliable and suitable.

An automatic refrigerating plant, worked by electricity, was installed that is free from dampness, free from the waste of a single pound of energy, immaculately clean and perfect in its regulation of temperature. With such a refrigerating plant not only is the labour of harvesting and daily hauling of ice eliminated, but the farmer achieves the ideal means of preserving many of his products through periods of low prices until such a time as the advance in the market enables him to sell at the highest rates, often double what he would have received without it.

A small motor drives the bottle washing machine and the pasteurizing apparatus and twice a day it works the milking machine on two cows at a time and enables one man to attend to two or three machines at once. With a milking machine properly cared for as to the details of cleanliness, not a single germ can possibly invade the milk supply, because from the time it starts from the udder until it is all in the hermetically sealed pail, not a breath of air comes in contact with it. The incubator and brooder are also heated by electricity.

Electricity sweeps the floors pneumatically and makes light of that weekly back breaking job with the broom. It turns the interior of the farm house from an oven at 2 o'clock of a summer afternoon into a cool paradise by means of the electric fans, and warms the house in winter by means of electric radiators. It washes the clothes as well, but a good deal more mercifully, than the wet wash laundry. It also does the cooking, ironing, sewing and most of the disagreeable tasks of the kitchen.

WHAT IS ITCH DIRT?

It is the old Anglo-Saxon name for Dandruff and it's a good one. If you have dandruff you have itch dirt and the little microbes that are part and parcel of dandruff are working persistently night and day and sooner or later will reach the very life of your hair and destroy its vitality.

Then you'll be bald—Bald to stay—for not even the wonderful rejuvenating properties in Parisian Sage can grow hair after the hair bulb or root is dead. Parisian Sage cures Dandruff. Wm. Medill the druggist, sells it—recommends it and guarantees it; only 50 cents a large bottle and your money back if it fails to cure Dandruff, Falling Hair and Itching of the Scalp.

INDIA'S TROUBLE GROWS.

Sedition Among Natives Is Becoming a Serious Affair.

London, Nov. 23.—Evidences of unrest in India have deepened the apprehensions with which the outlook in that section of the British Empire is regarded in responsible quarters. King Edward's recent proclamation seems to have had the immediate effect of initiating a series of political offences and demonstrations of disaffection. The alarmists are talking of another mutiny, and one highly placed officer in particular, who has just arrived in London from India, is circulating a statement to the effect that the Indian Government is in the possession of evidence showing that a systematic propaganda has been set on foot with the object of tampering with native troops.

In official circles the idea of another mutiny on any considerable scale is regarded as practically impossible, but, nevertheless, the situation is viewed with considerable anxiety. One authority—that same Indian officer—said:

"We wish that we could ascribe the agitation to the partition of Bengal alone, for then it would die down, but the truth is that sedition and unrest are spreading to all parts of the peninsula."

WAS LENNOX MURDERED?

Winnipeg Police Arrest Man Who Found Body.

Winnipeg, Nov. 23.—The police yesterday afternoon arrested Thomas Hicks, C.P.R. car-cleaner, who is charged with the murder of Eccles Lennox in the Canadian Pacific yards here last Wednesday.

Lennox was employed by the G.T.P. in Portage la Prairie, and left there with a ticket for Liverpool and a considerable sum in cash, as he was going to bring his family out from Scotland. Though usually a sober man he got on a spree when leaving Portage, and when he was found on the following morning dead in the yards here with a revolver beside him it was supposed that he had committed suicide.

Hicks was the man who claimed to have found the body, and the police now say that the revolver belonged to Hicks and not Lennox, their theory being Hicks tried to rob Lennox, who, however, was not so drunk as appeared, and in the struggle Hicks shot him.

Rebellion in Hayti.

Port au Prince, Hayti, Nov. 23.—Official notification was issued yesterday of the blockade of the port of Aux Cayes, the only town in the republic in a state of rebellion.

All the other places in the department of the south have remained loyal to President Nord Alexis, and it is generally believed that the revolutionary movement will be quickly put down.

Burglars Get Jewelry.

Stratford, Nov. 23.—A daring robbery was committed at John Swinburne's general store early Saturday, when unknown thieves lifted the grate and by way of the cellar reached the store, getting away with over $300 worth of jewelry.

For threatening to shoot James Ruston, J. S. Marchant was sentenced to three months in jail.

C.A.R. Debentures.

London, Nov. 23.—(C. A. P.)—The issue is likely next week of £600,000 four per cent. first mortgage debentures of the Canada Atlantic Railway, price 93, proceeds to be used for the repayment of five per cent. bonds maturing in January.

WHY AM I ILL?

HOW TO TELL.

Does every cold affect your back, and cause a feeling of chilliness, followed by disturbance of the kidney action.

Does the use of spirits, tea or beer excite the kidneys? Are you easily worried and annoyed over trifles? Are the feet and hands cold? Circulation bad? Do the feet and legs swell? Is there puffiness under the eyes? Do you have rheumatism, poor eyesight, headaches and backaches? Is there gravel or any unnatural action of the kidneys?

If you have any of the above symptoms your kidneys are either weak or diseased, and these symptoms are warnings of more serious troubles to follow; Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Dropsy.

Whatever you do, whatever you think your disease is, look well to your kidneys at the first sign of anything wrong. Give them just the aid they require in Doan's Kidney Pills, the Great Quaker Kidney Medicine, and see how well and fit you feel after even a few doses.

Mrs. O. Warren, Radisson, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with very severe pains in my back for years. I tried everything I could think of but they did me no good. A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking two boxes, I have not been troubled since."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto.

In ordering specify "Doan's."

WILL GO BACK TO COTTAGE

Cleveland's Famous Municipal Ownership Chieftain, Who Has Sacrificed His Private Fortune to His Work, Declines All Assistance and Will Start Again Unaided —Messages of Sympathy.

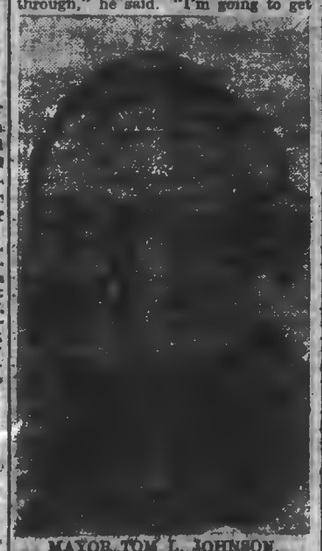
Cleveland, Nov. 23.—Pathetic messages of sympathy and hundreds of offers of financial aid poured in Saturday and Sunday upon Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, whose recent financial reverses will force him to give up his handsome home in Euclid avenue, to sell his automobile and to go back to a cottage to start again to make another fortune.

From Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin came this telegram to the man who fought for years to give the people three-cent fares and failed in the project:

'Fight on, brave heart. The only men who win final victories are the men who never accept defeat."

Scores of men, rich and poor, many of whom had never seen the mayor before, called at his office at the city hall with proffers of assistance.

A friend brought his check for $2,000. Johnson declined it. "I'll pull through," he said. "I'm going to get back on my feet again without any help."



MAYOR TOM L. JOHNSON.

One of the most touching tokens of the regard in which Tom Johnson is held by his fellow citizens came when a fashionably-dressed man hurried to the office of the mayor's secretary, Burr Gongwer, and said: "I read Mr. Johnson's statement that he is to sell his automobile. You just tell Tom that I have a machine that I don't need, and he can't have it. He could have it even if I did need it."

The scene at the city hall on Saturday was a remarkable one. Just after the officials began the regular business, a line of men formed in the corridors leading to Johnson's office. Johnson did not speak of his financial troubles—at least not for publication, but it is understood he repeated his statement:

"There are a thousand fights left in me, and after I sell what I have I'll begin all over again, and start in a cottage, if necessary."

Many came forward with offers ranging from $5 to $1,000. Johnson, with tears of gratitude in his eyes, declined them.

Bryanite Pays Bet.

Atlantic City, N.J., Nov. 23.—One thousand persons facing the board walk from Young's Pier Saturday afternoon, saw J. F. Smith, said to be a wealthy western visitor, kneel at every crack in the board walk and yell "I voted for Bryan."

The victim of the fool election bet, attired in a dress suit, with his trousers "hindside before," went through the performance to save a $1,000 forfeit which he had put up as a guarantee that he would carry out his agreement if he lost.

"Dry" Dinner at Queen's.

Kingston, Nov. 23.—The dinner committee of Queen's recommended a dry dinner on Saturday after two hours' lively discussion. Some thought wine ought to be served to the guests if not to all the students, while others thought all ought to be treated alike. The report was finally approved by an almost unanimous vote.

Bank Removal.

Montreal, Nov. 23.—Every bank in Montreal will be on St. James street after the first of February, the last to follow being the Union Bank of Canada, which will occupy the fine premises of the Sovereign Bank, that building having been purchased by the Commercial Union Assurance Co. of London, for $340,000.

Escapes Guard, Suicides.

New York, Nov. 23.—Overpowering an attendant in charge of the male division of the alcoholic ward at Bellevue Hospital yesterday, Ulrich Fornier, a young Canadian, wrested the keys from the guard, and escaped from the ward and ran to the East river and jumped into the water and was drowned.

Eva Booth Ill.

New York, Nov. 23.—Miss Evangeline Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, is ill at the army headquarters in this city. Ever since her return from the west last August, Miss Booth has been hard at work, although she returned because of ill-health and sickness following sunstroke. Dr. Harlow Brooks, her physician, is attending her, and she has been confined to her bed. Her condition is not looked upon as serious.

REBELS FIGHT BATTLE.

Many Killed In Conflict Between Chinese and Authorities.

New York, Nov. 23.—A cable despatch to The Herald from Shanghai says: "The accession of the Emperor took place on Thursday. Reports of Prince Ching's death, which have been in circulation, are contradicted.

A decree has been promulgated ordering the officials of the provinces to capture rebels for summary beheading and promising a reward.

There is a serious mutiny in the garrison at Ngan King, on the Yangtse, where fighting is being waged in the streets. A large number of persons have been killed and houses have been destroyed.

Three battalions from the manoeuvres have been ordered to proceed to Ngan King and restore order.

Commander Li was wounded. Commander Chen Hon Yung killed and a deputy in charge of a magazine was murdered.

Law Clerk Kills Himself.

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—At noon yesterday, Charles T. Moffatt, a law clerk in the office of Gemmil & May, committed suicide in the janitor's room in the Carleton chambers.

He fired a 44-calibre bullet into his head and expired before those who were within earshot could reach him.

The unfortunate suicide, who was 29 years of age, was the son of the late R. B. Moffatt of Amherst, N.S., for many years clerk of the railway committee of the House of Commons. Despondency, due to illness, is supposed to have led Moffatt to commit suicide, as he had no financial troubles.

Steamer Blows Up.

New Orleans, Nov. 23.—Ten persons are dead and twice as many injured as a result of an explosion Saturday on the Mississippi river steamer H.M. Carter.

The boiler of the Carter exploded while the steamer was on its way from New Orleans to Baton Rouge, with a cargo of general merchandise and 50 or more passengers. Fire followed the explosion, and the boat was burned to the water's edge.

Between 12 and 15 persons are missing. About the same number were badly scalded, and it is expected several of them will die.

Rescuers Are Delayed.

New York, Nov. 23.—Menaced by a danger which in their vigorous prosecution of rescue work they had largely overlooked, the workmen engaged in digging for bodies lying entombed beneath tons of earth and twisted pipes in Gold street, Brooklyn, where an explosion killed 15 persons Friday, were compelled Saturday to abandon their task and devote their efforts to shoring up the foundations of houses that stand at the edge of the pit.

Duel With Knives.

Gainsville, Mo., Nov. 23.—A duel to the death with knives was fought on Saturday between Mrs. James Crabtree and Mrs. Frank Graham, sisters-in-law, in a lonely spot in the woods, eight miles from Gainesville. The two women had quarrelled over family matters.

The place and the hour were fixed. The women met, according to appointment, and on a lonely mountain-side fought out their duel. Mrs. Graham's throat was cut and she died immediately.

SPLENDID TO USE FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Nothing Like Diapepsin to Overcome Indigestion and Fermentation of Food.

Take your sour stomach—or maybe ou call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach: it oesn't matter—take your stomach rouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring, the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure, and fulness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of the stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, billiousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and be in eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for ou. It is merely a matter of how oon you take some Diapepsin.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE INTHON BIBLE CLASS

The Inthons met as usual in the George street church parlour, the fine day not doing much to keep the attendance very far below the average. Sixty fellows turned up among whom were Ald. Johnston and Dr. Marshall, who have time once in a while to come to class.

A good account of the lesson was given by the teacher, Rev. E. A. Pearson, and a good many arguments came up on the different phases of the lesson.

After the lesson the regular business of the class was transacted which included reports from the different chairmen.

The most important of which was the report from Dr. Marshall, chairman of the Athletic Committee, an outline of which, was the forming of an "Inthon" hockey team. The list of fellows from which the team will be picked is one that will be in a fair way to land the O.H.A. championship.

Next Sunday being the International Temperance Sunday, a talk on the effects of alcohol on the system, will be given by Dr. Marshall after the regular lesson. So the fellows who don't think alcohol will hurt them, want to be on deck and hear what the Doctor has to say. You'll not have to sign any pledges.

Mr. E. G. Clark, chairman of the Devotional Committee, is certainly looking after the spiritual welfare of the class.

He is now forming a prayer circle and hopes to be ready very soon. He is also helping out the Sunday school superintendent, by asking for volunteer teachers to substitute in the absence of the regular teachers.

Don't fail to attend next Sunday, fellows.—Com.

MYSTERIOUS SURROUNDINGS IN MR. P. J. CREEDON'S DEATH

When He Left Niagara Falls for Cincinnati He Complained of Pains in His Head—Burial to Take Place in Columbus, Ohio.

FACTS CONCERNING DEATH

The Examiner has been furnished with a copy of the Niagara Falls, N. Y., "Cataract Journal," containing an account of the mysterious death of Mr. Patrick J. Creedon, formerly of Peterborough. The paper was sent to a young man in Peterborough, who is intimately acquainted with the lady in Niagara Falls at whose residence Mr. Creedon stayed. The Cataract Journal says:

Word was received here yesterday afternoon by the family of Patrick J. Creedon, of the death of Mr. Creedon, at Cincinnati, Ohio. Three separate telegrams were received by Mrs. Creedon, one from a physician, another from the Deputy Coroner Col and another from the proprietor of the Burnett House, where Mr. Creedon was found dead yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Creedon and her family left early this morning for Cincinnati and they will have the remains of the husband and father removed to Columbus, O., his old home, for burial.

The circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. Creedon are somewhat mysterious at present though they will evidently be cleared up upon the arrival of the family. Mr. Creedon, who lived with his family in Mrs. Talbot's house, at 951 Niagara avenue, left this city a week ago yesterday for Cincinnati for the purpose of closing a deal for the sale of his invention, which was a secret process for the hardening of steel in the manufacture of bits. From what can be learned Creedon had completed all arrangements for the sale of his invention to a Stock company in the west and was to have been paid $31,000 to-day for his patents. Papers found on him showed that a $75,000 company had been organized to manufacture the bits. Creedon had been dealing with two Cincinnati attorneys, Charles S. Burdsall and A. F. Hoover. He was last seen alive there Monday noon and early yesterday afternoon his body was found in his room at the Burnett House. The statement in one despatch that he had died of starvation is regarded by those who knew him as preposterous.

Mr. Creedon and his family came to Niagara Falls in August last, and rented the fine large house on Niagara avenue. For some time previous Creedon had been having business dealings with manufacturers at Niagara Falls, Ont., and is understood to have had dealings with the Ontario Silver Company, Limited, and the new Nut and Bolt Company over there. Previous to that he had spent two years in Peterborough, Ont., perfecting his inventions. He originally came from Columbus, O., however, as did his wife, and the couple were soon to have celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. They had four children, Mark, studying for the dentistry profession; Leon, a student at Niagara University, and Paul and Leonard, younger children.

Creedon attended strictly to business while here, though he was a man who spent all his spare time with his family and was loved by them and liked by all his friends. He was a devout attendant at Sacred Heart Church. He was forty-five years old and of large physique. When his wife received the word of his death she was utterly prostrated by the shock. It was supposed that apoplexy caused the end. Upon the day that Creedon was to take his departure he had asked his wife to accompany him to Cincinnati, saying that he did not feel just right, being troubled with a sharp pain in his head. She advised him to see a physician, but did not again consider the matter seriously.

After the remains of Creedon have been interred at Columbus, Mrs. Creedon will return here to pack their belongings and will then remove to their old home at Columbus. It is not yet certain whether Creedon's invention secrets died with him.

EVIDENCE OF GROWTH OF T. A. S.

Assembly Hall Can Scarcely Accommodate Members at Regular Meetings.

One of the most marked evidences of the rapid growth of St. Peter's T. A. S. is the fact that the assembly hall, the largest room in the building, is now considered too small for the attendances at regular meetings. When the society was first formed the usual number of members was small, as might have been expected, but since then the growth has been gradual but sure, and now the accommodation is taxed at every meeting.

THE ROD AND GUN FOR CHRISTMAS

Full of good things is the December (Christmas Number) of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont. A specially written and finely illustrated account of the trip taken in the woods by the Premier and Surveyor-General of New Brunswick, at the invitation of the organized guides of the province, opens an exceptionally good number, the high standard of which is maintained throughout. Sportsmen of all classes may be recommended to the well written and informative article on the importance of Taxidermy. Ancient Indian customs is a fine reminder of the difficulties the Indians experienced in the matter of obtaining a living before the advent of the white man to the North American continent. Physical Culture at Home is the first of a series of articles by an expert on a subject which cannot fail to interest all sportsmen. In the Spirit of the North will be found some fine verses, every line appealing with strong force to every lover of the wild but attractive north country. These are but samples of the many good things dealing with every phase of sport in Canada, to be found between the covers of a number surpassing in both quantity and quality the best yet given by this leading Canadian magazine. The illustrations are specially notable and attractive in this fine Christmas issue.

A Splendid Essay Given On "Courtship Of Mills Standish"

On Friday evening the regular fortnightly meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T. A. S. was held. A short musical programme was run off, as follows:

Instrumental duet—Miss F. Leahy and S. Cleary.

Vocal solo—Mr. H. Quinlan.

Instrumental solo—Miss Lillian Hall.

Vocal solo—Miss Ella Brady.

Instrumental duet—Misses G. Lane and E. Moyer.

God Save the King.

Miss Margaret McGrath was the essayist of the evening, and gave the audience a splendid review of Longfellow's poem, "The Courtship of Miles Standish." After touching upon the author and the time and circumstances of the poem itself, she told very prettily the love story of the demure Priscilla, loyal John Alden and the bluff Captain Miles. The author's tact guided him to the prettiest tradition of Pilgrim times. He gives us a romantic picture of the Plymouth settlement with its faraway round of human life and action, through which the tide of love flowed then as now. It is a pretty story, "remote enough to gather a poetic halo," and yet fresh with sweet humanities, tinged with provincial colour, which the poet loved, and full of incidents so true to nature. There are chance pictures of Acadian fields and forests, glimpses, too, of picturesque figures; also we note Longfellow's delightful use of Indian names. He possessed the gift of blending the kindred mysteries of Indian fancy in mellow and artistic simplicity. The pastoral wedding scene at the close is a fine subject for the canvas, as are many other scenes throughout the piece.

Another omit to be noted is the frolicsome humour of the tale, here and there lighting up the gloom, that blends with our conception of the Pilgrim inclosure. The Plymouth idyl does not show, however, much sympathy on the part of the author with the ancestral environment, but chiefly a perception of what romance and grace there might have been in the good old colony days.

The next paper will be read on December 4th by Miss McCarthy, who has chosen "Art" as her subject.

Sequel To Mining Affair At Rosedale Is A Suit At Law

Last week it was learned that Mr. Jas. Parkin, of Lindsay, while mining for silver near Rosedale, discharged a charge of dynamite which hurled a stone through the roof of Mr. F J Goodman's store. It weighed 700 pounds and considerable damage was caused to the house. Mr. Goodman has secured an injunction against Mr. Parkin, preventing him from continuing the operations. The case will be threshed out in court at Toronto. The Fenelon Falls township council gave the right to mine to Mr. Parkin for the sum of $1 per year and a royalty of ten per cent. of the minerals found.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES AT SPRINGVILLE CHURCH

Yesterday was anniversary Sunday at the Springville Presbyterian Church. The special preacher was Rev. S. K. McLeod, of Brighton, who delivered two interesting sermons to largge congregations. The thankofferings made were liberal. Miss Heattie, formerly of Kingston, assisted the musical portion of the service and sang two greatly appreciated solos. It is expected that there will be a large attendance at the concert to be given in the church to-night.

FLOOR OILCLOTH

In The Trade THIS WEEK 19½C

HOW do you know a good oilcloth from a poor one? We will tell you: one way is by the thickness of the painted face, the canvas body does not show as plainly on a good cloth as on a poor one, but the sure way is by looking at the back: the cheap cloth has the red ochre back, showing every thread in the weave of the canvas, a very unenduring finish, giving a foundation to the face that positively will not stand the wear imposed on it. The best grade cloth has a very substantial back, red as in the former case it's true, but painted and filled with the best quality oil paint until the canvas is thoroughly coated and the cloth has a foundation that will last as long as the face of the cloth warrants. Its a simple, easy way of insuring yourself against imposition—do not take a salesman's word for it that a cloth is of the finest grade, just look at the back and you will readily discern whether the back has a red rough canvassy appearance or whether it is finished almost as firm as the face. The Canadian made Oilcloths have the best back as well as a good face—the imported goods have a good face but a very inferior back and the face will not last without a foundation.

Improved Facilities On The Otonabee River

New Channel on East Side of River is Approaching Completion—Available for Traffic on the Spring Opening of Navigation.

OF INTEREST TO BOATMEN

For some time past, under direction of Mr. Quinn, inspector for the Public Works Department, dredging has been carried on in opening up a channel for navigation purposes on the east side of the Otonabee, north of the Hunter street bridge, and the work has now progressed to about 140 feet from the old Hazlitt dam, which is now being dismantled. An Examiner representative visited the work, which had been temporarily suspended, to-day, and found that the work being done was more difficult than had been anticipated, as evidenced by the character of the excavations thrown up at the sides of the channel. This consists of large stones and boulders, often embedded in hard pan as solid almost as rock.

The channel to the dam will be twenty feet wide by seven feet deep, and a way through the old dam will be effected by the use of dynamite. From this point around the curve formed by the Ashburnham shore to the dam of the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company, a somewhat shallower continuation of the channel will be excavated.

The utility of this new channel of navigation will be found in the fact that, as matters have been allowed to stand, the large volume of waste water from the Power Company's dam is distributed over a wide area of shallows between that dam and the old dam below, so that in low water there is not volume enough to be of any practical utility.

By means of this new channel in the river, which has been secured through the persistent representations of Hon. Mr. Stratton to the Ottawa authorities, all this waste water will be confined to a stream which, even at low water in June and July, will enable logs to be floated down the river, and will also be available for any other commercial purpose.

As in other works along the river, the Government has shown a commendable disposition to accommodate the interests of local trade in the prosecution of river improvements, when these have been represented to the departments dealing with the matter in an intelligent and practical manner.

This work is to be at once prosecuted to completion, and its advantages will be available to all concerned with the opening of navigation in the spring.

A large force of men is being employed on the new Wolfe street wharf, and satisfactory progress is being made. The low water has been favourable for construction work, and the cement work of the retaining walls is more than half finished, and the cribs have all been placed. This will in the spring prove an important addition to the landing places of the city for commerce on the river.

CONTRACTORS IN LAW SUIT

Mr. Jas. Bogue Went to Campbellford to Appear as Defendant.

Mr. James Bogue went down to Cobourg this morning to attend the non-jury assizes that were begun there this afternoon before Mr. Justice Clute. Mr. Bogue is the defendant in a case in which Mr. Buchanan is the plaintiff. It is an action concerning a partnership into which they had entered as contractors for the building of a power plant in the town of Campbellford.

LOW PRICES FOR MADE-TO-ORDER SUITS AT ED. HUFF'S

The special attention of gentlemen is directed to the extra low prices offered by Mr. Ed. Huff, tailor, on fine made-to-order suits. The unusual reductions are the result of an advantageous purchase of "mill piece prices," of splendid black and blue serges, worsteds and vicunas. The saving effected on the price of the cloth enables Mr. Huff to make to order fine suits at a cost impossible in the regular way. See the advertisement in another column for particulars.

Music and Drama

Chauncey Olcott, who is appearing at the Princess Theatre, Toronto, the first three nights of this week, in his new Irish play, "Ragged Robin," has five songs which are said to be the best he has had in years. They are "A Laugh With a Tear in it," by Olcott and Manuel Klein; "Eyes That Come From Ireland," by Olcott and Richard Le Galienne; "If You'll Remember Mr," by Geo. Graff and Ernest R. Ball, and "Sweet Girl of My Dreams," by Olcott and Dan J. Sullivan. The latter is particularly tuneful.

Malicious Destruction Of Property At Chemong Park

Beautiful Hedge Around Mr. D. H. Popham's Cottage Grounds Wantonly Destroyed.

A day or two ago it was discovered that the beautiful evergreen hedge, inclosing the grounds of the summer cottage of Mr. D. H. Popham, 553 Homewood avenue, had been wantonly destroyed. Of course the cottage has been vacant for some time and the depredators had full opportunity to operate. The hedge on either side of the cottage was some fifteen years old and well grown. This hedge, The Examiner is informed was laid low, the barbed wire, placed at the beginning, to protect the hedge, cut with pliers and the posts cut through with a cross-cut saw. So far no intimation is given of a suspicion of the guilty person or persons. There has been some litigation over the question of a public right of way along the shore between the cottage and the lake, but this was thought to have been settled by the owner of the property placing a gate on each side so that the public could pass to and fro. The perpetrators of these acts of destruction have laid themselves open to heavy punishment. If detected and the charge proved long imprisonment is certain to be the penalty.

Black-Listed Man Was Fined $10 For Breach Of The Liquor License Act

At police court this morning evidence was heard in the case of the two men charged with stealing a quantity of timber from Baptie Bros. and Messrs. Finnie & Gordon. The two men admitted taking lumber from one place but denied it in the other. P. C. Newhall testified that he had seen the defendant carrying off lumber.

The magistrate allowed one of the men to go, and dismissed the other on suspended sentence.

Four young men who were found guilty of being disorderly were fined $2 and costs, amounting to $4.85, to be paid forthwith.

A man who had pleaded guilty to being drunk after he had been served with a black list order, was fined $10 by the Magistrate, who said that a recent decision of his had been overruled by Judge Weller and he was forced to follow that ruling in similar cases.

Swallowed A Lead Pencil Two Months Ago--Coughed It Up Yesterday

Some two months ago, George, the fifteen year old son of Mr. Thomas Henry, 209 Westcott street, accidentally swallowed a piece of rubber tipped lead pencil some two inches in length. Yesterday he was seized with a violent fit of coughing and coughed up the rubber tip and the tin holder of the pencil. The case is rather a remarkable one. Soon after swallowing the pencil the boy began to cough and spit up blood and he has been coughing ever since. The doctors who were called in, it is said, refused to believe in the lead pencil story and maintained that the boy had a very bad cold. Yesterday's episode, however, showed that they were in the wrong and that the boy had indeed swallowed the pencil. He is much relieved to-day.

MISSIONARY FOR THE DIOCESE

Rev. Bennett Anderson of Brooklin to Arouse Churches to Give.

It is stated unofficially in Toronto that Rev. Bennet Anderson, rector of the Anglican Church of Brooklin, Ont., has been appointed by his Grace the Archbishop, special missionary to the churches of the Diocese of Toronto. Mr. Anderson is a man of great energy and enthusiasm. He has been at his present post for several years, where he has built up a good congregation. Mr. Anderson will visit the different communions, and present the needs of the mission fields, as well as other church enterprises.

Rev. Mr. Anderson was in Peterborough some time last summer at the time he conducted a mission at St. Mark's Church, Otonabee. He is very well known here.

DISTINGUISHED ORATOR OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Coming to Peterborough—To Lecture on The West and its People.

Rev. Robt. Johnston, D.D., of the American Presbyterian Church, Montreal, will lecture in St. Paul's Church on Tuesday evening, Dec. 1st, on "The West and its People." His lecture will be illustrated by views taken by himself. Dr. Johnston is represented as one of the finest orators of the Presbyterian church in Canada, and his lecture will no doubt be a treat to Peterborough citizens who hear him.

How Much Are Your EYES Worth?

If you were offered $10,000 for your eyes you would laugh the proposal to scorn. You practically cannot get along without them.

They are in use every waking moment—working, reading, gazing at what you see around you. That is why perfect vision is absolutely necessary to you; why its monetary value is inestimable.

The vision value of our lenses will help you see better than ever you saw before.

If your eyes are worth only $10,000 a pair, figure out for yourself the actual value of a pair of our lenses that will increase your seeing power.

HEAVY TRAFFIC ON THE C. P. R.

Freight Business Reaches a High Mark—Many Trains Yesterday.

As an evidence of the heavy traffic on the C.P.R. at present it was stated by a resident who lives near the track that yesterday the trains went through almost in a procession. Nearly all were going east but there were a few moving in the opposite direction. The line is as busy as it has ever been and to anyone acquainted with the conditions it seems that there is even more moving than ever before. On Sundays the freight traffic is apparently even heavier than on week days. Between 30 and 40 trains are said to have gone through the city yesterday.

MISSIONARY FOR THE HEBREWS

Rev. H. Caplan, Havelock, Mentioned as Probable Selection.

It is learned in Toronto that a movement is on foot in the Anglican Diocese of Toronto to appoint a city missionary to the Jews. The clergyman whose name is being mentioned in this connection is Rev. H. Caplan, at present rector of the Anglican Church at Havelock. Mr. Caplan has been at his present location for about four years. He is a Hebrew by birth, but embraced the Christian faith some years since. Accordingly, he is well fitted to instruct the people of his own race in Toronto ghetto. The Presbyterian Church appointed Mr. Robold this fall, but there is ample room for all denominations among the Jews of Toronto, who are said to number 30,000. It is stated that the official appointment has not yet been made by his Grace the Archbishop, but that it is expected to take place in the near future.

TO-NIGHT at ROLLER RINK TEH TWO GREAT HALLOWAYS

BOLD AND STRIKING SITUATIONS IN "DIVORCE"

"Divorce" seizes one with its Gallic intensity. Its situations are bold and striking. The action mounts, and the dramatic force gathers until one is impelled on as by a flood. The primeval instincts of mother-love, of religion and of domestic affection are utilized with great skill. Five characters, wonderfully drawn, have been placed in a household where the warring elements involving birth, marriage, divorce and death, with their burden of felicity and infelicity make for dramatic moments. The clash of emotions has been utilized by a master hand. Not less remarkable than the drama is the playing.—Detroit News.

A PRESENTATION TO AN EKO CAMP MEMBER

Mr. Howard Waram Leaving Peterboro Goes to Kansas City on Wednesday.

A number of the boys of the Eko Camp assembled in their Club rooms on Saturday evening to bid good-bye to one of their comrades, Mr. W. H. Waram, who leaves Toronto on Wednesday for Kansas City, Mo., where he will reside. They presented him with a handsome umbrella, accompanied by an address. The presentation was made by Mr. J. Gemmell and the address, which was as follows, was read by Mr. R. M. Glover:—

Mr. W. H. Waram;

Dear Friend and Comrade, — Your brother members of Eko Camp, learning of your contemplated removal to Kansas City, Mo., feel that they cannot sever the intimate relations which they have enjoyed with you, in club and social life, without a formal expression of their regret at parting and their most sincere good wishes for your future welfare.

We feel sure that those sterling qualities of head and heart that have endeared you to us, will make for you a new circle of affectionate friends in your western home, and only hope that in the success which we believe awaits you in life you will sometimes recall with pleasure the sincere and faithful friendship of your members of the Camp. In token of our regret at parting and good wishes for your future welfare, we ask your acceptance of this small visible token of our regard.

Mr. Waram replied, thanking the boys for their many kindnesses while he was a member of the Club.

WEST PETERBOROUGH ELECTION PROTEST

Ante Election Gifts of Money to Churches and Charities — One of the "Corrupt" Acts Charged

The Globe in its Osgoode Hall notes has the following:

A protest has been filed with Mr. Geo. S. Holmested, Clerk of the Election Court, at Osgoode Hall, against the election of James Robert Stratton to the House of Commons, for the constituency of West Peterborough. The protest is in the name of John Hampden Burnham, the defeated Conservative candidate. It prefers the usual general allegations of unlawful acts and corrupt practices, personally and through agents. Among the acts specified are offers of money or other valuable consideration, or promises of such, personation, paying travelling expenses, giving of subscriptions or sums of money to churches and charities in advance of the election with a view to influence the electors in favour of the candidate, Mr. Stratton, and also holding or performing a contract for the Government, rendering him thus ineligible for election. A deposit of $1,015 was paid into court, on behalf of J. H. Burnham, by Mr. J. E. Jones, as security for costs.

BUFFALO ATTORNEY MAKES EXPLANATION

Regarding the Winner of Suit in Which Mr. Lowry is Interested

The Examiner has received a letter from Mr. E. G. Mansfield, a Buffalo attorney, in reference to an article which appeared on Nov. 13th, concerning Mr. S. W. Lowry and the Campbell estate. Mr. Mansfield acted as solicitor for Mr. Lowry and those interested in the estate. The letter is as follows:—

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In the issue of your paper of the 13th inst, there is an article headed, "A local man wins suit," which was evidently dictated by Mr. S. W. Lowry, and as the same is not only false in some respects, but unfair toward Mr. John Green, of your city, and myself, you are advised that the facts concerning said matter are as follows:

First; The fees charged by the attorney, who represented Mr. S. W. Lowry and five of his brothers in the Campbell Estate were not exorbitant, but on the contrary the bill as rendered for said fees was two or three hundred dollars less than the services performed were actually worth.

Second. The bill was rendered at the low figure for said services upon the special request of Mr. Green, who was their attorney in Peterborough, and had it not been for Mr. Greens' said request the bill would have been, at least, $200.00 more than it was.

Third; Because Mr. S. W. Lowry and some of his brothers and sisters declined to pay said bill as rendered, proceedings were commenced before the Surrogate of this county, to enforce such payment. Mr. S. W. Lowry and his said brothers and sisters, excepting Robert J. Lowry, employed an attorney in Buffalo to defend such proceedings. The Surrogate Judge appointed Mr. Thomas A. Sullivan, a lawyer of high standing, as referee, to hear the evidence. One day was spent in giving testimony regarding said fees before said referee; after this had been done Mr. S. W. Lowry, his sister and their attorney settled the matter by paying the original bill for said attorney's fees as rendered, plus the cost of the proceedings, amounting to $60.00, and in addition thereto another attorney's fees, and had this not been done the case would have proceeded to final judgment or decision. Mr. Lowry may call this "winning a suit," but it is not known by that description here in Buffalo.

Yours respectfully,

E. G. MANSFIELD.

Peterborough, Ont., Nov. 18, 1908.

APPLES, ORANGES FIGS AND PRUNES

The God-given Cure for All Diseases of Bowels, Liver, Kidneys and Skin.

Few people seem to realise how important—how absolutely necessary—it is to keep the Bowels, Kidneys and Skin in proper working order.

They wonder why they have Sallow Complexions — Indigestion — Headaches—Rheumatism — while all the time their systems are clogged and poisoned with waste tissue and indigestible food which these organs should have removed.

What they need are Fruit Juices—nature's provision for keeping the eliminating machinery of the body working right. "Fruit-a-tives" are the concentrated juices of fresh, ripe fruits, combined in such a way that their medicinal action is greatly intensified. They stimulate and regulate the action of Liver, Bowels, Kidneys and Skin, thus clearing the system of the accumulated waste and poison, purifying the blood, and banishing those distressing troubles that make life miserable.

No other remedy has ever been discovered that does this so effectively as "Fruit-a-tives." 50c. a box — 6 boxes for $2.50. Trial size 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

NOT PRACTICAL POLITICS

Hill's U.S.-Canada Free Trade Speech Declares British Parliamentarian Was Only Another Effort to Secure Free Ingress With Goods, But Canada's Heart is Hardened Against Yankee Onslaughts.

London, Nov. 23.—(C.A.P.)—Though the speech of J. J. Hill at the Chamber of Commerce banquet in New York was lengthily reported here it has attracted little attention.

The Observer, however, has interviewed Lord Strathcona and Hamar Greenwood, M. P., respecting it. The former disagreed with Mr. Hill's views and stated it was unquestionably true that Canadians were strongly in favor of the preference to the Mother Country, and any proposals to further this policy coming from England would be most favorably entertained in Canada whichever party happened to be in power.

Mr. Greenwood said free trade between the United States and Canada was not within the realm of practical politics. From his recent journey through the United States he knew it to be the policy of President Roosevelt and other leaders to curry favor with Canada in the hope of breaking down the tariff walls with the object of benefitting the United States traders, but the persistent irritation of the policy of successive United States Governments had hardened Canadian hearts. Canada now asked no favors from Uncle Sam and would certainly grant none to conflict with the interests of the Mother Country.

Mr. Greenwood opined that if the interests of Canadian consumers demanded it the preference would be withdrawn, but Canada had now reached that stage of national development which would make a mighty race, ever attached, he hoped, to the home country, but ever as hard as flint against American absorption or other foreign influence.

The Observer, which is a militant tariff reform journal, editorially remarks that the Canadian question was uppermost in Mr. Chamberlain's mind when he entered on what seemed to be his incredible campaign, for it was as clear to him as it is now plain to others, that the alternative to an imperial preference was the fiscal federation of Canada and the United States. Without some action on this side it was quite certain that within the next few years some process of trade reciprocity would be initiated.

"When we speak now of inevitable victory for the preference let us hope it will not [illegible] serve its main original end," says The Observer.

THREE NEARLY DROWN.

Fishing Boat is Wrecked in Gulf Near Vancouver, B.C.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 23.—Dr. F. E. Morgan, formerly of Toronto; Wilbur Greener of High River, Alberta, and George Clements of Vancouver, narrowly escaped death by having their fishing boat wrecked off Dundas Island, west of Prince Rupert.

For two weeks they were missing. When their boat was smashed on the rocks they clung to the pieces until they reached the shore, where for a week they subsisted on raw clams. They were unable to light a fire and in wet clothing suffered frightfully from exposure. Saturday they were picked up by a schooner.

Brothers starve.

New York, Nov. 23.—Through the chance visit yesterday of a neighbor to the home of Michael and John Flaherty, brothers, aged 65 and 60 years, respectively, of Sheepshead Bay, it was discovered that the elder brother had died of starvation, and that the younger man was dying from lack of food.

Between them the brothers had in cash $1,350.

Explosion of Dynamite.

St. Catharines, Nov. 23.—William Rombay is at home to-day nursing a broken arm, as the result of a heavy explosion at Thorold Saturday. Bombay was engineer at the Battle quarry, and was unable to escape from the boiler-house when fifty or sixty pounds of dynamite exploded.

Skin Diseases.

A diseased or disfigured skin will always leave its stamp on the mind of the individual. Many people suffering from disfiguring skin diseases avoid society and lose all pride in their personal appearance. When the skin breaks out in eruptions and sores it is due entirely to an impure condition of the blood.

In all such cases Burdock Blood Bitters will quickly purify the blood and drive all the impurities out of the system.

ITCHING SKIN CURED.

Mrs. J. J. Magee, Jr., Kinmount, Ont., writes: "In the spring of 1906 I was troubled with a Rash that broke out all over me. It was the worst on my face and head, had a dry, scaly top, and when I would get warm it would become very itchy. I tried the doctor's medicine but it did me no good, so I then got one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before it was all used the Rash was entirely gone."

SORES ON FACE.

Mrs. Harvey Barkhouse, Gold River, N.S., writes: "I was greatly troubled with Sores on my face and finally became so bad I had to go to the doctor about it, but he could do nothing to help me.

"I thought about Burdock Blood Bitters and decided to try a bottle. I cannot recommend B.B.B. enough, as I had not taken all the bottle before my face was cured."

MAY BE ED. LEE.

Prisoner in Germany Thought to Be Toronto Jail-Breaker.

Niagara Falls, Nov. 23.—Chief of Police Lyons of Niagara Falls, N.Y., has received information that Edward Lee, alias Blackie, who it is alleged murdered Patrolman McCormick and seriously injured Patrolman Manger of the Niagara Falls, N.Y., police on the evening of July 22 last, after escaping from Toronto Jail with five others, has been apprehended in Berlin, Germany.

The German authorities claim the man they have answers in every detail to the description sent them of Lee, and ask if the American authorities will extradite.

District Attorney Ackerson of Niagara County, Saturday took dispositions of three men who witnessed the tragedy. They will be forwarded to Germany, and if the man apprehended prove to be Lee, an officer will be sent to bring him back to Niagara Falls.

RAILWAYMEN UNITE.

New Organization Will Consist of All Employes of Roads.

Denver, Col., Nov. 23.—It was announced yesterday that there was born in Denver on Saturday a powerful railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor, with ten affiliated organizations as members.

The object is to bring about a closer union of all railroad employes and to seek to affiliate all railway organizations with the organization.

The first convention is to be held in Denver and it is expected that the hundred thousand employes will be represented by the officers of their unions, which are as follows:

Railroad telegraphers, boilermakers and iron shipbuilders, freight handlers, machinists, car workers, blacksmiths, railway clerks, switchmen, maintenance of way employes and steamfitters.

Small France In Canada.

Paris, Nov. 23.—(C.A.P.)—Hon. R. Dandurand, Speaker of the Canadian Senate, was the guest of La Marmite Dining Club, who entertained aviators on Saturday.

Hon. Mr. Dandurand spoke enthusiastically in praise of France, and expressed the hope that the aviators would reduce the existing distances between the peoples of the world.

Referring to the affection for France entertained by his fellow-Canadians, Hon. Speaker Dandurand remarked that he was assured that there was room on the banks of the St. Lawrence for a small France, which their grand-children may some day get to know.

Barges Tangled In Chain.

St. Catharines, Nov. 23.—As the steam barge Iona was passing down the old Welland Canal above lock No. 2 on Saturday afternoon, her wheel became entangled in a chain which is used in connection with a floating bridge across the canal for the use of Ridley College students.

The services of a diver were procured, but he was unable to cut the chain until about noon on Sunday, when the steamer was backed into the level above and the water drawn off.

Sergeant Robs Drunks.

Kenora, Nov. 23.—Prisoners in the jail here having complained of being robbed in the past few weeks, detectives were put on the case. Feigning drunkenness, Charles Wiggins was arrested by Sergt. John Russell. In searching the prisoner at the station, $16 was taken off him, and only $5 afterwards accounted for. Russell was arrested and searched and marked money found, and he then confessed. He has been on the force about 18 months.

Shah Won't Give Constitution.

Teheran, Nov. 23.—The Shah of Persia has definitely decided that the people shall not have a constitution, and his proclamation to that effect is posted in the mosques to-day.

In his proclamation, the Shah says: "We were prepared to redeem our promise and convoke a parliament, but we learn from the assembled representatives of the people that they do not want a constitution."

Parties Still Tied.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 23.—The recount in Harbor Grace allows Dawe, the Government candidate, to retain the seat by a majority of three. There is one ballot in dispute.

A THIRD TRIAL TO BE INSTITUTED

Education Bill Will Again Come Before British Houses.

A COMPROMISE THIS TIME

Text of Measure Which It Is Hoped Will Settle Vexed Question of Religious Instruction in Schools of Great Britain Is Issued:—Contains "Right of Entry" Clause Which Will Make Trouble.

London, Nov. 23.—The Government yesterday issued the text of its third attempt to draw up an education bill which will command sufficient support from all parties to get through Parliament.

It is, of course, a compromise and will undoubtedly meet with serious objection on the part of all extremists. But, as the most influential bishops have agreed with the most influential members of the Liberal party in formulating the terms of the bill, there are fairly good prospects of its revival.

Popular control and freedom from tests are two of the main principles to which the Government has striven to give effect. All schools receiving rate aid pass completely under control of local education authority. No teacher employed or seeking employ is required to subscribe any specified religious denomination or attend or abstain from attending any place of religious worship or give any religious instruction.

These provisions, the Government maintains, will provide one type of school throughout the country, the whole apparatus of managers appointed to guard the interests of a particular denomination passing away.

This makes a great distinction from the old bill, which involved a sacrifice on the part of the church in compensation for which she gets "the right of entry." This takes the form of a provision that if any parent desires it, denominational religious instruction may be given two mornings a week between 9 and 9.45 o'clock. To reconcile the passive kickers who object to denominational teaching being paid for out of the taxes, it is provided that the denomination concerned shall defray the expenses either by providing teachers, or if they accept an assistant teacher who may "volunteer" they must refund a proportionate amount of his salary to the local authority. This "right of entry" will probably be the focus of a bitter controversy. It does not fully satisfy even the moderate of either side and is bitterly opposed by the extremists. An influential body of Liberal nonconformists, members of Parliament before the text of the bills was known passed resolutions condemning any provision involving the "right of entry" during school hours of sectarian purposes or the employment of teachers to give sectarian instruction, even voluntarily.

The bill provides for the religious instruction proposed by the Cowper Temple, a year or so ago; that is, 45 minutes a day of undenominational teaching. The bill also provides for contracting out of schools committed to denominational teachings, as, for instance, the Roman Catholics. They will get a Parliamentary grant provided they fulfill certain conditions, but they will receive no rate aid. Catholic assent to the bill will probably largely depend on whether the Parliamentary grant is sufficient, in the words of Archbishop Bourne, "to keep our schools permanently in efficient being."

"It is imperative," says the Catholic Archbishop of Westminster, "that we shall always be able to have in our schools teachers whom we can recognize as genuinely Catholic teachers."

Hits Hackmen.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 23.—The six months' absolute embargo placed on all cattle, sheep, hogs and horses by the Dominion Minister of Agriculture caused the gates of all bridges here to be closed, except to pedestrians and automobiles.

The hackmen on both sides of the river are the hardest hit, but the automobil[illegible] are having a harvest with the [illegible].

No New Developments.

Buffalo, Nov. 23.—"The situation looks good to-day," said Commissioner Pearson, of the State Department of Agriculture. "No new cases of the foot and mouth disease have been discovered in Western New York since last Tuesday, and unless unfavorable developments come soon the re-opening of the East Buffalo stock yards should be but a matter of days."

No Arrests Yet.

Montreal, Nov. 23.—No arrests have yet been made in the case of Andrew Fox, whose body was found on St. James street Friday evening, although his movements have been traced to within 20 minutes of the finding of the dead body. He was at the Mikado Saloon on Bleury street at 12.40 and was not seen again alive.

Lawyers In the Lead.

Albany, N.Y., Nov. 23.—Of the 150 members of the State Assembly 63 are lawyers. Among the others there are five doctors, 12 farmers, 10 merchants, 10 real estate agents, four insurance agents, three manufacturers, four contractors, two traveling salesmen, three undertakers, one editor, two printers.

Nearly Asphyxiated.

Belleville, Nov. 23.—Chief of Police Snider of Deseronto and his family were nearly asphyxiated by escaping gas from a coal stove. Mrs. Snider was very low for some time, but will recover.

Drowned at Railway Camp.

Kenora, Nov. 23.—Duncan Bell, aged 19, bookkeeper in a transcontinental railway camp, was drowned on Saturday while skating on Long Lake, north of Vermillion Bay. Deceased was a native of Ottawa. The body will be shipped there to-day, where the parents reside.

Five Lost at Sea.

Boston, Nov. 23.—Five men, including Captain Obed Knowlton of the British schooner Hugh G., lost their lives as the result of a collision in Broad Sound early Saturday with a barge in tow of a tug. The schooner sunk.

The drowned are: Captain Obed Knowlton, 45 years of age, of Advocate, N.S.; first mate, Wm. Merriman, Parrsboro, N.S.; Steward James Millberry, Advocate, N.S.; Seaman Albert Mills, Advocate, N.S.; Seaman L. Mosher, Parrsboro, N.S.

The survivors are Second Mate Orris Milberry and two Norwegian seamen.

Teeth Grow Upward.

New York, Nov. 23.—To relieve a condition unusual, if not unique, in that teeth in the upper jaw of the patient had grown upward into the jawbone instead of downward, an operation was performed at St. Luke's Hospital by Dr. Robert Abbe. The patient was Herbert Cosman, 21 years old, of Newburg.

Ever since three teeth in the young man's right upper jaw were removed twelve years ago there has been a peculiar swelling in the cheek. No pain at any time accompanied the swelling.

Grossly Exaggerated.

Paris, Nov. 23.—The Havas News agency yesterday morning received the following despatch from Madrid in reply to a message regarding a report that the Spanish king had been assassinated:

"The king continues his hunt at Madeia. The rumors of assassination are untrue."

Received by the King.

London, Nov. 23.—(C. A. P.)—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux was invited to lunch with the Prince and Princess of Wales on Saturday, and was afterwards received by the King.

ROGERS WAS A PITIABLE FIGURE; TURK HAD AN EASY TASK IN THE WRESTLING BOUT FRIDAY NIGHT

Following is a translation of the report given in the Montreal La Presse, the great French journal, of the wrestling match between Yankee Rogers and Yousout Mahmout, the Turkish wrestler on Friday night:

Under the heading "Easy Victory for the Turk, Rogers makes a pitiable figure before the Sultan's redoubtable subject," La Presse remarks: "The Turk, Yousout, last night showed himself stronger and more terrible even than the reputation which had preceded him to Montreal. Twice he crushed poor Rogers and in twenty minutes it was all over.

The crowd was not large, hardly 1,500 people, and it was a pity as the spectacle was an extraordinary one. The Turk is simply marvellous.

Strong as a bear, cruel, even to the point of malice, active, speedy, full of evident tricks, this wrestler was a revelation.

Gotch in his palmiest days has shown nothing finer or more passionate. A shiver ran through the crowd when Yousout uttering his gutteral cry hurled himself with an irresistible force against poor Rogers who was seen to visibly fail.

He, (the Turk) fears nothing and seems to have an unlimited confidence in his strength. It is necessary to see him execute his tricks of strength unknown to this country, to appreciate him. Those who saw him lift Rogers from the ground by a thigh, turn him around three times in the air and then hurl him to the other end of the mat, will have a lasting remembrance of that episode.

The Turk not only possesses courage which stops at nothing, and unlimited strength, but has also a curious science in which his arms and legs are used at the same time in obtaining holds. It might be said that he works with four arms.

Rogers weighed 210 pounds last night and the Turk 302.

At the beginning of the struggle the Turk assumed a very low guard and began to circle around Rogers, looking for an opening. He turned cautiously and the big Yankee held him off at the end of his long arms.

Suddenly the Turk utters a terrifying cry and jumps for the thigh of the American, like a wolf leaping upon his prey.

Rogers escapes, but the leg of his wrestling trunks shows a long tear where the paw of the bear had struck him.

The fambus hoarse, strange cry is heard, the crowd rises to its feet while Rogers, hanged all over the mat, no longer knows how to defend himself.

A more violent shock sends him rolling on the ground, and while he is falling, the Turk seizes him and Rogers is placed squarely on his shoulders off the mat.

Only five minutes of the struggle had elapsed and already the Turk was showing himself terrible in the extreme.

The crowd saw that he was not an ordinary wrestler. Everyone was standing. The Turk recommenced his attacks in the centre of the mat. On top of Rogers he smothered him with his legs and crushed his face with his arms, his holds making his poor victim groan and appeal piteously to the referee.

Suddenly Rogers succeeded in seizing a foot and began twisting it. The twisting of his foot, however, did not disturb the Turk, who forcibly released himself, tore his foot from the hold and closed upon Rogers like a maniac.

Rogers receives him with a blow of his fist to the jaw, and a moment later he repeats the blow.

The referee stops the bout and warns Rogers.

The struggle recommences.

The Turk is angry; in a terrible attack he hurls Rogers against the ropes, picks him up in his arms, throws him on the mat and sets him upon his back by a marvellous combination of science: a fall gained by an arm hold, followed by a head lock and a scissors hold.

Time: 9 minutes.

Rogers was a pitiable figure when he returned. The Turk forces him to the mat rapidly, and then seeing that the American was commencing to show the "yellow streak," he began to play with him as a cat plays with a mouse. For the second fall he jumped on Rogers and crushed him with a waist lock and crotch hold.

Time: 11 minutes.

TO-MORROW NIGHT'S WRESTLING BOUT AT ROLLER RINK WILL BE LIVELY AFFAIR

There promises to be a big crowd present at the Roller Rink to-morrow night, when Ned Fitzpatrick and Harry Burridge will clash in a wrestling bout for $100; that should be about the liveliest contest of its kind that the local fans have an opportunity of witnessing in many moons. With two such evenly matched, well conditioned and scienced boys in action, the event cannot fail to be exciting, and any one who appreciates a good exhibition of wrestling cannot afford to overlook this bout.

The Roller Rink will prove an ideal place for the bout, as a good view of the mat can be obtained from any point in the hall, while the building will be comfortably heated for the occasion.

In addition to the main bout, the preliminaries are of unusually classy nature. The offer of Young Hackenschmidt is creating much interest and will, without a doubt, prove an entertaining feature. Peterborough has a number of wrestlers who should be able to keep Hack on the jump to carry out his promise to throw five Peterborough men in ten minutes.

Lillie and Guerin are in good shape for their six round boxing bout, and it promises to be fast enough to open the eyes of the crowd.

MR. M. SPENCELY RUNS MILE IN 7.45 AT THE RINK ON 67TH BIRTHDAY

Although sixty-seven years old today Mr. Mark Spencely surprised a coterie of his friends at the Brock Street Rink this morning by running a mile around the sawdust track in seven minutes and forty-five seconds. It was quite a surprise to see the old veteran of the "go-as-you-please" style of the last generation, start away at a gambol as jauntily as many a man of thirty, and keep up the pace through the thirteen laps, to finish finally with a spurt worthy of a young hanger.

It is twenty-five years since Mr. Spencely donned the light jersey for a run or walk, and at that time he was as good as there was around this district, and the older residents will remember the contests in which he entered and in which he was many times successful. He still retains some of his old time form and in any case he is still as game as ever. Mr. Chris Graham acted as time keeper this morning, other officials were chosen from the crowd that had gathered.

A PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE PLAYER GOES TO EDMONTON

Hugh S Ross, the well known Portage la Prairie hockey player, arrived in the city this morning on the C.N.R., says the Edmonton Bulletin, to join the Edmonton Hockey team. Fred Whiteroft, manager of the team, has left Peterborough for Edmonton. He will arrive in the city in about a week, bringing with him the players signed.

E E Chauvin, secretary of the Edmonton Hockey Club, denies the report published in Winnipeg papers recently to the effect that the players signed by Edmonton will not be eligible to play. P D Ross, trustee of the Stanley Cup, informed Edmonton early this year that any man who did not play in any Stanley Cup match last year, may be engaged by Edmonton, and may play in Stanley Cup matches this year.

WALKING JOURNALIST HAS REACHED BRANDON

Examiner Special

Brandon, Nov. 23.—After a long walk from Quebec City, which has taken him since August 8th to accomplish, Lee Marchant, a young French-Canadian, who describes himself as a journalist and globe trotter, has arrived in Brandon. When Marchant set out from Quebec he had a companion, E H Clark, but the latter stopped at Kenora and left him to continue his tramp across the Dominion alone. Marchant hopes to be able to walk all the way to Vancouver. He has worn out five pair of boots since he left the Ancient Capital. He came by way of Toronto, Sudbury and Port Arthur. He will write the story of his trip for one of the leading magazines.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE TO-MORROW

The annual meeting of the City Hockey League will be held to-morrow evening in the Y.M.C.A. when reports from last season will be received and officers elected for the ensuing year. All clubs intending to enter the league this season are requested to have representatives present at this meeting as there is a large amount of important business which will have to be transacted in order to get the season underway.

ANOTHER TEAM LIKELY TO ENTER THE CITY LEAGUE

To-morrow (Tuesday) evening there will be a meeting of the South City Amateur Athletic Association, to consider the advisability of organizing a hockey club. The promoters of the proposition expect to place a team in the Senior City Hockey League.

OPENING OF THE TEN-PIN LEAGUE TO-NIGHT

Lock Works Trio to Meet Hanrahans—Games for the Week.

The newly organized Peterborough Ten Pin League will be opened to-night at the P.B.C. alleys, with a game between the Lock Works and Hanrahan's team. The original schedule called for a game between Gutterson and the B.A.C., but this game has been postponed until Saturday. These changes have necessitated a slight rearrangement in the schedule for the first week, but starting next week the games will be played according to the published standard.

The games for this week are as follows:

Monday—Lock Works vs. Hanrahan.
Tuesday—Belmont vs. Lang.
Wednesday—Examiner vs. Bankers.
Thursday—Martin vs. McIlroy.
Friday—C.G.E. vs. Quakers.
Saturday—Gutterson vs. B.A.C.

ATHLETICS AT THE Y. M. C. A.

More Points Won by Leaders Among School Boy Contestants.

Saturday's events at the Y. M. C. A. for the junior school boys and Collegiate Institute boys was the running broad jump for the former and running high jump for the latter. There were twenty-two competitors in the junior broad jump, resulting as follows:

H. Outram, 13 feet 4 inches; H. Hill, 13 feet; W. Miller and W. Stratton, 11 feet 9 inches; W. Johnston, 11 feet 6 inches.

B. Lees 16, W. Johnston 13, Outram 11, Hill 8, Lang 6, Morrow 5.

Y. M. C. A. Collegiate boys' running high jump resulted as follows:

Gilbert, 15 feet 7 1-2 inches; Hill, 13 feet 9 inches; Minorgan, 13 feet; Scott, 12 feet 7 1-2 inches; Armstrong, 12 feet.

Ray Scott 23 points, Minorgan 15 points, Howden 7 points, Armstrong 6 points, Wallis 5 points, Brooks 4 points, H. Lees 3 points.

WRESTLING

London, Eng., November 12. — It looks as if we are in for an exciting time at the wrestling game. Frank Gotch arrived in Liverpool by the Campania. If Hackenschmidt wants to meet Gotch again he will have to make the advance, for the American wrestler is not—to use his own words—"going to follow his late antagonist about." He denies having used either foul tactics or foul language in their last match, and says: "The fact is there was some feeling engendered against me in New York because I am a pure westerner, and the only people who gave me full credit were the people from the west. It is now claimed by Hackenschmidt that I was greased in the ring, but I am ready with a thousand dollars for any charity in Liverpool or London if my detractors can bring one representative of the press of America or England who witnessed the contest to support the allegation."

Jim Foster of Pemberton, has challenged Bob Berry, of Wigan, Derry, to weigh 144 lbs., and Foster catch-weight; or he will meet Job Shambley, of Westhoughton, at 7 st. 18 lbs. each; or he will throw Tom Rose, of Bolton, twice inside one hour, or if Rose gets a throw he wins. These are the best men in England at their weight.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—The handicap wrestling match between Artie Edmunds, the local boy, and Eugene Tremblay, of Montreal, proved to be a great bout. The conditions of the match were that Tremblay was to secure two falls in an hour. The men were evenly matched in height, but Tremblay was about twenty pounds heavier, and had a slight advantage in reach. After thirty-four minutes' hard work, Tremblay secured a fall, gained by a combination crotch and arm lock.

Edmunds, who did very little aggressive work, displayed great skill in breaking Tremblay's holds.

The men resumed after ten minutes' intermission. Tremblay secured all kinds of holds on his opponent, but was unable to gain another fall. Though the contest was free from rough tactics, Edmunds was very tired and it looked extremely doubtful that he could have held out much longer.

HOCKEY.

The Rough Riders' Hockey Club will hold a meeting to-night at eight o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. All members are requested to be present.

Montreal, Nov. 20. — Mr. Henry Smith, father of the famous Ottawa hockey family of that name, makes the announcement by letter to a prominent hockey man here, that he will take his seven sons on a hockey tour shortly, playing exhibition games with the strongest teams in Canada and the United States.

The trip will start from Pittsburg, after the close of the season there, February 15. Games will be played in Cleveland, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Canadian and American Soo, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, and wind up with a clash against the Ottawa team.

Jack, the oldest member of the family, who played with Ottawa, the first year the Stanley Cup came to Ottawa, is at present in Fernie, B. C.; Dan, better known as "Moxey," is at St. Alphonse, Saguenay River; Alf, Harry and Tom, all of whom have played with Ottawa, are at present in Pittsburg; while Billy and George, the youngest, are in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The Edmonton Hockey Club wired to-day to the Stanley Cup trustees that the dates allotted, December 28 and 30, to meet the Wanderers in Montreal, are agreeable. It is stated that four players who figured on the Renfrew team of last year will play for Edmonton. The trustees have notified the Wanderers to play on these dates.

THE FARMER FEEDS THEM ALL.

The king may rule o'er land and sea,
The lord may live right royally,
The soldier ride in pomp and pride,
The sailor roam o'er ocean wide;
But this or that, whate'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

The writer thinks, the poet sings,
The craftsman fashions wondrous things,
The doctor heals, the lawyer pleads,
The miner follows the precious leads;
But this or that, whate'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

The merchant he may buy and sell,
The teacher do his duty well;
But men may toil through busy days,
Or men may stroll through pleasant ways;
From king to beggar, whate'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

The farmer's trade is one of worth;
He's partner with the sky and earth,
He's partner with the sun and rain,
And no man leases for his gain;
And men may rise, or men may fall,
But the farmer he must feed them all.

God bless the man who sows the wheat,
Who finds us milk and fruit and meat;
May his purse be heavy, his heart be light,
His cattle and corn and all go right;
God bless the seeds his hands let fall,
For the farmer he must feed us all.

LATEST NOTES FROM DOMINION CAPITAL

The Silly Season in Politics—Speculating as to Premier Laurier's Successor—Fielding and Lemieux Favourites—Mackenzie King, M.P., Goes to Pekin —Marine Department Patronage List Abolished—Talk of Minister Templeman's Retirement.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—The speculation started in some of the so-called "independent" journals, as to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's probable successor in the leadership of the Liberal party, in the absence of important official news, is a prominent topic of discussion among politicians. Many look upon Finance Minister Fielding as the natural and logical successor of Sir Wilfrid, by reason of his great ability and most successful handling of the Dominion finances. Others, again take the ground that to maintain a "solid Quebec" we must have a French-Canadian successor to Sir Wilfrid, and in that case Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the able and eloquent Postmaster-General, would undoubtedly be the man. Mr. Lemieux has been entrusted with very important functions in Japan and in Europe, and was, on Saturday, honoured by audience with the King and was dined by the Prince of Wales, and this gives rise to the surmise that his political fortunes are being pushed forward by the Premier.

It is well to bear in mind, however, that Quebec has held the Premiership for twelve years, and is assured of it for five years more, and that according to an unwritten law the successor of Sir Wilfrid must be a representative of the English-speaking population.

However, all this talk, though not without interest, and involving a situation that in the not far distant future will become a "burning issue," is, at the present time, premature and entirely out of the domain of current politics. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier declared that he had dedicated his life to his country, he meant it for the future as for the past, and as he is still hale and vigorous, those who aspire to fill his political shoes will have ample opportunity of demonstrating their capacity for the exercise of the virtue of patience.

W. L. Mackenzie King, M.P., will sail on Dec. 2, to represent Canada at the conference for the suppression of the opium traffic to be held at Pekin, China, in January. Mr. King was reluctant to accept the mission, for which he has peculiar qualifications, in view of the near approach of the session of Parliament, but he was assured by Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the importance of the Pekin conference to the interests of Canada would amply justify him in being absent for the first few weeks of the session.

Hon. Mr. Brodeur, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has officially notified Geo. H. Watson, K.C., who is in charge of the Marine Department inquiry, that all patronage lists in the Department have been abolished. The purchasing officers of the department are now left absolutely free to buy goods where they can do so most cheaply, irrespective of the political affiliations of the vendors.

Hon. Mr. Templeman, Minister of Mines and Inland Revenue, has returned to the capital, and had only time to see the Premier for a few minutes before Sir Wilfrid's departure for New York. There is some doubt as to whether Mr. Templeman will retain his portfolio, which will be received on the Premier's return.

The Government has received word from Paris that the Customs Committee of the French Senate has appointed a sub-committee to consider the question of the ratification of the Franco-Canadian treaty, and to report on the objections raised against the treaty by commercial interests in France.

MOOREHOUSE'S COMET SEEN WITH NAKED EYE

Has a Tail 15,000,000 Miles in Length—Local Astronomers See It.

Moorehouse's comet was visible on Saturday night about seven o'clock to the naked eye, and a number of the local astronomers observed it from Mr. H. B Collier's residence, both by the naked eye and through the telescope. It was located in the milky way about quarter way from the horizon to the zenith in the south-west sky. The tail of the comet is reckoned at 15,000,000 miles in length. It is 18 hours, 49 min. right ascension, minus two degrees declination. On December 25 it will have reached the nearest point possible to the sun.

THE HIGH COURT WAS OPENED THIS AFTERTOON

Only One Case Brought Before Chief Justice Falconbridge.

Only one case was left to be heard at the non-jury sittings of the Fall Assizes which opened at the Court House this afternoon. It was the Regan-Lawless estate case. Chief Justice Sir W. G. Falconbridge of the Kings' Bench division of the High Court of Justice, came down from Toronto on the noon train, and as it was several hours late, court was not opened until after two o'clock.

In the case referred to, Mr. Regan, former manager of the National Hotel, is suing J. P. Langley, assignee of the Lawless Estate, for wages that were due him. Mr. W. R. Smythe, K. C., Toronto, appeared for Langley, and Mr. D. O'Connell represented Mr. Regan.

THEY HAD NO TIME TO ESCAPE

Railway Men at Sandbanks Caught Before They Realized It.

The bodies of the three men who were killed in the wreck at Sandbank siding were found in positions which suggested that their deaths had been almost instantaneous, which is believed to have been the case. The remains of the firemen and engineer were taken from the top of the boiler of their engine. The young brakeman had met his death beside the fire box and was badly burned in different parts of the body. Going at the high rate of speed at which they were travelling along the main line, as soon as they turned into the siding they were into the other freight before they had time to think of saving themselves, and if the thought had come to some them they probably realised that it was death for them whether they remained in their engine or jumped. Many people have expressed their wonderment that the train did not leave the rails when it passed the switch for the siding. To those unacquainted with railway matters it seemed strange that the sudden swerve did not throw the train from the rails.

LEAVES LARGE AMOUNT TO CHARITY

Ottawa Institutions Receive $20,000—Will of Late J. R. McNeil.

Details of the will made by the late J R McNeil, of Ottawa, in which a Peterborough lady is bequeathed $2,000 is as follows, as reported in the Ottawa Journal:—

The charitable institutions of the city will profit by nearly $20,000, according to the will of the late James R McNeil, merchant tailor, for which probate was asked this morning. The great bulk of this will depend upon the judgment of Mr. W D Hogg, to whom it was left to decide what institutions should profit by Mr. McNeil's bounty. Only two institutions were specified by deceased in his will. The Old Men's Home and the Home for Friendless Women, to each of which $1,000 was bequeathed.

The will, which was made on March 11 of this year, disposes of a net estate of $26,375. This was made up of $13,900 real estate and $12,475 in personalty.

To Sarah McNeil, sister-in-law, Peterborough, $2,000 in cash, $131 in a legacy on furniture.

To Mary Mayor, sister, Preston, England, $2,000.

To John Crawley (for many years in Mr. McNeil's employ,) $1,000.

To John Caldwell Martin, Ottawa, $2,000.

The balance of the estate, amounting to over $17,000, is left in trust to Mr. W D Hogg, K.C., to be distributed amongst the charitable institutions of the city in what manner he thinks fit.

OTTAWA CLERGYMAN TO BE PROCURATOR

Two Peterborough Mills That Are Helping Make The Local Traffic On Railways Brisker Than Ever

WORK NIGHT AND DAY

From statements heard here and there about the C.P.R. yards, it is evident that business has probably never been heavier than it is at present. Not only is the "through traffic" extremely brisk, but even in the city the local freightage has reached the high water mark. It is learned that the Quaker Oats Company is receiving practically a train load of oats a day. The number of cars that are taken into the mill daily, would constitute a train of ordinary length according to the statement among the railway fraternity.

There is also according to the same authority about the same number of cars of manufactured articles being taken from the mill each day. From these facts it may be seen that the Quaker Oats Company alone are doing a great deal to increase the business.

To meet the increased activity in the freight line the C.P.R. are running the yard engine night and day. This was begun last night and the extra men were brought up from Havelock.

This morning there are some 25 cars of steel standing on the sidings near Townsend street, ready to be taken into the yard of the Cordage Works to be unloaded, and more of it is expected to arrive later. There are cars everywhere on the sidings and the yard engine is kept working all the time handling them. Probably never before in the history of the city has the train traffic on all the lines been as heavy as at present. The G.T.R. is enjoying its share of the business. Altogether there are about fifty trains probably more than that, daily pass the diamond, the intersection of the C.P.R. and G.T.R. lines. Each train is counted only once, although it might shunt past several times before finally leaving the city.

Judging from the business on the railways that pass through the city, the depression which is spoken of is apparently disappearing, and the men who have the duties of handling the large amount of rolling stock and freight, are at least not complaining of being without employment.

CORNELIUS WALL DIDN'T LIKE SUITOR CHOSEN BY DAUGHTER AND PUT HIM OUT OF THE HOUSE

There were lively times at 37 Sutton avenue on Saturday night, consequent upon the return of Cornelius Wall to his former residence. He had been working in Lindsay for a long time, and when he got back to Toronto he found conditions were not as he wished.

The cause of the trouble was the strong attachment of his pretty daughter Hilda for a man named Daniel Duncan McDougall. She fell in love with him two years ago, and in the absence of her father, took him to board, and he has lived happily there ever since. Some few days ago Hilda's father returned to Toronto and was annoyed.

His indignation got beyond control on Saturday night, and in the end, it is said, Wall armed himself with a rolling pin and put McDougall out into the dark.

The latter wasn't satisfied, however, and it is said he went and hunted up his brother and a revolver. "He came back here snapping his old revolver, and saying he'd shoot my father," said Miss Wall to the Star, "but I told him his revolver was like himself, full of hot air, because I saw it wasn't loaded."

Loaded or not the revolver was too much for Mrs. Wall, who left hurriedly and informed Inspector Gregory that McDougall was on the warpath threatening to blow out the brains of anybody that interfered. The inspector, in company with Patrol Sergeant Beatty and Policeman Fairweather, made a hasty trip to Sutton avenue, and took both McDougall and his gun to No. 4 station. Pointing a revolver and threatening to shoot is the charge.

Up there he claimed that father Wall had made motions at him with a butcher knife, and that the revolver had been pulled out in self-defence.

"Sure. I'll marry him if he gets out all right," said Miss Wall, who keenly resents the parental restraint imposed by her father.

McDougall appeared to-day before Magistrate Denison, charged with pointing a pistol at Cornelius Wall. Some witnesses whom he required were not on hand, and he was remanded till to-morrow without electing or pleading.—Toronto Star.

A South Central School Boy Lost For Three Hours

There was consternaton in a Weller street home yesterday after dinner when the four-year-old son of a family residing there failed to return from school. He was attending the South Central Kindergarten and left a few minutes before twelve o'clock. He usually arrives home a few minutes after mid-day but yesterday was an exception. One o'clock came and there was no boy. Then two o'clock and half past two arrived and still the welcome sound of the lad's usually merry voice was wanting.

Stories of kidnapping, lost in a big city or drowned in a creek arose in the visions of the parents—the mother in particular—and her thoughts turned to seeking aid from the police. This was, however, not necessary, for, at three o'clock in stalked the four-year-old traveller who had been on his feet for three hours looking for home.

His usual course lay along Charlotte street to Park street and up Park street to Weller street, but yesterday he decided to attempt new and untried parts. In relating his adventures at home he told of travelling up hills and down steep steps and along a bridge with railings on either side. This was presumably in the vicinity of the Protestant Home, where he retraced his steps to Charlotte street and began afresh.

Was Fined For Selling Meat Less A Quarter Without A License

Henry Faux's neglect to take out a butcher's license resulted in his appearance in a police court case this morning, with the further consequence that he was fined $5 and costs, amounting to $9.95. Faux was charged with selling meat in quantities less than a quarter without having taken out the necessary license.

Considerable evidence was heard in the case, including the testimony of Mr. John Marvin, the Hunter street butcher, who stated that Faux purchased quantities of meat from him in small lots. He did not know to whom he sold it or at what price.

Mr. Dumble held that Faux did not differ from any ordinary merchant. He simply purchased his meat from a wholesaler and sold it again at a profit.

"It looks as if you had broken the by-law and were in for it," he remarked to the defendant. "I suppose you want to get off as cheaply as possible," he added, consulting the by-law. "$50 is the limit I believe," he went on, whereupon the defendant assumed a rather startled expression.

"I will let you off this time with a fine of $10 and costs," remarked the Magistrate.

"Oh, make it $5," begged the defendant and the magistrate relented, letting him down with a fine of $5 and costs.

AN IMPORTANT STEP.

There is no satisfying our good Conservative friends. They see wrong where no wrong is, and where things are not as they should be, and a remedy is applied, no credit is given, but imagination develops new causes of complaint. The Minister of Marine and Fisheries found his Department in an unsatisfactory condition, through the undesirable system that has been in operation since Confederation. The Government has dealt with it and deserves the credit of introducing a reform, the elimination of the hoary element of patronage. The "patronage list" has been abolished; that is, the preferred list of vendors that has been in existence under one party government or another for forty years, and has doubtless been responsible for many of the irregularities which have developed, has been swept away. This "patronage list" system has been in existence for over half a century in the Dominion, has been and is, in existence in all the provinces to-day, and is subject to undesirable manipulation, especially in the Province of Ontario, where the spoils system flourishes in full bloom. Now that a Liberal Government has abolished it, the other Governments might follow its example. The defenders of other governments instead of carping at, and, as effectively as they can, obstructing reform at Ottawa, might well use their influence to persuade the governments with which they are in sympathy to go and do likewise. While the more rabid of the Conservative journals will, of course, withhold all credit from Hon. Mr. Brodeur for the great reform he has instituted, the people at large, the discriminating and fair-minded public will extend to him and the Government of which he is a member, adequate recognition of the importance of the public service he has rendered—important not only for itself, but as a pioneer movement in a direction which other governments must perforce not be long in taking.

BUILD UP PETERBOROUGH.

Statistics recently issued go to show that Guelph is the lowest taxed municipality in Ontario, with a per capita tax rate of $6.87 per head; Peterborough, second lowest, with $8.53 per head; Fort William, third, with $9.20 per head, and Port Arthur fourth, with $9.84 per head. That's something of a plume in Peterborough's cap, and should convince outsiders seeking a pleasant home, of the desirability of the city, as a place of residence. This is not the only good feature of Peterborough. Peterborough's enterprise, its industrial importance are matters of self-gratulation. The interim census of 1905, showed that Peterborough had made the greatest gain in out-put of industrial products of any city in Canada except Victoria, B.C.

Peterborough is certainly holding its own and making satisfactory progress in acquisition of the elements which constitute a desirable place of abode. We are plentifully supplied with church conveniences and any deficiency there may be in this respect, is being rapidly removed. There are three fine new churches in course of erection and a fourth is contemplated, a part of the material being upon the ground. Our educational equipment in the matter of buildings and pedagogic facilities is excellent, in some respects unsurpassed in the province. The members of the School Board claim that the King Edward School building is among the best in the province, barring, perhaps, its site and some matters of detail that are easily remedied. They also claim that the new Collegiate Institute, which is to be formally opened on Friday afternoon, is the most "up-to-date"—that is the word the member used—building of its kind in the province, as to interior arrangement. Five of our public school buildings have been placed in a first-rate condition, one of them the Queen Alexandra, having been recently greatly enlarged. We have also new Normal School buildings, constructed and equipped on the most modern plans and with the latest approved pedagogic requirements.

We are also in train to have a first-class Public Library, that is when the committee appointed to deal with the matter, shall have achieved the possumus of selecting a site. This is a question, by the way that should, above all things be decided without prejudice, having in view the greatest convenience of the citizens. A public library is particularly in the interests of the working element of our industrial population—remember the old name, "Mechanics' Institute"—and should therefore be so situated as to be easy of access to the section of the city where the bulk of our mechanical population resides, that is south of Simcoe street. By giving the public library a central location this object will be fairly well served and the convenience of the whole population practically deferred to.

This, by the way. What we in Peterborough want to keep specially in mind is, the spirit of cooperation, and harmonious action on the part of every element of our citizenship and of every citizen, with the object of adding to the attractiveness of Peterborough in every respect, building up the city and maintaining it in its place, in the place it now occupies, the front rank of the minor cities of Canada. We may divide sharply on political lines and even fight viciously on the same lines, but there should be no division of our forces in the fight for civic development in every direction. We must unite to increase the city's industrial importance, by bringing to the city every manufacturing industry available, we must make the city also attractive, as a place of residence, we must preserve, and add to its, beauty, we must have good streets, we must have as fairly a low rate of taxation, as is consistent with the attainment of these objects. We must exert every effort to provide all the conditions that contribute to making the city a live city, a beautiful city, desirable for residence, whether a good industrial, or so to speak, a pleasant domestic, home is desired. We are naturally equipped in all essential requirements; Like Mount Zion, in the Psalmist's eye, Peterborough is "beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole district." Our means of communication are excellent—railway, and soon to be, canal communication. We are splendidly equipped with ecclesiastical and educational institutes. All we have to do is to improve our talent and not fold it away in a napkin to mould, but unite as one man to advance the material, moral, intellectual and aesthetic growth of the city of Peterborough.

A NEW LEADER?

The Kingston Standard, a staunchly Conservative journal for nearly sixty years, is "speaking out in mutiny" and thereby incuring the wrath of its more docile party of contemporaries. It took a critical stand during the general elections in regard to some of the items of Conservative policy. It combatted Mr. Borden's public ownership themes, and was not in sympathy with the vicious "duty of the hour" pamphleteering propaganda. However, it has evolved the conviction that "the duty of the hour" is to select a new leader for the Conservative party. It draws the line at Sir Hibbert Tupper and favours Sir James Whitney. Though the party papers denounce the Standard for its lack of unquestioning party loyalty, the fact remains that there is great dissatisfaction with a leader, who, no matter how excellent his personal and abstract intellectual qualities may be, has not the genius of leadership—at least he has failed to make good in two general election contests. However, the affair does not concern the Liberal party to any great extent, it has a leader in every way satisfactory and what is more, satisfactory to the country.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"I have never drank nor smoked, and have never walked out with a woman in my life," said Mr. Septimus Smith, a Blackpool municipal candidate, addressing an election meeting. He received twenty-three votes.

Winnipeg is ambitious, and it has the logical complement of ambition, enterprise. It is having a wonderful growth, too. It is therefore no surprising thing that the great city of the Canadian west should have waking dreams of a world's fair in 1912. Apart from showing Winnipeg to the world, the idea is to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the settlement of the Red River Valley of the north, by Lord Selkirk.

Slanderers of Canada in Great Britain to be Punished—Railway Commission Will Bring Libel Suits Against London Times for Retailing G. E. Foster's Fictions—Cobourg High in Artillery Competitions—Minister of Agriculture in Naples—American Cattle Quarantined to Prevent Invasion of Canada by Foot and Mouth Disease.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Nov. 24.—The wild and baseless charges of Conservative politicians, under the reckless leadership of Hon. Geo. E. Foster, of fraud and graft in the construction of the Transcontinental Railway, and in fact in regard to every avenue of public administration except those controlled by his own political friends, have been a serious injury to the interests and honour of Canada abroad, and even in Great Britain itself where the London News and other influential journals reproduced the assertions of these slanderers as serious truths. Of course, over there, the position of Mr. Foster as an ex-minister of the Dominion, gave his utterances weight, and the English editors did not seem to be able to comprehend that a public man could be found who would resort to falsehood in order to injure the welfare and reputation of his country, for his own political benefit. But these malignors of Canada are likely to meet their deserts. The gross and baseless charges of dishonesty in the construction of the new Transcontinental Railway, made in the English papers, have moved the Railway Commissioners to instruct Hon. Charles Russell, Canada's legal agent in Great Britain, to take all possible legal steps to defend their honour against all charges reflecting in any way on the Commission. The Times will be asked to retract and apologize, and failing that, if the British law allows, a libel action will be taken and The Times will be asked to prove its charges.

"If any reputable journal, either at home or abroad, makes any charge against the honesty of the Railway Commission," said Hon. S. N. Parent, yesterday, "it will be given every opportunity to prove the charges in the courts. We are doing our best to build the railway as honestly and economically as possible, and we do not propose to quietly submit to calumny and unwarranted criticism."

Militia orders published last evening announce the results of the efficiency competitions of the Canadian artillery corps. In the Canadian field artillery competition the 22nd, Sherbrooke Battery, comes first, and the 23rd Battery, Ottawa, second. The 9th Battery, Toronto, stood fourteenth. Hamilton Battery came twenty-first, St. Catharines tenth, London twelfth, and Cobourg twentieth. In heavy artillery competition the first place went to the Cobourg Company, and the second to Charlottetown.

The Department of Agriculture has received a cable announcing the arrival at Naples of Hon. Sydney Fisher and Hon. Mr. Boyer, who are on the way to Rome to represent Canada at the International Institute of Agriculture which meets at Rome on the 26th inst.

F. M. Jorneau is to be appointed Collector of Customs for Ottawa, in place of J. W. Russell, who will be superannuated.

Owing to urgent representations from Lord Strathcona that the prevalence of foot-and-mouth disease among United States cattle, would seriously injure the welfare of the Canadian live stock export trade, the most stringent regulations have been put into effect to prevent infected animals from being brought across the border. The Department of Agriculture yesterday added New Jersey to the list of States quarantined on account of the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease among American cattle. In addition to the precautions taken by customs inspectors at all points of entry along the border, the department has placed special inspectors at all other points where animals from the quarantined States might be brought into Canada.

BIG LABOUR CONVENTION FOR TORONTO

Special Effort to be Made if City Secure Convention.

Examiner Special

Toronto, Nov. 23.—There is considerable stir in local labour circles over the report from Denver that Toronto is likely to be the next meeting place of the American Federation of Labour, and discussion of the city's prospects of getting the convention against the claim of St. Louis, is general among the members of the labour unions. It is declared that if the city gets the convention a special effort will be made to entertain the delegates in a manner that will surpass anything before attempted in Canadian labour circles. The city will be asked to help bear the expense and it was stated by a prominent labour leader here to-day that arrangements may be made to levy a special assessment on the members of organized labour in Canada for the entertainment of the delegates.

Montreal, Nov. 23.—This appears to be tuberculosis week in Montreal. The exhibition of the Montreal Tuberculosis League is being continued in the Auditorium Hall, where lectures and addresses are to be given every evening, while to-day at noon the Canadian Club was poured with a discussion of the white plague problem after luncheon, the speaker was Dr. A. J. Richer, secretary of the Tuberculosis League. His subject was "The Prevention of Tuberculosis."

THE VALETTA CLUB AT HOME

Held To-morrow Evening in Foresters' Hall, Simcoe Street.

The first "At Home" of the Valetta Club for the present season will be given in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe Street, on Wednesday evening, November 25th. The club last winter provided several very enjoyable events, and many young people availed themselves of the opportunity offered by the Valetta Club of assembling in a social way under conditions that were pleasant in every particular. It is expected that the present success will attend the "At Homes," which they will hold this winter.

WE ARE GOING TO PLAY "THE PRIVATE SECRETARY"

Local Amateurs Will Put on That Splendid English Comedy in January.

Mr. Irving Beers under whose direction "All the Comforts of Home" was so successfully presented, leaves this evening for Lindsay where he expects to put on the same play with the assistance of Lindsay amateur talent, about the end of December. Mr. Beers will return to Peterborough in a couple of weeks' time to re-organize the local company, who will towards the end of January, put on that most successful and funny English comedy "The Private Secretary." All the members of the local company are most enthusiastic and will be found in the new play. Rehearsals for which will commence in a couple of weeks.

CHANGING THE COURSE OF THE CREEK CHANNEL

Mr. Thos. Rehill, of the Rehill Ice Co., has several teams and men engaged on his property adjoining the creek between the C.P.R. tracks and McDonald's lumber yard. They are straightening out the channel of the waterway, and are using the material to raise the lot on the east side. The willow trees are all being cut down, and Mr. Rehill will fill up his property on the west side of the creek as fast as possible. The lot, however, is very low, and will require considerable material and will take some time to complete it. When it is levelled off a new and modern icehouse will be erected on the site.

WAS IN BED FOR THREE MONTHS.

PEOPLE SAID SHE HAD CONSUMPTION.

Read how Mrs. T. G. Buck, Bracebridge, Ont., was cured (and also her little boy) by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

She writes: "I thought I would write and let you know the benefit I have received through the use of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. A few years ago I was so badly troubled with my lungs people said I had Consumption and that I would not live through the Fall. I had two doctors attending me and they were very much alarmed about me. I was in bed three months and when I got up I could not walk, so had to go on my hands and knees for three weeks, and my limbs seemed of no use to me. I gave up all hopes of ever getting better when I happened to see in B.B.B. Almanac that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was good for weak lungs. I thought I would try a bottle and by the time I had used it I was a lot better, so got more and it made a complete cure. My little boy was also troubled with weak lungs and it cured him. I keep it in the house all the time and would not be without it for anything."

Price 25 cents at all dealers. Beware of imitations of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Ask for it and insist on getting the original. Put up in a yellow wrapper and three pine trees the trade mark.

Canada Remarkably Free From Foot And Mouth Disease

Quarantine Established by Canada to be Rigorously Enforced—The Montreal Cattlemen Not Worrying.

WESTERN ONTARIO SUPPLY

Examiner Special.

Montreal, Nov. 24.—That the Canadian cattle trade will in no way be affected by the quarantine placed on New York and Pennsylvania by the United States Government, as the result of the discovery of an outbreak of foot and mouth disease, is declared by local cattle dealers. Since the quarantine was declared last week there has been no noticeable difference in the trade at the local markets, and reports from Toronto state that the market there is as active as formerly. The contention of some of the Buffalo dealers that the diseased cattle which started the outbreak came from Canada is indignantly denied by those interested in the trade here. It is pointed out that owing to the system of government inspection in force at the shipping points and stock yards, it would be impossible for diseased cattle to be sent to the Buffalo market from any point in the Dominion.

Canada has been remarkably free from the foot and mouth disease, so dreaded by cattle men. It is not generally known that a rigid system of government inspection is in force. Government inspectors are stationed at western shipping points, and also at all packing plants and stock yards, and all cattle have to be passed by these men before they can be exported or slaughtered for home consumption. This system was inaugurated in September 1907, and since that time there has not been a single case of foot and mouth disease reported in Canada. There were a few isolated cases in the Eastern townships, Quebec, and on the Western previous to that time, but Canada has never been troubled with a serious epidemic such as now prevails in the United States.

Reports from Ottawa state that the quarantine established by Canada will be strictly enforced and will be continued until all possible danger is over. Cattle men in Montreal do not appear to be worrying very much over the matter, though it is admitted that if the quarantine is long continued it may mean that packers and shippers will have to pay higher prices. It happens, however, that there is an unusually large supply of Canadian cattle on the market as, on account of the drought in many sections of Ontario and Quebec, there is a very small supply of feed for winter and farmers are selling off many of their cattle in order to save the expense of keeping them through the winter. The supply in Western Ontario is also said to be large and packers here do not look for any big advance in prices.

SAMPSON'S STRENGTH

Will Not Resist the Pulling Down Influence of a Kidney Aching Back

The strongest man or woman with a back constantly aching finds daily existence a struggle. Its the same way with urinary troubles. Booth's Kidney Pills cure these ailments. Peterborough people prove this statement.

W. Wormington, No. 121 Brock street, Peterborough, Ont., says: "I had suffered with rheumatism for over three years. I had found little or no relief in any of the remedies I had tried. I became so stiff and sore that I could scarcely turn in my bed and had to lay off from my work. The urine was highly coloured and filled with a heavy sand-like sediment which plainly told the disordered state of the kidneys. I tried Booth's Kidney Pills through an advertisement at McDermid & Jury's Pharmacy. I was surprised to see how quickly the urine cleared. The kidneys were soon active, and the uric acid went from my system. The rheumatism gradually became less severe and finally left me. I am better than in years previous, and could not hesitate to recommend Booth's Kidney Pills." Sold by dealers. Price 50 cents. The R. T. Booth Co., Limited, Fort Erie, Ont., Sole Canadian Agents.

AN EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT

Toronto Theatre goers had the pleasure of listening to one of the greatest English comedians last night in Massey Hall in the person of Mr. Robert Ganthony. Mr. Ganthony's humor is of the type that depends on subtlety of expression and delicacy of touch rather than upon artificial support in the shape of a chorus or upon the slightest tendency to horse play.—Daily Star.

WHAT NEW YORK SAYS:

And speaking of versatile actors, have you ever heard Robert Ganthony's imitation of a boarding school girl's performance on the mandolin? If you haven't had that felicity, has amiable fate ever afforded you the opportunity of hearing Mr. Ganthony's wonderful impersonation of the three characters in a French father-in-law farce? Unless one excepts his delicious imitation of an amateur soprano singing a 'cello obligato, I reckon the French Farce Monologue is the cleverest bit of nonsense in the world.—Morning Daily Telegraph.

AN ENJOYABLE EVENING.

The appearance of Mr. Ganthony, the famous English dramatist and entertainer, marked one of the most enjoyable evenings of the season. While in looks he suggests more a doctor or a lawyer he does not delay long in displaying his real talents. Quickly and without undue effort he throws off one character to assume another and his delineations are original and not mere imitations of other actors and their work. He completely envelopes himself with the personality of his subject and here is where his comedy is more convincing. His country parson delivering an exhortation with "Little Bo-Peep" as his text, proved irresistible. —Evening Telegram.

For date of Mr. Ganthony and Company's appearance here, see advertisement.

LINDSAY MUDDY DAYS HAVE COME

They Have Plenty of It in Scugogville at Present.

The melancholy days have come, says the Lindsay Warder, They have come for the Lindsay people who have to go afoot, at least. So much has been said and written about the mud on the streets that it is vain repetition to say anything further, except that a thin coating of this cohesive substance is encroaching on the walks, the floor of the post office and even the store floors, while housewives are in despair when small sons troop in and leave marks across the floor something like the tracks Robinson Crusoe saw on the island. Street Overseer O'Neill has a number of men keeping the main crossings passable, without taking a canoe, but in different parts of the town the crossings are almost two inches deep in mud.

ONTARIO CORN CROP BEST IN YEARS

Mixed Grains Increasing in Favour, But Fall Wheat Shows Decided Shrinkage in Area.

The following statement concerning crop conditions on the 4th of November 1908, based on the returns of 2,000 correspondents, were given out to-day by the Department of Agriculture.

Fall wheat is mostly of good quality, and the yield is above the average.

Spring wheat — the acreage of spring wheat is steadily increasing. There was an average yield, but considerable rain was reported.

Barley — In Western Ontario the yield was good; in the Eastern counties early sown did well, but late barley was poor.

Oats—Dry weather caused oats to be rather light in weight; rust also did some damage. The yield is larger than that of 1907, but less than for five years previous.

Peas — Peas were poor on late fields, but where got in early they did well. Green aphis did considerable injury, especially in the Eastern counties. Buckwheat may be classed as a good crop, both as to yield and quality.

Mixed grains are increasing in favour, barley and oats and peas. Oats and peas are all grown, and the bulk of these reporting are more or less strongly favourable to their use. It is claimed that these grain mixtures provide well balanced and nutritious feed for all classes of live stock at less trouble and expense than by any other method.

The fall wheat returns show a decided shrinkage in area, ranging from ten to twenty-five percent., attributed mainly to unusually dry season, but of excellent quality, being exceptionally free from rot. Turnips have been more or less a failure, having suffered from drouth and fice. Mangel wurzels, carrots and sugar beets were of good quality.

Corn has been the most successful crop of the season, and the best of its kind for many years.

Tobacco is being less raised than in recent years. Clover seed — the general yield will be less than an average, although of good quality.

SYSTEMATIC GIVING THE SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

Given by Dr. Scott at Meeting in Murray Street Baptist Church.

On Monday evening Dr. W. D. Scott conducted the meeting of the Young People's Union at Murray Street Church. The subject was "Systematic and Generous Giving." He gave a most interesting outline of the work being attempted by the Layman's Missionary Movement, and pressed upon the young people the duty and privilege of regular contribution for benevolent purposes, while yet the income of the individual may be limited. The doctor was of the opinion that it is in many cases easier to give out of one's poverty than in the after years, when the income is greatly increased.

He stated that the sum of four cents per week given by each Christian in North America would in twenty-five years give five hundred million of the heathen an adequate opportunity of hearing the Gospel story.

The choir was occupied by the president, Mr. Walter Garbutt. After the address the subject was discussed by other members of the society.

MARINE DEPARTMENT INVESTIGATION

No More Sensations Expected—Cheapest Goods to be Bought.

Examiner Special.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 24. — Judge Cassels, the Royal Commissioner appointed to hold an investigation into the affairs of the Marine Department, continued the hearing of evidence in the Court House here this morning. Judge Cassells arrived in St. John yesterday, accompanied by Dr. Morse, K.C., his secretary, and Messrs. Watson and J. L. Perron, counsel for the commission. It is expected that the hearing will be concluded by the end of the week, and the commission will then proceed to Halifax, where the enquiry will be continued early next week. As a result of the sensational nature of the evidence adduced during the progress of the enquiry at Quebec, there is keen interest in the proceedings here. It is not likely, however, as a result of the evidence of the St. John's witnesses. The local officials of the department who are all on the lists of witnesses to be called, declare that there is nothing of a very startling nature to be discovered in the St. John Agency. A number of local contractors who have been selling supplies to the department are also to be called.

An official note has been received by the Marine Department office here from the department at Ottawa, announcing that all the patronage lists have been abolished, and that purchasing officers of the department are to buy goods wherever they can do so most cheaply

GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF THE SCENES EXISTING AFTER WRECK AT THE SAND BANK SIDING

JURY WAS EMPANELLED

Details of the wreck yesterday morning at the Sand Bank siding between Pontypool and Burketon Junction tell a story of the alertness of the grim reaper, the sufferings of dying men and the joyful escapes of the more fortunate trainmen. Conroy, the dead brakeman is well known in Peterborough and chatted at the C.P.R. station with some friends on the way through. In fact in his younger days he went to school in Peterborough. A despatch from Pontypool gives the following graphic account of the wreck and its consequences:

In the pall of darkness which follows the midnight of a hazy night a double-headed freight train from the east crashed at full speed into an east-bound freight train standing in a siding at Sand Bank, four miles west of Pontypool, on the Canadian Pacific line, and three men were instantly killed.

The dead are:

Edward Findlay of 24 Quebec avenue, West Toronto, an engineer.

James Sweet, of 27 McMurray avenue, West Toronto, Findlay's fireman.

Albert Conroy, front end brakeman, of the west-bound train, sometimes called Conway and Connolly.

Because a brakeman took things for granted those three men's lives were lost, the other trainmen say.

The accident occurred at about one o'clock.

A freight train from West Toronto was proceeding westward in two sections. Conductor Ebor Knapp, West Toronto, who was in charge of the leading section, was instructed that the west-bound freight would be an hour late, and to give it the right of way, at the same time he was instructed to look out for the midnight passenger train for Montreal, and to give it clear passage. He worked his train up to the Sand-bank siding and backed in. The express dashed by and Knapp was holding his train there to wait for the late freight from the east, which would cross the express at Pontypool. He was playing "safe," but his front end brakeman, W C Reed, took it for granted that his train, the east-bound freight, would follow the express at the customary 20 minute interval. He walked down, the trainmen say, and threw open the switch ready for the waiting train to pull out, and sauntered back to the engine of his train, where he was talking to Engineer Hassalfelt and Fireman Chas. Church when without a second's warning the double-header with a thousand tons behind her plunged into her.

Roused the Farmers

The terrific crash roused the farmers from their sleep for a quarter mile around and the weird shriek of a wrecked engine's whistle jammed open, the shouts and cries of the train crews, brought them to the scene of the wreck on the jump. In the dense darkness they could see but little beyond black masses piled here and there that indicated wrecked cars. Around the wrecked engines gathered the uninjured members of the crews, toiling desperately by the dim light of lanterns and torches to secure the imprisoned men. Ten minutes' search revealed the fact that all those in the wreck were dead. Beyond one solitary shriek of pain from the cab of the leading engine of the double-header, where Findlay and Sweet were killed, there was no sound, so they sent out calls for auxiliaries and wrecking crews both ways, and for doctors, and protected the wreck both ways by warning signals.

When day broke the extent of the disaster was brought vividly home.

For a quarter of a mile the right-of-way was blocked with wrecked cars. At the point of impact, where the double-header had smashed into the train on the siding, lay three wrecked engines, two of them veritable scrap heaps. Behind the double-header engines six cars were smashed to flinders, and their loads thrown into the fields. Three cars stood next uninjured, then the remains of five more were scattered about. Broken trucks, sections of roof, barrels of fish, boxes of fish, rolls of paper, lunch boxes and other goods were tossed in every direction, and down the line two or three car sections of the standing train had been jammed right out of the row of cars and hurled headlong out into the fields—not ditched, but thrown clear beyond the fence.

Cars Thrown Fifty Feet

It was a terrible scene of ruin. The tremendous impact was eloquently told by the different features of the wreck—the cars boosted, thirty, forty yes, fifty feet from the wreck, oil tanks broken open, and merchandise hurled a hundred feet from the tracks.

The Junction auxiliary was on the scene at daybreak, and with its aid the bodies of the three dead men were drawn from the chaos of twisted iron and steel and splintered wood that lay upon the bank.

To cover the mangled remains from view; sheets were torn from the paper rolls, spread across the silent, torn forms, and weighted down with steel flinders from their own wrecked engines.

The three men who were killed were all on the double-header—Engineer Findlay and Fireman Sweet on the leading engine, No. 115, and Brakeman Connolly on the second engine 894.

That Engineer Edward Dorricott and Fireman Taylor, of 894 were not also killed is miraculous

Connolly was killed while standing between them.

When the crash came engine 115 was ground to pieces. Upon engine 115 fell the full force of the impact. The engine's heavy train behind her and the standing train in front simply ground her to scrap iron between them. Both engine No. 1663, which was drawing the train in the siding, and the second engine, on the double-header, remained upright. Between them lay what remained of engine 115.

A Shapeless Mass

The tender was simply reduced to a heap of twisted and broken metal. There was hardly enough left of it to identify it. Of the engine itself only the boiler remained. The dome, bell, head light, smokestacks, air tanks, and even the boiler cover had been torn off and flung far and wide. The driving wheels and trucks were broken.

It was in this mess that the bodies of Findlay and Sweet were found. That they were not ground to atoms was strange. Sweet was scalded to death, while Findlay's skull was crushed and his legs broken.

Connolly, or Conroy, was killed while toiling at the fire-box relieving Fireman Taylor. He was standing behind the boiler when the shock came.

The tender of the engine was driven in upon the boiler end, and the weight behind was so great that the tender glanced off and was thrown upside down over into the field forty feet away. It was between the tender and the engine that Connolly was crushed. The weight behind drove the next cars into the engine and the cab was shifted on out over the top of the boiler.

Thrown Through Window

Engineer Dorricott and Fireman Taylor, who were in their seats, were carried out with the cab.

Taylor shot out the window, and when he recovered his scattered senses he was hanging on to the spoke of a driving wheel with one arm, and had a leg over the air reservoir.

Dorricott, with blood streaming down over his face from three or four scalp wounds, wrenched himself free from the wreckage, and fell headlong cut into the ditch.

"I'm the lucky man," said Fireman Taylor. "I should be lying under there where poor Connolly is." He pointed to the paper-covered mass of broken bones and crushed flesh, the remains of Connolly. "He jumped down to relieve me at the firebox, and I climbed up into my seat. I saw nothing, but heard the crash. Then all was dark. The seat rose up and I felt my legs get pinned. Then something caught me across the chest and hot water and steam poured over me. The next thing I remember is when I came to hanging upon the driving wheel. I sprained my ankle and bruised my thigh. No more railroading for me. I'll go back to something less strenuous."

"I was looking out of the window, but saw nothing," said Engineer Dorricott. "The first intimation was the crash. Then I remember rolling down out over the wreckage and making for the fence."

Engineer Hassefeldt and Fireman Church, of the train on the siding, were both in the cab when the collision occurred. They escaped scathless. The impact slewed the front of their engine around and dropped her off the tracks.

Tracks Badly Torn up

The tracks were torn up for 150 yards. Auxiliaries from both Toronto and Havelock were on the scene by day-break, but it will be midnight before the tracks are open. The Montreal and Ottawa train was held up at Pontypool until nine o'clock, when a special from Toronto, arrived at the wreck, and the west-bound train was moved down to the wreck, where the passengers and baggage were transferred. The east-bound train from Toronto crossed the special at Burketon Junction, went on to the wreck and transferred her load to the train to the east of the wreck.

Open an Inquest

Dr. Clendenning and Dr. Beatty, of West Toronto, Dr. A. G. Tilley, of Bowmanville, and Dr. Eastwood, of Peterborough, were on the scene at daybreak, but there wasn't anything to do, except bind up Engineer Dorricott's head.

A jury was empanelled from the spectators, and an inquiry was formally opened into the death of Conroy.

"DIVORCE"

Read what two of the leading newspapers in the country have to say with reference to the drama "Divorce," which appears at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening next:

Montreal Star — "Divorce" might perhaps best be characterized as a drama of conscience, the various and widely differing views of three sections of society being focussed in the persons of an atheist, a woman who is drawn back towards her church after giving it up, and a girl Socialist who believes in free union. Upon these three basic ideas is reared a play which the divergent elements are cleverly interwoven into a dramatic fabric.

George P. Goodale in Detroit "Free Press."—"Divorce" is likely to take its place in the list of modern dramas that deserves to be characterized as great. It is intelligently and potentially interpretated by artists of well earned distinction, and it is an intellectual stimulant, in radical contrast to much of the cream-puff drama that surfeits the stage.

FIFTEEN MEN FAILED TO ERECT FLAG STAFF

Eight Feet Cut From It—In Grounds of S. S. No. 4, Smith.

A new flag staff has been hoisted at No. 4 School, Smith, but not without considerable trouble. Some fifteen men appeared on the scene, but the flag staff, which was sixty-four feet long and fifteen inches in diameter at the base, was too heavy for them. On the first occasion they were unsuccessful and the next afternoon they made a second attempt. By cutting eight feet off the pole they were able to erect it.

SCIENCE SCORES AGAIN.

A Preperation That Will Destroy the Dandruff Germ Discovered

Finally the scientific student has discovered a certain remedy for dandruff. When it first became known that dandruff is the result of a germ or parasite that digs into the scalp and saps the vitality of hair at the root, causing falling hair and baldness, biologists set to work to discover some preparations that will kill the germ. After a year's labour in one laboratory, the dandruff germ destroyer was discovered; and it is now embodied in Newbro's Herpicide. It prevents baldness, stops falling hair and speedily eradicates dandruff. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. McDermid & Jury, and Payne Drug Stores Special Agents.

INJURED FOR SECOND TIME BY ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF A REVOLVER; M. HARTLEY INJURED

For the second time Melville Hartley a clerk employed by the Dominion Express Company, and son of Mr. Wm. Hartley, 773 Water street, foreman for the Auburn Woollen Company, has been the victim of a painful accident in which the discharge of a revolver was involved. Yesterday afternoon a 44 calibre revolver which he carried in his pocket was discharged, the bullet striking him in the fleshy part of the calf of his right leg.

The unfortunate young man has been working at nights, and has been accustomed to carry a revolver in his pocket to defend himself with if necessary. He was enjoying a nap yesterday afternoon, and on rising felt that the revolver was falling out of the trousers pocket in which he carried it. He pushed the weapon back with a quick movement, and it was discharged through his pocket, the bullet hitting him in the right leg and lodging above the ankle. Drs. McClelland and Scott were summoned and extracted the bullet. The wound is not regarded as serious, and there will be no lasting effects unless unforseen conditions arise.

Over a year ago he was the victim of an accident that was similar in many particulars to the misfortune which overtook him yesterday. While cleaning the revolver which he carried in connection with his work in a bank at Inglington, Ont., the weapon was accidentally discharged, and the bullet struck him in the knee. He had not entirely recovered from the effect of that accident.

G. T. R. Have Commenced Two Sidings In Centre Of City

Road Master Chas. Mitchell, of Lindsay, is in the city in charge of local section men of the G. T. R., and has begun the work of laying two sidings, both on the east side of the main line.

The switch of one is a short distance below Wolfe street, extending over that street to a point south Dalhousie street to the south end one hundred yards in length. The other starts at a point north of Dalhousie street to the south end of the Hamilton property on King street. The road beds have been laid and the preliminary work is well under way. The G. T. R. Company in this way are providing themselves with increased siding accommodation in proximity to the station.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL IN SESSION

Begins To-day on its Regular Autumn Week's Work—Address of the Warden.

GOOD ROADS AND TOWNSHIPS

The County Council opened its regular autumn session this afternoon at two o'clock, Warden Jas. Thompson, M.P.P., presiding. The Councillors present were Messrs. Coben, Ingram, Killen, Booth, Russell, Darling, Moloney, Moore, Scott, Brown, Graham, Fife, Porter, Oakman, and Breault. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the Clerk, the Warden read the following address:

To the Council of the County of Peterborough, 1908, now, in so far as meeting in Council is concerned, drawing to a close.

Gentlemen,—It is very gratifying to me to look back from the present moment to the time you elected me Warden for 1908, from the fact that the business of the county has been transacted with the greatest of harmony existing between the Council and myself, and it must be gratifying to you also as the credit is due to you.

This has been probably, as anticipated one of the busiest years in the history of the country in the matter of bridge construction.

Three steel bridges having been built, having steel abutments, at a cost of a little over $7,000 is a fact that will compare favourably with anything heretofore undertaken. Four other bridges having been built with cedar, with stone piers, at a cost of about $800.

Burleigh, Canal and Lakefield bridges have been renewed at a cost of about $1,200, which leaves them in a condition that they will need no further expenditure for years to come.

We are all, I am sure, pleased to note the fact that the rate struck by the chairman of Finance Committee will, when all assets are considered probably cover all expenditures.

You will observe all the increase in the number of inmates in the House of Refuge thereby straining the estimate provided for the maintainance of this institution.

A complete report of the House of Refuge will be brought in according to statute at the next session, and I will not deal with the matter further.

Your council will no doubt bring in reports of their several bridges, thereby giving all the information necessary along that line.

Other expenditure has had to be met such as county property repairs and improvements, administration of Justice, and school purposes.

That you will have seen in the monthly reports in the newspapers, and the additional expenditure of the same will no doubt be set out in reports to the council from the several departments.

Some new matters will come up, and I feel sure will be dealt with in a manner characteristic of you as a body. You will join with me in again referring to the continued prosperity of the Province in a spirit of gratitude.

In closing permit me to thank you for the consideration and courteous way in which you have treated me during the year, and my earnest hope is that you will feel that I have done my best to merit the confidence you have placed in me.

Yours respectfully,

JAMES THOMPSON.

Moved by Councillors Chas. Coben Galway, and Jas. Ingram, Harvey, that Councillors Fife, Scott, Moloney, Darling and Booth be a committee to report on the warden's address.—Carried.

Communications

The warden read a communication regarding the use of automobiles on country roads. Some of the councillors favoured taking steps to alleviate the dangers attached to their running and after a brief discussion the matter was left in the hands of the Roads and Bridges Committee.

A communication was also read in connection with adopting a "Township System of Good Roads," in which the township municipalities should look after the care of the roads.

A continuation of the session will be published to-morrow.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE NOW?

GIVES THIS RECIPE TO YOU

Recent hospital reports show that the dread disease, rheumatism, is steadily increasing throughout the country. All known means of relief are being suggested to save the great amount of suffering this winter, especially among those who are not in a position to pack up and visit the noted health resorts to be treated. Recent tests prove rheumatism not exactly a disease in itself, but a severe symptom of kidney trouble, a condition caused by clogged up pores of the eliminative tissues in the kidneys which fail to filter the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, permitting these substances to remain in the veins and decompose, usually settling about the joints and muscles, causing the intense pain, swelling and stiffness of rheumatism.

The following simple home treatment will cure rheumatism and is harmless and inexpensive, and so simple that anybody can mix it at home.

The ingredients are: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good prescription pharmacy and get these three harmless ingredients and mix them by shaking in a bottle, taking as a dose a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is nothing better in the world for backache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. Such symptoms are frequent and painful urination, soreness, weakness, general and nervous debility are caused by certain acids and poisonous waste matter, decayed tissue, etc., in the blood, which the kidneys will clear and purify after a few doses of this prescription.

Kingston people claim that Ken Williams is about the greatest punter in Canada. What about Lee McCrimmon?

Shamrocks have signed no players for their hockey team as yet. Wanderers claim to have landed McNamara of last year's Shamrocks.

A despatch from Cornwall says:—If Cornwall gets into the E.C.H.A., Newsy Lalonde, and Donald Smith will stay in the Factory Town instead of going to Toronto.

Eddie Giroux, the well known goal keeper for the Kenora Thistles, and a Toronto boy, who used to keep goal for the Marlboros, was married the other day in Kenora to a Kenora lady.

* * * * *

The annual meeting of the O.H.A. shows the big hockey body still on top of the heap in every respect. With sixteen new clubs entered, a bigger cash balance than ever, and a set of rules that need no amendment but simply a few little jots to stop any loopholes that have developed, the O. H. A. occupies a position that few athletic bodies have ever aspired to. It is the cleanest, best managed association on the continent, and furnishes more sport in proportion to the amount of talk than anything that ever did business in Canada.—Toronto Telegram.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE COMING OF MR. R. A WAITE

The Work He Will Cover While in Peterborough—Address on "Par Values."

Mr. R. A. Waite, Jr., international religious work secretary of the Y.M.C.A., will visit the local association on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week. Mr. Waite is spending the month visiting the towns and cities of Ontario in the interests of the religious work among the boys.

On Friday Mr. Waite will meet the Ladies' Auxiliary, Board of Directors, Boys' Managing Committee, Boys' Cabinet and the Older Boys.

On Saturday he will speak to the Junior School Boys, and Collegiate Boys in the gymnasium in the morning, and in the evening will address the Senior Leader Corps.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Waite will give an address to men in the Opera House at 4.15, subject "Par Values."

No doubt the Y.M.C.A. will be greatly benefitted by Mr. Waite's visit here, and the Sunday meeting is sure to be very helpful to men.

REGRETTED DEATH OF BERNARD HEENAN

Passes Away Last Night at Age of 17 Years—Funeral To-morrow.

The young friends of Bernard Heenan, who passed away last night at the early age of seventeen years, will greatly regret to learn of his death. Until last year he had been in attendance at the Collegiate Institute, but his illness from stomach trouble since that time prevented him from continuing his studies. His death occurred at the residence of his uncle, Mr. Jas. Bird, 1 Crescent street, where his mother, Mrs. W. M. Heenan, the only surviving member of the family resides.

He was always a bright young lad whether at books or at play, and he had a good future before him had he lived. He first attended the Lake St. school where he received his early education. Graduating from there he attended the King Edward School and later the Collegiate Institute.

The funeral will be held to-morrow (Wednesday) morning at nine o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral, thence to the St. Peter's cemetery.

A WARNING FROM LORD ROBERTS

He Shows What Germany Could Do to Great Britain.

SPEECH CAUSES SENSATION

Declares In House of Lords That English Defences Are Not What They Should Be and That Kaiser Could Overpower Existing Troops—Lord Roberts' Resolution Favoring Bigger Army Passes.

London, Nov. 24.—Speaking in the House of Lords last night Field Marshal Lord Roberts expressed a conviction that the lack of a military force sufficient to make hopeless the attempt to an invasion would, in all probability be the loss of Great Britain's supremacy.

In a studied speech he pointed out the comparative ease with which Germany could land an army on the shores of England. Under the present conditions England would be forced, he said, to submit to most humiliating demands.

He disclaimed all hostility to or fear of Germany, but he declared that the defence of the islands required immediate attention. There should be an army so strong in numbers and efficiency that the most formidable of foreign nations would hesitate to make a landing in England.

He had ascertained, the speaker continued, that vessels capable of accommodating 200,000 men were available in the northern ports of Germany, and that as a result of the new German service law, 200,000 men could be collected in the districts of the nearest port without any trouble, and all preliminaries, up to the actual despatch of troops, could be carried out with the utmost secrecy.

"It would be folly," declared Lord Roberts, "to shut our eyes to these possibilities, however much peace is desired. If Great Britain continues to neglect the most ordinary precautions she may some day find herself in the hands of invaders and forced to submit to the most humiliating conditions.

"This danger is daily becoming more threatening. Within a decade, Germany has created the greatest sea power that ever existed, except Great Britain's, and at the present moment, it is formidable. Measures are being taken to increase that power. It is calculated that there are 80,000 Germans in employment in Great Britain. They are trained soldiers, and if a German force once landed on these shores they would be ready to help."

Lord Roberts' speech caused a sensation in the House. The Earl of Crewe remarked on the seriousness of such statements in the present high-strung condition of Europe's nerves, saying he feared there might be regrettable consequences.

Lord Roberts' resolution to the effect "that the defence of the islands necessitates the immediate attention of the Government to make provision for such a strong and efficient army that the most formidable foreign nation will hesitate before making an attempt at landing," was adopted by a vote of 74 to 32.

German and Italian Students Fight.

Vienna, Nov. 24.—The German and Italian students attending the University of Vienna came into serious collision in the university precincts yesterday morning, and before the police drove the demonstrants away, revolvers had been freely used, and a number of young men wounded.

The trouble was occasioned by an Italian demonstration in favor of the establishment of an Italian University at Trieste. The opposing factions totalled 1,200 men, and they sang themselves into the fight with stirring patriotic airs.

German Balloon Fired On.

Breslau, Nov. 24.—A German balloon that passed over Russian territory last Saturday was fired on by Russian frontier guards near Zerkow. No less than fifteen shots were fired, and this, in spite of the fact that the balloon was flying the German flag.

Crew of Fireboat Drown.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 24.—Their fishing dory dashed to pieces on the rocks off Waddah Island, Wash., John Bergstrom and John Jacobson were drowned Sunday. Two companions got to shore by swimming. All four were members of the fireboat crew.

"WOMEN!"
"Are You Nervous?"

The results of modern civilization are evidenced in an increase of nervous disorders. It could not be otherwise with the way we eat, drink, lose sleep, and keep up a continual round of excitement. The work, the worry, the excitement, all tell upon the nerves till they cry out in revolt, and will not be placated till a remedy such as come along with their nerve-strengthening and energizing properties, and restore them to their normal condition.

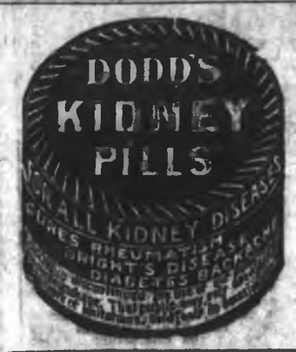
Mrs. Wm. Levi, Markdale, Ont., writes: "I had for several years been troubled with nervousness, and, like many others, spent lots of money on medicine that did me no good. I was so bad that the least noise would make me jump and my heart would thump so you could hear it plainly and I could not lie on my left side at night. I saw a few testimonials of others and decided to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and to my great joy and surprise they completely cured me and it only took six boxes to do it. I have a neighbor, Mrs. Bickett, and I induced her to try them and they effected a cure. I can endorse their use for anyone afflicted as I was."

Price, 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.



JOHN D. IS MODEST.

Had Not Ability to Found Standard Oil, He Says.

New York, Nov. 24.—Credit for the creation of the Standard Oil Trust, which counsel for the Federal Government claims still exists as the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, was given by John D. Rockefeller as a witness yesterday under cross-examination in the federal suit to dissolve the Standard, to two men—Henry M. Flagler and Samuel C. T. Todd. Mr. Rockefeller was sure it was not himself as he did not possess the ability for so progressive a move.

After adjournment last night Mr. Rockefeller told an enquiring audience of reporters that there were better things in the world than making money, and since 1891 he had been gradually retiring from business. He added:

"There is more important work than making money, and there is much for me to do. I belong to the brotherhood of man."

PLOT, SAY FRIENDS.

Joseph Hicks In Court in Lennox Murder Case In Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Nov. 24.—The court-room was crowded yesterday morning, when Joseph Hicks appeared, on a charge of the murder of Eccles Lennox in a box car. The prisoner was remanded till to-day.

His friends protest he is the victim of a plot and he himself declares his innocence.

An afternoon paper stated it had information that the poisoned cup of coffee had not been prepared for Cooper, a witness in this case, at all, but for another person who had been active in breaking the recent strike. It was because he feared an attempt was being made to do away with witnesses to the alleged Lennox murder that Rogers, the crown's star witness, gave away the whole story. The case promises to be sensational in its developments.

Halfbreed Pursued by Posse.

Emerson, Man., Nov. 24.—The police from both sides of the boundary and a posse of armed citizens have been engaged since Saturday night in hunting Joseph Goselau, a "bad" halfbreed, who fled after a desperate attempt at robbery. He is known to have two guns with him.

Chief Wilson of this town says Goselau has penetrated into the Two Lakes country of North Dakota.

Goselau called Saturday evening at the house of Joseph Copland, on the outskirts of the town, telling him his rig had broken down, and asked for help. When he got the old man out into the bush he attacked him with a big hunting knife. Copland is known to keep a large sum of money in the house, and robbery was doubtless the motive.

Easy Money.

New York, Nov. 24.—William Abbott Foster is being held in custody on the technical charge of vagrancy. Foster's family lives at the Clarendon Hotel, occupying what is known as the royal suite. Foster supported them, it is charged, by obtaining sums of money in varying amounts from rich men. Some of the men whom he is charged with approaching, or trying to, were John D. Rockefeller, J. Pierpont Morgan, Andrew Carnegie and Charles M. Schwab.

The police say that in the last nine years Foster has obtained at least $100,000 from men who became interested in his mining schemes. In a ledger of recent date, found in Foster's room, a total credit balance of $807,500 is shown.

Dry Dock at Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 24.—The Canadian Soo is in a fair way to secure a dry-dock. The Board of Trade, assisted by a grant from the council and private subscription, has engaged H. Calderwood, naval expert and consulting engineer of Toronto, who on Saturday visited the Soo and inspected several sites. The site most favorable is one west of the ship canal, and close to the power canal. This property is owned by the Government, and its location would permit of a dry-dock being conducted without the necessity of pumping.

Kills Burglar.

Rosthern, Sask., Nov. 24.—An attempt made yesterday morning to burglarize E. E. Ruttle's general store by two men, resulted in the death of one of them.

Ruttle had a burglar alarm connected with his home, and when it rang he, with Clerk Edward Tadie ran to the store.

Two men made a rush to escape, firing at Tadie, but missing, and he fired a shot from a rifle, hitting one burglar in the stomach. The other man escaped.

Burglars Ransack Store.

Avonmore, Nov. 24.—Burglars broke into the Beaver Hall Store, A. O. Miller, proprietor, and ransacked the whole place. They carried off about $300 worth of goods, consisting of one coon coat, gents' fur-lined coat, two or three suits of clothes, several ladies' fur collars, gents' gloves, razors, knives, etc.

Republican Campaign Fund.

Albany, Nov. 24.—The list of contributions to the Republican national campaign committee was filed yesterday. There were 12,300 contributors, and the sum contributed was $2,655,518.27. C. P. Taft of Cincinnati, brother of the President-elect, gave $110,000.

BIRRELL'S NEW ACT ANNOUNCED

Wants $900,000,000 to Buy More Land For Irish Tenants.

PREVIOUS BILL DID GOOD

Chief Secretary For Ireland Declares That Wyndham's Figures on Cost of Purchasing Irish Land for Tenants Were Away Below Cost—Proposes to Issue 3 Per Cent. Stock to Carry on Operations.

London, Nov. 24.—Another Irish land bill to facilitate the carrying out of the previous land purchase act was introduced in the House of Commons last night by Chief Secretary for Ireland Birrell.

The Chief Secretary dealt in huge figures. He said he found that the estimate of $500,000,000 made by one of his predecessors, George Wyndham, as the amount necessary to satisfy the land-hunger of the tenants was totally inadequate; $900,000,000 would be required for this end.

The completed transfers of land up to Oct. 31 represented $125,000,000, which had practically exhausted the amount realized from the issues of land stock. Pending transactions representing $200,000,000 the Government intended to raise the money necessary to complete these transactions, leaving about $500,000,000 to be dealt with later.

The Secretary then said he proposed an issue of new three per cent. stock in order to carry out the pending deals. He recognised, he continued, that he was engaged in an expensive policy, but he declared that land purchase had worked such marvels in Ireland that the Government did not hesitate to as kof the House of Commons to add materially to the burdens of the Imperial Exchequer, which he prpposed should assume liability for the entire loss occasioned by the issue of the stock below par. This loss would total $3,300,000 a year, which he proposed the Imperial Exchequer should lift from the shoulders of the Irish ratepayers.

Continuing, the Chief Secretary said the Government proposed to ask for power compulsorily to acquire the uncultivated grazing lands of the west of Ireland, which had been such a bone of contention and which had led to such lawlessness in recent years. He said that about half the agricultural land in Ireland already had passed or was in the course of passing from landlord to tenant, and that to arrest progress in this direction would be an economic and political blunder of the first magnitude.

John E. Redmond, the Nationalist leader, followed Mr. Birrell, and said the bill was a bold and far-reaching measure. The reform it stood for, he declared, was largely in accordance with the popular sentiment in Ireland.

Would Rather Beg Than Work.

New York, Nov. 24.—That most of the unfortunates who stand shivering in New York's bread line, waiting for dry bread and a cup of coffee, are liars and professional hoboes, who would not work if employment were offered them, is the opinion of T. V. Powderly, a Government labor agent, who has made a study of conditions here at close range.

Mr. Powderly has suggested that the state purchase farms, where the professional receivers of charity shall be forced to work.

Water Low at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 24.—On account of the exceptionally lowness of the water in the Ottawa river, the preasure in the Ottawa waterworks has fallen to between seventy and eighty pounds, and at the request of the city engineer, J. R. Booth has closed down a section of his mill so that more power might be available for the civic waterworks plant. In several of the city churches Sunday it was impossible to use the organs because the power was insufficient to keep up the supply of wind.

Won't Send Him.

London, Nov. 24.—At Marylebone Police Court it was stated that the sister of a man charged with felony had come from Canada to take him back. The magistrate said he would not be a party to sending persons of the prisoner's description to Canada, declaring he did not wonder that the Dominion objected to receiving England's refuse.

JUNIOR GUILD BASEBALL LEAGUE WINDS UP AFFAIRS FOR SEASON; MAY FORM A HOCKEY ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the Junior Guild Baseball League was held last night in the Y. M. C. A. parlours, for the purpose of winding up baseball matters for 1908. The league this year has proved a great success, and also caused a lot of rivalry between the different teams. Owing to the secretary-treasurer, Mr. Harry Wilkie, of Knox Church, leaving town, Mr. Ernest Reid, of St. Andrew's, was elected secretary-treasurer for the balance of this year.

An amendment to a clause in the constitution was moved, seconded and carried, which says that no boy will be eligible to play with any club unless he is a member and regular attendant at meetings of such club since the beginning of the current year.

It was also moved and seconded that a shield be ordered and engraved and placed on league trophy, bearing the name of the winners, and said trophy to be placed in the Y. M. C. A.

The forming of a Junior Guild Hockey League was also discussed, and it was decided that such would be formed, if the necessary arrangements could be made regarding rinks.

Any of the boys' clubs wishing to enter a team in such a league are asked to have a representative present at a meeting, which will be held in the near future. Date will be announced later.

The executive of this league also wish to thank the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for the use of their parlours.

ST. PETER'S T. A. S. TO ENTER TEAM IN JUNIOR AND SENIOR CITY LEAGUE

An enthusiastic meeting of the athletic section of St. Peter's T. A. S. was held last night, when it was decided to put a team in the junior and senior City League, if they are formed, as in all probability will be the case. The juniors have good material to draw from, and it is learned that a strong senior team can be put together. Messrs. Leo Dercober and Jack Deannard were appointed representatives to the senior league, the former also being chosen secretary for the senior club. Vernon Hayes and Frank Heffernan Vare the representatives of the juniors to the league, which they intend to enter, and Herman Giroux was chosen secretary of the junior club. These teams in capable hands should make a good showing and the officers who are looking after their interests have already given them considerable attention, and are satisfied that the two sevens will give a good account of themselves.

PRINCIPALS ARE IN GREAT SHAPE FOR TO-NIGHT'S BIG BOUT AT ROLLER RINK

Both principals in to-night's big bout at the rolling rink expressed themselves to-day as being confident of the outcome, and there is no doubt that it will be a lively affair from start to finish. Both Fitz and Burridge have trained faithfully for this engagement, and as they have lost no opportunity to get into shape they are in the pink of condition for to-night's big battle, in which so much interest has been taken among the local fraternity. There will be a big crowd present when hostilities commence. Whichever man wins the crowd will see a grand exhibition of the wrestling game, as the boys are fast and clever. Hackenschmidt will find himself up against a hard proposition when in the preliminaries he undertakes to throw five men in ten minutes. Holloway, one of the acrobatic team which Manager Genno has secured as a special attraction during the remainder of the week, has decided to go against the New Yorker, and his appearance will add interest to the bout.

There is no doubt that the crowd will get its money's worth, as a six round boxing bout between Geo. Lillie and B. Guerin has been put on as a special attraction, and it should prove fast enough to be unusually interesting. Guerin is reported to be a clever boxer and Lillie has shown that he is fast and shifty.

T. A. S. AND Y. M. C. A. MAY PLAY FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP SATURDAY

The Y.M.C.A. and T.A.S.A.C. Rugby teams will meet on Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park in a game to settle the city championship honours. The "Y" last week challenged the Abstainers and the latter accepted the deli. Saturday has been agreed upon as the best date for the game and the struggle will be pulled off then. A match between the junior and senior O.R.F.U. teams should prove a good drawing card as there is no doubt that it will be a hard fought contest from start to finish. Both teams are confident that they can win and it looks like an even up proposition. If the weather conditions remain favourable there will no doubt be a big crowd present for the contest.

THE LOCK WORKS WIN FIRST GAME IN THE TEN-PIN LEAGUE

The Peterborough Ten Pin League season was ushered in last night when the Greys and Lock Works opened the schedula before a fairly large crowd, and enthusiasm ran high throughout the entire match. All three games were captured by the Lock Works, the first falling to them easily while the last two were keenly fought all the way, the final contest being particularly hard fought, only three pins separating the two at the finish.

Ed LaPlante was the star performer of the evening, hanging up the highest score of the night in the first game, when a 212 score fell to his credit. Westbrooke, too, furnished a surprise by the excellence of his work in this game while Lasher, being handicapped by a very sore thumb, fell away behind.

In the second game Westbrooke had high score, but his team mates fell away, and when the smoke cleared away they were only 37 pins to the good. In the last game LaPlante and Clancy were the only ones who showed any form, but despite the poor quality of the bowling this game was the most interesting of the evening, LaPlante, the last man to bowl, deciding the game by a strike and a spare on the final frame, three pins being the margin that separated the teams at the wind up.

To-night the Belmonts, comprising Billy Wareham, Joe Pollard and Geo. Wesley, will meet Lang's team.

The game scheduled between the Examiner and the Bankers for to-morrow night will, by mutual consent be played this afternoon.

WARM TRIBUTE PAID TO DR. McPHERSON BY O. H. A.

At the annual meeting of the O.H.A. at the Temple Building, Toronto, on Saturday morning, a tribute was paid to Dr. A. W. Macpherson, of this city, on his work as treasurer of the association.

A despatch says:—

It was moved by Mr. Duff, seconded by Mr. Robertson,

"That the Ontario Hockey Association in annual convention assembled desires to place on record its high appreciation of the services of Dr. A. W. Macpherson as treasurer of the association, and regret that circumstances have rendered it advisable on his part to no longer accept office in the association. Dr Macpherson has been treasurer from 1903-04 until to-day and his work has been of a most superior quality, and he has played his own part in creating the gratifying success of the O.H.A. The O.H.A. will never have a more careful, efficient, and reliable treasurer than Dr. Macpherson. And that a copy of this resolution be placed upon the minutes"

It was carried unanimously.

PROGRAMME FOR THE BOUTS TO-NIGHT AT RINK

Following is the programme for to-night's bouts at the Auditorium Roller Rink. It will be seen that a capital evening's sport has been provided.

Boxing—Six rounds between Geo. Lillie and B. Guerin. Referee Geo. N. Graham.

Wrestling—Young Hackenschmidt versus all comers, he to throw five men in ten minutes.

Main bout—Ned Fitzpatrick versus Harry Burridge, best two out of three falls, for a side bet of $100.

THE CENTRALS BASKET BALL TEAM IS CLASSY

That the Central Y.M.C.A team of Toronto, which will meet a picked local team in the Y.M.C.A gymnasium on Saturday night, are some class, is shown in the following Toronto despatch:—

The Central Y.M.C.A. basketball team turned an unexpected trick last night when they beat the famous Hamilton team, supposed to be unbeatables in a rough, fast game at the Central "gymn" by 37 to 25.

The Central team put up a great game and were in the front at all stages. The contest was one of the roughest ever seen on a local floor. Tompkins of the locals was laid out shortly after the beginning of the second half, and was replaced by Tommy Miller. Twelve minutes elapsed before Hamilton scored a point. The score at half time was 18 to 13. The teams and officials:

LONGBOAT AND SHRUBB FAIL TO AGREE ON DISTANCE

Hamilton, Nov. 23.—A conference was held at the Royal Hotel this afternoon between Tom Flanagan, acting for Tom Longboat, and Alfred Shrubb, to see if a match could be arranged between the great runners.

As expected, they could not agree on the distances, and the result was that no match was made. Flanagan said that he was willing to match the Indian for twenty miles for a side bet of $2,000, or for a series of races at twenty, fifteen and ten miles. This was agreeable to Shrubb, but he wanted the order of races reversed, his forte being at the shorter distances. It was suggested that the men should toss a coin to fix the distance of the first race, the winner of the event to decide on the distance of the second race, but the men would not agree to this Flanagan insisted on the first race being at twenty miles, and Shrubb held out for ten miles.

GRAND TRUNK EMPLOYEES FORM A HOCKEY CLUB

Last night the employees of the Grand Trunk assembled and formed a Hockey Club. The following is the staff of officers:

Hon. Pres.—F Sandy.
President—Geo Jobbitt.
Vice-President—R A Sanderson.
Manager—C Pickering.
Executive Committee—B A Rose, K Curry, S Hogg, G Dinsdale.
Secretary—W E Smith.
Press Committee—L V Morphet, H Pakenham.

WARKWORTH ORGANIZES HOCKEY TEAM

Warkworth, Nov. 23.—An enthusiastic meeting was held at the Arlington Hotel for the purpose of organizing a hockey club for the season of 1908-09. The following officers were elected:

Hon. President—W. J. Brown.
President—C. B. Maraland.
Vice-President—Dr. G. I. Black.
Sec.-Treasurer—C. Thompson.
Manager—B. M. Quackenbush.
Committee—W. Gilray, J. Phillips, B. Thompson, W. Dawkins, G. Hill.

The club is confident of making a good showing for the coming season.

ATHLETICS

The Otonabee Athletic Club will meet at the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday night at seven o'clock.

RUGBY

That 31 to 8 score should keep T A.C. quiet till autumn comes again. There has been a suspicion all along that they were right where they belonged in O.R.F.U. circles, and their performances this year will hardly strengthen their claims to a place in the Big Four next fall. — Toronto Telegram.

New York, Nov. 23.—The possibility of playing football at night on a stage is to be tested by the team of the New York Hippodrome. While the game has been successfully played on dirt enclosures indoors, a trial of playing it on a stage covered by a grass mat will be new. The team has arranged for a game to take place one afternoon next week, date to be announced, between it and another eleven to be arranged among Hippodrome men. The game will be played on the stage of the Hippodrome between the matinee and night performances on a grass matted stage, the dimensions of which are 200x112 feet—the largest stage in the world. Every sporting writer and football expert in the city will be invited to witness the exhibition. Should this prove successful, the Hippodrome will issue a challenge to some well known team to play them a game on the stage any night, the game to commence at 11.30 p. m. after the night's performance. The Hippodrome team is made up of men who play every variety of parts in the show, most of which require athletic experience. J. Parker Coombs, baritone, himself an old football player, is the coach, and N. M. Cills is captain. J. J McGraw, of the New York baseball team, will referee the first exhibition contest.

Allan Campbell, son of Mr. Peter Campbell, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Toronto, was the star of the T.A.A.C. team in their Dominion championship game on Saturday with the Hamilton Tigers. Most of the critics state that there was little to choose between his work and that of Geo. Ballard, the Tigers' star quarter-back. Campbell played a steady reliable game all the way and had the feature play of the day in the second quarter, when with the Tigers in possession near his own line he broke through, intercepted a pass and with the ball tucked under his arm ran eighty-five yards for a touch down, the only try scored by the Toronto Club during the day.

Gridiron warfare in the United Stgates, after exacting a fearful toll during a season of approximately 67 days, reached its finale Saturday. In the earlier list statistics showed 10 deaths and 250 injuries to be directly due to football.

During the last week another player succumbed to injuries, while fourteen athletes were borne to the side-lines and later to hospitals suffering with broken legs, fractured collar bones, splintered ribs and other wounds commonly resulting from the game. The record of 11 deaths and 304 injuries scarcely tells the story of the season of 1908, for other contests remain on the schedules for this week.

Steps have been taken in a number of the colleges and high schools of the United States to suppress football owing to the great number of fatalities which have resulted from the game in recent years.

The figures for the season of 1908 across the line to date are as follows, and there is yet a week of the season to be played:—Total deaths, 11; total injured, 304; college players killed, 4; high school players killed, 2; athletic members killed, 5; college players injured, 170; high school players injured, 87; athletic members injured, 47.

Principal injuries:—Broken collar bones, 43, broken legs 39; broken arms, 18; broken jaws, 6 broken noses, 24; broken ribs (individuals), 17; concussions of the brain, 15; torn ligaments, sprains, etc., 82; dislocated shoulders, 22; lockjaw 1; insanity, 1; miscellaneous, teeth knocked out, scalp wounds, cuts, 23.

DECISION GIVEN IN THE REGAN-LANGLEY CASE

Plaintiff Wins Suit for Wages Which Was Tried Here Yesterday.

Examiner Special.

Toronto, Nov. 24.—Chief Justice Falconbridge has found for the plaintiff in the case of M. Regan against J. P. Langley, assignee of John A. Lawless, proprietor of the National Hotel, Peterborough, which was tried at Peterborough. The claim of Regan who was manager of the hotel against Lawless, was for $1,573.94 for salary and Langley contested the claim. The Chief Justice finds the plaintiff entitled to rank as a general creditor for $469.74, as to claim for money paid by him at the request of Lawless and $758.34 for salary from May 1907 to April 6, 1908, and deducts $285.80 received on account, also to $91.90 for apprehential claimant and to payment of the assignee's costs.

COMMODIOUS HOME OF BELMONT CLUB

Select Membership of Prominent Local Young Men—Have Elegantly Furnished Suite of Rooms.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

The recently organized Belmont Club, which has in its membership some of the most prominent young men of the city, is now completely furnished, and the fittings and arrangements must suit the tastes of the most fastidious. Their rooms are located over the Crystal on the third flat and each of the five rooms are comfortably and even luxuriously equipped. The furnishings are of early English finish and of mission design. The upholstering is of Spanish leather. The floors are all carpeted. The social features of the club will be paramount and athletics will also receive attention. The members are in the bowling game, will have a hockey team and will also go in for snow-shoeing, skiing, etc., when the winter sets in. There are several good pianists among the members and music will be a feature at the club. The officers for the initial term have been elected as follows:

Hon. President—Dr. A. W. MacPherson.
Hon. Vice-President—Mr. Jas. T. C. Lang.
President—Mr. Oliver Milburn.
1st Vice-President — Mr. Harold Tanney.
2nd Vice-President—Mr. Jos. Pollard.
Secretary—Mr. W. T. Bellegham.
Treasurer—Mr. W. E. Thornton.
Board of Managers—Messrs. W. E. Martin, Ronald McKee, Gordon Miller, Harry Clark, and Louis Mendel.

The Belmont colours are mauve and purple. The membership has been placed at fifty, and already thirty-seven members have been enrolled. The constitution that has been drawn up should appeal to all the members and to those that may be recommended. The Belmont Club is looking forwards to an enjoyable social season during the coming winter.

A PROMINENT TRADE CENTRE

Peterborough One of the Important Manufacturing Cities, Says Mr. Alexander.

Mr. F M Alexander, a representative of the advertising department of the MacLean Publishing Company, Toronto, was in the city to-day calling on local manufacturers. He informs the Examiner that Peterborough is one of the most important of the smaller manufacturing cities in Ontario. In fact he only visits the prominent trade centres and Peterborough is one of his regular stopping off places. He finds business much brighter here than on the occasion of his last visit.

A PARTNERSHIP SUIT DECIDED

Mr. Buchanan a Member of the Firm of Buchanan and Bogue—Tried At Cobourg.

Examiner Special

Cobourg, Nov. 25. — The case tried in Cobourg yesterday between Malcolm Buchanan, of Peterborough against James Bogue, of the same place, resulted in favour of the plaintiff. Mr. Buchanan was awarded the verdict with costs, it being decided that he was in partnership with the defendant. An injunction was granted restraining the defendant from excluding Mr. Buchanan from the work and the local master was ordered to inquire into the partnership accounts. The work in Campbellford will be continued with Mr. Buchanan in charge. Mr. Hellmuth, K.C., of Toronto, and Mr. Colville, of Campbellford, with Mr. Kerr, of Cobourg, acted for Mr. Buchanan, and Messrs. Maston, K.C., Huycke, K.C., and Lynch for the defendant.

CAMP GOODS SHIPPED TO LONDON, ENGLAND

By the Progressive Firm of J. J. Turner and Sons.

A shipment of camp goods left the establishment of the J. J. Turner & Sons this morning for a long journey. There were fifteen crates of camp goods bound for a large retail firm in London, England, which serves to show the extensive trade of the local firm. This is an example of the sending of manufactured goods to England to be sold by retail there.

A dose of Miller's Worm Powders occasionally will keep the children well. Sold by J. D. Tully, druggist, Peterborough.

New Barn Destroyed By Fire; Smith Farmer Was Burned While Working To Save The Property

A somewhat spectacular fire, which broke out in the fine new barn on the property of Mr. Ward Boyce, 7th line of Smith, on Monday morning, totally destroyed the structure and contents, while several other farm buildings had a narrow escape from meeting a similar fate. Only the energetic effort of a threshing gang, who were working at the barn at the time, saved the other buildings.

The origin of the fire seems to be a mystery. It is not thought that it was caused by a spark from the engine of the threshing engine, as the wind was blowing the sparks directly away from the structure. The blaze started at the rear of the building and spread so rapidly that the men who were working in the loft had to drop their forks and hurriedly make their escape. The flames shot through the building with almost incredible rapidity, and it was impossible to save any of the contents, save the live stock, which was gotten outside in time. One thousand bushels of oats and a large quantity of other grains and some hay were destroyed.

Heroic efforts were made to save the building, and while doing fireman duty Fred Rosaborough had his hands badly burned. It was found impossible to save the barn but the flames were kept from the other outbuildings.

The loss on barn and contents will be partially covered by insurance.

COBALT MAY YIELD A WEALTH OF MINERALS EQUAL IN VALUE TO THE YEARLY HARVEST OF NORTHWEST

Mr. S. J. Sheridan is Hopeful for Bright Future—American Capitalists are Growing More Interested—Working Night and Day.

SMELTER IS NEEDED THERE

"If the mining activities in the Cobalt district, and in other parts of New Ontario adjacent to it continue at the same rate in their progress, I believe that in about ten years the mineral output from those mines will reach as high a figure as that which is received from the western wheat crop." This encouraging statement was made by Mr. S. J. Sheridan, who has recently returned from Cobalt and Larder Lake. He is well acquainted with the advancement that has been made in the mining operations of the district, and all along has been impressed by the possibilities that the New Ontario mines present.

Americans Interested

His feeling in this respect seems to be substantiated by the great interest that is now being shown by American investors, men of means who are anxious to secur elarge holdings. At present they are buying largely, and this fact has been no weak influence in the new boom that is now being experienced. As far as that is concerned the Cobalt people state that they did not experience any depression in trade but even more than held their own. Business is good in every respect. The buildings are mostly all frame, built of wood throughout, with wooden partitions between the rooms. There are some, however, that are of brick, but they are the exception. The rent that is paid for the former averages fifty dollars a month.

Smelter Needed

According to Mr. Sheridan, there is no trouble being experienced in shipping crude ore is not worth being shipped the best is sent to the smelters as the crud eor eis not worth being shipped owing to the small return of the pure mineral, besides the output of the best ore is too heavy to warrant handling the other. The erection of a smelter in the Cobalt district would mean a great deal more money for the country and for the mine owners. The miners are working night and day, two shifts being engaged, and the operations go on without any intermission.

The stock market at Cobalt is a live scene during business hours, according to Mr. Sheridan, and the curb market records many deals big and small every day.

DATE OF LAYMEN'S BANQUET HAS BEEN DECIDED FOR DECEMBER 8th

A meeting of the general committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement was held last night with nearly all the churches represented. Mr. Dumble was chairman. It was decided to hold a banquet on Tuesday, December 8th, in the Sunday school room of the George street Methodist church.

Arrangements are being made to bring two speakers from Toronto, but nothing definite in this regard is ready for publication. Tickets for the banquet may be secured from the representatives of each church at 40 cents. The representatives not having tickets may procure them from Mr. James Connal. A special meeting of the representatives of all the churches is called for Friday evening, December 4th. A committee of young ladies, a certain number from each church will be asked to wait on the tables.

The committee is apparently handling the question in a manner that should ensure its success.

PETERBORO' MAN IS HOME ON VISIT FROM FORT CHIMO, UNGAVA BAY

Peterborough has a visitor from the northern part of Canada's domains just now, in the person of Mr. George Boucher, who is visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Boucher, Brock street. Mr. Boucher has been almost a continuous resident in the Ungava Bay district for the past sixteen years, although he has been on several visits home during that time. His last visit was four years ago. Mr. Boucher, who arrived on Saturday night, has been given a warm welcome home by his many friends in this city and has been busy shaking hands since his arrival. He expects to be home for about five weeks.

Dr. Boucher speaks most enthusiastically of the Ungava district, and says that it will be the country some day. He is stationed at Fort Chimo and is in the employ of the great fur trading company, the Hudson Bay Company.

G. T. R. Trains May Use Auburn Siding Into Quaker Oats Yard

Mr. W H Tittin, superintendent of the Northern Division of the G.T.R., and Mr. W G Brownlee, general transportation agent, were in the city this morning, arriving in their special car. They travelled over the line that runs up to Auburn and switches there down to the rear of the Quaker Oats Company. It is understood that arrangements are being considered whereby this company can relieve itself of the interswitching charges which they must pay the C.P.R. for all the G.T.R. cars that are taken over the spur line to the Quaker Oats Company's mill. This would mean that all the oat cars that are now brought from one line to the other for the mill would be taken around by Auburn and down the G.T.R. siding. It has not been learned what the result of the deliberations have been, but is understood that they have been underway for some time.

RICH GOLD STRIKE AT LARDER LAKE

Larder City, Larder Lake Mining Division, Ont., Nov. 23.—Some of the richest gold ore ever seen by the most experienced miners of this camp was blasted out this week at the twelve foot level of one of the Beddick shafts. The rock, which consists of pinkish quartz and green schist, is literally plastered thick with visable gold. The dike bearing this ore is an enormous one. Up to the present the mill has been running on rock quarried from the hillside and this has run steadily in value at from $8 to $10 per ton. The mill is running all the time with twenty stamps and the work of putting in the new hundred stamp capacity mill from Scotland is going on steadily under the direction of Mr. Morley Ogilvie, the superintendent.

Some of the samples of the ore mentioned in the foregoing were sent to Mr. Bannell Sawyer, Ottawa, in a sealed package and were shown by him yesterday at the Reddick office in the Trust building. They were visited by a large number of the Capital's capitalists and others and caused considerable excitement on account of the high values they contain, the free gold being visible in almost every part of the rock. It assayed they would give enormous values. But rich as the samples are the people most trustful of Larder Lake put the greatest trust in the practically inexhaustible bodies of low grade ore which will keep large stamp mills running for an indefinite period.

CANADIAN CREDIT ABROAD.

During the recent election contest we were assured by the virtuous editors of the Conservative press that the wickedness of the Government and its reckless extravagance of expenditure were injuring Canadian credit abroad; that the name of Canada stank in the nostrils of British capitalists and that, if Canada went a-borrowing, it would, in the words of the proverb, go a-sorrowing in a double sense—British men of money would not look at Canadian securities. This was to be the case especially in the matter of railway bonds The Government was overdoing things in building the Grand Trunk Pacific; the railway was not needed — and foreign confidence would be lacking in the matter of financial aid. What has happened? The Canadian Northern —a reckless railway enterprise according to the Little Canadian, since it parallels the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk Pacific—placed five million of bonds on the British market a few days ago. The amount of the loan was speedily over-subscribed, and the pessimists confounded. Securities of legitimate railway enterprises in Canada are gilt-edged, because there is reason for railways. We have an immeasurable expanse of territory, fertile, in either the elements of grain growing or minerals, to be brought under the subjection of settlement and development. These railway lines are needed, and will, consequently, create proportionate traffic, and make money loaned on their security a good investment, not to speak of the impulse to national growth and increased activity in every department of national life industrial commercial, civil, agricultural or otherwise, Pessimism is impotent; optimism is omnipotent.

RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

Is the sequence or grouping of railway accidents, fatality or mere coincidence, or simple cause and effect? It is often noted that railway accidents are, so to speak, gregarious. One of them is, often enough almost to establish a rule, followed by two or three, generally they go in groups of three. Not long ago there was a gruesome sequence of railway accidents on the Grand Trunk Railway system, and there was much popular comment and outpouring of popular reprobation. At the same time the C.P.R. was free from these happenings and superficial reasoning pointed to better administraton and management. Now the latter line has had its turn. Recently the accident epidemic broke out and there has been a grouping of accidents, several having followed each other in painfully prompt succession, culminating in the Burkston tragedy of Monday, in which three railway men met a terrible death.

Are accidents of this kind preventable? They would certainly seem to be. As in the case of most so-called accidents, railway or otherwise, the causation is carelessness. But how to cure the carelessness? What other penalty more effective than the inherent penalty, of such accidents can be devised? The railway companies are touched in the most tender part, their pockets. Even trifling railway accidents, trifling enough to be unnoted by the public, carry a heavy penalty for the railways. Thousands of dollars of rolling stock may be destroyed and heavy bills for destroyed or damaged freight have to be paid. The penalty is certainly great enough to induce care of management on the part of the administrative officers of railways, and, no doubt the greatest possible care is exercised. Yet accidents come with painful frequency The penalty upon railway operatives is indeed heavy enough to prevent carelessness; the penalty on their part is the death penalty, practically capital punishment. A moment of relaxed vigilance, the careless opening or closing of a switch may easily mean death to the delinquent or associated with him in the w g of trains It is therefore evident, that the penalties both upon railways and the trainmen are sufficiently heavy to eliminate the carelessness that is the most fruitful cause of railway accidents But it does not do so.

What can be done? Must we cry "Kismet," and fold our arms in helplessness, or can invention find a remedy? It seems so, to a certain extent, at least Whatever one may think of the good taste, one must give credit to the enterprise of a Toronto firm, which on the same day as the report of the Burketon fatality appeared in print, issued in the Globe, under the guise of a report of the accident, the advertisement of a system of automatic controlling and stopping for railways." It is plainly stated that the "almost human intelligence of the device would have detected the open switch and applied the air brakes and stopped the train just clear of danger." If the device referred to had been in place at the Sand banks on Monday morning, and had done what is claimed it can do, the lives of three men would not have been sacrificed, three homes would not have been desolate and thousands of dollars of damage would not have been done. If such a device exists, will do what it is said it will do, and is available, railway companies are criminally negligent if they do not put it to use on their lines. In Great Britain they manage railways that carry millions of passengers and millions of goods, without one-tenth of the accident, loss of life or property, annually taking place in this country. If railway accidents or their causation, do not come within the scope of the Railway Commission, they should be brought therewithin without delay.

The Dominion Government has taken prompt action in defending the Dominion from the danger of the foot and mouth disease now decimating herds in some parts of the United States.

Hon. J. R. Stratton's election is protested because he subscribed to church funds. And yet, says the Toronto Star, we have always understood that religion looks for its support to the elect.

The robber barons of the Plutonic age have no sympathy with latter-day Robin Hood methods Robbing the wealthy, has been fatal to an adventurer in New York, whose capital punishment has been meted out—at least the man is in the Tombs.

Canadian prosperity is returning; and the best way to hasten it is to meet it more than half way, Talking hard times is creative of hard times, and talking with courage and confidence begets confidence, which is one of the chief elements of prosperity.

The mines of Ontario are a valuable asset. In nine months the output of our mines amounted to twelve million dollars; but in nine months the products of the farm would amount to two hundred millions. The farm is the greatest mine after all—one that never "peters out."

From Mr. Andrew Carnegie's point of view the way to get tariff reform in the United States is to make millionaires of "protection" beneficiaries. Mr. Carnegie has "made his pile out of the screwing process favoured by a high tariff and now thinks protection no longer necessary.

The water is so low in the river that Ottawa is short of water to operate its civic waterworks pumps. On Sunday water was so scarce that it was impossible to use the organs in the churches, there was not enough power to supply the necessary wind, and the congregation had to fall back on the parson for a supply of this modern necessity in public worship.

One thousand eight hundred and thirty square miles of forest are stripped every year to supply print paper for journals. One can only adequately appreciate the immense waste involved, by looking at the journalistic monstrosities — the 48-pages of prurient rubbish and obscene picture pages that compose the average issues of the yellow journals.

Woodstock has a little tempest in a teapot over a petition to submit a local option bylaw. The city council has refused to submit a bylaw to bring on a vote for local option, by a vote of five to four. The ground of the objection was the report of the city solicitor to the effect that the petition presented was not legal, as it did not comply with the requirements of the law, and as there was doubt of the genuineness of many of the signatures. There should be no difficulty, judging by the prevalence of local option sentiment, as indicated by its wide-spread adoption, and taking into account the popular inclination to sign petitions of all sorts, in procuring sufficient bona fide signatures to such a petition in Woodstock.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

Canadian Cable System Proved by Sir Sanford Fleming to be Profitable Undertaking—Five Cent a Word Toll for Atlantic Service Proposed—Marine Enquiry Hits St. John, N. B.—Public Works Follows Marine Department in Abolishing Patronage—Probable Law Which Will Spoil Ontario Government's Patronage List—Immigration Department Will Maintain Practical Standard for Immigrants—Electric Smelting Enquiry.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Fred Ward, manager of the Commercial Cable Company, put his foot in it when he declared that the project of state-owned cables, giving cheaper rates than at present is unfavourable, and could only be established at great annual loss to the countries participating. To prove his case Mr. Ward made the statement that there is a loss of $320,000 in the Pacific cable. The veteran, Sir Sanford Fleming, calls him promptly to task, and gives an emphatic denial to his statements on the authority of the accounts laid before the British Parliament. As a matter of fact, says Sir Sanford, there never has been any loss in working the Pacific cable from the beginning. Each year there has been an excess of earnings over expenditure, this excess having ranged from $125,000 to $278,000 a year. The Canadian Auditor-General confirms the fact that this highly important Imperial work is financially in a prosperous condition, that the revenue from traffic not only meets all current expenses but yields a surplus which already discharges half the annuity designed to pay off in a fixed term of years the whole of the borrowed capital, and at the same time provide a reserve fund to renew the cable. Mr. Ward is equally mistaken with respect to the proposed Atlantic cable."

Sir Sanford goes on to show that a lower rate, which is contemplated at five cents a word, would bring in a volume of business from those who cannot now afford to use the cable at a cost of twenty-five cents a word, which would make it a paying proposition.

Mr. Ward's position is the same as that taken by Sir Charles Tupper and Sir Adolphe Caron, when the two cent postage was proposed, but Sir William Mulock proved that the cheaper rate was vastly the more profitable for the nation, while at the same time it was an important economy for the people.

The marine enquiry has hit St. John, N.B., and the evidence shows that the same old Liberal-Conservative methods prevailed there as shown at Quebec. The most important feature of the proceedings yesterday was the announcement on behalf of the Minister of Marine, that patronage lists had been abolished in New Brunswick as elsewhere. Hon. Mr. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, has also announced the abolition of patronage lists for his department. As an upshot of the whole investigation carried on by the Government it is not unlikely that during the approaching session a law will be enacted similar to that recently put into effect in Great Britain; making the acceptance of a secret commission by any person purchasing goods or superintending work on behalf of another a criminal offence. This would apply to the patronage lists of the Ontario Government and would compel Sir James Whitney to follow the lead of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in this matter.

The Immigration Department is making enquiries from farmers throughout the Dominion as to the success which the immigrants recently arriving have met with in adapting themselves to farm labour and conditions generally in this country. Reports so far received are favourable as regards the great bulk of the immigration. It is the design of the department to continue its policy of encouraging only that class of immigrants likely to achieve success in agricultural pursuits, railway construction and as female domestics. The department also wants it known that it will receive statements from immigrants as to their treatment and progress, and suggestions they may wish to make to their friends at home.

Dr. Eugene Haanel, director of the mines branch of the Geological Survey, is on his way to Stockholm, on the invitation of the government of Sweden, to be present at the opening of the new electric smelting plant at Dumnarfot, on December 1. He will continue for the mines department the investigations he made some two years ago on the electric smelting process now being conducted in Europe, and on his return important developments in the plant at Sault Ste. Marie in connection with the new system may be expected.

SUFFERED FOR YEARS

Says Peruna Completely Restored Health.

MRS. CHAS. GROSLOUIS, Indian Loretto, Quebec, Can., writes:

"For years I suffered from a disease that the doctors did not understand.

"One day I read in the paper about your excellent remedy, Peruna. I procured a bottle of it and took it according to directions. It was not long until I observed a change for the better.

"I can say that Peruna has cured me. I could not take any nourishment except milk.

"I will at all times say a good word for Peruna. I did it in the highest esteem."

Not only women of rank and leisure praise Peruna, but the industrious, useful women engaged in manual toil would not be without Dr. Hartman's world-renowned remedy.

The doctor has prescribed it for many thousand women every year and he never fails to receive a multitude of letters like the above, thanking him for his advice, and especially for the wonderful benefits received from Peruna.

INSTALLATION OF NEW PASTOR

Interesting Event at Bethany Tabernacle Last Night.

An interesting event took place last night at the Bethany Tabernacle, George street, when the new pastor, Rev. John E. Fee, was installed as minister succeeding Rev. Steurnagel. Pastor Salmon, of Toronto, and Pastor Zimmerman, also of that city, but a former pastor of the local church, were present, and assisted in the ceremony. The former addressed the new pastor, pointing out his duties to the congregation. Rev. Zimmerman addressed the people mentioning those things which were expected of them in their relationship to the pastor. A large attendance was present

SPECIAL DAIRY MEETINGS PROVING A SUCCESS

The special meetings, which are being held under the auspices of the Peterborough Cheese Board in different sections of the district, are proving profitable and interesting, and the dairymen are showing their interest in the movement by turning out in large numbers with the result that decided success has attended the meetings held so far.

On Monday evening a well attended and successful meeting was held in the T.A.S. Hall at Ennismore, with Mr. Geo. A Gillespie presiding. Addresses were given by Mr. Cameron, Dairy Instructor for the district, upon the conditions as he has found them in the district; Mr. O Whitley, of the Dairy Commissioner's staff, Ottawa, upon the importance of cool curing rooms, and Mr. Geo. H Barr, of the Dairy Commissioners' staff, upon the care of milk. The last two addresses were illustrated by means of a stereopticon lantern, a new feature that was appreciated.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick had everything prepared for the dairymen, and his courtesy in this respect was much appreciated.

Yesterday afternoon there was a meeting at the Buckhorn cheese factory, which, is not as largely attended, on account of being held in the afternoon, and the weather being so favourable for farming operations, was most interesting. Messrs. Barr and Whitley gave addresses that were listened to with close attention. Mr. Deck, one of the directors of the Buckhorn Dairy Company, was in the chair.

The meeting last night was held in the Temperance Hall, Selwyn, with Mr. Fred McKee in the chair. The attendance was large and the meeting most successful. In addition to addresses from Messrs. Whitley and Barr, Mr. Robert Ward, dairy instructor, also addressed the meeting.

To-night a meeting is being held at Lakefield.

SATURDAY'S GREAT BASKETBALL GAME

Peterborough people who are interested in basket ball, and there should be none who appreciate a fast exciting pastime, who are not interested, will have an opportunity of witnessing a grand game in the Y. M. C. A. gym on Saturday night, when the Toronto Central Y. M. C. A. team, which succeeded in beating the famous Hamilton team on Monday night, will clash with a picked local quintette. The Peterborough Association is fortunate in having a number of very fast basket ball men and from them a five has been chosen that should give the visitors a most interesting argument. The Toronto aggregation are certainly some class, however, as their brilliant victory over Hamilton demonstrated. The Ambitious City team had announced their intention of turning professional to meet the unregistered teams across the line, as they contended that there was not a team in Canada to even give them an argument. The Centrals beat them handsomely by 37—25. They have a wonderfully fast team and a visit to the "Y" gym on Saturday will be well worth while, if only to see the visitors in action.

The following team has been chosen to meet the Toronto aggregation:
Laing, back.
Best, back.
Fitzpatrick, centre.
Dobbin, forward.
Sutherland, forward.

Was Troubled With Weak Back For Years.

Could Not Perform Household Duties. Doctors Attended Without Avail.

Mrs. Arch. Schnare, Black Point, N.B., writes: "For years I was troubled with weak back. Oftentimes I have lain in bed for days, being scarcely able to turn myself, and I have also been a great sufferer while trying to perform my household duties. I had doctors attending me without avail and tried liniments and plasters, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I was about to give up in despair when my husband induced me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and after using two boxes I am now well and able to do my work. I am positive Doan's Kidney Pills are all that you claim for them, and I would advise all kidney sufferers to give them a fair trial."

Doan's Kidney Pills are a purely vegetable medicine, realising quick, permanent relief, without any after ill effects. A medicine that will absolutely cure Backache and all forms of Kidney and Bladder Disease.

A medicine that strengthens the kidneys so that they are enabled to extract the poisonous uric acid from the blood and prevent the chief cause of Rheumatism.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

In ordering specify "Doan's."

This woman says she was saved from an operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Frank Emsley, Lindsay, Ontario, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"When I wrote to you some time ago, I was a very sick woman suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the feminine organs and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do.

"A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

CAN RELIEVE YOUR MISERY FOREVER

Take Some Diapepsin and Cure Yourself Forever of Stomach Trouble.

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from Indigestion and Stomach trouble is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking Diapepsin.

If your stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs but a re-enforcement of digestive agents such as are naturally at work in the stomach?

People with weak stomachs should eat Diapepsin after meals, and there will be no more Indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, gas on stomach or belching of undigested food, headaches, dizziness or vomiting, and besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after eating one Triangule of Diapepsin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

LECTURE ON PALESTINE BY REV. NORMAN McLEOD

The name of Rev. Norman McLeod, has for many years been familiar to thousands, and especially to Scotch Presbyterians. Peterborough will welcome the grandson of the distinguished doctor, on Thursday, December 3rd. Rev. Norman McLeod, of Brockville, was one of the company that sailed for the Orient last February by the chartered steamer "Arabic." He went through Palestine on horseback, and it is the story of this trip that will form the basis of the lecture to be delivered at Murray street, one week from Thursday.

Mr. Edwards, of the Crystal, will operate the lantern, using the slides brought by Dr. McLeod from the East.

THE WINTER FAIR TO BE HELD AT GUELPH

The Ontario Provincial Winter Fair will be held in Guelph on December 7th to 11th, inclusive. Reports received would indicate that the exhibits of beef and dairy cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and seeds will be particularly large and instructive this year.

Lectures will be delivered in the Lecture Room of the fair building each day, during the fair, starting on Tuesday evening. The topics dealt with will relate to questions of interest to breeders and feeders of the various kinds of live stock, poultry and seeds and will be discussed by practical experts. For programmes, etc., apply to A. P. Westervelt, secretary, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

WAS SENT TO JAIL FOR ONE WEEK

Duncan McDonald of Orillia Pleaded to be Allowed to Go This Time.

Duncan McDonald, who supplied the Magistrate with the information that he came from Orillia, was before Mr Dumble at police courtthis morning, charged with vagrancy. Duncan appeared to be in poor shape, and the Magistrate considered that a week in gaol would be the best treatment under the circumstances. As a result of the verdict he will be a guest on the hill for a week. He pleaded to be allowed to go this time. But the Magistrate could not hear it.

WEDDING BELLS

HUTCHINSON—WOOD.

Bailieboro, Nov. 25.—Special.—At three o'clock on the afternoon of November 18th, between fifty and sixty guests were gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Hutchinson, South Monaghan, to witness the marriage of their youngest daughter, Annie, to Mr. Lewis R. Wo , of Cavan. The bride looked very charming in a dainty gown of cream colienne trimmed with embroidered chiffon and cream satin. She carried a handsome shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and smilax, and wore orange blossoms in her hair. Her only ornament was a pearl crescent, the gift of the groom. Little Helen Jackson, cousin of the bride, made a charming flower girl. She was dressed in white embroidered muslin, with pink ribbons and carried a lovely basket of pink and white carnations, lily of the valley and smilax. The groom's nephew, Master Harold Wood, filled the position of ring-bearer very acceptably. He wore a suit of white linen and carried a silver tray bearing the ring. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. J. Weatherill, under an arch of evergreens and red berries. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, which was played by her sister, Miss Edythe.

After the congratulations a dainty repast was served in the dining room, decorated with evergreens. The young couple were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents. The groom's gift to the flower girl was a pearl and amethyst brooch, and to the ring-bearer a gold scarf pin. The bride's going-away gown was a navy blue suit and she wore a white hat trimmed with white, with touches of blue. The happy couple left amid showers of rice and confetti for Trenton and points east. On their return they will reside in Cavan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for their future welfare.

CITIZENS INVITED TO THE FORMAL OPENING

New Collegiate Institute Opening Ceremony on Friday Afternoon.

To the Citizens of Peterborough.

Ladies and Gentlemen.—The formal opening of the new Collegiate Institute by the Hon. R. A. Pyne, M.D., Minister of Education, is to take place on Friday afternoon, the 27th instant, at three o'clock. There will be addresses by the Minister of Education, the Mayor, members of Parliament, and others.

The citizens generally, are invited to this function. This will be the first opportunity that you will have of inspecting our new building, which is considered one of the finest Institute buildings in the province.

For the convenience of those who cannot attend in the afternoon the building will be open in the evening. An orchestra will also be in attendance. Let everyone who can possibly attend, either in the afternoon or in the evening, do so.

I have the honour to be
Your obedient servant,
ROBERT FAIR,
Chairman Board of Education.

OBITUARY.

JOHN E. HOWDEN

One of the most widely known and highly respected residents of Cavan, passed away Monday evening at 6 o'clock in the person of Mr John E Howden. The deceased had been ill for the past sixteen months. He died at the residence of his sister, Mrs. James F Staples, in Cavan.

He was 51 years of age and was born in Cavan, being a son of the late James Howden. He was a man of sterling qualities and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. He was a Methodist in religion and in politics a Conservative.

Two brothers and five sisters are left to mourn his loss. The brothers are Messrs. Robert, of Peterborough, and Richard, of Cavan. The sisters are Mrs. J A Storey, of this city, Mrs. Alex. Walsh, Perrytown; Mrs. Caleb Lowe, Drayton; Mrs. Jos. F Staples, Ida, and Mrs. Thos. Morrow, Edinburgh street.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of his sister, Mrs. James F Staples, Cavan, to the English Church Cemetery.

MRS. WM. CHAS. SIMMONS

Leaving a young husband and four small children to mourn the loss of a wife and mother, Mrs. William Charles Simmons, 346 Stewart street has passed away at the early age of 35 years. Death resulted this morning at one o'clock after an illness of five weeks from typhoid fever. Her maiden name was Miss Flinda Grace Trotter, and she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Robt. Robson and Mrs. Geo. Barrett, and three brothers, Charles, of Peterborough; Bert, of Orangeville, and George, of Moose Jaw. Her other brother died about six weeks ago. The four children surviving are all between the ages of six years and fourteen months, making her death a particularly sad one. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

VICTIM OF RAILWAY WRECK ONCE RESIDED IN OTTAWA

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—One of the victims of the railway wreck at Pontypool, near Peterborough, Ontario, yesterday, was Mr. James D. Sweet, an Ottawan, aged twenty-one, who had previous to the last year been living with his uncle, Mr. Robert Sweet, 289 James street. The despatch announcing the death yesterday as published here, gave the name of Sweerman, and stated that he belonged to West Toronto. The young man lived here and had been railroading for over a year. He had another uncle here, Mr. Joseph Sweet, of Ottawa East, and the other relatives lived at Niagara Falls, where the funeral will be held. The deceased left a father, Mr. William Sweet; a brother, William T.; and two sisters, Miss Mary and Miss Lina Sweet. He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters, and from what relatives here understood, also carried an accident insurance policy. They received a telegram announcing the death but had no further information than which was published yesterday.

From The Cape To Cairo On A Most Entertaining Trip Through The Dark Continent

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

"From the Cape to Cairo," through a land rich in mementoes of the golden ages of its different peoples who boasted, in some of the regions, of a civilization that left indelible marks upon the path of time, was the course followed by Rev. J Gibson, of Toronto in his illustrated address at St. Paul's church last night on the subject of "The Work of the Bible Society in Africa." The occasion was the annual meeting of the local branch of this society and while the attendance was not as large as it might have been, the lecture was a treat to those interested in mission work. Rev. Mr. Gibson conducted his address in a most entertaining manner and the illustrations were not only highly interesting but were also of a decidedly educational character.

First Stage

He commenced his trip at Cape Town, the city of polyglot population, where the people of many countries are found in the market and on the streets, just as the waters from many seas and oceans join their forces to wash the shores of the Cape of Good Hope. The route followed the railway proposed by the late Cecil Rhodes. The journey was continued throughthe more civilized territory until the darker regions of the interior were reached. This central stage furnished the speaker with vivid stories of missionary endeavour, for it was here that some of the most notable African missionaries laboured with the heathen blacks for years, and here the soil was stained by the blood of many who were martyrs to Christianity in years that stretch backward only a few decades.

In the Nile Valley

And then the audience found themselves in the district of Nyanza's storied lakes, looking down the fertile valley of the Nile, through a country where even yet the people cherish many of the customs of former years, and where the traveller is carried back centuries by the yoked oxen hitched to the plow in fields and to lumbering waggons in the streets and on the highways. Here too, the water-carrier, as in Biblical times, shoulders his burden in the same skin vessels, the faithful camel is still the humble, enduring friend of the Arab, and one of the illustrations from a photograph taken a few years ago could easily pass as having been taken in the days of Rameses II. An Arabian was standing beside a camel, their shadows stretching towards the base of an obelisk. Then too, there were scenes along the Nile, little sail boats, feluccas similar to those in use in the days of Cleopatra and even in earlier centuries, agricultural implements that were of the most primeval pattern, obelisks and many other ruins of old piles that were erected when Egypt was at the zenith of her glory.

Founding of the Society

Rev. Mr. Gibson in his introduction gave a brief account of how the Bible Society was formed and how it had grown to its present strength. It was founded March 7th, 1804, and was known as the British and Foreign Bible Society. There were before its institution only four million Bibles in use in the world. Now there are over 400 million and they are printed in 500 different languages. During the address Rev. Mr. Gibson pointed out the value of missions not only from the standpoint of religion but from their industrial value. "It was missionaries that first went into countries and while they were spreading the Gospel of Christ, at the same time they taught the people how to labour economically, they taught the natives the value of cleanliness, also how to build better homes and to enjoy them, how to construct roads and to use them, in fact how to make best use of the natural wealth of their lands and to trade with the long-established countries of the old world's commerce.

Among the veteran missionaries who had gone to Africa some of those mentioned were Robert Moffat, David Livingstone, his son-in-law, Bishop McKenzie and others. The whole lecture was one that should not have been missed and those that were present thoroughly appreciated the manner in which it was presented and also the excellence of the accompanying slides.

Treasurer's Report

In connection with the formal work of the local branch of the society, Sheriff Hall was chairman, and conducted the regular business with despatch. Mr. John Crane, the treasurer, read the following report:

Receipts.

Collections during the year	$207 53
Balance from last year	3 64
Total	$211 17

Expenditures.

Sent to the Bible Society	$200 00
Expenses	3 34
Balance on hand	7 83
Total	$211 17

Officers Elected

The officers elected for the coming year were as follows:

President—Sheriff Hall.
Vice-Presidents—The Clergy of the city.
Secretary—Mr. J F Morrison.
Treasurer—Mr. John Crane.

Among cereals that are commonly used for human food, such as rice, corn, oats, barley, etc., there are none to compare with the whole wheat. If our Canadian wheat is thoroughly cooked and taken with milk, it produces a perfect food for the human system. Bread and milk make a good food, but usually bread is not cooked enough to get the best results. By chemical analysis there is found a great difference between the bread crumb and bread crust. Owing to the action of heat the bread crust contains about one-third less moisture than the crumb, six times more fats 40 per cent. more proteid, contains twice the quantity of soluble matter, 60 per cent. more maltose and three times more dextrine, all due to heat action.

Being aware of the chemical change due to high temperature and proper treatment, Orange Meat, which contains the whole wheat, is so prepared that every ounce will be affected like the bread crust. No kitchen with ordinary apparatus can produce this effect.

To persistent users of Orange Meat a large reward is offered. See their private postcard enclosed in every package of Orange Meat detailing particulars of how to win a cash prize of seven hundred dollars or fifty-two dollars paid each year during your lifetime.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP

The partnership heretofore existing between J. P. Cunningham and M. A. Turner, under the name of the Peterborough Music Company, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent.

All accounts due to the late firm must be paid to Mr. J. P. Cunningham, who continues the business under the same name, in the same premises and assumes all liabilities.

WAR WAGED AGAINST WHITE PLAGUE

Address Given by Dr. Elliott at Tuberculosis Convention.

Examiner Special.

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Dr. J H Elliott, of Toronto, delivered an interesting lecture at the Tuberculosis Exhibition at Auditorium Hall last evening. Dr. Elliott has taken a very prominent part in the fight which is being waged against the white plague by the medical men of Eastern Canada, and is considered to be one of the most expert specialists in the disease in the Dominion. He told of the work which is being carried on in Ontario. In the afternoon cooking demonstrations were given by a number of ladies.

There were twenty-five boys in the Business Boys' class last night.

In the Junior School Boys' class last night there were twenty-three boys out.

YOU CAN CURE CATARRH

J. H. Taylor, 54 Bond Street, Toronto, Breathed Hyomei and Cured a Long-Standing Case of Chronic Catarrh That Defied All Other Remedies, Also Toronto and New York Specialists.

Without taking a drop of medicine into the stomach, J H Taylor, 54 Bond street, Toronto, tells how the distressing troubles of Catarrh were overcome by simply inhaling Hyomei air. It's the history of tens of thousands similar cases on record, proving that Hyomei can be depended upon to cure Catarrh, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and Croup. It has no equal for any distress of the breathing organs.

Mr. Taylor says: "Some years ago while on a hunting trip in Northern Canada, I contracted a severe cold that settled in my head and finally affected my throat. It rapidly developed into catarrh and caused a miserable throat weakness. My head would become clogged during the night and there was a catarrhal dropping from the nose into the throat. Many days I had been unable to breathe other than through my mouth, and the constant hawking and spitting was almost unbearable. I had been treated by the best throat specialists here and in New York, but nothing benefitted my condition. I obtained Hyomei from a druggist and soon found relief, the throat dropping ceased and my head began to clear. I continued with Hyomei for six weeks and after that time I was well in every detail. There has been no return of the trouble since, and I feel grateful in speaking well of Hyomei, as it cured me when all else failed."

A LUCKY CAPTORE BY THE LINDSAY POLICE

A Peterborough man drifted into town yesterday, says the Lindsay Post, and proceeded to hit up the booze in a manner characteristic of the topers from that burg. A sudden weakness overcame him and the police gave him the rest cure over night, and this morning Police Magistrate Jackson tried him on the charge of being drunk and incapable. He pleaded guilty to that charge and also to coming from Peterborough, and he was accordingly assessed $6.60.

"DIVORCE" SCORES HIGH

A Brilliant Play and Admirable Company at Russell.

The Ottawa Citizen says of Divorce, which is to appear at the Opera House to-night:

Divorce, a play that appeals to the intellect as well as to the heart, a production that is staged with F. C Whitney's well known devotion to artistic detail, an interpreting cast the members of which may all be classed as stars of no mean magnitude—such is the attraction at the Russell theater, which was given its initial presentation last evening, and which will be seen for the last time to-night. Some months ago Paid in Full was seen in Ottawa under almost similar circumstances. It was playing in a few Canadian citizens, waiting to get time in New York. But it was only after Paid in Full went into New York, and proved the hit of the season, that Ottawans realized how good the attraction was that many had passed over, for it was the identical cast which appeared here that made blase New Yorkers sit up. Divorce is also waiting for New York time, and when it gets it, it is safe to say it will be another big success But in its Ottawa experience Divorce had an advantage. Its reputation had preceded it here from Montreal and Toronto, and the audience last night was quite a large one, in fact, the theatre was well filled. Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess Grey, with a party from Government House, occupying the vice-regal box. The success of the play was evidenced from the start, and the entire audience was enthusiastic in its appreciation.

Capable Amateur Company To Present "The Mikado"

In the Grand Opera House on Thursday and Friday, December 3rd and 4th---Local Opera Company to Enter Earl Grey's Dramatic and Operatic Competition

On Thursday and Friday, Dec. 3rd and 4th, Gilbert & Sullivan's famous musical play "The Mikado" will be presented in the Grand Opera House by a company of local amateurs under the direction of Mr. R J Devey, which under the name of the Peterborough Amateur Operatic Company proposes to compete for the shield in the competition instituted by Earl Grey to be held in Montreal next spring. The forthcoming Mikado will, it is hoped, furnish a substantial sum towards the expenses of the competition, and as it is proposed also to put on four performances of "The Geisha" in the spring, by the same company, the financial side of the enterprise will be assured, if all citizens will support the first company from Peterborough to enter the national competition. The Mikado will be the work presented in Montreal, so it will be kept in rehearsal all winter. The Company is about 70 strong, all working heartily for the success of the enterprise. The costumes for this series of performances have been kindly lent by Mrs. E G Oliver, an English lady who is one of the cleverest amateurs in England, in the part of Katisha. Tickets for advance sale are in the hands of the members of the company, such tickets to be presented at the box office on Monday next. Ordinary sale at the box office on Tuesday next.

MARION TERRY,

Who, with an exceptionally strong supporting caste, appears at the Grand to-night in Paul Bourget's great dramatic success "Divorce." Read in another column what the Ottawa Citizen of yesterday has to say with reference to the play which appeared there Monday night at the Russell Theatre. Some good seats left yet—To-night.

TWO COUNTY COUNCILLORS WHO WILL NOT BE IN NEXT CONTEST

From present appearances the majority of the councillors who have represented the County of Peterborough during the past year, will again be in the field at the coming municipal elections in January. This year there have been seventeen members in the council, including the warden—one from each municipality and two from the municipalities of Otonabee and Smith. It is understood among the councillors that of the seventeen, Councillors C. R. D. Booth, of Burleigh and Anstruther, and Jas. Moore, of Lakefield, will not be candidates for similar honours in January.

In Dummer, where Reeve C. J. Darling has been elected by acclamation for three or four terms, there will probably be a contest. At least rumour says so, the name of J. L. Kidd, Cottesloe, being linked with it. Otonabee seems to be quiet just now and whether there will be an election there is mere speculation, as no other names are mentioned, except Messrs. Fife and Porter. Reeve Scott, of Smith, expects to be a candidate should there be a contest, of which there is not much talk at present.

In Douro there is a possibility of some new men coming out for the council, including Messrs. Jory and Quinlan, but there has apparently so far been no report of a contest for the reeveship.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50 cents.

COURT STANLEY A. O. F. MEETING

Election of Officers to be Held at the Next Meeting.

The regular meeting of Court Stanley, A. O. F., was held last night in S. O. E. hall There was a fairly good attendance of members. Bro. T. Hendry, presided. One candidate was duly initiated into the order, and after the usual business had been concluded the rest of the meeting was held in the form of a social evening. Several of the members spoke and plans were laid to make the meetings the coming winter more entertaining, and to get more of the members to take interest in the court. The next regular meeting, December 8th, being quarter night, the election of officers for the ensuing term will take place.

COMFORT OF CEMENT CROSSINGS

Correspondent Finds Something Upon Which to Congratulate the City Council—No More Mud Puddles.

APPRECIATED BY ONE

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—The City Council have done many things which they ought not to have done, and have left undone many things they ought to have done, but during the last year they have done one thing for which the citizens are truly thankful. It is not so long ago that going home after dark on a night like last night pedestrians, after stumbling along the corduroy (board) walks that then were in vogue, would when crossing the streets run foul of a miniature quagmire or a pool of mud and water that was only ankle deep. Only an owl could have picked out the shallow parts. The ordinary citizen struggling along in the rain and the black of night would be almost sure to strike the worst parts. Now, things are different. One can walk along in safety, the only mud being that which the vehicles bring on from the road. This is one of the comforts which the city fathers have abundantly supplied. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am,

Yours, etc.

THE PROMOTION OF DEAN FARTHING

His Friends in Peterborough Pleased to Hear of His Advance.

The election to the position of Bishop of Montreal of the Very Rev. J O Fathing, M.A., D.D., Dean of Ontario, Rector of St. George's Cathedral, Kingston and Prolocutor of the Lower House of the General Synod, was received with gratification by a number of his friends in the city. Rev. Dr. Langteldt, Canon Davidson and Mr. D Hughes Charles are warm personal friends of the Dean. A number of telegrams of congratulations were sent to him this morning.

RAINBOW MAKES FINAL TRIP OF THE SEASON

COMMERCIAL MEN KEEP AWAY FROM KINGSTON

On Account of the Small Pox Breaking Out There.

Reports of the small-pox epidemic in Kingston have had the effect of keeping several of the commercial men from the Limestone City this week. A commercial man stated to the Examiner to-day that he knew of three who had purchased tickets for Kingston this week and after hearing of the small-pox there they refused to go.

BENGOUGH TO LECTURE TO ATHLETIC CLUB

One of the best lectures ever given in Peterborough will be given on the evening of December the 18th, in the Park street Baptist Church, under the auspices of the South City A.A.A., by Mr. Elven Bengough, Registrar of McMaster University, Toronto. Mr. Bengough is a nephew of Canada's greatest cartoonist, and promises fair to prove a worthy successor of his talented uncle, as he possesses much of the same characteristics as an artist and entertainer. Do not miss it. You'll be sorry. It is educative, instructive and entertaining is this lecture on "The Symbol Life."

YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO FEEL "DOPEY"

—to have headaches—an easily-tired body—a stuffy-feeling brain—even for part of the time. There are too many keen alert men and women, always at their best, to give much chance of success to one thus handicapped.

These things are the direct results of a sluggish liver—constipated bowels—dry skin — overworked kidneys — in short, of a body whose sewers are clogged.

Nothing opens up these outlets of the waste, and clears the system of poison so gently, yet so effectively, as "Fruit-a-tives." "Fruit-a-tives" are the juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes combined—by a process that greatly increases their medicinal value—with valuable tonics and internal antiseptics, and made into tablets.

Take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" every night, eat plenty of ripe fruit, and see how quickly your brain clears and headaches leave you. 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Trial size 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

STORMS ARE RAGING IN ARKANSAS

Fifty Are Said to Have Been Killed by Tornadoes.

HAIL IS SIX INCHES DEEP

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars' Damage Is Done In Western Part of State by Two Cyclones Which Have Devastated Big Areas—Ten to Twenty Killed In One Town—Family Wiped Out.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 25.—Two tornadoes, one north and the other southbound, swept over West Arkansas on Monday, destroying many lives and much property.

It is estimated that at least 30, and possibly 50, lives are lost, and the property loss is placed at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The counties through which the tornado passed are Lafayette, Columbia, Miller, Pike, Howard, Hempstead, Montgomery, Yell, Pope, Johnson, Franklin and Carroll.

The storm was at its height when it swept through Piney, a German settlement on the Iron Mountain Railroad between Knoxville and London. From 12 to 20 persons were killed and about 30 injured at Russellville. Five lives are also reported to have been lost ten miles from Mulberry.

A report from Fort Smith says 25 lives were lost in towns outside of Piney and Mulberry. This despatch says that the destruction of Cravens was complete. Four persons were killed and two fatally injured and eight are missing.

At Cravens four persons are known to be dead, members of the family of John Rosin, a farmer, who were caught under the falling timbers of their home. L. G. Holt and wife, an aged couple, were seriously injured and may die.

The entire intermediate country has been laid waste by the wind and hail which followed, the hail in some places standing to a depth of six inches.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Geo. Munro, alias "Portland Fatty," arrested in New York, will fight extradition to Montreal on charges of bank burglaries.

At Winnipeg, John A. Fraser, proprietor of the Gordon Heights Dairy Co., while driving, was run down by a train and killed.

Two New York firemen saved the lives of four men from the top flat of a seven-storey building on Canal street Monday night. The loss was $200,000.

Immigration Only Half.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—For the first seven months of the present fiscal year the total immigration into Canada was only slightly over half the volume of the corresponding period in 1907.

The total number of arrivals from April 1 to Oct. 31 was 109,570, as compared with 212,034 last year. From the beginning of the calendar year to Oct. 31 there were 86,481 arrivals from ocean ports, as compared with 204,617 for the same period last year.

From the United States during the same period immigration was 50,238, as against 49,455, an increase of 783 over 1907.

To Probe Tuberculosis.

Montreal, Nov. 25.—A deputation of medical men waited on Premier Gouin yesterday and requested the appointment of a royal commission to investigate the spread of tuberculosis in the province, and consideration was promised. The members of the delegation said that the medical profession would tender their services free to the province in the matter.

It is expected that the commission will include Dr. E. P. Lachapelle, Dr. T. G. Roddick, Dr. J. E. Dube, C. M. Holt, K.C., and Lieut.-Col. J. H. Burlands.

Shoots Daughter and Son.

New York, Nov. 25.—Realizing that his home was about to be broken up because of his actions, Carl Loose, a baker, yesterday shot and killed his daughter Meta, aged 11, and probably fatally wounded his son Frederick, pastor of a Lutheran Church at Yale, S.D., while they were at breakfast.

To Be Dyspeptic Is To Be Miserable.

Dyspepsia is the prevailing malady of civilized life. It is largely due to gross errors in diet, over-eating, too free indulgence in stimulants and over-taxing the stomach with indigestible food, eating too rapidly without chewing the food sufficiently, indulging in hot biscuits, pastry, pickles, confectionery, etc.

Constipation, headache, heartburn, sour stomach, distress after eating, belching of wind, faintness, and fullness and distention of the stomach are a few of the many distressing symptoms of the poor, weary dyspeptic. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach, stimulates the secretion of the saliva and gastric juice to facilitate digestion, removes acidity, purifies the blood, and tones up the system to full health and vigor, and thereby cures dyspepsia and all its tributary diseases.

Mr. Amos Sawler, Gold River, N.S., writes:—"I was greatly troubled with dyspepsia, and after trying several doctors to no effect, I commenced taking Burdock Blood Bitters and I think it is the best medicine there is for that complaint."

DEAN FARTHING ELECTED BISHOP

Montreal Synod Chooses Him to Succeed to Bishopric.

LAYMEN ARE VICTORIOUS

Clerical Delegates Supported Dean Evans But Finally Yielded, Giving Dean Farthing a Majority In Their Section of Synod—New Bishop Was Born In the United States In the Year 1862.

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Very Rev. Dean Farthing of Kingston was last evening elected Anglican Bishop of Montreal by the Diocesan Synod to succeed the late Bishop Carmichael.

The vote was between Dean Farthing and Dean Evans. The former has been supported by the lay delegates throughout, but Dean Evans had the support of the clerical delegates.

On another ballot being taken last evening Dean Farthing secured a majority of both orders.

The new Bishop of Montreal was born in the United States in 1862 of

NEW BISHOP OF MONTREAL.

English parents, and was educated in England. He held curacies at Woodstock and London, Ont., and two years ago was appointed dean of Ontario and rector of St. George's Cathedral, Kingston.

Kingston, Nov. 25.—Dean Farthing intimates that he will accept the bishopric of Montreal to which he was elected yesterday by the Diocesan Synod.

Fleeing From Husband.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Annie Barlow, 35 years, with three trunks and two children, aged five and seven years, was taken off the 8.40 train from Owen Sound at Parkdale last night by Detectives Murray and Guthrie. They also removed Thomas Ratcliffe, also 35 years old, also of Owen Sound.

This action was taken at the request of the chief of police of the northern town, who charges the woman with theft of the trunk from her husband. Ratcliffe is charged with abducting the children.

The woman says that the man was just taking her to her home in England, and that she was leaving her husband, who abused her.

Power Users Suffering.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—The low water in the Ottawa river is now so serious that the board of control yesterday afternoon deputed the mayor and city engineer to demand that the power users at the Chaudiere either shut down altogether or greatly reduce their consumption.

If they refuse the Minister of Public Works will be appealed to. If a fire broke out here there is not enough pressure to fight it.

Murray For Commissioner?

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Premier Murray of Nova Scotia is spoken of in connection with the vacancy on the Railway Commission, caused by the death of Hon. Thomas Greenway.

The position belongs to a western man, but should Premier Murray be successful, the leadership of the Nova Scotia Provincial Government will probably fall on A. K. Maclean, M.P. for Lunenburg.

Lords Throw Out Bill.

London, Nov. 25.—By a large majority a meeting of 200 members of the House of Lords decided in favor of rejecting the licensing bill summarily when it is brought up for its second reading.

As the Unionists are in a strong majority in the Upper House there will be no difficulty in throwing out any radical legislation distasteful to them.

Nanking Situation Serious.

Pekin, Nov. 25.—The situation at Nanking, where a mutiny on the part of the Chinese troops broke out Nov. 19, is serious.

There has been fighting in the streets of the city, and a portion of the foreign residents have taken refuge on board a British gunboat. Others of the foreigners preferred to remain on shore.

THE MARINE AGENT A BORROWER

St. John, N.B., Marine Official Is Put Under the Probe.

JUDGE CALLS IT GREASING

J. F. Harding, Agent In St. John, N.B., Had an Easy Time Borrowing Money From Firms Which Dealt With Government According to Witnesses — $5,000 From One Company Within a Year.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 25.—Judge Cassels resumed his enquiry into the affairs of the Marine Department yesterday. Several witnesses were examined and it was shown that J. F. Harding, agent of the Department, had been in the habit of borrowing money extensively from business men who sold supplies to the Government through him.

These loans, according to Judge Cassels, were simply "greasing the hands" of the officials.

Mr. Watson, on the opening of the enquiry, said he found that the bulk of expenditures, or recommendations passed through the hands of F. J. Harding, the agent; John Kelly, inspector of lights, and Capt. Bissett of the Lansdowne.

In 1904-05 the expenditures here were $275,782, passing through the hands of the agent; 1905-06 expenditures were $255,590, and in 1906-07 totals $222,495. He also found that the latest patronage list in use contained one hundred and forty names, while the one used in 1905 had only fifty-five names. He formally announced the abolition of the patronage system in St. John.

Charles McDonald, manager of the St. John Iron Works, testified as to transactions with the Government. The company had built buoys for the Department, and had supplied materials bought elsewhere, and only a small portion of the work had been received by tendering. He told of a loan to Capt. Smith, Department agent, and said he had written to Smith for payment. The amount was entered on the company's books, by the check number, but Smith's name was not on the books. Another loan of $50 was not entered.

Replying to Judge Cassels, McDonald fancied the payments might be in order to make things pleasant with the officers.

McDonald said he had received a note for $150 from Smith two weeks ago, Smith saying he had been "under hot fire in Quebec."

Another man, Morris, had received small presents from McDonald as a sort of commission, and Capt. Bissett got some whisky.

Asked if he had any paper of Mr. Harding, the agent, witness produced a check dated May 9, 1908, promising to pay bearer $575. For this check witness said he had given to Mr. Harding $575 in cash.

His lordship said it was simply a case of greasing the hands of the officials. If Mr. Harding did not choose to pay it back; nothing would be said.

The fact that borrowing operations of J. F. Harding were not confined to one firm was shown at the afternoon session, when W. E. Vroom, coal broker, and John E. Moore, lumber merchant and tugboat owner, both admitted having advanced large sums without other security than Mr. Harding's check or note. Charles McDonald was again on the stand and gave evidence that he had loaned amounts totalling about $5,000 per year for short terms during the last several years without interest. He admitted that his firm had a practical monopoly of Government work. He was allowed to stand down until to-day to give him time to ascertain how many of his loans Harding had paid.

W. E. Vroom of Vroom & Arnold, who has during these years sold $20,000 worth of coal to the Department, testified that he had a running account with Harding to record his loans and produced his books showing accounts. He cashed checks for Harding regularly about once a month, taking Harding's check in exchange. He regarded the transactions simply as a matter of accommodating a friend and did not charge interest. He declared he would do the same if Harding was not agent of the Marine Department, but admitted that it now placed Mr. Harding in an awkward position.

Chief interest centered in the evidence of John E. Moore. During the past four years he had supplied the Department with lumber and had hired his tugboats to the Department. The price for all but two purchases of lumber had been fixed between himself and Mr. Harding. Moore's books showed only one of these transactions and it was explained by the fact that Moore was out of town at the time and his partner, Jarvis Wilson, Jr., knowing of the relations between Moore and Harding, had advanced $489 and entered the amount in the cash book.

Moore said he had never entered the others, as they were only short term loans, though some of them ran from six months to a year.

A note of Harding's for $1,800, which was held by Moore, was produced. Moore testified that this was in renewal of balance of note dated Oct. 17, 1907, for $3,500, on which Harding had since paid $700 in two instalments. He had lent Harding money with his check as security regularly for several years. In one year it amounted to $3,000. He had never asked Harding what he needed the money for and did not know if he speculated in stocks.

COULD NOT LIFT 10 POUNDS
HE WAS SO WEAK.

This was the condition of Mr. George H. Briston, of Bath, Ont., when he commenced taking PSYCHINE four years ago. He says: "About thirteen years ago, I caught a severe cold which settled in the Bronchial tubes and on my lungs. I was rapidly sinking and was unable to go about the house without pushing a chair ahead of me to steady myself. I was so weak I could not pick 10 pounds off the ground, and seeing your advertisement, I decided to try PSYCHINE. In three days from taking PSYCHINE I could walk without the chair and I gradually found myself getting stronger, until at the end of one year I was able to discontinue the treatment. Since that time (three years) I have not had a return of the disease, and would recommend anyone suffering from Throat or Lung trouble to use PSYCHINE." It is no wonder that Mr. Briston recommends PSYCHINE to his friends, for he has discovered the Greatest of Tonics, PSYCHINE. A remedy that cures to stay cured, as thousands can testify. PSYCHINE is sold by all druggists and dealers. 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

BEFORE TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early [illegible] very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

BURRIDGE WINS IN STRAIGHT FALLS; BEATS FITZPATRICK AFTER 1 HOUR AND 15 MINUTES OF WRESTLING

The Longest and One of the Best Bouts Ever Seen in Peterboro —Burridge's Strength Was Too Much for His Opponent, But the Latter Put Up a Hard Resistance

PRELIMINARIES AMUSING

IN A NUTSHELL

First fall—Burridge with arm bar and neck hold in 27 min. 30.
Second fall—Burridge, with an arm bar and head lock, in 47 min 30 sec.

It took just one hour and fifteen minutes to decide the winner, and the crowd saw the longest and one of the hardest fought bouts that has ever been pulled off in this city. When it was all over Harry Burridge had won in straight falls, after a match that was remarkable for the hard work done by the participants. The result was a surprise to a large number of the fans, who have been impressed by Fitzpatrick's work in the bouts here this fall, and who expected that he would prove too scienced for his opponent. If Fitz, however, was more scienced than Burridge he was given little chance to show it last night, as it kept him busy holding off his opponent, who was on the aggressive for more than seven-eights of the time, and who appeared to be too strong for Fitzpatrick. As has been said, he, the latter, was almost continuously on the defence, and he certainly had to stand a lot of gruelling during the seventy-five minutes of the contest, Burridge simply refused to let him take the aggressive, and when he did attempt to do so with a quick roll, Burridge went at him fiercely and had him on the defensive before the crowd realized what was happening. Fitz appeared to tire badly on end, while Burridge, despite the fact that he was working on top of him nearly all the way, looked little the worse for his exertions at the conclusion of the bout.

As has been said, the loser had little chance to show his science. Burridge added speed to his strength and worked strenuously all the way. In the early stages Fitz managed to get a scissors hold on Burridge several times, but it did not seem to worry him, and after releasing himself he would go back at his opponent as eagerly as ever. Towards the end Fitz made no attempt to assume the aggressive, although after thirty minutes had elapsed in the second bout he made a rally that brought the crowd to its feet, when he got a neck hold on Burridge and lifted him off his feet, Burridge, however, managed to break loose, and after that was never in much danger. He worked almost continuously on Fitzpatrick's arms and neck, varying these tactics with an occasional scissors across the face that must have punished him some.

His two falls were gained in almost the same way. In the first instance he slipped an arm bar and neck hold on Fitz, and despite the latter's struggles, slowly but surely pinned his shoulders to the mat. He had his adversary in durance vile for several minutes before he secured the fall. The second fall came in almost the same way, an arm bar and head lock doing the damage. Fitz held out for nearly five minutes after Burridge had gained the hold, but finally he was flattened out on the mat.

Burridge assumed the aggressive right at the start. After the preliminary sparring he seized his opponent by the legs and hurled him to the mat. He commenced operations by trying half nelsons and arm bars, and Fitz for some time contented himself with breaking these holds. Finally Fitz assumed the aggressive with a quick roll and got a scissors on Burridge, which the latter broke, and went on the attack once more. A little later Fitz repeated the move, with no more success. Burridge seemed too strong for him and tore himself away from the holds. After 27.30 minutes' wrestling, hard and fast all the way, Burridge secured the first fall with an arm bar and neck hold.

The second bout was a repetition of the first, with Burridge nearly always on the aggressive. Fitz twice was on top and had his opponent in trouble with a face lock and a scissors on the arm, but he finally tore himself loose upon both occasions and recommenced his worrying tactics upon Fitz. He commenced to work with his legs, and punished Fitz with a scissors across the face, varied with arm and neck holds. The spectators realized that unless Fitz got a fall upon a quick double it was only a question of how long it would take Burridge to win the match. He did not appear to be tired and worked fast nearly all the way. The fall was bound to come, and though Fitz put up the gamest kind of resistance, he was finally thrown in 47.30 minutes.

It was a grand bout, one of the best that has ever been seen here, and both boys are deserving of all kinds of credit for the fine exhibition they put up.

A. O. Yokome was referee, and had rather a thankless job, as the crowd was wildly excited. He, however, made a most impartial and thoroughly satisfactory official, and neither man can have any complaint to make against his work.

George Lillie and B. Guerin were brought together in a preliminary boxing bout that was to go six rounds. Lillie, who was years older and apparently pounds heavier than his opponent, had all the best of the bout. He followed Guerin all over the ring, landing occasionally with heavy swings to the face and jaw, that had his opponent backing up. Guerin was satisfied to keep out of his way as long as he could, but was knocked down at the end of the second round, the gong saving him. George N. Graham stopped the bout in the third round, with the approval of the crowd.

The local wrestlers showed that they had a wholesome respect for Young Hackenschmidt, and only two men appeared in answer to his challenge to throw five wrestlers in ten minutes. One was "Young Gotch," John Fitzner, and the bout was the funniest thing that has been seen in a long time. Fitzner was game, but he did not know the difference between a strangle hold and an apple pie. Hack picked him and dumped him down on the mat for a fall in 35 seconds, and then gave him another chance. The second time by way of variety, he waved him around like a flag for a few moments before throwing him again.

Prof. Holloway, one of the team of acrobats who are performing at the roller rink this week, was Hack's other adversary, and he proved to be some class. He is fast and very speedy, and he managed to hold Hack off to a fall in two minutes and forty seconds. Once the New Yorker got hold of him it was all off, but by quick work he managed to keep out of Hack's grip for some moments. The crowd gave the acrobat a generous hand for his work. Eugene Hurtubise went on against Hack in a five minute bout that was as announced purely an exhibition affair, with no attention paid to falls. The two gave the crowd a pretty exhibition of the game, and were warmly applauded. There were no falls.

It was a grand night's sport and the crowd should have been larger, in view of the excellence of the bill provided.

BELMONTS AND BANKERS WERE WINNERS

Two interesting games were played in the Ten Pin League at the P.B.C. alleys yesterday, when the Bankers defeated the Examiner trio and Lang's team fell down before the Belmonts. The game between the Bankers and scribes was played in the afternoon and was originally scheduled for this evening, but was changed by mutual consent. Though rather one-sided the match was interesting at all stages, and given a fair break of luck the Exam would have made a much better showing. For the losers Huston had the highest total, but at that he did not bowl in anything like his usual form, running into a series of most unfortunate splits. Lacheur had high single in the first and third games, but his average dropped by reason of a reversal of form in the second game. Dela Fosse was bothered by the foul line rule, but was improving towards the end of the game.

The Bankers rolled in championship form, piling up the second largest form, piling up the second largest total made since the league opened. Barber and Ford were particularly effective, while Graham Ferguson was coming like a house on fire at the end. The high single honours fell to Barber, while Ford had the best average. The team showed up to advantage in every way and they easily look like one of the strongest aggregations in the league.

In the evening the formidable Belmonts did not have to extend themselves to any great extent to take a majority of the games from Lang's team. Wareham, as usual, was there with a couple of large scores, while Joe Pollard ran him a close second. But the real surprise was furnished by Wesley, who was well up with the leaders in the first two games. Wesley is a comparatively new roller, but his style and delivery are faultless, and with a little more experience he will make the best of them look to their laurels.

The winners had no difficulty in running away with the first game, but the second game was decided on the last couple of frames, and had Hay bowled in anything but the most miserable form the story might have been different. In the third game Lang's men bowled a shade more consistently, and managed to capture the odd contest by 32 pins.

The scores follow:—

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION AWAITS HOCKEY IN THE CITY AT OPENING OF THE SEASON

Five Teams Already Entered in the City League—Annual Meeting and Election of Officers Last Night.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS

With five teams entered at the annual meeting, the Peterborough City Hockey League is assured of another interesting and successful season. The meeting was held in the Y.M.C.A. parlours last night with President Fred A. Clarke presiding. The Strathconas were represented by C. Wilson and P. Weatherstone; the Rough Riders by Len Giroux; the T. A.S. by J. Bennard and Leo Derocher; the West Ends by W. Butcher and J. McNern and the Y.M.C.A. by Elmer Fox.

All of these clubs have paid their entrance fees and intend to stay with the league. It is quite probable that two or three other teams will yet enter. Lakefield and the High Lake are considered certainties and the officers expect seven or eight teams altogether.

The secretary read the report of the past season as follows:

It is with a great deal of pleasure we are able to announce that the season of 1907-08 of the Peterborough City Hockey League—the fourth in its history—was the best in many regards. Five teams entered, last December, namely Strathconas, Highlifes, Norwood, Lakefield and Bridgenorth, and every team stayed with the league until its conclusion. Norwood and Bridgenorth were new recruits and they assisted in no small manner in maintaining the interest throughout. The season terminated with the Strathconas the victors which made it the second successive occasion upon which they captured the coveted silverware. They are also to be congratulated upon the fact that they did not lose a single league game in either year.

A single schedule was played, the games beginning on Wednesday, Jan. 8th, and concluding on Wednesday, Feb. 5th. During the season the aim of the formation of the league was accomplished, that of developing and providing players for the hockey arena in higher circles. A number of promising young hockeyists were discovered in Peterborough city and county, who will undoubtedly make names for themselves in the years to come.

From a financial standpoint the result was more gratifying than the previous year. The gate receipts were $210.70 as compared with $186.75 in the season of 1906-07, when there were six teams entered. The total receipts of monies received in trust for the league amounted to $310.70 against which there were expenditures of $154.50, leaving $156.20 to be divided among the five teams. The league account shows the total receipts including the balance from the previous year of $3.70 to be $13.70 against which there were $12.10 expenditures leaving a balance of $1.60, to the credit of the league. The above mentioned expenditures included an account of $3.00 which belonged to the 1906-07 season.

Much of the credit for the success of the City Hockey League of the past season was due directly to the efforts of the President, Mr. F. A. Clarke, whose interest in every department of its welfare always stood out prominently. With the co-operation of each club during the season that lies before us, the league should continue in popularity and prosperity and should bring together the best amateur element the city can produce in hockey circles to enable it to carry on its business in the same honest, straight forward manner by which the work has been characterized in the past.

Yours respectfully,
B. T. HUSTON.

MR. C. G. GRAHAM,
Elected President of the Peterboro City Hockey League last night.

Officers for the Year

The next order of business was the election of officers which resulted as follows:

Patrons and Patronesses
Mayor and Mrs. Rush.
Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kendry.
Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Merrill.
Dr. and Mrs. Wightman.
Mr. and Mrs. V. Eastwood.

Thursday Night Games

The usual number of season tickets will be issued at once and distributed among the various teams. They will be sold at 50 cents. Certificates will be issued also for the players. It was decided last night, if arrangements can be made, to play the games on Thursday nights this season instead of on Wednesday.

Committees were appointed to look after necessary business preliminary to the next meeting.

LINDSAY AND CAPITALS PLAY HERE ON SATURDAY

It looks as if Peterborough fans would have an opportunity of seeing the final six the junior series of the O.R.F.U. on Saturday afternoon between Lindsay and the Capitals of Toronto, who last Saturday won their district by defeating the Eurekas, also of Toronto. A despatch from Toronto to-day says that "Capitals and Lindsay meet in the junior O.R.F.U. final game at Peterborough, Saturday. Dr. A. W. McPherson, of Peterborough has been agreed upon as referee."

THE VALUE OF COD LIVER OIL
No physician would dispute the value of COD LIVER OIL in nervous and pulmonary diseases, if the nauseous grease did not so derange digestion as to more than counteract the good done by the therapeutic principles of the oil.
In "BRICK'S TASTELESS" there is no grease. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, invigorates the nerves by nourishing them, and CURES Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis. Its timely use is an insurance against serious consequences, as the weakened system is a prey to germ diseases, such as Tuberculosis, Typhoid and Typhus Fevers, and Diphtheria.
Brick's guarantee with every bottle is an evidence of our faith in this matchless Preparation.
"BRICK'S TASTELESS"
is put up in eight (8) ounce bottles, retail price fifty (50) cents, and in twenty (20) ounce bottles, retail price one (1) dollar.

Note the Shelf
It's the Oven Door.
What a convenience and what a safeguard against burned fingers and scorched faces when you're basting or checking a roast or a fowl. The steaming hot dish can be brought out to you instead of your reaching in to it.
That's the

REMAINS LAID TO REST

The funeral of the late Bernard Hiscman took place this morning to St. Peter's Cathedral where high mass was said by the Rev. Father Kelly. The funeral was attended at the cemetery by the Rev. Father Galvin. The pall bearers were Messrs. Ramulda and Hildo Desautell, Jos. Desautell, Wm. Kenneally, Vincent Corkery, Douglas McDonnell. The floral offerings were beautiful, among the many being a most beautiful wreath from the teachers and the pupils of the Commercial Class of the Collegiate Institute.

MEN!

The greatest asset you have is your strength. You can't afford to give out. It is a vital necessity that you have your nervous and muscular system in perfect order to withstand the constant wear and tear of your daily work.

The finest tissue builder and strength creator is Vinol, a Cod Liver preparation that has the greasy, nauseating oil eliminated—only the valuable medicinal properties being combined with peptonate of iron. Its use will keep you in health and strength.

DEBILITY results from a weakened condition due to imperfect digestion, lack of nutrition or overwork. Vinol strengthens the digestive organs, creates a healthy appetite and makes new blood. You lose that fatigue, weakness and run down feeling when you take Vinol.

BRAIN FAG won't attack you if you repair used-up nerve force with Vinol. Vinol puts strength into your system—it gives you vitality and energy—it nourishes your brain and body and keeps you in a perfect state of health—it quickly re-establishes strength after any severe illness.

NERVOUSNESS is a complaint that can be readily overcome by using Vinol. It repairs broken down nerve tissue and builds strong, healthy nerves that enable you to withstand the worries and annoyances unavoidable in business.

DYSPEPSIA is due to derangement of the digestive organs and their inability to assimilate nourishment. Vinol strengthens the overtaxed and weakened digestive nerves and helps your stomach do its work.

VINOL QUICKLY CURES A COLD AND STOPS A COUGH

BLOCK OF SIX STORES TO BE ERECTED

Mr. J. J. Lundy Will Build Up Lot Between Grand Hotel and Fanning's Laundry—Foundations Taken Out Now.

BUILDING UP NEXT YEAR

The old blacksmith shop, formerly occupied by Mr. McColl, on George street, south of the Grand Hotel, is being torn down to make room for a row of six stores that Mr. J. J. Lundy will build between Fanning's laundry and the hotel. The cellar will be taken out before the snow flies, but none of the construction work will be commenced until next spring. Everything will be ready then and the row of buildings will be erected during the summer. The second story will be divided into apartments like the Grand Central block, and a third story will also be used, but for what purpose has not been learned. Mr. McColl has opened up his shop on Water street, north of the opera house.

The erection of this block of stores will be a great addition to the lower part of the business section of the main street, and will tend to bring the business limits further south.

COUNTY COUNCIL IN COMMITTEE ALL DAY

The County Council resumed business this morning in committee, and have been in committee almost all day. No reports, up to 3.30 o'clock, were presented to the council. Yesterday afternoon a communication was read from the County of Grey, asking for the co-operation of this county in a petition to the Legislature for an amendment to the good roads act so that townships may be enabled to adopt a good roads system and take advantage of the Government's offer of assistance instead of the county taking it up.

Moved by Councillor Brown, and seconded by Councillor Moore, that this county council authorize the warden and clerk to sign the memorial as presented by the County of Gry. —Carried.

A communication from the superintendent and matron of the County House of Refuge at Lakefield, requesting that their salaries be increased $25 each per annum.

This was referred to the Finance Committee.

THE word "OXOL" does not mean one food or one preparation. No "OXOL" is a name given to all goods for horses, cattle, swine and sheep, prepared by Messrs. S. K. and T. C. Windsor, of Australia, New Zealand, England and Canada.

The veterinary preparations as well as the compressed bales of fodder placed on the market of the world under the name of

are all of the greatest possible order of merit and may be used by farmers, graziers, dairymen and all owners of stock with the full assurance that these goods have the power in a very short time to double their incomes by feeding, fattening and curing all animals, which to them means money.

Scientific Meetings will be organized by Messrs. Windsor and held throughout the Dominion of Canada, when farmers desirous of improving their knowledge of stock will have an opportunity of doing so and to be instructed on the life of stock from birth to death, free of any charge.

DR. YOUNG WINS IN APPEAL CASES

Heard at Osgoode Hall Yesterday—Appeal Dismissed With Costs.

The appeal of the Dominion Construction Company versus Dr. Young, Peterborough, was heard yesterday at Osgoode Hall, and was disallowed. The Globe in reporting it says:

Both appeals in the case of Young vs. Dominion Construction Company, were argued yesterday before the Divisional Court. The appeal by the defendants from the judgment of Mr. Justice Magee on September 16, in favour of the plaintiffs, was dismissed with costs. On their appeal against the judgment refusing them relief over against the third parties judgment was reserved.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams acted for Dr. Young.

OUTPUT FOR 9 MONTHS OF ONTARIO MINERALS

Totals $12,205,795, of Which Cobalt Mines Produced 50 Per Cent.—Nickel Values High.

The output of Ontario's mines for the first nine months of 1908 totalled $12,205,795, of which $6,141,090, or over half the total, is from the Cobalt silver mines. The report of the Bureau of Mines gives the figures as follows:

	Tons.	Value.
Arsenic	464	19,829
Cobalt	480	80,633
Gold (ounces)	1,738	40,797
Silver (ounces)	12,223,834	6,141,090
Copper	5,892	837,559
Nickel	7,760	1,494,693
Iron ore	166,088	448,532
Iron pyrites	13,417	43,948
Pig iron	189,287	3,098,661
Total		$12,205,795

Shipments from the Cobalt mines during the period amounted to 18,325 tons, including 480 tons of concentrates. Arsenic in the above table represents only the quantity recovered by reduction works in Canada, and cobalt only the cobalt contents of shipments for which mine owners received returns.

LETTER COMES ALL THE WAY FROM ASIATIC TURKEY

Inquiries About the Goods of J. J. Turner & Sons.

From Broussa, in far off Asiatic Turkey, come enquiries about the manufactured goods of the J. J. Turner & Sons' establishment. The firm this morning received a letter from Broussa, requesting information about their products, and particularly about the tuberculosis tents which they recently exhibited in Montreal. Peterborough is certainly known in all parts of the globe.

Lodge Of Instruction Here Attracts Many Masons From The Surrounding Districts

The Lodge of Instruction for the 29th Masonic District, which was called by the D.D.G.M., R. W. Bro. A. H. C. Long, of Port Hope, brought together yesterday large numbers of the brotherhood from the thirteen lodges included in the district. The main object of the gathering was for the purpose of inaugurating a uniform system of work in the lodges. No less than 250 members of the craft were present, large contingents having come by special train from Bowmanville and intermediate points.

The work in the E. A. Degree was exemplified by Norwood Lodge, No. 223. In the F. C. Degree by Jerusalem Lodge, No. 31, Bowmanville, and in the M. M. Degree by Corinthian Lodge, No. 101, and Peterborough Lodge, No. 155. The work of the three degrees was satisfactorily performed, but the feature of the gathering was undoubtedly the most eloquent address on "Masonic Symbolism," given by W. Bro. H. E. H. Kenner. It was a most masterly effort and was listened to with the keenest enjoyment by the large body of members present. It was a fitting climax to a highly interesting and instructive occasion.

Preparations had been made for a banquet to the visiting members, but owing to the lateness of the hour the hospitable intentions of the local lodges were frustrated. W. Bro. T. F. Matthews, Master of Corinthian Lodge, acted as presiding master.

First Train Of Grain Passed Over G.T.R. Tracks At London St. Power House This Morning

Bridge Has Been Ready for Years, But C. P. R. Siding Has Been Used—G. T. R. Does Away With Much Inter-Switching—Will Use It Regularly.

RESULT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The first load of grain that has ever passed over the G.T.R. line that extends from Auburn to the Quaker Oats Company, was that of eleven cars of oats which were taken down this morning. It is understood that this is the first train that has ever passed over the new dam that was built over the Otonabee at the time the power house at the foot of London street was erected some years ago. The rails were laid then, and the line was cut through from the mill to Auburn and placed in good condition.

As stated in yesterday's issue the visits of the officials of the G.T.R. Company to the city, in regard to this matter, were expected to culminate in such a step as this. It is understood that all the grain that arrives in the city for the Quaker Oats Company over the G.T.R. line, will be delivered directly over their Auburn siding.

Up to the present they have been transferred to the C.P.R. lines and then delivered by that company. The inter-switching bill must have been extensive as there was practically a train load of grain every day.

Dr. Johnston Goes To Western Ontario On Professional Commission From Government

Will be Engaged for an Indefinite Period Inspecting Cattle—The Officials Endeavouring to Keep Cattle Disease Out of Canada.

HE LEFT THIS AFTERNOON

Dr. T. Johnston, the local veterinary surgeon, received a telegram from Dr. Hilton, of Ottawa, Acting Veterinary Director General, asking him to go at once to Western Canada for immediate duty. It is understood that he will be engaged in inspecting cattle that may be brought into Canada at Windsor.

The action of the Government officials has been immediate and thorough. Stringent measures are being adopted to keep out of Canada, this disease of the foot-and-mouth of cattle which has spread through the New England States, and threatens a wider circulation. Competent veterinary men are being engaged to watch the points where cattle usually enter Canada, and special attention will be given Western Ontario. Dr. Johnston left on the evening C.P.R. express for Toronto, and will likely commence work in a day or two.

Stores Of 24th Field Battery Found In Splendid Condition

The inspection of the stores and equipment of the 24th FieldBattery, were inspected at the East City Armouries by Master Gunner Stroud, of the Royal Horse Artillery, of Kingston, and were pronounced by him to be in first class condition. He expressed his extreme satisfaction with the manner in which he had found the armouries and all the stores. Major T. W. H. Young, commander of the battery, received many congratulations on its fine condition and the other officers and men are pleased that the inspecting officer could make this satisfactory statement.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

Minister of Justice Has Bill to Punish Grafting—The Hon. Mr. Templeman Will Protest Victoria Election—Important Public Appointments — Japanese Immigration Cut Down—United States Now Furnishes Most Immigrants to Canada.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—What was stated in my despatch yesterday, as a likelihood, is now a certainty. Hon. Mr. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, is understood to be engaged upon a bill, based on the lines of the English bill passed last year, which will make the payment or the acceptance or secret commissions in either private or government business transactions, to corruptly or improperly influence such transactions, a criminal offence. The measure will probably be introduced during the approaching session.

It is understood that Hon. William Templeman, who was defeated in Victoria, B.C., by a narrow majority, will contest the election, with a good chance of obtaining the seat.

Charles Meinister, general superintendent of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company at Fernie, B.C., has been nominated by the Labour Department to be chairman of a board of conciliation to investigate grievances between the Galbraith Coal Company and its miners.

J. E. Oyr ex-M.P. for Provencher, has been appointed a Dominion Government immigration agent in France. The department plans a systematic campaign in both France and Belgium, and will employ moving pictures for the purpose of advertising Canada.

Prof. E. E. Prince, Commissioner of Fisheries, has been appointed as Canada's representative upon the International Fisheries Commission to succeed Mr. J. T. Bernatchez, who has been appointed superintendent at old age annuities.

In consequence of the death of the Chinese Emperor and Dowager Emperor, the date of the international conference upon the opium traffic has been postponed until the middle of February. As a consequence, W. L. Mackenzie King, M.P., will not leave for China until after the first of February.

In consequence of the Government's policy discouraging Oriental immigration, there has been a marked falling off in the influx of Japanese. From April to October, 1907, 5,985 Japanese entered the Dominion. For the same period, this year, there were only 454 Japanese immigrants.

The immigration returns for the seven months, April to October, show a very considerable falling off in foreign immigration, the figures being 109,575 against 212,024 for the same period last year. This is in a measure due to the greater discrimination being exercised by the immigration agents, and the care taken to secure only the best classes. On the other hand the immigration from the United States, which brings in settlers of the very highest quality, and mostly people of means, has increased from 40,655 last year, for the same period, to 60,320 this year.

WOMEN, WINE AND VOTES.

Why not give women votes? They are already invading, or have invaded the precincts, sacred by custom and usage to the monopoly of man, and there seems to be no logical reason why the way should not be opened for them to the polling booth. They break into the criminal arena and the gambling den as well as into society. It is stated that in Winnipeg there is frightful prevalence of gambling among women. In Toronto, it is asserted that women gamble and drink strong drinks, even going to the extent of the "pocket pistol" habit, a sign that the victim is pretty far gone in the ways of "booze." Alderman Hales, of Toronto, speaking at a temperance meeting in a church in Hamilton, stated that many women in Toronto had a mania for gambling, and that hundreds of women in Toronto would not go to a summer resort without taking their flask of something strong with them. If the enfranchisement of women leads to assertiveness in regard to voting like that displayed in the matter of male prerogatives of vulgar dissipation, they had better suffer under the injustice of disfranchisement than risk the shattering of all our ideals of pure and innocent womanhood—they had better bear the ills they have—including children—than fly to others that they know not of. Women are inclined to be severe upon all social strays of their sex, yet they wink at, and tolerate, and by condoning, approve of sins in women like gambling, smoking and drinking, which do not seem to involve social ostracism. Convention may have established a distinction between the two forms of wickedness, but morally, what is the difference between a woman who gives way to the vice of drinking and gambling, and the woman who forfeits the innocency of her sex? Both vices unfit those who practise them for proper fulfilment of the loftiest functions of women, wifehood and motherhood.

A LIMIT TO LIBEL.

In times of election excitement some platform orators and newspapers acts as if they were absolved from obligation under the law of libel, in dealing with the characters or reputations of candidates and other public men. They seem to think that, like a lawyer in court or a member speaking in Parliament, their scurrility and coarse abuse are privileged. In their eyes a man becoming a candidate opposed to them, becomes a legitimate object of, and gives free rein to slangwhanging and abuse. We had notable and numerous instances of this in the last campaign and in this riding. But detractors and libellers of this sort go to far sometimes and make their statements to a constituency where their character is less known, and thereby ensures a credence impossible at home. Now the London Times to employ the slang of the day, is "loaded up" by Canadian correspondents of this class. In its ponderous ignorance of Canadian conditions, and self-sufficiency, it seems to take the stories of Canadian mud-throwers for gospel truth, founds comments thereupon, and commits the offence of libel. Just before election day last October, the Times published a letter from a Canadian correspondent charging "graft" in the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway, and reflecting upon the honesty of the Commission. Other journals taking their cue from the Times have been discussing the alleged prevalence of "graft" in Canada. These journals do not know how charges of this kind have been overworked in Canada. With senseless iteration the tenth-rate political stumper and the flippant newspaper makes "graft" out of everything. Every officer of the local civil service is denounced as a "grafter," by men who do not know the meaning of honesty outside the definition of a dictionary, and even in this case, hardly possessed of the knowledge to understand it, when found. But there seems to be a limit to this disgraceful travesty of the discussion of public questions and public persons. The Transcontinental Railway Commissioners who have been libelled in England through the malicious inaccuracies sent out to English journals by Canadian mud-throwing correspondents have instructed Hon. Charles Russell, Dominion Government legal agent in Great Britain, to take measures to defend their honour against such attacks. The Times will be required to retract and apologise, and in default it will be asked to prove its charges under the provisions of the law of libel. The lesson will be taught that public men and public officials can be libeled as well as private individuals, but not with the impunity of tolerance. Fortunately in Canada, when public intelligence permits of a familiarity with the facts outraged, and the warrant for the calumny committed, less attention is paid to the mud-throwers. The character, the object, the malignity and the inane vapourings of the slanderers are appraised at their real importance and their attacks largely fall harmless. Witness how the campaign of scandal waged in Parliament for months, and in the late election was rebuked, the objects of the slander session and the slander campaign vindicated and the detractors defeated.

CIVIC SERVICE REFORM.

The Liberal Government of Canada, shows a disposition to view its civil service reform policy as something far beyond the academic. During the past year it has taken several important steps with a view of making reform proposals an actuality. They had a Civil Service Commisson appointed, upon whose report further investigation now being conducted by Judge Cassells, was founded and growing out of this the abolition of the "patronage list" in connection with the Marine and Fisheries Department, was announced, and, again, growing out of this, the announcement is made by Hon. William Pugsley, that in his department, that of Public Works, the "patronage list" will also be suspended, and replaced by a system of tender as far as practicable; and this will doubtless be followed by the abolition of this list in all the departments of administration. Supplementary to this and, as removing the occasion of evils that have been in existence since Confederation, the civil service reform bill passed last session, is important as promising improvement of the morale and efficiency of the service, by providing for appointment and promotion by merit. The work of the Government in this regard is no light one. The re-organization of a system entrenched in custom and interwoven with political considerations, will call for great patience and effort. One would think that the Conservative journals who have been demanding reform of alleged abuses for which their own party is responsible and in respect of which their own party has been culpable, would co-operate with the Government and make its task easy. But instead of that captious criticism and the suggestion of wrong-doing, purely imaginary, are the measure of the assistance given. In yesterday's issue it was pointed out if these Conservative journals were honest in their demand of reform, they would, instead of confining their energies to criticism and obstruction of the Liberal Government at Ottawa, unite in a loud demand for like reform upon the Government of Ontario, in some of whose departments the patronage list adds its opportunities for the wrong-doing, condemned so loudly in their political opponents, to the vicious spoils system so prominent a feature of the Whitney Government's civil service, and other, administration. In this connection the Globe says:—

"The 'patronage list' is not peculiar to the Dominion, nor to the Liberal regime there. It has been the rule from time immemorial for all party governments to buy from their friends, and this is what the 'patronage list' means. The Whitney Government has been doing this during its whole term Mr. Hanna spends large sums in buying for the 'public institutions;' Mr. Beaume makes large outlays for the public works; Mr. Cochrane does the same thing for the Crown Lands. If Conservative journals like the News, and the Mail and Empire (and Review) desire to bring about a real and valuable reform they should give the Whitney Government no rest until it abolishes the 'patronage lists' in all its departments."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Last summer we were without water and if this weather continues, we shall be without ice next summer.

It looks like the opening of a municipal campaign. Cressman's full page advertisement in to-day's Examiner is headed by the slogan, "Rush! Rush! Rush!"

The ocean cables groan under the momentous message that Emperor William of Germany has caught a cold. Evidently Willie has broken his resolution to keep his mouth shut.

Howard Mortimer Clark has been swindling our English cousins, on the strength of a claim that he was a Canadian. Evidently the Old Country people don't believe the Conservative contention that Canada is a land of "graft," or they would be better on their guard.

The London Globe says the welcome given to the Sikhs of India, by Canada is a great strain on Imperialism. Much emphasis is placed upon the absence of calling the Hindoos "niggers." It must not be forgotten that Great Britain didn't set a very good example in the treatment meted out to these same "niggers" during the administration of Warren Hastings.

The shoemaker should stick to his last, the soldier to his steel. Lord Roberts is a great fighter, but as a politician he has put his foot in the porridge, very early in his career as a member of the House of Lords. He wouldn't, as a General, enter into an action without covering his retreat. As a politician he has entered a matter that may get him and the nation into some diplomatic trouble. It is to be hoped that he was merely talking shop when he raised a new invasion scare. The Duke of Wellington was "a world beater' as a warrior, but as a Prime Minister his laurels are scant. Ne sutor ultra crepidam.

REGULAR SESSION OF DOURO COUNCIL

Much Business Transacted—Orders on the Treasurer—Number of By-laws Passed.

ROADS TO BE LOOKED AFTER

The Douro Council met on Friday November 20th, at a call from the Reeve, the members all being present. On motion the minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

Moved by P. Farley, seconded by B. Leahy, that Percy Darling be authorized to spend $10.00 on side road between lots 24 and 25 in con. 4, provided he spend $5.00; and that the treasurer be authorized to pay said amount on the order of W. J. Charlton—Carried.

Moved in amendment by Councillor Walsh that no grant be made to said road.—Lost

Ayes—The Reeve, Councillors Leahy, Farley and Charlton.

Nays—Councillors Walsh.

Moved by Councillors Walsh and Farley, that the Reeve and Councillors Farley and Charlton be appointed a committee to examine the bridge over Sawyer's creek, between 6th and 7th cons., and if found dangerous to have it repaired; also that the Reeve make application at the present session of the County Council to have the said bridge taken over by the county.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors Walsh and Leahy, that the line of road between con. 11 and 12, in front of lot 4, leading to the canal, be closed until such time as the municipality will require it for public travel; and that the present owner of the property have power to close the same.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors Crowe, Farley and Charlton, that Councillor Leahy be appointed to consult with ratepayers on the side road running through lot 1 in con. 12, with regard to erecting wire fence; and that this council pay one-half cost of wire for said fence.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors Farley and Leahy, that the treasurer be authorized to pay any balance of ward grants now in his hands on the order of the councillors in the different wards; and to Michael Casey one half cost of culvert on boundary between Douro and Otonabee, on order of the Reeve.—Carried.

The orders on treasurer were:—
Patrick Healey, $5.50, for digging ditch on first con.; in front of lot 4; Thos. Miller $1.00, for repairing culvert; Wm. Hayes $1.80, for repairing approach to bridge; John O'Grady $3.50, for gravel; Henry Hamilton $2.25, for repairing culvert; Maurice Hynes $1.00, for repairing culvert; Robert Tedford $1.25, for repairing bridge, between Douro and Dummer; W. H. Moore $1.95, for searches and recording deed re road from Jeremiah Allen; E. A. Peck $35.00, re Leahy suit; G. W. Green $8.00, for water tank; Michael Mahoney $22.80, for tile; James Y. Leahy $4.50, for building culvert; M. D. Sullivan $40,00, being part of salary as collector for 1903; and Sawyer & Massey Company $80.00, being amount of note due 1st December on grader, and $7.50 additional for shell and bottom ring for moulds.

By-laws No. 689 and 690, fixing the time and place for the nomination of candidates for the office of Reeve and councillors for the year 1909, and also for fixing the places in each of the different polling sub-divisions for holding elections and to appoint deputy-returning officers for each, received their several readings and were passed.

Polling sub-division No. 4, at Frank Hynes' house, S. Brown, D.R.O.

The following accounts were also ordered to be paid:—

The Reeve	$40 00
Councillor Leahy	40 00
Councillor Farley	40.00
Councillor Charlton	40 00
Councillor Walsh	40 00
Clerk, balance of salary	50.00
Michael Mahoney, caretaker of Town Hall	9.00

On motion the council adjourned to meet on Dec. 15th, at 10 o'clock, a.m.

DOWNEYVILLE MAN DIES IN TORONTO

Mr. Dennis Lehane Has Passed Away—Other Items of News.

Examiner Special.

Downeyville, Nov. 25 — The weather for several weeks past has been most favourable, and the old residents of this place say they have never experienced such a fine fall.

Mr. John Rudden has for the past few days been visiting his uncle Rev. F. McGuire. Mr. Rudden is always a welcome guest at the Presbytery.

Mrs. Paul, who was visiting here, and her sister Mrs. H. Matthews, left on Saturday to visit some friends in Campbellford.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wynn left this place on Monday for Vancouver, B.C., to see after the estate of the former's brother, W. J. Wynn, who died in Vancouver a few weeks ago.

The death occurred in Toronto on Wednesday, November 18, at 1.30 a.m., of Mr. Dennis Lehane, at his residence, 330 Wellington street, W., He has been cashier of the Canadian Railway News Company for thirty years. Mr. Lehane was sixty-four years of age, and was born and raised to manhood at Downeyville.

The funeral took place on Friday morning at St. Patrick's Church, and thence to Mount Hope Catholic Cemetery. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, two sons and three daughters—all of Toronto.

Mr. Lehane's death is doubly sad owing to the fact that seventeen weeks ago, when he was stricken with paralysis, his daughter Nina was visiting in Muskoka, and was hastily summoned to her father's bedside; while waiting at the wharf a large stick of timber fell from the boat and struck her on the head; she died shortly afterwards.

ROBERT DI BARNARDO

TOMLINSON CONVICTED.

Port Arthur Poll Clerk Is Found Guilty of Corruption.

Port Arthur, Nov. 26.—Tomlinson, accused of impersonation in the federal election, was found guilty yesterday afternoon, and a second jury is hearing the evidence against Bishop, who is charged with the same offence.

Counsel Cole pleaded that the prisoner had no intention of acting corruptly, believing it legitimate to vote as proxies for absentees.

The evidence showed that J. Hubert and Harry Hogarth, poll clerk, were active in assembling a party of a dozen to take to the Dexter poll, where they recorded improper votes with the knowledge of Hogarth and the deputy returning officer, Robert Lethen.

While the jury were considering the verdict in the Bishop case, the third prisoner, Arnott, pleaded guilty.

The jury found Bishop not guilty.

To-day the charges against H. Hogarth, J. W. Armstrong, J. Hubert and H. Lethen are being proceeded with, and the charges of conspiracy against the latter three.

Helie and Boni Again.

Paris, Nov. 26.—The first day's proceedings in the suit of Count Boni de Castellane against his former wife, who was Miss Anna Gould of New York, and who is now the wife of Prince Helie de Sagan, for the custody of his three children, were characterized by a strong denunciation of the prince and princess by M. Bonnet, who represented Count de Castellane.

Prince Helie and the count glared at each other for four hours, while M. Bonnet pleaded that the custody of the children must be confided to their grandmother, the Marquise de Castellane, because the marriage of Mme. Gould to the prince had polluted the atmosphere of their home.

In addition to securing the custody of the children, Count Boni seeks to obtain $60,000 a year for their maintenance.

$1,000 For Breach of Promise.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Judge Rochen gave judgment in Hull Superior Court yesterday morning in regard to the breach of promise case of Albina Desaultelles of Montreal v. Dr. Henry Caxter of Nominque, the judge awarding the lady $850, less the $150 the doctor had already handed over. The judge seemed to think the judgment was very merciful.

Love Story Like Fiction.

New York, Nov. 26.—Pleased at his son's pluck in defying parental authority to the extent of wedding the girl he loved whether or no, Capt. John Fleming, a wealthy contractor and prominent Tammany Hall man, after his first anger had cooled, summoned the couple to him yesterday and placed a check for $50,000 in his son's hands.

King For Leader.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Le Soleil of Quebec publishes a despatch saying that a boom is on to make W. L. M. King leader of the Liberal party on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's retirement a few years hence.

Le Soliel also says that some western papers state that Sir Wilfrid has himself designated Mr. King as his successor.

Fireman's Desperate Chance.

New York, Nov. 26.—Lowering himself over the cornice of a five-storey tenement house, and dangling 70 feet above the sidewalk, Frank Sample, a fireman, early yesterday by desperate efforts prevented David Lynch, his wife and five children from leaping from the window to escape the flames that were creeping up behind them.

Huge Coal Plant Projected.

Fort William, Nov. 26.—There is every indication that the C.P.R. is completing negotiations for the erection in Fort William of the largest coal-handling plant in the world. The proposed coal plant will have an approximate storage capacity of one million tons per season.

Actress Sentenced to Prison.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Madame St. Andre, the former actress of the Theatre Nouveautes, who was accused of attempted murder of Leon Ducheane, a saloonkeeper, with whom she was said to be in love, was sentenced yesterday morning to three months for poisoning his horse.

Agent In France.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—J. L. Cyr, ex-M.P. for Provencher, Man., has been appointed an immigration agent for Canada in France.

Pontypool Wreck Enquiry.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Inspector Clarke of the Railway Commission has gone to investigate the C.P.R. wreck near Pontypool.

Mother Gave Her Child Away.

Had Given up all Hope of Living. Heart Trouble was Cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. Andrew Savoy, Gratton's, N.B., writes:—"In the year 1905 I was taken sick and did not think I could live any length of time. My trouble was with my heart and people told me that nothing could be done for a case like mine. I consulted the very best doctors but they could do me no good. For seven weeks I could hardly cross the floor. I had no pain, but was so weak nobody in the world can believe how I felt. I had given up all hopes of living and had given my little girl to my sister-in-law.

"One day a friend came to see me, and calling me by name, said, 'Lizzie, if I were you I would try a dose of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as they are good for heart trouble.' My husband got me a box, but for two days I was not feeling any better, but on the fourth day my husband said, 'I believe those pills are doing you good.' I was able to say, 'Yes, I feel a good deal better this morning.' He said, 'Well, I will get you another box right away.' I took two boxes and three doses out of the third one, and I was perfectly well and have not been sick since then.

"I will never be without them in my home for God knows if it had not been for Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I would not have been alive now."

Price 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

COLD BROUGHT ON KIDNEY DISEASE

Brantford Lady Suffered Till Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. A. H. Thomson Had Heart Disease, Lumbago and Rheumatism, and Tells How She Was Restored to Health.

Brantford Ont., Nov. 25.—Special.—How colds, la grippe and other minor ills settle on the kidneys and develop rheumatism, heart disease, Bright's disease and other terribly dangerous ailments; and how any and all of them are cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills is fully shown in the case of Mrs. A. H. Thomson, whose home is at 48 Albion street, this city.

Mrs. Thomson was, some years ago, taken with cold and la grippe and straining, which affected her kidneys, and the result was backache, lumbago, rheumatism, and heart disease, which caused both her and her friends grave anxiety.

She had suffered some years when she heard of cures effected by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and bought a box, which she used with such splendid results that she continued to take them till she was cured. Since then she has used Dodd's Kidney Pills in her own family and recommended them widely to her friends, all of whom have warm words of praise for the Standard Canadian kidney remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Heart disease, rheumatism, lumbago and Bright's disease are all kidney diseases or are caused by diseased kidneys. You can't have any of them if you keep yo kidneys sound and your blood pure. Dodd's Kidney Pills make the kidneys sound. Sound kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood.

OPIUM IN PRISON.

Kingston, Nov. 26.—As a result of the finding of a quantity of opium, tobacco, money and two watches in his store room, the officer of instruction at the penitentiary is under suspension. The watches are said to have been bought at Eaton's, Toronto.

The official says he has no knowledge as to how the goods came to be in his department, and his story certainly shows him to be innocent of any wrong-doing.

Quite a sensation was caused when the prison authorities found that the tobacco and opium were being used by prisoners, and upon being closely questioned it appears that one of the prisoners let the cat out of the bag and told where the opium was stored.

A couple of prisoners receiving instructions from the official accused were found to be using dope and one is now in the hospital.

Inspector Dawson will likely be called to investigate.

GIRL ARRESTED.

Mary Raymond May Explain Mystery of Infant In Parcel.

Pembroke, Nov. 26.—The arrest of Mary Theresa Raymond by Provincial Inspector John Miller, on a charge of concealing the birth of a child, threw the first light on the mystery of Oct. 13, when a strange girl gave a parcel containing a dead body to Agent Hiram Griffiths of the Canadian Express Co. at Pembroke, to be sent to Ottawa.

The parcel contained a two-dollar bill to pay for burial and was addressed to an institution there. When the contents were discovered an inquest was held, and it was declared the child had lived.

Detective Miller came here to investigate the fire and soon found a clew in the infant mystery. The girl appeared before Magistrate Mitchell, and was remanded for a week and hailed out by two prominent merchants. She is not believed to be the mother, but startling developments may follow.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Ward Boyse, a farmer in Smith Township, Peterboro, has lost his barns and crops by fire.

At Washington, D.C., with military pomp and splendor, an heroic statue of Gen. Philip Henry Sheridan was unveiled yesterday.

Vincento Lucello, who wounded a fellow-Italian in a fracas among workmen at Chaudiere Falls, got three years in a Hull court.

Howard Mortimer Clark was sentenced at London, England, to 21 months for obtaining money from Lord Howick and others on the pretence that he was a prominent Canadian.

Failing to induce his wife to enter into a suicide pact with him, Max Goldstein, a New York tailor, murdered his wife, cutting her throat and then killed himself. He was 65 and she 45.

Agreed Not to Marry.

Windsor, Nov. 26.—Harry Bradly, local jeweler, was defendant in a suit yesterday brought by his sister, who claims compensation for about 12 years' household work, amounting to $3,000.

She claims she gave up her occupation as dressmaker in Toronto, under an agreement with her brother, who was then a widower, that he should not marry. Defendant was to be responsible for his sister's maintenance. Some months ago Mr. Bradly married again, hence the present action. Decision was reserved.

Whirled Around Shaft.

Quebec, Nov. 26.—Bernadette Belleau, aged 12, met with a violent death in Rochette's box factory at Ancienne Lorette on Tuesday. Her clothes caught in the belting and she was whirled around the machinery. Both her legs and one arm were broken, while her body was frightfully mangled.

CATTLE MARKETS.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—London cables for cattle are steady, at 11¼c to 12¾c per pound, dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 9¾c to 10¼c per pound.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The Dominion Government put an order in force to-day which absolutely prohibits all United States cattle from entering Canada. The general impression among leading live stock exporters here is that this embargo will force American exporters to come into our markets for supplies, as they have all the ocean freight space engaged from Portland for the winter and the bulk of it from Boston. If this turns out so, prices for cattle will no doubt advance sharply thruout all the markets in Canada, including the Canadian Northwest.

At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market this morning the offerings were 1500 cattle, 35 milch cows, 1200 sheep and lambs, 200 calves and 1000 hogs. There were no really prime heavies on the market, and 4c per pound was about the top price paid, and from that down to 3c per pound for pretty good animals. The common stock are still a drug on the market, and sell at from 1¾c to 2¾c per pound, while the lean canners sell at about 1¼c per pound. Milch cows sold at from $30 to $65 each. Grass-fed calves sold at 2¾c to near 4c per pound; good veals bring about 5c per pound; sheep sold at 3¼c to 3½c, and the lambs at 4¾c to near 5c per pound. The demand for hogs was fairly good and prices ruled steady, with sales of selected lots at $6.40 to $6.60 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Beeves—Receipts, 713; steers strong; good to choice, 15c to 25c higher; bulls steady to strong; thin cows steady; others 10c to 25c higher; all sold; steers, $4.25 to $7; oxen, $2.25 to $4.60; culls, $3 to $4.05; cows, $1.25 to $4; dressed beef slow, but steady.

Calves—Receipts, 607; veals 25c higher; barnyard calves steady; westerns sold higher; westerns selling more freely; about all sold; veals, $8.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Cattle—Receipts, 25,000; 25c to 35c lower; steers, $4.60 to $7.75; cows, $3 to $5.35; heifers, $2.50 to $4.60; bulls, $3.75 to $4.50; calves, $2 to $7.50; stockers and feeders, $2.50 to $4.35.

Hogs—Receipts, 20,000; market 15c to 25c lower; choice heavy shipping, $5.35 to $5.95; butchers', $5.75 to $5.90; light mixed, $5.30 to $5.45; packing, $5.50 to $5.80; pigs, $4 to $4.75; bulk of sales, $5.40 to $5.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 19,000; market steady to strong; sheep, $4.25 to $5.

England Slaughters Cattle.

London, Nov. 26.—The Board of Agriculture has ordered the slaughter without delay of the cattle on board the four steamers that have arrived in England since the board issued its orders prohibiting the importation of cattle from New York and Pennsylvania on account of the foot and mouth disease in these states.

The animals that came in by these vessels were found to be free of the disease, but no chances are being taken.

Quarantine Against Shippers.

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 26.—The East Buffalo stockyards will be re-opened Monday for the reception of live stock for local consumption. Cattle and sheep for slaughter only will be received. No "shippers" or "feeders" will be allowed to come into the yards. It was also stipulated that the live stock must come in disinfected cars and must be unloaded in disinfected pens.

Nearly Dies as Sister Did.

Hamilton, Nov. 26.—Violet Norton, a sister of the little girl run over by a Hamilton and Dundas car, put her foot into the place in the crossing where her sister was caught just to see how the sister got caught. Her own foot was caught, and she was released just in time to prevent her from meeting the same fate as the sister.

A Woman's Death.

Stratford, Nov. 26.—Mrs. James Pequenat was found drowned in shallow water in the river Tuesday morning. She suffered from nervous troubles. She was 54 years of age, and leaves a husband and five children.

Hughes and Local Option.

Albany, N.Y., Nov. 26.—Local option legislation will probably be the principal moral feature of Governor Hughes' legislative program this coming session.

Thank Dr. Reaume.

Gananoque, Nov. 26.—The town council has passed a resolution thanking Hon. Dr. Reaume for the steps taken by this Department to protect fish.

Freight Cars Derailed.

Dundalk, Nov. 26.—During a dense fog on Tuesday night, a freight train was derailed here. Nine cars left the rails and a stretch of ties were destroyed.

Work or Revolution.

London, Nov. 26.—Thousands of the unemployed of London, carrying a large banner bearing the words "Work or revolution, the Government must decide," marched through the fashionable districts of the city yesterday afternoon.

This is the first of a series of similar demonstrations, and speaking of the procession yesterday, one of the leaders said:

"We are going to let the west end know that the east end does not intend to starve."

Indian Stabbed.

Brantford, Nov. 26.—Isaac Mike, Six Nations Indian, is lying dangerously wounded as a result of a stabbing affray on Pearl street.

A clash occurred between a number of Pollacks returning from a wedding feast and some Indians attending a dance at Mrs. Donahue's house.

Mike was stabbed four times in the back. Five Pollacks have been arrested.

Pulp Mill For Thorold.

St. Catharines, Nov. 26.—The Colonial Wood Products Co. of Niagara Falls, N.Y., have purchased 20 acres of land at Thorold for a factory site, and will begin the erection of a pulp mill this week. The council will submit to the ratepayers in January a bylaw to grant the concern a fixed assessment of $2,500 for ten years and certain water and light privileges.

Couldn't Prove Rake-Off.

St. Catharines, Nov. 26.—Arthur J. Brown, King street barber, whose place was raided Sunday by Chief Parnell, appeared before Police Magistrate Campbell on a charge of keeping a common gaming house. The crown, however, could not prove that Brown had received a rake-off and the case was dismissed.

Rioters Lose Their Heads.

Pekin, Nov. 26.—The mutinous outbreak of troops at Nanking is at an end and order has been restored.

There has been numerous arrests and some decapitations as a result of the recent edict ordering the suppression of lawlessness and conspiracy.

Drowned In Well.

Chatham, Nov. 26.—The body of Mrs. Wm. Bell, Jr., Blenheim, was found in a well yesterday morning after she had been absent from the house, where she had left her baby with her husband for twenty minutes. She was drowned in one and a half feet of water.

Will Close Down Mills.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—The power users at the Chaudiere have come to the assistance of the city and will shut down when called upon. The situation to-day is not so serious as it has been, some rain having fallen and the river has risen a little.

Coulter In Antipodes.

Wellington, N.Z., Nov. 26.—(C.A.P.)—Dr. Coulter, who is endeavoring to arrange an improved mail service between Australia and Canada, arrived yesterday and received a cordial welcome from the Ministry.

Woodstock Council May Reverse.

Woodstock, Nov. 26.—Mayor Sawtell will call a special meeting of the city council this week to deal with the local option situation, and council may decide to submit the bylaw at the elections after all.

Not Confirmed.

London, Nov. 26.—There is no confirmation here of the reports circulated in America that King Manuel of Portugal has been attacked by a mob in the streets of Lisbon.

Smallpox at Lyn.

Brockville, Nov. 26.—Five cases of smallpox have been discovered at Lyn. They are being treated for chickenpox.

Used Benzine For Oil.

Brantford, Nov. 26.—At 4.30 yesterday morning George Halbert, a married man, residing on Dundas street, employed as fireman at the Pratt, Letchworth Iron Work, was terribly burned in an explosion while at work.

He attempted to refill a torch without extinguishing the light. It is supposed he poured benzine into it in mistake for oil.

Hospital Ship Safe.

Manila, Nov. 26.—Admiral Sperry yesterday received a telegram from the hospital ship Relief. The ship was badly damaged by a typhoon Nov. 18. Fire also broke out, but was promptly gotten under control.

THE CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES

Opening in Toronto To-day—Many Delegates Present Who Have Been in Touch With Lower Elements of Society.

ADDRESSES TO BE GIVEN

Examiner Special.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—The ninth annual Canadian Conference of Charities and Correction opened in the Hall of the Education Department here this morning. The delegates included many who are brought into actual touch with the lower elements of society, the amelioration of whom condition was the reason for the calling together of the conference. Police Magistrates, jailors and officers of Houses of Refuge and charitable institutions assembled in Education hall this morning to talk of their work with workers whose motives are purely philanthropic, prominent Canadian men and women who are devoting their time and money to the betterment of social conditions.

The opening address was delivered by Dr. R W Bruce Smith, the president of the conference. Mr. J W Leonard, superintendent of the State reformatory at Mansfield Ohio, delivered an interesting address on Prison Reform. Mr. Justice McMahon spoke on the Indeterminate Sentence.

The conference is to be continued to-morrow; Hon. Mr. Hanna, the Provincial Secretary, will deliver an address. Among the subjects to be discussed are prison reform, the jail system, care of the feeble minded, hospital financing, destitute children, causes of poverty and distribution of relief. One of the most important matters to be dealt with is the consideration of the care of consumptives which is to be introduced to-morrow by Mr. J F. Downey, M. P.P., of Guelph.

DOMINION STEEL CO. EXPECT TO WIN THE CASE

Much Discussion on the Montreal Stock Exchange Regarding the Outcome.

Examiner Special.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—There is a great deal of discussion around the Stock Exchange and in local brokers' offices regarding the outcome of the famous Steel-Coal case, which is now before the Privy Council. As usual the brokers are very free with betting talk, but there is very little actual money being put up. Most of the big bets are in stage money. The odds are three to one on the Steel Company, and even at that there are very few takers, except in small amounts. Mr. Mark Workman, who has large Steel holdings, is the only man who is offering three to one in big figures.

Reports from Sydney state that the officials of the Dominion Steel Company are very confident of the verdict being in their favour. It is expected that the decision of the Privy Council will be announced early next week.

Conservation Of Waters Is The Question Of The Hour— Extension Of Dams Demanded

Water Famine of This Year Offers Serious Problem—Peterborough in Better Shape Than Most Other Points Where Power Depends on Water Supply—Alarming Condition at Ottawa—Systematic Creation of Preserves Necessary—Our Northern Resources.

The drouth of the present season, unprecedented in the history of Canada, has brought our people face to face with a most serious problem. We hear a great deal about conservation of the forests, for which end, influential societies have been instituted, and even international action contemplated, to an extent, justified by Prof. Fernow's statement that the forest wealth of Canada has been considerably overrated. But no one, outside the agents of the government, seems to pay any attention to the equally important and urgent question of the conservation of the water resources of this province. In these days of almost universal use of electrical power for all manufacturing purposes, as well as for the illumination, public and private, of towns and cities, depending upon water power for its creation, the maintenance of the water power is of the very first importance to these private and public interests, and the experience of the present season should move the authorities to active measures for the conservation and economical administration of the resources upon which so large and varied interests are dependent.

Our Ottawa correspondent informs us that yesterday, on account of the alarming shortage of the water supply at the Chaudiere, which was but a few years ago thought to be inexhaustible, the Board of Control of that city deputed the Mayor and City Engineer to demand that the power users at the Chaudiere either close down entirely or greatly reduce their consumption. If they refuse to do so the Minister of Public Works will be appealed to. If a fire were to break out now there would not be sufficient pressure to fight it with.

The Ottawa Free Press, of November 23, under heading "Industrial Hum Has Been Stilled at the Chaudiere," said:

"Not a wheel is turning on the Ottawa side of the Chaudiere this morning. The low water in the river is not capable of producing a pressure of more than 60 pounds, when the normal should be over 90, and reports from the office of the city engineer indicate that if there is not a heavy rainfall immediately Ottawans will experience all the discomforts and inconveniences contingent to a water famine."

We, in Peterborough, thanks to the care of the government and the energy and vigilance of its local representatives, have passed through the unprecedented low water season without serious difficulty, but we have been given a good opportunity to appreciate a possibility, the realization of which would prove a disaster, not only to our industrial, but to all the inter-dependent interests, and particularly to the industrial population, who rely upon the uninterrupted operation of our forges, factories and mills, and for whom even a short stoppage would be a most serious matter indeed.

In the counties of Peterborough and Haliburton there are scores and scores of streams that are tributary to the Trent Canal, but the immense volume of water they supply is either carried uselessly away in the spring freshets or dissipated over a profitless area of escape.

It is of the very highest importance, indeed in view of the constantly enlarging demands for water power, that by the building of dams on the more important of these streams, reservoirs shall be created, where the water, now wasted, can be stored to maintain the resources of power supply during the low water season of the summer and fall,

By this means not only would the industries now existing along the Trent Canal, and particularly at Peterborough, be assured against the disaster of stoppage from failure of the water supply, but new power would be created to the north of us, which would bring in a sufficient revenue to the government to defray the outlay that would be involved.

Under its present policy the government is each year constructing a limited number of dams, having in view the furtherance of this object, and it is probably due to that fact that Peterborough has this year escaped in large measure the difficulty and danger to which Ottawa has been exposed, but at the present rate of progress it will take years to provide an adequate system of water conservation, which is a need, and an urgent need, of the present.

We hope to see the authorities at Ottawa taking up this most important matter in an earnest and liberal spirit, and that no time will be lost in taking practical steps to create a scientific and systematic system of conservation of the waters in the district to the north of us and harnessing them to the chariot of industrial progress and development.

Subscription To Send Back To England Deserving Family

A subscription has been started to raise a sufficient sum of money to send back to England a family that from every account are most deserving of the assistance of those citizens who can afford to help in this case. The family consists of father, mother and two children. Particularly pathetic circumstances surround the case. The father has been a faithful and hard worker since coming to this country, but it is learned that he has shown decided symptoms of tuberculous disease and it is felt that if he could return home, he might either shake off the trouble or at least fight it better in an atmosphere to which he has always been accustomed. The man is still working, his employer having treated him kindly and sympathetically. Mr. F W Miller, who is receiving the donations towards the cause, states that the family is a most deserving one. Those acquainted with the case are anxious to have the family sent home before winter. Among their friends there they would have a better chance of getting along than here in Canada.

The following donations have already been received:

Mrs. (Dr.) Geo. Burnham, $5.00.
Mr. Geo. Webber, $5.00.

It is believed that it will not be long before the necessary amount will be realised.

Chas. Beavis Gets Four Months For Vagrancy In Court To-day

Charles Beavis faced the magistrate this morning on a charge of vagrancy, and unfortunately Charles had been there on several other occasions on the same charge, and what was worse, both the magistrate and the police knew it. Beavis pleaded not guilty, but Chief Rossel stated that he had come to the police station looking for lodging, and that on Monday night the city had to procure a meal for him.

"There's a lot of wood up on the hill to be cut," the chief reminded the magistrate.

Four months in gaol was the sentence handed out.

Two other men, John Burns and Jas Smith, who were strangers to the police, pleaded not guilty to a charge of vagrancy and were remanded for eight days.

Charged With Stealing Clocks— Man Will Likely Be Deported

An unusual case was heard at the police court this morning, when Geo. Battley, who came to this country fifteen months ago from the Old Country, was charged with stealing four clocks, a tea pot, a vase and two hat pins from the W. A. Sanderson Company. Battley pleaded guilty to the charge.

Rev. Canon Davidson was present on his behalf and pointed out that the man had been affected by a long illness, and that it was not a usual case of theft, inasmuch as the articles were apparently not taken in the hope of gain and that no effort had been made to conceal the stolen goods.

Dr. Frederick testified that the defendant was the victim of a long standing disease, which in the last stages manifested itself in various hallucinations which gave the victim ideas of grandeur. In his opinion he was not morally responsible for his conduct.

The magistrate considered that he was a proper subject for deportation and that the best thing to do was to send him to gaol in the meantime, while his case was being considered by the department. Accordingly the unfortunate man will spend three months in gaol.

CURIOSITY.

Leads to Investigation and Truth.

What shall we do to be saved? was the title of one of Robt. Ingersoll's lectures. People of faith and people of no faith flocked to hear it. Thousands are asking, "What shall I do to get rid of dandruff?" The answer is, "Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and finally baldness, and the only thing that will do it is Newbro's Herpicide. That is the very latest discovery of the laboratory, and it is the only preparation that claims to, or that will, kill the pestiferous dandruff germ. It is also a delightful hair-dressing, free from oil or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. McDermid & Jury, and Payne Drug Stores, Special Agents.

THE C.N.R. AND ITS ENGINEERS

PROMOTION PROSPECTS

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—The Labour Department to-day announced that though the finding in the case of the Canadian Northern Railway and its locomotive engineers had been announced, the effect of the findings has not so far been given to the public.

The dispute arose over the question of an increased rate of wages and a uniform set of working articles for engineers on the Ontario, the Quebec and the Quebec & Lake St. John Divisions of the Canadian Northern Railway.

With regard to the working articles, the Board, after carefully considering the arguments presented by the parties, recommended the adoption of two schedules which were appended to the report.

With regard to wages, the report states that the officials of the companies submitted to the Board that the engineers on the Q. & L. St. J. and the C.N.Q. were granted an increase in September, 1907, the former receiving a slightly higher rate of the two, that the C.N.O. engineers were paid the same rate as the C.N.Q. engineers, and that they were paying all they could reasonably afford under the earning circumstances of each line. The Board found that the wages paid engineers "were not a fair compensation for the risk and responsibility assumed and skill required by the men." The report states further that "Your Board also feels that while the rates demanded in the application are paid for engineers' services on other lines it would, having regard to the earnings, business done, and other circumstances relied on by the Company, be quite unreasonable to grant the demand in its entirety, and also that the engineers should take into consideration the prospects and opportunities on these newer lines for promotion."

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Paris is Full of Them and Nearly All Use Parisian Sage

In the beauty show at the metropolis two years ago gold medals were awarded to five different women.

To the most beautiful woman between 20 and 25; between 25 and 30; between 30 and 35; between 35 and 40 and between 40 and 45.

A society reporter who interviewed all five women in the interest of his papers, reported that all of them had beautiful hair, and that each of the five enthusiastically attributed her luxuriant hair to Parisian Sage. Wm. Madill, corner of George and Hunter streets, sells Parisian Sage for 50 cents a bottle. He guarantees it to cure dandruff in two weeks; to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. It makes any woman's hair beautiful, soft and luxuriant.

The latter on this occasion will consist of an oyster supper. The ladies have kindly consented to assist in the affair.

BOGUS FIVE CENT PIECES IN CIRCULATION

Warning Given Out by the Ontario Government.

Examiner Special

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Reports have been received by the Provincial Government that there are a large number of counterfeit nickel sin circulation in various parts of the province. These coins are said to be very good imitations and they are very hard to detect. They have been passed in a number of the smaller towns and their wide circulation leads to th belief that the counterfeiters' operations have been very extensive and have been going on for some time. The manufacturers of this fraudulent coin seemed to have confined their work to nickels, as no reports have been received of the discovery of bogus coins of any other denomination.

LINDSAY MUD AND THE LINDSAY PRESS COMMENT

It's "The Daily Wally Warder" Now— Free Press Wants Mud Question Kept Quiet.

The Free Press says: — Lindsay has only a few minor drawbacks as a town when measured by other places of even larger size. One of these minor drawbacks is the alleged mud that is supposed to be prevalent here. Lindsay has improved wonderfully in this respect, and to-day is, if anything, a little better off than Peterborough and a number of other towns and cities. The Warder, however, though deriving its support from Lindsay, has taken occasion to advertise extravagantly the presence of mud here, and, of course, the papers of neighbouring jealous towns are taking advantage of the mud fouling of its own nest by the paper that christened itself in its second daily issue. "The Daily Wally Warder." As the Daily Wally Warder truly says in its mud article, "the melancholy days have come." Surely they have, when a local paper gives outside envious ones opportunity to defame this town. Stratford may be a wonderful town, but Lindsay ought to be good enough for men who are asking support from this place. They may have no mud, perhaps, in saintly Stratford, but they appear to export mud-slingers.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM Y.M.C.A.

What is Being Accomplished by the Boys' Clubs There—The Coming of Mr. R. A. Waite.

TORONTO CENTRALS COMING

The second regular meeting of the Older Boys' Club of the Y.M.C.A., will be held to-morrow night in the school room.

All boys, 15 years and over, who are members of the Association, are invited to be present.

Mr. R. A. Waite, of New York, will address the boys.

The organization will be completed, and committees chosen.

This club was formed a short time ago, and its purpose is to help the older boys get together in a club, and promote clean athletics, Bible study, sociability, and literary work.

It will pay any boy to join this club, as it gives him an opportunity to develop along those four lines named.

From time to time men will be secured, who will give talks on athletics, hints on training, how to run special distances, and answer questions regarding athletics, that boys who are interested in this line should know.

The Bible study gives a boy an opportunity to become familiar with the Bible, and will not only help him through life, but will make his education more complete.

A great drawback to a great number of boys is their inability to be sociable. To help boys along this line is a very important part of the work. By meeting and talking with other boys, a boy will develop this important side of his life in a short time.

The evenings devoted to literary work will be a splendid opportunity for a boy to develop the art of speaking to large numbers, and to think while on his feet. This is a thing that is very much neglected by a large number of boys, who afterwards find they have missed a great opportunity.

Debates and "stump" speeches will give all the boys an opportunity to become efficient public speakers.

The club wishes it understood that all older boys of the senior and boys' departments are cordially welcome to be present on Friday night at eight o'clock in the Senior Club room.

Junior Y. M. C. A. Notes

The Membership Committee of the Boys' Department, will meet to-night in the Boys' Parlours at seven o'clock sharp. Every member is requested to be on time. Much important business will be transacted.

The regular weekly athletic events for junior school and Collegiate boys will be held on Saturday morning.

Last Saturday 13 Collegiate Institute boys and 19 junior school boys engaged in a half hour Bible study. The junior school boys Bible classes meet at 9 a.m., and the Collegiate boys at 10 a.m. All boys are invited to attend these classes in the boys' parlours.

On Friday night at 8.15 o'clock, Mr R. A. Waite, Jr., of New York, desires to meet the Boys' Cabinet and the Older Boys. All older boys who are interested in the work in the boys' department are invited to attend.

Every boy 15 years or over, should take the opportunity offered by the Older Boys' Club, which meets on Friday night at eight o'clock, to develop himself along the lines offered by this club.

Boys are advised not to forget the big basketball game on Saturday night between the local Y.M.C.A. and the crack team from Toronto Central.

CITIZENS INVITED TO THE FORMAL OPENING

New Collegiate Institute Opening Ceremony on Friday Afternoon.

To the Citizens of Peterborough.

Ladies and Gentlemen.—The formal opening of the new Collegiate Institute by the Hon. R. A. Pyne, M.D., Minister of Education, is to take place on Friday afternoon, the 27th instant, at three o'clock. There will be addresses by the Minister of Education, the Mayor, members of Parliament, and others.

The citizens generally, are invited to this function. This will be the first opportunity that you will have of inspecting our new building, which is considered one of the finest Institute buildings in the province.

For the convenience of those who cannot attend in the afternoon the building will be open in the evening. An orchestra will also be in attendance. Let everyone who can possibly attend, either in the afternoon or in the evening, do so.

I have the honour to be

Your obedient servant,

ROBERT FAIR,

Chairman Board of Education.

THE ANNUAL HARVEST DINNER OF ST. LUKE'S

The annual harvest dinner under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of St. Luke's church will be held to-night in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, tea beginning at 5.30 o'clock.

Besides a sumptuous repast an excellent programme has been prepared. The speakers will be Rev. Canon Davidson, Rev. H. R. Trumpour, Rev. H. J. Keith, Rev. J. R. Webb, and the rector.

THE CAMERA CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Splendid Paper Read by the Secretary— Increase in Membership.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Peterborough Camera Club was held last evening at the club's headquarters—the Tate-Taylor Optical Company's parlours. It was attended by a large number of the members, and was both interesting and instructive. The constitution and by-laws were discussed clause by clause and adopted.

An invitation was received by the club from the Y. W. C. A. committee in charge of the coming amateur exhibit of all kinds, to participate as a club and the invitation was accepted, and a committee appointed to make arrangements, and all the members are requested to send their prints mounted to the secretary at 191 King street, or bring them with them to the next meeting, which will be held on Dec. 8th. The committee are trying to arrange for some prizes to members of the club who participate.

The question drawer was an interesting feature of the evening and brought forward a good deal of information for those present.

A paper by the secretary on "The Ideal Dark Room," was heartily received, and was a well written number of the programme. Many of the "don'ts" were a surprise to some of the members, and helped to clear away some of their difficulties. The writer had to answer a good many questions. The paper was illustrated by a number of sketches, showing how an amateur model dark room could be arranged so as to have "A place for everything and everything in its place."

At the next meeting Mrs. Allan McCarthy will read a paper contributed by a friend of the club on "The Making of a Negative."

Anyone wishing to join the club may do so by calling on the secretary, 191 King street, any evening, or by coming to the meeting on Dec. 8th. The membership is over the fifty mark and its success is now assured.

CAMPBELLFORD CHEESE BOARD

At the Cheese Board on Tuesday, in Campbellford, 424 boxes were offered for sale by seven factories. The buyers present were Messrs. Whitton, Morton, Gillespie, Dillworth, Bird and Free.

Before the sale of the cheese was proceeded with Mr. Anderson brought up the matter of the payment for the cheese being made at the time of delivery. As in former years salesmen were allowed to make their own terms with the buyers and generally it was a week after the cheese was shipped before they would be paid for it. Buyers then took advantage of this and speculated with the cheese, the result being that one of the buyers had almost been unable to meet obligations. Mr. Anderson opposed the rule of the Board and advised that it be amended.

The cheese was then sold the highbid being 11 7-8c. by Whitton, who selected 270 boxes. Gillespie getting the balance at 11 3-4c. The Board adjourned until the first Tuesday in May, 1909.

Rose L. Fritz, who has won the typewriting championship of the world in eleven successive contests, is a graduate of the Kennedy School of shorthand and business, Toronto. Fred Jarrett, the champion of Canada, is also a graduate of this school. Anyone interested in commercial education would do well to get a catalogue of the school.

Editor Post Card Column.

Dear Sir,—I notice in your paper an article regarding a recent death from typhoid fever on Smith street. During the past summer there have been twelve or fourteen cases of this disease within a block, and as far as I can find out, our health authorities have not interested themselves in the slightest regarding the prevention of the fever, or investigated the source from which the trouble arises—for there must be a cause. If our present Board of Health is defunct a new one should be appointed. In this neighbourhood, too, there is a long stretch of sewer laid, for which the citizens have to pay a heavy tax, but which is of no benefit to them from the fact that the water works are not at hand. A little investigation by our civic authorities might not be amiss. The health of our citizens, and the reputation of our city as a healthy place to reside in, are of prime importance.

Sanitary.

DISASTROUS BURNING OF A STEAMER

Hundred Lives Are Lost in Disaster at Valetta, Malta.

CROWDS WATCH FROM SHORE

In Full View of City, British Steamer Sardinia Carrying Englishmen and 200 Arab Pilgrims to Alexandria Is Destroyed by Flames—Captain Dies Trying to Take Ship Ashore—Panic Among Arabs.

Valetta, Malta, Nov. 26.—A terrible disaster, in which more than a hundred persons lost their lives, occurred at the entrance to this port yesterday morning within sight of the whole population of the city, who were powerless to give aid.

The British steamer Sardinia, of the Ellerman line, sailing from this port and bound for Alexandria with a crew of 44 Englishmen, 11 first and six second-class English passengers, and nearly 200 Arab pilgrims aboard, caught fire and within a few minutes was a roaring furnace surrounded by clouds of black smoke, through which flames burst upward to a height of 200 feet from frequent explosions in the hold.

So rapidly did the fire spread that the frantic efforts of the crew to operate the fire apparatus proved useless, for it seemed but a moment before the upper works and masts crashed down upon the deck, while the ship's boats were crushed by the falling debris or set on fire and quickly burned.

Safety lay only in the sea, for no one could save himself except by jumping overboard and taking chances of being picked up. Assistance was hurried to the burning vessel from all the warships in the harbor and from the shore, but the work of rescue was greatly impeded by the strong tide that was running. Even the naval launches, which came as fast as they could be driven, were unable to go alongside.

Among the Arabs there was a panic that could not be controlled. Many of them were too terrified to jump and they were burned to death. Others cast themselves into the waves and were drowned.

The crew behaved with admirable courage, serving out life-preservers to the last, and working the pumps.

When the pumps became useless Captain Charles Littler, commander of the Sardinia, took the helm and directed his ship towards the shore as long as it could be navigated. He perished at his post. First Officer Frank Watson, all the engineers, Seagreaves, Bishop and Neil, 18 of the ship's company and two first-class passengers, one of them a boy named Grant, are missing. Fifty or more bodies have been recovered and seventy persons were rescued.

After the vessel refused to obey her helm, she drifted around three times and finally was beached broadside on the rocks at the mouth of the harbor. She was still burning yesterday afternoon and will be a total loss.

The cause of the fire is not known, but denial is made that there were explosives aboard. Unquestionably, however, explosions occurred, and it was first believed that the rapid spread of the flames was due largely to the flowing naphtha.

Dies by Gas.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Arthur H. Butcher yesterday determined to die. He piled five mattresses on a table at the back of his second-hand furniture store at 126 East Queen street. The man then fixed a rubber tube over a gas jet, and, placing the other end in his mouth, turned on the gas. He was found in this position by his wife at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. He was then dead.

He had been despondent, being unwell and sleeping little. He suffered much pain and was awake all Tuesday night. His wife, too, has been sick. He was 43 years of age.

Ship Sinks.

Detroit, Nov. 26.—The steel steamer North Star of the Mutual Transit line of Buffalo, was sunk early yesterday in Lake Huron, by a collision with a sister ship, the Northern Queen.

The steamers collided in a dense fog, while off Port Sanilac. The North Star sank so quickly that her crew had barely time to escape to the Northern Queen, which also suffered considerable damage, but was able to proceed back to Port Huron. Both boats were built at Cleveland in 1889 and are 295 feet long.

Only a Common Cold,

BUT IT BECOMES A SERIOUS MATTER IF NEGLECTED.

Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh or Consumption is the result. Get rid of it at once by taking Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Obstinate coughs yield to its grateful soothing action, and in the racking, persistent cough, often present in Consumptive cases, it gives prompt and sure relief. In Asthma and Bronchitis it is a successful remedy, rendering breathing easy and natural, enabling the sufferer to enjoy refreshing sleep and often affecting a permanent cure.

Mrs. Henry Smallpiece, Brudenell, Ont., writes:—"I was always subject to a cough and could get nothing to relieve me until I saw an advertisement of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and thought I would try a bottle, and when I had taken a few doses I found I was getting relief, and when I had finished it I was cured. I procured a bottle for my baby, who had a cough, and a few doses cured him. I would advise anyone having a cough, to give Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a trial and I am sure they will never be without it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup 25 cts. per bottle at all dealers. Put up in yellow wrapper, and three pine trees the trade mark. Refuse substitutes. There is only one Norway Pine Syrup and that one is "Dr. Wood's."

FACTORY STRIKERS ARE FIRED ON

TWO WOUNDED ARE DYING

Six Men Fall When Deputies Fire Volley Into Ranks of 700 Employes of Roofing Factory — Men Say They Were Promised More Pay If Taft Was Elected — Troops Called Out—Trouble Feared.

Perth Amboy, N.J., Nov. 26.—Following a pitched battle between 700 strikers and 12 deputy sheriffs yesterday at the factory of the National Fireproofing Co. at Keasby, near here, in which six of the strikers were shot down, Governor Fort, in response to a call for troops, despatch four companies of the State National Guard at Trenton to the scene and last night the streets are patrolled by 250 soldiers.

Upon seeing their comrades fall the workmen turned and fled, leaving the wounded lying on the ground. Chief Burke had the injured men removed to the hospital here.

There was only a temporary lull in the rioting. The strikers soon returned to the factory. They kept at a distance angered by the shooting down of their comrades. At 1.15 o'clock in the afternoon Prosecutor Birdeen of Middlesex County telegraphed a request to Governor Fort for troops.

A feeling of intense excitement prevails, as the strikers declare the deputy sheriffs were not justified in firing upon them. Two of the wounded men are dying in the hospital here and four other wounded men are painfully hurt.

Although Keasby was quiet last night the citizens are still afraid of trouble to-night, when the strikers threaten to renew the attack on the plant of the National Fireproofing Co.

The strikers, nearly all of whom are foreigners, say that they were given to understand before election that if Taft were elected their pay would be restored to $1.50 a day.

The officials of the factories say that no such promise was made.

LOOKS LIKE A DUEL.

All Montreal Is Set Guessing by a Romantic Affair.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—There was a rumor around town yesterday morning to the effect that a duel had been fought Tuesday morning at Cote des Neiges between an attache of one of the Consulates of the city and a man who occupies a good position with a financial institution. The story was that about 10 o'clock Tuesday seven men drove to Cote des Neiges, and soon afterwards a well-dressed and beautiful woman joined the party at a house in Cote des Neiges road. In a few minutes five revolver shots were heard, and half an hour later the party emerged from the house; among them was a man holding his arm in a sling.

The story could not be confirmed yesterday, although there are persistent rumors regarding the affair.

Tornado's Victims.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 26.—The known dead number 16, while unconfirmed reports declare that six other persons lost their lives as a result of the storm which swept parts of this state Monday. Verified reports place the number of injured at 23, three probably fatally.

Several freak acts of the tornado were reported. Near Hot Springs and Berryville, school houses were lifted off their foundations and moved, but the pupils and teachers inside escaped unhurt.

Vanderbilt a Spiritualist.

New York, Nov. 26.—Expressing the same belief in spiritualism that characterized his testimony at a previous hearing, Edward Ward Vanderbilt, husband of May Pepper Seannell Vanderbilt, the medium, took the stand in his own defence in the enquiry that has been instituted by his daughter, Minerva Vanderbilt, to determine his mental fitness to care for his property and conduct his business.

Postmaster Arrested.

Duck Lake, Sask., Nov. 26.—Sums said to aggregate between $500 and $1,000 have been missed from registered mails. Tuesday night Gus Fournier was appointed postmaster, and Postmaster St. Denis was suspended and arrested. He was liberated on bail. The specific charge is abstracting $5 from a registered letter, sent from Prince Albert to Kilwinning.

Three-Cornered Fight.

Brantford, Nov. 26.—There will be a three-cornered fight for the mayoralty here this year. Mayor Bowlby is seeking a third term, and Ald. Wood and ex-Ald. Ryerson will also be candidates. The latter is endorsed by the Conservatives.

To Press Congress.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Sir Hugh Graham of The Star and Mr. Brierly of The Herald, have been chosen by the proprietors to represent the Montreal English-speaking press at the Imperial Newspaper Congress in London.

TWO OF DEPARTMENT SUSPENDED

Hon. Mr. Brodeur Lays Off the Marine Agent and Engineer.

MORE REVELATIONS MADE

Enquiry at St. John Into Conduct of Officials Shows Further Leaks—Only Accommodation For a Few Days Says Business Men—One Gift Is Discovered, But It Was Only a Very Small One.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Hon. Mr. Brodeur, Minister of Marine, in view of the revelations as to the relations between Mr. F. J. Harding, agent of the Department at St. John, and the contractors supplying goods to the Government on his orders, wired instructions to St. John yesterday suspending Mr. Harding and Engineer Morris, who was also implicated by the evidence before the commission.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 26.—Evidence in the Marine enquiry developed sensational features yesterday afternoon.

The first sensation was the discovery of a contractor who had not loaned Mr. Harding, marine agent, any money.

Later, George McAvity admitted that he had been in the habit of loaning large sums to Mr. Harding, and the latter at present owed him $1,300. His evidence also showed that Harding got a $500 slice of the campaign funds.

John A. McAvity also told of loaning a large amount to Harding.

B. E. MacAulay, on the opening of the session, resumed his evidence regarding the Christmas present he gave Mr. Harding, consisting of goods purchased in May, but did not bring out new evidence. Judge Cassels said flatly that he did not believe witness when the latter said he would have loaned money even if Harding was not marine agent.

A young lady bookkeeper in MacAulay's iron works office gave testimony that she was instructed not to allow Harding's name to appear on the company's books when loans were made.

P. J. Mooney declared he had no personal dealings with Mr. Harding and had lent him no money. He had, however, loaned $40 to John Kelly, inspector of lights, and had done mason work amounting to $135 on his house without billing him for it. An interesting feature of Mooney's evidence was that he had frequently received Mr. Harding's personal checks, which he claimed were in payment of work done for the Department.

Geo. McAvity told that his firm had done business with the Department to the extent of $42,000 in the last few years. He had been in the habit of exchanging checks with Harding. At present Harding owes him $1,300, made in three loans. He could not produce thec heck subs for two of these because they had been destroyed.

This led to the explanation that the special bank account whose records he had burned was an election fund amounting to at least $25,000, of which he had had complete control. The passbook, the check book and cancelled checks had all been burned on Oct. 28th.

Witness claimed he had refunded the amount loaned Harding from this account by cash from his own account.

John A. McAvity, also of the firm of T. McAvity & Son, admitted that his firm got big orders from the Department without having to soliciting them and that a large part of the business could be awarded by Harding at his own discretion. He told of loaning sums of several hundred dollars at a time to Harding for a number of years. Like other witnesses, he did not charge interest. He admitted that when he exchanged checks with Harding he made them payable to cash or bearer in order to conceal the latter's name, as a knowledge of the transaction might result in his firm losing the contracts and Harding losing his job. He would not admit that loans were improper.

All these gentlemen will appear again before the enquiry is closed.

CHURCH HOCKEY LEAGUE SHOULD BE STRONG THIS WINTER—CLUBS WANT AN ORGANIZATION MEETING

The Junior Church Hockey League is the next organization that intends to get under way for the winter, and those interested are clamouring for a meeting at an early date. Many of the churches have teams ready to enter, but as nothing has yet been done they are uncertain as to whether the league is to be formed, as there has been a rumour that the church teams would play in the Junior City League. This, however, does not meet with approval, the most of the players and the adults who are behind the teams having a feeling that they should confine themselves to a church league similar to that of last summer in baseball. The Park street and Murray street Baptist churches will be represented, also Knox church and St. Andrew's, All Saints will have a good line-up, and St. John's should be represented. Charlotte street and George street churches have teams that are reported to be anxious to play church league hockey. It would be strange if one of the East City churches could not put a septette on the ice. St. Paul's, too, should be represented. In fact with a little effort on the part of several of the churches which have not reached any determination in the matter, an exceptionally good league could be formed. However, in any case there are sufficient teams to form a strong organization, and its up to the officers of the baseball team to call a meeting and get under way with the league.

The most important question will be that of ice to play on. At this stage there are two open air rinks practically assured. Park street Baptist church and Knox church will provide ice, it is understood, but the others will not likely have any.

FIVE TEAMS IN JUNIOR CITY LEAGUE OFFICERS WERE ELECTED LAST NIGHT PROSPECTS ARE DECIDEDLY BRIGHT

Five teams were represented at the meeting of the Junior City Hockey League held last night in the Examiner office and the success of the organization seems assured in view of the interest and enthusiasm that is being displayed in the movement. The teams represented were the Otonabees, by W Harris, A Coughlin and S Anderson; the Chieftains, by Harry Munro and Art Hall; the T.A.S.A.C., by V Hayes; the Y. M.C.A., by Elmer Fox, and the George street team by Stanley Wade.

The election of officers was the first business transacted and resulted as follows:

President—Jas. D Clarke.
1st Vice-Pres.—Chas. Sisson.
2nd Vice-Pres.—B T Huston.
Sec.-Treas.—Jack Deannard.
Executive Committee—One member from each team.

It was decided to place the entrance fee into the League at $2 per team.

The other business such as the drawing up of the constitution, arrangements for the rink and other matters were left in the hands of the officers and executive, who will hold a meeting on Friday, to-morrow night, in the Y.M.C.A. at 7.30 to deal with those questions.

JOHN FITZNER'S WONDERFUL WALKING WINS THE S. A. C. RACE EASILY

That well known orator and athlete, Mr. John Fitzner, who amazed the wrestling fans on Tuesday night in his spectacular showing against Young Hackenschmidt, showed his ability in another line of sport last night to the satisfaction of a large crowd, when he was matched with a well known local athlete in a walking match that caused much excitement. Fitzner won on the bet. It had been arranged that the course would be from Mac's Cigar Store, around the block bordered by George, Simcoe, Aylmer and Charlotte streets, and that the men would go in opposite directions. The pair were started by Referee Dan McCabe about 9.30 o'clock, in the presence of a large and enthusiastic crowd. Both started off at a fast clip, but Fitzner's opponent had the misfortune to sprain his ankle before he had hardly started, and was out of the race. Fitzner, unattended negotiated the distance at a clip that would make all the fast peds open their eyes, and when he swung unto George street, at the corner of Simcoe, he was forging ahead like a torpedo boat destroyer. A big crowd of his admirers (were waiting for him at that point, and with a number of them acting as pace-makers he sprinted and made a sensational finish, being fresh and strong when he crossed the line amid enthusiastic cheers.

Fitzner possesses all the qualities of a walker. He has a style that is about half way between those of Hoagland and Billy Naugon, and he gets the maximum of speed with the minimum of effort, does he not?

T. A. S. AND Y. M. C. PLAY SATURDAY— CITY CHAMPIONSHIP IS AT STAKE

The announcement that the T.A.S. and Y.M.C.A. seniors are to meet in a game at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon to decide the city championship, has been received with much interest, and there will undoubtedly be a big crowd on hand to see the battle which should be hard fought and interesting all the way. Both teams will have their strongest line-ups on, and both are confident of winning. The game should be a good exhibition of Rugby as the teams are well matched in weight and experience. Gene Hurtubise will in all probability referee the contest while the umpire has not yet been decided upon. As this will be the last game of the season and as the championship of the city for the year depends upon the outcome, a large crowd should be on hand for what should prove the best game of the local season.

McAUGHEY LEFT ON LONG RUN TO NEW YORK

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Tom McAughey is on his way to New York. The little Scot didn't find the shiny streets exactly lined with a cheering, enthusiastic multitude, but about three hundred of the curious unemployed were at the City Hall to see him start away at his dog trot.

He is just out to beat his trial over the distance made last summer of 11 days 20 hours and hopes through the fame thus acquired to secure matches with Dorando and Hayes.

He left at 10.23 from the corner of Terauley and Queen streets, alone and unattended.

The message he bears from Mayor Oliver to Mayor McClelland, of New York, reads:

"The bearer of this, T. J. McAughey, leaves this city this morning to run to New York for the purpose of making a record.—Joseph Oliver, Mayor."

McAughey was clad with oiled canvas shoes, a West End jersey under a white sweater. He has black trunks with long black stockings. He is not prepared particularly for cold weather. He was, but his friends stripped him of an overcoat which held as much as a Saratoga trunk. However, he didn't take anything except a package of cards bearing his own picture, which he will distribute all along the route.

He is confident of covering the distance in faster time than in the summer, notwithstanding the mud which will be ankle deep and worse.

The West End Y. M. C. A. disclaim all connection with McAughey and his run.

HOLLOWAYS AT ROLLER RINK SIMPLY MARVELLOUS

The two great Holloways who are at the roller rink all this week, are the best ever seen in the city. Their work is wonderful and marvellous. They are engaged for the rest of the week, including a matinee on Saturday afternoon.

Shrubb will be here on Saturday to prepare for his races next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the roller rink.

HAS BEEN ENERGETIC AND CAPABLE OFFICER

It will be a matter of regret to all those who have been connected with the City Hockey League, that Mr. Fred A. Clarke, who has been president of the organization for the past three years has seen fit to drop the reins of office. During his tenure of office he has proved himself a most capable, energetic and impartial presiding officer. His motto has been the welfare of the league first, and of the individual teams of the league afterwards, and he has carried out that motto in all his dealings His policy has been one of the most predominating factors in the development of the league He has shown favour to no one club, and has at all times shown himself the right man in the right place. The present splendid constitution was framed during his terms of office, and although he is not out of power there is no doubt that it will be carried out by his successors.

KNOX CHURCH YOUNG MEN WILL HAVE FINE RINK

The young men of Knox Church have determined to prepare a rink for the winter, and will commence operations at once to get it ready for the cold weather. The success of that which was conducted last season justifies the continuance of the rink, as many teams practised on it and skaters came from different parts of the city. That which will be begun in a day or so, will be larger than the old one, and it is expected that the patronage will be increased with the improved conditions. The teams in the church league will be able to play on this rink and the Park street rink, both of which should supply sufficient ice accommodation for that part of the city. The Knox Church will endeavour to keep the ice in good condition and will provide comfortable waiting rooms.

GREAT BASKETBALL GAME SATURDAY IN "Y" GYM.

The basketball game at the Y.M. C.A. gym. on Saturday night is creating more interest than any previous event of the kind that has ever been held here. The exploit of the Central Y.M.C.A. in defeating the crack Hamilton team has intensified the interest being taken in the appearance of the speedy Toronto aggregation, and there will, no doubt, be a big crowd on hand to see the visitors perform. It should be a grand game throughout, as the local team is playing fast ball, and are confident of their ability to make the visitors extend themselves.

In the preliminary game, the Rustlers and Chieftains will meet, and an interesting struggle should be seen, as the teams appear to be evenly matched.

DORANDO WINS BIG RACE FROM HAYES IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 26.—Dorando Pietria of Italy defeated John J. Hayes of this city in the renewal of the Marathon race at Madison Square Garden last night. The distance was 26 miles and 385 yards, the same as the Olympic Marathon which Hayes won at London last summer. Dorando in that race fell from exhaustion and was helped across the line, but was disqualified. He proved to be Hayes' master last night, as he held the lead from start to finish, finally winning by about sixty yards. Hayes was in the lead five times during the race, but only for a few seconds each time. Dorando's time was 2.44.20 2-5; and Hayes' 2.45.05 1-5.

Ten thousand persons watched the contest and while partisan feeling ran high nothing more than good-natured raillery was the outcome. The last few miles of the race was exciting. In the 24th mile Hayes made another of the jumps to the front that he had been springing at intervals during the race, but Dorando, running strong, easily resumed the lead like a flash. This was repeated half a mile further on, Dorando again proving the stronger. The 25th mile was finished in 2.36.57 1-5. Hayes weakened in the last half mile and the Italian won handily by about sixty yards.

The crowd was on hand early and for an hour before the race started enthusiasm was stirred up by the playing of rival bands in opposite galleries.

Dorando used a wet sponge on his head frequently, while Hayes had recourse to no treatment except occasional advice from his trainer. They finished the 20th mile, Dorando leading by five feet, in 2.04.23 4-5.

NORWOOD HOCKEYISTS IN LINE FOR THE SEASON

Norwood, Nov. 25.—A meeting of the Hockey Club was held on Friday evening, Nov. 20th, at the King's Hotel. Most of the hockey enthusiasts were present and the following officers were elected:

President—Fred Fry.
Vice-Pres.—W H Girven.
Secretary—J R Finlay.
Treasurer—F A Cummings.
Manager—A J McKinty.
Captain—F A Cummings.
Trainer—Russel S Pearce.
Executive Committee—J Fry, W H Girven, A J McKinty, F A Cummings and R S Pearce.

EXPECTS MILLLER TO BE ONE OF THE STARS OF PRO. LEAGUE

Brantford, Nov. 25.—Speaking of the prospects of this year's professional hockey team, Manager Roy Brown intimated that there would not be very much difficulty in securing an aggregation. The announcement scarcely went forth that the Telephone City was to be in the game again when many well known hockey stars opened communication with Manager Brown.

Fans can pretty nearly count on Johnny Ward, Jack Marks, Cap McDonald, Miller and Dick Meade as a starter. Miller of Peterborough, will come back this year a very much improved individual on last season. Brown picks him to make one of the best forwards in the league this year, and the manager's predictions generally hit the mark.

The rest of the team is problematical. A rover and a point man are willing to come from the eastern woods, near Prescott. There is another fellow at Pittsburg, who, it is said, has bells on in the position of cover point. Pete Charlton, of Toronto may come to Brantford. Lehman, the Canadian Sault goal keeper, who played with Brown in the old International, and who is a scrappy goal keeper in getting out of a mix-up around the nets, is also willing to come.

HOCKEY.

Berlin, Nov. 25.—Nelson Gross, the well known cover point of Berlin professional team, has received good offers from Wanderers, but is considering other offers from Fred. Whitcroft's Edmonton team, and from Pittsburg. The Montreal offer is $60 a week and likely will be accepted. Gross' departure will leave a big gap in the Berlin team.

• • • •

Mr Frank O'Connor has received a letter from a friend of his, Mr. J Downey, manager of the hockey team of the Michigan College of Mines, Houghton, Mich., stating that that team propose to make a tour of the east, playing in New York and Cleveland, and asking for a game here if possible between December 18 and January 1. The Michigan team have won the college championship of the west, and Mr. Downey states that they are on a par with the Canadian college teams.

• • • •

A Toronto hockey enthusiast now in Pittsburg, has written the following notes about Canadian players:

Con Corbeau is playing better hockey this year than ever. Taylor and he make a great pair on the defence.

The Pittsburg League so far has drawn large crowds, and the brand of hockey put up by all teams is of the best. To the fans the P.A.C. team, with Taylor, Lake, Mallen, Campbell, and Corbeau, is the favourite.

Manager Campbell may have trouble holding the great Fred Taylor, as Fred Whitcroft of the Edmonton team is trying hard to get him. He has offered him the princely sum of $1,800 for the season, which Taylor is seriously thinking of accepting.

Harry Smith of the Bankers, the leading goal-getter of last season, has to appear before the Board of Directors for an attack on McRobie, cover-point for D.A.C.

Alf. Smith, it is reported, has signed Horace Gaul, of Ottawa, to strengthen his team, which is at present at the foot of the league — through accident.

The great combination of Taylor and Lake, which was instrumental in bringing the championship of the old International League to Houghton for two years, is more conspicuous this year than ever, and is the talk of all the hockey fans.

Jimmy McKay, of Lyceum, has signed a fast bunch of youngsters, and they are giving P.A.C. a close run.

Kerr, the youngster from Brockville, is showing great form for P.A.C.

Manager Campbell is to be congratulated on the great team he has got together. Three or four of his men are receiving offers from a number of strong Eastern teams.

Garnet Sixsmith, Fred Taylor, Lorne Campbell and Jack McDonald have been summoned to appear before President Gumbert on Thursday for rough play. The management of Duquesne Garden demans that action be taken against these players, claiming rough hockey is injuring the attendance.

WRESTLING

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—Fred Bradley, the Boston heavyweight pugilist, who was seriously injured in savage bout at the West End Athletic Club here last night with Al Kubiak, known as the "Michigan Giant," is still in a critical condition at the Presbyterian Hospital. He is suffering from concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull. The physicians are doubtful whether he will recover.

All the principals in the affair were arraigned before a magistrate to-day. Kubiak was committed to the county prison without bail to await the outcome of Bradley's injuries, and Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, the referee of the bout; John Kelly, manager of Kubiak; "Jim" Daly, manager for Bradley, and Stephen O'Hara, Kubiak's seconds, were held in $800 bail each, which was furnished by O'Brien.

In the fight last night Bradley was beaten from the start. He was floored twice in the third round, the bell saving him from being knocked out A blow in the jaw in the fourth made him unconscious, and he is still in that condition.

BASKETBALL.

Both the Peterborough, Ont., and the Malone, N. Y., basket ball clubs are anxious to arrange games with the M.A.A.A. club here for New Year's Day, and it is not unlikely that both will be invited to come on. It has been suggested that M.A.A.A. and Vic Rifles should give the outside clubs games at the M.A.A.A. Gym and the Vic Armoury, respectively, New Year's morning, and then for each of the local teams to meet a different team Saturday evening.—Montreal Star.

The Chieftains' basketball team will practise to-night at the Y.M. C.A. in preparation for their game with the Rustlers which will be the curtain-raiser to the Toronto Central-Peterborough Y.M.C.A. game on Saturday night. The following team which will likely represent the Chieftains is expected to be out for practise to-night: Backs, Munro and R Hall; centre, Wallis; forwards, Kirn and A Hall.

The following players of the Chieftains are also expected to be on hand to-night: Milburn, Turner, Howden, Minorgan and Fortye.

Yesterday afternoon a deputation waited on the council in connection with the proposed new bridge from the reserve across to the Eastmore shore, where now the ferry is used. The reserve council promise to contribute one-fifth of the cost. A deputation was organized to wait on Hon. J. R. Stratton, Dominion Government representative in connection with getting assistance from the Government.

The council decided to take an initiative in the proposed automobile restriction legislation which was laid before them in a communication.

Miss Lottie Kearney spent Thursday in Peterborough.

A new bell has been secured for St. Aidan' Anglican Church.

THE VALETTA CLUB'S AT-HOME

Most Successful Affair in Foresters' Hall Last Night.

The Valetta Club gave their first "At Home" of the season last night in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, and a comfortably large number were present. Everybody reported an enjoyable time, the dancing particularly pleasing. The arrangements were carried out without a hitch, the committee's work lending greatly to the success of the affair.

FINE WEATHER

Did you see the white dresses on the streets to-day? There was no mournful sound about most of the dress goods that were in motion this glad day. It seemed like the 24th of May. The colours that gleamed after the clouds rolled by were a delight to the mud-dimmed vision and no one would have been surprised to have seen May flowers in bloom or the maple leaves opening their buds.

ATHLETICS

Toronto, Nov. 26. — Manager Tom. Flanagan did a smart stroke of business when he matched Longboat and Dorando for a fifteen mile gallop at Buffalo on the 15th of December.

The great Italian runner, who last night beat Johnny Hayes, of New York, was signed up yesterday afternoon. The race will be over the big track at the 74th National Guard Armoury at Buffalo. This is a larger track than that at Madison Square. Longboat's campaign of many indoor races ought to have him right on edge for the Dorando race. The Indian holds the Canadian record for five miles at 25.05, and will lead the Italian a merry pace in the early stages. Longboat ought to win from Dorando.

RUGBY

All local Rugby enthusiasts are asked to remember the annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club which will be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Monday night next at 8 o'clock. Every one interested in Rugby is cordially invited to be on hand to help get things into shape for next season.

* * * *

The annual meeting of the Ontario Rugby Union is called for December 2. It is practically certain that Dr. McPherson, of Peterborough, will be the new president, Bill Sise dropping out, and Dr. Wood, vice-president. A new secretary is wanted.—Toronto Globe.

CLOTHIERS and FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW

THE word "OXOL" does not mean one food or one preparation. No "OXOL" is a name given to all goods for horses, cattle, swine and sheep, prepared by Messrs. S. K. and T. C. Windsor, of Australia, New Zealand, England and Canada.

The veterinary preparations as well as the compressed bales of fodder placed on the market of the world under the name of

are all of the greatest possible order of merit and may be used by farmers, graziers, dairymen and all owners of stock with the full assurance that these goods have the power in a very short time to double their incomes by feeding, fattening and curing all animals, which to them means money.

Scientific Meetings will be organized by Messrs. Windsor and held throughout the Dominion of Canada, when farmers desirous of improving their knowledge of stock will have an opportunity of doing so and to be instructed on the life of stock from birth to death, free of any charge.

LINER SINKS IN FOG OFF SANDY HOOK

Steamer Finance Rammed by Georgic Off Sandy Hook.

FOUR PERSONS DROWNED

Eighty-One Passengers on Outward Bound Vessel Are Rescued by Boats of Freighter Which Cut Her Down—Woman Who Would Not Release Her Hold on the Railing Is Carried to Her Death.

New York, Nov. 26.—In the thick of a fog off Sandy Hook yesterday, the steel freighter Georgic of the White Star line rammed and sank the lightly-laden Panama line steamer Finance, outward bound, with 85 passengers.

The Finance went down ten minutes after the collision, carrying to their death three of her passengers and one of her crew.

The rest of the passengers, which included 19 women and 14 children, and the others of the crew, were rescued by the boats of the Georgic. The freighter was not damaged.

Of the passengers lost one was a woman, Miss Irene Campbell of Panama, who clung frantically to the rail of the sinking vessel and could not be persuaded to release her hold. Not even by force were the men who manned the small boats able to remove her.

Wm. H. Todd, third assistant engineer, jumped over board and was lost.

When a roll of the passengers of the Finance was called it was found that Chas. Schweinler, a policeman of Panama, and Mr. Henry Culler, a railway conductor of Panama, had disappeared, and there is little doubt that they were drowned.

The disaster occurred in the main ship channel, of Sandy Hook, at 8 o'clock in the morning, as each vessel was groping her way through a fog that has hampered or held up traffic in local waters for the past three days.

BAD MEN CAUGHT.

American "Gun Mob" Rounded Up In Toronto.

Toronto, Nov. 27.—Six more men, believed to be members of an American "gun-mob," as bad as any that have visited this city in some time, were bagged in a Jarvis street house yesterday. They are held as vags.

Detectives Wallace, Mackie, Lipton, Archibald and Armstrong made the roundup.

Those got were: Jas. Lee, Ottawa; Geo. McDonald, W. Scott, Jas. Higgins, Chas. Corley and Jas. Cook.

Three others were got earlier in the week.

Bought Montreal Property.

Montreal, Nov. 27.—Jacob A. Jacobs, who is ranked among the Cobalt millionaires, has purchased a valuable piece of St. Catherine street real estate, in the heart of the retail shopping district. The purchase price for the same was $155,000, and upon this Mr. Jacobs will erect a block of fine stores. It is understood that for his interest in the Kerr Lake property, recently disposed of by that gentleman, Mr. Jacobs received a half million dollars.

First Indian Divorce.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 27.—In the case of Emma George, a native Christian Indian of Rivers Inlet, the first of her race to seek a divorce in this country, Judge Clement declared that while a decision of the Privy Council gave him power to grant a divorce it did not settle the rights of the parties to re-marry. The girl is not worrying about this and will re-enter the bonds of wedlock.

Gold Dredge Turns Turtle.

Vancouver, Nov. 27.—The probable total loss of a gold dredge, which has been operating for some months on the Fraser river bars at Yale, occurred on Tuesday night, when the big barge broke away from her mooring and tore down stream till she turned turtle.

ILLNESS PREVENTS HIS TESTIMONY

Harding's Lawyer Says Agent Is Not Well Enough.

MERCHANTS WERE GENEROUS

Evidence Reveals Several Cases Where Officials Were Given Presents by Various Firms Who Sold Supplies—Allowed Accounts to Go Unpaid—Firm That Cashed No Checks Did Little Business.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 27.—An interesting feature of yesterday's session of the Marine enquiry was the refusal of counsel for Marine Agent Harding to put his client on the stand, saying that he would not be responsible for the result in Mr. Harding's present physical and mental condition.

Harding had a paralytic stroke last year and is now far from well.

Evidence yesterday showed that officials were in the habit of getting small presents frequently and had the privilege of getting goods at contractors stores without paying any bills.

A young lady employed in Harding's office was the first witness in the afternoon. She knew of Mr. Harding making many checks payable to cash, but did not know where they went. Harding only had one bank account, and used it for both departmental and personal purposes.

On account of information contained in a letter received by counsel, Chas. Bradley was summoned. He denounced as a lie the statement that Harding had held back $60 on his account, and that he had to see R. O'Brien of the patronage committee before he could get his money. He afterwards admitted this was practically true about a $30 item.

The firm of J. & F. Watson supplied groceries and were in the habit of sending game and fowls to Mr. Harding as presents.

The local manager of Jas. Robertson Co., Limited, said he did not get as much business from the Department as he would like. Witness was not in the habit of cashing checks for the agent.

C. B. Allan sold large quantities of light house supplies to the Department. He had not pressed for payment of balance of personal account, which the lighthouse inspector had at his store. Mr. Harding had an account with him. It only amounted to $63 in ten years, and he had not enforced payment. It made a difference when a man was giving him business. He did not think it a large matter, and said he "had given larger commissions than that." Harding had once tried to borrow $300 from him, but he had refused.

Although a small dealer Michael Donovan sold $2,600 worth of meat in the last two years to the Department. He had sent a turkey to Harding on Christmas Day.

John A. McAvity was recalled to tell about officials' accounts at his store. They all got wholesale prices on purchases. Some had settled, but Harding's account had not been paid, and Kelly, lighthouse inspector, had unpaid accounts in his own name and his wife's.

Several contractors were heard who had got their supplies by public tender, and who had not been held up by any officials.

At the evening session John Kelly, lighthouse inspector, was heard. Counsel questioned him about large quantities of excess supplies laid in by lighthouses and used by keepers for their own benefit. He refused to admit this, except in one case. Afterwards he admitted having heard of keepers giving oil away or selling it, but his memory was not very clear about this. He also admitted that he was frequently offered presents of various kinds. He did not think there was anything wrong in accepting loans from a contractor.

John Allan, storekeeper, was summoned to tell that Harding was in the habit of storing his own goods in the department's store. He was in the habit of running Harding's launch for him. This was the launch which counsel had heard cost, with fittings, about $10,000.

John M. Driscoll said he did not get lumber contracts now because he was not in the swim. The last time he had tendered the contract was awarded to someone else at a higher price.

Wants His Ring Back.

Windsor, Nov. 27.—In the Division Court yesterday afternoon Fred Bellmore, drug clerk, was plaintiff in an action against Miss Lucy Whitely, prominent in social circles in Walkerville, for the return of a diamond ring or its value, which, it was alleged, he gave defendant in token of their engagement. Miss Whitely denied that there was any engagement.

Bellmore said he paid $60 for the ring, but brought suit for $100, claiming he was entitled to its present value. Miss Whitely said she "obtained money on the ring" the inference being that she had visited a pawnbroker, and this was not denied. Decision was reserved.

Steam Barge Ashore.

Belleville, Nov. 27.—The big steam barge Donelin, which has on board a cargo of 11,000 barrels of cement from the Lehigh Cement Co. at Point Ann, near this city, is aground on McDonald's Bar.

Southam Succeeds Baldwin.

Toronto, Nov. 27.—Rev. Walter P. Southam, B.D., has been appointed by Archbishop Sweatman as rector of All Saints' Church to succeed the late Canon Baldwin.

TRAINMAN IS TO BLAME, SAYS JURY

Brakeman Reed Responsible For Sandbank Disaster.

HE IS STILL AT LARGE

Lawyer O'Donaghue Says Reed's Friends Are Anxious to Get Him Back to Answer Charges Brought Against Him — Verdict Lays Negligence at Door of C.P.R. and Some Employe.

Burketon Junction, Nov. 27.—After deliberating for two hours last night the jury investigating the cause of the accident by which three C.P.R. trainmen lost their lives in a head-on collision at the Sandbank siding on Monday night last rendered a verdict that Ed. Findley met his death through the negligence of some employe and of the C.P.R. Coroner A. S. Tilley of Bowmanville, in his charge to the jury, said the evidence showed conclusively that the switch signals had been imperfectly displayed, and that the switch had apparently been thrown open by W. C. Reed, the missing brakeman. Before closing the evidence Prosecuting Attorney W. F. Kerr asked if Reed had surrendered himself, and Mr. J. O'Donoghue, who appeared on his behalf, replied that he was still at large, and his friends and relatives, who had no information as to his whereabouts, were anxious that he should come forward and face any proceedings that might be brought against him.

GIRL FOILS BURGLARS.

Islington, Nov. 27.—D. L. Streight, manager of the local branch of the United Empire Bank, received an unusually large sum of money on Wednesday from the head office in Toronto and placed it in the safe.

At 4.30 yesterday morning three men broke into Mr. Streight's house, 500 yards distant from the bank, and had turned things upside down in the lower part of the house, when Miss Olga Streight heard a noise and awakened the household.

Her father then fired a couple of shots from his revolver, and the world-be burglars, who entered by a back window, made their escape with a few portable articles. Mr. Streight's fears that the men had been informed of the arrival of the money, but is at a loss to know how the information could have been secured. There were no indications that an attempt had been made to break into the bank.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

United States yesterday celebrated Thanksgiving Day.

Several Kingston stores were visited by burglars Wednesday night, but none were entered.

William Morton's fine barns, near Cobourg, have been burned, at a loss of $1,000 to buildings and contents.

Among the fifty-three Scotch employes of the Firth Cliff, New York, Carpet Works, ordered deported, are some who have been employed there for three years.

George Handscombe, in crossing the trestle bridge over the canal at Brantford, was caught by a T., H. & B. gravel train, and, rather than be run down, he plunged into the canal.

Detectives Missing.

Owen Sound, Nov. 27.—When the liquor cases were called yesterday, Mr. Cameron, prosecuting counsel, sprang a surprise by asking for another adjournment.

He stated that two of the three detectives who were expected to give evidence had disappeared. They had left their hotel shortly after 10 o'clock Wednesday night, and had not been seen since. He said he believed they had been spirited away, or had met with foul play.

Mr. Cameron's statement caused quite a sensation in the crowded court room. Mr. Tucker, disclaiming all knowledge of the men, wished to proceed, but the cases were adjourned to Saturday to find the missing men.

Big Drill Crushes Man.

Cobalt, Nov. 27.—George Thompson, a driller's helper employed at the Nipissing property, was instantly killed last night at the 125-foot level of the Meyer shaft. Thompson was struck on the head with a big steam drill which was coming down in the bucket. It fell out when it was a few feet from the surface, the shank striking Thompson. Caleb Jerry, machinist, whom Thompson was helping, was standing near the spot, and narrowly escaped himself. Thompson was 32 years of age, and leaves a wife and one child here.

Ontario Wins Medal.

London, Nov. 27.—At the Colonial Fruit Exhibition yesterday Lord Strathcona was introduced by Lord Balfour, of Burleigh, and declared the show open.

Gold medals were awarded to British Columbia apples, to the Nova Scotia Government's collection of fruit, and the Government of Ontario's collection of fruit, etc.

New Bills of Lading.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—The Railway Commission has under consideration a new form of bills of lading, submitted to it some time ago by Canadian shippers. It is claimed that the present bills of lading do not give shippers any adequate security for their shipments and that the railways bear minimum of liability.

THE GREAT PIANIST COMES TO HEAR

The music loving public of this city is looking forward for next Thursday night, when the great German Pianist, Paderewski's rival, Professor Frans von Battenhausen appears with his marvelous high class music. Vast audiences in other big cities, the Imperial Houses of Europe, the greatest masters and composers of the present time call this young gentleman the "bright star on the piano". His art of expression is excellent, his technicality and experience are incomparable.

This great genius on the Piano will play and enjoy the lovers of music with the best satisfaction. To secure good seats you will remember that the entrance opens sharp at 7.30 p.m. Doors closed between plays.

Readers will perhaps be startled at the un-English wording of the above advertisement. The explanation is that the advertiser is a German.

The recital will take place in the Conservatory of Music.—Ed.

WINNIPEG MAN CURED OF RHEUMATISM

Remarkable Case of Cure After Specialists Failed.

Winnipeg, Man.—A prominent resident of this City, who for personal reasons does not wish his name mentioned publicly, but who permits us to show his letter to interested enquirers, writes to say that he was suddenly taken with excruciating pains in the back and side, which were pronounced by his physicians as Rheumatism. Hot applications were at once resorted to, the usual medicines administered, supplemented by electrical treatment, but all to no purpose. In his desperation he took Gin Pills on his own account, and in a few hours after taking the first Pill the pains commenced to subside. He continued taking them and in 48 hours he had not an ache or a pain left.

A NOTORIOUS OUTLAW

Fearless "Billy the Kid," Who Reveled in Carnage.

ONLY A BOY, YET A TERROR.

This Youthful Desperado of the Southwestern Territories Was but Twenty-one When He Met Death at the Hands of Sheriff Pat Garrett.

When General Lew Wallace was governor of New Mexico and the war that raged for several years between the rival cattle companies was at its height "Billy the Kid" had reached the flood of his murderous career. He arrived in Lincoln county to take sides in the cattle warfare, known and feared in every range town and mining camp in the southwestern territories.

Pure wanton love of carnage was all that attracted him to Lincoln county. With the band of desperadoes he led he raided ranches, "shot up" towns, killed, burned houses and committed outrage after outrage with the blind recklessness of a maniac. Fear was extinct within him. He cared no more for detachments of cavalry than he did for cowering sheriffs.

Affairs in New Mexico finally came to such a pass that half the cattlemen paid the youthful desperado tribute. It was only after Pat F. Garrett was made sheriff of Lincoln county and the author of "Ben-Hur" (General Wallace) urged that fearless gun fighter and gambler to capture Billy the Kid that a determined effort was made to end his reign of terror.

The obstacles that Garrett had to encounter called for all his headlong energy and nerve. Billy had the entire countryside in a state of abject terror; friends were ready to give him timely warning of pursuit; ranchmen dared not deny him lodgment or concealment.

Pat Garrett undertook the capture in October, 1880, and on Dec. 20 he surrounded the Kid and his band in a deserted house near Stinking Springs. After a siege lasting most of the day the outlaws' ammunition was exhausted. Billy the Kid surrendered. He and his four followers, surrounded by a great force of armed men, were taken to Las Vegas and thence to Santa Fe for safe keeping.

An array of indictments charging murder confronted him. He was tried on one indictment and acquitted, then tried on another and convicted. He carried himself throughout with sneering defiance. After he had been sentenced to hang Garrett took him to Fort Stanton, near Lincoln. Two deputies armed with Winchesters were assigned to guard him in the temporary jail in the Murphy & Dolan store building.

In some mysterious fashion the Kid possessed himself of a revolver, shot down his guards, seized their weapons and appeared at the window. When another guard appeared the prisoner riddled his body with buckshot. Then he called to an old man on the plaza to bring him a file. Filing off one of his shackles, he called for a horse. One was brought, and he escaped.

For nearly three months after that Billy the Kid led a fugitive life. Garrett dogged him patiently and finally got wind of his hiding place—the ranch of Peter Maxwell, near Fort Sumner. It was nearly midnight when Garrett and two deputies quietly approached the Maxwell hacienda. Garrett crept into the room where Maxwell was sleeping. Softly awakening the sleeper, he questioned him concerning the whereabouts of the Kid.

At that moment the hunted youth sprang into the room, calling out in Spanish, "Quien va?" ("Who comes there?") It was Billy. He was unarmed, and as he reached for his rifle Garrett shot him. The body of William Bonney (Billy the Kid) was buried in the military cemetery at Fort Stanton July 15, 1881. His age at the time of his death was twenty-one years seven months. There his body is today, though in later years a corpse was exhibited throughout the west as that of the famous young outlaw.—Harper's Weekly.

NO WOMAN

CAN BE STRONG AND HEALTHY UNLESS THE KIDNEYS ARE WELL.

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to filter out of the blood are left in the system. Then how important it must be to see to it that this system of sewerage be not clogged up. Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble know not the misery and suffering which those afflicted undergo.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by healing the delicate membranes of the kidneys and thus make their action regular and natural.

They help the kidneys to flush off the acrid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages.

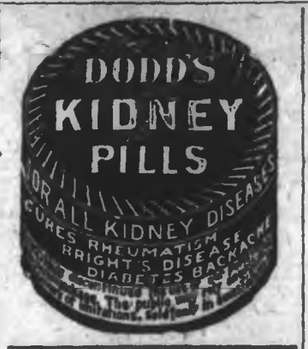
Let Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what they have done for thousands of others, that is, cure you.

Mrs. M. Bryanton, Spring Valley, P. E. I., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for two years. They were so bad at times I could not cross the floor for the pain. I tried a doctor but he did me no good at all. I sent to my nearest druggist and got four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am glad to say that after taking them I have had no more trouble for nearly three years now."

Price 50 cts. per box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

In ordering specify "Doan's."



ELDORADO IN THE WEST

THERE MAY BE ONE IN NORTHERN SASKATCHEWAN.

Prospectors Leave Prince Albert For the North Almost Daily Off on a Search For Mineral Wealth—Gold Nuggets, Silver, Nickel and Copper Specimens Have Been Brought In by Explorers.

Is there a Klondike, a Sudbury or a Cobalt in northern Saskatchewan asks Arthur R. Ford of The Winnipeg Telegram, in a recent article. The citizens of that pretty little city of Prince Albert, on the northern fringe of civilization, believe there is and are certain that the next great Canadian mining rush will be to the now almost unknown wilderness which stretch for hundreds of miles from the very edge of the town. Already scarcely a day passes that a prospector is not outfitted in Prince Albert for the far north, and they believe that next summer will find miners, prospectors and adventurers roaming that now almost unknown hinterland of Saskatchewan in search of fortune.

Prince Albert has long thought that the country to the north of it was a great mineral district, as for years Indians and fur traders have been bringing down samples of ore and telling weird tales of mining wealth in the far north. The inhabitants have grown so accustomed to the stories that they have paid little attention to them. This spring, however, Alex. Macdonald, an old Hudson Bay Co. employe—everyone in Prince Albert is an ex-Mounted Policeman, an old Hudson Bay man or an ex-volunteer—fell in with some particularly fine gold nuggets from the Lac la Ronge district. He decided to hit the trail for the north country. It would be, if nothing else, a fine summer's outing. With several companions he started on the long canoe trip to the northern lake. He explored the country around Lac la Ronge. He found traces of silver and gold in abundance, but not in paying quantities. Finally he discovered on one of the numerous islands what was nickel and silver—a whole island of it. Copper deposits of large extent were also located on the mainland. He staked his claims, gathered his samples and brought back his story to Prince Albert. Quiet, peaceful Prince Albert, which basks away in its northern isolation on the banks of the Saskatchewan, and only really wakens up when election day comes round, was actually stirred. Other parties started north, and they also have returned after adventuresome trips with claims and samples and tales of a land filled with minerals.

One of the parties consisted of Ald. Stirton, B. L. Clemens and Fred Hunter, all Prince Albert men. They found Macdonald's island of nickel and silver, filed claims on it, and then traced the lead across to a smaller island about four miles away, and filed claims there also. From there the vein was traced to the mainland, where it was lost in muskeg. Since their return specimens of the ore have been sent out for assay and analysis, and have proved very high.

Newspaper reporters do not worry Prince Albert much, and the stories of the finds have not been heralded abroad. But news of a mining find has strange ways of spreading, and already grizzled and bronzed prospectors from Cobalt, British Columbia and the western States are drifting into Prince Albert and quietly slipping off to the north country.

Another man who has staked claims around Lac la Ronge and has unbounded faith in the mining future of northern Canada is J. Reid, Hudson Bay factor at Lac la Ronge. For fifteen years he has been living in the northern outposts of Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. He states that the whole country is filled with minerals, and he doubts not that a second Cobalt—if not at Lac la Ronge—somewhere will be found. Copper, nickel and silver, he stated to a correspondent, he found at many points. There are great iron deposits, while coal is found in considerable extent. The Lake Athabasca country he considers, if anything, richer in mineral wealth than the country district around his present post.

As for gold, north of Prince Albert every stream shows traces of it, though panning has never been made to pay. At Prince Albert itself on the shores of the Saskatchewan river gold can always be panned, while some twelve miles down the river a company consisting of English capitalists is quietly at work. As to how it is paying a mysterious silence is maintained.

That northern Saskatchewan is filled with mineral wealth there seems not the slightest doubt, as the formation of the whole country is the same as in northern Ontario. When the news leaks out there promises to be a big rush north. If the discoveries prove as important as first indications would lead one to believe a railroad to Lac la Ronge will naturally follow; and according to those who have been over the country there would be few engineering difficulties.

A Dreamer of Dreams.

By JANE LUDLUM LEE.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

"I say, Charlie, do you believe in dreams?"

Thus addressed, Charlie Darlington turned slowly around in his armchair. He and his friend, Billy Laughton, were seated in the window of the American club, watching the Saturday afternoon crowds pour out of the matinees.

"Well, that depends largely on the dream," announced Darlington at length. "If, for instance, you dream of finding money in the street, take my word for it, old man, there's nothing in it. But, on the other hand, dream that some distant relative has died and you are called upon to chip in and help pay funeral expenses—well, such things have been known to happen."

"Oh, I say old man," protested Darlington. "Ask me something sensible." Darlington rose from his chair and picked up his hat from a nearby table. "I'm off. You had better go to sleep, and I'll leave word with the boy to call you in case you wander away in one of those dreams."

Laughton did not know that his friend's sudden departure had been caused by the sight of Charlotte Comstock walking down the avenue alone. Darlington overtook her in a few minutes.

"Let's go in Balston's and get an ice," Darlington suggested as an excuse for

"AH, DON'T PAY ANY ATTENTION TO HIM!" PUT IN BILLY.

Once seated in the fashionable tea room, Charlotte said she preferred tea to an ice.

"You see, I'm not up to the mark today," she explained. "I had a bad night of it—had horrible dreams all night long." Then, looking up at him and opening wide her usually dreamy eyes, she suddenly asked, "Do you believe in dreams?"

Darlington repressed his mirth for the time being.

"Eh—well—that is—I was just discussing that very question," he stammered.

"Well, do you?" persisted Charlotte.

"Yes—no—that is, sometimes," began Darlington. Then he stopped and plucked his arm. "Say, do I look queer to you, Miss Comstock?" he continued. "I don't happen to be dreaming now, do I?"

"Oh, you're so funny, Mr. Darlington," cried Charlotte, much amused. "I'll not tell you another word! You're a prosaic, wide awake man. I believe you're a night watchman and don't sleep at all."

"But, my dear girl, night watchmen are not notoriously sound sleepers," protested Darlington.

All arguments, however, were of no avail. Charlotte would not finish her story and conversation was forced into other channels.

* * * * * * *

The next morning Charlie Darlington awoke in his bachelor apartments with a most uncomfortable feeling in his head. He raised his right arm to feel his aching head, and his arm seemed to work like a piece of machinery in need of oiling.

His head to all intents was bound up as in a vise. His throat was parched. After a moment a knowing smile came over his face.

"Ah, I know," he said to himself.

He pressed a button for his man, who answered the summons at once.

"Hall," demanded Darlington sharply, "what time is it? How did I get here and where was I last night?"

"It's past 11, sir." Then, seeing the mystified expression on his master's face, he smiled a most annoying smile. "Maybe if you shook yourself you'd recall it. Guess you're not awake yet, are you?"

"I don't know, Hall. I thought I was. But maybe I'm dreaming."

He made an effort to sit up, uttered a cry of pain and sank back on the pillow again. Without further explanation Hall disappeared. Darlington, again left to himself, tried to solve the problem, and little by little he felt an explanation dawn on him. The door opened and Billy Laughton entered.

"Sit down, Billy. I want to tell you something," answered Darlington. "Billy, I've had a dream—a horribly realistic dream—and I'm not altogether sure that I'm awake yet."

"Forget it, Charlie," sang out Laughton between the puffs of his cigarette. "Was it finding money in the street or burying your relatives?" suggested Laughton, but without sarcasm.

"Two ladies to see you, sir," Hall announced as he put the tray on a table at the bedside.

"Impossible!" exclaimed Darlington.

"Probably Aunt Dora and Charlotte," suggested Laughton as he rose. Then, turning to Darlington, he added: "Quiet down, old man. It's all right. You're dreaming, that's all."

Charlotte and her mother were standing in the doorway, and Darlington stared at the two figures.

"One minute, Billy," said Darlington as he put forth a very stiff arm. "If I'm dreaming, and I believe I am, for the love of humanity don't wake me."

"Is he delirious?" Charlotte inquired of Billy.

"Not any more so than usual," assured Billy, with friendly brutality. "Did you bring those flowers for him?" continued Billy, nodding in the direction of the bed, whereat Charlotte glowered at him and Mrs. Comstock said something about "unseemly levity."

"Will you ever forgive me, Mr. Darlington?" Charlotte was saying. "I'll never forgive myself; but, you see, I thought it was safe for me to cross—and"—

Darlington looked at the girl closely. He had loved her for many months, but had never had the courage to tell her so. She had always impressed him as a serious minded girl. Could she be up to some trick now with her cousin, Billy Laughton?

"When that horse knocked you down and kicked you," continued Charlotte—"well, I just thought I never wanted to speak again, but you're only just badly bruised, not seriously hurt, they tell me. You're not, are you?"

A sudden gleam as if knowing whereof she spoke came to Darlington. "I remember," he began as he took Charlotte's hand.

"Good Lord, deliver us," cried Billy. "He's going to 'reminisce.' Come on, Aunt Dora. I'm afraid this ordeal would be too much for a woman of your years. I'll take you in the sitting room and show you Charlotte's collection of mugs," and, taking Mrs. Comstock by the arm, he led her into the adjoining room.

"Don't you remember," continued Charlotte, unheeding Billy's irrelevant remarks and his kind departure, "when you and I were coming out of Balston's and were crossing the street? I darted forward, and you started to draw me back. Then the horse shied at something and kicked you"—

"And all the time," cried Darlington, "I thought it was a dream. But now it all comes back to me. I recall the sensation as I fell. Thought what an ass I had been never to have told you that I loved you and that now maybe it was too late"—

"It's a darned sight too late for a healthy brute like you to be lying in bed," chimed in Billy as he and Mrs. Comstock returned at this inopportune moment. "Come along, Charlotte. Aunt Dora and I are starving for our luncheon. As for you, old slippery elm, I'll be back this afternoon and read aloud to you extracts from 'Pipes, the Greatest Dream Book of the Age.'"

"Am I too late?" he demanded in an undertone.

"You're just in time," answered Charlotte, blushing to the roots of the soft brown hair above her forehead.

"What did Charlie mean about being too late?" asked Mrs. Comstock as the trio reached the street.

"Ah, don't pay any attention to him," put in Billy. "He was dreaming—that's all."

Montreal Death Rate.

Vital statistics of the city of Montreal for last year shows a death rate of 22.56 per thousand. There are curious differences between the nationalities. Among French-Canadians the rate was 25.94 per thousand; among other Catholics, 21.16, and among Protestants 14.99 per thousand. The birth rate was 36.05 per thousand, and here again there are marked variations. French-Canadians showed the remarkable rate of 40.17 per thousand; other Catholics 19.71 per thousand; and Protestants 20.68 per thousand. In the municipal records Jews are classed as Protestants, which somewhat increases the ratio.

THE KING'S MESSENGER

HIS IS A POSITION DEMANDING RESOURCE AND TACT.

Precious Contents of His Bag Have Often Been Sought by Covetous Thieves, Both Private and Political —Valuables Not Alone Carried in the Mysterious Satchel — Official Documents Are Discreetly Handled.

The King of England's Messenger has been a busy person during the last few days. This functionary is no longer of the same paramount importance for the conduct of official correspondence as formerly. He has been superseded in great degree by—the postman.

The Foreign Service Messenger—when posts were few, and trains were crowded, and traveling was slow—was a person of great consequence, and was treated with the utmost deference. The deck cabin on board the steamer and a coupe in the railway train were always placed at his disposal; and in this respect he was able to exercise gratuitous hospitality towards a friend or traveling acquaintance.

Many were the stories of how foreign spies and divers designing persons laid traps to get into conversation with the trusted official in order to obtain access to the precious contents. The "bag" was always regarded as a sacred charge, which must not for a moment be lost sight of; and it behoved its custodian to sleep even in the sanctuary of his coupe with one eye open lest some nocturnal intruder should break in upon him with evil intent.

Yet it must be admitted that the contents of the bag were not always rigidly restricted to state papers and official despatches. The messenger was a very convenient vehicle for the conveyance of bulky correspondence and divers parcels to and from illustrious personages or any of the personnel of the embassy. Indeed, so recognized was the institution that privileged persons would take elaborate trouble to send their missives to the Foreign Office to be favored by the "Queen's Messenger" long after the improvement in the ordinary postal arrangements rendered the postman quite as expeditious and economical an agent.

There was a story that a gentleman on board the steamer one day observed that the messenger was not guarding his charge with the extreme vigilance which tradition prescribed, and on suggesting that there was some risk of the bag being tampered with, received the light-hearted reply: "Well, the thief would only get the ambassador's old boots, which I am taking home to be mended."

The travel from London to St. Petersburg and back within a week in wintry weather is a test of a sound constitution and of being possessed of an enviable nervous system. Although the roster is carefully kept and every effort made to accord an interval between two long journeys, it by no means rarely happens that the exigencies of the service necessitate a messenger who has only just returned from one remote capital of Europe starting off on another errand at an hour's notice and with barely time to remove his travel stains.

And although the post has proved itself a very trustworthy and brisk agent for correspondence, and although stringent orders are in force as to unauthorized parcels, and letters being wholly excluded from the official bag, the King's Messenger does remain an indispensable adjunct to the conduct of Foreign Office business. Diplomacy is not, or, at any rate, no longer is, the secret art which some hold it to be, but there are occasions when it is of imperative importance that no foreign or unfriendly eye should light on official documents bearing, perhaps, on matters not yet in shape, and when it is of great consequence that the hand which receives a despatch from the Cabinet Minister in Downing Street should deliver it to the King's representative abroad or to the King himself when staying on foreign soil. The occasions which urgently demand this direct and unimpeachable method of communication are, if much less frequent than formerly, by no means less weighty.

"Salisbury's Manners."

Long before he succeeded to his present title two years ago, the Duke of Rutland made a name for himself as Mr. Henry Manners. Lord Salisbury, one of the shrewdest judges of men, chose him as his private secretary, which recalls the duke's one-time nickname of "Salisbury's Manners," for no man ever possessed a more urbane and tactful disposition. The duke is a great lover of sport, and has written largely on the gentle art of killing things. The announcement that the duke and duchess are making many improvements and alterations at Belvoir Castle recalls the fact that at this famous old English mansion is to be seen an extraordinary silver punch-bowl, weighing 160 pounds, and having a capacity for fifty-two gallons. It is at Belvoir that the old custom is still continued whereby the castle watchman goes round the terraces at night and calls the hours, adding "All's well." This custom has been observed at the castle for hundreds of years past.

Australians Coming.

An Australian Rugby team, which has been playing in England, has been trying to arrange games while crossing Canada on the way home in January, but at that season of the year the game is not played in the Atlantic provinces, although to see players wallowing in snow banks would be a fine sight. Games, however, will be played with the tourists in the genial climate of British Columbia and California. Matches have been arranged for Vancouver, Victoria and with the universities of Stanford and California. There is talk on the coast of sending a team from Vancouver to Australia, next year, a cordial invitation and generous arrangements having been offered.

DOMINION AMMUNITION

RELIGIOUS ACROBATS.

Dangerous Aerial Slide Annually Performed in India.

India offers many curious things in the way of religion, and the strangest of them all is the aerial slide, which is performed annually at Kulu, in the Himalayas. At a point where there is a cliff overhanging a precipitous gorge several hundred feet in width and a hundred feet in depth a rope is made fast to the rock. The other end of this is carried across the gorge and there secured to a stake. The total length of the rope between the two points is when drawn taut 2,500 feet, and the end attached to the cliff is several hundred feet higher than that fastened on the opposite side of the ravine. Thus a slide is contrived, and it is a dangerous one to all appearance.

It is down this incline that the performer has his path. For the lofty journey a sort of saddle is provided made of wood, with holes in it, through which the rope passes. But before a start is made the whole length of the rope is wet to prevent the saddle from catching fire from the friction. The performer sits astride this seat, and to his legs are fastened bags of sand, which serve two purposes—they enable him to maintain an upright position during his lightning-like descent, and they increase the momentum. The lower end of the rope is carefully wound with bits of carpet to check the speed before the stake is reached. Without this precaution the performer would be dashed to pieces.

The terrific velocity of the descent for the first few hundred yards is shown by the stream of smoke that trails from the wake of the saddle, despite the fact that the rope has been wet. Afterward the incline diminishes somewhat, and the pace becomes correspondingly slower. By the time the goal is reached the jheri, as the performer is called, is able to come to a standstill without disaster.

This slide in the air is supposed to reveal the will of the gods as to the crops of the approaching season. If the perilous trip is accomplished in safety a plentiful harvest is assured. Naturally, therefore, every care is taken to minimize the dangers of the performance. The ceremony is of ancient origin, and those who engage in it as jheri form a small caste apart.—New York Tribune.

A MEDFORD STORY.

The town of Medford, Mass., has a legend of a phantom ship beside which the Flying Dutchman is only a peaceful merchantman. The Medford story runs that a ship laden with rum and gold and silver bars put out from that place in the days when the Spanish main was infested with pirates. It was headed for a West Indian port, but got into the doldrums and was so long becalmed that water and provisions gave out, and all hands perished of thirst and starvation. When the wind came up again the ship sailed away with her ghastly crew, was seen by a buccaneer, chased, and overhauled.

The pirate captain made fast to his prize without firing a single shot, and, attributing the vessel's nonresistance to fear or lack of arms, he was the first man to leap on board. But the rope with which the captured ship had been carelessly lashed to his own parted under the strain of the seaway, and he found himself rapidly borne away from his comrades on what he soon discovered to be a floating coffin. A stiff breeze filled the sails of the derelict, and before his own vessel could overtake it night descended on the ocean, and the pursuing ship lost sight of it altogether. Left alone in pitch darkness on the grewsome craft, the pirate went mad with terror and, seizing the wheel, raced away before the wind and, according to the legend, was condemned to range the seas forever thus in command of his horrible prize.

Woe to the ship that encountered it scudding along by moonlight or in the lightning's glare, manned by skeletons and steered by a shouting, gesticulating madman, and when on several occasions it was sighted in the fog off Medford it was considered as the herald of storm and disaster and the loss of many ships.—New York Press.

Jenny's Quick Method.

Jenny's uncle, who was a schoolteacher, met her on the street one beautiful May day and asked her if she was going to the Maypole dance.

"No, I ain't going."

"Oh, my little dear," said her uncle, "you must not say 'I ain't going.' You must say 'I am not going.'" And he proceeded to give her a little lesson in grammar. "You are not going. He is not going. We are not going. You are not going. They are not going. Now, can you say all that, Jenny?"

"Sure, I can," she replied, making a courtesy. "There ain't nobody comes."

AN ACCURATE CLOCK.

The Timepiece in the Observatory of Columbia University.

In the observatory of Columbia university is one of the most accurate clocks in the world. It has run for several months with a mean error of only fifteen-thousandths of a second and a maximum error of thirty-thousandths of a second per day. That means that it does not vary more than half a second a month, or six seconds a year.

Compare this with the first pocket timepiece, the "animated egg of Nuremberg," which required winding twice a day and varied an hour and a half in the same time! Compare it with some of the highest priced watches manufactured today, which often vary more than ten seconds a week, and you will have some idea of the refinements in the science of measuring time. Yet even this accuracy is surpassed by some famous timepieces, if the trade magazines are to be believed. There have been accounts in them of clocks or watches that have varied less than a second in periods as long as ten years.

The clock at the University of Columbia is an astronomical clock. It is surrounded by a glass case in which a partial vacuum is maintained, and in order that the case may not be opened or disturbed the winding is done automatically by electricity. The clock is set up in a room especially constructed to keep it free from jar or vibration. The temperature and barometric conditions are maintained practically constant, and every possible precaution is taken to minimize the errors of the running mate.—New York World.

IT CLEANS THE SHIPS.

In the Aegean sea a vessel may sail into the top of a crater, and, though it is hard to find anchorage there, yet a mere sail through is appreciated greatly by captains, because it cleanses the bottom of the ships from marine growth.

More than 2,000 years ago the isle of Santorin was split in half by an earthquake, with the result that what was once the crater of a volcano is now a crescent shaped harbor. Two glistening white towns of Thera and St. Nicholas are perched on the summit of the steep cliffs, whose dark and dismal hue is similar to that of the top of Vesuvius. Standing out against the sky are large numbers of windmills, with many sails, arranged in a perfect circle. These are evidently employed for crushing the olives, which, along with the terraced vines, are the staple product of the island. The Santorin wine is of excellent quality and is highly appreciated in the Levant.

Between the main island on the east and the smaller, Therasia, on the west, are the three small Kaumene islands, all of which have come into existence since the original earthquake, while the largest of the three was "born from the sea" less than 200 years ago, showing that the center of the old volcano has still a certain amount of activity.

The water in the harbor into which the sulphurous streams from this volcanic island rain has a peculiar property which completely cleans off growths of every kind from the bottom of any ship.

"Real Sporty" Woodsmen.

The chief recreation of the woodsmen of the Puget sound country is to go to town on Saturday nights. As a valley dweller explained: "They've got money, and they just blow it in. That there is the logger style of it. There's no places of amusement in the town. They can go to the library and sit down or go to a hotel and sit down, but that don't suit 'em. No, they either get drunk or go to church. Some take in both. I've seen 'em at church pretty well loaded. 'Bout 'leven or twelve o'clock they start for their camp. Mostly they hire a rig and go eight or ten fellers to a team. Oh, they're sporty! There's nothing too good for the loggers and, take 'em as a whole, they're the best class of men I ever run up against."—Clifton Johnson in Outing Magazine.

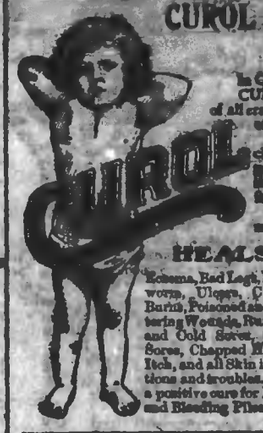
ECZEMA

CUROL is the Reliable Remedy for this Most Tormenting and Irritating Skin Disease.



In CUROL we have the embodiment of the best healing properties known to the medical world. CUROL goes to the root of the difficulty with a determination which is simply marvellous. It first of all eradicates every particle of disease and foreign matter. Having accomplished this, the healing is often only a matter of days.

The healing done by CUROL is well done, for it positively will not heal until the wound is clean and free from impurities. Not so with salves containing Zinc, Mercury, Lard, etc. These poisonous salves may heal quickly, but do a great deal of damage by driving the impurities into the body, causing very serious consequences. You should shun such, and use only a salve free from these harmful minerals. Such a salve is CUROL.

There is a total absence in CUROL of rancid, fatty substances, so often found in cheap ointments, and does not cake, clog or become hard. It is immediately absorbed by the skin, and thus penetrates to the seat of the disease. This fact alone makes CUROL popular. It is pure, and we have no hesitation in saying the best 25 cent salve on the market. We ask you to prove this statement by sending coupons for a free sample. All druggists and Stores sell at 25 cents a box, or postpaid from CUROL SALVE CO., Spadina Avenue, Toronto. 6 boxes $1.25.

HEALS

Eczema, Bad Legs, Ringworm, Ulcers, Cuts, Burns, Poisoned and Festering Wounds, Running and Cold Sores, Scalp Sores, Chapped Hands, Itch, and all Skin irritations and troubles. It is a positive cure for Blind and Bleeding Piles.

Examining Wedding Gifts.

"Women viewing another woman's wedding presents say things which are likely to be misinterpreted," said the bachelor who declares he hates weddings, but always goes when invited, according to the Washington Post, "and other things which no favorable interpretation would make complimentary to the bride or to the givers. It's the way of the sex, I suppose. Now, why is it that the most common remark of the women who are inspecting the layout of silver and cut glass and other gifts more or less useful is, 'What a lot of presents she got!' They don't mean anything unkind, but the inference an uninitiated eavesdropper would draw is that they wonder why she got so many, as if by rights she shouldn't have had half so many. Of course they vary the remark, 'What a lucky girl' says one, as if she would like to add, 'Some persons have too much luck.' And another says, 'I wonder where they all came from,' implying almost as if the bride couldn't have enough friends to make so many gifts and must have lent some of them to herself just to making a showing."

World's Cleanest Soldiers.

The Japanese soldier considers it a disgrace to be dirty. Soldiers of other nationalities are not always overparticular, but, as Mr. Kipling has sung:

Oh, east is east, and west is west, and never the twain shall meet.

However, the Japanese military man is not provided by a grateful and beneficent government with a portable bath, so when on active service he has to set his wits to work in order to obtain the necessary adjuncts to his ablutions.

The Chinese, for reasons of their own, manufacture long and large jars, whose diameter is that of a western main drain. It occurred to a bright Japanese that one might just as well have a bath standing up as lying down.

Accordingly he and his comrades interred a jar, built a furnace beneath it and filled it with water. Soon a boiling hot bath bubbled before them. Imitators sprang into being and subsequently into similar baths.—Bystander.

The Eyes of the Camel.

One of the camels—the seven were lying just beyond the circle of firelight—rose complaining. Mustafa's Ahmed slipped away upon his duty. Presently I heard his guttural cawing to get the camel again to rest, but the beast would not down and must be beaten, the boy meanwhile mouthing great curses. I wondered that a being so small should without peril to himself strike a creature like this with his fist, continuing all the time within reach of teeth and hoofs.

"I will tell the khawaja," replied Mustafa, "a most curious and interesting thing about this."

Ahmed had mastered the camel and now came to his place.

"The khawaja has observed," Mustafa continued, "that a child may beat and command a camel. It is not because the camel is stupid nor yet because he is timid; it is because of a wise provision whereby God suited him to the weakness of men. The camel's eyes are like magnifying glasses and increase the stature of his master seven times, wherefore he is obedient to the gigantic appearing creature."

Etruscan Vases.

The famous Etruscan vases were wrongly named, for, though made in Etruria, they were the productions of Greek genius. They are elegant in form and enriched with bands of beautiful foliage and other ornaments, figures and similar subjects of a highly artistic character. One class has black figures and ornaments on a red ground—the natural color of the clay; another has the figures of the natural color and the ground painted black. The former class belong to a date about 600 B. C., the latter date about a century later and extend over a period of some 300 or 350 years.—New York American.

Where the Cost Comes In.

"Do you find the cost of living any higher in New York than it was in the little old town?"

"No. Living doesn't cost so much more, but a fellow has to pay a big price to keep from getting lonesome."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Labor Lost.

"A man kin allus fix up arguments to quiet his conscience," said Uncle Eben, "but 'tain't no use. No matter how much you turns de clock back, sundown gwinter come just de same."

T. ATKINS, PREVARICATOR.

How He Tries to Escape the C.O.'s C.B.'s.

When Tommy Atkins has temporarily forsaken the paths of righteousness, and finds himself either a "prisoner at large," or, worse still, in the guard-room, he casts about for an excuse. It is so difficult to hit upon one that has the charm of novelty. They have all been used before.

Then there is the temperament of the commanding officer to consider. Some C.O.'s appreciate a clever, plausible yarn; but to others, when the stereotyped question is put "What have you to say, Gunner Smith?" it is the safest plan to answer, "Nothing, sir!"

Probably his offence, or "crime," as it is invariably designated in the service, is a paltry one. He should have been in barracks by tattoo, not being the proud possessor of a permanent pass, and he did not manage to arrive until midnight. Perhaps, instead of coming in by the gate in the orthodox manner, he climbed the wall, and was detected in the act. He will be charged with "Absent from tattoo roll-call until 12 p.m.," and "Breaking into barracks."

One ingenious private, who was accused of these hideous crimes, caused his C.O.'s hair to stand on end by pleading that he was "afraid to waken the sentry."

A dashing Hussar, whose offence was a mere matter of having been five minutes late for parade, offered the following defence:

"Sir, I was passing the married quarters at three minutes to ten, sir, when somebody in the quarters started a gramophone off, sir. It played 'God Save the King,' sir, and I had to stand to attention till it finished. It played the tune through three times without stopping, sir, and consequently I was late for parade. And that's the honest truth, sir!"

WHERE IT IS COLD.

Dr. Moss Tells of Wax Candles Too Cold to Burn.

A person who has never been in the Polar regions can probably have no idea of what cold really is; but by reading the terrible experience of Arctic travelers in that icy region some notion can be formed of the extreme cold that prevails there. When we have the temperature below freezing-point out of doors we think it bitterly cold, and, if our houses were not as warm as, say, 60 degrees above zero, we should begin to talk of freezing. Think, then, of living where the thermometer goes down to 35 degrees below zero in the house, in spite of the stove. Of course, in such a case the fur garments are piled on until a man looks like a great bundle of skins.

Dr. Moss, of the English Polar expedition of 1875 and 1876, among other odd things, tells of the effect of cold on a wax-candle which he burned. The temperature was 35 degrees below zero, and the doctor must have been considerably discouraged when, upon looking at his candle, he discovered that the flame had all it could do to keep warm. It was so cold that the flames could not melt all the wax of the candle, but was forced to eat its way down the candle, leaving a sort of skeleton of the candle standing. There was heat enough, however, to melt oddly-shaped holes in the thin walls of wax, and the result was a beautiful lace-like cylinder of white, with a tongue of yellow flame burning inside of it and sending out into the darkness many streaks of light.

A Democratic Countess.

The name of the Countess of Aberdeen, who has been so assiduous in the care of her brother, Lord Tweedmouth, is synonymous with charitable work. Indeed, it would be difficult to find another lady, either inside or outside the peerage, who was engaged in more charitable enterprises than her ladyship. Her great object in life is the betterment of her sisters' less lucky fate, although for years she has been working to establish attractive tea-houses for workmen in order to draw them away from the temptation of public-houses. Latterly she has devoted her attention to the tuberculosis exhibitions which are being held periodically. The countess, like her husband, is a firm believer in children being taught some useful occupation, no matter what their station in life may be, and that is the reason why her son, Lord Haddo, was brought up to be a practical farmer, while her daughters are trained housekeepers who could dispense with a servant if necessary, or even face the rough life of a colonist without any sense of grievance.

G. B. Shaw Converted.

George Bernard Shaw—A Christian. That is the latest London story that has gained publicity, though as yet undiscussed in the public press. But it seems a fact. For years the greatest modern playright has laughed to scorn the religious orthodoxy which he fought in his plays. He has boasted of Pantheism, defended it in public and by his bitter writings. And now comes the news of a complete turnover. The man who has worked the miracle is Rev. R. J. Campbell, the so-called New Theologian, and pastor of the City Temple, London.

To add the last rivet to the truth of the rumor, Shaw has publicly avowed himself an adherent of Christianity.

One of the canvassers for Orange Meat had the pleasure of calling on you a short time ago and explained their cash annuity plan of advertising Orange Meat.

Although you may not think yourself in a position to win one of their large cash prizes because of the comparatively small quantity of Orange Meat you use, be assured that the winners of these prizes will be persons who commence at once to save and collect the Orange Meat Cartoon bottoms and continue persistently to do so until the closing date on May 31st, next. It is surprising the number that can be collected in a few months, even by light consumers, especially if they get their friends to help them.

If you have not made a start you should do so immediately as your chances are better now than they will be later on.

Orange Meat does not cost any more than other flaked wheat, although it has been proved superior to any of them, by analysis.

NEW CANADIAN NAMES.

Personal Appellations in the West Are Full of Wierd Combinations.

Great in variety, interest, and occasional oddity are the names of the people of Canada's great West. Here an effort is made to commemorate some phase of western life, not infrequently with strange results. An Indian mother near Edmonton heard of the large part being played in the West by the railways and straightway named her youngest "C.P.R." Another, desirous of doing honor to the white man's medicine, conferred upon her firstborn the stylish distinction of "Mary Ann Hood's Sarsaparilla."

It is not so easy, however, to manufacture or adapt the surnames, and this explains the infinite variety of family nomenclature in a country where people come from everywhere and bring their foreign-made names with them.

On the list of members of a Scandinavian hospital board incorporated recently by the Alberta Government are the following: Ole Diedrickson, Knut Gullickson, Nils Schmidt, Evan Olstad, and as many others of the same order. These are tame, almost common-place, however, and may be taken merely by way of introduction.

Winnipeg has a flourishing political club among the Polish young men of the city, and some of its members and officers are these: John Tymchorak, Andrew Dudzinski, M. Gadetzki, and Frank Rebak. A student at Manitoba College last year was Samuel Byzchynski.

One of the notorious personages who figured in Manitoba police circles last winter as a confessed murderer was a Galician by name Wasyl Andrejezuk. The first of these names is a common one among the Galicians.

Goachiem Thosciciniak is pretty nearly a prize-winner which only well-running tongues should attempt. It is another Galician name, found this time in Alberta. Of the same order are these: Gorella Dyspak, Stern Fasczuk, John Rottenfusser, and Alva Siegfried.

The applications for seed grain sent into the Government offices last spring from all over the West were humanly interesting. They revealed such names as these, representing German, Galician, and miscellaneous blood: Jan Kaminski, Yurko Gorawski, Wasel Myglej, Hefor Achtemjckuk, Mike Korelink, Petro Jakemckuk, Geo. Posichulk, Wm. Raddatz, Zedro Abaschach, Fil., Wajtare, Jwan Makowecki, Andrew Holowacz, Mojsey Ewanshuk, Nekefir Gowrelink, Powlo Bojchuk, and Janosiz Andrink.

DEER TURNED HUNTER.

With Leg Broken and Horn Shot Off Buck Make Desperate Charge.

With a bullet through the top of his heart, one horn shot off and one leg broken with other bullets from a 30-30 rifle, a big buck deer actually charged a hunter on Gambier Island, B.C., a few days ago and succeeded in inflicting slight but painful injuries before the animal was finally despatched.

That is the record hunting story which Edgar Waters, a former London, Ont., resident brought from Gambier Island, where he had been spending a fortnight hunting and fishing.

Mr. Waters came upon the deer suddenly in a little gully with a narrow entrance that afforded the only exit. The deer tried first to climb through the brush on the cliff and escape and the first bullet broke its left hind leg. It fell but regained its feet and got the next bullet, as investigation afterwards revealed, through the top of its heart. That did not stop it and as it was turning for a rush through the narrow exit of the gully Mr. Waters aimed at the head and the bullet broke a horn close to the skull. Still the buck kept on and charged right into Mr. Waters, who managed to partly evade the crazed animal and then got a point blank shot into its brain, which finished it.

Paying the Indians.

After five months spent in the vast stretch of country north of Edmonton, during which he traveled about 4,000 miles and paid out about $20,000 in treaty money, Mr. H. A. Conroy, of Ottawa, Indian treaty agent, has returned to Edmonton. He has just completed his ninth annual trip north to pay treaty money to the Indian tribes, according to the bargain made by the Government. Mr. Conroy has been treaty agent for the country north of Edmonton ever since the Government made the arrangement for treaty in 1899. He spends four or five months of every year in the north, and he knows nearly everyone of the 4,000 Indians who receive treaty.

The Indians to whom he paid treaty are divided into two great classes—the Chipewyans and the Crees. The Chipewyans are divided into several local divisions, of course, including the Slaveys, Dog Ribs, Beavers, etc. So far from the Indians dying off, Mr. Conroy declares they are increasing slightly.

How the C.P.R. Washes Shirts.

One of the most interesting features of the Empress Hotel at Victoria is the laundry. Here a white shirt can be washed, dried, starched, and ironed ready to put on in fifteen minutes. The machines are electrically driven, with a separate motor to each machine. There is first the washer, then the shaker, then a shaking table, then a huge mangle, and then the dry room—the clothes being conveyed automatically from one to another. On the great pressing machine the shirt is placed on a pad, and then a huge flat-iron, the size and shape of the bosom of the shirt, descends, and with one mighty squeeze irons the shirt-front. Other machines squeeze and iron the yokes, collar, and cuffs.

Boundary Laid Out.

The survey of the boundary between the Canadian Yukon and Alaska, which has occupied a corps of engineers for two years, is completed. The line between British Columbia and Alaska, as defined by the boundary award, will not be fully located for two years yet.

A KLONDIKE ARTIST.

Morte H. Craig Is a Unique Figure In the Northern Gold Fields.

When the fleet river nag Whitehorse turned tail towards Dawson and headed for the upper river a few weeks ago, a short man with a big smile spread out beneath a sombrero was on the upper deck, and on the lower deck was a cargo of moose and caribou skins. Morte H. Craig, the noted pyrographic artist of the Klondike, was the man, and the cargo of skins were his.

Mr. Craig was moving to Seattle to establish himself for the coming Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, and took all his made-up stock as well as new material. His studio will be located permanently in the new Arctic Club building in that city.

Mr. Craig has been an unique figure in the Klondike for years. In the early days he started with a pencil and a piece of paper, when gold dust was flung across counters like so much sawdust. Gradually his talent became in such demand that he threw aside all his mining and other ventures, and devoted himself exclusively to art. He has evolved the most artistic lines of burnt caribou and moose skin work known.

The illuminated lanterns made by Mr. Craig of Earl Grey, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and President Roosevelt, the full-sized mooseskin panels, and the caribou covers of the kind made for the large book presented to the American Institute of Mining Engineers by the late Dr. A. Varicle were produced by Mr. Craig. Mrs. Craig developed an art here in preservation of wild Yukon flowers, and has taken out a large collection unmounted. She will mount them in Seattle for the Craig studio and the fair. Mrs. Craig went out in August, and made preliminary arrangements for the coming of Mr. Craig.

WILY FOREIGNERS.

Toronto Interpreters Have Invented an Entirely New Graft.

According to the authorities in the Toronto Police Court a brand new and highly remunerative industry is springing up among certain wise persons in that city's foreign colony.

A large part of the afternoon business consists in the hearing of summons cases against foreigners for violations of the city bylaws. When such a one receives the little blue invitation to attend court—and it doesn't pay to disregard said invitation—he naturally hies him to a friend for consolation, and the news that he has got into trouble spreads rapidly.

Then one possessed of the wisdom of the serpent goes to him and tells him that the Police Court is a place where you have to have a thorough command of English, and if you don't have it you get fined. The speaker thereupon volunteers to act as interpreter and is usually accepted, even when the summoned one can speak equally good English.

The point of the whole thing is that an interpreter gets a dollar every time his services are required in the Police Court. These volunteer interpreters usually end up by involving everybody concerned in the case in a hopeless muddle, and then apply for and receive their fee with the pleasant sense of a duty well done.

A Grand Trunk Record.

The Grand Trunk Railway system have again proved their ability in handling traffic for the Canadian Northwest. Three carloads of onions, consisting of 2,000 crates, were despatched by the Allan Line Royal mail steamer Victorian, which sailed from Liverpool on Aug. 28 last. They were discharged at Montreal on Saturday, Sept. 5, and re-forwarded over the Grand Trunk Railway, lake and rail route, arriving at Winnipeg, early on the morning of the 14th ult., delivery being given to the consignees in first-class condition on the same day. The Grand Trunk Railway system own and operate a splendid fleet of steamers on Lakes Huron, Michigan, and Superior, furnishing rapid transit at minimum rates. What is termed the all-rail service, at higher rates, usually occupies from nineteen to twenty-one days, from Liverpool to Winnipeg—a proof of the fine service attained by the lake and rail route.

Railway Architecture.

The new Empress Hotel at Victoria, B.C., has proved so popular that plans are already in preparation for the addition of a wing. This is, perhaps, the most English in appearance of all the Canadian Pacific hotels, just as Victoria is the most English as well as the most westerly city in Canada. The interior of the building, especially the hall, was designed on the model of an old English country mansion. The Chateau Frontenac at Quebec is another of those gigantic Canadian caravanserai for which extensions are in view. When these are carried out, the edifice will be about six times the size of the Ritz—rather a surprise to those who think that Canada is inhabited only by farmers and emigrants.

THE REAL AUTHOR.

Mary Cholmondeley's Revelations Concerning Her Craft.

Miss Mary Cholmondeley, the distinguished English novelist, has some interesting revelations concerning her craft in The Pall Mall Magazine. "I have," she says, "been writing books for five-and-twenty years, novels of which I believe myself to be the author, in spite of the fact that I have been assured over and over again that they are not my own work. When I have on several occasions ventured to claim them, I have seldom been believed, which seems the more odd, as when others have claimed them they have been believed at once. Before I put my name to them they were invariably considered to be, and reviewed as, the work of a man; and for years after I put my name to them various men have been mentioned to me as the real author. I remember once, when I was very young and shy, how at one of my first London dinner-parties a charming elderly man discussed one of my earlier books with such appreciation that I at last remarked that I had written it myself. If I had looked for a surprised flash of delight at the fact that so much talent was palpitating in white muslin beside him, I was doomed to be disappointed. He gravely and gently said, 'I know that to be untrue,' and the conversation was turned to other subjects. One man did indeed actually announce himself to be the author of 'Red Pottage' in the presence of a large number of people, including the late Mr. William Sharp, who related the occurrence to me. But the incident ended uncomfortably for the claimant, which one would have thought he might have foreseen."

FIRST LADY MAYOR.

High Wycombe, one of the most picturesque towns in Buckinghamshire, has hitherto been chiefly famous as the centre of the chair-making industry. It will in future be pointed to as the first town which had the courage to nominate a lady as its mayor.

This honor has been paid to Miss Dove, the headmistress of the well-known Wycombe Abbey School for Girls, and as she has accepted the nomination within a short time the deliberations of the corporation of High Wycombe will be presided over by a lady, the first in England to hold such a position.

Miss Dove has always been in favor of women taking their due share upon the different local governing bodies in the country; and when last year women were made eligible to serve on town councils she was keenly desirous that women with experience and ability should be public-spirited enough to come forward. When it was suggested to her that she herself should stand in the borough with which her great educational enterprise has so long been connected, she willingly consented, and on Nov. 1 last year was triumphantly returned at the head of the poll for the East Central Ward, in which her school is situated.

Her experience as a town councillor only served to convince her yet more strongly of the importance of the work in local government which women are specially fitted to perform. She served on the hospital and the health committees, taking a special interest in the efforts to reduce infant mortality, and also on the library committee.

Deadly Drinking Feat.

An inquest was held at Sheffield, England, recently on George Redgate, aged 61, a miner, of Handsworth, near Sheffield, who drank a bottle of whisky for a wager.

Redgate was heard to remark that he could eat as much tripe as would make him a suit of clothes and a top coat, and that he "could sup a pint of whisky in twenty-five minutes."

The bottle of whisky was brought, and three men offered to pay for it if Redgate could carry out his boast. He did this easily, drinking the whisky in four minutes. He had to be helped home, where he lay for a day unconscious, and afterwards developed gastritis, which ended in death from heart failure.

The coroner remarked that the object of such a foolish wager — now rarer than formerly—was usually to have a laugh at the victim's expense.

To Suffer From Headaches Makes Life Miserable.

It takes a person that has had or is subject to headaches to describe the suffering which attends them.

The majority of cases are caused by constipation and dyspepsia. The dull throbbings, the intense pain, sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then over the whole head, varying in its severity by the cause which brings it on, purely indicates that there is something the matter with the stomach or bowels. To the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters reaches every part of the system is due its success in relieving and permanently curing headache. It has proven a specific for the malady in all its forms.

CONSTIPATION AND HEADACHES.

Mrs. Allison E. Brown, Summerfield, N.B., writes:—"I have been troubled with Constipation and Headaches for a long time. After trying different doctors to no effect, a friend asked me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I find I am completely cured after taking three bottles. I can safely recommend it to all."

An Indian Summer Romance.

By MARGARET FOX.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

It had not been an eventful summer for Marion Leigh. She knew it would not be when she saw it looming up in all its inevitability—an invalid aunt, an isolated mountain retreat and herself in the dual role of nurse and companion.

But she was wise enough to recognize the time old truth that "beggars cannot be choosers" and to accept it graciously. As a dependent orphan she had little voice in the ordering of her own career.

But now as she watched the leaves falling silently, somberly, and thought over the long, tedious days she had lived through and the longer and more tedious ones to come her bright courage seemed all at once to leave her.

The proverbial melancholy of the season controlled her moud, and she became introspective.

There had been just one bit of brightness that stood out as a relief against the dreary background of that monotonous summer, and whether she was glad or sorry for it Marion herself hardly knew.

She had welcomed Bruce Wolcott's coming with spontaneous delight, not because it had any special significance for her, but because he stood for all that she had known of youth and freedom and jollity, of which there was so little now in her surroundings, so much still in her natural makeup.

But Wolcott had proved more than merely young and care free and jolly as she remembered him; he was alertly sympathetic and unfailingly generous.

In recalling the many thoughtful, sweet things he had done for her Marion refused to blame herself for misinterpreting them as acts significant of deeper purpose.

The change had come almost in a day, it seemed to her now. It was not that his generosity ceased, but the personal note that had come so near transforming kindness into love had suddenly dropped out of it.

"YOU MAY READ THE END OF THE STORY —MARION."

The comparatively cold courtesy that was left chilled Marion's heart. Her pride nevertheless forced her to accept it as if she noticed no difference.

Her lips trembled now as she felt again the bitterness of the disappointment and the resignation, but she knew that she must not give way utterly. For that, for surrender to unhappiness and despair, there was no time or place allotted in her life's schedule. She must be always ready, always cheerful, always self effaced.

With characteristic determination she attempted to turn her thoughts into other channels, but after reading a few pages in the book she had brought with her out under the trees she closed it with emphatic disapproval.

"I could write a better story myself," was her mental comment. And she was soon deeply engrossed in the experiment.

Some three or four hours later in the day, on his customary way to inquire after Marion's invalid aunt, Wolcott came upon the book and the loose sheets of paper carelessly slipped into it, or, rather, slipping out of it, for the wind was fluttering the leaves energetically.

A chance phrase or two caught his attention. He read on without stopping to think of the breach of etiquette that he was committing, and then, having read through to the last, he turned back to the beginning.

It was an idyllic little fancy.

"In childhood he had been her playmate," Wolcott read. "Whenever she skipped over the green of the fields it was with her hand tight clasped in his. If she slipped on the smooth cross stones in the brook he pulled her up with a jerk, and they both laughed at her dripping little figure. The other children didn't hear him laugh, to be sure. In fact, they didn't know him, because they never saw him. The little girl kept him all to herself, afraid to let any one else suspect his existence.

"They often wondered—the poor, blind, unimaginative other children—why she liked to play so much by herself. Of course he always walked by her side when they went to school—at first adorably shy, just tagging on behind; later, growing bolder and encouraged by the little girl, he carried her books with a swaggering air of possession that delighted her heart.

"But for some inexplicable reason as the boy's shyness gradually evolved into an attitude of debonair cocksureness the girl lost all her daring and assertiveness. She no longer took the lead. In fact, in no time at all she found herself following his lead, sometimes with a meekness of which she was wholly unconscious and again with a strange mingling of fear and tumultuous happiness that proclaimed him master of her heart.

"But the boy because his power had come to him so easily was careless of it. Besides, there were so many other things that were more worth while. He told the girl about some of them boastingly, expecting her to share his enthusiasm. And because she seemed to him indifferent and no longer a comrade interested in the same things of life he sought her less and less frequently, and at length they drifted quite apart.

"But the girl never forgot. She followed his career from afar and was proud of all his successes. Yet, much as she admired and reverenced the man, in her heart it was the boy whose image she treasured. She still imagined him with her, sharing her keen delight in every bit of beauty that she chanced upon, holding her hand tight whenever the turbulent waters came near sweeping her on with them.

"If the man ever remembered"—

And here the fine spun fancy came to a full stop owing probably to some sudden interruption.

For a few minutes Wolcott sat absorbed in deep thought. So she did love him after all! And what he had overheard her tell her aunt coming suddenly along by her open window one day had been all a part of her daily heroism. Her lips had said: "No, auntie; I do not love him. He is only just a friend. He can never mean anything more to me." But her heart had said—

He reread the last part of the confession and then, taking out his pencil, wrote hurriedly.

"If the man ever remembered," he began, continuing the thread of the story, "it was no wonder what had become of his jolly little playmate and to try to recall what it was that had separated them. He was glad that he had done big things, and, although while he was doing them he did not stop to analyze his motive or his inspiration, he knew afterward that he had done them for her in the hope that she might hear of them and be proud. And after they were done and he had earned a breathing space he knew that he should never do anything more worth while until he should find her again and have her near him always to love and to worship.

"He yearned for a warm clasp of her little hand and the sound of her laughter. What a fool he had been to let such priceless possessions pass when they were his for the taking! Would it be possible to regain them now? Would she forgive him and love him and enshrine him again as master of her heart?"

"Oh, I—I didn't realize you were here," Marion was saying in almost stammering confusion. "I came out to get a book I left here this morning."

"Yes, I found it," Bruce acknowledged awkwardly, the written sheets scattered in telltale fashion about him.

"You didn't dare"— began Marion, blushing and turning white and blushing again in a way that kept Wolcott staring at her in fascinated admiration.

"Yes, I did, but I'll play fair," he answered, smiling at her with all his old engaging frankness. "You may read the end of the story—Marion. I took the liberty of finishing it."

He watched her closely while she read it and noticed, with a great bounding of joy in his heart, how her hand trembled as she came to the last words.

"But it isn't finished, is it?" she asked gently after a little pause.

"You are the only one who knows, dear," he answered tenderly. "Am I by any chance the little boy in your heart—the boy you've always loved, Marion?"

He was holding her hand now, and he felt the sudden tightening of her clasp.

"The boy I've always loved," she answered softly, "and—the master of my heart."

Photographing the Deaf.

"That isn't a good picture," said the photographer, with an air of apology. "The man was deaf."

"How can that infirmity affect the picture?" asked the visitor.

"It gives his face a tense, strained look," the photographer explained. "All deaf persons have that expression when placed before a camera. They sit with their heads tilted forward and eyebrows uplifted, as if waiting for the command to look pleasant. Generally, I suppose, that is what they are waiting for, but even after I have given the order their muscles refuse to relax.

"'What's that?' asks the deaf man when he sees my lips move.

"'Look pleasant?' I shout again.

"'Oh!' says he.

"He takes his hands from behind his ear and tries to assume a beaming countenance, but he only compromises on a fixed glare. None of the devices known to the photographic trade can dispel that. In fact, the more 'business' I introduce to charm my subject into a joyful state the more rigid his facial muscles become. He is listening always for further instructions. Whether they come or not, the look of expectancy is there. For that reason the deaf are the hardest people in the world to photograph. If an artist's reputation depended upon the pictures he makes of them he would soon be obliged to go out of business."—Philadelphia Leader.

HALLEY'S COMET.

Our most important visitor from outer space, like gigantic Halley's comet, is now within measurable distance (astronomically speaking) of the earth and is speeding steadily nearer at the rate of some thousand miles a minute.

Its advent will afford this generation the most wonderful sidereal sight it is ever likely to witness, and in some quarters of the globe it is likely to cause acute alarm.

Already the scaremongers are busy. The Abbe Dupin and the famous Professor Falb have both predicted its collision with the earth, though at different dates.

This is consoling so far as it goes, for obviously they cannot both be right. Moreover, it may be as well to remember for our peace of mind that this Professor Falb is the selfsame "scientist of worldwide repute" who foretold the destruction of the world by Biela's comet on Nov. 13, 1899, while the Abbe Dupin prophesied a similar catastrophe in relation to a comet that should have appeared (but did not) in 1896.

That a wandering comet may some day strike the earth is, however, astronomers say, by no means unlikely, although they are not in agreement as to what would happen as the result of such an eventuality or whether, indeed, anything would "happen" at all.

The narrowest "escape" we ever had, it may be mentioned, was in 1832, when the Biela's comet mentioned above was timed to cross the earth's orbit at a distance of only 20,000 miles. Luckily it put in an appearance some four weeks before it was due and when the earth was consequently distant more than 40,000,000 miles from what would otherwise have been the "point of contact."—Pearson's Weekly.

A Leading Question.

Superintendent McLaren of San Francisco's system of public parks was inspecting the work of restoring Union square to its former beauty, now that the little St. Francis has been removed.

"I'm for heavin' this un out. It's a bum little bush," remarked a gardener with a brogue.

"Which one?" inquired McLaren. "You don't mean this beautiful little Scotch heather? All it needs is more water and it will grow as tall as you are."

"You're not very tall yourself, Mr. McLaren."

"Not extraordinarily so."

"I say, Mr. McLaren," reflected the gardener thoughtfully, "did you ever try water yourself?"—San Francisco Chronicle.

Safety For Jewelry Stores.

In view of the increased number of jewelry robberies the Jewelers' Security alliance is urging upon the trade the use of a new and effective thief catching device. The contrivance consists of a lever hidden behind the counter and operated by the foot. By pushing this lever the door of the store is locked through the operation of a bolt at the bottom. The apparatus connects also with a large gong placed outside over the door, which is sure to attract the attention of passers-by to the entrapped thief. A Philadelphia jeweler, says the Jewelers' Circular, used a similar appliance recently with successful results.

Criticises the Aeroplane.

It is declared by the Voisin brothers of Paris that the Wright aeroplane can never have any value for practical purposes. They remark that the Wright aeroplane is the monocycle of aviation. Any one can work a tricycle within half an hour. One can learn to ride a bicycle in a few hours, but to ride a monocycle takes a long time and the native gifts of the acrobat. So the Wright aeroplane will never be anything but a "bird for amateurs and sportsmen." The Voisin brothers believe in their "triplanes" on account of their stability.

A Coffin of Matchboxes.

For the last ten years William Biddulph Cross of Crook street, Chester, England, who died recently, was engaged in the construction of his own coffin, made of empty matchboxes. It is of the ordinary shape, and much patience and skill have been bestowed on it. There is, of course, an inner shell of wood, on to which the matchboxes are glued, and as there are some 500 matchboxes on the lid alone the total on the coffin must run into several thousands.—London Tit-Bits.

Age of the Great Pyramid.

Considerable interest has been aroused among archaeologists by the announcement of Father Guicheteau, a French priest and a well known Egyptologist, that he has made further discoveries with regard to the building of the pyramid of Cheops on the west bank of the Nile which establish beyond doubt the date of its construction as 3324 B. C.—African World.

All His Life Without a Holiday.

George Hayward, aged ninety-one, who has just died at Needham Market, lived nearly all his life in the same house. He never had a day's holiday and never saw the sea. Hayward was formerly in business as a butcher, and he was in the habit of wearing an apron at church on Sundays beneath his frock coat.—London Mail.

In memory of Kate Greenaway, the artist famed for her quaint pictures of children, a cot has been placed in a ward of a London hospital.

A Busy Ten Dollar Bill.

Mr. Brown keeps a boarding house. Around the table sat his wife, Mrs. Brown; the village milliner, Mrs. Andrews; Mr. Black, the baker; Mr. Jordan, a carpenter, and Mr. Hadley, a flour, feed and lumber merchant. Mr. Brown took $10 out of his pocket and handed it to Mrs. Brown with the remark that there was $10 toward the $20 he promised her. Mrs. Brown handed the bill to Mrs. Andrews, the milliner, saying, "That pays for my new bonnet." Mrs. Andrews in turn passed it to Mr. Jordan, remarking that it would pay for the carpenter work he had done for her." Mr. Jordan handed it to Mr. Hadley, requesting his receipted bill for flour, feed and lumber. Mr. Hadley gave the bill back to Mr. Brown, saying, "That pays $10 on my board." Mr. Brown again passed it to his wife, remarking that he had now paid her the $20 he had promised her. She in turn paid Mr. Black to settle her bread and pastry account. Mr. Black handed it to Mr. Hadley, asking credit for the amount on his flour account. Mr. Hadley again passed it to Mr. Brown, with the remark that it settled for that month's board, whereupon Mr. Brown put it back into his pocket, observing that he had not supposed a greenback would go so far.—Osceola (Ia.) Sentinel.

New Plant Holder.

or a fern is seen in the illustration. The basket is colored a dull bronze green. A well grown maidenhair fern of a very light green shade fitted in a basket of this description looks uncommonly well on a breakfast table and is so much more novel than the ordinary china flowerpot. The coloring of the basket being so artistic, care should always be taken to have nice fresh green moss daintily placed on the top of the basket. These trifles add so much to the general effect.

Tools For Sewing Room.

No one can accomplish good results in any kind of work if she has not the proper tools with which to work. If the sewing room is furnished neatly and comfortably twice the amount of work can be accomplished. One of the absolute necessities for every sewing room is a small kitchen table painted white. Into the drawer may be put scissors, chalk, tape measures and other small articles that are indispensable in the sewing room. This table can be used to lay the goods on while cutting out garments, and it will be found a great help when it comes to basting seams and hems of skirts and other garments.

The sewing room should be furnished with a low chair for use when at the sewing machine, as a high chair is most uncomfortable, making one lean over and strain the back. A large mirror also is necessary, for when one is fitting one's own clothes this will be found most convenient. A great many steps will be saved if a roomy waste-basket, a dustpan and broom are also kept handy.

Care of the Hands.

This is the time of year to commence taking care of the hands to make them less susceptible to chapping, etc. Each night before retiring rub into the hands some cold cream (lard will do as well) to remove all the grime that may have accumulated during the day. Remove the cream that has not been absorbed by the pores and wash thoroughly with plenty of soap and water. Then rub into the hands all the glycerin and rosewater they will absorb. This treatment should be continued daily for some time, and they will always be soft, clean and white.

Princess's Unique Present.

Princess Alexander of Teck received what is probably a unique gift when she recently opened the new block of class-rooms at Haileybury College. It took the form of a gold key, part of which can be worn as a brooch, and was handed to her by the head boy, whilst the youngest boy in the school presented her with a bouquet.

In honor of the princess's visit, and at her request, the boys are to have an extra week's holiday.

Annual Cost of a Soldier.

Mr. Haldane informed Mr. Wilfrid Ashley in the British House of Commons recently that the average annual cost of a cavalryman is $310, and of an infantryman $266.50.

Jury at the Theater.

An unusual spectacle was witnessed at the Theater Royal, Nelson, Auckland, when the jury, who had been locked up three nights because they could not agree to a verdict in a murder case, were allowed to witness a living picture display. They had expressed a desire to attend the theater as a relief, and the judge consented.—Auckland News.

A Work Maker.

"Binks is weak financially, isn't he?"

"He hasn't much money, but he gives employment to a great many men."

BIG FIRES IN DOMINION.

List of Disasters Where Property Loss Was Million or More.

In sixty-three years Canada has had sixteen conflagrations where the property damage was one million dollars or more. The list is as follows:

May 28, 1845, Quebec—Over 100 houses burnt and 20 lives lost; property loss, $1,000,000.

June 28, 1845, Quebec—1,200 houses burnt and 40 lives lost; property loss, $1,500,000.

July 8, 1852, Montreal—Nearly 1,000 houses burnt and 15,000 people rendered homeless; property loss, $5,000,000.

Oct. 16, 1866, Quebec—2,500 houses, 17 convents and churches in St. Roche and St. Saveur destroyed and 18,000 people rendered homeless; property loss, $3,000,000.

May 30, 1870, Quebec—700 dwellings destroyed in St. Louis Ward and 5,000 people rendered homeless; property loss, $300,000.

June 18, 1876, St. Johns, Quebec—The business section of the city (Richelieu and Champlain streets) destroyed; property loss, $2,500,000.

Sept. 3, 1876, St. Hyacinthe, Quebec—80 stores, three banks and 500 other buildings destroyed; property loss, $1,250,000.

June 20, 1877, St. John, N.B.—The entire business section of the city, extending over an area of 600 acres, destroyed; property loss, $13,500,000.

June 8, 1881, Quebec—800 houses burned and over 1,200 families rendered homeless, St. John's Ward; property loss, $2,000,000.

Oct. 17, 1897, Windsor, N.S.—The greater portion of the town destroyed, including a large number of dwellings; property loss, $1,000,000.

Sept. 11, 1898, New Westminster, B.C.—The business section of the town entirely destroyed; property loss, $2,000,000.

April 26, 1900, Ottawa-Hull—Fire broke out in Hull, destroying two-thirds of the town; jumped across the river to Ottawa, destroying most of the property in the Chaudiere lumber district; 1,000 houses were burnt besides mills and factories and many million feet of lumber. Seven lives were lost and 15,000 people rendered homeless; property loss, $7,500,000.

Jan. 23, 1900, Montreal—The new Board of Trade building, erected at a cost of $600,000, and a number of wholesale houses on St. Paul and St. Peter streets destroyed; property loss, $2,500,000.

April 19-20, 1904, Toronto—Wholesale district destroyed, extending from Wellington street to Front street; property loss, $13,500,000.

June 22, 1908, Three Rivers, Quebec—Conflagration in business and older residential section; property loss, $3,000,000.

Aug. 1-3, 1908, Fernie, B.C., and surrounding districts—Forest fire devastated Elk River valley district for an area extending 30 miles in length by two to ten in width. Town of Fernie practically wiped out and serious damage done to other towns and to lumbering, railroad and mining industries; property loss, $4,000,000.

A FICKLE RIDING.

St. John, N.B., Is Constituency That Never Does Same Thing Twice.

St. John, N.B., is the most fickle constituency in Canada. The electors there have hardly voted the same way twice consecutively since Confederation. To-day, we see the return of the Minister of Public Works by seven hundred majority, where four years ago a like majority went to the Conservative, Dr. Stockton. In 1900, Mr. Blair defeated Mr. Foster by over 1,000, and four years later Dr. Daniel reversed this verdict, both in kind and quantity. Some of the leading men have been quite as changeable as the masses. A few of them are governed by no rule, others take care to follow "whatsoever king may reign."

A story was going the rounds down there a few days ago concerning a prominent public man whose daughter was at boarding school when an election came on. Her father had changed his allegiance several times, as she was aware, and just then she wasn't quite sure where he stood. So she wrote home: "Please tell me what father is now. The girls are all talking politics, and I want to know which side I am on."

Coal Mines Busy.

News from North Sydney says that never before in the history of the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Co. has such activity prevailed as at present. For the first time in the annals of the company have they been obliged to send over their own vessels to the piers of the Dominion Coal Co. to secure cargo. So rushed have been the miners at the company's areas at Sydney Mines that the steamer Wasis could not be loaded in time, and therefore had to be sent to the International Pier. The first inward-bound liner was the Elder-Dempster Dahomey, followed by the Sokoto. Both received bunker. Afterwards came the ocean liner Conway, then the Woburn and the Therese. But to the Scotia's chartered steamer Wacousta belongs the pennant for quick despatch boats and rapid sailers. As soon as she anchored every one of the fourteen shutes were in motion, pouring coal into her hold at the rate of 1,100 tons per consecutive hour. In five hours the Wacousta was away from the pier, with her 5,500 tons, en route to Montreal. This beats all records in this the largest coal shipping port in Canada.

Treed by Bears.

William Lynch, a Bruce Peninsula farmer, recently found six bears after his sheep. While trying to drive them away they turned on him and he was forced to take refuge in a tree, but before he got up one of the bears took a nip out of the calf of his leg. After being in the tree for some time a neighbor came to his assistance, and shot three of the bears, the others getting away.

Exercise solely will cure sleeplessness, and food that is easily digested should be eaten.

Smilage.

Nervous Traveler (to seat companion)—How fast should you say you were traveling?

Companion (who has been flirting with the girl across the way)—About a smile a minute.—Life.

LAUNCHING AT COLLINGWOOD.

New Steamship Hamonic Is Floated With Great Ceremony.

Collingwood, Nov. 27.—The steamer Hamonic was successfully launched at 2.30 p.m. yesterday. In the absence of Miss Hays, daughter of Chas. M. Hays of Montreal, Mrs. Gildersleeve, wife of H. H. Gildersleeve, manager of the Northern Navigation Co., broke the customary bottle of champagne as the Hamonic sped on the ways to her first submersion in Georgian Bay.

Over 10,000 people witnessed the launching and it will be held as a memorable event in the history of Collingwood. The town took a day off for the occasion, and for hours before the time named thousands were grouped in and around the yards. Many visitors arrived via special train, prominent in transportation and railway circles.

After Mrs. Gildersleeve had officially named the new ship, the crash of the bottle was the signal to cut the fastenings and the great vessel of steel plunged into the water at exactly 2.30 o'clock. The launching took place without a hitch, under the superintendence of Joseph Smith. The whistles of all the boats in the harbor and buildings throughout the town were vigorously blown in honor of the occasion.

In the tremendous beakwash caused floating timbers were tossed violently about and an Italian had his ankle broken by a section of planking.

When the Hamonic, which is named after President Hammond of the Northern Navigation Co., joins the fleet of that company next June, it will be the fastest and most up-to-date vessel in the Canadian service.

PORT ARTHUR TRIALS.

Argument of Lawyers Delays Proceedings In Election Cases.

Port Arthur, Nov. 27.—The election conspiracy charges against J. W. Armstrong, J. Hubert and R. Leiben, jointly proceeded yesterday, but slowly, on account of vigorous objections and technicalities of defending Counsel Cassels, Dowler and Kenny.

Poll Clerk Harry Hogarth testified that he and Jim Horrigan were to gather up men in Port Arthur, while J. W. Armstrong was delegated to similar duties in Fort William.

Arnett and Tomlinson, minors, already convicted of impersonation, told of gratuitous supplies of liquor and cigars on the train.

Witnesses told of J. Hubert, outside scrutineer, telling them when and how often they were to go in to the poll. Inside they were coached by Deputy Returning Officer Lethen, how to vote for Conmee, Liberal candidate. Arnett further said he only voted after being urged and then after being coached, to vote for Conmee had deliberately marked his ballot for Keefer.

Tomlinson testified that he had voted three times for Conmee and once for Keefer. He stated that a man named Seymour cast eight votes during the day.

Poll Clerk Hogarth told of Bert Newton, Conservative scrutineer from another poll, during the day discovering the state of affairs, and during the evening Newton asked $2,000 to keep quiet. This latter part Newton denies.

Hamilton Unemployed Parade.

Hamilton, Nov. 27.—Because the Board of Works did not pass a by-law Wednesday night allowing the Cataract Railways access to the barns, the company is building, the company yesterday morning stopped the work, and threw some 130 laborers out of employment. The laborers paraded the streets with a placard saying that the action of the council had thrown 400 men out of work. Mayor Stewart, Ald. McLaren and other members of the council said that such tactics would not stampede them.

May Recall Ambassador.

Vienna, Nov. 27.—If the Turkish boycott of Austrian trade does not cease by Dec. 2, Marquis Pallacini, the Austrian ambassador, will leave Constantinople. Negotiations concerning Bosnia and Herzegovina will cease also and a charge d'affaires will be appointed.

Reschid Pasha, the newly-appointed Turkish ambassador, will not be here for some months and it is thought Turkey is stiffening her attitude towards the two provinces.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—Receipts of live stock at the City Market, as reported by the railways for Wednesday and Thursday, were 132 carloads, consisting of 1446 cattle, 5509 hogs, 1662 sheep and lambs, with 35 calves.

Exporters.

None on sale; at least, there were no loads, and, what is more, we did not hear of any cattle selling at 5 per cwt. since Monday at the Union Stock Yards. There were no sales of exporters reported, excepting a few bulls, and they were not in demand, the best bull selling at $4 per cwt., which weighed 1790 lbs.

Butchers.

The pick of the market sold at $4.40 and $4.50; the best loads, $4 to $4.25 per cwt., and there were few loads went over $4; medium, $3.60 to $3.90; common, $3.50 to $3.60; canners and bologna bulls, $1 to $2.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. & W. Murby report a small run in this line this week with prices ranging about same as last week, altho trade was a little brisker. Messrs. Murby bought about 250 head this week at following quotations: Best feeders, 950 to 1100 lbs. each, at $3.65 to $4 per cwt.; best feeders, 800 to 900 lbs. each, at $3.35 to $3.75; stockers, 600 to 700 lbs. each, at $2.90 to $3.15; common and medium stockers, 500 to 600 lbs. each, at $1.75 to $2.30.

Milkers and Springers.

Deliveries of milkers and springers were moderate, and for the first time in several months the market could not be called brisk. Also high prices were still paid, but as a rule quotations were from $5 to $8 per head cheaper owing to light demand from Montreal and Quebec. Prices ranged, as a rule, from $40 to $60, with two or three cows at $65; common cows, $30 to $35 each.

Veal Calves.

Receipts light, with prices unchanged at $3 to $6 per cwt., with $6.25 to $6.50 for two or three milk-fed.

Sheep and Lambs.

A moderate run of about 1700 sheep and lambs caused the market to be from 10c to 15c per cwt. firmer for the two days. Export ewes sold at $3.25 to $3.40 per cwt.; rams, $2 to $2.50 per cwt.; lambs, $4.25 to $4.50, with select lots of ewes and wethers at $4.60 to $4.65 per cwt.

Hogs.

Receipts for the two days were large—5500 from all sources. Mr. Harris reported selects at $6.25 fed and watered, and lights $6 at the market.

Cheese Markets.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Nov. 26.—Offerings to-day 391 white and 45 colored; 11c to 11 1-16c bid. None sold. Board adjourned to meet April 17, 1909.

KINGSTON, Nov. 26.—At the final meeting to-day of the Frontenac Cheese Board, some 714 boxes were offered and 189 were sold at 11c to Mr. Kerr.

Britain's Big Drink Bill.

London, Nov. 27.—(C. A. P.)—The Lord Bishop of London, advocating the second reading of the Licensing Bill, said that last year Sir Wilfrid Laurier and indeed all Canadians were horrified at the extent of the British drink bill. In proportion to the population Canada drank only one-quarter what the Mother Country did. In America women never entered the public houses.

The Times points out that the bishop does not seem to have taken any account of the difference in the price of liquors here, where drinkers contribute largely to the revenue, and in Canada.

Good System In Canada.

London, Nov. 27.—In reference to the statement of the Premier of South Australia regarding the vacant governorship of the state, namely, "There is no position of honor in South Australia which should be regarded as beyond the reach of our most distinguished citizens," the Earl of Crewe states that, if Australians desire to adopt the Canadian system, the Imperial Government would probably be disposed to agree.

Accidents In October.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—Of the 241 industrial accidents occurring in October, according to the Department of Labor's report, 79 were fatal, which is 23 less than the previous month and 61 less than in October of last year. The non-fatal accidents numbered 162, which was 8 more than the preceding month and 144 less than October last year.

Halbert Dies of Burns.

Brantford, Nov. 27.—George Halbert, injured here on Wednesday by an explosion of a torch lamp, succumbed to his injuries yesterday afternoon. Halbert endeavored to refill the lamp with oil without extinguishing the light.

Burglars Make Sweep.

Montreal, Nov. 27.—Burglars made such a clean sweep in the house of Wilfrid Potvin two nights ago that when the family returned they had to go to a hotel to sleep. Even the bedding was taken.

Lake Superior Branch Open.

Winnipeg, Nov. 27.—The opening of the new Lake Superior branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has been set for to-day.

SALOONS RESPONSIBLE.

Governor Chambers Says They Are to Blame For His Prisoners.

Toronto, Nov. 27.—The charities and corrections convention had an interesting meeting yesterday. Officers were elected, Hon. W. J. Hanna being chosen honorary president.

Dr. Bruce Smith in the course of his address said that some houses of refuge in Ontario were "a disgrace." Dr. C. B. Charters of Chatham urged that separate wings should be built for insane inmates.

Col. Rolmore of the Salvation Army spoke on reclaiming ex-prisoners. Dr. Chambers said that the saloons were responsible for nearly all the people who came under his charge.

Mr. S. I. Sullivan, superintendent of the Mercer, complained that people did not look upon the institution as a reformatory. When women left there they were looked upon by many as incorrigible. He suggested the need of a female probation office. Capt. Fease spoke on the ex-convict as one who could be reclaimed and cited a number of cases.

There was an interesting discussion as to hospitals, and Mr. John Ross Robertson stated that the hospital for sick children did not receive enough from the public for its maintenance. It was not the wealthy, he said, but principally the people of small means who maintained the hospitals.

BROCKVILLE MAKES MONEY.

Town's Municipal Lighting Plant Proves Huge Success.

Brockville, Nov. 27.—The annual report of the board of commissioners of the Brockville Light and Power Department for the past year shows another period of successful operation.

The revenue from gas, electricity, etc., amounted to $51,063.80 and the working expenses $32,967.62.

The debenture debt of the plant was reduced $7,014.08. There was also paid in debenture interest $5,096.16, and, allowing $5,190.42 for depreciation, the department made a net profit of $1,525.50. Not a single dollar was lost in bad debts.

During the eight years since the town purchased the plant, in addition to meeting the running expenses and debenture interest out of the revenue, the commissioners have reduced the debenture debt $43,856.64 and written off a considerable sum each year for depreciation. The interest item alone reached the sum of $39,539.04. The actual net profits for the eight years were $9,977.25. The price of gas has been reduced from $2 to $1, 72 1-2 net per 1,000 cubic feet for both illuminating and fuel, and the price of electricity reduced 50 per cent.

Capt. Maitland Killed.

Kingston, Nov. 27.—Capt. John R. Maitland, aged 44, fell from a ladder on the steamer Business last night and was killed. His body struck the side of the dock, and then fell into the water. He was troubled with heart disease. It was his intention to quit the lake for good at the end of this season.

Two Hit by Train.

Welland, Nov. 27.—Mrs. William Gowdy of Buffalo and her granddaughter, Marion Hatt, six years old, daughter of H. L. Hatt, Welland, were seriously injured by being struck by a Grand Trunk freight train here yesterday.

Will Re-Wed Beal.

New York, Nov. 27.—The World's Paris correspondent cables: Princess Helie de Sagan, formerly Miss Anna Gould, of New York, will apply for a separation within two months and will sooner or later re-wed her first husband, Count Boni de Castellance. The World is informed on high authority.

Rich Cargo of Sealskins.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 27.—With silk valued at nearly a million dollars and a valuable shipment of sealskins and sea otter pelts, taken by Japanese sealers valued at another half million, the steamer Glenfarg of the C. P. R. fleet arrived yesterday with a rich cargo of 3,262 tons.

Roberts Loses Suit.

Port Arthur, Nov. 27.—Mr. Justice Britton yesterday morning dismissed the case of Roberts v. the City with costs.

Therefore the street railway system will continue under joint ownership and operation. Thirty days' stay was granted for appeal.

To Leave Water In Canal.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—In order to provide protection against fire, the city will ask the Minister of Railways to allow the water to remain in the Rideau Canal for a month later than usual. Owing to low water in the Ottawa river the pressure continues to be very low.

Perjury Charge Fails.

Brockville, Nov. 27.—At the Police Court yesterday, Don. J. McLennan was discharged on a charge of perjury for taking the oath in the recent election.

THE word "OXOL" does not mean one food or one preparation. No "OXOL" is a name given to all goods for horses, cattle, swine and sheep, prepared by Messrs. S. K. and T. C. Windsor, of Australia, New Zealand, England and Canada.

The veterinary preparations as well as the compressed bales of fodder placed on the market of the world under the name of

are all of the greatest possible order of merit and may be used by farmers, graziers, dairymen and all owners of stock with the full assurance that these goods have the power in a very short time to double their incomes by feeding, fattening and curing all animals, which to them means money.

Scientific Meetings will be organized by Messrs. Windsor and held throughout the Dominion of Canada, when farmers desirous of improving their knowledge of stock will have an opportunity of doing so and to be instructed on the life of stock from birth to death, free of any charge.

PETERBOROUGH FRIDAY NOVEMBER 27 1908

AN OTONABEE CHURCH

Of the Presbyterian Denomination Organized at Stewart's Last Night—The Name Decided Upon —Rev. Mr. McKenzie, Centreville, in Charge of the Congregation.

THE SUNDAY AFTERNOON SERVICES FORTNIGHTLY

The organization of a new Presbyterian congregation at Stewart's Settlement, Otonabee, was successfully consummated yesterday morning. For some time union services have been held in the hall there, and the members of the Presbyterian Church residing in the neighbourhood, applied to the Presbytery for organization. The Presbytery, after taking the matter into their consideration, appointed a committee composed of Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville, convener; Rev. Mr. McKenzie, of Centreville; and Rev. Mr. McDonald, of Keene, to grant the request of the people.

The committee met yesterday in the hall at the Settlement, and the organization was completed. In addition to the committee, Messrs. John McIntosh, elder, of Springville; Wm. Moncrief, of Centreville; and Robt. Harrison, of Peterborough, were present. Rev. Mr. McDonald conducted the preliminary services. Rev. Mr. Thompson preached and Rev. Dr. Marsh conducted the organization. When the Communion roll was called twenty persons joined. It was decided that the church should be known as the Stewartt Memorial Presbyterian Church, and that services will be held fortnightly on Sunday afternoon with Rev. Mr. McKenzie, of Centreville, in charge.

Messrs. Ormond Stewart and Bruce Savigny were selected and ordained as elders, and the following managers were selected, Messrs. O. Stewart, chairman, Melville Stewart, treasurer, and W. Stewart.

OPENING A NEW PIANO AND MUSIC SUPPLY STORE

Mr. W. H. Ruse, a well known and experienced piano man, has leased the premises, No. 316 George street, market block, and will at the beginning of the year open out a first class piano and musical supply store fitted up in modern style. He will represent the Morris and Evans Bros. Companies here. At present Mr. Ruse has an office off the market arcade. After the first of January the firm will be known as the Ruse Bros. Company.

I. O. F. OFFICERS WERE PLEASED WITH RECEPTION

Mr. G. N. Brown, Deputy High Chief Ranger, of the I. O. F., who was in the city yesterday and to-day, has gone to Norwood for a week-end, where he will look after the interests of the order. He will return to the city next week and will confine his attention to this district. The I. O. F. officers who were here last night, were highly pleased with the reception they received.

PRIVILEGES OF MAILS REFUSED TO EYE OPENER

The Calgary News, in a recent issue, says: The Eye Opener appeared minus the meretricious stories and filled with a lot of alcoholic exudation which showed that the scorched snake is still writhing in agony. The mail bags were hauled over to the post office as usual, but a sad blow awaited the job printing office, as the post master declined to receive it.

The Calgary Eye Opener will no longer enjoy the privileges of His Majesty's mails. As the judge and jury a few days ago expressed their opinion of the paper in terms that could hardly be misunderstood, the postal authorities had no other recourse. It is rumoured that the C.P.R. will also cut off the privilege of selling the paper on their trains.

APPLES BROUGHT INTO THE CITY FOR SHIPMENT

Apples that have been bought through the country are being brought into the city by the farmers for shipping which is now being carried on. Quite a number of farmers were noticed driving in with barrels which were loaded in cars at the G.T.R. station.

MUCH WORK HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED BY THE COUNTY COUNCIL

Reports Read at Concluding Session This Morning---- Jurisdiction of Police Magistrate Booth Extended ---Wm. Dickson, Asphodel, Appointed a County Constable----Proposed New Bridges Talked Of---Ditch Digging in North Monaghan.

WARDEN DROPPING OUT OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

The County Council concluded this morning its regular autumn session after three days and a half of work and activity. Most of the business was transacted in committee which was included in the reports read this morning when bylaws were passed confirming them.

The minutes of the two short session of Wednesday and Thursday are as follows:

Moved by Councillors Hales and Russell, that Mr. C R D Booth, recently appointed Police Magistrate for part of the county, be paid for his services the sum of $200 per annum, and also all fees pertaining to the office.

On motion the report of the Committee on Warden's Address was received and adopted.

On motion of Messrs. Fite and Russell, the bylaw re auctioneer licenses was amended to read "That any license issued would expire one year from date of issue," and that the County Solicitor be authorized to prepare such bylaw to receive its several readings during the session.

On motion of Messrs. Fite and Breault, the Council expressed its satisfaction with the Dickson Brothers' (Campbellford) contracts with the Council during 1908. The contracts were as follows:—North River bridge, Belmont; Victoria street bridge, Norwood; Armstrong bridge, Otonabee. The Council also expressed itself similarly with the sub-structure contractors, viz., Messrs. Smith & Aikens, North River bridge abutments; John Drisdale & Son, Armstrong bridge abutments.

On motion of Messrs. Russell and Fite, the clerk was authorized to notify all county constables of their powers in regard to pack peddlers, referring to the section governing the same—Sec. 24, chap. 22, Ed. VII., page 100,1904.

On motion of Messrs. Graham and Moore, the bylaw regulating fees of pack peddlers was amended to read "$25 per year to expire one year from date of issue."

On motion of Messrs. Scott and Killan a reward of $25 will be paid for information bringing about the conviction of any person or persons driving any motor vehicle in a manner contrary to bylaw in this county.

The Council then adjourned. They will finish up their work at this morning's session.

Report on Address

Yesterday afternoon the committee appointed to deal with the Warden's address reported as follows:

1. We desire to express our endorsement of the harmony which has characterized our meetings during the year, and also to recognize and commend the dignity with which the Warden has presided over us on all occasions and the ability he has shown in conducting the affairs of the County during the present year.

2. As pointed out by the Warden, there has been a considerable expenditure during this year, in the way of bridge construction, and future Councils will no doubt find it necessary to continue the work of replacing our wooden bridges with

TRAPPER'S CANOE DRIFTS OUT FROM SHORE LEAVING HIM LIKE CRUSOE OF OLD ON AN ISLAND

Stony Lake, Nov. 27.—Special.—The other day an old time trapper and hunter who had been about the lake for the past thirty years, went out in the afternoon to see his traps and see if there was anything in those he had set. Being an old trapper he did not take the necessary precaution to secure his canoe; he just stepped out of it and pulled the bow up on a log and went away to look at his traps, but when he returned found that the swell had washed his boat off the log and it had drifted out of his reach. Here he was, like Robinson Crusoe of old, but he was possessed of a good pair of lungs, so he commenced to call for help so lustily that he alarmed the whole neighbourhood. He was heard for miles away, and several parties went to the lake to determine the trouble and to give assistance, if necessary. Some men working on Quarry Island were the first to reach the scene and found that he had swam out a short distance to his canoe. The quarry men got him home cold and wet, but it is learned he was nothing the worse for his cold bath.

THE SURVEYING IS COMPLETED AT LOVESICK AND THE MEN COME DOWN WITH THE BESSIE BUTLER

Navigation has not yet been closed on the Trent Canal, so far as the government steamers are concerned. This morning the Bessie Butler went from Lakefield to Burleigh Falls, to bring down the surveying party who have been engaged in the work of surveying Lovesick and Burleigh dams, with a view of doing away with the former. The Bessie Butler also brought down the carpenters from Burleigh Falls, who were engaged there on the repair work, as well as cookery. Her voyage to-day was the last of the season on Stony Lake.

She will next be engaged on the work of repairing the boom between Lakefield and Young's Point, until the freezing of Lake Katchewanooka. The Empire is below Lakefield attending the scows with the dredge.

Ten Days in Jail For Jas. Turner--- Scotchman Had Too Much Scotch

In a broad Scotch accent that would have done justice to Harry Lauder, James Turner admitted to Magistrate Dumble at the police court this morning, that he might have had a little drink yesterday. He was charged with being drunk in a public place.

"He had a little scrap with the wire fence at the park, your Worship," remarked Chief Roszel.

"Have you any money to pay a fine?" asked the Magistrate.

Turner thought that as this was his first appearance he should be allowed to go, but the magistrate's opinion differed, and a $2 fine or ten days in gaol were the alternatives handed out. Turner will take the latter.

"There's a lot of wood to be cut up there," was the way the Chief looked at it.

Another man charged with being drunk, was remanded until to-morrow. Steps are being taken to have him blacklisted.

A Record Breaking Crowd Attend Annual Harvest Dinner

The annual event of a Harvest Dinner, under the auspices of St. Luke's Church, is always eagerly looked forward to, because it provides much social pleasure to the many members and friends of St. Luke's. Last night was no exception to the rule, indeed, the attendance was a record-breaker. It is estimated that about five hundred people were present during the evening. The Ladies' Aid had a sales table, also the Girls Auxiliary, both had their wares sold out. The candy table was much patronized, and the young ladies in charge reported "sold out," long before the entertainment began. The dinner itself was up to its reputation of being the best that could be provided. The ladies in charge of the tables, assisted by many charming young waitresses, did their best to satisfy every want of their patrons. After the dinner the entertainment began, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt acted as chairman. With him on the platform were Rev. Canon Davidson, Rev. H. R. Trumpour, Rev. J. H. Keith and Rev. J. R. Webb, who brought greetings from their respective congregations.

The programme was as follows:
Chairman's address.
Vocal solo—Mr. Fred Myles.
Instrumental duet—Misses Gladman.
Selection—Mandolin Club.
Vocal solo—Mr. Chambers.
Vocal solo—Mr. Might.
God Save the King.
The accompanists of the evening were Miss English, Miss Sanderson and Mrs. Mowry.

Four Thousand Turkeys Are Being Shipped To Lindsay

It is expected that about 4,000 turkeys will be shipped from this county to adorn festival boards far from here. This figure may be slightly too large, but from estimates received from buyers it should reach very nearly that figure.

A large number are being shipped from Lakefield and Keene, and Messrs. White and Gillespie shipped about one thousand from Peterborough. They are all sent alive in box cars to Flavelle, of Lindsay, where they are prepared for the market. The largest number are being shipped from Lakefield and Keene. It is understood that the price paid the farmers was ten cents a pound live weight.

A RECORD PRICE NOW BEING RECEIVED BY THE FARMERS FOR PEAS ON LOCAL MARKET

Dealer Says It Is Higher Than It Has Been for Many Years ---A Dollar a Bushel Has Been Paid in Peterborough ---Welcome News For The Farmers.

The present price which farmers are receiving for peas is claimed by one of the dealers to be the highest that he has ever remembered being paid for them. His quotation was from ninety-five cents to one dollar a bushel for ordinary small peas. The reason for this price is that the crop has not been as heavy as usual and the demand has increased somewhat. Farmers who have have reaped a fair harvest are pleased with the high price.

Inquiry at the local immigration office shows that there are still many farmers who are trying to secure farm labourers or helpers, but are unable to do so. There are at present no demands from those living in the city who may be without work to get out with the farmers, the reason being that they do not need it or refuse to leave for the fall uncut. The advice from those who know the situation is to secure work now when there are so many desirable farmers looking for men, and not to wait until later on when there may probably be a rush for anything at all in the industrial line.

THOS. ABBEY,

The C. P. R. Brakeman injured in the Parnell wreck a short time ago and who has since practically recovered.

A BELATED SPRING POEM.

The piping poets sometimes sadly sing of winter lingering in the lap of spring; but this year somewhat new conditions enter, and summer lingers in the lap of winter. The weather clerk shows a plain determination, in weather matters, to gold-brick the nation; for the hands out a type of winter weather, which should suggest to notice whether or not, in this queer summer weather matter, there's cold in sight to make the teeth to chatter. In quiet Keene the dandelions boldly bloom; in Peterborough sparrows once more pluckily resume nest-building operations, and in our borders the pansies do not meekly wait spring-blooming orders, for they courageously unfold their velvet petal where the belated butterfly is glad to settle. Spite of these signs of everlasting summer a blizzard's coming that will be a genuine hummer.

VISIT OF HYDRO ELECTRIC COMMISSION TO LOOK OVER THE C. G. E. ESTABLISHMENT

The Hydro-Electric Commission of the Ontario Government is expected in Peterborough to-night. Hon. Adam Beck and his colleagues on the Commission are coming here to look over the plant of the Canadian General Electric Company in view of their recent contract for power appliances in connection with the erection of transmission lines between Toronto and Niagara Falls. They will likely go through the establishment to-morrow.

Created Disturbance In Restaurant; Jas. Keenan Mulcted In $5.85 To-day

It took a large amount of eloquence of the pigeon English variety on the part of C. Q. Woo, proprietor of the Canadian-Chinese Cafe, corner of George and King streets, to enable the Magistrate to get a clear conception of how James Keenan had been drunk and disorderly in that restaurant yesterday. Keenan pleaded not guilty to the charge P. C. Newhall testified that he had been called, and on going down to the cafe he had found Keenan wrestling with one of the Chinamen. A crowd of about one hundred people had gathered in the vicinity.

Woo was called to the stand and after a tremendous struggle with the English language informed the court that Keenan had used abusive language in his place, and that he had to put him out. A large window had been broken during the mix-up.

Keenan admitted that he had from three to five drinks before dinner, and the same number afterwards, although he denied that he was drunk. He had his dinner at the restaurant, and when he returned in the evening the proprietor had taken him for someone else and had ordered him out following it up by seizing hold of him. In struggling the window was broken. He had seen Woo take something from a table, and someone had shouted "Look out, he has a knife."

The Magistrate held that it was clear that Keenan had been disorderly, and he accordingly inflicted a fine of $2 and costs, amounting in all to $5.85, to be paid forthwith.

Practical Appreciation Of Work of Miss Wallis, Sculptor

Some of the works of Miss Wallis, the Canadian sculptor, have been on exhibition in Montreal for some time past, shown in conjunction with those of Mona. Waldeman, the great French artist, who was Miss Wallis' instructor. Miss Wallis is to be heartily congratulated upon the practical as well as critical appreciation her work has received. On the first day of the exhibition she sold one of her pieces of statuary, "The Cabbage Baby" and in addition received an order for a duplicate. The local branch of the Women's Art Association of Canada is making an effort which it is hoped will be successful, to secure the exhibition of Miss Wallis' works, and some of those of Mona. Waldeman, in Peterborough, at no distant date.

Writ Issued Against The Peterborough Lumber Company

A writ has been issued by Mr. Sidney Farmer against the Peterborough Lumber Company, and fyled at the office of the clerk of the county court. The plaintiff claims $2,000 damages for personal injuries while in the employ of the defendant, and the writ goes on to say "through the negligence of the defendants, their agents and servants, and through a defect in the condition and arrangement of the ways, work, machinery and plant used in the business of the defendants, and through the defendants' neglect in not providing proper safety appliances, guards and protection for the machinery of said defendants."

HEATS OFFICE AT COST OF LESS THAN ONE CENT A DAY WITH NEW IMPROVED AMERICAN STOVE

Local Florist Placed Order for One Some Time Ago But Output is Too Small for Demand Hence Delay is Caused---Great Fuel Saver.

A local florist was speaking this morning of a new style of stove, for one of which he has placed an order, and which he believes will revolutionize the present heating system. Although he sent in his order some time ago he has not yet received it, for the reason that the company cannot turn them out fast enough to meet the demand. He saw the stove in Toronto and was so impressed by its action that he later decided to get one.

Instead of being a base burner like the average coal stove, there is a central flue extending from the top to the bottom of the grate, and the fuel burns around it. Openings are made in this cylinder of fire clay diagonally from the centre towards the fuel. There are other improvements in its construction which are not found in other stoves. It is claimed by the manufacturers that everything is burned and little or no smoke is given off.

One demonstration that the florist saw really opened his eyes. A handful of shavings were thrown in and lighted, and in a minute the stove was making a noise like a blast furnace, and gave off a wonderful heat for the amount of fuel that had been put in. The demonstrator took the Peterborough man around the shop and after what he says must have been fifteen minutes they returned to find the stove still going. It was opened and the florist saw for himself that only parts of the shavings had been burned.

He was told that a Milwaukee merchant heated his store last winter with one ton of third grade coal, using one of these stoves. Another business man heated his office at a cost of less than one cent a day. The florist believes that these are possibilities by the exhibition of its heating powers. There are not many in Canada, it is stated, and but very little is generally known about it.

A CANADIAN AERONAUT

ACQUIRES REPUTATION AS WELL KNOWN AERONAUT

Examiner Special

Montreal, Nov. 27.—A message received from New York, states that Laurence J. Lesh, the young Canadian aeronaut, who fell while operating a "glider" at the Morris Park track on November 4th, and sustained a fractured leg, is doing well, and will soon be able to return to his home in Montreal. Young Lesh, who is only 17 years of age, has constructed several gliders here and has made successful flights, one in particular made over the River St. Lawrence, his machine being towed by a fast motor boat, having brought him to the notice of aeronauts in New York. He was invited to make several tests in American machines, and travelled to the American metropolis several times for that purpose, always meeting with success. It was at a big meeting of aeronauts which was attended by an immense crowd anxious to see the trials that Leah met with his accident. The glider which he was operating, turned over on him when he was about forty feet from the ground and he fell, the machine coming down on top of him. His leg was fractured above the ankle. He was removed to a hospital, where he has been ever since the accident.

Laurence Lesh is still attending college and he works on his flying machine models and gliders out of study hours. He has acquired quite a reputation as an aeronaut, and a brilliant future is predicted for him; His father is Irs. B. Lesh, a well known business man.

A CANADIAN SELECTED.

The Anglican Synod have, under practical compulsion, done the right thing by selecting a Canadian as Bishop of Montreal; they would not have done so had the Bishop of Stepnwy accepted the proffered mitre of Montreal. Apart from considerations of loyalty to Canada, which would indicate a preference for a Canadian, the action of the Synod in choosing Dean Farthing as Bishop, is wise. He is familiar with the conditions, social and ecclesiastical, with which he has to deal and will deal with them in a sympathetic temper begot of the special knowledge which an imported prelate would have had no opportunity of acquiring. Instances have not been unknown in which the office of a Bishop in Canada, brought in from the Mother Country, has not been in action as successful and frictionless as might have been hoped. Fresh from an environment, quite different in atmosphere and tradition, from their new diocese there was bound to be some creaking of the machinery of administration. Bishop Farthing has served his apprenticeship amid the conditions that represent the widest possible community sympathy in all relations between himself and his clergy and flocks. He is highly esteemed by his Episcopal peers, and is considered by them one of the strongest men in the Anglican Church in Canada. In years he is at his prime, and with his abilities, opportunities and devotion to duty, should have a distinguished and useful future in his high office.

A SWEEPING REFORM.

The Liberal Government of the Dominion, with, doubtless, an idea of long-standing abuses in connection with the Civil Service of Canada instituted a Royal Commission to investigate conditions, with the result that disclosures have been made showing that undesirable practices inherent in a system lasting since Confederation, have been pursued in regard to the purchase of government supplies; commissions have been paid by dealers to secure the "good will" of government officials connected with the system referred to, is the "patronage list," another legacy from even ante-Confederation days, and existing in connection with all the governments in Canada—Dominion as well as Provincial. Recognizing this as the root of the evil, Hon. Mr. Brodeur, as Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has abolished this list, a system of supplies by tender, as far as practicable, being instituted. Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, has followed his example, and before long the patronage list will be a thing of the past in all the departments of the Ottawa Government. Not only this but the government is determined that the reform shall extend beyond its peculiar administrative jurisdiction, and apply to all governments and to private corporations and individuals. Those Provincial Governments, particularly under Conservative control, will be compelled to adopt a measure of reform in regard to the Civil Service, which they show no disposition to inaugurate themselves. A despatch from Ottawa sets forth the object and intentions of the government in respect of proposed legislation to effect important reforms. The despatch says:

The government has under consideration, and will probably introduce at the coming session of Parliament a bill modelled on the lines of the act passed by the British Parliament in 1906 making it a criminal offence to offer or accept secret commissions with a view of corruptly influencing business transactions in which the employer of the agent who accepts the commission is interested. THE BILL IS AIMED TO PREVENT THE WHOLE SYSTEM OF PAYMENT OF SECRET COMMISSSIONS EITHER IN CONNECTION WITH PRIVATE OR GOVERNMENT BUSINESS. It will, of course, meet the abuses shown by the recent investigation at Quebec to have existed in the administration of the Marine Department at that port. The measure has the hearty support of the Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, and, it is understood, has been endorsed by the Cabinet in Council.

As has been stated, the bill will follow the lines of the British act passed two years ago, after a lengthy discussion in both houses. This bill provides that if any agent corruptly accepts or obtains, or agrees to accept or attempts to obtain for himself or for any other person any gift or consideration as an inducement or reward for doing or forbearing to do any act in relation to his principal's affairs or business, or for showing or forbearing to show favour or disfavour to any person in relation to his principal's affairs or business, or IF ANY PERSSON IMPROPERLY GIVES OR AGREES TO GIVE, OR OFFERS ANY GIFT OR CONSIDERATION TO ANY AGENT as an inducement or reward for doing or forbearing to do any act in relation to his principal's affairs or business, he shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding £500, or to both. A similar penalty is provided for the giving or acceptance, with intent to deceive an employer, of any receipt, account, or other document in respect of which he is interested, and which contains any statement which is false or erroneous or defective in any material particulars, and which is knowingly intended to mislead the employer.

The expression "consideration" includes valuable consideration of any kind. An "agent" includes any person employed or acting for another. A person serving under the Crown or under any corporation or any municipal Council or any Board of Guardians is an "agent" within the meaning of the act.

As will be seen from the above the act is very wide in its scope, and while possibly the abuses aimed at might be reached under the present criminal code with respect to obtaining goods under false pretences, the new act now contemplated will make the offence a specific one, and will undoubtedly have a far-reaching effect in putting a stop to a custom which is too prevalent in connection with both private, municipal and government business in Canada. The act has been found to have worked well in Great Britain, and, although there have as yet been comparatively few prosecutions, the simple fact of its being put in a plain statement on the statute book, with the several penalties attached, has been found to act as a deterrent to the making of secret and corrupt agreements between agents and contractors or others.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

While Peterborough is rejoicing over the opening of a new Collegiate Institute, Brantford is bewailing the insufficiency of its accommodation in this regard.

The Attorney-General of Manitoba says that women in Winnipeg "with more money than brains, are gambling." Wouldn't, "with more money than morals" be nearer the mark? Successful gambling implies brains. Your professional gambler as a rule is no fool.

"A protest has been entered against the election of Hon. J. R. Stratton. He is accused of bribery in the form of large donations to churches and charities," and the London Advertiser thinks the deacons, the elders, and the members of the quarterly boards of Peterborough must be a bad lot.

The Toronto News quotes figures to show what contributions to Presidential campaign funds in the United States, have come from corporations. Twelve thousand three hundred and thirty contributors dropped $1,655,518 into the Republican fat, evidently large corporations, and 75,000 contributors "chipped in" $620,540 to the Democratic political "pot," representing the more popular nature of the gifts. With its usual virtuous declination, the News prefaces its statement with the remark that Mr. Borden had condemned the contributions of corporations to campaign funds. It would be mighty interesting to know what amount two great corporations, interested in the Yankee Journal of Boston, containing pages denouncing and discrediting the Grand Trunk Pacific, and circulated as Conservative campaign literature, contributed to Mr. Borden's campaign fund, in the last election. It was no lean one, judging from the share that came to a constituency not a thousand miles from West Peterborough.

COUNTY COUNCIL WINDS UP AUTUMN SESSION

those of a more permanent character. We consider that the work of the County in this respect has been done in a thorough and substantial way, and yet with a due regard to economy of expenditure.

3. We are pleased to learn that in spite of the calls upon the funds of the County, the estimate and levy previously made by this Council will not likely be exceeded.

4. We note an increase in the number of inmates in the House of Refuge, but believe the levy made this year for its maintenance will not be sufficient but will probably not have to be exceeded for some years to come, the building, equipment and furnishings of the institution being now practically completed.

5. We are very pleased to endorse the views of the Warden as to the continued prosperity of the County and Province, and to join with him in the hope that this condition of affairs may long continue.

Respectfully submitted,

I. FIFE,
Chairman.

Concluding Session

The council resumed business this morning at 9.30 o'clock. Before the reading of reports the following address was read by Councillor A Breault, chairman of the Finance Committee

To the Warden of the County, James Thompson, Esq., M.P.P.:

Sir,—Having learned with regret that you have decided to withdraw after this year from municipal life, we desire to express ourselves as your colleagues so as to impress upon you this fact that we have not only benefitted by your presence here, but have been proud of you in your capacity as chief magistrate of the county during 1908.

We heartily congratulate you and congratulate your constituents upon your election as representative in the Legislature for East Peterborough. We feel confident that you will lend dignity to that greater body as you have done to the County Council.

Your stewardship here has been of such a character that Havelock will in future be recognized as one of the important municipalities of the county, and your successor will have nothing to encounter but the best feelings for his village.

Again permit us in saying good-bye to say that the concentration of effort put forth this year, was largely due to yourself. A. Breault, Chairman Finance Committee.

The warden replied, thanking the members of the council for their kind expressions of appreciation. He regretted somewhat that he was not able to give as much time and energy to the work of the council as he would have desired, but he felt that he was being given a great deal of assistance from the chairmen of the various committees. He congratulated the council that the work was done in a most harmonious manner. Construction work in 1908, throughput the county had been done as cheaply if not cheaper than at any time in the past.

Mr. Scott as chairman of the House of Refuge had done most efficient work in connection with that institution, and deserved much credit for it, and also Mr. Brown, as chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee, had accomplished his work well.

Jurisdiction Extended

Moved by Councillors Coben and Ingram, that the townships of Harvey, Galway and Cavendish, be included in the jurisdiction of Police Magistrate C. R. D. Booth, recently appointed over the townships of Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos.—Carried.

The Committee on County Property reported as follows:—

That he chairman be authorized to have placed in the residence of the caretaker of the gaol, a hot water tank, and to have connections made therewith to bath.

Respectfully submitted,

W. J. PORTER,
Chairman

Committee on Appointments

The Committee on Appointments begs to report as follows:

That William Dickson of Asphodel, (Westwood P.O.) be appointed a County Constable.

Respectfully submitted,

R. SCOTT,
Chairman.

Road and Bridge Committee

The Road and Bridge Committee reported as follows:

That the sum of $5.00 be paid to Mr. Ayotte, and that the sum of $2.50 be paid Mr. McFarlane in addition to what has already been paid on stones supplied Burleigh Bridge by Mr. Ayotte, Ayotte's payment to be subject to Mr. McFarlane's certificate.

That Messrs. Graham, Fife, Killen, Scott and Brown be a committee authorized to wait upon the member of the West Riding for the Dominion House, with a view of obtaining his assistance in securing Government construction of a Bridge for the Indians from their Chemong Reserve to the Ennismore shore.

That the following be a Committee to examine Hynes' Bridge, namely: Messrs. Moore, Brown, Mojoney, Darling, and the Warden, and to report at the next session.

That Mr. Hales be empowered to ceed to rebuild Clydesdale Bridge at the expense of the County, providing the Township of Chandos maintain the Bridge thereafter, said cost not to exceed $275.00.

Respectfully submitted,

JNO. BROWN,
Chairman.

Finance Reyort

The Finance Committee reported as follows:

That the account of D Conroy & Sons be laid over until after the Engineer reports upon the same.

That the account of Dr. Graham be left over to January session next.

That the account of the St. John's Industrial School be left in the hands of the County Solicitor, with power to act.

That no action be taken regardgarding McColl Bros'. account.

That the account of W D Robson re Robson's Bridge, be left in the hands of Messrs. Oakman and Darling.

That no action be taken re Protectograph.

That the salary of the Superintendent and Matron of the House of Refuge be raised so that the Superintendent receive $325.00 and the Matron $275.00 per annum.

That no action be taken regarding letter copier.

That the payments in Schedule marked "A" be sanctioned.

That the accounts in schedule marked "B" be paid.

That the sum of $150.00 be granted North Monaghan for the purpose of digging ditch and building bridge.

Respectfully submitted,

A. BREAULT,
Chairman.

(Bylaws confirming the above reports were passed after which the Council adjourned.

A special report of the Roads and Bridges Committee was read this morning as follows:—

To the Council of the County of Peterborough;

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit the following report, which on account of the amount of work, as well as the report of the chairmen of several committees, I do not think it advisable to enter too minutely into details. The first work undertaken was filling in the approaches to the Burleigh Falls Bridge on the Smith township end, the old wooden approach has been removed and a permanent structure 16 feet wide between railing completed, the cost for same amounted to

The Deer Bay Creek bridge authorized to be built at June session has been finished and shortened, and over ninety feet turned into permanent roading, it being thought better to make two bridges, there being two channels.

Your committee also inspected the Buckhorn bridges, and inspected both the old and the new, the latter constructed by the Dominion Government and soon to be handed over to the county at a cost to the county of

It was not deemed advisable by your committee to make any claim on the timbers of the old bridge. I may say the new bridge appears to be a very permanent structure. It was our wish that every member of this council should have an opportunity of seeing this work.

A new wooden bridge over Black Lake creek has been completed, thirty-five feet in length with approaches eighty-five feet in length, nine feet above the bed of stream the whole structure appears to be done in a solid and satisfactory manner at a cost of two hundred and forty dollars.

The three new steel bridgs at North River, Victoria street, Norwood, and Armstrong's in Otonabee, have all been undertaken and completed, and fuller details may be procured from the chairman who has charge of the work. This with small repairs done on boundary bridges between Durham and Peterborough, completes a large amount of work, and consequently a like expenditure, but as all new work has been of a permanent character, the repair will not amount to any considerable expenditure for many years to come.

JOHN BROWN,
Chairman

THE COST OF ROYALTY SHOWN

Letter Written by Mr. N. A. Howard Moore in Latest Issue of the Orange Sentinel.

The last issue of the Orange Sentinel contains the following letter on the cost of Royalty:

To the Editor of the Sentinel: I noticed in your issue of the 12th inst., an article credited to "Robert Mytton in Detroit News," and its misleading character leads me to correct some of those clauses in it which, I think, ought to be set right in the minds of your readers.

This article is headed "What it costs to keep up Royal Establishment." "Total sum set apart for the various branches of the family, $2,885,000 for 1908." Then at the head of the second column, part of the article I notice "We are of opinion that no fair-minded critic will think a sum of less than three million dollars a year an excessive burden for John Bull to provide maintenance for his Royal Family," etc.

Well, in the first place, the crowned head of Great Britain does not cost the taxpayer of England but very little, if anything at all. In fact the amount which the Royal Family receives would not exceed the price of three five cent cigars for each person per annum. When our late beloved Queen was on the throne she agreed to place the hereditary revenues of the Crown at the disposal of the nation. When His Majesty King Edward VII. came to the throne he did the same thing, accepting a clear sum of £470,000 ($2,350,000) yearly. In 1906 the nation made a profit of £22,500 ($112,500) on this bargain, and this is increasing very rapidly. Among the properties which are vested in the estates, which provide the nation with the rumours, with which the Crown's state and dignity is maintained, are, considerable portions of the West End, including much of Pall Mall and St. James. Rents have risen there greatly in recent years, and as leases expire, the Commissioners of Woods and Forests, who control these vast estates, naturally raise their demands. They have done so recently with great success. One instance is the Carlton Hotel, for which the ground rent was only £763 ($3,816) per annum, but which is now £4,200 ($21,000); an enormous increase.

Several West End clubs have felt the increase in valuation of their premises. One of the most striking examples, however, is that of the land at No. 81 Portland Place, which has advanced in ground rental from £25 to £655. And recently a new lease cost the lessee $4,500.

Mr. Mytton shows the cost of the Royal Family for 1908, and he says "I feel to some exten: able to make certain comparisons between the different forms of Government which prevail in the four great countries I have mentioned (England, France Dominion of Canada and the United States)"; but he stops short of showing the expense of the nation to the south of us. If we were to imagine any general desire in Britain, to adopt the system of rule which prevails in the United States, on the matter of economy they would find their theoretical approach to a perfect system of "government of the people, by the people, and for the people," as an economical change. It would be very interesting to see (in tabulated official form) what is the actual cost of government by the Constitutional method of the United States. To arrive at such a result we should not be able to confine ourselves to the salaries and expenses of the White House.

To add the salaries and allowances of the Senate and the House of Representatives would not complete the total. We should have to include the running expenses of the Governors and State Legislatures, and so arrive at a very pretty figure, which to-day includes 47 states and some territories, which also possess paid executors.

In considering the sum allotted to Royalty we must always remember that the Crown voluntarily surrendered to Parliament estates to which it has as much right as any hereditary land owner to-day, peer or commoner. Another point to be borne in mind is that it has not been the custom, since the Victorian Era, for the Sovereign to ask Parliament for special grants to aid in great public and expensive receptions, such as the entertainment of a King of Siam, a Shah of Persia, a King of Spain, or an Emperor of Germany.

The sums mentioned by Mr. Mytton were taken from the Parliamentary Committee Report in 1902 or 1903, and of the total amount only the first item (550,000) is placed at the disposal of the King and Queen of England to use as they wish, without rendering an itemized account to the Government of Great Britain. The other amounts are allotted by Parliament to different departments, such as the Lord Chamberlain, the High Steward, the Master of the Horse, the Lords and Ladies in waiting, for alms, bounties and pensions and various defined purposes. To-day we Britons enjoy the best, the least expensive, and the finest governed nation under the sun, and London, the Capital, the roll of drum and flap of flag continues around the world, and proclaims "A greater nation than has ever been."

God Save the King.

Yours fraternally,
N. A. HOWARD-MOORE.

FIRST TO WEAR OUT WITH AGE

Simple Recipe for Bladder Trouble Should Be Valued By Elderly People.

GIVES THIS VALUED RECIPE

The great majority of men and women at the age of 50 years begin to feel the first signs of advancing age in some form of kidney trouble and bladder weakness. Few are entirely free from that torturous disease, rheumatism, which is not a disease in itself, but a symptom of deranged function of the kidneys, which have become clogged and sluggish, failing in their duty of sifting and straining the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc., from the blood, permitting it to remain and decompose, settling about the joints and muscles, causing intense pain and suffering.

The bladder, however, causes the old folks the most annoyance, especially at night and early morning.

Hundreds of readers who suffer will find the following, which is known as the Dandelion mixture, the most harmless and effective treatment to clean the system of rheumatic poisons, remove irritation of the bladder and relieve urinary difficulties of the old people. It is a true vitalizing tonic to the entire kidney and urinary structure, reinvigorating the entire system.

The Dandelion mixture consists of the following simple prescription, the ingredients of which can be obtained from any good pharmacy at small cost: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce: Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and upon going to bed, also drink plenty of water.

This prescription, though simple, is always effective in the diseases and afflictions of the kidneys and bladder and rheumatism.

EXCITING CONTESTS AT THE BOWLING ALLEYS LAST NIGHT IN WHICH McILROY WINS OUT

SCORES MADE LAST NIGHT

Though they hung up records all along the line, setting new marks for a single game, a three game aggregate and a new record for individual bowlers, Martin's trio lost two out of three games to McIlroy's Pacifics in the ten pin league series at the P.B.C. Alleys last night, after a series of the most exciting contests yet played since the opening of the league. The individual and team records were made in the last game when Martin won out with a total of 568, of which he contributed a score of 236 himself, thus supplanting N LaPlante whose mark of 212 has stood since opening night. Martin's total for the three games was 548, a few pins better than Billy Wareham, who held the three game record until last night.

Chief Adams for the losers was off colour in the first game, but in the last two the veteran was always up to the leaders. Stroud, too, fell in the first game, but recovered his form in the latter stages.

The work of Jack Connors was a feature of the evening. Connors has not bowled all summer, but he displayed championship form in the opening game, and it was mainly through his efforts that the game was saved. He has mastered a most effective hook ball and has changed his style, so that his best friends might mistake him for Tommy Boyd on the alleys. McIlroy and Lillie, in the last two games made up for their indifferent showing in the opening contest, rolling in splendid form, Lillie having just a little the better of the argument in the aggregate score.

J. B. Hay, on his return from Toronto this morning, announced that he had secured a $40 trophy of handsome design which will be offered for competition, starting early next month. The trophy is a handsome punch bowl, standing on three silver pins with an ebony base, and it will be one of the best bowling prizes ever offered outside of Toronto. The trophy will be offered for individual competition and the younger bowlers will be allotted generous handicaps, so that everyone will have an equal chance of winning the prize. Further particulars will be given at the alleys.

The score last night follows:

McIlroy	114	194	180	488
Connors	174	164	107	448
Lillie	133	180	179	492
	421	541	466	1,428
Adams	96	188	163	447
Stroud	130	174	169	473
Martin	143	169	236	548
	369	531	568	1,468

TIGERS OUT-WEIGH VARSITY TEAM— HAVE MUCH HEAVIER WING LINE

Hamilton, Nov. 26.—Tigers are working hard at the cricket grounds to reach a point of perfection that will realize for them the championship of the Dominion.

Burton is the likely man for centre half, as Biggs has been rather weak since his injuries. All the players are in good shape, and Ben Simpson, after his rest up of last week, looks like the only Ben again. Little money has reached Hamilton so far, and it did not go begging.

Taken altogether, Tigers look mighty good to Hamilton fans, who will turn out in force, to judge from the advance sale of seats.

Hamilton Weights

In figuring up the weights it will be seen that Tigers have 264 pounds over the college team. This is all on the line. Dixon has two pounds over Tope at full; Simpson is 28 behind Lawson; Biggs and Burton and 13 and 18 short of Gaul, respectively; Moore is six less than Newton. On the line this is reversed by a big margin. Lyon is the lightest man on Tigers' wings, tipping the scales at 168, while Marriott is the next lightest, with 176 pounds.

The combined weight of this pair is only sixteen pounds less than the combined weight of McDonald and Lee, Varsity's heaviest pair of wing men. Tigers average on the wing 190 2-3 pounds per man, while Varsity's average wing weight is only 165 1-2 pounds per man.

The famous Hamilton Tigers, the man-eaters, have been considered the greatest Rugby team this country ever had. For four years in succession they won the O.R.F.U. championship, 1903-04-05-06.

The Tigers landed the Dominion championship in 1906 from McGill, the Inter-collegiate champions, and now they are out to try to win it from Toronto, the Inter-collegiate champions this year.

Most of the cubs have been playing together for the last five years. They could work together in pitch darkness, and pull off their tricks without a slip. At least nine of them, Tope, Simpson, Moore, Ballard, Burkholder, Lyon, Barron, Lobister and Marriot, played on the team in 1906 when they won the Dominion championship.

Consequently Varsity will be bucking up against an old and experienced lot of men, but "youth will be served," and no record, no matter how long it is, will win from the Tigers Saturday. They will have to play better football than Varsity or leave the championship in Toronto.

ALF. SHRUBB EXPECTED TO-MORROW TO PREPARE FOR NEXT WEEK'S RACES

Prof. Genno, of the Auditorium Roller Rink, has received a letter from Alfred Shrubb to the effect that the great little English runner will arrive in Peterborough to-morow in preparation for his races here in the rink on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Great interest is being taken in Shrubb's appearance not only on account of his great reputation, but also because of the negotiations between him and Tom Longboat in regard to a matched race. Prof. Genno has been successful in getting a number of local runners to go up against the Englishman, and expects to be able to give him an opposition that will make him unravel some of his far famed speed. It is stated that some of the boys who started in the Examiner road race on Thanksgiving Day will be found in the squad of runners that will be sent out against Shrubb.

BOTH TEAMS TO HAVE STRONGEST POSSIBLE LINE-UP FOR TO-MORROW

To-morrow's big game between the Y.M.C.A. and T.A.S. to decide the city championship will be called at 2.30 o'clock sharp and the players of both teams are expected to be on hand as early as possible. Great interest is being taken in the contest and a big crowd will undoubtedly see the last game of the season. It will undoubtedly be a hard fought contest as the teams are in the best of shape, and there should be no let let up in the play from start to finish. Both have a large number of supporters who will make things interesting during the contest. Realizing that it will be a hard game throughout, the management of each team has selected the strongest line-up possible. Judging from the form shown by the two teams in the previous games, this season, they are about evenly matched, and both are confident of winning.

TO-MORROW'S GREAT RUGBY BATTLE— HAMILTON TIGERS OR VARSITY, WHICH?

The eyes of the football world will be turned upon the historic Rosedale grounds, in Toronto, where the Hamilton Tigers and Toronto Varsity will battle for the Canadian Rugby Championship. The game has been the question of the week in sporting circles and everywhere where Rugby is known, the probable outcome of the game is being discussed. The Tigers are logical favourites: they have a fast team of veterans who have been together for years and who are so used to each other's methods of play that they boast that they could pull off their plays without a slip in the dark.

Behind the line the Tigers seem to have it on their opponents, although the Hamilton backs are not the same as they were in the past. There have been bad fumbles made during the season, and somehow they do not seem to be as reliable as they were. At that, though, with Simpson in form with his punting leg in shape, and with Moore and Tope showing their usual speed, the Tigers will prove an awkward proposition behind the line.

Varsity's back division is young, but is apparently there with the pells on. Gall, Dixon and Newton are sure and reliable, and the first named player is punting in wonderful fashion. Lawson's work seems to have been disappointing at Ottawa last Saturday, and the big fellow is capable of much superior playing. He is liable to have a day on to-morrow and will undoubtedly be used by Varsity almost exclusively in line plunging work.

It should be a grand game, and looking at it from down this way Varsity has better than a good chance to win the Championship, and repeat the feat of the 1906 team, when they paralyzed the football world by trimming the Ottawa Rough Riders for the Canadian Championship by 11 - 9.

HOLLOWAYS' STARTLING ACROBATING ACT AT RINK

The management of the Auditorium Roller Rink believes in giving its patrons some amusement in addition to the skating, and in view of this policy Prof. Genno has been putting on some splendid vaudeville acts which have been much appreciated by the frequenters of the popular rink. The Holloway pair who are at present filling an engagement at the Auditorium are about the cleverest performers that have been seen there this season and their work has been received with much applause. They do a most clever balancing act with ladders and chairs some of their stunts being very thrilling. The Holloways will be at the rink again to-night when in addition the usual weekly band concert will be given.

LINDSAY HOCKEY CLUB ORGANIZED FOR SEASON

Lindsay, Nov. 26. — Latitudinarianism and much enthusiasm marked the holding of the annual meeting of the Lindsay Hockey Club last night. It was decided to enter a team in the intermediate series of the O.H.A., and as all the old players except L Cotey, who will probably figure on St. Miques this year, are on hand, the prospects look rosy. There will be no dearth in the material for a fast team, as there will also be a fast six team league and in all likelihood a junior team, which may enter the O.H.A. Officers were elected as follows:

President—A L Campbell.
Sec.-Treas.—Aird Flavelle.
Executive—L R Knight, H B Clemes, Dr. Brown.

It will be "now or never" for the intermediate championship, at any rate. The rink has been remodelled, and will hold several hundred more spectators.

ABE ATTELL WAS BEATEN BY WELSH OF ENGLAND

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 26.—Abe Attell, the fast and undefeated featherweight champion of the world, met more than his match last night in Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight champion. Welsh showed himself to be a clever man. His boxing, footwork, generalship, defensive tactics were superb, and Attel never had a chance from the beginning. The doughty little champion seemed to lack confidence, his blows lacked vigor, and his generalship was not up to his standard.

While he fought bravely on the defensive and rallied frequently against the lead of his opponent, Attell was not able to make a sufficient showing at any time to place the result of the fight in doubt. Welsh led with both hands with unerring precision. There was much in-fighting, and in this alone did Attell show to advantage. Attell said after the fight that he had given away too much weight to his opponent. He also alleged that an injury to his hand, received in training, interfered with his work. The betting was 10 to 8 on Attell, who lost the decision at the end of the fifteenth round.

BOWLING.

Joe Hay has been given his release from Pete. Lang's team, and has joined a new team with the cognomen of Hutch's Hams, composed of J. B. Hay, B. Hutchinson and Chris. Graham, skip. The sandwiches and lunches that will be made out of Hutch's Hams by the rest of the league teams will be great.

OTONABEE HOCKEY BOYS READY FOR THE SEASON

At a well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Otonabee Athletic Club in the Y.M.C.A. last night, a Hockey Club was organized. The Otonabees have decided to enter a team in the Junior City League and are making preparations for the coming season. The chair was occupied by B. T. Huston, while Wallace Harris acted as secretary pro-tem.

The following officers were elected:
Hon. Pres.—J J Howden.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—Jas. Rose.
Pres.—W Grady.
Vice-Pres.—S Shaughnessy.
Sec.-Treas.—Howard Anderson.
Manager—B T Huston.

The team will practise on the new South City Athletic Club's rink at the Park street Baptist church.

T. A. S. A. C. PLAYERS FOR TO-MORROW

The T.A.S. Athletic Club's team for the City Championship game with the Y.M.C.A. at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon will be chosen from the following men who are asked to be at the T.A.S. rooms to-night at 7 o'clock for signal practice: Cahill, Crough, A Quinlan, Craig, Lundy, Meagher, Clarke, Ecclestone, Hickey, Fitzpatrick, H Quinlan, O'connor, Davidson, Dorris, Denoon, Foley, Fitzgerald, J O'Brien, M O'Brien, Grady.

THE LOCAL BASKET BALL TEAM WILL BE STRONG

If the Central Y.M.C.A. Basketball team carry back with them to Toronto the big end of the score in to-morrow night's game with the locals at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, it will only be after one of the hardest games in their career, as the locals in their practice work have been going at a championship clip. The Centrals if they are not expecting serious opposition will find that they have made a mistake. Physical Director Collings has selected a five from the local players that will give the visitors the hottest kind of an argument. This should be the finest exhibition of basketball ever seen in this city. The visitors come here with the record of having trimmed the Hamilton seniors for the first time in years. A preliminary game will be played between the Rustlers and Chieftains.

BUSINESS BOY'S FORM A HARRIER CLUB

Another Strong Organization At The Y. M. C. A.—Pretty Uniforms Chosen.

The Business Boys of the Y.M.C.A. last night organized a Harrier Club with an initial membership of thirty and with the brightest prospects of a successful future. The officers elected were as follows:

Hon. Pres.—Mr. S Collings.
Pres.—Ed. Hanwell.
Vice-Pres.—Bruce Hunter.
Sec.-Treas.—Ben Taylor.

The uniforms are white jerseys with blue sash on which are the letters "B. H." in red. The trousers are white with blue stripe. The Business boys should have a fine club with this list of officers and will compete in athletic events among themselves and with other clubs.

BOXING

"Do I think Johnson can beat Burns? Why, of course, I do!" said Bob Fitzsimmons the other day. "Johnson is the cleverest big fellow in the ring to-day. I know a whole lot about him. He is a hard hitter and one of the most scientific heavies I ever saw. Burns is overrated. He has never licked a first class man, and is about as good as Dan Creedon used to be a dozen years ago. You know I licked Creedon in a punch, and I could have done the same with Burns when I was right. Burns may be clever and a game, hard hitting pugilist, but he will be outclassed when he tackles big Johnson, for the latter is a great fighter, one of the best I have ever seen. It may be a long fight, but Johnson will win, because of his ring generalship and science, also his height and weight. It's a good safe bet, too!"

ATHLETICS

The defeat of J J Hayes by Dorando in their twenty-six mile race in New York on Wednesday night, has been received with unconcealed joy in Canada and the reasons are easily apparent. In the first place nearly every Canadian holds to the opinion that the Italian was really entitled to the Olympic Marathon race in which he was disqualified on account of being helped across the line. It looked as if Hayes had a golden opportunity of proving himself a sportsman by refusing to take the prize won in this fashion, but the Yankee showed the characteristic feature of American athletics, by taking the credit for the race. Then his boasting since his return to America and the flap doodle in the American press has not helped Hayes to rise much in the estimation of Canadians. It's a matter of satisfaction that Dorando has had an opportunity to show the world that he is really the better man of the two, which probably was not doubted except by the Yankees.

RAILWAY COMMISSION OPENING

Eighteen Cases to be Considered at Session on Monday.

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—Eighteen cases will be before the Railway Commission at its session that opens here on Monday.

The Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Ry. Co., ask for authority to cross with its tracks and wires the wires of the Hamilton Cataract Power, Light and Transmission Co. at various points.

The same railway wants to connect its tracks with those of the Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo Ry., in Crowland township, Welland County

There are two or three Ottawa applications, the most interesting one being the case in which Senator Tessier, of Quebec, challenges the right of the Ottawa Street Railway Company to charge senators and members of Parliament for riding on their cars, as they do under Dominion charter.

The G.T.R. asks for permission to construct and maintain two branch lines of railways or spurs from a point on the applicant company's railway on Bethune street, Peterborough. One to cross Bethune street to lot 9, north of Dalhousie street, and the other crossing Bethune street to lot No. 9, north of Wolfe street in Peterborough.

There is also a G.T.R. case that interests Port Hope; a C.P.R. one affecting London; two or three Quebec cases; and the following one:—

Application of the Commercial Acetylene Company, of New York, regarding classification for transportation by express companies in Canada, subject to the Board, of acetylene gas when shipped under the so-called safety storage system.

ENJOYABLE EVENING WITH FORESTERS

Addresses Given by Prominent Foresters —The Bagpipes Were Heard.

The Sons of England Hall was crowded last night with Foresters and their friends, who gathered to enjoy the programme furnished by Court Chemong I.O.F. There was a splendid attendance, and very encouraging to the society. The large number of ladies was a particularly bright feature. In addition to the musical programme and the many speeches the programme included an excellent address by Supreme Ranger W. D. Lowrie, of Russell, who explained the many advantages a member of the I.O.F. has over the ordinary man. He took up the increase in the rates and stated just why this was done. He also extended a very hearty invitation to the ladies to join the society. Organizer Brown also gave a very interesting talk on the work of the I.O.F., and expressed the hope that the next year would see a large increase in the membership of Court Chemong.

The programme was as follows:

Dr. McKinnon, Chairman, gave a short address in opening.

Song—Mr. John Barr.

Reading—Mr. John Allen.

Song—Mr. J C Morgan.

Address—Mr. W H Lowrie, Russell, High Chief Ranger, Eastern Ontario.

Bagpipes—Mr. T S McKay.

Address—Mr. G N Brown, Organizer.

Recitation—Mr. J R Runnett.

Address—Mr. J C Morgan, head of the Orphans' Home and Assistant Grand Secretary.

"God Save the King."

JUNIOR Y.M.C.A. BOYS NOTES OF INTEREST

There was a good attendance of business boys in the gymnasium last night. A business boys' harrier club was formed.

The Membership Committee met last night. The committee will look up all expired members, who have not revived their membership. The regular meeting night will be the last Thursday of each month.

The Older Boys' Club meets tonight at eight o'clock, in the club room.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

Water Power for Electrical Energy is Pressing Problem of the Future—Ottawa in Critical Situation—The Political Silly Season —Prophets Who are Naming Successors to Sir Wilfrid Laurier Likely to Wait Long for the Opening.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—As I have noted before, the silly season in politics is now on. In the absence of the Premier all sorts and conditions of politicians are endeavouring to do duty for him. Hardly a day passes but a new Premier in prospect is presented for the public consideration. One of these amateur prophets suggests Fielding, another Lemieux, and the latest nomination is that of Mackenzie King. But when Parliament meets it will be found that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is still doing business at the old stand, and the event will prove that if there be any one ambitious to fill his political shoes, he may depend on a term of probation at least equal in duration to that which Jacob served for Rachel.

The alarming shortage in the Ottawa water supply continues to occupy the uneasy attention of the interests involved. As it is tersely put in a new-paper heading to-day there is "Not Enough Power to Drive Church Organs on Sunday." At the Chaudiere the mammoth sawmill at Booth's is closed down; the pulp mill at Eddy's has been closed down five or six weeks, and steam plants are being made use of to supply power in the match factory and other departments. Several of the industries on the Ontario side of the river are either closed down or running with reduced staffs on account of the lack of water power.

The power users at the Chaudiere are building a new dam at a cost of $250,000, and the city aqueduct, to cost $300,000, is in course of construction, but this will not be completed for three years. I mention these facts to show our people how they have been benefited by the wise administration of the local representative of the Public Works and Railway and Canals Departments, which has averted what might have proved a very serious situation indeed, and also to show the importance of using every influence to urge upon the government the advisability, if not necessity, of rapidly extending the system of dams to create reservoirs in the water courses to the north, where the stored waters may be retained to meet all possible emergencies.

The Railway Commission has been informed that the line of the National Transcontinental from Fort William over the Lake Superior branch will be opened to-day. Four thousand men were sent yesterday to this line from Winnipeg. Hundreds of cars of railway material are now being shipped from Fort William over this branch, the stuff being unloaded at Waco station. North-east of Waco there is a lake of considerable size, and both men and materials are conveyed to the scene of operations over this lake.

Table of Interest To Advertisers

A reader of the Examiner has kindly forwarded the following interesting fable that has a moral to it:

The late Mr. Aesop, who used to write small, pertinent tracts with large, aggressive morals, for the edification alike of the ancient Greeks and the modern school boys, is responsible for this anecdote.

A crow who had been haranguing a ward committee all the evening had contracted a large, importunate thirst.

As he was looking about to find some means of relieving himself of this same thirst, he discovered a pitcher which contained water.

But the pitcher was very large, and the quantity of water it contained was small, and reposed at the very bottom.

For anatomical reasons the crow could not dip his bill into the water, and drunk from the pitcher as it was.

Nor was there any use in trying to pour out the water, for the crow could not lift the pitcher.

Besides, he had no cup.

But he was a wise crow, and also persistent, and he immediately resolved himself into a committee of ways and means, and hatched out a solution of the problem.

He picked a pebble from many lying around, and dropped it into the pitcher.

He kept on dropping pebble after pebble into the pitcher, until the water approached near enough to the top for him to drink, and he slaked his thirst with ease.

Moral: It is continuous advertising that pay.

If the crow had stopped after one insertion, merely because he could not see any result, he would be thirsty yet.—Bites' Criticisms.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE AT ST. PAUL'S

Rev. Robt. Johnston D. D. of Montreal Will Speak on "The West and its People" on Tuesday

The people of Peterborough have a treat in store for them on Tuesday evening, December 1st, when the Rev. Robt. Johnston, D.D., of Montreal, regarded as the greatest orator in the Canadian Presbyterian church will lecture in St. Paul's. He will speak on: "The West and its People." A year ago he visited the West and took the opportunity of securing a number of views illustrative of life among the different communities and classes, having in view especially mission work among these. The lecture, at the same time, however, shows a great deal of the country, the Rockies and something of the new route of the Grand Trunk Pacific. He will also have a few characteristic views of the Tercentenary celebration at Quebec. The lecture will be open to the public.

THE BARNARDO HOME IN PETERBORO

"Ups And Downs" Pays Tribute To Munificence Of Hon. Senator Cox—"Hazel Brae" To Change Its Name.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. COX

"Ups and Downs," a magazzine published under the auspices of Dr. Barnardo's Canadian Homes, says of the munificence of Hon. Senator Cox: Thanks to the splendid generosity of Senator George A. Cox, our Girls Home in Peterborough is being enlarged and refitted in a manner that will make it second to no institution in the country for its purpose as a receiving and distributing home. The original building is being increased by the addition of a very large and handsome wing, that will provide dormitory space for a large number of inmates, with dining hall below, and in the basement commodious laundry with up-to-date sanitary and heating arrangements. The whole premises are being put in thorough repair, with hot water heating throughout, everything being done by the Senator at his own expense. When finished, the institution, so long known as "Hazel Brae," will henceforth bear the title of "The Margaret Cox Home for Girls," in memory of the late Mrs. Cox, who in her lifetime was so warm a friend to the work, as she was to so many other benevolent institutions. It is truly a princely gift, and on behalf of all our boys and girls in Canada, as well as on behalf of the management of the Homes, we offer to Senator Cox our most grateful and heart-felt thanks. We trust he may be long spared to see the work he has so generously endowed extending its usefulness, and many thousands passing through the Margaret Cox Memorial Home to happy homes throughout Canada.

Week Of Prayer Arranged For St. Luke's Church Next Week

The Week of Prayer, arranged by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will be observed at St. Luke's Church next week, and the Senior and Junior Chapters of the Brotherhood invite the hearty co-operation of all Brotherhood and other men in the observation of it. Commencing next Monday, every evening a prayer meeting will be held in St. Luke's Church, according to the following arrangement:

MONDAY — Meditation: The presence of God in His world and in me. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt.

TUESDAY — Meditation: The Joy of Service for others in Christ's Name. What am I doing? What can I do? Mr. Arthur Kingdon.

This Week of Prayer was formally endorsed by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew at the Hamilton Convention, and also by the Bishops of the Church of England at the recent Session of the General Synod at Ottawa. The Prayer Meetings will be held at St. Luke's Church every evening at 8 o'clock, and all men are heartily invited to be present.

Prominent Members Of The Catholic Clergy To Attend

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.— It is expected that Archbishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, will be one of the church dignitaries to attend at Pembroke next Monday when Rev. Father Latulippe will be consecrated as suffragan bishop of Temiskaming. Archbishop Duhamel, of Ottawa; Bruchesi, of Montreal; Gauthier, of Kingston; Bishop Scollard, of North Bay, and a hundred priests will attend, and will afterwards be banquetted at the Copeland House, Pembroke, by Bishop Lorraine.

Many from here and Montreal are going to attend the consecration.

DR. PUGSLEY ABOLISHES THE PATRONAGE SYSTEM

All Supplies for Public Works Department to be Purchased Hereafter by Public Tender—No Favours to be Shown

GOODS FROM OPEN MARKETS

The St. John Sun, of Nov. 24, has the following, which is of great and immediate interest, in view of the great reform being instituted in the purchasing branches of the public departments at Ottawa.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley, who arrived in St. John from Ottawa yesterday, gave to the Sun last evening the important information that he had decided to abolish altogether the patronage system in the Public Works Department and had issued orders to his officials to that effect. Agents of the department all over Canada have been notified to disregard in the future all patronage lists and to purchase supplies at the lowest price in the open market, advertising for tenders whenever possible.

"No," said the Minister, in answer to a question, "I have no reason to suppose that there have been any abuses of the patronage system in my department. I have heard no complaints of such and the Civil Service Commission found no fault with the Public Works Department on this score. But the disclosures in Quebec have shown that the system is open to abuse. The Government had no idea that any such conditions existed until the Cassells inquiry brought out the evidence which has been published. For that reason, and also because of the fact that the patronage system is outworn I have decided to do away with it. It has been long in existence. Ever since Confederation it has been the custom of governments to favour their friends in the purchase of supplies. The distribution of patronage has always been a feature of politics, and as long as the work was done fairly, so long as there was honest competition the system of confining the privilege of selling supplies to the Government to party supporters has been generally accepted and approved. But Canada's business has grown greatly of late and the necessity for the most practical business methods has grown likewise. I am simply getting my department down on a solid business basis, and to do this political influence and claims must be set aside."

"Is this reform to extend over all departments of the Government?" the Minister was asked.

"I can only speak for my own department," he replied. "Each minister is responsible for his own business. Mr. Brodeur has taken a similar course in the Marine Department. For the others I cannot speak."

Speaking further, Dr. Pugsley pointed out that already under Liberal regime all public works have been constructed by tender and contract. The patronage system only applied to the purchase of supplies—equipment for dredges, coal, repairs, office requirements, provisions and the like. The expenditure under this account runs into about a million a year. "And hereafter," said the Minister, "all these purchases are to be made after public tender, as in the construction of public works, whenever this is possible. And in any case, such as the purchase of petty supplies, immediately needed, the agents of the department will be bound by no patronage list, but will get his goods in the open market at the lowest possible price."

BASEBALL.

These are the winter jobs of some of America's best known ball players: Mithewson is a life insurance agent, McGraw and Johnny Kling own billiard rooms, Bresnahan is a Toledo detective, McGinnity is running an iron foundry, Dummy Taylor is a storekeeper, Stony McGlynn is a peace officer in York, Pa., Addie Joss is a sporting writer, Harry White is a dentist, likewise Mike Powers, of the Athletics, Fred Clarke and Clark Griffin are ranch owners, Roy Thomas is a travelling agent for a coffin manufacturer—pleasant business, no doubt. Hans Wagner and Jack Chesbro are farmers. So is Cy Young. Many other diamond stars are time killers of remarkable ability.

WEDDING BELLS

THOMSON—HUGILL

The marriage of Miss Editha K. Hugill, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Ford, Norwood, to Mr. Kenneth G. C. Thomson, also of Norwood, son of the late Rev. C. E. Thomson, of West Toronto, was solemnized at Christ Church, on Wednesday evening at 8.30 o'clock by the Rev. Canon Tremayne, of Mimico, in the presence of a large number of guests and friends.

Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Gwendoline Sherry announced the coming of the bride, preceded by the ushers, Mr. R. C. Street, Mr. F. B. McCleary and Dr. Weldon. Dr Ford escorted his daughter; who was attended by her sister, Miss Lillian E. Hugill.

The bride was attired in a gown of white mousseline silk with pearl and lace trimming and veil and cluster of lily of the valley, and carried white chrysanthemums.

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Shorbly, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Brown, Peterborough; Rev. Canon Tremayne, Mimico; Mr. R. C. Street, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Thomson and the Misses Thomson, Trenton; Mr. Wm. C. Thomson, Toronto; Mr. F. B. McCleary, Merrickville; Mrs. W. M. Fowlds and the Misses Fowlds, Hastings.

ROSS—ANDREWS

On Wednesday evening, the 18th inst., a very pleasing event took place at the home of Mr. David Andrews, Asphodel, when his daughter, Birdie, was united in marriage to Mr. George Frederick Ross, of Dummer. The bride, who was unattended, was dressed in white silk, and entered the tastefully decorated drawing room on the arm of her father to the accompanying strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. Pickford. The marriage service was read by the Reverend E. W. Pickford, rector of Christ Church, and there were present nearly a hundred and fifty invited guests.—Norwood Register.

CHAPPED HANDS AND COLD SORES

ZAM-BUK GIVES SPEEDY RELIEF.

Few women entirely escape the pain and annoyance of rough or chapped hands during the winter season, and most outdoor workers suffer more or less. If your hands are chapped, wash them at night in warm water, cleanse them thoroughly—using Zam-Buk soap if possible—and then anoint them well with Zam-Buk balm. By next morning you will be pleased with the result. Zam-Buk gives almost instant ease, and speedily closes the cracks.

Mrs. Walker, of 14 Manufacturer street, Montreal, says: "My son Henry works with his short sleeves rolled up above his elbow, and passing from a warm room to the biting cold, as he was obliged to do, he got the worst case of chapped hands and arms I have ever seen. From his fingers to his elbows was one mass of raw flesh with bad cracks here and there. Whenever he washed, it brought tears to his eyes: the pain was so acute.

"He tried several kinds of salve, but nothing relieved him really until he tried Zam-Buk. This took away the burning and smarting almost at once. The cracks began to heal, and a few applications of the balm cured him. His hands and arms are now smooth and soft.

"We have also used Zam-Buk for other emergencies. I sustained a burn on one of my fingers. Zam-Buk took the fire out and healed up the sore. It really is a wonderful household preparation.

Everybody says so who has tried Zam-Buk. Purely herbal, it is nature's own remedy. Eczema, ulcers, and chronic sores it heals and closes. Same with cuts, burns, and lacerated wounds. For children's injuries it is without equal. Rubbed on the chest it ends the aching and tightness due to cold. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

SUDDEN DEATH OF OTONABEE OCTOGENARIAN LAST NIGHT

The sudden death of Mr. William Redpath, Keene Station, occurred last night about eight o'clock at the age of eighty years. He had been working during the day in his garden, ate a hearty supper and apparently had never felt better in his life. After tea, however, while sitting in his chair he suddenly fell off it dead. The cause was heart trouble. Besides his wife he is survived by the following children; Andrew, Lakefield; Nelson, Birdsall's Station; Alex, in the Northwest, and Mrs. H. Crane, Mrs. S. Spiers and Mrs. Wm. Spiers, of Otonabee.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at one o'clock to Fife's Cemetery, Otonabee.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON QUESTIONS

The Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Bible Study Club for Nov. 29th, 1908, are as follows:

World's Temperance Sunday —Isaiah xxviii: 1-13.

Golden Text —I keep under my body, and bring it under subjection. I Cor. ix: 27.

Do you know of any period in the world's history, anywhere, when strong drink has been a blessing?

Is it at all possible for a people to produce wise and strong drink in abundance, and be a sober people?

Verse 1—Upon whom did the prophet say the "woe" of the drunkard should come?

Can a man, no matter how beautiful, or rich, or clever, retain his attractions if he tampers with strong drink?

Upon whom does the curse of strong drink chiefly fall to-day?

How does the curse of strong drink affect women and children to-day?

What proportion of women who drink stop short of becoming drunkards?

Verse 2 — Through their drunkenness, the people of Ephraim were soon captured and carried into captivity by the king of Assyria, but what are the enemies to-day which bring "woe" to those who are drunkards?

What are the evils which a moderate drinker has to fear?

Is it possible for a nation of drinkers to permanently prosper?

Verse 4 — How are the drinkers of to-day, either literally or figuratively, "trodden under foot"?

Verse 4 — The valley of Ephraim was very rich and productive, but became as a "fading flower" through drink; what becomes of the fertile farms of this country which are cultivated by drunkards?

How long does it take for strong drink to consume the "glorious beauty" of either a man or a woman?

Verse 5 — In what way does the Lord become "a crown of glory and a diadem of beauty," to those who trust him for their stimulus and do not drink?

What are the advantages of abstinence from strong drink?

Verse 6 — Why does a man who has a just cause dislike to have it tried before a judge under the influence of drink?

Is a general who drinks a safe man to whom to trust an army?

Should a physician who freely drinks be permitted to practise his profession?

Verse 7—It seems in that day that the "priest and the prophet.....erred in vision and stumbled in judgment, through strong drink"; have you ever heard of similar things happening in this day?

Verse 8 — Describe the condition of things in a room after a swine banquet.

Describe the home of a drunkard.

Verse 9—Why is it so difficult to impart practical knowledge to the people on the unmitigated evils of the drink habit?

What proportion of the voters are now in favour of the total suppression of the manufacture and sale of strong drink as a beverage?

Verse 10—In what consists our chief hope for the suppression of the ravages of the drink habit? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verse 11—In what way is God to-day so loudly proclaiming the evils of strong drink?

Verses 12-13 — When people are so often warned, and will not take the warning, what generally is the result?

Lesson for Sunday, Dec. 6th, 1908 — Solomon chooses Wisdom.—I Kings iii: 4-15.

CHATS ABOUT FAMOUS BOOKS AND THEIR AUTHORS

By F. M. D.

We have arrived now at a period of history, when the genius of mankind, roused to greater activity by the invention of printing, was beginning to busy itself in literary labours of every description.

Up to the time of Coster, humanity might almost be said to have been groping in the dark, rather than proceeding with dignity and precision towards the goal of its manifest destiny.

Thousands of years before, in fact so far back in the dim past as four hundred years after the flood, in the time of King Chephorasd, of Babylon, tablets of Euphrates clay, had been adorned with hieroglyphics, whose meaning has been a mystery to all succeeding ages. But, throughout all the intervening period, the only improvement that had been forthcoming in the matter of publishing, had been the substitution of papyrus paper and parchment for brick.

The invention of printing acted like the magic wand of Merlin. Writers arose on every side. Many of them uncouth in style and diction, it is true, but nevertheless, the forerunners of others who in later times illuminated the world with their transcendent genius.

Roger Ascham

Amid those who stand in the forefront of what has been called the second era of English literature, Roger Ascham holds an honoured place. This fine type of an Englishman was born in 1515, at a small place called Kirby-Wiske, in Yorkshire. He was the youngest of three sons of John Ascham, house-steward to the family of Scroope—and was educated at Cambridge University, where in due course he became university orator. His love of all manly sports was great, and he has shown his partiality for one at least, that of archery, by writing a treatise in its praise. It is a quaint work, for through its pages, good advice concerning shooting, and philosophical disquisitions are pretty fairly intermingled.

Appointed Tutor to the Lady Elizabeth

This work, which he named Toxophilus, brought him a pension from Henry VIII. of £10 a year, equal to about $110 of our present money. In 1548, Ascham, by reason of his attainments in Latin and Greek, was appointed tutor to the Lady Elizabeth, afterwards Queen. He only held this post for two years, however, leaving, on account of some dispute with her attendants. He then returned to his college, but soon afterwards accepted a position as secretary to Sir Richard Morrisine, and went with him to Germany. In 1853, on the death of Edward VI., he returned to England.

On the accession of Queen Mary, he was retained in his post as Latin secretary, to which he had been appointed by Queen Edward, and, notwithstanding the fact that he was a Protestant, he was also allowed to retain his fellowship, and had his pension increased to £20 On Queen Mary's death, Queen Elizabeth recalled him at court, where he resided until his death on Dec. 30th, 1568, in his fifty-third year.

The immediate cause of Ascham's death was an ague brought on by too close application on a poem which he was composing as a New Year's gift to the Queen.

Ascham's Works

Only two works were published by Ascham during his life time, Toxophilus, and a report of the affairs of Germany, and of the Emperor Charles' court. The Schoolmaster, his most valued work, which Dr. Johnson said contained as fine a system of instruction for the study of foreign languages as could anywhere be found, was published after his death by his widow.

The subject was suggested to him by Sir Richard Sackville, in the course of a conversation in the apartment of Secretary Cecil. The title of Ascham's great work is remarkable for its length. It is as follows: The Schoolmaster; or plain and perfite way of teaching children to understande, write, and speake the Latin tong, but specially purposed for the private bringing up of youth in Jentlemen and Nobelmen's houses, and commodious also for all such as have forgot the Latin Tonge, and would by themselves, without a Schoolmaster, in short tyme, and with small paines recover a sufficient Habilite to understand, write, and speake Latin." This work was written during the last seven years of his life.

Elizabeth as a Scholar

When Elizabeth heard that her good old tutor was dead, it is said she cried out: "I would rather have thrown ten thousand pounds into the sea than have lost my Aschem." The royal pupil who uttered these words had indeed, in herself, proved the excellence of Ascham as a teacher. Dr. Johnson said of her that she had "learning enough to have given dignity to a bishop," and from Ascham himself we have it on record, that at sixteen she had a man's power of application over books. "She had read almost the whole of Cicero and a great part of Livy. She began the day with the study of the New Testament in Greek and followed this up by reading selected orations of Isocrates and the tragedies of Sophocles. She could speak Latin with fluency and Greek moderately well."

It has been hinted in certain quarters that Ascham, like many others of his day and generation, was somewhat too strongly addicted to the pastime of cock-fighting, and it was for this reason that he left his position at the court. There seems to be no particular ground for this contention, as cock-fighting in those days was by no means looked upon with reprobation, but that Ascham was conversant with the sport is evident from his writings.

One of the most interesting things in connection with the life of Ascham is the account he gives of a visit to Lady Jane Grey, prior to his journey to Germany, with Sir Richard Morrisine. It is taken from his work "The Schoolmaster."

Visit to Lady Jane Grey

"Before I went into Germany, I came to Broadgate in Leicestershire, to take my leave of that noble Lady Jane Grey, to whom I was exceeding much beholden. Her parents, the Duke and Duchess, with all the household, gentleman and gentlewomen, were hunting in the park. I found her in her chamber reading Phaedon Platonis in Greek, and that with as much delight as some gentlemen would read a merry tale in Bocace (Boccaccio.) After salutation and duty done, with some other talk, I asked her why she would lose such pastime in the park? Smiling, she answered me: "I wis, all their sport in the park is but a shadow to that pleasure that I find in Plato. Alas! good folks, they never felt what true pleasure meant." "And how came you, madam," quoth I, "to this deep knowledge of pleasure? And what did chiefly allure you unto it, seeing not many women, but very few men, have attained thereunto?" "I will tell you," quoth she, "and tell you a truth which, perchance, ye will marvel at. One of the greatest benefits that ever God gave me, is that He sent me so sharp and severe parents, and so gentle a schoolmaster. For when I am in presence either of father or mother, whether I speak, keep silence, sit, stand, or go, eat, drink, be merry or sad, be sewing, playing, dancing, or doing anything else, I must do it as it were in such weight, measure and number, even so perfectly as God made the world; or else I am so sharply taunted, so cruelly threatened, yea, presently, sometimes with pinches, nips, and bobs, and other ways, which I will not name for the honour I bear them, so without measure misordered, that I think myself in hell, till time come that I must go to Mr. Elmer; who teacheth me so gently, so pleasantly, with such fair allurements to learning that I think all the time nothing, whiles I am with him."

DOMESTICS FROM THE OLD LAND VERY RAPIDLY OBTAIN SITUATIONS FROM MONTREAL HOUSEHOLDERS

England and Scotland, who arrived in Montreal recently, have been snapped up by local householders. Over a hundred girls from the other side arrived at the headquarters here of the Women's Domestic Guild two weeks ago, and situations have been found for them all. Many applications were received from points outside of Montreal, and some of the girls went as far west as Toronto to take situations.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 28—Greatly exaggerated reports were sent out to eastern papers regarding the collapse of the new North Winnipeg Theatre here this week. It is stated in many of the accounts of the accident that the whole building, which is now practically finished, collapsed and is now a heap of ruins. As a matter of fact a small portion of the brick and terracotta work of the north-west corner only fell, and the accident did not affect any other portion of the building. The damage amounted to only about two hundred dollars.

Montreal, Nov. 28.—An event of considerable importance in Montreal musical circles was the opening of a series of fortnightly concerts by the Montreal Symphony Orchestra at His Majesty's Theatre yesterday afternoon. These concerts were held regularly several years ago and were very successful, but last year the orchestra did not meet with much support from the public. The large list of subscribers to this season's concerts, however, would appear to indicate that the work of Prof. Goulet's musical organization, which is all Montreal can boast of in the way of an orchestra, is gaining appreciation. Miss Benedict, the well-known New York contralto, was the soloist at the opening concert yesterday.

St. John's, Newfoundland, Nov. 28 — The recount in the Harbour Grace district has left the standing of the parties just as it was, a tie with each side holding eighteen seats, and there is a good deal of speculation as to what form the government will take. It is likely that a coalition government will be formed, as this appears to be the only way out of the difficulty.

Drowning accidents here are greatly on the increase. Four men were drowned together near Twillingate, and one was drowned in Red Indian Lake a few days ago. During the last summer drownings were very frequent, there being an unusually large number of boating accidents.

The little schooner Evelyn, which has arrived from Europe, had a very boisterous passage. In the height of a fierce gale her topsail and other canvas was blown away. She ran short of provisions, but a German steamer which they came across when on the point of starvation, gave them a supply. During the storm the mate was badly injured, and was laid up in his cabin for the remainder of the voyage.

According to the reports of Geological Surveyor Howley, Newfoundland has several large coal areas, and an effort will be made to work them.

The electric light is now in full blast again after three months of darkness owing to the continued drought which left no water for power at the electric plant at Petty Harbour. The street cars are also running again.

WRECK OF GOVERNMENT STEAMER KING EDWARD MAY BE SOLD BY AUCTION—THE WINNIPEG THEATRE NOT BADLY DAMAGED—DROWNING ACCIDENTS REPORTED FROM NEWFOUNDLAND.

Examiner Special.

Quebec, Nov. 28—It is likely that the wreck of the Government steamer King Edward, as it now lies on the rocks at English Bay, Anticosti, will be sold by auction. All hopes of floating her has been abandoned, and she has been condemned by the surveyors. The King Edward went ashore at English Bay in a fog about two weeks ago. She was driven high on the rocks by a fierce gale. The crew was rescued.

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Mrs. J. M. Tweedale, 12 Napanee Street, Toronto, Canada, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was a great sufferer from female troubles, had those dreadful bearing down pains, and during my monthly periods I suffered so I had to go to bed. I doctored for a long time but the doctor's treatment failed to help me. My husband saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and got a bottle for me. I commenced its use and soon felt better. I kept on taking it until I was well and an entirely different woman. I also found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made childbirth much easier for me. I would recommend your Vegetable Compound to every woman who is afflicted with female troubles."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Tweedale, it will do for other suffering women.

Chapter Four

"There you go! There you go! Just like your father and your grandfather and all of them! If the English people had any spirit they'd have swept the Dunstanburys and all the wicked Whig gang into the sea long ago."

"Before you could turn around they'd have bought it up, inclosed it and won an election by opening it to ships at a small fee on Sundays," said Mr. Pindar.

"Why are Whigs worse than Tories?" inquired Mr. Pikes, with an air of patient inquiry.

"The will of heaven, I suppose," sniffed Lady Margaret Duddington.

"To display divine omnipotence in that line," suggested Mr. Pindar.

"A deuced pretty girl!" said Dunstanbury in reflective tones. He was doing his best to reproduce the impression he had received at Morpingham hall, but obviously with no great success.

"On some pretext, frivolous though it be, let us drive over and see this miracle," Pinder suggested. "How could we better employ this last day of our visit? You'll drive us over, Percival?"

"No, thank you, Mr. Pindar," said the young man, resolute in wisdom. "I'll send you over if you like."

"I'll come with you," said Pikes. "But how account for ourselves? Old Brownlow is unknown to us."

"If Percival had been going I'd have had nothing to do with it, but I don't mind taking you two old sillies," said Lady Margaret. "I wanted to pay a call on Elizabeth Brownlow anyhow. We were at school together once. But I won't guarantee you a sight of the kitchen maid."

"It's a pretty drive for this part of the country," observed Dunstanbury.

"It may well become your favorite road," smiled Mr. Pindar benevolently.

"And since Lady Meg goes with us, it's already ours," added Mr. Pikes gallantly.

So they used to go on for hours at a time, as Dunstanbury has declared, both at Hazleby when they were there and at Lady Meg's house in Berkeley square, where they almost always were. They were pleased to consider themselves politicians—Pikes a Whig, twenty years behind date; Pindar, a Tory, 200. It was all an affectation, assumed for the purpose, but with the very doubtful result of amusing Lady Meg. To Dunstanbury the two old waifs—for waifs of the sea of society they were for all that each had a sufficient income to his name and a reputable life behind him—were sheerly tiresome, and there seems little ground to differ from his opinion. But they were old family friends, and he endured with his usual graciousness.

Their patroness—they would hardly have gibed at the word—was a more notable person. Lady Meg—the world generally and Sophy always spoke of her by that style, and we may take the same liberty—was only child of the great Earl of Dunstanbury. The title and estates passed to his grandnephew, but half a million or so of pounds came to her.

The air of the household was stormy that day at Morpingham—an incentive to the expedition, not a deterrent, for Lady Meg had she known it. Sophy was in sore disgrace—accused, tried and convicted of insubordination and unseemly demeanor toward Mrs. Smilker. The truth seems to be that this good woman (Rest her soul. She has a neat tombstone in Morpingham churchyard) loved, like many another good creature, good ale sometimes a trifle too well, and the orders she gave when ale had been plentiful did not always consort with her less mellow injunctions. In no vulgar directness, but with a sarcasm which Mrs. Smilker felt without understanding, Sophy would point out these inconsistencies. Angered and humiliated, fearful, too, perhaps that her subordinate would let the secret out, Mrs. Smilker made haste to have the first word with the powers, and against the word of the cook the word of the cook maid weighed as naught. After smaller troubles of this origin there had come a sort of crisis today. The longest of long lectures had been read to Sophy by mistress and repeated, slightly condensed, by master, then she was sent away to think it over. An abject apology to outraged Mrs. Smilker must be forthcoming or banishment was the decree. Informed of this ultimatum, Sophy went out and hung about the avenue, hoping for Julia to appear. Soon Julia came and heard the story. She had indignation in readiness and, what was more to the purpose, a plan. Soon Sophy's eyes grew bright.

Into this storm tossed house came Lady Meg and her spaniels. This unkind name, derived at first from the size and shape of Mr. Pindar's ears—they were large and hung over at the top—had been stretched to include Mr. Pikes also, with small loss of propriety. Both gentlemen were low of stature, plump of figure, hairy on the face; both followed obediently at the heels of commanding Lady Meg. The amenities of the luncheon table opened hearts. Very soon the tale of Sophy's iniquities was revealed. Incidentally and unavoidably if Sophy's heinous fault were to appear in its true measure the tally of the Brownlows' benevolence was reckoned. But Mrs. Brownlow won small comfort from Lady Meg. She got a stiff touch of the truth.

"Ran in and out of the drawing room!" she said. "Did she? The truth is, Lizzie, you've spoiled her, and now you're angry with her for being spoiled."

"What is she now, Mrs. Brownlow?" asked Pindar, with a sly intention. Was this Percival's deuced pretty girl?

"She works in the kitchen, Mr. Pindar."

"The girl!" his eyes signaled to Mr. Pikes. "Let Lady Meg see her," he urged insinuatingly. "She has a wonderful way with girls."

"I don't want to see her, and I know your game, Pindar," said Lady Meg.

"I'm afraid she must go," sighed Mrs. Brownlow. Her husband said, more robustly, that such an event would be a good riddance—a saying repeated, with the rest of the conversation, by the butler (one William Byles, still living), to the gratified ears of Mrs. Smilker in the kitchen.

"But I'm not easy about her future. She's an odd child, and looks it."

"Pretty?" This from Mr. Pindar.

"Well, I don't know. Striking looking, you'd rather say perhaps, Mr. Pindar."

"Let her go her own way. We've talked quite enough about her." Lady Meg sounded decisive and not a little bored.

"And then," Mrs. Brownlow made bold to go on for a moment, "such a funny mark. Many people wouldn't like it, I'm sure."

"A mark on her face, you know. A round red mark."

"Big as a threepenny bit, pretty nearly," said the squire.

"Where?"

"On her cheek."

"Where is the girl?" asked Lady Meg. Her whole demeanor had changed, her bored air had vanished. "She seemed fair excited," Mr. Byles reports. Then she turned to the said Byles: "Find out where that girl is, and let me know. Don't tell her anything about it. I'll go to her."

"But let me send for her"—began the squire courteously.

"No; give me my own way. I don't want her frightened."

The squire gave the orders she desired, and the last Mr. Byles heard as he left the room was from Lady Meg:

"Marks like that always mean something—eh, Pindar?"

No doubt Mr. Pindar agreed, but his reply is lost.

The girls in the avenue had made their plan. Sophy would not bow her head to Mrs. Smilker nor longer eat the bread of benevolence embittered by servitude. She would go with Julia. She, too, would tread the boards if only she could get her feet on them. And when did any girl seriously doubt her ability to do that? The pair were gay and laughing when suddenly through the gate came Lady Meg and the spaniels, Lady Meg ahead as usual and with a purposeful air.

"Who are they?" cried Sophy.

Hazleby is but twelve miles from Morpingham. Julia had been over to see the big house and had sighted Lady Meg in the garden.

"It's Lady Margaret Duddington," she whispered, rather in a fright. There was time for no more. Lady Meg was upon them. Sophy was identified by her dress and, to Lady Meg's devouring eyes, by the mark.

"You're the girl who's been behaving so badly?" she said.

Seeing no profit in arguing the merits, Sophy answered "Yes."

At this point Julia observed one old gentleman nudge the other and whisper something. It is morally certain that Pindar whispered to Pikes, "Percival's girl!"

"You seem to like your own way. What are you going to do—say you're sorry?"

"No. I'm not sorry. I'm going away."

"Come here, girl. Let me look at you."

Sophy obeyed, walking up to Lady Meg and fixing her eyes on her face. She was interested, not frightened, as it seemed. Lady Meg looked long at her.

"Going away? Where to?"

Julia spoke up. "She's coming with me, please, Lady Margaret." Julia, it would seem, was a little frightened.

"Who are you?"

"Julia Robins. My mother lives there." She pointed to Woodbine cottage. "I—I'm on the stage"—

"Lord help you!" remarked Lady Meg disconcertingly.

"Not at all!" protested Julia, her meaning plain, her expression of it faulty. "And I—I'm going to help her to—to get an engagement. We're friends."

"What's she going to do with that on the stage?" Lady Meg's forefinger almost touched the mark.

"Oh, that's all right, Lady Margaret. Just a little cold cream and powder"—

"Going away? Where to?"

Nasty stuff!" said Lady Meg.

A pause followed, Lady Meg still studying Sophy's face. Then, without turning around, she made a remark obviously addressed to the gentlemen behind her:

"I expect this is Percival's young person."

"Without a doubt," said Pikes.

"And Percival was right about her, too," said Pindar.

"Think so? I ain't sure yet," said Lady Meg. "And at any rate I don't care twopence about that. But"— A long pause marked a renewed scrutiny. "Your name's Sophy, isn't it?"

"Yes." Sophy hesitated, then forced out the words, "Sophy Grouch."

"Grouch?"

"I said Grouch."

"Humph! Well, Sophy, don't go on the stage. It's a poor affair, the stage, begging Miss Julia's pardon. I'm sure she'll do admirably at it. But a poor affair it is. There's not much to be said for the real thing, but it's a deal better than the stage, Sophy."

"The real thing?" Julia saw Sophy's eyes grow thoughtful.

"The world—places—London—Paris—men and women—Lord help them! Come with me, and I'll show you all that."

"What shall I do if I come with you?"

"Do? Eat and drink and waste time and money, like the rest of us. Eh, Pindar?"

"Of course," said Mr. Pindar, with a placid smile.

"I shan't be a servant again?"

"Everybody in my house is a slave, I'm told, but you won't be more of a slave than the rest."

"Will you have me taught?"

Lady Meg looked hard at her. For the first time she smiled, rather grimly. "Yes, I'll have you taught, and I'll show you the queen of England and, if you behave yourself, the emperor of the French—Lord help him!"

"Not unless she behaves herself!" murmured Mr. Pindar.

"Hold your tongue, Pindar! Now, then, what do you say? No, wait a minute. I want you to understand it properly." She became silent for a moment. Julia was thinking her a very rude woman; but, since Pindar did not mind, who need?

Lady Meg resumed. "I won't make an obligation of you—I mean I won't be bound to you, and you shan't be bound to me. You'll stay with me as long as you like or as long as I like, as the case may be. If you want to go, put your visiting card—yes, you'll have one—in an envelope and send it to me. And if I want you to go I'll put a hundred pound note in an envelope and send it to you, upon which you'll go and no reasons given! Is it agreed?"

"It sounds all right," said Sophy.

"Did you always have that mark on your cheek?"

"Yes, always. Father told me so."

"Well, will you come?"

Sophy was torn. The stage was very attractive, and the love she had for Julia Robins held her as though by a cord. But was the stage a poor thing? Was that mysterious real thing better? Though even of that this strange woman spoke scornfully. Already there must have been some underground channel of understanding between them, for Sophy knew that Lady Meg was more than interested in her—that she was actually excited about her, and Lady Meg, in her turn, knew that she played a good card when she dangled before Sophy's eyes the queen of England and the emperor of the French, though even then came that saving "Lord help him!" to damp an overardent expectation.

"Let me speak to Julia," said Sophy. Lady Meg nodded. The girls linked arms and walked apart. Pindar came to Lady Meg's elbow.

"Another whim!" said he in a low voice. Pikes was looking around the view with a kind of vacant contentment.

"Yes," she said. His lips moved. "I know what you said. You said, 'You old fool!' Pindar."

"Never, on my life, my lady!" They seemed more friends now than patroness and client. Few saw them thus, but Pindar told Dunstanbury, and the old gentleman was no liar.

"Give me one more!" she whispered, plainly excited. "That mark must mean something. It may open a way."

"For her?" he asked, smiling.

"It must for her. It may for me."

"A way where?"

"To knowledge—knowledge of the unknown. They may speak through her!"

"Lady Meg! Lady Meg! And if they don't, the hundred pound note! It's very cruel."

"Who knows—who knows, Pindar? Fate has her ways."

He shrugged his shoulders and smiled. "Not half as amusing as your ladyship's!"

Sophy, twenty yards off, flung her arms around Julia. The embrace was long. It spoke farewell. Lady Meg's eyes brightened. "She's coming with me," she said. Pindar shrugged his shoulders again and fell back to heel. Sophy walked briskly up.

"I'll come, my lady," she said.

"Good! Tomorrow afternoon—to London. Mrs. Brownlow has the address. Goodby." She turned abruptly on her heel and marched off, her retinue following.

Julia came to Sophy.

"We can write," she said. "And she's right. You must be for the real thing, Sophy!"

"My dear, my dear!" murmured Sophy, half in tears. "Yes, we must write." She drew back and stood erect. "It's all very dark," she said, "but I like it. London—and Paris! On the Seine!" Old lessons came back with new import now.

"The emperor of the French!" Julia mocked, with tears in her eyes.

A sudden thought occurred to Sophy. "What did she mean by 'Percival's young person?' Is his name Percival?"

Julia gave a little cry. "Lord Dunstanbury's? Yes. You've seen him again?"

She drew out the story. It made the sorrow of parting half forgotten.

"You owe this to him, then! How romantic!" was Actress Julia's conclusion—in part a true one, no doubt. But Sophy, looking deeper, fingered the red star. She had tracked the magnet of Lady Meg's regard, the pivot of her interest, the pivot of decision for that mind of whims.

Chapter Five

WITH that scene in the avenue of elm trees at Morpingham there comes a falling of the veil. Letters passed between Sophy and Julia Robins, but they have not been preserved. The diary was not yet begun. Basil Williamson did not move in the same world with Lady Meg and her entourage. Dunstanbury was in Ireland, where his regiment was then stationed. For the next twelve months there is only one glimpse of Sophy—that a passing and accidental one, although not without its significance as throwing a light on Lady Meg's adoption of Sophy—while it lasted it amounted to that—and on the strange use to which she hoped to be able to turn her protege. The reference is, however, tantalizingly vague just where explicitness would have been of curious interest, though hardly of any real importance to a sensible mind.

The reference occurs in a privately printed volume of reminiscences by the late Captain Hans Fleming, R. N., a sailor of some distinction, but better known as a naturalist. Writing in the winter of 1865-6 (he gives no precise date), he describes in a letter a meeting with Lady Meg, whom, it will be noticed, he calls "old Lady Meg," although at that time she was but forty-nine. She had so early in life taken up an attitude of resolute spinsterhood that there was a tendency to exaggerate her years:

MANY DON'T KNOW

HEART AFFECTED.

More People than Aware of It Have Heart Disease.

"If examinations were made of everyone, people would be surprised at the number of persons walking about suffering from heart disease."

This startling statement was made by a doctor at a recent inquest. "I should not like to say that heart disease is as common as this would imply," said the expert, "but I am sure that the number of persons going about with weak hearts must be very large."

"Hundreds of people go about their daily work on the verge of death, and yet do not know it. It is only when the shock comes that kills them that the unsuspected weakness of the heart is made apparent."

"But undoubtedly heart weakness, not disease, is more prevalent nowadays. I should think that the stress of living, the wear and rush of modern business life, have a lot to do with heart trouble."

There is no doubt but that this is correct, and we would strongly advise any one suffering in any way from heart trouble to try a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

FLUTTERING OF THE HEART.

Mrs. G. M. White, Williamstown, N.B., writes: "I was troubled with weak spells and fluttering of the heart. I was so bad I could scarcely lie down in bed. I procured a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they helped me so much I got another box and it has made a final cure. I cannot speak too highly of them. I think they are worth their weight in gold."

AMBEROL RECORDS for The EDISON PHONOGRAPH

The greatest improvement in sound-reproducing instruments was made when Mr. Edison invented Amberol Records for the Edison Phonograph

No one thing has added so much to the pleasure of the Edison Phonograph as a Record which plays more than four minutes, and reproduces the melody or voice so clearly and perfectly that the illusion almost defies detection.

Edison Amberol Records are the same size as the ordinary Edison Records. They can be played upon any Edison Phonograph by the addition of an attachment which any dealer can supply and any dealer can affix.

Longer selections are now available for the Edison Phonograph than have ever been available before for any sound-reproducing machine, and these selections are better given.

You can hear these new Records at any dealer's. Learn about the attachment and equip your Phonograph with it today. If you haven't an Edison Phonograph, you can now buy one which plays both styles of Records—the two-minute and four-minute.

We will be glad to send to anyone, however, a booklet describing the new attachment, describing the Amberol Records, giving a list of the music now available on these Records and giving all the other information necessary to make it possible for you to get more than twice as much enjoyment out of your Edison Phonograph as you are now getting.

We Desire Good, Live Dealers to sell Edison Phonographs in every town where we are not now well represented. Dealers having established stores should write at once to

AFTER TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your NEW METHOD TREATMENT for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the NEW METHOD TREATMENT for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish." W. SUFFERED TORTURES FOR 70 YEARS

Wife of a Prominent Physician Tells How She Was Cured.

Mrs. J. R. Flock is the widow of one of the best known physicians in London, Ontario. She was treated by her husband and many other medical men yet never received any lasting benefit. Just by accident, she tried a well-known remedy, and now, after 70 years of suffering, she is well. Read her letter to Fruit-a-tives Limited.

"Dear Sirs,—Since my early childhood (and I am now in my seventy-third year) I have suffered indescribable torment from stomach trouble and indigestion, complicated with liver disorders. Being the wife of a prominent physician (the late Dr. J. R. Flock), I, naturally enough, had a prejudice against proprietary remedies. I was, however, unable to benefit to any great extent through my lifetime, from taking the ordinary remedies of physicians, being constantly in delicate health from stomach disorder and vomiting. Accidentally I came into possession of a sample of "Fruit-a-tives"—tried them, and found myself wonderfully benefitted. I take them now as my only medicine and they are keeping me in the most satisfactory health.

After finding out the wonderful medicinal qualities of "Fruit-a-tives" I have recommended them to many of my friends and acquaintances, who have also had the best results from their use—and one lady friend that I have recently recommended them to, has used them for Sciatica, from which she suffered constantly and was unable to procure any remedy that would relieve her. She is now taking "Fruit-a-tives" and is cured.

I am glad to be able to recommend "Fruit-a-tives" and will be glad if you will use my name in any way that will be the means of bringing your remedy before the public."

ST. JOHN ENQUIRY ENDS

Judge Cassels Resumes Investigation in Halifax To-day—Clerk Tells of Purchase of Articles at Seven Dollars That Regularly Cost Three—Other Items of Expense Were Excessive—Machinist Heard.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 28.—Justice Cassels yesterday morning concluded the Marine investigation and left for Halifax to open court to-day.

Malcolm A. Morris, the engineer on the steamer Curlew, testified that in some cases he thought excessive prices were paid for supplies for the steamers. He said the Department was an easy buyer. Witness said he had received presents of money from McDonald of the St. John Iron Works totalling up to $50, but these had nothing to do with Government work.

Some cotton waste, bought at ten cents, was not as good as other which cost nine. Admiral Kingsmill, to whose attention this was drawn, said it was the buyer's fault. Witness had noticed differences in charges for repairs done by different concerns, but had never called Harding's attention to this, as the prices did not concern him, but he had spoken to the captain about excessive charges. The Department was sometimes an easy buyer. Witness never knew anything about a system of giving presents or exchanging checks. He had received presents of money from Charles McDonald, but this had nothing to do with the Department.

H. Brown, agent, one of Harding's clerks, said he occasionally checked prices for supplies, and thought some of them were excessive. To illustrate this, he explained that in one case seven dollars had been paid where three dollars was the regular price. He had changed the price to three dollars, and that bill had not been paid. The system was for the merchants to charge the Department as much as they could get, and once in awhile Harding objected to the prices.

He had also called Mr. Harding's attention to an account of T. McAvity & Sons for cement at $2.20 a barrel, when he was aware that a brand could be procured at $1.80 a barrel.

He had never received any presents from merchants doing business with the Department. He knew nothing of any rake-offs on checks of officials of the Department.

Thomas R. Allan, machinist, was then called. He said he had been working on the steamer Lansdowne and on one occasion he had worked on Mr. Harding's launch for five days. C. B. Allan had paid him.

Mr. Gallagher, superintendent of gas buoys, was called. He said he did not order supplies or fix prices, and had no knowledge of excessive prices or of supplies being misappropriated. He knew nothing of any gifts and had never been offered any.

This concluded the evidence, and Mr. Watson, addressing Judge Cassels, said that after considering the evidence adduced, he and Mr. Perron believed it was all they could profitably use at present. They were not through with New Brunswick, however, but would secure other evidence later. Many matters of detail might be investigated, but he thought the evidence brought out was sufficient to show the general system that was carried on. The enquiry was then adjourned.

Burned to a Crisp.

Montreal, Nov. 28.—As the result of an explosion of a quantity of gasoline in a clothes' cleaning shop on Berthelet street yesterday afternoon, a youth named Legamiere was burned to a crisp and the building was entirely destroyed by flames.

The youth was working in the rear of the shop when the explosion occurred, and it was only after strenuous work on the part of the firemen that the flames were subdued sufficiently for the body to be recovered.

To Build New Hospital.

St. Catharines, Nov. 28.—The annual meeting of the General and Marine Hospital was held last evening. During the past year 516 patients were cared for, the expenditure being $10,000, with receipts $2,536.82 in advance of that amount.

The hospital now has a fund of $8,690.26 for the erection of a new building.

"Bronchitis"

Is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes.

The Symptoms are tightness across the chest, sharp pains and a difficulty in breathing, and a secretion of thick phlegm, at first white, but later of a greenish or yellowish color.

Neglected Bronchitis is one of the most general causes of Consumption.

Cure it at once by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. D. D. Miller, Allandale, Ont., writes: "My husband got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for my little girl who had Bronchitis. She wheezed so badly you could hear her from one room to the other, but it was not long until we could see the effect your medicine had on her. That was last winter when we lived in Toronto.

"She had a bad cold this winter, but instead of getting another bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, I tried a home made receipt which I got from a neighbor but found that her cold lasted about twice as long. My husband highly praises 'Dr. Wood's,' and says he will see that a bottle of it is always kept in the house."

It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, the price 25 cts.

GIVEN UP BY DOCTOR--NOW IN PINK OF HEALTH!

No words of ours could be more convincing of Psychine's power to make the sick well than those of John A. Galbraith, a well-to-do farmer of Plympton, Ont. He says: "I did not seem able to gain any strength after the attack of pneumonia. One doctor said that tuberculosis had developed, that I could not recover, and advised me to settle all my affairs as quickly as possible. This was the condition I was in when my pastor, Rev. C. E. Burrell of the Baptist Church, advised me to try PSYCHINE, and procured for me a trial bottle. This was in May, 1906, and at that time I was reduced in weight to 120 pounds.

"The PSYCHINE did good from the start. I gained in weight at the rate of half a pound a day until I went up to 150 pounds, steadily regaining my strength and feeling better. I actually had to have my clothes enlarged, not through any corpulency, but owing to a putting on of good flesh all over. I have resumed my work and have gone through a severe and sickly winter with nothing worse than an attack of grip, which my system was able to throw off without any serious results.

"I give this statement for the purpose of showing how PSYCHINE has probably saved my life, and in hope that others may be likewise benefited by its use."

THE DRUGGIST SPEAKS.

Mr. Ralph Scott, druggist, Forest, says: "I have read the statements made by Mr. J. A. Galbraith and Rev. C. E. Burrell regarding the results of the use of PSYCHINE. I know both gentlemen personally and can heartily endorse all that they have said. Mr. Galbraith obtained his supply of PSYCHINE at my drug store, saying from time to time that it had done him good. I took an interest in his case and noted a steady improvement. Altogether I sold him about $15.00 worth. PSYCHINE is having a big run here, and so far as I know is always used with beneficial results."

"I SAW HIM"

M. J. Pettypiece, Esq., ex-M.P.P., publisher of The Forest Free Press, says:

"The Galbraith cure is considered a miracle here. I know his case was considered hopeless by his physician, and that something had pulled him together. I have only just learned that it was PSYCHINE."

Three months after Mr. Pettypiece writes: "I saw Galbraith in town yesterday. He is looking the pink of health—says he never felt better, and that he is doing his share of the work on the farm, instead of being under the sod, where just one year ago, the doctors told him he would be."

BILL DEFEATED BY THE HOUSE OF LORDS

British Upper House Throws Out Licensing Measure.

CAMPAIGN ISSUE IS RAISED

Liberals Will Probably Use Action of Nobles as Rallying Cry In Fight For Curtailment of Power of Peerage In Legislation—Was Also a Revenue Bill and Out of Lords' Jurisdiction, They Declare.

London, Nov. 28.—The House of Lords created an interesting political situation last evening by rejecting the Licensing Bill by a vote of 272 against 96.

The Liberals are likely to make this action a rallying cry in their campaign for the curtailment of the power of the House of Lords, claiming that the peers have defeated the will of the people.

They set forth furthermore that the bill, being a revenue measure, is outside the jurisdiction of the House of Lords.

On the other hand, the Conservatives insist that this bill is the most unpopular measure with the country attempted in many years, and that the House of Lord, in rejecting it, has carried out public sentiment. They urge the Government to set the question by going before the country in a general election, but there is very little likelihood of this being done.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Enormous waves, the biggest in 30 years, swept over the docks at Lima, Peru, and terrorized the natives.

The local optionists have won 451 of 598 appeals in revising the voters' lists, while the antis won 103 of 193.

Nearly two hundred delegates attended a British Columbia provincial convention in the interests of local option.

A reward of 2,000 taels has been offered for the apprehension of the leader of the recent revolutionary outbreak at Nanking, China.

William Whitten, a G.T.R. fireman, fell from the tender of his engine near Cornwall. His clothing caught in the truck and he was dragged some distance.

At Windsor, A. P. E. Panet, a Windsor lawyer, sued W. J. Douglas, merchant, for damages to his automobile in a collision with a runaway horse and rig.

Chas. D. Connor, a pioneer prospector in the Yukon, shot himself at Dawson City. Beside him lay a novel with an open-marked chapter, entitled "A Deceased Mind."

James Guest, aged 70, an "old-timer," of Kamloops, B.C., was found dead in his cottage. His body was badly emaciated. He had $162 in cash and a bank balance of $8,600.

New Labor Body Growing.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—A. Mosher, the president of the newly-formed Canadian Brotherhood of Railwaymen, which consists of the employes of the I.C.R., who recently left the American affiliation, is here. He says he has had numerous enquiries as to its future movement from all over Canada.

It is believed that the result of the C.P.R. strike will prove a blow to American labor affiliations.

Nelson, B.C., Musical Union, has just joined the new body.

Stabbed by Italian.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 28.—Joe Fread, an Italian, who stabbed W. H. Morton twice in the breast Thursday afternoon, was yesterday morning remanded for one week pending the result of Morton's injuries.

The dispute which resulted in the stabbing arose because the Italian expected 17 1-2 cent per hour for work performed on the township roads instead of 15 cents, the regular rate.

Shape Our Own Course.

Detroit, Nov. 28.—In his address before the Wholesalers' Association last night Hon. R. F. Sutherland said he did not come to preach reciprocal trade relations, nor the reduction of the high wall against Canada, but to point out that since Americans had adhered to high protection Canadians had shaped an independent tariff policy calculated to build up their own industries.

Where the Money Goes.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Money orders received at the Postoffice Department on Thursday for Austria and Italy totaled nearly $100,000. Though the increase is customary at this period, this year will see much more than ever go out of Canada.

Stabbing at Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 28.—Berdemarth Argardzio, aged 50, an Italian living in a dilapidated structure at 196 1-2 St. George street, was yesterday morning attacked by three men just as he left his home, and seriously stabbed.

New York, Nov. 28.—Frank H. Hitchcock has been offered, and has accepted, the position of Postmaster-General in Mr. Taft's Cabinet. This is the first Cabinet position filled.

Sunday Cars In Edmonton.

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 28.—The feature of the mayoralty race is that Candidate Bellamy is making Sunday cars a plank in his platform, and is meeting with considerable support.

The Provincial Legislature last session passed a law prohibiting Sunday cars in the province.

Wharf Slides Into River.

Sorel, Que., Nov. 28.—At 4 o'clock yesterday morning about 200 feet of the Government pier at the mouth of Richelieu river, but five years old, tumbled into the river.

Five hundred gave away some time ago.

Apartment Houses Burned.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—A row of apartment houses in Lorne avenue was gutted by fire yesterday and eight families were burned out. The loss exclusive of household and personal effects is $6,000.

Election Libel Suit.

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 28.—Michael Harpell has issued a writ in the Supreme Court, claiming $10,000 damages against The Chronicle Publishing Co. Cons.) for libel during the late election.

Killed by Shunting Engine.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Silas E. Taylor, a Grand Trunk brakeman, was run over by a shunting train at Madawaska yesterday and instantly killed.

ESCAPED EXECUTION.

Gen. Leconte Arrives at Port Au Prince In Rowboat.

Port au Prince, Hayti, Nov. 29.—Gen. Leconte, who a few days ago was reported killed at Jeremie by the revolutionists, arrived here yesterday. He escaped in a rowboat with four officers and two sailors.

They were at sea for three days without provisions and finally reached land at Petit Goave.

The general declares that there were no executions at Jeremie and that the reports that three men had been put to death there on his orders were incorrect.

Leconte has taken up again the duties of the interior, and Gen. Auguste, who was given this post when Leconte was thought to be dead, has been made Minister of Public Works.

Cholera Grows Worse.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 28.—An alarming increase in the Asiatic cholera has occurred in the last 24 hours, when 27 new cases were reported. The new cases, mostly in well-to-do families, show all the virulence of the early days of the epidemic.

Since the beginning of the epidemic, there has been a total of 8,184 cases, 3,320 deaths and 4,698 recoveries. For several weeks past the daily average of new cases in the capital has been less than 10.

New Pastor For Kingston.

Kingston, Nov. 28.—Rev. T. W. Savary of Winnipeg has accepted the position of vicar of St. James' Church, Kingston, and will begin duty here on Feb. 1.

The Bishop of Ontario has appointed Rev. J. Dumbrill of Iroquois to Kemptville, Rev. Walter Cox of Parham to Wolfe Island, Rev. Dr. Purdy to Selby, Rev. Mr. Morton to Maynooth and Rev. Mr. Hall to Bancroft.

Barge Donelin Released.

Deseronto, Nov. 28.—The big steam barge Donelin, which ran aground on McDonald's Bar near Point Ann with a cargo of 11,000 barrels of cement for Port Arthur, arrived yesterday.

The steamer Durdurn ran aground about three miles west of here yesterday, but no damage was done.

TRUE DETECTIVE STORIES

Two Women and a Red Trunk

BY A. L. DRUMMOND, FORMERLY CHIEF OF THE U. S. SECRET SERVICE

A. L. DRUMMOND

EARLY in August, 1872, the Third National Bank of Baltimore was robbed. The vault was blown at dead of night and between $200,000 and $300,000 taken. A large part of this sum was in coin and currency. The rest was in registered bonds and coupon bonds. The robbers escaped without leaving a clew to their identity.

Coupon bonds can be cashed at any bank as readily as one government note can be exchanged for another. Registered bonds cannot. Ordinary thieves therefore do not take bonds the numbers and the names of the owners of which are matters of record. Forgers are the exception. With their secret chemicals for removing printing and writing inks without leaving a stain that even a magnifying glass will show, they can make use of registered bonds. The fact that a large number of blank drafts and checks had been stolen also indicated that one of the robbers was an expert forger.

From these bare facts it soon developed that the robbers were Joe Elliott, Joe Chapman, Charlie Becker and a Russian. Becker was the forger—one of the best that the word ever produced. Careful search revealed their movements for several days preceding the robbery. It was even found that men answering their descriptions were seen near the bank on the day it was rifled. But when all these facts became known the earth seemed to have swallowed the men who were wanted.

More than a month passed and nothing was heard of them. On September 17 the Chief of the secret service called me to his office. Beside him sat a man with a long white beard. The chief introduced him to me as Clement Herring, father of Charlie Becker's wife.

"This man runs a saloon on Stanton street," said the Chief. "He expects his daughter and Mrs. Chapman to call on him to-morrow morning. Be on watch outside, and if they come he will signal to you. He says they are going to leave for Europe in the afternoon, and that among their baggage will be a small red trunk containing the registered bonds stolen from the Third National. Mr. Herring thinks they will get the trunk either on Lexington avenue near Twenty-second street or on Eighth avenue near Forty-eighth street.

"Here's what I want you to do. Once you get sight of these women, follow them wherever they go. If they get the red trunk, follow them on to the ship and learn the number of their stateroom and the names under which they depart—they are not going to use their own names. When you get these facts put them in this letter that I have written to the Chief of Police of Southampton, and give it to the purser on the ship, who will deliver it to an officer waiting at the pier on the other side. He will be notified that you are coming and will know what to do. Don't arrest the women; don't seize the trunk."

At eight o'clock the next morning I took up the watch in front of Herring's saloon. I waited more than an hour before anything happened. Then a stylish carriage drove up. Two women alighted, and in the moment that elapsed before they descended the three steps that led to Herring's basement saloon I took careful note of their appearance.

Each woman was apparently thirty years old and strikingly handsome. Both were gowned in the height of fashion. The blonde woman, who I afterward learned was Mrs. Becker, was a trifle shorter than her companion, Mrs. Chapman, who was a statuesque brunette of perhaps five feet eight or nine. Both women were wreathed in smiles and apparently radiantly happy. They were going to Europe to meet their husbands, and evidently the prospect pleased them.

Two or three times while they were inside I walked past the place and caught glimpses of them through the window. The two women seemed to be sipping at glasses of Rhine wine, while they talked to the gray whiskered man who sat on the other side of the table. Mrs. Becker did most of the talking. The lightheartedness that marked her manner in the street had departed. She spoke earnestly and seriously. The man listened, almost sadly.

While I was waiting I sent a newsboy to call a hack driver who had often driven me on business trips, and when, about eleven o'clock, the women left the saloon, I was ready to follow them. But I had not taken into account the possibility that the driver might not come with the accustomed cab. He didn't. He came with what was the most fashionable turnout of the time—a Clarence coach, drawn by two horses. This fact is of importance only because the semi-circular front of the coach was glass and I was dressed like a stevedore—slouch hat, blue shirt, rough trousers and no coat or waistcoat. I had contemplated the possibility that my work that day might take me along the docks, and had dressed accordingly.

However, there was nothing to do but to jump into the coach and tell the driver to follow the women wherever they went. They cut in and out through side streets and finally turned into Lexington avenue. I remember with what amazement I was stared at by others who drove fashionable carriages like my own. Behind the semi-circle of glass I sat like the modern "demonstrator" in a show window—apparently a stevedore seeing the sights at $8 a day!

Near the corner of Twenty-second street—at the number at which the aged man said they might get the red trunk—the carriage containing the women halted. As they alighted and went up the steps to the house I saw that they were again the happy, frolicsome women who were overjoyed at the prospect of seeing their husbands. All of the earnestness and the seriousness with which they talked to Mrs. Becker's sad eyed father had been swept away in a swirl of smiles.

Ten minutes after the door closed upon them a servant came out with some hand baggage. He placed it on the carriage at the driver's feet and went back after some more. I watched carefully for the red trunk, but it did not come. In a few minutes the women appeared, still smiling. They entered their carriage and were driven up Lexington avenue to Twenty-eighth street, then over to and up Broadway.

I followed along in my Clarence coach, keeping half a block behind them. They went straight up Broadway to Eighth avenue, and from there to the Forty-eighth street house that Herring had told me about. About an hour after they entered the premises the red trunk was brought out. A few minutes later the women followed.

I GRABBED TWO OF THEM AND MADE FOR THE GANGPLANK.

Telling my driver to be sure not to lose them, I resumed my pursuit. They drove straight to Cortlandt street and, still secluded in their carriage, went on the ferry. I let a few teams get in after them and then drove on the boat.

I knew they were headed for the Cunard piers at Jersey City, which at that time were just below the present slips of the Pennsylvania Railroad. I also knew they had taken passage on the old sidewheel steamboat Cuba. So while we were crossing the river I left my carriage to look for the ship. To my amazement I saw that it was not at the pier. The next instant I saw it lying in the middle of the river. The tide had gone out at noon and, the dock not having been dredged as deeply as docks are now, the ship had gone out into the stream. Late passengers would be compelled to go out on a tender.

This was a possibility that I had not contemplated. It is comparatively easy to board a ship lying at her pier and almost impossible to get aboard a tender. While I was wondering what I should do the ferryboat nosed her way into the slip and I was compelled to do something quickly. This is what I did:—

I had worked my way among the teams up to a point perhaps fifty feet behind the vehicle in which were the two women. When their carriage drove off I followed it. When they alighted I was almost beside them, and when their handbags were put off the carriage I grabbed two of them and made for the gangplank leading to the tender.

Fortunately the crew of the tender thought I was a stevedore, and the stevedores thought I belonged to the tender. So nobody molested me and I got aboard. As soon as I could I looked for the women and was rejoiced to find that they had taken seats at the opposite end of the boat. I kept away from them all the way over and preceded them up the ladder to the ship. Once on board the Cuba, I contrived to get behind them in order to let them lead the way to the stateroom. They walked down the starboard side of the cabin to a point halfway between the middle of the ship and the stern and then turned in to a little hall. I knew their stateroom could be only a few feet away, so I asked them if the baggage I carried belonged to them. They looked at it and replied that it did. I asked where I should put it and they led me to their stateroom, the number of which I noted. Then I held up a handbag which bore the name of "Mrs. Bruce Cutting," and asked to which of the women it belonged. Mrs. Chapman replied that she was Mrs. Cutting. The other bag was marked "Mrs. Steward," which Mrs. Becker told me was her name. Mrs. Chapman was evidently impressed with my desire to make no mistake in delivering their baggage, as she gave me a twenty-five cent tip.

This part of the work over, I went to the writing room and in the letter written by the chief of the Secret Service to the Chief of Police of Southampton filled in the names under which Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Chapman had departed, together with the number of their stateroom. Then I sought the purser and presented my letter of introduction.

"Did you get track of them?" he asked.

I replied that I had and gave him their names. He consulted his passenger list and ran his forefinger down the column of names.

"You're right," said he. "Here they are, and the number of their stateroom is the same that you gave to me."

I handed him the chief's letter to the Southampton chief, urged him to deliver it before the women could leave the ship, and went aboard the tender just as the Cuba was preparing to get under way.

The rest of this narrative has to do with events that took place in Europe. And it should be borne in mind that in following the women and the red trunk the purpose was twofold—first, to learn the whereabouts of the band that robbed the Third National Bank of Baltimore, and, second, to nab Becker if he should attempt to alter and sell any of the registerd bonds. The women had committed no crime—we could not prove guilty knowledge on their part concerning the contents of the trunk—therefore we had no occasion to arrest them. And there was nothing to be gained by seizing the trunk, since payment on all of the stolen bonds had been stopped. We wanted only Becker and his band.

When the Cuba reached Southampton an officer representing the Chief of Police was at the pier. He read the letter that was handed to him by the purser and followed the two women when they left the ship. Half an hour later he was on the same train with them, bound for London, where they remained a night. The next morning they went to Paris. And the red trunk was among the baggage that followed them to the hotel at which they stopped in the French capital.

The Southampton detective engaged accommodations at the same place and for a week nothing of importance developed. The women, who seemed to be plentifully supplied with money, went out every morning, evidently intent upon replenishing their already large stocks of finery. In the evenings they went to the theatres.

One morning the Southampton detective waited in vain to see them go out for their accustomed shopping tour. An hour after the time when they usually entered the carriage he began to be nervous. Finally he went to the clerk and, after having led up to the subject gradually, made some reference to the "beautiful English women" whose beauty had been the subject of considerable comment. The clerk didn't know whom he meant. The detective had purposely misstated their nationality in order not to display a knowledge of them that they might regard as suspicious if it should come to their ears. But in a moment the clerk realized the detective's mistake and said:—

"Oh, you mean Mrs. Cutting and Mrs. Steward. But they are not English women; they are Americans. They left the city this morning."

The closing sentence jarred the detective to his boot heels, but he controlled his emotions.

"Where had they gone?" Oh, the clerk did not know. They left after midnight and another clerk was on watch. But he might be able to find out.

In a little while the clerk imparted the information that to the best of his knowledge and belief the ladies had gone to Berlin. Strangely enough the detective was to depart for the German capital the same evening. Perhaps he would be fortunate enough to go again to the same hotel with them.

At five o'clock in the afternoon, the detective, on his way to the train, stopped a moment at the clerk's desk to bid him goodby. Pleasantries were exchanged, the two men had shaken hands, when the clerk hurled a parting bit of badinage:—

"Too bad you will not meet the American ladies in Berlin," he said. "They have gone to Genoa."

The detective made enough inquiries to convince him that the information was undoubtedly correct and changed his own plans accordingly. On the way down to the Italian city he cudgelled his mind to determine how he should go about it to get track of his lost immigrants. They would reach Genoa several hours ahead of him and might even have sped on to another city before his arrival. There was only one chance by means of which he might get trace of them—the red trunk.

So when he reached Genoa he made anxious inquiries of the man who had charge of the baggage concerning two ladies whose present address he wished to learn. Speaking no Italian he had difficulty in making himself understood, but at last sought to identify his friends by explaining that among their baggage was a red trunk. The baggage hands were questioned, and at last a man was found who had sent the box that was covered with the hide of a brindle cow.

It had been transferred to the wharf of a steamship company that operated a line of boats between Genoa and Constantinople.

Again the detective resumed his travels, only to find when he reached the city of the Sultan that he had lost all track of the women. Nobody had seen the red trunk—nobody at any of the hotels had seen the women. And he was on the point of returning to Southampton to report his failure when something happened.

Becker and Chapman were arrested by the Turkish authorities for selling forged bonds! Their trial brought their wives in public to their sides, and by shadowing them their new habitation was learned.

Becker and Chapman were quickly found guilty and sentenced to a long term of imprisonment in Smyrna. The jail was a flimsy affair and in a few weeks they escaped. Simultaneously with their departure Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Chapman went to London, the detective following and tracking them to a boarding house in an obscure part of the city. Within a week their husbands joined them, together with the other two men who robbed the Third National Bank of Baltimore, and within another week Mrs. Chapman was dead.

The cause of her death will perhaps never be known. The end came suddenly. It has always been supposed that she was poisoned by some member of the band.

After Mrs. Chapman's death the party separated. Chapman came to the United States, robbed another bank, was caught, convicted and sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment. Becker came to Brooklyn, where a policeman arrested him in the act of making the plates for a 1,000f. French note. The red trunk was never found.

Others may wonder, as I did at first, why Mrs. Becker's father betrayed her husband to the secret service. I put the question to the man flatly.

"Charlie didn't treat me right," he said. "He and I were in on a counterfeiting deal one time and he got all the best of it. I never could bear a dishonest man. And, besides, I didn't want my daughter to go to Europe to meet him."

(THE NEXT STORY IN THIS SERIES WILL APPEAR NEXT SUNDAY.)

IN THE GULCH.

By George Hyde Preston.

THE hunted man turned away from his prostrate horse with a shudder of repulsion, and, kneeling down, cleaned his long knife by repeatedly thrusting it into the soft ground.

"It had to be done," he muttered. "The hoss' leg was broke. He was sufferin', and I couldn't dare risk the noise of a shot with them fellers so close in on me."

He took a quick glance down the gulch, and his eyes narrowed dangerously.

"So the reward reads for Lem Darrow dead or alive this trip, does it?" he said through his shut teeth. "I guess I'm up against a hard play. There wasn't no sense in that Bob hoss breaking his leg," he grumbled. "I might a got safe across the line by riding hard, and now I ain't got no hoss. Well, I'll play the hand for the stakes they has named," he went on grimly.

He took another look down the trail toward the mouth of the gulch and started to his feet.

"The game's beginning already!" he ejaculated. "That's the Sheriff down there now!"

The mounted man had halted and was looking up the gulch.

Darrow dropped to his knees behind the body of his horse and watched his pursuer intently.

"Say, Sheriff," he murmured, "there's three or four ways that I might get out of the country, and you had better guess wrong on which one of them I've took, for if you come meandering up here I'll drop you sure."

"By God, he's guessed right!" ejaculated Darrow. "He's coming up here!"

The Sheriff advanced warily.

Darrow raised his head a little and a shiny barrel slid forward over the body of the dead Bob horse.

"That's a fine animal the Sheriff is riding," muttered the outlaw. "I'll have a new hoss and a new chance in a minute if he don't stampede when"——

The sharp crack of Darrow's rifle echoed through the gulch. The Sheriff swayed from his saddle and fell limply to the ground. His horse gave a frightened leap to one side and then stood trembling.

Darrow ran swiftly down the trail, the fear that the horse would escape him clutching at his heart.

The animal snorted as he approached and backed away, but Darrow dexterously caught the loose bridle and steadied the frightened beast with his voice. His foot was in the stirrup and his leg across the saddle when he heard a groan.

Darrow had not even glanced at the Sheriff. Now he looked down at him in surprise. What he grasped first? He was to go. "He is dead. He has killed him!" He looked to the heart.

The man on the ground moved a little.

Darrow jumped from the horse, and, throwing the bridle over a limb, walked over to the Sheriff and opened his shirt.

Then the outlaw stood up with a look of profound disgust on his face. "I ain't come within a foot of killing him!" he exclaimed. "I just hardly winged him! I wouldn't like to have the boys know how near I was to him when I took that shot. I wouldn't have no reputation left."

The Sheriff turned again and moaned.

The outlaw looked down at him in perplexity and then he looked at the horse.

"It's a new combination. I don't know how to play it," he murmured. "Why ain't you dead?" he went on complainingly to the unconscious Sheriff. "You ought to be. You are putting me out considerable. I can't leave you here the way you are, and I can't see my way clear to fixing you out the way I did the Bob hoss back up there. What will I do?"

As if in response to the question, the Sheriff opened his eyes and looked up.

"Hello, Lem," he said, "was it you shot at me?"

"Yes, but the sun was in my eyes and"——

"Oh, don't apologize," put in the Sheriff with a grin; "I'm satisfied to be alive. Where am I hit? My shoulder feels some stiff, and"——

"Yes, the sun, I told you, was"——

The Sheriff laughed weakly. "How was it you let me come up on you, Lem? I thought you had the best horse in the country."

"So I did have. He broke his leg. He's dead."

The Sheriff's eyes roamed to his own horse.

"Well, I see you've got mine there," he said. "What are you hanging around here for, losing valuable time?"

"I dunno," answered Darrow, shortly. "I guess it is because I am a damn fool."

The Sheriff looked curiously at the outlaw, and then said, "Well, seeing as you are here, I wish you would give me a drink. No, not that; water is what I want this trip."

Darrow brought it, and then sat down awkwardly beside the wounded man.

"What are you going to do, Lem?" asked the Sheriff.

"I dunno," answered Darrow. "You are putting me out considerable," he added, looking uneasily down the gulch.

"There is your posse, Sheriff, down at the mouth of the gulch now!" he exclaimed. "I guess they heard the shot. I'm going to notify them that you are up here and incidentally get back my reputation. It's a considerable long shot, but"——

The crack of Darrow's rifle finished his sentence. He gazed for a swift moment down the gulch and then sprang for the Sheriff's horse.

"You are all right now, Sheriff," he cried. "They are coming fast! All except one!" he added with a quick laugh of triumph as he leaped to the saddle. "He's dead! Plugged in the heart! You'll see!" And as the horse, urged by the sharp scourge of his rider's spur, dashed up the steep trail the outlaw called back over his shoulder, "Say, Sheriff, be sure you tell the boys that when I shot at you the sun was in my eyes!"

Havelock Citizens Regret Loss Of Life In Recent Wreck

Injured Engineer Well Known—Anniversary Services of the Methodist Church—Death of Westwood Man.

LATEST HAVELOCK NEWS

Examiner Special

Havelock, Nov. 25th—Dr Harry Andrew of Toronto is the guest of friends in town for a short time

Messrs Gladney and Smythe of Marmora spent Sunday in Town.

Miss Loretta Kelly of Victoria, spent Saturday and Sunday the guest of Miss Loretta Bennett.

A number of young people from town attended the "at home" in Hastings on Friday night last.

Mr Clarance McWilliams of Marmora was the guest of his sisters, Mrs. Clarke and Miss Minnie McWilliams on Sunday.

Misses Jewel and Parks of the school staff are spending a couple of weeks at their homes in Toronto and Locust Hill.

Rev Mr Thornton of Colbourne occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, both morning and evening, and delivered most interesting sermons. In the evening he rendered a solo entitled "When I lie on my pillow to-night" which was highly appreciated. Rev Mr Sterling preached at Colbourne.

A number of engineers and fireman arrived in town on Friday morning from Smith's Falls and will run from Havelock to Smith's Falls, and Havelock to Toronto, during the busy time.

Miss Minnie McWilliams left on Monday for Marmora where she will spend a week at her home.

Misses Stella Armstrong and Anna Bryans and Mr Albert Armstrong attended an "at home" at Warsaw on Friday night.

The young men of Town will hold an "at home" in the opera house on Friday night, Nov. 27th. Music will be supplied by the Misses Smith of Norwood.

The Anniversary services of the Havelock Methodist church were held on Sunday and Monday, Nov. 22 and 23rd. Rev Mr Strike of Campbellford delivered most interesting sermons on Sunday both morning and evening, and special music was rendered by the choir.

At the morning service, two anthems were rendered, namely "Praise the Lord" and "I'll wash my hands in Innocency". Duet by Dr and Mrs. Kindred. Solo by Miss Mable Archer.

At the evening service the anthems were "O Come let us Sing" and "O for a Thousand Tongues". Solo by Mrs. Callender. Solo by Dr. Kindred.

At the Monday evening service the programme was as follows—

Opening Antthem—Praise the Lord.
Prayer
Anthem—Stand up for Jesus.
Chairman's address — Jno. A Sexsmith, M. P.
Solo—Mrs (Dr) Kindred.
Anthem—My faith looks up to Thee
Solo—Miss Jessie Rose.
Lecture—"Look over my shoulder" by the Rev Mr Emsley.
Solo—Mrs Matt Swain
Anthem—Praise ye the Lord.
Solo—Miss Mable Archer.
Benediction.

The programme was indeed highly appreciated by the very large crowd present, and especially was the lecture by the Rev Mr Emsley, "Look over my shoulder" He indeed delighted his hearers and proving himself to be a most entertaining speaker, his address seeming to sparkle with wit and humour.

Gertrude and Gracie Saylor, the little five and three year old daughters of Mr and Mrs. Chas. Saylor, died on Thursday and Saturday, 12th and 14th of November from the dread disease scarlet fever. Thus over a happy home the shadow of two little graves has fallen. These little baby lives seemed like beautiful flowers of Paradise permitted to bloom but for a brief season, then leaving this world for that Paradise from whence they came, leaving the home dark and dreary for the dear parents.

And, oh, when aweary, may we be so blest,
And sink like the innocent child to rest,
And feel ourselves clasped to the infinite breast.

The heart-felt sympathy is extended to the bereaved parents.

Mr M Hogan the well known hunter of Auk Lake was successful in shooting a very large wolf during the hunting season. The wolf had attacked Mr Hogan's hound and was slowly killing it, when a bullet from his rifle aid it low.

Mr Sanford Hubble of Belmont was committed to one month in county jail hard labour by Magistrate Edmison for neglecting to pay a fine of $15.00 and costs, imposed on him previously for assaulting his wife.

The death occurred at Westwood on Nov. 8th, of Mr W J McMillan, brother of Mr Edin McMillan of town, after a long illness. Deceased was well-known throughout the district and his many friends in Havelock sincerely regret his untimely demise.

A sad gloom seemed to hang over the village of Havelock on Monday, when the news of the terrible wreck just above Peterborough reached here; when it was learned that three lives were lost and two men injured.

Mr. Finlay one of the dead was well known here and especially his wife, who resided here for many years. To her does the heartfelt sympathy of the Havelock people go out.

Mr Edwin Dorrecott one of the injured is also well known, having resided here for many years. It was first reported that he was among the dead, but later learned that he was one of the fortunate ones, only receiving slight injuries from which his many friends will hope he will soon recover.

Big Budget Of Hastings News--- Pretty Wedding Was Celebrated

Examiner Special.

Hastings, Nov. 25.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening Nov. 4th, at the home of Mrs. Wm. McConnell, of Percy, when their eldest daughter, Miss Mabel, was united in marriage to Mr. David Stillman of West Seymour. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Barrett, of town, in the presence of a large number of friends of the contracting parties. The bridesmaid was Miss Minnie McConnel, sister of the bride, and Mr. Gamble, of Peterborough, was groomsman. The bride was prettily gowned in white net over silk and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. After congratulations, the party sat down to a magnificent supper, after which the happy couple took the evening train for Toronto and points west.

The little two-year-old son of Mr. H B Wilson, met with a painful accident, a short time ago, while playing in his home. He was standing on a chair and in some way lost his balance and fell backwards and broke one of the bones of his wrist.

Mr. Chas. Anderson visited at his home in Hastings recently.

Quite a number of our local sportsmen have been enjoying their annual outing in the back country, deer hunting. They report plenty of deer and have returned laden with the spoil.

Messrs. Hess & Huycke are busy buying and shipping poultry. They are paying six cents for chickens and geese, six and one-half for ducks and ten for turkeys.

Mr. Howard Fite has resumed his studies at Norwood High School.

Miss Gertrude Huycke, of Peterborough, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Andrew Huycke. Miss Huycke rendered a solo in the Methodist church on Sunday evening, which was highly appreciated.

Rev. Mr. Foster, of Castleton, occupied the Methodist pulpit on Sunday, when a free will offering was taken up to defray the current expenses in connection with the church.

Miss Thorne, of Belleville, has been visiting her friend, Miss Maude Anderson.

Mr. Jas. Powers is home on a visit to his father, Mr. Pierre Powers.

Mr. Godfrey, of Percy, has retired from farming and is moving into town. He has purchased the brick residence formerly occupied by Mr. Wm. Hare.

Mr. B I Haley, of Sewickly, Pa., was the guest of his cousin, Miss T Masterson and Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan.

Mr. Harry Peters has returned from the West, where he has been spending the summer.

Mr. Jos. Doherty has disposed of his farm stock and implements, and intends moving into town in the near future.

Mr. J Valleau has just completed a very successful season in the cheese making industry.

Mr. Peter McQuade has given up farming and has returned to his old occupation of a carpenter.

Mr. Wm. Warner, our enterprising grocery man, has built an addition to his shop where he is keeping a good supply of flour.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson, Jr, has moved into his new residence on Front street.

Mr. L F Clarry and family have been visiting friends in Millbrook.

We are pleased to say that Miss Belle Thompson has so far recovered from her recent illness of typhoid fever as to be able to be out again. Her brother is also recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Warner, who have been life-long residents of Asphodel, have moved into the village, and are living with their son, Mr. Wm. Warner, Jr.

Mr. E E Code, inspector of the Union Bank of Canada, was in town recently on his official visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Courtice, of Havelock, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Atkinson, on Sunday.

The Scotch Concert under the auspices of the Anglican Church of this village, was not as largely attended as was hoped for. This is no doubt due to the fact that this was their third appearance in town.

Miss Choate of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, is trying to secure a class of pupils for violin training.

Auctioneer Alex Wilson is being kept busy and has still quite a list of sales to attend to.

Anyone in search of swell stationery should not fail to visit McClelland's. Just look at the windows and see for yourself.

Mr. Nicholls, of the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company, of Peterborough, was in town on Thursday last.

Mr. B F Doxsee is on the sick list. We hope it will not be for long.

Mr. Parsons, and son, Harold, of Neepawa, Man., are visiting the former's brother, Mr. A P Parsons, of town. Mr. Harold Parsons, is the champion distance runner of that province.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Richardson are the proud possessors of a pair of twin boys.

The Misses Clarry, of Millbrook, are the guests of their brother, Mr. L F Clarry.

Mr. John Londerville, of Peterborough, is spending a few days in town.

The swing bridge has closed for the season. The Rainbow has also made her last trip.

A small smash up occurred in front of the station on Wednesday last in which two cars of wheat were derailed. A broken rail on the track was the cause of the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turner, of Toronto, have been visiting friends in town.

MISS EDNA IRVINE

What Does Your Mirror Say?

Does it cheerfully report an abundance of beautiful, well kept hair, or does it regretfully tell the story of hair neglect?

Your mirror may be anxious to please, but if you permit your friends to see dull, brittle and lustreless hair with possibly dandruff and falling hair, your mirror will have to reflect the same condition.

All of these unfortunate EFFECTS can be overcome by destroying their CAUSE with

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The Original Remedy that "Kills the Dandruff Germ"

Dandruff, with its consequent hair injury and hair loss, is now known to be a highly contagious germ disease. It is caused by an invisible growth of vegetable character that finds lodgment in the sebaceous glands of the scalp. This growth disturbs the functions of the sebaceous glands, causing excessive oiliness or extreme dryness of the hair. It also sets up an inflammatory process that extends down the follicle of the papilla, where the adhesions are loosened and the hair slips out. The value of Newbro's Herpicide in such cases is quite extraordinary. Its intelligent use will correct every condition short of chronic baldness and thus permit the hair to resume its natural lustre and abundance.

MISS EDNA IRVINE

Mr. F. C. Dela Fosse, of Peterborough, was in the village on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Fairbairn went to Fraserville, on Tuesday last, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Fairbairn's brother.

Mr. Ben. H. Spence, of Toronto, addressed a large meeting in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening last, in the interests of local option.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Evans Atwood and Miss Phyllis Atwood spent Sunday in the village, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Atwood.

Mrs. S. J. Gibson, who has been spending a few weeks in Peterborough, visiting her father, Mr. C. Young, returned home on Wednesday last.

Mrs. E. R. Tate and Miss Tate were in Peterborough on Friday last.

Miss Margaret Hanrahan, who has been spending her vacation with her sister, Mrs. T. R. Darey, returned to Rochester, N.Y., last week.

Dr. A. Bell, of Apsley, spent a few days last week in the village.

Rev. C. Lord, of Apsley, was in the village on Friday last.

Miss Penny spent a few days in Peterborough last week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Dela Fosse,

Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald, who has been spending the past three weeks in Toronto, returned home on Saturday last.

Rev. W. J. Creighton returned home on Thursday last from Lindsay, where he was attending the 12th annual conference of the Archdeaconry of Peterborough.

His Lordship, the Right Rev. Dr. Reeve, Assistant Bishop of Toronto, passed through the village on Tuesday on his way to consecrate the Anglican churches at Warsaw and Hall's Glen and will also administer the Holy Rite of Confirmation at both places.

A grand bazaar will be held under the auspices of the Parish Workers of St. John Baptist church, in the town hall on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 3rd and 4th.

Miss Lancaster, one of the staff of teachers in the public school, is at present laid up with a severe attack of mumps at her home in Peterborough.

A very pleasant event took place at the old church on Monday evening of last week, when Miss Lily Montgomery was presented with a handsome purse of money from the congregation of the Methodist church on the occasion of her approaching marriage. Miss Montgomery has been organist of the Methodist church for some years and much regret is felt at her departure. The purse was accompanied by an address.

The Advantages Of Winter Dairying--- Reasons Why It Will Pay Farmers

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Ten or fifteen years ago more interest was taken in winter dairying in Canada than is being taken at the present time. Why is this? Conditions are as favorable for making butter during the winter months to-day as they were then. Dairymen have to feed their cows during the winter and there should be profit in having these cows give some direct return for their keep at the most expensive time of the year. Perhaps, the business was boomed too much in those early days, and farmers, not realizing, what they were led to believe they would make by taking up winter butter-making, dropped it altogether. There may be less trouble in milking cows and things may run along smoother in summer than in winter, but at the same time this is no disproof of the fact that winter butter-making can be made to pay well by a little judicious management and forethought. The price of butter is always at its highest point in winter and it should not cost much more for manufacture than in summer. Therefore the margin of profit is wider and under careful management, there should be a good return from milking cows in winter. There are a number of creameries that operate in winter at a profit to both the milk producer and the manufacturer. But a good many more could be operated than there are and the dairy industry would be greatly benefitted thereby.

As to the advantages of winter dairying and the reasons why it will pay farmers to give more attention to this side of the business we cannot do better than quote the following from the pen of H. Weston Parry, Oxford County, Ontario, written in reply to a query on the subject in the New York Produce Review:

"I would prove to patrons by comparisons that cows calving in the fall give milk for a longer period than spring calvers; that they are at their flush at a time of the year when there is more leisure to attend properly to them, that they have to be wintered anyhow and the extra feed required to keep them up in milk is easily paid for by the extremely high price which butter now commands each year during the winter months. I would urge the fact that cows can be fed cheaper on such feed as ensilage, roots, hay, straw and a grain ration than they can on pasture, and that considerable extra manurial value is obtained by the winter feeding of cows. The calf, too, is where it can be well looked after through the winter and, like the cows, has no swarms of flies to contend with; in the spring it is ready to be turned out in a handy paddock, and makes as much growth under normal conditions in one year as the spring calf does in eighteen months. The question of cooling the milk is a very simple one in the winter months, and the labor question is greatly simplified by providing work the whole year-round. Of course, the system cuts both ways, and there is more time to give to ordinary farm operations in connection with the crops in the summer time, when the cows are not in full milk."

Unwise To Increase Grant To The Ontario Exhibitors' Association

From The Canadian Dairyman.

The officers of the Ontario Association of Fairs and Exhibitions have decided to approach the Ontario Government again to petition that the annual direct grant to the agricultural societies of the province shall be increased from $70,000 to $100,000, or by over 40 per cent. It is fortunate that there is little likelihood of this request being granted. Our agricultural societies are in a transition condition, Not for several years will it be wise to increase their combined grant.

Up to two years ago the agricultural societies used to receive practically fixed government grants. Now they receive grants that are in proportion to the amounts they expend for agricultural purposes. As a result of this change over forty societies that formerly lived on their government grants, or which were doing very inferior work, have passed out of existence. The grants they used to receive are now being distributed among the remaining societies, thus giving them a larger proportion of the grant than they formerly enjoyed.

Under the new act, also, the grants to those societies that are doing the best work are being increased gradually. This year over 200 societies received larger government grants than they did last year. This is over half the societies in the province. Some of them, it is true, received but small increases. Other societies, however, had their grants doubled. In addition, most of these societies received larger grants last year than they did the year before. Next year, many of them will receive still larger grants than they did this year.

In view of the fact that over half of the societies have had their grants increased, and these, for the most part our best societies, and that they are likely to have them still further increased, it would be the height of unwisdom to increase the total grant to all our societies.

There are scores of societies in Ontario that are not properly situated and that are not really needed. They are doing very little to advance the cause of agriculture. As long as they received fixed government grants these societies managed to exist. Now, however, that the grants they receive are based on their expenditures for agricultural purposes they find that they are getting less and less from the government each year. These, for the most part, are the societies that are shouting the loudest to have the total grant to all the societies increased from $70,000 to $100,000. They are fighting for their existence. While most of these societies are managed by men who are thoroughly in earnest in their desire to see the cause of agriculture advanced the fact is that conditions are against them.

It is generally admitted that we have altogether too many agricultural societies in Ontario. Ontario gives a larger annual grant to its agricultural societies than any other province or state on the continent. What Ontario needs is fewer but larger and better societies. The new act governing agricultural societies is bringing this change about. In the meantime, therefore, it would be unwise to do anything that would tend to interfere with the law of the survival of the fittest that is working out its course.

WANT OF VARIETY UPON FARMERS' TABLE

Some Suggestions Which, if Followed, Would Result in Much Benefit.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

That is, the want of variety on the farmer's table, and the lack of sentiment in its preparation, are the two main causes of this discontent. Bread and butter, pork and potatoes, salt beef and greens, or apples, constitute the staples of every-day diet. These, after a time, clog upon the appetite, particularly of the women and children. Constipation, biliousness and innutrition follow. The farmer's pantry ought to be better supplied with a larger variety of appetizing and healthful viands than any other class, except the wealthy. He can exchange poultry for all the cereals that he needs. Poultry should be served twice a week, and by planning beforehand, can be. A system of exchange should be instituted by which a lamb could be killed and divided between a certain number of contiguous families every week. Fresh fish should be served in most places once a week for like division. In cold weather, a beef could be divided up in the same way as lamb. Canned fish once a week would be desirable and also saltfish once a week. These would be sufficient with a suitable variety of vegetables and fruits.—A Quebec Housewife.

FEW SUGGESTIONS FOR THE BUTTER MAKER

Hints That Should Prove of Valuable Assistance.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Wash the butter when churned and salt to taste; the next day work out all the brine. Have clean glass fruit jars ready; roll them in hot water; when cool pack the butter firmly with pestle, up to the necks, spread a thin muslin cloth over the butter and sprinkle salt on it. Screw on top but don't put on the rubber band, as that will ruin the butter. Moisten firm paper with the beaten white of an egg, and cover the tops of jars well down on to the glass. Stand in a cool, dark place. As only one quart has to be opened at a time, the last ounce of the butter is as good as the first.

THE VERDICT WAS NO CONSPIRACY

Jury Finds No Organized Corruption at Port Arthur.

WRONGDOING IS INDIVIDUAL

Mr. Justice Britton Says Men May Have Been Guilty Separately—Three Prisoners and Hogarth Will Face Charges of Subornation of Personation in the Spring—Evidence Against Men Weak.

Port Arthur, Nov. 28.—After half an hour's deliberation the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case against J. W. Armstrong, J. Hubert and R. Lethen, accused of conspiracy in connection with the recent federal election.

Mr. Justice Britton in his charge inclined to the opinion that while one or all might have been guilty individually of wrong-doing, of indiscretion, in this case it was necessary to prove that they had conspired together, which the judge did not seem to think was clearly shown.

The three defendants and Hogarth have still to face charges of subornation of personation, but these charges have been traversed to the spring Assizes at the request of Crown Prosecutor Hodgins.

Soon after the opening yesterday F. E. Hodgins for the crown announced the close of the crown's case, and Hamilton Cassels and W. A. Dowler for defendants asked Mr. Justice Britton to take the case from the jury and dismiss it on the ground that the poll was not a proper one and that no case had been made out against the defendants.

Justice Britton ruled against them, saying he would let the case go to the jury, though the evidence against Armstrong was very weak indeed. He remarked of the case against Lethen and Hubert that he could not say the same.

The defence called Charles Eames, Frank Flanagan and Harry Cahagan, passengers on the election train. They had heard nothing during the trip to arouse their suspicions that anything was wrong.

Runs Quarantine Gauntlet.

Windsor, Nov. 28.—Jas. Robertson, an aged farmer at Milton, Ont., and seven high-grade sheep will be Canada's only showing at the international live stock show in Chicago.

On his return Robertson will face a new difficulty, as the Canadian authorities have an embargo in effect here.

Electric Plant Disabled.

Windsor, Nov. 28.—The electric light service was disabled Thursday night by the explosion of a boiler. William Freeman, fireman, tried to shut off escaping steam and was severely scalded. He escaped just in time to avoid suffocation.

EXCLUDES STATES.

London Journal Says Two-Power Standard Is Too Expensive.

London, Nov. 28.—The Nation publishes a strongly-worded argument against including the United States in the two-power naval standard for Great Britain; in other words, that the British fleet should exceed the strength of any other two powers by 10 per cent.

The paper says that America and Germany are the next two strongest naval powers after Great Britain. America, it explains, has practically to build two navies, one for the Atlantic and one for the Pacific.

"A people of 40,000,000," The Nation continues, "is called upon to provide a force stronger than that levied on 140,000,000 of people. On this proposition we have two remarks to make: the first is that the people of Great Britain cannot do it, and the second, that the Liberal party will not try to do it. They never will consent to build against America; it is hateful of the Liberals even to think of building against the United States.

ON VERGE OF WAR.

Situation In the Balkans Again Grows Threatening.

Berlin, Nov. 28.—The Balkan situation is considered here to have grown more disquieting. The Austro-Hungarian military preparations are taken to indicate that Austria-Hungary is determined to support her claims at all hazards, and that she will promptly crush any attempts on the part of Servia or Montenegro to disturb the peace. In the meantime negotiations for an International Congress drag on.

Paris, Nov. 28.—A special despatch to The Echo de Paris from Budapest says that Servia and Montenegro have concluded an alliance, whereby, unless they receive compensation from Austria, they will declare war against that country immediately.

Acording to this despatch the Servians and Monenegrins will seek to draw the Austrians from the plains to the mountains, and will use every device to destroy the advancing enemy, even to the poisoning of the wells and the burning of the towns and villages.

FILIPINOS DROWN.

Steamer Ponting Wrecked In Philippines With Laborers on Board.

Manila, Nov. 28.—The coasting steamer Ponting, carrying a large number of laborers from Narvaian to the ricefields in Pangasinan province, struck a rock and sank last night during a storm, off the town of San Fernando, in Union province. It is estimated that a hundred of the passengers and crew of the Ponting were drowned.

The steamer Viscaya rescued 55. A patrol of constabulary, which was established immediately after the accident, picked up fifteen bodies, and many were coming ashore. It is not known whether any Americans or Europeans were aboard the wrecked steamer.

Laurier Home Sunday.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will return to Ottawa on Sunday, a day or two earlier than he intended. He has cancelled his proposed visit to Governor Willard of Virginia.

Closes With Hydro.

Brantford, Nov. 28.—The citizens' and aldermanic power committee, at joint meeting here last night, unanimously decided to recommend the signing of a contract with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

PREVENTION OF THE WHITE PLAGUE

The prevention of Consumption and its cure in the early stages is a matter of fresh air and nourishment, but to secure nourishment you must have appetite, and nothing is better known to medical science to stimulate and invigorate the system than the active principles of COD LIVER OIL—the only drawback has been that it has hitherto been impossible to separate the really valuable elements of fods' livers from the nauseous oil or grease, which fact has largely offset the good derived from the alkaloids or active principles contained in the OIL.

"BRICK'S TASTELESS" is a preparation of the valuable alkaloids or active principles separated from the grease and combined with Phosphorous in the form of the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, the nutritious Liquid Extract of Malt, and the Bronchial Tonic and Sedative Fluid Extract of Wild Cherry Bark.

In all cases of wasting diseases or an enervated condition of the system immediate improvement and eventual cure follow its use.

Read Brick's guarantee with each bottle.

"BRICK'S TASTELESS"

is put up in eight (8) ounce bottles, retail price fifty (50) cents; and in twenty (20) ounce bottles, retail price one (1) dollar.

Millions For Colleges.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 28.—Dr. D. K. Pearson, the millionaire philanthropist of Chicago, concerning whom a statement was published recently to the effect that his benefactions had depleted his fortune and left him with a deficit, is quoted yesterday as declaring the story as all "bosh."

Dr. Pearson is also quoted as saying that he has $3,000,000 more to give to educational institutions in this country, which gifts he will begin to bestow next July under certain prescribed conditions.

Family Deported.

Brockville, Nov. 28.—The necessary deportation papers having arrived from Ottawa, the family of Samuel Lee, consisting of himself, his wife and six children, who had become a charge on the town through the father refusing to work, were started on their way to England yesterday.

Lee was serving a term of three months in jail for vagrancy. This had only partly expired, and the town paid his fine to effect his release.

THE PANGS OF SCIATICA

Can Be Cured by the Fair Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Fierce darting pains. Pains like red hot needles being driven through the legs to the ankles—that's sciatica. None but the victim can realize the torture of this trouble. But the sufferer need not grow discouraged for there is a cure in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills enrich the blood, feed the starved, sciatic nerve and thus drive out the pain. Mrs. Joseph L. Brown, Wilmot, N.S., was a victim of sciatica and found a cure in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:—"For a year I was laid up with sciatica from my side to my foot. What I suffered was at times awful. I could not touch my foot to the floor, and had to hobble about with a cane. My right leg was drawn up, and I never expected to have the use of it again. I was attended by our family doctor, and tried several other remedies, but with no benefit, and I felt very much discouraged. One day I read of the cure of a similar sufferer through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to try them. I got six boxes, and by the time I had taken them I was completely cured, and have not had the slightest twinge of the trouble since. I am, therefore, a very enthusiastic friend of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and recommend them to all who are similarly troubled."

There is no mystery about the cures Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make. They act upon the blood, enriching and purifying it, and in this way feed the disease. That is why they cure such common ailments as anaemia, pimples and eczema, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, and the irregularities in health of growing girls and women. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Murdered For Ring.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 28.—Hugh McMahon, manager of the American Cafe, and a well-known business man, was murdered in the front yard of a residence next door to his own home here yesterday. His face was battered to a pulp, his skull was fractured, and a finger, from which a $400 diamond had been wrenched, was nearly torn off.

German Miners Disorderly.

Strassburg, Nov. 28.—The Government has ordered troops into the Lorraine coal mining district to suppress disorders on the part of striking miners. Since the Hamm disaster the miners aver that the Lorraine shafts are unsafe, and they refuse to go down. Some of the strikers attempted to blow up a mine with dynamite yesterday.

Three Years For Mail Robbery.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 28.—Judge Wells, at Dorchester yesterday, sentenced Robt. Hamey, mail carrier, who pleaded guilty to robbery of the mails, to three years in penitentiary.

W. Laurielle, for stealing money, was given two years.

Coal Dealers Fined.

Belleville, Nov. 23.—A firm of local coal dealers were fined in the Police Court yesterday morning for selling and delivering coal without having it weighed in the market scales.

On Good Behavior.

Chatham, Nov. 28.—John Hales of Dresden, who was charged with attempted wife murder, was released yesterday on his good behavior, the evidence conflicting.

Infant Emperor's Coronation.

Pekin, Nov. 28.—The Government has decided upon Dec. 2 as the date for the ceremonies attending Pu Yi's ascension to the throne.

THE VERDICT WAS NO CONSPIRACY

Jury Finds No Organized Corruption at Port Arthur.

WRONGDOING IS INDIVIDUAL

Mr. Justice Britton Says Men May Have Been Guilty Separately—Three Prisoners and Hogarth Will Face Charges of Subornation of Personation In the Spring—Evidence Against Men Weak.

Port Arthur, Nov. 28.—After half an hour's deliberation the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case against J. W. Armstrong, J. Hubert and R. Lethen, accused of conspiracy in connection with the recent federal election.

Mr. Justice Britton in his charge inclined to the opinion that while one or all might have been guilty individually of wrong-doing, of indiscretion, in this case it was necessary to prove that they had conspired together, which the judge did not seem to think was clearly shown.

The three defendants and Hogarth have still to face charges of subornation of personation, but these charges have been traversed to the spring Assizes at the request of Crown Prosecutor Hodgins.

Soon after the opening yesterday F. E. Hodgins for the crown announced the close of the crown's case, and Hamilton Cassels and W. A. Dowler for defendants asked Mr. Justice Britton to take the case from the jury and dismiss it on the ground that the poll was not a proper one and that no case had been made out against the defendants.

Justice Britton ruled against them, saying he would let the case go to the jury, though the evidence against Armstrong was very weak indeed. He remarked of the case against Lethen and Hubert that he could not say the same.

The defence called Charles Eames, Frank Flana, an and Harry Cahagan, passengers on the election train. They had heard nothing during the trip to arouse their suspicions that anything was wrong.

Runs Quarantine Gauntlet.

Windsor, Nov. 28.—Jas. Robertson, an aged farmer at Milton, Ont., and seven high-grade sheep will be Canada's only showing at the international live stock show in Chicago.

To get through the Michigan quarantine he sealed himself in the car with his sheep, and was lost on a side track for several hours until rescued by Dr. James Fleming of the Illinois States Sanitary Commission, who hunted up the car when notified of Robertson's predicament. On his return Robertson will face a new difficulty, as the Canadian authorities have an embargo in effect here.

Electric Plant Disabled.

Windsor, Nov. 28.—The electric light service was disabled Thuraday night by the explosion of a boiler. William Freeman, fireman, tried to shut off escaping steam and was severely scalded. He escaped just in time to avoid suffocation.

Sues For $10,000.

Quebec, Nov. 28.—Boridault, an Ottawa official of the Marine Department is suing A. B. VanFrelson, nephew of ex-Agent Gregory, for $10,000 for statements made concerning the investigation.

The steamer Viscaya rescued 55. A patrol of constabulary, which was established immediately after the accident, picked up fifteen bodies, and many were coming ashore. It is not known whether any Americans or Europeans were aboard the wrecked steamer.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will return to Ottawa on Sunday, a day or two earlier than he intended. He has cancelled his proposed visit to Governor Willard of Virginia.

Closes With Hydro.

Brantford, Nov. 28.—The citizens and aldermanic power committee, at joint meeting here last night, unanimously decided to recommend the signing of a contract with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

PREVENTION OF THE WHITE PLAGUE

The prevention of Consumption and its cure in the early stages is a matter of fresh air and nourishment, but to secure nourishment you must have appetite, and nothing is better known to medical science to stimulate and invigorate the system than the active principles of COD LIVER OIL—the only drawback has been that it has hitherto been impossible to separate the really valuable elements of cods' livers from the nauseous oil or grease, which fact has largely offset the good derived from the alkaloids or active principles contained in the Oil.

"BRICK'S TASTELESS" is a preparation of the valuable alkaloids or active principles separated from the grease and combined with Phosphorous in the form of the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, the nutritious Liquid Extract of Malt, and the Bronchial Tonic and Sedative Fluid Extract of Wild Cherry Bark.

In all cases of wasting diseases or an enervated condition of the system immediate improvement and eventual cure follow its use.

Read Brick's guarantee with each bottle.

"BRICK'S TASTELESS"

is put up in eight (8) ounce bottles, retail price fifty (50) cents; and in twenty (20) ounce bottles, retail price one (1) dollar.

Millions For Colleges.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 28.—Dr. D. K. Pearson, the millionaire philanthropist of Chicago, concerning whom a statement was published recently to the effect that his benefactions had depleted his fortune and left him with a deficit, is quoted yesterday as declaring the story as all "bosh."

Dr. Pearson is also quoted as saying that he has $3,000,000 more to give to educational institutions in this country, which gifts he will begin to bestow next July under certain prescribed conditions.

Family Deported.

Brockville, Nov. 28.—The necessary deportation papers having arrived from Ottawa, the family of Samuel Lee, consisting of himself, his wife and six children, who had become a charge on the town through the father refusing to work, were started on their way to England yesterday.

Lee was serving a term of three months in jail for vagrancy. This had only partly expired, and the town paid his fine to effect his release.

THE PANGS OF SCIATICA

Fierce darting pains. Pains like red hot needles being driven through the legs to the ankles—that's sciatica. None but the victim can realize the torture of this trouble. But the sufferer need not grow discouraged for there is a cure in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills enrich the blood, feed the starved, sciatic nerve and thus drive out the pain. Mrs. Joseph L Brown, Wilmot, N.S., was a victim of sciatica and found a cure in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:—"For a year I was laid up with sciatica from my side to my toot. What I suffered was at times awful. I could not touch my foot to the floor, and had to hobble about with a cane. My right leg was drawn up, and I never expected to have the use of it again. I was attended by our family doctor, and tried several other remedies, but with no benefit, and I felt very much discouraged. One day I read of the cure of a similar sufferer through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to try them. I got six boxes, and by the time I had taken them I was completely cured, and have not had the slightest twinge of the trouble since. I am, therefore, a very enthusiastic friend of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and recommend them to all who are similarly troubled."

There is no mystery about the cures Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make. They act upon the blood, enriching and purifying it, and in this way feed the disease. That is why they cure such common ailments as anaemia, pimples and eczema, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, and the irregularities in health of growing girls and women. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Murdered For Ring.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 28.—Hugh McMahon, manager of the American Cafe, and a well-known business man, was murdered in the front yard of a residence next door to his own home here yesterday. His face was battered to a pulp, his skull was fractured, and a finger, from which a $400 diamond had been wrenched, was nearly torn off.

German Miners Disorderly.

Strassburg, Nov. 28.—The Government has ordered troops into the Lorraine coal mining district to suppress disorders on the part of striking miners. Since the Hamm disaster the miners aver that the Lorraine shafts are unsafe, and they refuse to go down. Some of the strikers attempted to blow up a mine with dynamite yesterday.

Three Years For Mail Robbery.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 28.—Judge Wells, at Dorchester yesterday, sentenced Robt. Hamey, mail carrier, who pleaded guilty to robbery of the mails, to three years in penitentiary.

W. Laurielle, for stealing money, was given two years.

Coal Dealers Fined.

Belleville, Nov. 28.—A firm of local coal dealers were fined in the Police Court yesterday morning for selling and delivering coal without having it weighed in the market scales.

On Good Behavior.

Chatham, Nov. 28.—John Hales of Dresden, who was charged with attempted wife murder, was released yesterday on his good behavior, the evidence conflicting.

Infant Emperor's Coronation.

Pekin, Nov. 28.—The Government has decided upon Dec. 2 as the date for the ceremonies attending Pu Yi's ascension to the throne.

ENGLAND

Her grandfather hanged himself; her mother died in an asylum; and she had herself been in an asylum. This was the unfortunate family history of a woman who, at Norwich Assizes, was ordered to be detained during the King's pleasure. The woman, Mary Chatten, wife of a country publican at Carlton Rode, was charged with murdering her infant daughter on September 15th. Accused, who had been worried and depressed, got up in the middle of the night to attend to another child. After cutting deceased's throat, she threw herself down a well containing 17 feet of water from which she was rescued in a critical condition some time later. To the doctor who attended her she said, "I should not have done it, but that I intended to kill myself. I could not sleep. I kissed my husband and the children. But when I came to the baby I could not leave her. I loved her so. I thought it was better that she should die than to be brought up I know not how." Prisoner left in the house a number of letters which clearly showed that her mind was unhinged. Further evidence showed that she was married two years after her release from an asylum.

A bull on being landed at Liverpool detached itself from the other cattle with which it had been brought across from Ireland and began madly rushing about. A motor, driven at the reques of the police, followed the runaway until it sought refuge up an entry. The chauffeur, when he tried to secure the animal by the horns, was knocked down and the infuriated animal afterwards turned upon the motor and butted it. In the course of its rushings too and fro the bull ran into the Central station, and getting down upon the lines it disappeared in the tunnel. The railway authorities, fearing disaster, telegraphed to some of the nearest stations with instructions to keep all trains back. After a considerable sojourn in the tunnel the animal reappeared and resumed its erratic course. Seeing its reflection in a plate-glass window, it seemed preparing to make a tilt at what it conceived to be a rival bull, but was intercepted. Eventually, after wandering for nearly five hours, it was lassoed and taken back to the abattoir, where it was slaughtered without delay.

IRELAND

A pretty little story of an Irish boy's chivalry was told by the famous prima donna, Mme. Melba, on her arrival in Liverpool from Belfast, after her recent Irish visit. A heavy shower of rain was falling as the singer was setting out to fulfill an engagement, and Mme. Melba asked her maid to cover the wet ground to her carriage with a carpet. Close by, watching the departure of the famous vocalist, was an ill-clad newsboy, who, hearing the instruction given to the maid, promptly spread his papers on the dirty pavement, forming an improvised carpet for Mme. Melba to walk on. "I would give anything to know the name of that street urchin," said Mme. Melba; "it was one of the most touching incidents of my life."

Death has just removed a notable figure in the person of Mr Michael Waters, known as the "King of Inishmurray," a storm-beaten island situated about nine miles off the coast of Sligo. Mr. Waters was really ruler of his ocean-bound kingdom, in fact, as well as in word. His word was law, and he always acted with impartiality and justice towards his subjects, whose interests he jealously guarded. He was well known to tourists and visitors to the island, where he treated all comers with characteristic hospitality. He was "king" for over thirty-five years, having succeeded his mother as ruler, and he in turn handed his authority over to his son Michael, adjuring him always to do his best for the islanders.

One hundred and thirty-one magistrates, believed to constitute a record Bench, assembled at Newtownards, County Down, recently to adjudicate on an application for a revival license for a hostelry known as The Goat. The number of justices would probably have been greater but for a circular issued by the Irish Temperance League warning magistrates who had financial interests in the licensed trade against voting. The application was refused by 100 votes to 29, whereupon some person in court whereupon a prolonged bleat in imitation of the cry of a lost goat, and the proceedings ended amid general laughter.

SCOTLAND

The crew of the Norwegian barque Normanvik, which was on a voyage from Liverpool to Frederickstadt, Norway, but which had to be abandoned 100 miles off Lewis, arrived in Leith the other day. They state that during a heavy storm the barque sprang a leak, and the inrush of water continued to increase, and three hand pumps, which were in continual use, were not sufficient to keep the water from gathering. Ultimately sand ballast got into the pumps and completely choked them. When the barque was full of water they abandoned it, after twenty-four hours' hard work, and took to a little boat. For two days and two nights they had to contend against the stormy weather and the big seas frequently broke over them. When they were thirty-three miles from Shetland they were picked up by the cutter Queen of Faroe, and landed at Lerwick.

In Dobbie's Loan, Glasgow, one of a group of young men threw a tin box containing several detonators into the fire of a tar boiler standing in the street. Two boys witnessed the action and abstracted the box and opened it. Being unaware of their dangerous nature, they threw the detonators back into the fire, and in the explosion which followed were both slightly injured.

Seven men and a boy are in custody at Glasgow on a charge of wholesale thefts of spectacles from an optician's premises. The boy was employed there and he says he aided the members of a gang known as the "Black Bandits," to carry out a scheme of robbery. He received 2s 6d for each pair, and twenty-seven pairs have been recovered from pawnshops.

STATISTICAL ANALYSIS OF LIFE IN OLD LONDON GIVING SOME AMAZING FIGURES

What is London? This is the question which the London County Council seeks each year to answer in its annual volume of statistics, and every year the answer becomes more overwhelming in its vastness.

The latest volume tells us in the first place that administrative London is composed of 74,816 acres of land and water. The land is laid out as follows:

Miles of streets 2,134 1-2
Houses 611,786
Factories and workshops ... 28,265
Parks and open spaces (acres) 9,026

On this land live 4,795,789 human beings, while around them within a few miles another 3,000,000 make their homes. This is the greatest aggregation of men, women and children in one place the world has ever known.

If the 4,795,789 inhabitants of administrative London were spread over the whole acreage there would be sixty persons to every acre, and in each acre there would be eight houses for them to live in. Mass them all together, however, giving each person about two square feet to stand in, and it would be possible to get the whole population in Hyde Park and still have over 100 acres to spare.

The population of London is continually changing. Every hour fourteen new Londoners are born and eight die.

* * * *

London is probably the wealthiest city in the world. Its property is insured from fire at £1,040,057,846. Despite this, however, there is a large amount of poverty. The figures show that—

One person in every thirty-three is a pauper.

Twenty persons in every 100 die in a workhouse or a workhouse infirmary.

London does much to cope with its burden of poverty, and every year £10,066,043 is distributed by various charities.

No one can tell what it costs to feed London's population. Here, however, is a part of its enormous yearly bill of fare:

Dead meat (tons) 419,037
Live cattle 68,735
Live sheep 375,950
Fish (tons) 174,332
Milk (gallons) 80,826,330

In addition to these items, an army of 60,275 Londoners are busily working all the year in preparing other food and drink for their fellows' consumption. Here are some of them:

Bread and confectionery mkg...13,756
Jam making 5,242
Cocoa and chocolate making ... 2,406
Other foods 14,108
Brewing, etc. 9,885
Aerated waters manufacturing 4,283

The water consumed by Londoners and used for washing and other purposes reaches the enormous volume of 32,152,249,000 gallons a year, and for this they pay £1,332,772 a year.

* * * *

London is essentially a place to work in, despite its many attractions to the visitor. In its 28,265 factories and workshops alone 535,541 men, women and children find employment. The largest number of these are engaged in making clothes. Here are the figures of the principal occupations:

Dress 9,499 130,500
Wood and wood articles 4,031 32,702
Paper and printing ...3,011 79,150
Metals and machinery ...2,872 60,946
Food, etc. ... ...4 ...3,324 60,275
Laundries 1,781 29,506

Londoners are much given to travelling in trains, tramcars, and omnibuses. The weather may account for this, for it might be considerably better than it is. The average that may be expected each year is about as follows:

1,280 hours of sunshine out of a possible 4,459 hours.

An average temperature of 50 degrees.

Whatever the cause, however, the fondness of being carried about instead of walking is undoubtedly one of the Londoner's greatest failings. The facilities are tremendous. Here are some of them:

Ten great trunk lines have termini in London.

The local railways are worth £66,883,265.

There are 124 miles of tramways.

Omnibuses number 3,762, of which motor-omnibuses form nearly a third.

The number of passengers carried by the local railways and tramcars alone numbered over 949,000,000 last year, equal to 200 journeys for every man, woman and child in London, while millions were carried in omnibuses and cabs.

* * * *

There is a wide variety in the means by which Londoners are able to amuse themselves when the working day is over. In addition to the open air pastimes to be found in the parks and open spaces, the following sources are available to them:

Theatres 53
Music Halls 49
Concert Halls 281
Museums 11

There were also eighty-eight public libraries open to them, which possess 1,184,092 books. The total number issued last year was 6,300,378 books, of which 4,013,222 were novels.

Londoners are great letter writers and in the course of one year their correspondence amounts to:

Letters 737,100,000
Postcards 165,800,000

In addition to these they send 28,260,000 telegrams in a year, and enjoy 145,905,630 chats over the telephone.

How is this vast city governed? In all there are 101 local governing bodies which deal with every side of public life. These have a total of 3,788 elected members. Many of the offices are held in duplicate, however, and it is probable that the total number of persons engaged in the government of London is about 2,800.

They are elected by 816,593 voters, of whom 118,695 are women.

A PENSION REVELATION.

Irishman Proves to Have Lived 111 Years in One Parish.

May a romance is being revealed through the investigation of the claims for old age pensions. Among the applicants in Ireland is Charles Kelly, who lives in the parish of Inver, among the wild mountains near the little town of Mount Charles, Donegal.

This wonderful old man has reached the remarkable age of 111, but his sight and hearing are still fairly good, and his interest in the working of the little holding on which he resides (and which is now owned by his youngest son, a sprightly youth of sixty) is unabated.

Mr. Kelly was born about three miles from Mount Charles, and has never lived out of the parish of Inver. He practically created the little house and holding out of the barren mountain side on which it stands. He jokes with animation on the labors of his early days, when he carried on his back from the adjoining moors every stone for the construction of his house. Seen from a distance the little farm, marked by a few trees, stands out like an oasis amid the desert of barren brown heath with which it is surrounded.

The old man had a vivid recollection of the struggles he underwent in tiding over the awful years of the Irish famine, but, remote as he has always been from towns and unable to read or write, he has but little recollection of historical or political events which took place during his life.

DIAPEPSIN WILL CURE YOUR STOMACH

Will Replace Digestive Juices and Stop Food Fermentation.

Every family there ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lay like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take one triangule after supper to-night. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for all stomach misery, because it will take hold of your food and digest it just the same as it your stomach wasn't there.

Actual, prompt relief for all your stomach misery is at your Pharmacist, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure a case of Dyspepsia or Indigestion.

THE word "OXOL" does not mean one food or one preparation. No "OXOL" is a name given to all goods for horses, cattle, swine and sheep, prepared by Messrs. S. K. and T. C. Windsor, of Australia, New Zealand, England and Canada.

The veterinary preparations as well as the compressed bales of fodder placed on the market of the world under the name of

are all of the greatest possible order of merit and may be used by farmers, graziers, dairymen and all owners of stock with the full assurance that these goods have the power in a very short time to double their incomes by feeding, fattening and curing all animals, which to them means money.

Scientific Meetings will be organized by Messrs. Windsor and held throughout the Dominion of Canada, when farmers desirous of improving their knowledge of stock will have an opportunity of doing so and to be instructed on the life of stock from birth to death, free of any charge.

LOCAL BOY SPENDING LONG WINTER MONTHS AT FORT HOPE FUR TRADING POST ON ALBANY RIVER, 1600 MILES NORTH OF THIS CITY

Mr. Cyril Lech, Son of Mr. William Lech, is in the Frozen Country of Ontario's Northern Frontier —Winter From October to April and Days Very Short.

IS ENGAGED WITH FUR DEALERS OF PARIS

Seventeen hundred miles north of here at a little trading post known as Fort Hope on the Albany river at the very northern boundary of the Province of Ontario, Mr. Cyril Lech, son of Mr. W Lech, is spending the longest winter he has yet experienced. He is employed by Revillon Freres, of Paris, France, one of the largest fur dealing companies in the world. For a time he was engaged at their Montreal office, but last May left for a year's experience in the raw fur business at the company's posts in the Hudson Bay district. Winter sets in about the first of October and the season does not entirely spend itself until some time in April. He will therefore be frost bound in the intensely cold wilderness of the Fort Hope locality until the middle of next spring. No mail is taken in there except by missionaries and those who are known will make the trip.

Paddle and Portage

The farthest railway station on the journey is Nipigon, on the C.P.R. From there he paddled with Indians until their destination was reached. Many long portages had to be made some of them being three to four miles. Mr. Lech is with Mr. McDonald, the head of the post, but for two months he himself was in charge. He acts as assistant to Mr. McDonald. Altogether there are only half a dozen white men in the neighbourhood, some of them being at the Hudson Bay Company's post not far distant. During the winter the trading operations are carried on and the furs are prepared and packed, ready to be taken to the Montreal warehouse when the ice leaves the river.

Sent Home Photos

Missionaries of the English and Roman Catholic churches visit the post at certain times during the year and to one of the former Mr. Lech gave a number of photographs which he had taken of interesting places and persons at the Port. The missionary delivered them to his parents in Peterborough who needless to say were delighted with these messages from their far distant son. He will not be home again until next July, when he will shortly after resume his work at Montreal. The experience he will gain should be invaluable to him, and it was a realization of this that lead him to accept the opportunity to go to the post.

Cyril was just nineteen yesterday and for his years is of superb physique and stature. In all probability his birthday was quietly spent, at least there were none of his many Peterborough friends at hand to congratulate him, although in spirit they wish him every success.

THE FORMAL OPENING OF THE NEW PETERBOROUGH COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE HELD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Yesterday a function was performed at Central Park, essentially important and typifying far reaching and permanent educational influences. It was the formal opening of the new Collegiate Institute. The importance was one of so great importance, in relation to our educational, intellectual and ethical interests, as to warrant the devotion of considerable space, an extended report, which will be found on pages 15 and 16 of this issue of The Examiner.

A Haliburton Lumberman Succumbs To Injuries He Receives While Chopping

News from Gooderham, Haliburton County, announces the death at that place of Roland Madill, from injuries received recently.

It seems that while chopping down a tree he was struck by a large limb and very badly hurt about the head, besides sustaining other injuries. He was taken to the hospital, where everything that was possible was done to give him relief. Nothing the doctors could do, however, to restore his consciousness availed to restore him to his former healthful condition and he was finally removed to his home, where he breathed his last on Monday, still unconscious.

PRAYER TO BE OFFERED FOR A REAL PENTECOSTAL REVIVAL

Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock a meeting for prayer will be held at 176 McDonel street, the house occupied by the late John Frise. The front of this house has been fitted up as a mission, and abouut seventy-five persons can be seated. The object of the meeting is to pray for a real Pentecostal revival. Rev. J. E. Sawders, formerly of Toronto, will be here for the services on Wednesday night at 7.30, and will remain for a series of meetings—afternoons at 2.30 and evenings at 7.30 o'clock. He is quite widely known as an evangelist on the American side, and especially as a Pentecostal preacher. He is also the publisher of a widely circulated paper, called the "Latter Rain." He says the Pentecostal work has been badly misrepresented and if prejudiced, honest Christians could hear the truth about it and receive the truth as given in the Bible, they would be of a different mind. He has received, he says, the baptism of the Holy Ghost, as they did on Pentecost, and spoke in various tongues, but he believes in nothing fanatical or unscriptural. He is an ordained minister of one of the old denominations.

Members of different churches are interested in this work and organization is aimed at. All are welcome.

JOHN OAKLEY GETS SIX MONTHS FOR VAGRANCY AT THE POLICE COURT TO-DAY

A familiar figure occupied the prisoner's dock at the Police Station this morning when John Oakley was charged with vagrancy. John has been before the Magistrate on many, many occasions, and appears right at home in his surroundings. The Magistrate thought of the big pile of wood that is awaiting at the goal for the occupation of the boarders during the winter months, and he accordingly invited John to become the guest of the authorities at Castle Nesbitt for the next six months. The invitation was perforce accepted.

A young man charged with being drunk, pleaded not guilty, and was remanded until this afternoon. On being taken down stairs, however, he changed his mind and asked to be brought back before the Magistrate, and pleaded guilty. He was fined $2, to be paid forthwith, and as the money was not forthcoming, he will work on the gaol wood pile for the next ten days.

PROMENADE AT THE COLLEGIATE ITSTITUTE WAS ATTENDED BY MANY CITIZENS

The staff and pupils of the Collegiate Institute were "At Home" to their friends and the citizens of Peterborough in general last evening, when a promenade concert was held in the new building. Loyal people were quick to take advantage o fthe invitation extended to them to visit the new Collegiate Institute, and during the evening literally thousands of citizens wandered through the corridors and rooms of the structure or occupied seats in the auditorium where the Grand Opera House orchestra discoursed a choice programme of popular music that was much appreciated. The vest hall was crowded to the doors during the evening. Towards the close the floor was cleared, and a number of the pupils and their friends enjoyed a pleasant little dance. The affair was brought to a close at 10 30 o'clock.

A HARVEY FARMER IN TOWN BEFORE TEN AFTER A LONG DRIVE

Mr. Adam Thompson, of South Harvey, must have been up with the larks this morning, that is if there are any of these belated songsters still flitting about in the northern township. He arrived at the market, after driving a distance of at least twenty-four miles, at fifteen minutes to ten o'clock. Many farmers residing but a few miles from the city had not arrived at that hour.

A DELIGHTFUL HOUR WITH KIPLING AT LITERARY MEETING

The Young People of St. Paul's church have a Literary and Social evening once a month. Their November meeting was held last evening and a rare treat was afforded them by Sheritt Hall who gave an appreciation of Kipling's poetry.

The Sheritt renewed Kipling's life and pointed out the cosmopolitan training of the poet. Then he pointed out the characteristics of Kipling's poetry and gave illustrations from his works, contrasting and comparing it with that of Tennyson.

The Sheritt's dramatic rendering of the many selections referred to was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and a most enjoyable and profitable evening was spent.

There was music and readings in addition and after the literary part of the programme was completed, a half hour was spent in social intercourse which was rendered more delightful by dainty refreshments.

THE BITUMINOUS COALS OF ALBERTA

In Great Demand For Railway Purposes.

U. S. Railways West of Rockies Dependent on the Alberta Coal Fields.

It is not generally known by the public that the area of bituminous coal in Western Canada in practically limited to the Crow's Nest district in Southern Alberta and the Peace River district in Northern British Columbia. There are enormous deposits of lignitic coals in Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, but the lignitic coals are unfit for railway purposes for the reason that they produce cinders which cause prairie and forest fires, and, consequently, involve the railways in heavy damages. It is a well known fact that the C.P.R. were importing bituminous coals from Kentucky and Ohio for use during the dry seasons before the Crow's Nest Company's mines were opened up. These bituminous coal fields are an invaluable treasure house to the far West of Canada, and should be carefully husbanded, for in the years to come they will be more highly prized than even they are now. It is only comparatively a few years ago that similar coal lands in Ohio could be bought for from $2 to $2.50 per acre that are now worth from $2,00 to $2,500 per acre. The latest big colliery to be opened in the bituminous field of Alberta is the Western Oil & Coal Consolidated's new colliery at Beaver Creek, known as the Beaver Collieries. Recent reports state that these collieries have over seventy million tons of coal in sight. This seems enormous, but when one remembers that there is now 10,000 tons of coal per day going out of the collieries in the Crow's Nest district, and that all the collieries are working double-time, and have their output sold over a year ahead, it does not mean so much. Twenty-five years at 10,000 tons per day would exhaust even this latest big colliery.

The coal lands of the Canadian Northwest are being pretty eagerly bought up, and the opportunities for securing bituminous coal lands are getting very rare.

FACTORY TO OPEN DURING NEXT WEEK

The William Hamilton Company, Limited, expect to open their factory next week. In speaking to a member of the company the morning the Examiner was informed that it was the intention to begin operations on Monday, but that probably they would not commence until later.

The company have a large number of orders to be filled and they are anxious to start work. About fifty men will be employed at the commencement.

PETERBOROUGH MAN IN THE EDMONTON FINANCIAL CIRCLES

The November issue of Life Echoes contains a cut of Mr. E. W. Cox, of Edmonton, Alta., and formerly of this city. It refers to him in connection with the Canada Life Insurance Company as "The branch manager for Northern Alberta," and "a gentleman who has been for many years connected with the field work of the Canada Life."

NAVIGATION STILL OPEN UNTIL THE WINTER ARRIVES

If the season continues as it is at present the length of the navigation season is likely to be longer than in many years in the past, and a record in this respect may be made. The steamer Rainbow came up this morning with a large number of passengers and returned with a heavy load of freight. It will make a number of trips next week and will cease its trips only with bad weather and ice.

WINTER VEGETABLES REALLY TRUE TO NAME GROW ON HUNTER ST.

Mr. John Speer, 173 Hunter street, has left at the Examiner samples of genuine and literal winter vegetables. They consist of onions, beets and carrots, accidentally left in the ground, which have pushed forth new leaves under the spell of warm weather of the present November.

HE INTENDS TO SAVE SOME MONEY ON HIS CHRISTMAS TURKEY

There is at least one man in the city who claims that he is going to have his Christmas turkey at a smaller price than most other citizens. The scheme he is following is to buy the turkey next Saturday or a week later, put it in cold storage, and save a good deal more than the cost of storing it will be. Whether this will be worth while trying he will be able to explain after Christmas; at present it may not commend itself to the average householder.

FARMER'S HORSES TRAVEL AT FULL SPEED DOWN RAIL TRACK IN FRONT OF A DOUBLE-HEADER

THE FARMER ESCAPES UNSCATHED—HORSES BADLY CUT UP

Running at full speed down the Grand Trunk track, on Bethune street, from Brock street, a team of horses and their driver narrowly escaped serious injury this morning. The team was being driven in from the country and just as they arrat the crossing they were frightened at a on-coming double-header freigh train. Becoming unmanageable they whirled down Bethune street off the rail track, and for a few moments it appeared to the bystanders as if a tragedy was about to happen.

However, fortune smiled on the driver, the horses left the track and ran into a standing pole, one on either side of it. Damages to a considerable extent were inflicted upon the waggon but the driver escaped uninjured.

Mysterious Exploding Of A Rifle Which Injures All Save The Person Who Carries It

Madoc, Nov. 28—Special. — What might have culminated in a fatal accident occurred at the home of Mr. Jno. Foley, Irish settlement, a few days ago. One of his sons had purchased a magazine rifle in town and had loaded it with shells. Accompanied by his brother, he was extracting the shells, when they exploded, blowing the rifle to pieces. The brother received a charge of the powder in the eyes, and it is not known yet whether the sight will be injured or not. Mrs. Foley, who was standing near when the accident occurred, had a slit put in her ear about two inches long from a fragment of the gun. What seems to be a miracle was how the one who held the gun escaped without the slightest injury, as he held the gun across the knee when it exploded. The father was hunting at the Flats when the accident occurred.

MANY VETERINARY SURGEONS READY TO LOOK AFTER CATTLE QUARANTINE

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Veterinary surgeons sent from Toronto, Hamilton, Peterborough, Kingston, Niagara, and other points have all reported to the head officials here regarding their inspection on the frontier, especially at at Niagara frontier, and state that there are no signs of the foot-and-mouth disease anywhere in Canada. This is important as it clearly shows Canada's position now and prevents the United States later on asserting that the disease was brought into the States from Canada. It is also, greatly strengthening British confidence in the Canadian market and will still further do so. As soon as word reached headquarters as to any possible trouble despatches to thirty or more veterinaries all over the Provinces, instructed them to make a most thorough investigation.

STORM TOO STRONG FOR THE POLES OF ST. JAMES METHODIST CHURCH TENT

The pastor of St. James' Methodist Church was voted a few weeks' holidays on Wednesday night last. The tent has been taken down and there willb e no services to-morrow. During the wind storm of a few nights ago some of the tent posts were broken. Arrangements are being made to continue the Sunday School, and announcement of this will be made at the prayer meeting, which will be held at the parsonage Wednesday night next, as to where the Sunday School will be held a week from to-morrow.

The contractors, Messrs. Finnie & Gordon have made rapid progress with the new St. James' Church. The roof is now on and nearly all the outside work done. The furnace will be installed at once, and as soon as shed building is thoroughly dried out the public services will ber esumed.

"THE THREE MUSKETEERS" TO BE GIVEN BY LOCAL AMATEUR DRAMATIC CLUB

Peterborough has now another amateur dramatic club—the Alexandria. They have been in existance for some time and have now decided to come into the limelight by presenting the dramatization of Dumas' famous masterpiece "The Three Musketeers," for their first play. They have decided that they want to put on a play that will test the abilities of the cast, although not anything beyond their powers. Some questioning has been done in regard to putting on such a heavy play, but the management of the club have decided that with the cast which they have secured, they can be fairly sure of a correct presentation of this famous play. They will present this play at the Grand Opera House just after the New Year. This, it may be mentioned, if the first time this famous play has ever been presented by amateurs. The cast is well picked and it can safely be said that no better could have been secured anywhere, as each is specially fitted for the part he or she has to play.

A MYSTERIOUS POT OF GOLD HIDDEN IN GALWAY TOWNSHIP

There is a story current, says the Bobcaygeon Independent, that a gold bearing vein of quartz has been found in Galway, and there is another story of a man who somehow got wind of a story that a pot of gold hadh een deposited somewhere near Minden. Reub got all the particulars down as fine as he could and went off on the search with a companion. The pot had to be discovered during the night without noise and without any light or fire. The search was made, and the indicated spot was reached. Reub began gropping with his hands, and presently touched a pot, when instantly sparks of flame shot out, and his companion dropped over in a swoon, having seen a ghost with a flowing beard that reached to his waist. After getting his companion restored to his senses, Reub covered the pot and marked the spot. More recently he returned with three companions, but the efforts were again fruitless. The conditions were not favourable as they had made a noise, and had lights, and the hidden pot of gold was not obtained.

FARMERS HAD MANY FEARS FOR CROPS

"Well," said a farmer this morning, "taking the year all through we have had but little to grumble about in the way we have been treated by nature, and, in fact, I think everybody is feeling very thankful. Extremes followed extremes but the fall has been excellent. As far as I know everybody will have their plowing done and many have finished it three weeks ago, and have been doing work which otherwise would have been left over until next spring. In this way several weeks' work that would have to be done next year has been completed, and a good start should be made after the snow disappears. To those who have followed the farmers since the beginning of last spring, the tragedies which they predicted disappeared one by one. There was too much rain in the early part of the season, they said. The summer was too dry. Poor crops and blighted prospects stared them in the face. The pasturage had dried to "frazzle"; later the crops were not going to ripen; then the ground was too hard to plough, and finally there was no water in the wells for the winter's use and really trouble was sure to come. And yet the farmers were in most cases only dreaming. Over-anxiety affected their imagination. It became susceptible to the least change, to the slightest rumour. The dark clouds that may have been lowering proved to be silver lined."

As a farmer said this morning, they were entering the winter season feeling contented. True, the water supply was not the best in parts, but he hoped to see that anxiety removed and the very last cause for worry removed. Some of the farmers to keep themselves busy are repairing fences, lawns, and doing little "chores" for which they have had to search. With the farmers feeling happy the rest of the people should share in it.

DR. THOS. JOHNSTON'S OFFICIAL NOTICE OF HIS APPOINTMENT

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Dr. Hilton, acting veterinary director general, has sent a telegram to Peterborough, instructing Dr. T. Johnstone, a veterinary surgeon there, to go to Windsor to inspect any cattle that might possibly be brought into Canada from there. The officials are watching the situation there and elsewhere along the border, and there is talk of quarantining other States. SSome papers have intimated that there is no reason why there should not be a general quarantine against the whole States until all danger is passed.

HIGH PRICE FOR BEEF THIS WINTER IS WHAT LOCAL DEALERS SAY

Whether it was merely for the purpose of helping his own cause or that the condition really exists in the country, a meat dealer on the market stated this morning that he would not be surprised to see meat dear this winter. According to his statement there is not a large number of cattle in the surrounding townships, many of the farmers having disposed of them for various reasons. The retail price which, he said, he felt would be reached was six or seven cents on the market by the quarter. Of course, the citizens sincerely hope that his foresight is erroneous and that no increase will be experienced.

DEATH IN ROCHESTER OF LADY WHO IS WELL KNOWN IN THIS CITY

One of the Rochester papers refers in the following terms to the death of a former Lindsay resident and sister-in-law to Mrs. Moreland, 569 Gilmour street:

The funeral of Miss Margaret M. Moreland, one of Rochester's best known and most popular school teachers, was held yesterday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Bridget's Church. Rev. Michael Dwyer, of Genesa Falls, a cousin of the deceased, officiated at solemn requiem mass assisted by Rev. D W Kavanagh of St. Bridget's as deacon and Rev. E J Dwyer of Auburn as subdeacon. Rev. J R Staub of Holy Redeemer church was present in the sanctuary.

Members of the Vatican Circle of which Miss Moreland had been the president for many years were present at the services. Principal Mullthrop and a delegation of the teachers of No. 26 School were also present.

The bearers were; Patrick Dwyer, Philip Dwyer, William Travis, Patrick Dwyer, Eugene Dowd, and Michael Travis, all cousins of the deceased. Interment was at Holy Sepulchre.

THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

The function of yesterday, the formal opening of the new Collegiate Institute, did not receive its chief significance from the fuss and feathers aspect of it. The buildings had been occupied and splendid work had been going on which would not have essentially suffered if no formalities had been observed. The chief importance of the occasion consisted in its compelling public recognition of, and especially emphasising, the fact that we had added to our educational equipment an excellent building well planned, and well built, a credit to the architect, the contractor and the workmen employed. Though the indispensable value and imperatively demanded usefulness of a Collegiate Institute would seem to be self-evident, there are many who forget what it really means. It is regarded by some are only a means of giving a finishing touch, more or less ornamental, to a public school course. It is much more than that. It is in reality the "poor man's college," that is, it affords educational advantages to the children of persons at a rate, within means, insufficient to procure the same advantages under more expensive conditions. In every high school the children of working men and men of moderate means are enjoying the advantages of training for better waging the fight in the competition in which brain skill as well as muscle skill is a factor; which will permit them to acquire a greater earning power, and rise to higher positions. In this view, if financial conditions permitted, the expense of attendance at our Collegiate Institute should be reduced to a minimum, so that lack of means should be no bar, to the poorest in the city giving his children the advantages of the training therein imparted. It is also forgotten that the Collegiate Institute, is an important wheel in our educational machinery, as necessary to the success and continuity of our public schools, as buildings, pupils and teachers. In fact we look to the High School or Collegiate Institute for our supply of teachers. In these alone our intending teachers receive their non-professional or purely academic training, fitting them for the professional training afforded by the Normal Schools. It therefore, it were not for these high schools our supply of teachers would soon fail and with that our public schools would go, for there is no other means provided or available by which the supply of public school teachers can be continuously and economically otherwise provided.

Therefore the opening day of the new Collegiate Institute, thoroughly equipped in the material as well as pedagogic sense, with half a dozen admirably equipped and officered public schools, tributary to it and with an excellent Normal School, conveniently situated, furnishing the complementary conditions for the making of efficient teachers for our public schools, not to mention numerous obvious advantages, should, in our educational and civic calendar, be marked with a white stone. May our Collegiate Institute shine like a lamp and flourish like a tree.

NOT PLAYING FAIR.

Great Britain proposes spending nine hundred million dollars to assist Irish tenants to purchase their holdings from the landlords. This great amount of money is not an expenditure; it is an investment and it will be a good investment if it meets its object, the betterment of the condition of Ireland. Of course, provision is made for the repayment of the advances, and in the long run the government will be financially recouped. This suggests the unfairness of the treatment by the Toronto News of the Dominion expenditures. In spirit, if not in so many words, it treats expenditure on the government section of the Grand Trunk Pacific are an investment; penditure and an element in the deficit of fifty million dollars it absurdly claims for next year. Like the Imperial advances to Irish tenants, the expenditures upon the Grand Trunk Pacific are an investment; the advances will be repaid and as in the case of Ireland, the results will form a grand justification for the action of the government. It would be quite a luxury to have the News and other Conservative journals discuss political questions fairly.

The last session of the tenth Parliament of the Dominion, was the longest in the history of Confederation, having lasted 236 days. The shortest session was the second of the second Parliament—1873, lasting 18 days.

MOTIVES OF SERVICE.

The Toronto News places the Ministry of the Gospel on a low plane. It says that young men are deterred from entering the ministry because the pulpit is not the road to riches or even competency." If this is the reason why recruits for the ecclesiastical army are loth to 'take the shilling," all the better for the church and what it stands for. The man who enters the Ministry of the Gospel with no higher motive than entering upon a lucrative profession is better out of it. He would be what the world would call a "misfit"—a volume of meaning in a word. The whole scheme of redemption is founded upon sacrifice, and a ministry that will not in this spirit become complementary to the spirit of sacrifice of which the great High Priest gave the example, as an example, the Gospel will lack the essential administrative element. What is called for in these latter days are Apostles to the Gentiles. St. Paul, the pioneer apostle to the Gentiles, was not greatly moved by considerations of riches or even competency. He had his eyes on the "unsearchable riches," or "counted all things loss," "that he might win for his Master. St. Paul was the most scholarly man of his time, but he didn't dabble in the higher criticism and transcendental theologic questions that would have little bearing upon right living and would have constituted an unsatisfying substitute for the bread of life for which the heathen were hungering. The question of cash dividends on bonds of the kingdom celestial did not trouble the minds of the gospel carriers of the opening centuries of the Christian era. A fresh baptism of the spirit of trust, and of the spirit of self-sacrifice would help to solve the problem of recruits for the Christian ministry.

IDEALS IN CITIZENSHIP.

Toronto Star.

The real greatness of a nation cannot be measured by the volume of its trade, the number of its people, or by the extent of its territorial possessions. That nation only is great in which conditions exist that are best calculated to promote the happiness and comfort of the individual and the home.

The United States leads the world in the aggregate of material wealth, but this wealth is not equally divided. One-tenth of the population possesses more than the other nine-tenths. There are a few thousands of millionaires at the top; there are millions of paupers at the bottom. For the few there are magnificent palaces surrounded by vast estates; in the greatest city of the Union there are no less than 350,000 inside bedrooms into which the sunlight never enters. There are idle rich whose chief mental occupation consists in devising plans for the killing of time; at the other end of the chain are a million lads under fourteen who are performing the work of day labourers. Finally, mainly as a result of bad housing that is part of a condition in which wealth is so unevenly divided, a hundred thousand Americans die annually from tuberculosis.

In Canada we have to-day a foundation such as the Americans began building on a century ago. We have the same extent of territory, the same abundance in natural resources, the same general basic stock in population, and the same power of attraction for the crowded multitudes of the old world. Let us see to our ideals in nation building. These should not find expression merely in total trade figures, in great cities and in stately palaces. All these things will be in vain unless the average man is comfortably housed; unless our cities are so planned as to ensure cleanliness and abundance of sunlight; unless as many as possible of the conveniences of the town are placed within reach of the farm; unless the extremes of poverty on the one hand and riches on the other are avoided, and unless there is developed a spirit of citizenship under which all recognize to the full their duty to the community they live in.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In 1906 Canada sold to China flour to the value of $24,118; in 1907 the sales had increased to $467,521.

In 1858 New Zealand's population was 59,000; in 1907 it was 950,000. Its exports in 1858 were £434,000; in 1907 they were £20,000,000.

In 1871 Peterborough had a population of 4611; in 1881 of 6812; in 1891 of 9717; in 1901 of 11,239; and to-day its population is close to 17,000.

The Toronto News says there is far too much profanity heard in the streets of Toronto. It sets the example. It has been swearing in a journalistic way ever since it lost the elections.

Nine hundred million dollars is a big price for England to have to pay for the eradication of landlordism in Ireland, but, says the Ottawa Free Press, if it brings peace and prosperity to Erin it will be worth the price.

Mr. Carnegie is very human after all. After having made an embarrassing amount of money out of the United States steel duties, which he held were necessary in the interests of the country, he now advocates their abolition.

The Toronto News asserts that the Liberal party in the last campaign had an election fund as large as the Republican party in the United States, that is to say, $1,600,000. If the News has any evidence of so incredible a statement, it should produce it; if it hasn't, it is playing the role of a common—defamer.

Public ownership seems by its sound to be a name to conjure with. Its success, as The Examiner has contended, depends, as Bunsby would say, on "the application on it." St. Thomas is not enamoured of the principle: it deplores a deficit of $8,000 or $9,000 per year on the operation of its street railway. That fact, however, does not affect the principle If its municipal management were as effective as private management generally appears to be, its failure might be converted into success.

In view of recent revelations regarding hitherto supposedly responsible public officials, we would suggest that it would be a good thing for Sir James Whitney, to secure the services of Judge Cassels, when he completes his present work, to apply the cold judicial eye of impartial investigation to the present administration of colonization roads, of the license act, and of the mining interests of the Province. The result, we feel assured would be interesting, if not edifying, and if everything is as it should be, Sir James would no doubt welcome the application of the probe.

The lucky town of Welland has landed another big plum, a tin plate industry from Swansea, Wales. A site has been purchased big enough to hold four buildings each 100x300 feet, and the industry will employ 250 hands from the beginning. How does Welland pluck these plums? Simply by doing it. The town employes a live industrial agent, who is always on the look out. Unvarying vigilance, conjoined with great advantages, transportationn by rail and water, cheap electric power and cheap natural gas—25 cents per thousand, as against $1.50 in Peterborough and elsewhere.

Mr. Justice Riddell, in commenting on an apple-packing case in which a Glasgow dealer says he lost $25,000 by reason of the fruit shipped to him not being up to the quality agreed upon, spoke very strongly against the practice of evading the provisions of the Fruit Marks Act, and pointed out that the result was injurious to the Canadian fruit trade. "I don't think he said, "that a worm-holed apple should be placed in a barrel I think a man who does so, not only violates the Fruit Marks Act, but is dishonest as well. This kind of thing is responsible for the outcry against Canadian apples, and I think the attention of the Dominion inspectors should be called to it.

DELICATE CHILDREN MADE WELL AND STRONG

The little ones are frail. Their hold upon life is slight. At the very first symptoms of trouble Baby's Own Tablets should be given. This medicine cures colic, sour stomach, indigestion, diarrhoea, constipation, teething troubles and other minor ailments. It is equally good for the new born babe as the well grown child. Mothers have the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine contains no opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. Mrs. Cressman, New Hamburg, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for stomach trouble and constipation with marked success. I feel that my little ones are safe when I have a box of Tablets in the house." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co, Brockville, Ont

THE TASMANIAN DEVIL.

Badger-Like Animal Peculiar to Antipodes Has Never Been Tamed.

Probably the only animal that has proved itself absolutely untamable is the Tasmanian devil. The creature rejoicing in this name is mis-shapen and powerfully built, with an exceedingly large head terminating in a short, broad muzzle. In size, as in many of its habits, it very much resembles the badger. Its limbs are short and powerful, and the front paws are well adapted for burrowing. Its fur is very thick and close with a thick under fur. The color is chiefly black, with the exception of a white patch on the chest, which occasionally extends as far round as the shoulders, and a variable number of small white spots on the neck, shoulders and hindquarters.

The Tasmanian devil is nocturnal in its habits, spending much of its time on the seashore on the lookout for crabs, fish, and anything that may have been washed up by the waves. These, however, do not form entirely its diet, for practically any creature except those much larger than itself are killed and eaten. In the earlier days of colonisation great numbers of sheep were destroyed by them. Of late years, however, their numbers have been considerably reduced, until now they are quite rare, and no longer trouble the farmers to any extent. At one time the Tasmanian devil also existed on the mainland of Australia.

Another creature peculiar to Tasmania, now becoming scarce in the same manner as the "devil," owing chiefly to the price put upon its head by the Government, is the Tasmanian wolf, or Thylacine. Like the "devil," too, it once existed upon the mainland. It was known to the early colonists by the various names of wolf, hyena, tiger, and zebra. In size as well as in the general shape of its body and head it very much resembles a wolf. Unlike a wolf, however, it hunts singly and not in packs; tracking its prey, like the true dogs, by their scent. The last two names, tiger and zebra, have been assigned to it on account of the transverse black bars on the middle of the greyish-brown back and buttocks. Its black-tipped tail is long and very compressed. Like the Tasmanian "devil," much time is spent on the sea shore on the lookout for food, but since the introduction of the sheep farms it has more or less deserted its old haunts and practically confines its attention to the latter and to poultry yards. This is the largest of the carnivorous marsupials (the latter name being applicable to those animals carrying their young in a pouch), which, although common in Australia, have disappeared from the rest of the Old World, although fossilized remains are often found showing that they previously existed there.) In the pouch are four teats, this being the number of young in a litter. Although so much larger, this creature is not nearly so savage as its "countryman" already described, and is more or less tamable.

Huge Lynx Shot

John D. McDonald, a farmer living near Cornwall, brought into town the other day the body of a huge lynx, over five feet from tip to tip, which he shot after a hard fight.

WHY IS FAT

Is it because one is born with the tendency? Or is it one of "life's trials," or is it due to just plain, hearty appetite? The doctors say not any one of these phrases the question correctly. They say fat IS because the fat person's digestive organs are defective. Such organs, it seems, don't change the fatty foods eaten by stout persons into heat and energy as they should. Instead the food fats pass on into the system unconsumed. Hence fat layers accumulate under the skin in quiet spots, such as the chin, abdomen, shoulder blades, etc.

Let that digestive defect be corrected and the formerly fat person goes back to his or her original shape. You can prove this on yourself. Seventy-five cents will secure from your druggist one of the large cases of Marmola Prescription Tablets recently licensed for sale by the Marmola Company of Detroit, Mich. Take one of these tablets after each meal and at bedtime and the demonstration starts right there. Very soon you will experience a new sense of digestive comfort and a delightful feeling of increased energy which should be followed in due season by a gradual, uniform decrease of your fat.

During the demonstration period you eat and drink as formerly, remember. The tablets need no help from either dieting or exercising, nevertheless the daily loss should approximate ten to sixteen ounces a day.

Now, WHY is it you get thin? Why is it the fat just seems to slip away, leaving your flesh smooth, firm and wrinkleless? Simply because Marmola corrects that digestive defect, thereby stopping further fat accumulation and enabling the body forces to harmlessly dissolve what has already gathered.

Sun Melts Ore.

A citizen of Johannesburg, South Africa, has come forward with an invention that will revolutionise the smelting of ores, the heat of the sun being the only heat required.

The inventor uses a metal cylinder slung from a sort of gallows. The smaller end is a carbon crucible encased in graphite, and the larger end of the cylinder is turned to the sun, the rays of which are focussed into the crucible, which very soon becomes white hot. Pieces of metal placed in the crucible are rapidly melted, the temperature being 2,550 degrees.

Best Drinking Water.

Hadstock, in Essex, England, possesses what is probably a unique water supply. It is entirely derived from a deep well in the parish churchyard. The well is over 800 years old, and is known as St. Botolph's Well. The inhabitants of Hadstock declare that it contains the best drinking water in the kingdom, and, as the village in question is one of the healthiest places in Essex, there is undoubtedly some truth in their boast.

RUNNING ATHLETICS HOCKEY

WRITER SAYS FOOTBALL IS NO GAME FOR "MOLLYCODDLES" TO PLAY

Paul Thompson, in a recent article on American football, has the following to say of the training which is the lot of players in the main squads:

"The game is a hard one and not for mollycoddles; there is no doubt, on that score. It is a man's game and is one of the best training schools for a boy that I know of. It teaches him self reliance, quickness of decision, develops him mentally and physically. There is no more wonderful feeling in the world than that of a player after practice or a game, particularly if he has done good work, when he has returned to the college gymnasium, had his shower bath and has been rubbed down with alcohol by one of the rubbers, and then taken his seat at the training table with an appetite to do justice to the good, wholesome food in front of him, an appetite which a potentate, be it of lands, peoples, or money, might well envy.

It is living in the finest sense of the word. One wonderful thing about the system is that a man's social or financial position has nothing to do with it. The poor boy is as apt to succeed as his richer classmate, and more so, for the college football captains of many of the big university teams of the past decade number more poor boys than any other kind. Provision is made for him at the training table. This, being of unusually good food, albeit it is plain and lacking in rich and pastry foods, costs more than an ordinary college boarding house would charge. Consequently the poor player is received and pays only what he did before he joined the table; the difference, it may be five or six dollars a week, is paid by the athletic association. This is one of the legitimate expenses for which the tremendous receipts taken in at the championship games are intended. The training table is but part of an admirable system of supervision over the chosen eleven and their understudies. It means they will have good food and will get to bed at an early hour each night of the season, their lives off the football team needing regulation even as their time on the field does.

THE LINE-UP FOR TO-NIGHT'S BASKET BALL GAME IN THE Y.M.C.A. GYM.

Great interest is being taken in the basket ball game at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium to-night, between the Toronto Centrals and the local Y.M.C.A. seniors. It should be a contest of lightning fast calibre all the way, as the local management have selected a team that they expect will give the crack visitors a much harder contest than they are looking for. Anyone who appreciates a fast moving pastime should not overlook this contest, which will be well worth seeing, even if you have never seen a game of basketball, while for those who are interested in the game it will be a treat.

The teams will line-up as follows:

Toronto Centrals: Swanson Britton, Tompkins, Sievert and White.

Peterborough Y.M.C.A.: Sutherland, Dobbin, Fitzpatrick, Laing and Best.

The Rustlers and Chieftains will play the preliminary game commencing at 8.15 o'clock.

SHRUBB HAS A RACE IN BROCKVILLE; HERE TUESDAY

Prof Genno has received word from Alf Shrubb that the crack little Englishmann will not be in Peterborough to-day, as was expected, but that he will arrive early on Tuesday. Tom Longboat's chief rival has signed a contract for a race in Brockville on Monday night, which prevented him coming here to-day, as he had intended. Prof. Genno is busy getting a bunch of runners ready to meet Shrubb, and a series of interesting races may be expected on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week.

CHURCH TEAMS ANXIOUS TO HAVE LEAGUE FORMED

Several of the teams that are anxious to see the formation of a church hockey league, are asking for a meeting of all those interested, at an early date, before the cold weather comes. Two of the teams are preparing rinks and others are looking forward to getting into the game, and they therefore want to see something done in the matter. The feeling is that the league will prove a success, and for that reason they are anxious to have it re-organized at once.

B. A. C. FINISHED BOWLING WITH TWO OUT OF THREE GAMES

Hutch's Hams lived up to their very appropriate title last night in their ten pin league game at the B.A.C. alleys against the B.A.C's, the trio with the porcipine cognomen, losing two of the three games to McCrea's collection of world beaters, who were ably assisted in securing the most famous victory by th epin boys, whose foot work throughout the two games has never been excelled on Peterborough alleys.

The space to adequately enumerate the reasons why the Hams fell down not being available, it will suffice to say that th eprincipal cause of their defeat was their failure to get the necessary pins, while Bruce Hutchinson's red vest was also about as much to blame for the ignominous reverse of his cohorts as any other single factor.

The appearance of Chris. Graham with the Hams was the signal for a wild burst of applause, that turned to groans of dismay when the fair-haired hero tried to roll his first ball down the alleys. Needless to relate it was of the gutter variety, but as the evening wore on he demonstrated that he has one of th emost graceful flourishes and prettiest styles on the alleys. Outside of that he is all right. Joe Hay, too, was there with the pose, but that lets him out.

The winners showed up to advantage all along the line, Bruce having the high total, and th ehigh single. Best for a new roller did splendid work, while McCrea always had a little on his man except in the second game.

CONQUEROR OF ROGERS WINS FROM TOM JENKINS

New York, Nov. 27 — Yusif Mahmout, the Bulgarian wrestler, defeated Tom Jenkins in two straight falls, catch as catch can, in the Madison Square Garden to-night, in the presence of about 3,500 spectators.

Jenkins made a game fight, but the Turk was a giant in strength, and gradually wore Tom down until the latter was practically helpless after the second fall.

The betting was 8 to 5 on the Turk before the match began.

LETTERS FROM WOMEN About Pe-ru-na.

MRS. CLARA L. MILLER. MRS. S. L. JEWELL. MRS. MAHALA REID.

The following testimonials represent actual experience of every-day life. They are the truthful utterances of women who have been ill and have found a reliable remedy in Peruna.

It makes a great deal to the women of America to have at hand a remedy capable of giving such relief. Constipation, rheumatism, kidney trouble, bronchitis and a host of other catarrhal conditions are relieved by Peruna. At least this is what the women say. They have no object in saying such things, except to render truthful testimony to their suffering sisters.

Peruna is making such friends every day. It is the testimony of the people that has made Peruna so justly famous Chronic Bronchitis.

Mrs. Clara L. Miller, Box 71, Columbia Sta., Seattle, Wash., formerly vice president of Skoogay Country Club, writes:

"Nine bottles of Peruna cured me of a protracted case of bronchitis. There is no superior remedy that I know of, as the action of Peruna on the vaso motor system of nerves is very beneficial. It increases the tone of the system and aids nature to perform her functions.

"I have recommended it to a number of my friends, who speak in the same high terms of it. I have certainly found it a most efficacious medicine."

Nerves, Tired and Weak.

Mrs. Christina Smukalla, 490 Winslow Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I trust every one suffering from systemic catarrh will read this and profit by it.

"I was in a very bad condition indeed, when I began to take Peruna, and my friends as well as myself were very much alarmed over my condition. I was always nervous, could not sleep at night, my food did me no good, and I was always tired and weak. I tried several doctors, but found no relief.

"Finally I took two bottles of Peruna and felt like a different woman. However, I did not stop there, but kept on with it until I had taken several bottles, when I felt completely cured, and have remained so ever since. I can eat and sleep now."

A Good Word for Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. S. L. Jewell, R. F. D. 1, Freeport, Pa., writes:

"Having used Peruna myself for many years with beneficial effects, and observing the good it has done others of my acquaintance, I cannot but say a good word in behalf of Peruna."

Keeps Pe-ru-na in the House.

Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes: "My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

"Dr. Hartman's remedies have proven to be reliable and wonderful. Their effect upon the system is remarkable. Peruna quiets the nerves, and is a great specific for all forms of chronic catarrh.

"I am very glad to say that I can write you that I am cured in every way of catarrh, with which I had suffered terribly for ten years. I cannot thank you enough for your advice."

Constipation, Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Mahala Reid, Corbyville, Ont., Canada, writes:

"Your celebrated remedies have been a wonderful boon to me in my old age. I have not been in so good health for several years as now.

"I was troubled with constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble. A little over two years ago I completely lost my health, becoming almost helpless, when a dear friend sent me your remedies, Peruna and Manalin.

"I began to take them, following the directions on the bottles. I very soon began to feel benefited by their use, and continued to take them.

"I am now completely recovered from the above ailments, in fact, better than I have been for years past.

"I cannot praise the remedies too highly and will always recommend them to others."

A Well-Known Remedy.

Peruna is a catarrh remedy that has been in the field for many years. Other catarrh remedies have come and gone, but the reputation of Peruna has outlived them all.

Peruna is a combination of efficient herbal remedies that wields a powerful influence on all the mucous membranes of the body; and hence reaches catarrh wherever it is located.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

The Premier's Return—New Railway Opening—Probable Meeting of Parliament.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is expected to return to the capital on Sunday next, after a holiday day of ten days in the southern States.

The Department of Railways and Canals was advised yesterday that the Lake Superior branch of the G.T.R., connecting Port Arthur and Fort William with the main line of the National Transcontinental Railway, has been opened for traffic. The line is 208 miles in length.

The Canada Gazette of to-day contains the formal notice of the further prorogation of Parliament until Saturday, January 9th. The exact date of the first session of the new Parliament will not be fixed until a meeting of the full Council of Ministers next month. It is probable, however, that Parliament will not meet until the third week in January, as the new wing which has been added to the Commons buildings during the past year is not expected to be ready before then.

RUGBY

Edmonton defeated Calgary in the last Rugby game and in reporting the game the Edmonton Bulletin remarks:

"In the fourth quarter another try, secured by Singleton, was converted, making the final score 12-2. McLean, Hal Burnham, Wilson and Hardisty showed up well during the game, while Crowley was a tower of strength on the forward line.

Cincinnati Paper Gives A Report Of Mr. Creeden's Death

Passed Away on Eve of Obtaining $30,000 Fortune—Had Small Amount of Money in His Pockets

BURIAL IN COLUMBUS, OHIO

The following report from a Cincinnatti paper will probably give the most authentic report of the circumstance surrounding the death of P J Creedon:

Patrick J Creedon, aged 50, an inventor from Niagara Falls, N.Y., was found dead in a room at the Burnet House yesterday. The body was bleeding at the mouth and nose when it was discovered, and Coroner Cameron, after a careful examination, stated that the man's death was probably due to a hemorrhage. Creedon had been dead for fully 12 hours when discovered. He was last seen in the hotel lobby at noon Tuesday. Then he told several people connected with the hotel that he had had a bad hemorrhage Monday night.

Creedon came to Cincinnati on Nov. 11, to sell several patents which he held on auger bits and a steel-hardening process. Most of the business was with Arthur Francis Hoover and Charles S Burdsall. Papers found on the body indicated that arrangements were being made to form a $75,000 company for the manufacture of augur bits. According to a contract found in his possession, Creedon had agreed to see his patents to this company for $30,000.

Letters found on the body indicated that Creedon's home address was 951 Niagara street Niagara Falls. The patents, however, were made out to P. J. Creedon, Peterborough, Ontario, Canada. The letters indicated that he was married and had a son attending the Niagara Falls Academy.

Creedon was evidently ready to close up his business here and had purchased several pieces of jewelry, which he told several of his friends here he intended to give to his friends in Niagara Falls when he returned. Creedon had considerable business with Attorney Louis B Sawyer while in Cincinnati.

When Coroner's Constable Charles Shagnaro searched the body he found $6.65 in cash and a check for $75, a gold watch and ring. Coroner Cameron will hold an inquest in the case Friday.

Leo Creedon, a son of P J Creedon, was notified immediately, and in a message dated from the Suspension Bridge Depot, Niagara Falls, remitted $100 and directed that the body be cared for properly. A second message directed that the body be sent to No. 30 Cypress avenue, Columbus, Ohio, where it is presumed the relatives reside.

AS MUCH WORK FOR LABOURERS AS AT ANY TIME DURING THE SUMMER

"There is more work for the labouring class in the city to-day than there has been at any time this year. This may sound exaggerated, but I believe that the chances to get a job are better than they have been for many months. It certainly is better than last spring." A man who is supposed to know things of this nature made this statement this morning and seemed confident that what he was saying was true. "It is providential that such should be the case, and that the autumn has been so delayed. It has given many a chance to earn a little more money and they will start the winter financially stronger than had the winter broke at the same time as last year."

"PAR VALUES" SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

Mr. R. A. Waite Arrives—Met Board of Directors Last Night.

Mr. R. A. Waite, Jr., the well-known Syracuse athletic, arrived in the city yesterday, and is registered at the Oriental. To-morrow afternoon he will give a lecture on "Par Values," at 4.15 at the Opera House, the meeting to be presided over by Mayor Rush. The Orpheus Male Quartette will assist in the singing.

Last night at a meeting of the Committee of Management of the Boys' Department and Board of Directors held at Hooper's, Mr. Waite gave an informal talk on the necessity and the manner of co-operation of association leaders with the school, the home, the Sunday school, and the church, emphasizing how the work can be better and more judiciously accelerated by a combination of forces. Particularly, he referred to the necessity of co-operation between the school and the association respecting the attendance of boys at the former. He stated that from statistics received from the Deputy Minister of Education for Ontario, ninety per cent. of the boys received less than eight years' schooling.

Mr. Waite's address was a most profitable one.

TO BECOME MEMBER OF KING'S PRIVY COUNCIL

Hon. Hugh MacDonald at Ottawa—Member Under Late Sovereign

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Hon. Hugh Macdonald is expected here from Alexandria, Ontario, to-day, to be sworn in as a member of the Kings Privy Council. Although a member under the late sovereign he has not visited Ottawa since the accession of King Edward, and has not therefore renewed his oath of allegiance as a Privy Councillor to the present King.

BISHOP O'CONNOR IS IN LINDSAY

Gives an Address in St. Mary's Church—Constant Religious Duties

The Thursday night services at St. Mary's Church, says the Lindsay Post, were largely attended, and the sermon on the institution of the sacrament of the blessed eucharist by Rev. Father Johnson was a scholarly and masterly effort.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, at the conclusion of the sermon, approached the communion rail and expressed the delight and satisfaction he experienced at seeing so many making the mission and taking advantage of the extraordinary graces that God had extended to them on this occasion. He exhorted them to be constant in their religious duties and in the end they would see and enjoy God in the kingdom of heaven forever.

The benediction of the blessed sacrament followed, in which His Lordship Bishop O'Connor officiated.

MEETING OF CHARLOTTE STREET EPWORTH LEAGUE

The meeting of the Epworth League of the Charlottte street Methodist church, promises to be of great interest. The subject for the evening's discussion is "Commending Our Society by Evangelistic Zeal." Miss G. Christman will preside over the meeting, and Misses Higgans and Elliott will read papers on the topics. There will be a round table conference, conducted by the first vice-president, Mr. R. J. Cox. Every member of the league is expected to be present, and the league extends a hearty welcome to any one.

TELEGRAPH OR TELEPHONE? RAILWAYMAN WRITES LETTER

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—An active railway man, who knows something of the movement of trains informs me that the railway systems ar eputting up a big bluff in treatening to replace telegraphy with the telephone system. The operators want an eight or nine hour day and the railway officials are naturally trying to discourage the move. When a train gets orders by telegraph, say at Belleville, to run to Lindsay, every operator on the road between Belleville and Lindsay can hear it and knows what is on the way and is governed accordingly. By telegraphy a despatcher can almost see his trains from the time they leave an initial point until they arrive at their final destinaton. By telephone everything would be dark and doubtful. Life and property would be moving through space at a mile a minute clip controlled by a phone system that will convert a car of cheese into a car of peas at short or long distance in spite of all care and precaution and engine and train numbers the same.

It would be nothing else but "Hello hello," "I want the despatcher's office," "Is No. 9 there yet?" "Get off the line," "Get off the line yourself, etc., etc.," and every day somewhere, sometime, one or more engines would run out of coal or water and die on the rail awaiting orders to proceed by telephone.

Trains cannot be handled with safety in such confusion and uncertainty, and for this reason the present telephone system will never replace the old reliable Morse telegraphy. In fact for some years the Grand Trunk Railway Company have had their own phone system installed between Belleville and Allandale through Lindsay, but it is not used for the movement of trains but simply maintained for emergency purposes, in case the telegraph line fails, etc. If during the busy time, trains out of Lindsay or other despatching points on any railway system, had to be despatched by telephone the noise about the despatchers office would remind one of Barnum's menagerie at the time the animals are being fed. The telegraph operators want an eight-hour day and the telephone argument is made use of to block the move.

Every man, woman, and child you meet can talk on a telephone, but few can telegraph. It would, therefore, be an easy matter for an evil disposed person to get access to a phone and ask for orders that would bring about a collision. I know something about the working of the two systems as applied to train movement, and if you are ever given the choice of lines telephone, or telegraph, take my advice give the "bello line" a wide berth and travel by the other route You will live longer.

As you will observe the promoters say, "It is not our intention to dispense with telegraphy." This information is for the public. The threatened use of the telephone, I have reason to believe, is intended only for the telegraph operators. Kindly give these few facts in your valuable paper.

Yours, etc.,
RAILWAYMAN.

THE GREAT PIANIST COMES TO HEAR

The young Pianist and Composers art and Technicality is uncomparable.

The music loving public of this city is looking forward for next Thursday night, when the great German Pianist, Paderewski's rival, Professor Frans von Battenhausen appears with his marvelous high class music. Vast audiences in other big cities, the Imperial Houses of Europe, the greatest masters' and composers of the present time call this young gentleman the "bright star on the piano". His art of expression is excellent, his technicality and experience are incomparable.

This great genius on the Piano will play and enjoy the lovers of music with the best satisfaction. To secure good seats you will remember that the entrance opens sharp at 7.00 p.m. Doors closed between plays.

Readers will perhaps be startled at the un-English wording of the above advertisement. The explanation is that the advertiser is a German.

The recital will take place in the Conservatory of Music.—Ed.

WHITCROFT ARRIVES IN EDMONTON WITH HIS TEAM

Things will be moving in hockey circles in Edmonton as soon as ice is formed again, says the Bulletin. Yesterday afternoon Manager Fred Whitcroft, of the Edmonton hockey team, returned from a trip east, where he has been signing players for the season. He brought with him Bert Lindsay, who played goal for Renfrew last year; Steve Vair, another Renfrew man, who plays cehntre forward; and Harold McNamara, a wing man from the Montreal Shamrocks. Miller, of last year's Edmonton team, and Ross, of Portage, are also in the city, and Gardner, of the Montreal Shamrocks, is expected shortly. The boys will get down to business immediately and will train hard from now until the middle of December, when they leave for the east to be in Montreal in time for the Stanley Cup games between Christmas and New Year's.

WAS PLENTY OF FOWL AT MARKET

Prices Were Fair—Vegetables in Abundance—Large Crowd

In giving the market prices every Saturday, the reporter cannot secure the quotations which some women obtain. They are there to buy, the reporter to find out what is being asked. The women may read the report and find that they have paid a sum far less than that quoted. There is often a great difference between the price paid and that asked. The farmer's wife aims high, but very often she overshoots the mark. There are some women who "stick" around until the farmers and their wives feel like giving them butter and eggs to see them leave the place. It should not be expected that their prices should be the same as those of the reporter. To-day it was a fowl market with turkeys at from $1.25 up. Geese at reasonable prices, from 80 cents to $1.10. Chickens, from 60 to 80 cents a pair sold rapidly. Butter went at 27 cents and Eggs at from 28 to 30 cents. Pork, lamb and beef was sold in rather large quantities, 9 and 10 cents, 9 and 11 cents, and 4 1-2 and 5 1-2 cents respectively. Potatoes were down to 80c. Other vegetables were plentiful. The prices on the whole were encouraging.

GANANOQUE MAN OUT OF TROUBLE

Had Rheumatism, But Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured It.

Hugh Abernethy on His Feet Again — Cure is Easy, Simple, Natural and Permanent.

Gananoque, Ont., Nov. 27.—Special —That rheumatism can be cured surely, simply and permanently is the good news that Hugh Abernethy, a well known resident of King street, is spreading among his neighbours.

"I had suffered from rheumatism and stiffness of the joints," Mr. Abernethy states. "My muscles would cramp. I could not sleep, and I had terrible headaches. I took many different medicines but nothing did me any good till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes put me on my feet again."

Others who have taken Mr. Abernethy's advice and used Dodd's Kidney Pills are also loud in their praises of the old reliable Canadian kidney remedy. For Dodd's Kidney Pills cure rheumatism and other blood diseases by curing the kidneys. Sound kidneys keep the blood free from impurities. And with no impurities, such as uric acid in the blood, you cannot have such painful and dangerous diseases as pain in the back, rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia nad heart disease.

Keep your kidneys strong and well with Dodd's Kidney Pills and you can face the cold, wet days of fall without a fear of rheumatism.

THE LAST BIG RUGBY GAME OF THE SEASON

Tigers and Varsity Playing on Rosedale Grounds for Dominion Championship—Ideal Weather

TIGERS IN EARLY LEAD

Toronto, Nov. 28.—Ideal football weather has been handed out for the Dominion championship final game at Rosedale this afternoon between Toronto Varsity, Inter-collegiate champions, and the Hamilton Tigers, champions of the Inter-provincial Union. One of the biggest, if not the biggest, crowd that ever saw a game in Toronto is at the grounds. The gates were open at 1.30 o'clock, and an enormous crowd had assembled by that time. The general admission seats at fifty cents were quickly snapped up, and the crowd threatened to swarm over into the reserved seat section, all of which had been sold in advance. The high bleachers, which had been reserveda for the students until two o'clock, were jammed before that time and the block of seats held for the Hamilton supporters, was filled with a chrysanthemum decorated crowd, emblazoned in yellow and black, who rooted vigourously for the Cubs long before the game was due to commence. Three special trains brought at least 1,500 loyal rooters from Hamilton, and they arrived with plenty of money and an unlimited supply of confidence. The Tigers early this afternoon reigned favourites in the betting and most wagers were made at 2—1 on the Cubs, although earlier in the day some even money bets were placed. Hamilton is rampantly confident, although they feel that Simpson's absence will weaken the team. While in student circles they are not saying much, among the players and coaches there is a quiet confidence that seems to presage a hard battle for the Tigers.

Deputy Chief Stark has a big force of police on hand at the grounds and expects to be able to look after the crowd all right, but it looks as if there will be trouble if the game is exciting.

The weather conditions are good and the ground in splendid shape. There is a fairly strong breeze blowing and the air is cool but not uncomfortable for spectators, while it is ideal for the players.

Referee Dr. Hendry; Umpire Russell Brittain, of Gananoque; and the other officials and players were at the grounds at 2.15. Ben Simpson, the Tigers' star half back, was unable to play owing to his injuries, received two weeks ago, and as a re-

MAKES ASTONISHING CURES

Mi-o-na Tablets Cure Dyspepsia by Promptly Removing the Cause, or Money Back.

There is just one way to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles, trivial or serious and that is to tone up or put energy into the stomach walls, so that they will be able to properly mix or churn the food.

Mi-o-na tablets quickly arouse the stomach from its inaction and in a short time it is able to do its work properly.

Harry Dodd, of Bridge street, Hastings, Ont., says: "For seven years I had suffered and spent much money doctoring, but all to no avail. I could eat but very little, as the food would ferment and sour, making gas, which caused serious heart depression. I was in constant misery, sour gas would belch from my stomach, I was languid and weak and had no ambition. I did not feel like going anywhere or seeing anyone. There was a constant dull pain in the pit of the stomach. I was unable to sleep, was nervous, restless and would awake more tired than on going to bed. I tried Mi-o-na and soon found relief, and in less than six weeks Mi-o-na had completely cured me.

Wm. Madill, the druggist, sells Mi-o-na tablets at 50 cents a large box, under a rigid guarantee to do all that is claimed for them or money back.

SENSATION IN FRANCE.

Arrest of Madame Steinbeil May Mean National Scandal.

Paris, Nov. 28.—Physicians have declared that Madame Steinbeil, who was arrested Thursday for the murder of her husband, a noted artist, and her stepmother, is suffering from a kind of hysteria peculiar to a certain class of neurasthenics, which manifests itself in the invention of the wildest accusations.

Madame Steinbeil first confessed to two newspaper men, and, at daybreak, to the chief of police, to whose residence she voluntarily went, that the murders had been committed by the son of a servant in the house, who had since terrorized her into silence. She had hidden her jewels to add strength to the story of robbery. She hysterically referred to her own secret passion for "a love she loved," but whom she dare not name.

The police, being convinced that Alexandre Wolffe, whom she named, was not connected with the tragedy, released him last night.

In a later examination before Magistrate Leydette there was a dramatic scene when, after Mme. Steinbeil had insisted again and again that Wolffe was the real assassin, her daughter threw herself on her knees before Mme. Steinbeil, crying out, "Mama, mama, confess all, I implore you." The mother, in a burst of tears, responded, "Before my daughter I swear I am innocent."

The excitement produced by Humbert, Dreyfus and Syveton affairs pale into insignificance by comparison, and the revelations pointing to the possible exposure of a national scandal, promise to attract world-wide attention.

Unprecedented scenes were witnessed at the palace of justice while the woman was under examination, guards being required to restrain the crowds from entering. On the boulevards men fought for special editions of newspapers having in them accounts of the case, while in the lobbies of Parliament the Nationalists created a hubbub by threatening to call the Government to account unless orders were given immediately to probe the scandal to the bottom.

Sentenced For Fraud.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—William L. Tilden and Chauncey L. Graham, officials of the American Steelball Co., were sentenced yesterday by Judge Chetlain in the Superior Court to serve a term of one to twenty years in the penitentiary on charges of conspiracy, the two men being found guilty of having promoted the steelball company by means of fictitious notes of the bank amounting to $175,000.

CAPT. N. F. HARBOTTLE DEAD.

Edmonton Militia Officer In Prison Pardoned Too Late.

Edmonton, Nov. 28.—Capt. N. F. Harbottle, the defaulting collector of inland revenue here, who was serving a two-year sentence, died suddenly in the penitentiary yesterday morning from cancer of the stomach. He had been operated upon and never rallied.

A peculiarly sad feature of the case was the fact that one hour after his death a pardon arrived from Ottawa, which had been granted by order-in-council after the precarious condition of his health was made known to the Government. Capt. Harbottle leaves a wife and four children. He was a brother of the former secretary of the Toronto Club.

Japan and U.S. Agree.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Despite official reticence, information from reliable sources has been obtained of an agreement of far-reaching importance between the United States and Japan, covering the policy of the two countries in the Pacific.

The agreement is based upon the idea of encouraging and defending free and peaceful commercial development in the Pacific.

But more important still, the agreement, in the event of complications threatening the status quo, binds the United States and Japan to consult each other with a view to acting together.

Grain Blockade Serious.

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 28.—Grain blockade on the C.P.R. branch south of Calgary is assuming serious proportions.

At High River 300,000 bushels are stored, with half a million more to market and the same conditions exist all along the line.

The farmers are resorting to all sorts of expedients, staking in bags and open frame bins being favorites. This entails extra hauling, besides exposing the grain to ravages of the weather.

Big Freighter Ashore.

Brockville, Nov. 28.—The steamer Bennington of the Rutland fleet, steel hull, is fast aground on a shoal near here. The captain claims that the range light at the foot of Big Island was not lighted, and he lost his course. The bow is four feet out of the water.

Dangerous Gas.

Paterson, N.J., Nov. 28.—A leaky gas main resulted in the death by asphyxiation of two persons Thursday night and the serious injury of three others when an explosion occurred. Three children also were overcome by the fumes and may die.

Increase In The Price Of Living Is Not To Be Blamed On The Farmer

From the Canadian Dairyman.

Every householder in Toronto can testify to the increase in the cost of living during the past decade. As a large part of the increase is in the price of milk, eggs, butter, apples, berries, tomatoes, and meat, the householder is told that the increased price has gone to the farmer. He then either lays the blame on the farmer, or is pleased that the farmer is doing well, and is getting his due share of the results of prosperity. But is it true that the increase has gone into the farmer's pocket and has helped to enhance the comfort of the farmer's life? In one of the Star's special articles on combines, this matter was considered.

It was shown that consumers of tomatoes this year will pay forty per cent. more than the value of the goods, not because the grower is getting more for his tomatoes, but because a combine has been formed among Canadian canners, under cover of a specific duty of one and a half cents a pound, which is equivalent to an ad valorem duty of 50 per cent.

An attempt was made to establish an independent canning factory in a town in Western Ontario. The combine got to work; and was powerful enough to hamper the sale of goods from this independent factory to such an extent that the institution was obliged to close down in the middle

The attendance at institute meetings has not been all that could be desired for some years past. The department, as well as the local institutes, go to considerable expense each year to secure speakers and to make the institute helpful and attractive. The tendency is to look upon the institute and its work with indifference. The men who least need assistance are the ones who infallibly turn up at the meetings. Those who are in most need of the information or enlightenment which the institute can give stay at home.

The greatest benefits from an institute meeting generally come from the discussion which is aroused, and the reflection which is caused, on the part of those present. The possibilities of the institute meeting are still unbounded if we would but turn out and thus lend life to the proceedings. We all need the assistance of others' experience. We owe it as our duty to give others our experience. See to it that your institute measures up to the purpose for which it was intended this year. Talk up the event among your neighbors and get them interested. Even if you cannot see any direct profit coming from this source, you may at least help that neighbor of yours who is probably in great need of just such assistance. By helping others in this way one is sure to benefit himself. Let us urge again, attend your institute.

More Factories Will Take Up The Work Of Making Whey Butter

From the Canadian Dairyman.

Reports from several factories that have been making whey butter the past season, will, no doubt, have a tendency to induce more factories to take up the work next year. A company in Prince Edward county reports that it has made from 1,500 to 2,000 lbs. of butter weekly from the whey received from eleven different cheese factories. The whey was separated at the individual factories and the cream shipped to Picton, Ont., where it was churned and the butter made into prints, or 56-lb boxes, which sold for 22c to 25c a lb., throughout the season. The yield of butter had been about 2 pounds of butter for 1,000 pounds of whey. The company furnishes the entire equipment for making butter and the net proceeds were divided in equal shares among the cheese-makers, the patrons and the company. Reports from the United States, where whey butter is being made, also, express satisfaction with the results.

While these reports would appear to indicate that making butter from whey is a profitable business for cheese factories to engage in, caution had better be exercised till more authoritative data is published on this question. There are several things connected with it that the reports of the past season's work have not touched upon. One of these is the effect the removal of the fat from the whey will have on its feeding value. The feeding value of whey is not very high to begin with and if it is materially reduced by making whey butter patrons may lose more than they may gain by making whey butter. It would be interesting to know just how much the patrons in Prince Edward county received as their share of the proceeds. If it could be shown how much per cwt. of whey each patron received from whey butter we would be in a better position to judge of the profitableness of the business from the patrons' standpoint. Also did the amount received by each of the eleven cheese-makers concerned amount to enough to pay them for the trouble of separating the whey? These are questions those interested in the business at Picton should enlighten dairymen upon.

Extended experiments have been conducted at the Ontario Agricultural College and at the Kingston Dairy School, the past season for the purpose of finding out whether the making of whey butter will be profitable or not. The results of this work have not been made public yet, and dairymen will be well advised if they wait until they are, before taking action regarding making whey butter next season. The experiments at Guelph indicate that the feeding value of the whey is considerably lessened by extracting the fat. There may be other things brought out by these experiments that may be unfavorable to the business, and factorymen should go slowly until everything is known about the business that can be known.

INTERESTING ITEMS FOR POULTRYMEN

Total Increase of Poultry During Ten Years, 1891 to 1901, Has Been a Little Over 3,800,000 Head.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

During the year 1907 there were kept between 225 and 250 laying hens at Macdonald College. These hens produced an average of 122 eggs in the year, which, at a uniform price of 25 cents a dozen, meant $2.54 a hen. The feed for each hen cost $1.44, leaving a balance over cost of feed of $1.10. This is calculating the price of eggs at a fair average and the feed at market prices. Taking the actual price at which the eggs were sold, 50 cents for the winter months and 25 cents for the summer, the balance was $2.52 a hen over cost of feed.

The Canadian year book shows a total increase of poultry during the ten years 1891-1901 to have been a little over 3,800,000 head. Taking the same percentage of yearly increase to have continued to the present and Canada has to-day twenty-two million head of poultry. Granting that two-thirds of these are laying hens and we have about 14,700,000 producing eggs. According to the same authority each hen in 1901 laid seven dozen eggs.

If the Canadian hen laid the same average in 1908 that she laid in 1901, there would be for this year about a hundred and three million dozen eggs, which, at 25 cents, would mean a gross revenue of twenty-five and three-quarter million dollars.

But a good honest hen should lay more than seven dozen eggs in twelve months. No class of farm stock will respond so readily to good treatment. Providing she get this care and that one dozen more eggs per hen is the result, the increased revenue from the extra dozen eggs would amount to three and a half million dollars. Give the hen yet a little more selection and care so that the average yield would be ten dozen, or equal to the Macdonald College hen last year, which is by no means large, and the increased revenue would be eleven million dollars or a gross income from the poultry yards of Canada of thirty-six and three-quarter million dollars.

NOT LOST CONFIDENCE IN BACON HOGS

Ontario County Farmer Believes That the Business is Most Profitable

From the Canadian Dairyman

A prominent and successful farmer in Ontario county, one who is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, finishes a double-deck carload of bacon hogs each fall for the Toronto market. He has been doing this for a number of years, and has not yet lost any of the confidence which so many are professing to have lost in the bacon hog industry. He keeps about thirty to thirty-five head of pure-bred Yorkshire sows, and a first-class herd header. His sows are bred only once each year, and the pigs are dropped in late April or early May. This allows the young pigs, as well as the sucking sows, to get as much advantage of a field of alfalfa for pasturage as it is possible to give them. A ration of skim milk with some meal brings them along well, until the pasturage is no longer available in the fall, when they are taken into the pens, and pushed to a finish as rapidly as possible.

He is not yet convinced that the business is unprofitable, but is on the other hand thoroughly convinced that it is very profitable.

Hog raising is, or should be, an important department, not necessarily a large one, on every Ontario farm. While it has proved a very poor business to speculate in, speculation is not a commendable adjunct to farming.—Weekly Sun.

A PROPER RESIDENCE NEEDED FOR POULTRY

From The Canadian Dairyman.

If we want eggs in the winter time, and have the stock and the feed, it is also necessary to have a proper house. By a proper house, I mean (a) a house in the first place that is dry. Damp houses never hold healthy stock. (b) A house with plenty of ventilation but without drafts. During the day the house should be opened up, so that the hens, while they are scratching in the litter, enjoy an atmosphere as fresh as out-doors. (c) Don't put on double-windows in the hope of reducing the dampness in the house. It but adds to the humidity. Open up the windows, give the house a chance to become pure, and, no matter how cold the house is, if the air is pure and dry, the hens will not suffer.

At night, especially in the extreme cold, have a curtain to drop down before the roosts to give them an extra cover. (d) The house need not be expensive. A cheap house, simply constructed, so that it will be easily cleaned, without drafts, gives the best results.—F. C. E.

Typhoon Forming.

Manila, Nov. 28.—The weather bureau reports that another typhoon is forming somewhere between the Caroline Islands and the Philippine group, the general direction in which it is moving being to the north and east. It is expected that the storm will pass to the southward of Manila some time during the night.

Five Hotelmen Fined.

Stratford, Nov. 28.—Five hotelkeepers were fined in the Police Court yesterday for not complying with the license laws regarding the uncovering of bar windows during prohibited hours. The hotels fined were the Albion, Ontario, Cabinet, Queen's and the Station Restaurant. The minimum fine of $5 was imposed.

Germany's Army Budget.

Berlin, Nov. 28.—The army budget for Prussia, Saxony and Wurtemberg estimate the expenditures in this direction for 1909 at a total of about $130,500,000, or $6,500,000 less than in 1908. These estimates, however, do not include Bavaria, which will raise the grand total to about $139,500,000.

added to the proud possessions of the city by the formal opening and dedication to the purposes of secondary education, of the new Collegiate Institute building, Central Park. The ceremony was complementary to that which took place last summer when the corner stone was laid under auspicious circumstances. On August first the corner stone was laid; yesterday the copestone was placed in position, crowning the work, so far as extrinsic activities are concerned. The real work is to follow and that should be successful. With a modernly planned, well-constructed and sufficiently spacious building, equipped with all the requirements demanded by the latest advances of pedagogic science, and with a staff of capable and zealous teachers, a co-ordination of favouring conditions and esprit du corps, are ensured, which in turn guarantee the best results.

The Board of Education whose interest has been unflagging in their work for the success of the formal opening occasion, as it had been in their endeavours leading up to the institution and completion of the work of building, had, in the spirit of the saying, finis coronat opus, made excellent preparations for a ceremony in keeping with its import.

DR. M. A. MORRISON,

Chairman of the Collegiate Institute Building Committee.

The ceremony was performed in the splendid and spacious theatre of the school on the third floor, a room of noble proportions and perfect acoustics, in every way adapted to the functions, such as lectures, debates, musicales, etc., supplemental to the regulation work of the Institute. The room was crowded to the doors by an interested gathering largely composed of ladies, and upon the platform were the following:—Hon. R A Pyne, Minister of Education; Mr. John Seath, Superintendent of Education; Clarkson W James, Secretary to the Minister of Education; Rev. H J Keith, President of the Ministerial Association; Rev. Father McColl, of the Separate School Board; Mayor Rush, Mr. W H Stevens, B.A., Public School Inspector for East Victoria; Dr. Pakenham, Principal of the Technical School, Toronto; Mr. Jas. Stevenson, Messrs. Robt. Fair, D W Dumble, M A Morrison, B E Ackerman, (Dr.) Geo. Burnham, Geo. Morrow, W H Robinson, W H Nelson, John E Belcher, H R H Kenner, L M Hayes, Warden Jas. Thompson, Jas A Sexsmith, M.P.; T E Bradburn, M.P.P.

Of course there were speeches, somewhat informal, and hardly describable as epoch-making as the occasion. Hon. Mr. Pyne, Minister of Education, was necessarily the principal speaker. He began by expressing his intention of righteously discarding politics in his remarks and to this commitment he kept!—on the lucus a non lucendo principle; the terms of the Confederation Constitution formed no obstacle to his demand that the Dominion Government should contribute to the support of higher education. Otherwise his remarks were well adapted in their meaning to the requirements of the occasion, and the tribute paid to the enterprise and energy of the educational authorities of Peterborough was not so exhaustive as to preclude a slight recognition of the merits of the Provincial Government in the matter of education. Mayor Rush spoke of the new Institute buildings as a credit to the enterprise of the Board and the public spirit of the citizens. The remarks that met the most touching response were those of Principal Packenham, who referred to the old associations the occasion aroused. Among the references to those deserving of credit, none were, perhaps, made with better point than those which dealt with the excellent work done by the late Principal Fessenden during his eighteen years' presidency of the school, in bringing it to its present position of efficiency and high repute. The presence of Mr. James Stevenson, the octogenarian Nestor of the School Board, with a continuous membership of fifty-five years, suggested thoughts of the educational advances in Peterborough he has been witness of, and in respect of which he could say in the language of Aeneas, "et quorum pars magna fui."

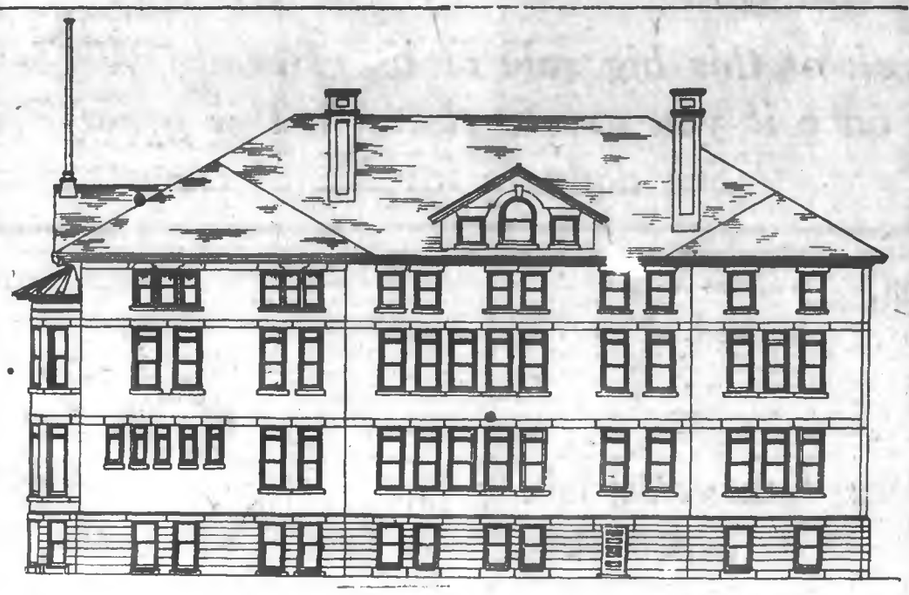
Chairman Fair's Address

Mr. Fair, in his address, spoke as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen.—As Chairman of the Board of Education, the honor and duty of presiding on this important occasion has fallen upon me. The purpose of this gathering is well known to you all, but it's significance to this City and County cannot yet have been fully recognised.

The Formal Opening of this New



McDonel Street view of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, taken from the architect's plans.

Collegiate Institute Building marks but the last step in a series of very important undertakings which the Board of Education of this City has had to grapple with during the past few years. These steps are so important, and have involved the expenditure of so much money and energy that, much as I would prefer to pass over and call upon some of the distinguished gentlemen who are to address you, yet I deem it my duty to briefly outline what the Board has undertaken and accomplished during these years.

Within the past ten years, Peterborough has made rapid strides. The increase in wealth and population has been most gratifying. The Public School population, alone, has in these years increased by fully thirty-three and a third per cent.

So rapid was this increase in the school population, that the Board soon found the school accomodation entirely inadequate. Recourse had to be made to the half-day system of teaching in the junior forms of our public schools and additional accomodation was provided by renting a private building for school purposes. These were but temporary expedients and the Board realized that a new school in the southern part of the City was an absolute and pressing necessity.

This need was met by the erection of the King Edward School, and the wisdom of putting up a large building has already been shown by the fact that eight rooms are now occupied in this school. There are yet four unfinished class-rooms in the building which will provide accomodation for future expansion in that part of the City.

The King Edward School designed and planned by Wm. Blackwell, is, admittedly, a splendidly constructed building, and it is a monument to the integrity and self-sacrificing spirit of the late William Pringle, who, as Chairman of the Building Committee, had much to do with its erection. The site, building, and equipment of this school involves an expenditure of $35,000 and good value was obtained for the money expended.

About the same time, Peterborough was fortunate enough to be selected by Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, as a centre for the erection of one of the new Provincial Normal Schools. It's location in the northern part of our City necessitated the building of a six roomed addition to the old school building, making the new structure when completed a ten roomed school. This addition was built and completed in 1907 and we now have in the northern part of the City a building which in appearance, accomodation, convenience, and equipment would do credit to any City in the Province.

The successful and expeditious construction of this school is largely due to D. W Dumble, K.C., who as chairman of the Building Committee supervised its erection. Mr. Dumble gave much time and energy to this work, and his wide experience in building was most valuable to the Board. As a result the City has in the Queen Alexandra School a modern and commodious building, well-equipped, well-planned and satisfactory in every way.

The enlarging of the grounds, the erection of the building and its equipment cost approximately $26,000, which again the Board feels satisfied is an expenditure for which good value was received.

Of the ten class-rooms in this school nine are already occupied.

Not only were our Public School inadequate, but in the High School accommodation we were, if possible, in a worse condition. The old Collegiate Building was practically condemned by the Education Department years ago.

There were no proper physical or chemical laboratories, and the seating accomodation was so overtaxed that, during 1907 and the first half of 1908, the Board found it necessary to send two of the Collegiate Classes to one of the new public schools. No other course was, therefore, open to the Board than the erection of a new Collegiate Institute and this fine building in which we are gathered as the result.

I need not add any words in defence or praise of it, as the building speaks for itself, but the Board desire publicly to express their appreciation of the ripe experience and skill of the Architect, Mr. John E. Belcher, C.E., under whose superintendence the building was planned, designed and erected, and also their complete satisfaction with the Contractors, Messrs. Langford and Sheehy, who faithfully executed the work undertaken by them, and to the Clerk of the Works, Mr. John Kincaid, whose serious and regrettable indisposition prevents his presence to day, the Board also desires to express their appreciation of the services he rendered.

It is undoubtedly one of the best and most modern Collegiate Institute buildings in the Province. The supervision of its construction fell to the lot of Dr. Morrison, chairman of the Building Committee, and that he gave unstintingly of his time, an examination of the building itself will prove.

The building has been carefully and plainly constructed and there has been no lavish expenditures. The cost of the site, building and equipment will be, in round figures, about $80,000, a large sum of money but for which, again, good value has been received.

Another step that the Board recently took was the introduction of Manual Training and Domestic Science into our schools. When such places as Ottawa, Kingston, Brockville, Cobourg, Galt, Berlin, Woodstock, Essex, Renfrew, and many other smaller towns have made these subjects part of their school system, it was felt that Peterborough should lag behind no longer.

The Board hesitated, however, not wishing to increase the already heavy expenditures, when recently a favorable opportunity presented itself which was taken advantage of. This opportunity was the proposed joint engagement of the teachers of these subjects by the Board and the Education Department. The favorable terms offered by the Department makes the City's expenditure comparatively light and very soon the classes will be organised and set to work in these subjects of study.

The vacating of the old Collegiate Building affords accommodation for these classes, so that when they begin work in the near future they will start under most favorable conditions.

Not only has the Board provided adequate and suitable accommodation for the school children, but they have used every means in their power to secure the best teachers available. In the selection of new members to the teaching staffs, both Public and High, great care has been exercised and with gratifying results. The Board believes that to-day few, if any Cities in Ontario, have a stronger teaching staff than has our City of Peterborough. And in this regard it is appropriate to say that in Mr. Inspector A. Mowat, the Board have been most fortunate in obtaining the services of a gentleman of marked administrative and literary ability who is proving a most efficient superintending officer and renders the Board most valuable assistance.

In all the many changes that have been referred to, the Board has had no other motive than to give to the rising generation of this City every possible educational advantage. The Members recognised that they had a duty to perform. They realised that the future of this City and of this country depends upon the intelli-

Libraries throughout Ontario have been filled with a mass of badly selected books, trashy fiction predominating, and evil has resulted.

The better class of Libraries, however, are avoiding this evil and are proving themselves of real educative value in the communities where they are established. These better libraries are the storehouses of the best books obtainable—books that tell of the discoveries, achievements, and progress of the human race from barbarism to modern civilisation—and through careful selection of books and by dividing them into sections, one suitable for adults and the other for children, they are being duly read and appreciated. Where such libraries have been in existence for any length of time, a class of trained readers is growing up and the average intellectual capacity is being evidenced. It is a library of this better class that we expect soon to see established in Peterborough and beneficial results cannot help but follow.

Old Records of Educational Progress in Peterborough Recall to the Memory Some Interesting Facts---A Retrospect Bringing to Light Fragments of History of Local Importance at the Present Time---Chairmen of the Board of Education Since Confederation----District Schools Established in 1807.

BLAZING THE PATHWAY OF EDUCATIONAL ADVANCE

The occasion of formally opening the New Collegiate Institute structure affords an appropriate excuse for delving into the records and bringing to light some fragments of their ancient and early history, which will recall to the minds of the older citizens the names of the pioneers of our educational progress.

Owing to the misfortune of the destruction of records by fire a continuous story of the progress of our local educational institutions is not available, but many interesting facts are to be found. For instance, how many of us are aware that our "District Schools" were first established in 1807, by the Act 47, George III, Chapter 6, entitled "An Act to establish Public Schools in each and every District of this Province"? Act 7, William IV, Chapter 1115, promulgated April 20, 1388, the year after the Canadian rebellion of Mackenzie and Papineau, was entitled "An Act to establish Colborne District with Peterborough for the District Town" and by section 10 provided that a district school shall be opened and kept in the town of Peterborough at such place as the trustees shall appoint.

By Act 2, Victoria, Chapter 10, passed May 11, 1839, it was enacted that "the several district schools in this Province shall be and are hereby declared to be grammar schools, as contemplated by King George III."

In 1842 a law was passed authorising the governor in council to set apart lands for the site of buildings for public uses, including school buildings.

The board of trustees of the grammar school became a corporate body under Act 16, Victoria, Chapter 186, section 10, and the same act gave power to unite the Grammar with the Common schools.

There is an interesting opinion from the "office of the Attorney General U. C., Toronto, October 9, 1857," signed "John A. Macdonald," declaring that the patent to the school lands "can only be issued to the Peterborough Grammar school, which is a corporation under 16 Victoria, Cap 186, s. 12." written by the famous statesman at a time when he was a struggling provincial attorney-general, of recognized brilliancy but deplorable habits, who had no ambition and apparently no opportunity to become the nation-builder that he subsequently became.

It is interesting to note that the title to the school lands was granted by an order-in-council in 1857 in the following terms:

"In Council, 22 February, 1857.

"Upon the petition of Charles Rubidge, Esq., and others it is ordered that lots 6 and 7 in the 6th Range East of Water Street be set apart as a school reservation.

" (Signed) John Becker, Clerk, Ex. Council."

The total school attendance in 1864 was but 202, distributed as follows: 38 in grammar school; 30 in 5th Division; 44 in 4th Division; 59 in 3rd Division and 41 in Primary Division. The attendance in 1871 (February) had increased to 526, and in that year the change from Grammar School to Collegiate Institute took place, and was instituted by the adoption of the following motion:

Moved by Mr. Toole, seconded by Mr. Coulter, that the chairman be authorised to draw up and forward to the Lieutenant Governor a memorial from this Board showing facts and circumstances entitling the High School to be erected into a Collegiate Institute."

The members of the Board of Education in the Confederation year, 1867, were: Grammar school—Lt.-Col. Haultain, Dr. Burnham, James Stevenson, J. W. Gilmour, Dr. Poole, A. C. Dunlop; Common School—Alex. Graham, D. W. Dumble, William Cluxton, William Lundy, Charles Cameron, and William Coulter.

In 1864, the Collegiate Institute secured the services of that distinguished educational, Dr. Tassie, who had made the Galt High School famous, and who, soon gave the Peterborough Institute a wide reputation. Dr. Tassie was removed by death two years later.

In 1891 there were 195 names on the roll of the Collegiate Institute, and $685 in fees was collected.

The history of the new building, which was only recently secured after a long and persistent fight, was fully given in the Examiner of August 1, 1907, on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the structure now formally opened, and will consequently be fresh in the recollection of our readers.

It is appropriate that, on this occasion, we should remember the men

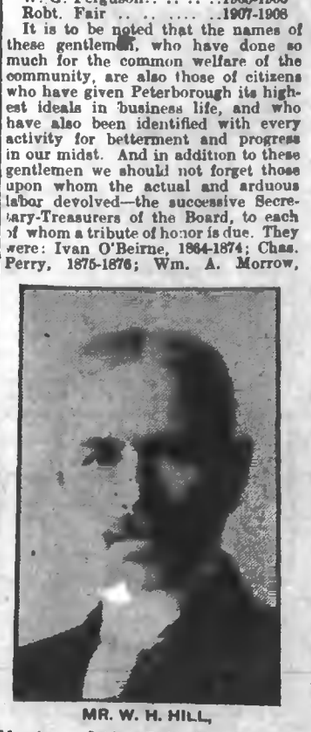
HON. R. A. PYNE,

Minister of Education, who officially opened the Institute.

whose unselfish and disinterested labors, over a period of many years, have led up to the splendid result that is now formally honored. These men, who blazed the pathway of educational progress, the chairmen of the boards of education since 1864—which reminds us that the entry of Peterborough upon the work of higher education was synchronous with the entry of the Canadian provinces into the compact of Confederation—were as follows:

Dr. Geo. Burnham,Sr,..	1864-1873
Jas. Stevenson, ...	1873-1891
W. H. Wrighton, ...	1891-1892
Dr. Geo Burnham, Jr, .	1893-1897
Peter Hamilton, ...	1897-1901
W. H. Hill	1901-1902
J. J. Hartley	1903-1904
W. G. Ferguson..	1905-1906
Robt. Fair	1907-1908

It is to be noted that the names of these gentlemen, who have done so much for the common welfare of the community, are also those of citizens who have given Peterborough its highest ideals in business life, and who have also been identified with every activity for betterment and progress in our midst. And in addition to these gentlemen we should not forget those upon whom the actual and arduous labor devolved—the successive Secretary-Treasurers of the Board, to each of whom a tribute of honor is due. They were: Ivan O'Beirne, 1864-1874; Chas. Perry, 1875-1876; Wm. A. Morrow,



MR. W. H. HILL,

Member of the Collegiate Institute Committee and Chairman of the Committee on Appointments.

1876-1887; and W. G. Morrow, appointed August 5th, 1887, who is now the careful, earnest and conscientious servant of the people in that capacity.

Address to the Ministers

Secretary Morrow then read the following address of welcome to the Minister of Education:

Honorable R. A. Pyne, M.D., Minister of Education.

Sir:—The Board of Education of the City of Peterborough gratefully acknowledge the courtesy and kindness of your attendance at this the formal opening of their new Collegiate Institute. The bold and liberal measures adopted by your government for the advancement of the Educational interests of the country, mark a new era in our history; all our educational institutions have been helped—from the public schools to the universities—and the most liberal measures adopted have elicited from the people, not censure, but only universal approval. The disclosure of unlimited mineral resources and the extension of Commerce through the opening and settlement of new Ontario, and the Western Provinces, present a great field for the employment of our people, in the home land. But these call for Educational fitness to meet the emergency, and you, Sir, have grasped the requirements and nobly risen to the emergency. We congratulate you on your liberal treatment of educational problems. When a deputation of our citizens went to Toronto to solicit the location one one of the new Normal Schools at Peterborough, you, and the members of the cabinet, courteously received us, and now we rejoice in the possession of the magnificent Normal School with its splendid staff of instructors. We have met the requirements you called for, and by large expenditures and great care in the selection of our Public School teachers, have builded a complete Public School System, which with the Normal School and this Institute will complete an Educational establishment equal in all respects to anything of the kind in Canada. We welcome you to our City. We thank you for your presence, and we wish you the happiness of living to see splendid results from your liberal and wise legislation in behalf of Education.

On behalf of the Board,

E. FAIR, Chairman. W. G. MORROW, Secretary.

The Minister's Reply

Hon. Dr. Pyne, responding to this address, said that he was delighted to find himself, after some arduous experience for the past three or four years, in an atmosphere where there was no politics at all—where Liberals and Conservatives could meet on a common ground and have no differences whatever. When he became Minister of Education, he was impressed with the idea that two things were requisite for the best results—properly equipped schools, and properly qualified teachers. He did not believe in the old system of "marks." When his superintendent said "here is a good teacher," or "there is a good teacher," he felt that was the man for a place even if he did not measure up to the highest standard in the formal examination. He was a firm believer in better pay for the teachers—the better the article, the better the service. He referred to the location of the Normal School in Peterborough, saying that many other communities were jealous of the preference, but he had felt that Peterborough, as a center of industry and also of education, was entitled to this advantage, and he had not been allowed to disregard this fact, because his friend, Bradburn, was constantly reminding him of it, and did not cease from troubling till he got what he wanted. Dr. Pyne referred to the question of practical education, and said that he had recognized the importance of endowing the boys and girls with a practical equipment for the duties of life. Industrial education involved a large expenditure, but it would ultimately take its place in the line of our advancement. He believed it to be the duty of the Federal Government to make a liberal allowance to the provinces, in order to create trained mechanics whose services would be most valuable to the country. He referred back to the time of Dr. Ryerson, the founder of the educational system of Ontario, and both interested and amused the audience by relating an occasion upon which Dr. Ryerson had secured a tax on bachelors, for the support of the schools. When the single gentlemen protested, Dr. Ryerson had told them that the best way out of it was to qualify by matrimonial experience. Dr. Pyne did not state that he had John Hampden in mind, but the great audience took it so, and received the suggestion very merrily. He went on to congratulate the people of Peterborough upon the enterprise and liberal spirit of its Board of Education, and said that this city was to be not only one of the foremost centres of industry of the province, but also a centre of liberal culture. He paid a tribute of respect to the lamented Dr. Tassie, one of the foremost educators the province has konwn, who,

MR. LOUIS M. HAYES,
One of the members of the Committee of the Collegiate Institute and Chairman of the Finance Committee.

had made Galt famous, and who had left the impress of his great work upon the Collegiate Institute of Peterborough. He spoke in flattering terms, as his co-adjutants in advancing the cause of education, of Principal Walker, of the Normal School, Principal Kenner, of the Collegiate Institute, Mr. Mowat, Public School Inspector, of that great master of mathematics, Mr. Fessenden, and of Dr. Pakenham, an old Peterborough boy, who was filling an important position in the educational world in Toronto. He concluded by congratulating again the people of Peterborough upon the splendid results that were illustrating their educational progress.

Mayor H. Rush

His Worship Mayor Rush spoke as follows, on behalf of the city:

I am pleased to be present on this occasion, as the head of the City Council, to join with the Board of Education in the formal opening of this magnificent educational institution. And I am pleased, as I know we all are, to have with us the Minister who is at the head of the educational work of the province, and those officers who are his able assistants in that work, including our old friend, Dr. Pakenham, formerly a student in this institute. The Board of Education is to be congratulated upon the completion of this fine building which is a credit to them, to the architect who designed it, to the men who constructed it, and to the people who by their votes authorized its erection. The old school building, large as it may have been for the service required at the time it was erected, had long ago become inadequate, and the erection of a new building was necessary. Certainly a better site could not have been secured, and Peterborough now has, I believe, the best Collegiate Institute in the province, on one of the best of sites. The new building has cost considerable money and there may have been and no doubt was difference of opinion as to the expenditure of so large a sum for the purpose, but the ratepayers endorsed the expenditure and all are agreed that the institute is a credit to the city. The Board of Education has a sphere of work, and a very important one, separate from the city council, but the Board and council are at times brought into contact on important educational matters, and it has been a pleasure to see that the two bodies work in harmony, and I think it has always been the desire of the Council to assist the Board and make the schools efficient, so that the children and young people of Peterborough will have the best educational equipment obtainable when they take their places in the world's work. With the excellent staff of instructors that the institute has, and the facilities afforded in these new premises, good work is being done, and we may look forward with confidence to years of successful work in this institute.

Rev. H. J. Keith

Rev. H. J. Keith, president of the Ministerial Association, who was the next speaker, said that the occasion was the happiest that he had had the pleasure of participating in since he had left college to enter upon the duties of active life. The speaker referred to Dr. Pakenham and his early connection with that gentleman, paying a tribute to the old Peterborough boy who had won such a high place in educational circles. Speaking of mechanical and technical education Rev. Mr. Keith said that there might be the danger of emphasizing the mechanical and technical at the expense of the ethical and moral. In connection with good schools one thing was essential, and that was to have good teachers. In this regard Rev. Mr. Keith remarked, in conclusion, that the Peterborough teachers were as fine a body as could be found in the province.

Rev. Father McColl

"We have every reason to congratulate the Board of Education upon the results obtained in the erection of this building and also the architect upon the splendid plans he conceived and followed out." He added to the welcome extended to the Honourable Minister of Education, and congratulated him upon the success of his administration throughout the province. The Collegiate Institute, he stated, furnished an intermediate education, and it was important that it should be good and solid. Rev. Father McColl emphasized the necessity of a moral education, as well as physical and intellectual. He was pleased that the city could boast of such men on its staff as Mr. Kenner and Mr. Fessenden. He concluded by thanking the Board for their invitation to be present and for bringing the Hon. Dr. Pyne to the city.

Dr. Pakenham

Dr. Pakenham, principal of the Technical School, Peterborough, remarked that there had been a jubilant note in the ceremonies. The Board of Education and the citizens of Peterborough were rejoicing because they had erected such a magnificent building. It was proper that the industrial centre of the Midland counties should be the educational centre as well. Dr. Pakenham referred to the mission and importance of the Collegiate Institute and the influence that it has or should have upon the life of the country. Speaking as an old Peterborough boy Dr. Pakenham made some humourous and interesting references to the conditions existing when he was being educated in the Collegiate Institute here, and his description of some of the salient features of the old building were much appreciated by the audience, many of whom were graduates of the same school.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., expressed his delight with the fine building which he had seen yesterday for the first time. He concurred with the previous speakers in the congratulations they had extended to the Board of Education and Mr. Belcher, the architect. It was a credit to the city and the citizens should feel proud of it.

Mr. J. A. Sexsmith

Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., East Peterborough, after expressing his pleasure at being present, congratulated the Board of Education and the citizens of Peterborough, upon the magnificent school building that they had provided. He was sure that it was one of the best institutions in the Dominion, and that hundreds of the great men in Canada in years to come would look back upon the Peterborough Collegiate Institute as the place in which they had received their education.

Warden Thompson

On behalf of the County Council, Warden James Thompson, M.P.P., expressed his pleasure at being present at the formal opening. The building was a credit to "Progressive Peterborough." Its men and women of the next generation, he said, should show the effect of the many facilities which they are receiving in obtaining a good sound education.

Mr. Stevens

The Inspector of Public Schools for Victoria County, Mr. Stevens, of Lindsay, made a brief but fitting speech. He felt that his visit to Peterborough and the different educational institutions had been well paid. Lindsay had been one of the disappointed towns in connection with the location of the Provincial Normal Schools, but after looking over Peterborough, he would be forced to go back to his own town with the conviction that the Government could have done nothing better than to locate the Normal school in this city. He paid a tribute to the staffs of the Collegiate Institute and Normal School, and expressed the opinion that no better could be secured.

Mr Kenner

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, the principal, thanked the citizens, who through the School Board, had appointed him to the position of principal of the new Collegiate Institute. He promised that with the assistance of the other members of the teaching staff he would endeavour to cultivate the students not only intellectually and physically but also morally, instilling a love for the aesthetic and high ideals.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE OPENING

ing the past year, and that the formal opening of it took place yesterday. In fact it has only been after a chain of adverse circumstances that have been surmounted by the assiduity of the Board of Education, that the present building stands on one of the most central and beautiful locations in the city, and that it is a credit to the city to which it belongs.

After years of discussion over the matter it was decided in 1903, to submit a by-law to the ratepayers asking for $40,000 for the erection of a new Collegiate Institute. By a good majority the ratepayers voted in favour of the by-law, and the expenditure of the sum above mentioned which was then considered sufficient to erect the building.

Just about this time the question of buying the Separate school grounds for a site for an Institute and an Armoury was discussed, and after negotiations extending over a period of months, it was finally decided that the Government, the City Council and the Board of Education should each give $10,000 towards the purchase of these grounds which were acquired leaving the Board with $40,000, for the building. The Building Committee of which the chairman was Mr. H. P. Kennedy, went into the matter thoroughly, and, after visiting a number of cities in which there were Institutes, a set of plans were prepared at the direction of the committee, and the building then planned would no doubt have been complete.

When tenders were called for, however, it was found that it would cost $90,000 to erect such a building and equip it. There was not, of course, sufficient money at the disposal of the Board to warrant the prosecution of the work and it was decided to again go to the ratepayers for another $50,000. At the municipal elections in 1905 a by-law was submitted and defeated. The situation then was that the Board found itself with a site costing $10,000 and $40,000 which was practically of no use to it because it was insufficient to build an Institute which would meet the needs of the city or be a credit to it from an architectural standpoint.

In 1906 the Building Committee of the Board with Dr. Morrison as chairman, and the other members Messrs. Dumble, Hayes, Crane and Hill again grappled with the question. The problem that confronted the committee was one not easy of successful solution. However, nothing daunted, they set to work: had plans prepared of a building which they thought would meet the needs of the city for some time and be no disgrace to it. It was found that such a building could be erected for about $61,000 and in consequence at the municipal elections in January, 1907, a by-law allowing $21,000 additional to be spent, was voted on and carried by a good majority, and on March 30th, 1907, the Building Committee after having called for tenders awarded the contract to Messrs. Langford and Sheehy for the erection of the building proper the contract price being $51,318. The contracts for the heating and electrical wiring were given to McGregor and Reid, the contract price of the former being $4500, and the latter $371.00.

"CAVALRY GIRLS."

Organization of Mounted Nurses Will Prove Valuable War Corps.

The squadron of mounted girl nurses, which was started about a year ago by Capt. E. C. Baker, as an offshoot of his Islington Drill Brigade, is rapidly becoming an irregular force of some importance in the military scheme. The nurses' squadron is called the First Aid Nursing Yeomanry Corps. The corps at present number about 40 officers and troopers, and there are more girls fired with the military zeal waiting to join. It is expected that the corps will play an interesting part in next year's military tournament. A well-known titled lady has recently joined, and has taken rank as a lieutenant. Each troop has two lieutenants, a troop sergeant-major, non-commissioned officers and signallers. The two lieutenants in charge of a troop are daughters of the late Col. Greenall. Other members of the corps include Miss Cutler, assistant matron of St. Bartholomew's Hospital, and Mrs. Wilson, instructress in Swedish drill at St. Bartholomew's Hospital.

"The girls are doing splendidly," said Capt. Baker to an interviewer, "and there is no doubt that the corps will in time become a large and useful force. I consider that a body of mounted nurses who can ride over any sort of country would be of inestimable service in an engagement. It is not intended that they should be fully trained nurses. Their province is to render first aid to the wounded until the base hospital staff arrives. They would follow the fighting line as closely as possible, and do what they could for the men on the spur of the moment. Wounded men sometimes have to wait hours before the hospital staff reach them, and often lives could be saved by prompt attention. The girls are taught to ride out carrying their nurse's kit. They ride side saddle, but they are able to mount and dismount without help. Arriving at a case one girl dismounts, and another, remaining in the saddle, holds the free horse. If, after attention, the wounded man is able to sit on a horse, he is placed in the nurse's saddle, and the other nurse conducts him back, returning afterwards to her comrade."

Another Mineral Find.

A great deal of prospecting is being carried on in the Babine Range, near the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific in British Columbia, and many important discoveries of minerals, chiefly of silver and lead, have been reported. Here, again, it is capital from the United States that stands to make the profit on these discoveries. Local capital is interested to some extent, but the most of it comes from the United States.

One-Armed Watchmen Wanted.

"That men with one arm or one leg be engaged, as far as possible, for night watchmen," reads a recommendation which the Hanley (Eng.) Town Council has just adopted.

A LAUNDRY HINT.

Turpentine Prevents Silk Stockings From Fading.

There was once a time when black silk stockings were considered fashionable with every toilet, but now it has become the fashion among well dressed women to have everything match, and from the crown of the head to the tip of the toe must be a blending of one color, which does not permit of the hard contrast of a black shoe and stocking against a light gown.

The only trouble with silk stockings is the washing of them. If the laundress is not an expert in that line a delicate and expensive pair can be easily ruined.

The best way is to fill a basin with warm water and soapsuds. Let the stockings soak a few minutes, then rub gently and rinse again with water of the same temperature. If the stockings are white a little bluing should be put in the water both times. In that way you will avoid having them turn that peculiar shade of yellow that all silk is sure to do.

Using a few drops of turpentine in the water with the soap will prevent the most delicate shades, such as pink, green and blue, from fading.

Tan stockings are the most difficult of all to manage. They will get a greenish tinge to them that is the despair of the owner, for it is impossible to keep them from running, no matter what care is taken, and the water in which they are washed is sure to be discolored.

The best way is to wash a new pair first. Though the stockings may fade very little, the water will be a dark brown. Then take an old pair and let them soak in the water, in that way dyeing the old ones the original color.

No fine stockings should ever be ironed. After washing they should be shaken out and hung over a towel rack or the back of a chair. The hot iron removes the gloss and makes the stockings look as if they were cotton, not silk.

AS TO OBEYING.

That Is the "Last Straw," According to Up to Date Bride.

Just one thing the average fall bride wishes to know is this: Why should she promise to obey when neither the brides of the Roman nor Greek communions, Jewish brides and Quaker brides, are compelled to make this old fashioned promise?

And the worst part of it is the untruth of it. Women are no longer conscienceless creatures who must be commanded to be good and laden with other instructions whenever their other halves depart. Away back in the past when they were uneducated burden bearers and never held converse with guests this was doubtlessly a wise clause. This question of the pledge of obedience which is extracted from brides who profess certain forms of religion is continually coming under discussion, and in these days, when the equality of the sexes is demanded and when many clergy as well as laymen admit that it should be recognised, it seems inconsistent that this vow should be demanded of women.

While it is thought nothing short of shocking that daughters should rebel at this idea of placing themselves in subjection to their husbands, many are not averse to giving them in marriage to men already possessed of wives from whom they have been divorced, and, while many consider it a fearful sign of the times and an indication of coming disaster that it should even be proposed that this vow of obedience should be deleted from the marriage service, yet few would be prepared to say that because women of other religious views do not make this vow they are therefore bringing their sex to naught and uprooting all the traditions of the race.

May Inherit Fortune.

If Chas. R. Hatherly, who lives in a rooming-house in Detroit, can prove the marriage of his grandparents in or near Toronto, or Whitby, Ont., some time prior to 1851, he will probably be declared heir to an estate of a seventeenth century English squire, his great-great-grandfather, William Edward Hatherly. Two children were born to Charles Edmund Hatherly and Miss Elizabeth Day, a parlor maid, in England before the family came to Canada. One of these, Nathaniel, was Hatherly's father. Hatherly, who is about 50 years old and a painter, was a former sea captain. One of his thrilling experiences was a shipwreck in mid-ocean, with nothing to eat and drink for ten days. He is a widower, his wife having died recently at St. Mary's Hospital, Detroit.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

A short, stout person must never be taken as a full length picture. The best photo would be sitting length.

The red nosed girl should be careful of her diet, as affections of the stomach are sure to heighten the color of the offending organ.

The woman who refrains from eating onions because of annoying her neighbors can often indulge in her favorite dish, even when she is going out by eating sprigs of fresh parsley that have been saturated in vinegar.

If one has a red nose it is well to cultivate as much color as possible in the cheeks to tone it down. This redness need not be artificial, though rouge be ever justifiable it is for a girl with that sore affliction, a chronically red nose.

Never allow the muscles of the face or limbs to become tense through the rapidity of your walking, which impedes your progress by interrupting the movement from hip to foot and results in a gait disastrous, awkward and unbeautiful.

If your hands are inclined to perspire wash them occasionally in warm water in which a little borax has been dissolved—a teaspoonful to a quart of the right proportion. Rinse in clear water. Dry and rub in a little lemon juice. Don't use the borax very often, as it will make the skin dry and inclined to crack.

Here is a cold sore cure: Two parts castor oil to one quart of spirits of camphor. It is very simple and will heal the most obstinate cold sore in time. It is also very good for the nose, caused by cold in the head. Any other salve for such sores is the zinc ointment, which can be bought in bulk of the druggist. It's a first class salve to have on hand, by the way, for it heals pimples quicker than any other lotion known.

Small Change.

"It's three years since I was in this city," said the stranger as he finished his dinner. "City looks the same."

"I don't find much change," remarked the waiter as he took up the dime that was left from the dollar bill.—Puck.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY AT PEMBROKE THIS MORNING

Consecration of Rev. Father Latulippe as Suffragan Bishop of Temiskaming

Examiner Special.

Pembroke, Nov. 30.—The consecration of Rev. Father A E Latulippe as Suffragan Bishop of Temiskaming district, took place in the Roman Catholic Cathedral here this morning. A large number of prominent priests from Ontario and Quebec diocese assembled here for the ceremony. Archbishop Duhamel of Ottawa, officiated, and was assisted by Archbishops Bruchesi, and Gauthier and Bishop Lorraine, of Pembroke. The ceremony was a most impressive one. The new Bishop and the visiting hierarchy and clergy were entertained to luncheon by Bishop Lorraine.

TURKEYS BEING STOLEN OFF THE ROOSTS

Otonabee Farmers Suffer—Ten Disappear in a Night.

Some Otonabee farmers to the south of the city, have lost heavily during the past week or two from turkey thefts. In one a farmer lost a flock of ten turkeys—all he owned—and therewith vanished his Christmas dinner. Other thefts are reported, but the practice is now likely to be stopped in view of an organized effort of several of the turkey owners to discover the sneak thieves.

THE GREAT PIANIST COMES TO HEAR

The young Pianist and Composer's art and Technicality is uncomparable.

The music loving public of this city is looking forward for next Thursday night, when the great German Pianist, Padsrewski's rival, Professor Franz von Battenhausen appears with his marvellous high class music. Vast audiences in other big cities, the Imperial Houses of Europe, the greatest masters' and composers of the present time call this young gentleman the "bright star on the piano". His art of expression is excellent, his technicality and experience are incomparable.

This great genius on the Piano will play and enjoy the lovers of music with the best satisfaction. To secure good seats you will remember that the entrance opens sharp at 7.00 p.m. Doors closed between plays.

Readers will perhaps be startled at the un-English wording of the above advertisement. The explanation is that the advertiser is a German.

The recital will take place in the Conservatory of Music.—Ed.

COFFIN CONTAINING CORPSE WAS HURRIED OUT OF BURNING ROOM IN TIME TO AVOID THE FLAMES

Lamp Falls From Lady's Hand as She Steps Into Open Stove-pipe Hole—Accident in South Monaghan Residence—The Dead Woman's Son Saves Situation

HIS HANDS AND FACE BURNT

Stepping into a stove-pipe hole in a room where lay the dead body of a woman, and with a lighted lamp in her hand, a lady attendant at a South Monaghan residence almost caused the cremation of the remains of Mrs. Wm. Isbister, of that township, who passed away last Thursday evening. She died at the home of her son, Mr. Jacob Isbister, as reported in another column.

On Friday evening about dusk, one of the ladies, who was assisting at the house went into the chamber of death carrying a lamp. Her object was to open a window to let in the fresh air. She accidentally stepped into an open stove-pipe hole usually covered with a small board, but which had been kicked aside. The lamp fell and soon the interior of the room was in flames.

The first thought was of the dead woman and before the fire reached the coffin it had been wheeled out of the room and placed out of danger on the outside of the house. All hope of saving the building was abandoned until Mr. Jacob Isbister learned of the fire. He rushed into the room himself and successfully smothered the flames.

Face and Hands Burned

Mr. Isbister was burned rather badly about the face and hands and his clothing was also scorched. The lace curtains on the windows, the paper on the walls, the baseboards blankets and furniture met a similar fate.

The coffin, however, was saved and the body of Mrs. Isbister was buried in the Presbyterian cemetery the following afternoon.

ELOPING LOVER'S QUARREL DELAYS THEIR FLIGHT AND ASSISTS THE DETECTIVES

A Vancouver Romance Ends Unhappily—Woman Confesses She Had Been Previously Married

HE WAS DRYGOODS CLERK

Examiner Special

Vancouver, Nov. 30.—A lover's spat, a vigilant detective, and a heartless police magistrate put a crimp in the romantic elopement of Miss Harriet Chapman and Jacob Phillips, who ran away from this city intending to get married in Portland. This combination resulted in the runaway lopers being landed in the Portland gaol, instead of being made one and returning by the next train for parental forgiveness as had been their original intention. The young people were given a ten-day sentence on a charge of registering at a hotel under false names. They could not pay a fine even had the hard-hearted magistrate given them the option of doing so, and were compelled to retire behind prison bars to think the situation over. This morning their sentence was completed, and they were at liberty to meet and patch up the quarrel. Whether they succeeded in doing so and the honeymoon was continued or not is not known as no word from either has reached Vancouver yet.

Jacob Phillips was employed as a salesman in a large departmental here. Six months ago he met Harriet Chapman and friendship quickly ripened into love. Miss Chapman's parents objected to the match, however, on account of the young man's position as a salesman, and the girl was forbidden to see him. They succeeded in meeting without the knowledge of the parents however, and decided to elope.

Phillips drove up to the Chapman residence one night about two weeks ago. Harriet Chapman was waiting for him, ready to leave her home, and go with him across the line into the United States where they had agreed it would be easy for them to get married. Her parents had retired and they did not miss the girl until next morning. By that time the runaways were well on their way to Seattle. They were afraid to stop in Seattle and left at once for Portland. It was there that Miss Chapman confessed to Phillips that she had been married before and was a widow. Jacob took the thing very much to heart and a quarrel followed. He declares that she told him that she was not certain that her husband was dead although he had not been seen for several years, while she says that after they had started quarrelling Phillips told her that he would not marry her. Meanwhile the story of the elopement had been telegraphed from Vancouver, and the delay resulting from the lover's quarrel afforded Police Sergeant Batty an opportunity of catching the runaways. He placed them under arrest on the technical charge of registering as man and wife when they were not really married. When taken before a magistrate they explained that they had done this in order to throw the pursuing relatives off the track until they could have the ceremony performed. The flinty-hearted magistrate showed little sympathy with the unfortunate lovers, however, and he further postponed the ceremony by sentencing them to ten days in gaol.

BERLIN YOUTH WAS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF ROBBING THE C. P. R STATION

A young man who gave his name as Wm. Hessell, and who informed the police that his father lives at 104 Spitzberg avenue, Berlin, was arrested by P. C. Adams at an early hour this morning on the charge of robbing the C.P.R. station office. Last night while the operator was on the platform outside, some one entered the office and stole $8 and two railway tickets from the till. Hessell had been around the station, and had been talking to the employees, and when the robbery was detected he was at once suspected, and they were able to give the police a good description of the young fellow. Hessell after leaving the station had wandered up street, and had been talking to P. C. Meagher and P. C. Adams, so that there was little difficulty in getting him when word was received from the station that he was wanted. Hessell appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning and was remanded for one week.

Sidney Pope, charged with creating a disturbance on Water street on Saturday night, which resulted in his being arrested by P. C. Meagher, pleaded guilty and was assessed $2 and costs, amounting to $5.75.

Two boys who had pleaded guilty to riding a bicycle on the sidewalk were fined $2 each.

OBITUARY.

The death occurred this morning at 7.30 o'clock of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Murray, Parnell street, at the age of three months. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence to St. Peter's cemetery.

VERA S. CHARLTON

The death occurred on Sunday, Nov. 29th, of Vera S., the eight months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Charlton, of Douro. The deceased child had been suffering from bronchitis for some time past, and death had not been altogether unexpected. Their many friends will sympathise with Mr. and Mrs. Charlton in the great loss they have sustained by the death of their only child.

The funeral which takes place tomorrow afternoon will be held at the Lakefield cemetery.

ELIZABETH DOUGLAS ISBISTER

On Thursday last Elizabeth Douglas Isbister, relict of the late Wm. Isbister, a venerable resident of South Monaghan, and a former resident of Peterborough, died at the home of her son, Mr. Jacob H. Isbister, near Centreville, at the age of 71 years. Mrs. Isbister was a native of Northumberland County, and was for twelve years, previous to removal to South Monaghan, a resident of Peterborough. Her husband died eleven years ago. She was a Presbyterian in religion. She leaves three sons and two daughters. The former are, Thomas, of Souris, Man.; and Jacob and William, of Centreville. The daughters are, Mrs. Rishton, Toronto, and Miss Minnie, of Souris. Three brothers are, Joseph Douglas, of Judge, Mich.; John, of Beaver, W.T., and T. A. Douglas, of Algoma. The sisters are, Mrs. Noden, of Newmarket, and Mrs. M. Locke, of Inkerkip, Ont. The funeral which took place on Saturday, with interment at the Centreville Cemetery, was conducted by Rev. Mr. Mackenzie, was largely attended and the floral tributes were numerous. The pallbearers were, Messrs. Thos. Donaldson, Jos. Porter, John Fletcher, Geo. Barrie, Alex. Anderson and Henry Hutchinson.

SCOTLAND YARD SLEUTH IS NOW IN WINNIPEG

On the Track of the Murderer of Lady Luard of the Seven Oaks

Examiner Special

Winnipeg, Nov. 30.—Inspector Jarvis, of Scotland Yard, who is here in quest of the murderer of Lady Luard, of the Seven Oaks estate, Kent, England, is certain that he has succeeded in tracking down the man for whom detectives have been searching the world over ever since the discovery of th crime which caused a sensation throughout Europe three months ago. So sure is he that he is on the right track that he has come all the way from London at his own expense and without salary in anticipation of receiving the thousand pounds reward offered for the capture of the murderer. Three months ago Lady Luard whose husband was General Luard, a famous British Army officer, was found shot to death in a summer house on the edge of the Seven Oaks grounds. There was no trace of the murderer. General Luard suicided two weeks later and it was said that letters which he received referring to the strange death of his wife, to whom he was devoted, led to his self-destruction.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY.

This is St. Andrew's Day, the patron saint of Scotland, and dear to every Scottish heart. All over the world the ubiquitous Scott will breathe a prayer for Heaven's blessing on the heather land, heave a sigh for the days of Auld Lang Syne, or drain a stoup to the health of Scotland as his inclinations tend, and his temperament and habits dictate. Even the traditional Scotchman at the north pole will join the celebration, and keep a sharper look out for Capt. Bernier with the latest news from the land o'cakes. Peterborough Scotchman, it is sad or glad to say, have deteriorated or improved, according to the point of view. A few years ago in Peterborough the Scottish concert or the banquet on St. Andrew's night, was the inevitable. Songs, speeches, cracks, smoking, haggis, steaming jorums were the pieces de resitance, and the dessert was high flowing hilarity extended into the "wee sma' hoors ayont the twal." But old times have changed, old customs gone. It is now some time since a St. Andrew's concert or banquet purely recognizant of St. Andrew's Day, has been held. No doubt, however, our Peterborough Scotchmen have the same warm spot in their hearts for the auld land as of yore, though it is less demonstratively displayed. They are proud of their native land with cause as their native land has reason to be of them; one is worthy of the other. We count the sons of St. Andrew as among our best citizens, and this applies to all civilized lands where Scotchmen will be found, generally tucked snugly away somewhere near the top shelf. It is not, perhaps too much to say that it the earth be likened to a sphere of porridge, the Scotchmen are the salt of it, so prominent an element are they in all the walks of life in every land—and that means all — where they are found. We know them in Peterborough. They have impressed themselves upon our conditions and though the name of the "Scotch Village" has passed away, the city enjoys the benefit of the shrewd commen sense, the thrift and the enterprise of the forbears of those of Scotch descent now constituting one of the most important elements of our population.

OUT OF HIS OWN MOUTH.

The super-virtuous Review has unmasked itself. Before the late election and since it has been the mouthpiece of the Conservative candidate for West Peterborough. As such it has preached purity and honesty in politics ad nauseam. It has rung the changes on these subjects in every conceivable key, till anyone who did not know the candidate, the journal through which he speaks, and, the controlling local elements of the party for which he speaks, would gather that he was the only honest man on earth, and that the Review was the only honest newspaper published. So pure, so steeped in the odor of honesty is Mr. Burnham, that to vindicate the principles of truth, honesty and purity upon which this election contest was assumptively waged, he has entered a protest against the return of his successful opponent and he shies so violently at the very appearance of evil that he includes a contribution to a church fund as an item in the long series of illegalities that, he claims, contributed to his defeat,

Yet this same guileless innocent-abroad—who regards the deposit by his opponent of a quarter dollar on the collection plate of a church, as a high crime and misdemeanor, has shown himself guilty of proven falsehood and deception, to influence the electors, and to gain a little party advantage. On Thursday, October 22nd. Mr, Burnham, through the Review, printed, in the form of a flamboyant "extra," the statement to the effect that the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission had awarded a big contract to the Canadian General Electric Company, of Peterborough, and that this contract was secured through the efforts and influence of Messrs. J. H. Burnham, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., and Jas. Kendry. The Examiner next day pointed out that if the contract had been awarded by tender—if the tender of the Canadian General was the lowest, they automatically got the contract, and "no help was needed from Mr. Burnham. Mr. Bradburn or Mr. Kendry, who had no more to do with the awarding of the contract—if it had been awarded—than the unborn child." Next day the Review, in fat black type, reiterated its statement, gloried in its shame and after reproving the Examiner for its lack of faith and enterprise—declared it did not wait for the news to be "authorized," "the Review printed it—hot from the wires, so to speak—in an extra." The Review concluded its misleading manifesto with the following paragraph:

"THE CONTACT HAS BEEN AWARDED TO THE C. G. E. CO., and the work will be done here. We have here the plant, energy, ability, skill and ability, and the men in the shops to handle the work and execute it within the time specified. And in spite of the froth of the Examiner, remember we have the local manager's assurance "that the company is indebted to Mr. J. H. Burnham, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P. and Mr. Jas. Kendry, for their efforts in assisting to secure the contract for the local concern, and consequent EMPLOYMENT which will be afforded and consequently will LARGELY BENEFIT THE WORKINGMEN of Peterborough."

Here we have the direct statement that the contract had been awarded and that it had been secured through the efforts of Mr. Burnham, who in view of the great boon he had conferred upon the city, was entitled to the votes of the electors, who were to cast their ballots on the following Monday. This was not only a direct appeal, a form of bribery, to the electors, a high crime, according to the Conservative candidate, but made much worse by the fact that it was an appeal made on false pretenses, on false statements, contrary to the lofty principles of "honesty," which Mr. Burnham preached much more earnestly than practised. According to the Review of Saturday itself the contract at that time was not awarded and has not been awarded yet. In Saturday's issue it reports, under a double-column heading, three lines deep, the visit of the Hydro-Electric Commission, which "made a thorough inspection of the Canadian General Electric Works," and adds this significent paragraph:

"AS IS GENERALLY KNOWN THE C. G. E. CO. IS LIKELY TO BE AWARDED A LARGE CONTRACT for supplying certain equipment for the power line of the Hydro-Electric Commission. It was to assure themselves that the local concern was equipped and able to handle the contract, that the engineers of the Commission made the inspection today."

Here we have two diametrically opposite and conflicting statements. On October 23rd, three days before polling, we had the positive statement of the Review and the "honest"—exclusively—candidate, declaring that the contract had been awarded through his ingluence and efforts, that therefore he was entitled to the votes of the electors, and the workmen, ho were bribed by the implied promise of abundant work. This was the statement on October 23rd, when votes were to be influenced. But on November 28th, when there is nothing to be gained by lying, and the truth must be told, it is told, and the "honest" candidate himself, gives the lie to himself, contradicts his own election ghost story, which the Examiner contradicted at the time. Some apology may be expected for giving so much space to this matter, but a certain amount of space is necessary to expose the nauseating hypocrisy of the man who boasts of his honesty and yet was not above the crude device of flat falsehood and deception of the public—gold-bricking the electorate—holding out a bribe to secure votes. "Out of his own mouth" has he been condemned.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Some of the old-time practical politicians, and particularly those who sit on the left of the speaker, or who sympathize with the gentlemen of the "cold shades," are predicting all sorts of political trouble to arise in the future from Hon. Dr. Pugsley's promulgation of an order abolishing the patronage system throughout the great spending department of the government, that of Public Works, of which he is the head. And it is unquestionably true that it requires a rare moral courage in a politician and no little confidence on his part in the predominating integrity of his fellow countrymen, to institute so radical a reform. It has been the guiding principle for a great many years of all political parties, (less applicable to the present government, who have retained many Conservative appointees), that "to the victors belong the spoils"—that all the rewards of office and emolument should go to the men whose faithful service has afforded their leaders the opportunity to distribute patronage. There was in this nothing immoral, or even injurious to the public interest, providing no unbusiness-like advantage were given to a contractor for the furnishing of supplies, and that a standard of worth and capability was applied to those who sought public employment.

But the system naturally led to abuses, and although these have not been so gross nor so unprincipled as

HON. DR. WM. PUGSLEY,
Minister of Public Works of Canada

prevailed in the palmy days of "Tory" rule, they have at last reached a condition when it becomes necessary for the government to disentangle itself from the meshes of a worn-out system, which was, without their knowledge or suspicion, taken advantage of equally by their friends and their opponents. And it is fair to say that the most successful "grafters" the government investigation disclosed were those who had acquired their experience and ability, not to say audacity, in that regard, in the good old Conservative school.

No sooner had Dr. Pugsley become convinced that abuses had grown up under the old system, that had so long prevailed, for which neither himself nor the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, felt inclined to be responsible, than he put the axe to the root of the evil, and at once and for all time to come, at least, under Liberal rule, has extirpated it.

Of course, there will be loud and sincere complaints from honest followers of the party, at the new principle of placing all men, regardless of politics, on an equal plane, in the awarding of public contracts and employments, but it is unquestionably a right principle, and it is better for the future of the country that it should prevail. Of course, if there be a choice, if in applications for public service, all things are equal, the preference will naturally, and not unjustly be given to the friend of the party in power. But undue and unreasonable favouritism—the preference of a higher tender for a lower, or the award of privileges without fair opportunity to all for public competition—these henceforth belong to the past.

The Official Gazette of Saturday afternoon confirms the formal announcement of a further prorogation of Parliament to Saturday, January 9th. The exact date will probably not be fixed till the first full meeting of the Cabinet after January 1st, and from best information obtainable, will likely be fixed for the third week in January.

A. A. Wright, ex-M.P. for Renfrew, has been appointed postmaster of the town of Renfrew and will enter upon his duties after January 1st.

The Railway Commission will meet to-morrow in an important session, for which no less than eighteen cases are set. One of the most interesting of these is the amazing complaint of Senator Tessier, that the Ottawa Electric Railway refused to carry him free over its lines, a privilege which he claims was due him under the company's charter.

The announcement in press despatches that Major-General Sir Percy Lake had been appointed to succeed General Slater as Quartermaster-General of the Indian Army, under Lord Kitchener, is premature. It is true that this splendid offer, carrying a larger salary, and possibly, as in the case of Lord Kitchener himself, leading to the chief command, was offered to Sir Percy, but he has concluded to remain in this country, and complete the splendid work which he has been carrying on for the perfection of the Canadian militia service.

The Inland Revenue Department is considering serious measures to fix the responsibility for fourteen deaths, which have occcurred in the north west through kerosene explosions. There are only two refineries in Canada, and an examining officer is stationed at each of them, and, moreover, not a single shipment is allowed to be made til it is tested in the barrel. It is believed a rigid examination of the quality of all oil coming over the border will result.

Yesterday witnessed a most important event in the unfolding of the Government's policy of Transcontinental Railway development, when ticket No. 1 of the G.T.P. Railway Lake Superior branch was issued, and a regular passenger and train service between Fort William and Lake Superior Junction was instituted. The company will handle all classes of freight, and will transact a commercial telegraph business as well. Warm cars have been put on for carrying perishable freight during the winter.

The water-power users at Chaudiere, on both sides of the Ottawa River, will wait upon the Dominion Government this week to urge that prompt steps be taken to conserve the upper waters of the Ottawa River and prevent a repetition of the present difficulty, occasioned by the lowness of the water and the consequent shutting down of nearly all the local power plants.

By an order issued Saturday from the Department of Agriculture no Canadian cattle can this year be shipped across the Atlantic from a United States port. This will shut out the winter cattle trade via Portland and Boston. No American ship carrying cattle can touch at any Canadian port for any class of freight or cargo, and no Canadian cattle can be shipped on any vessel which is carrying American cattle. Any vessel that has touched a port in one of the prohibited American States will not be allowed for 21 days thereafter to take cattle from Canada. The C. P.R. refuses to carry cattle from the Western States by way of Winnipeg. The object of these drastic regulations is to prevent the slightest suspicion of the disease existing among Canadian cattle by contact with American herds. Two additional States, Delaware and Maryland, have been added to the quarantined list, making six altogether.

THE MARINE INQUIRY IS RESUMED

Judge Cassels Opens Halifax Marine Investigation.

JUST PRELIMINARY CANTER

Since 1906 Patronage List Has Increased From 65 Firms to 175—Probe on Saturday Only of a Random Nature and Is Being Continued To-day—Seventeen Witnesses Are Subpoenaed.

Halifax, Nov. 30.—Cassels' inquiry into the Marine and Fisheries' Department opened Saturday morning at the County Court House. Seventeen witnesses have been subpoenaed.

George Watson, K.C., named the offices of the Marine and Fisheries' staff here and their salaries, with the date of appointment. In the fiscal year 1904-5 the expenditure of the agency was $659,326, and salaries and maintenance amounted to $199,000 of that amount. In the next, expenditure was $705,000, maintenance $15,000, and salaries $74,000, construction $1,000, apparatus $14,000, fisheries $49,000, fisheries' protection service $90,000, miscellaneous $158,000, Dominion steamers $128,000. The following year the total was $668,000; from the agency $3,800, for maintenance $121,000, salaries $54,000, construction $50,000, apparatus $103,000, fisheries $25,000, fisheries' protection service $82,000, miscellaneous $96,000, steamers $125,000.

The patronage list contains the names of 175 firms, contractors, etc.; prior to 1906 the list was limited to about 65.

A. L. Melvin of Melvin & Co., hardware, took the stand. He meets the Marine and Fisheries' storekeeper not less than once a month. The Department was his chief customer. He always destroyed his checks on getting them from the bank. He destroyed a lot about three weeks ago, but he would authorize the court to communicate with the bank ad examine the checks there.

J. F. L. Parsons, Halifax, agent of the Marine and Fisheries' Department, was called. He did not bring his personal accounts. They were in the hands of his solicitor.

Representatives of many leading Halifax firms were given a preliminary examination only and will be called later on.

Mr. Watson stated that the investigation on Saturday was only of a random nature, and suggested adjournment be made until to-day, and court adjourned.

St. Jerome College Scorched.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—Fire did $35,000 damage to St. Jerome's College early Sunday morning, destroying the oldest of the college buildings, which was used as a notiviate chapel, dormitory and society hall. Several billiard tables, a piano, an organ and other valuable furniture were destroyed, as well as practically all the clothing of 12 students who slept there.

George Reece of Mount Carmel, Pa., heroically put a hole through a wall to admit the hose to the new building, being carried out twice unconscious from the effects of smoke before completing this work. W. Quinn, Cohoes, N. Y., and John McQuillan of St. Johns, Que., also rendered effective service in fighting the flames.

Electric Sign on Church.

Baltimore, Nov. 30.—Rev. John Roach Straton, pastor of the Seventh Baptist Church, has gone into competition with theatres, moving picture shows, fairs and other places of amusement by having a big electric sign "Welcome" placed over the double doors of his church entrance.

"I had thought" he said yesterday, "of displaying my topics in electric light also, but upon investigation found that it was not feasible. I have realized that the church, in order to attract men, must compete with the attractiveness of other places."

Germany Pleased.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—The State Department at Washington sounded the German Foreign Office in advance concerning the Japanese-American agreement for the maintenance of the integrity of China, and of the status quo in the Pacific and was informed that it would be received here with the fullest approval, being in the interest of Germany as well as the powers participating in it.

Eczema, Salt Rheum.

Eczema or Salt Rheum, as it is often called, is one of the most agonizing of skin diseases. It manifests itself in little round blisters, which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust or scale is formed.

The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to any strong heat, are almost unbearable.

The pre-eminent success which Burdock Blood Bitters has met with in permanently curing a disease of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties.

No other remedy has done, or can do, so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture, as our thousands of signed testimonials can testify to.

Mrs. John O'Connor, Burlington, N.S., writes:—"For years I suffered with Salt Rheum. I tried a dozen different medicines, but most of them only made it worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I got a bottle and before I had taken half a dozen doses I could see a change so I continued its use and now I am completely cured. I cannot say too much for your wonderful medicine."

ACCUSED OF THREATENING WOMAN

Toronto Man Is Charged With "Black Hand" Methods.

CAUGHT AFTER HARD CHASE

William Gillespie, an Irishman, Admits Sending Mrs. Hetherington an Epistle Threatening to Abduct Her If She Did Not Pay $100—Police Have Other Letters Which They Think He Wrote.

Toronto, Nov. 30.—William Gillespie, a painter, 33 years of age, after keeping a widow in constant terror for three days with "Black Hand" letters, was taken after a strenuous chase Saturday morning by Detectives Murray and Moffatt. He admits writing the threatening letters.

Wednesday last Mrs. Mary Hetherington, a widow living with her daughter at 119 1-2 Borden street, went to the bank to draw some money.

Thursday morning she received a letter posted at 4 o'clock the day before. It demanded $100 which was to be given to a boy who would call. If the money were not given the penalty was abduction and imprisonment in the so-called gang's headquarters. The letter was signed "Black Hand" in ominous capitals. It is written in ink on poor paper, wretchedly spelt and written.

When she got this letter the woman was nearly mad with fright. She took it to the police and was re-assured by them. Detectives Moffatt and Murray have watched the house ever since till 11 o'clock at night, when one or more of several students rooming at the house were in.

By a strange coincidence Gillespie picked on Detective Mackie's eleven-year-old boy as his messenger.

The lad was riding his bicycle at Borden and Bloor streets Saturday morning when the man stopped him and offered him ten cents to go for a parcel. The lad went. At the house he was detained, and the police notified. When the detectives arrived the boy was sent back to the man. The detectives followed.

They came upon Gillespie and the boy at Bloor street and Walmer road. He ran and Detective Murray threw off his overcoat and followed. The chase led up Walmer road and into a side entrance.

Then Gillespie took to the fences and scaled seven with the quickness of a cat. Finally with Murray at his heels he came out on Lowther avenue, and ran almost into the arms of Moffatt, who had followed on the lad's wheel. Moffatt took up the chase and soon had his man. Gillespie showed fight, but Moffatt floored him and he was taken to detective headquarters.

There he admitted writing the letter, and said that he had also written another to an address in Huron street, which had not, it appears, reached its destination. He denies having written others now in the hands of the police and which are very similar in penmanship to that admitted.

Gillespie is a poor wisp of a man. He lives with his wife and two children at 11 Norwood avenue, just north of St. Clair avenue.

He is a painter, but has been out of work for some time. He is 5 feet 8 inches tall, and has tawny hair and a ragged red mustache.

Mrs. Hetherington is in a serious condition from shock.

The police think that Gillespie is responsible for other threatening epistles.

Some six weeks ago a wealthy factory owner living in the east end received a letter three days after his factory had been slightly damaged by fire. It was in writing very similar to that written by Gillespie to the woman. He turned it over to the police and nothing has since happened.

It was headed "The Black Hand." and read:

"Sir,—Unless you send $500 to 126 York street, Toronto, your factory will be burned to the ground. It will burn down this time."

It was also signed "The Black Hand."

This is not all. Inspector Duncan has a threatening letter written in a like but slightly better hand some months ago to two maiden ladies who own considerable property, demanding $500.

London Schools Closed.

London, Nov. 30.—Following the discovery of two mild cases of smallpox among pupils of the Collegiate Institute the Board of Education ordered the schools closed for a week.

The two cases are boys living in the city. Both were removed to the Isolation Hospital and their homes quarantined. The disease is believed to have come from Dorchester Township, where there are several cases.

FISHER MAKES SPEECH.

Minister of Agriculture at Conference in Rome.

Rome, Nov. 30.—(C. A. P.)—Hon. S. A. Fisher of Canada, returning thanks on behalf of the foreign delegates for the reception accorded the delegates to the International Institute of Agriculture in Italy, remarked that it was an inspiration to the delegates to do all in their power to establish on permanent basis such great work to which they set their hands.

Many small jealousies are reported amongst the delegates.

After Mr. Fisher's speech King Victor is reported to have declared the conception of a great idea was nothing; the difficulty was to carry it out. The hardest struggle occurred on the language to be used.

Francophiles naturally urged it should be French, but the majority, led by Tavernor of Austria, ultimately defeated them. It is generally admitted that the British Empire sent the most important delegates in the persons of Sir E. Buck, India, being the greatest authority in the world; Sir L. Elliott, head of the Board of Agriculture; Fisher and Tavernor, who are ambitious for modern methods.

WANTED WINTER HOME.

Toronto Unemployed Englishman Seeking Jail Starts Fire.

Toronto, Nov. 30.—To get arrested that he might have a place to stop for the winter, John Bradshaw, 25 years of age, set fire to a two-storey roughcast building, No. 8 Hayter street, yesterday afternoon, and then gave himself up to the police.

The building was occupied by B. T. Jenkins & Co., manufacturers of antique furniture. By virtue of a remarkably quick run, the firemen confined the damage to $25.

Bradshaw watched the fun and then told a policeman that he had started it for devilment, as he was out of work and wanted a place to stay for the winter. He further said he had crawled through a window and slept in the place Saturday night. He is an Englishman out from the old country about two years, and has been a bartender in the United States.

FRICTION IN CHURCH.

Faction of St. John's Lutheran Congregation Locks Out Pastor.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—There has been friction in St. John's Lutheran Church. A faction of the congregation has locked out the pastor, Rev. Frederick Beer, and demanded that he vacate the parsonage. The other faction, supporting the pastor, appealed Saturday to the civil courts for an injunction.

In addition to preaching, Mr. Beer conducts a class for German children on Saturday. Dissension and trouble arose. One charge was that Mr. Beer had chastised children excessively. These charges were investigated by a synod committee, which reported that they were "far fetched and malicious," and Mr. Beer was exonerated.

No meeting of the congregation has been held to ask for the resignation of the pastor.

Swindler Gets Order Book.

St. Thomas, Nov. 30.—Another express money order swindle has been discovered here.

On Nov. 7 the Dominion Express Co. received a telephone message saying a traveler from Thomas Bros., brush manufacturers, would call for a money order book, and a few minutes later a man presented an order on Thomas Bros.' stationery blank, and with their name signed.

The book, valued at $2,500, was issued. Now it is found to be a forgery. The company has no clue to the swindler.

"Dead" Man In England.

Montreal, Nov. 30.—James Dent of Dent & Baker, accountant, whose disappearance over a month ago caused a mild sensation, is said to be in Sussex, Eng., under the name of Logan. It is stated that he is in communication with his wife, who is still in Montreal.

Dent had tried to create an impression that he had committed suicide by jumping from a steamer's deck in the Lower St. Lawrence. His business affairs are said to be in good shape.

Ex-Thriller Is Dead.

Toronto, Nov. 30.—Marie Le Blanche, who was injured by falling from a wire at the exhibition in September, died at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, at the General Hospital.

One of the stays of the post to which the wire upon which she was performing gave way and the wire sagged, Marie Le Blanche falling about 20 feet and fracturing the ninth vertebra. Since the accident she was paralyzed and no hope for her recovery was held out.

Kaiser's Dream Vanishes.

Paris, Nov. 30.—The morning newspapers print prominently the details of the American-Japanese agreement. The Matin says:

"Thus vanishes the dream of the Emperor of Germany, who leaned upon the American people to struggle against the 'yellow peril.'"

Abdicates In All But Name.

London, Nov. 30.—The accession of Francis Ferdinand to the throne of Austria-Hungary in all but title will take place next Wednesday. He would be made regent officially that day if it were in the power of Emperor Francis Joseph to instal him without act of Parliament.

No Protest In North Essex.

Windsor, Nov. 30.—At the annual meeting of the North Essex Conservative Association Saturday afternoon, it was decided to enter no protest against Hon. R. F. Sutherland's election. Barrister F. C. Kerby was elected president and Dr. Carney secretary.

MILLBROOK YOUNG LADY MEETS WITH BAD ACCIDENT

Thrown From Her Horse and Kicked in the Head and Face.

A Millbrook despatch says:—Miss Anna Kells, daughter of Mr. Jno. O Kells, one of the most popular leaders of society in town met with a shocking accident this afternoon, and one that might have had a fatal ending. The young lady, while out riding on one of the back streets, was thrown from her horse, a high spirited animal, and badly kicked about the head.

It seems that Miss Kells was riding alone for practice, and passing a street that led homeward, at a fairly rapid pace, the animal turned suddenly, and the young lady was hurled to the ground. The horse in wheeling, kicked Miss Kells behind the ear tearing a deep and long gash.

Hastily taken home, Drs. Bingham of Toronto, and Turner of this town were summoned, and, after consultation, performed the operation necessary. The result is most satisfactory and, unless complications set in, the young lady will have a complete recovery.

Miss Kells' face was severely lacerated, and her jaw injured besides the very dangerous fracture of the skull.

He Left the Beaten Track—Did it on Horseback.

Dr Norman McLeod, of Brockville, was one of the company of Masons who chartered the steamer "Arabic" one year ago to pay a visit to the Orient. He went through the Holy Land on horseback and secured one hundred and fifty views of highest quality from that interesting country.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Murray street Baptist Church have secured the services of Dr. McLeod for Thursday evening of this week. While he lectures the views will be thrown upon a large screen by Mr. W A Edwards of the Crystal. The tickets are selling at 25 cents. The prospects are that the church will be taxed to its utmost capacity.

AN INTERESTING ADDRESS ON "PAR VALUES" DELIVERED BY R. A. WAITE AT OPERA HOUSE

"Par Values" the subject of Mr. R A Waite's address delivered to a mass meeting of men at the Grand Opera House yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, was a strikingly emphatic message, the central thought of which was that to realize our full value as sons, husbands, fathers and even companions our heads and hearts must be attuned with the great things of Almighty God. Mr. Waite, by the plan of his address and the manner in which he expressed his thoughts, held the undivided attention of the seven hundred men and boys who assembled after four o'clock, and remained until the conclusion at six o'clock. He is an appealing speaker, combining a pleasing personality with a splendid bearing, a delivery that grips his hearers and a choice of simple language to express his ideas.

The subject was one that concerns every man. It is of daily importance, for the men of high value are the men who reach success in their relations to their families, to their friends, to God and to themselves.

What are you Worth?

Mr. Waite began by asking the men how much they thought they were worth. "How much do you think you would bring if you were placed at auction? You married men, how much do you think your wives would get for you?" As an illustration he told of a man who came home rather late one night some time after his marriage, shakily stumbled his way into the house and in the same uncertain manner picked his steps upstairs where he sank back in an easy chair in his room. His wife had gone to bed but not to sleep. To her astonishment he put up his umbrella which he had brought with him. In answer to her question as to the reason for this action he said he was preparing to wait until the storm passed over. But in this he was mistaken, for she was one of those sensible women who realized that at times silence is more than golden.

The next morning at breakfast she said to him: "Dear, I had the strangest dream last night," and continued to tell it at his request. "I thought I was attending an auction sale of men. They were being disposed of at varying sums. Finally there was one offered who immediately drew the attention of all the bidders. The offers came thick and fast as everyone was eager to secure him. At last he was sold for $100,000.00, and if I had had the money I would have gladly given it for him." Her husband did not say much, but at last he asked, "Wifey, did you see any of my kind there?"

"Yes, there were plenty like you."

"And how much did we bring?" he anxiously inquired.

"Well, you were all put up in bundles like asparagus and disposed of at ten cents a bunch."

The Zero Type

The first class of men that Mr. Waite spoke of were what he called those of zero value. They were men who might be styled of cipher character and manhood. "They are those who live entirely for self. A man of this class considers that everything should revolve about his dear self." Mr. Waite said of him that he cares only to satisfy his appetite regardless of others. "He thinks that he is about the best fellow walking the streets of Peterborough. But he is like a cigarette. The more you puff him the smaller he becomes." The zero type, the speaker said was not worth much consideration.

The one Cent Man

The next class was the one cent man, the careless fellow lukewarm, indifferent, half-hearted. "He belongs to the crowd who talk cream, but walk skim milk." He is the kind that promises wonderful things but when you want him to act you can never find him. "This is the type that proves the greatest stumbling block and hindrance to the advancement of the Kingdom of God upon earth. You cannot depend upon him for a single thing. Of all the contemptible, sneaking cravens they are found in the one cent group."

The Ten Dollar Kind

Another man is the ten dollar type. He is the whole souled man. He not only promises but also acts. There were several other classes mentioned before this address was concluded, and the speaker made a fitting close to the splendid sermon as it may be properly called. Encouraging testimonies were given showing that the desired results had been attained by the meeting.

Mayor Rush Chairman

Mayor Rush acted as chairman, and before and after the address the Orpheus male quartette sang several appropriate hymns. The singing of the other hymns by the assembly was a feature of the meeting everybody joining in them in a hearty manner. Mr. Vincent Eastwood and Mr. Massard and Mr. J F Thornton were on the stage, the latter leading in the opening prayer. Mr. Hassard announced that the religious committee of the Y.M.C.A. had determined upon a monthly meeting of this kind for men and it was their intention to carry this out if possible.

Farmer Believes The Townships Should Have Assembly Halls

In some of the townships adjacent to the city, the farmers are beginning to realize that they need some kind of an assembly hall where their young folks would be able to meet and give concerts and entertainments particularly during the winter months. On Friday evening of this week the patrons of the fourth line cheese factory of Smith are holding their annual meeting in connection with which there is a tea and concert. Judging from past affairs of this kind there is bound to be a large assembly as this is one of the few opportunities which the people of that township have of gathering in this manner.

A prominent Smith farmer speaking to a reporter the other day, remarked that he believed that it would be a good investment on the part of the township to erect a fairly large hall, centrally located and well equipped for concerts, teas, etc. The farmers, he said, are sociable beings, and would fully appreciate anything in this respect. "Our young people have no chance to meet now except once or twice in a year, and the manner in which they turn out is sufficient evidence of the interest they take in socials." It is not likely that this advanced idea will be materialized in any of the townships, although Ennismore town hall is something like the suggestion of the Smith farmer. The time has hardly arrived for halls of this kind in the country, although the farmers realize that they are needed for the benefit of their children.

COBALT ORE AVERAGES $650 PER TON

Many Mines Withholding the Great—Of Interest to Cobalt Stock Investors.

The average value of the ore shipped from the Cobalt district to date has been approximately $650 a ton. In 1904 five shippers produced 191 tons, with a gross value of $136,217, an average value per ton of $862. In 1907, twenty-nine mines shipped 14,881 tons, with a gross value of $6,801,095, an average value per ton $425. The decrease in per ton value is accounted for by the fact that the first practice of gophering out the high-grade ores from the surface has been gradually abandoned, and as confidence in the continuation of values to depth is established, proper mining methods have been adopted, resulting in a more intelligent classification of the ores, and also to a much lower price of silver. Mines have withheld from the market but of their high-grade ore, being content, during the period of low silver prices, to ship sufficient ore to meet expenses and dividends. In addition to the remarkably rich narrow veins, which carry from 500 ounces to 15,000 ounces to the ton, the country rock in many of the properties is impregnated with leaf silver. In mining the high grade ore a large amount of this low grade material averaging approximately fifty ounces to the ton, is produced. This material has been gradually accumulating on the dumps, and it is an increasingly important factor in the production of the camp.

Concentrators

A number of mines have built concentrating plants to treat low grade ores before shipment, as the values in this ore are not high enough to pay the excessive freight rates and smelter charges. Five concentrators are now successfully treating 20-oz. to 150-oz. concentrates. From 3 per cent to 55 per cent of the values are recovered. Development of the concentrators will result in a very much higher average value per ton and a medium increase in shipments.

SCOTCHMEN CELEBRATE ST. ANDREW'S DAY

Society Was Founded in Chicago Twenty-five Years Ago.

Examiner Special.

Montreal, Nov. 30.—To-day Scotsmen throughout Canada are celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of St. Andrew's Society. St. Andrew's day is always recognized in some form by those who hail from the land of the heather, but this occasion will be marked by more elaborate celebration than Scotchmen usually hold in commemoration of their national day. In Montreal yesterday was devoted to special services in most of the Presbyterian churches of the city. The annual sermon of the St. Andrew's society was preached in Erskine church last evening by Rev. Prof. A J Gordon, the chaplain of the society. The subject of his sermon was "Christian Patriotism." A number of functions are being held this evening by the different local branches of the society. The most important is the reception which is to be held at St. Andrew's Home. The function is to take the form of a musical evening to be followed by a dance.

St. Andrew's Society was formed in Chicago twenty-five years ago today by a number of young Scotchmen who belonged to St. James' Church. From this small start the society branched out until in a quarter of a century it has extended to every quarter of the civilized world. Branches were established in Canada shortly after its organization in Chicago and the growth of the society in the Dominion has been very rapid.

A LAKEFIELD CHURCH CONCERT

To be Held on Thursday and Friday Nights of This Week.

The ladies of St. John's church, Lakefield, will hold their Xmas bazaar and entertainment on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, in the Town Hall, Lakefield. Great pains are being taken to make this affair a success. The entertainment will consist of a shadow pantomime, songs by the "Snow-flake" Minstrels, choruses and a laugable farce in one act, entitled, "All on account of an actor." Several ladies and gentlemen from Peterborough, are expected to be present.

INTHON BIBLE CLASS HOLD GOOD MEETING

An Address Given by Dr. Marshall on Alcholic Effects

Seventy-one turned out yesterday afternoon to hear the address given by Dr. Marshall on the "Effects of Alcohol on the System." Being the World's Temperance Sunday, the address was just the thing, and you may be sure it was listened to with great interest.

After the friendly hand-shake which always closes each meeting, nearly all the class marched in a body to the Grand to hear Mr. R A Waite, Jr.—Com.

ST. ANDREW THE PATRON SAINT OF 'AULD SCOTIA'

For those who desire romance and legend, associated with the name of St. Andrew, there will be found abundant material presented in delightful and fascinating form in that always popular work with which Spenser and Shakspere were probably more familiar than are the literary writers of the present day,—"The Famous History of the Seven Champions of Christendom." There the reader will find duly set forth the events attending the journey of Scotland's patron saint into a vale of walking spirits, and how from that vale he was set at liberty by a moving fire; how journeying into Thracia, he restored to their natural shape, six fair damsels, who had lived for seven years in the likeness of snow-white swans; together with many other accidents, adventures, and daring exploits that befel this most noble champion.

In a brief article, however, there is time only to deal with history.

St. Andrew was a native of the Galilean town of Bethsaida and with his brother Peter was a fisherman. He was not only a hearer of John the Baptist, during that prophet's so popular ministry, but became identified with him as a disciple. It was while in the company of his master, that he was directed by him to Jesus, the Lamb of God. The story of his interview with the Saviour is well known and his brotherly action on the following day in finding his brother, Simon, and imparting to him the glad news of a Messiah, news that had rejoiced his own heart and made him long to share it with others. St. Andrew in this act has often been compared to a small river steamer, towing out from her moorings into mid-stream, a huge ocean-going vessel. Peter became by far the more conspicuous character of the two and appeared to have moved in more stirring scenes, but for that first news of the Master, Whom afterwards he so devotedly served, Peter was indebted to the quieter Andrew.

Andrew comes before us again in the Gospel story with his suggestion in the presence of the hungry multitude of the presence of a lad, who had five barley loaves, and two small fishes, and once again when some Greeks — forerunners of the multitudes of Gentiles, who should yet come into the kingdom — desired to see Jesus; he with Philip led them to the Christ.

Tradition as in the case of the other disciples, so in that of Andrew, follows the apostle during the period subsequent to Pentecost. We are told, and to this Origen testifies, that he preached the Gospel in Scythia, a region lying along the northern shore of the Black Sea, and other historians say in Colchis, also, a mountainous and wild region, hemmed in by the Caucasus Mountains, and lying to the east of Scythia.

He is supposed also to have visited Greece and at different centres in that land to have silenced the philosophers, with a wisdom and skill in argument, against which none of them could prevail.

The Muscovites have long claimed that St. Andrew founded the Christian church in regions bordering on the frontiers of Poland, and the Greeks claim that he established the true faith in Byzantium afterwards Constantinople, but for both of these claims there is little evidence of his death. St. Bernard says of him, "When he saw at a distance the cross prepared for him, his countenance did not change, nor did his blood freeze in his veins, nor did his hair stand on end, nor did he lose his voice, nor did his body tremble, nor was his soul troubled, nor did his senses fail him, as it happens to human frailty; but the flame of charity, which burned in his breast, cast forth sparks through his mouth.'

The body of the saint is said to have been transported from its resting place at Patrae to Constantinople in 357 A.D., and deposited in a church which Constantine the Great had built to receive the remains.

Scotland's claim to a special interest in St. Andrew rests upon the tradition that a certain abbot, Regulus, in 369, A.D., carried from Constantinople to Scotland some relics of the saint, and deposited them in a church, built in St. Andrew's honour, and named after him on the spot where the city of St. Andrew's now stands. The monastery connected with the church became a place of popular resort for pilgrims from many lands and as early as 800 A.D. was endowed with very great wealth by one of the early Kings in thanksgiving for a victory obtained. It is generally agreed among historians that St. Andrew suffered death by crucifixion, upon a cross which is now known as St. Andrew's, at Patrae, in Achaia. He is said to have hailed the cross with rejoicing, and to have gloried both in his martyrdom and in the manner of his death. The history of the church of that historic town, of its part in the early evangelization of Scotland, of the scenes in which it played so large a part at the Reformation, or the great university that has so conspicuous a place in the educational system of the Scots, all this belongs to another subject, rather than the life and labours of the saint. It is not too much, however, to say that as St. Andrew was, as Bede called him "The Introductor to Christ," Scotland has in no small measure emulated the example of her patron saint in playing the part of the pioneer in paths of political, educational and religious reform for the world, and so has opened the way into the kingdom of Christ for the sons of many lands besides her own. —Robt. Johnston.

PROFESSOR MUNYON'S ALMANAC

Contains Scientific Information Concerning Moon's Phases, Etc.

Professor Munyon has just issued a most beautiful, useful and complete Almanac, it contains not only all the scientific information concerning the moons' phases, in all the latitudes, but has illustrated articles on how to read character by phrenology, palmistry and birth month. It also tells all about card reading, birth stones and their meaning, and gives the interpretation of dreams. It teaches beauty culture, manicuring, gives weights and measures and antidotes for poison. In fact, it is a magazine almanac, that not only gives valuable information, but will afford much amusement for every member of the families, especially for parties and evening entertainments. Farmers and people in the rural districts will find this almanac almost invaluable.

WEDDING BELLS

WEBSTER—SPENCE

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S Spence, Lakefield, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 18th, when their eldest daughter, Miss Ethel, was united in marriage to Mr. Lorne Webster, of Dummer township. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Bedford, of Lakefield, in the presence of only the immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Webster will reside in Dummer and have the best wishes of numerous friends for their future happiness and prosperity.

MACLAREN—MONTGOMERY

The Presbyterian Church, Lakefield, on Wednesday afternoon last, was the scene of a most interesting social event the occasion being the marriage of Miss Lillian, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Montgomery, to Mr. Frederick MacLaren, of Montreal, and formerly of Lakefield. The church was prettily decorated with flowers, foliage, etc., the work of the friends of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Bedford, pastor of the Methodist Church, the church being filled to the doors with friends and well-wishers. The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, Mendelssohn's wedding march being played by Mrs. J. Harry Sherin. The bride was attired in a very becoming travelling suit of green broadcloth, with hat to match, and carried an armful of white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid, Miss Cora Lightfoot, of Montreal, was dressed in brown broadcloth and carried pink chrysanthemums. Mr. Chas. Pattrick acted as groomsman. After the ceremony and while the bridal party were registering, Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald sang "O Promise Me." A reception was was then held at the residence of the bride's parents. The happy couple drove to Peterborough and left on the five o'clock C. P. R. train for Niagara Falls, Buffalo and other western points. On their return they will take up their residence in Montreal. The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome and valuable presents, testifying in no small measure to her popularity. The best wishes of hosts of friends follow Mr. and Mrs. MacLaren to their new home.—Lakefield News.

FEEBLE OLD LADY

Has Strength Restored By Vinol.

Mrs. Michael Bloom, of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money. McDermid & Jury, Druggists, Peterborough.

SHRUBB HERE READY FOR RELAY RACE; THE HITCH WITH LONGBOAT

Alfred Shrubb the great little English runner and holder of all the world's amateur and professional records from 200 yards to 12 miles, arrived in the city this morning to prepare for his relay races at the Auditorium Roller Rink here to-morrow, Wednesday and Thursday nights. The Examiner had the pleasure of a long conversation this afternoon with the speedy little bunch of bone and sinew who has created such havoc among the world's records.

Speaking of Longboat, Shrubb remarked that he made what he considered a most fair proposition to the Indian's manager when he offered to meet him in a series of three races at 10, 15 and 20 miles. He had stipulated that the ten mile should be first, as it was the logical order, and he figured that if he was to beat Longboat at 20 miles there would have been no interest in the following two. Finding, however, that Longboat would not accept that offer he had agreed to run the 20 mile race first on the condition that he put up a forfeit that he would give him two races at 10 and 15 miles afterwards. The Indian's manager had refused to do this and there was another hitch.

There will no doubt be a big crowd at the roller rink to-morrow night when Shrubb will run a mile relay race against local runners. It is not often that Peterborough people get a chance to see a world's champion and they will doubtless welcome the opportunity to see the English wonder in action.

Shrubb has been in the running game for eleven years and has made some astounding performances during his career. In his first appearance he was third, and after that he was never beaten, making new records time after time in England. Probably his most notable performance was in Glasgow on Nov. 5th, 1904, when he ran in a ten-mile Scottish championship race. In this contest he broke all the records from five miles to ten and made such wonderful time that he decided to go on for the hour's run doing eleven miles, 1,136 yards in the sixty minutes, which beat Deerfoot's wonderful record for the same time. During the race Shrubb set the world's record for five miles at 24.55 4-5, which he afterwards lowered to 24.33, for six miles at 29.59 2-5, for seven miles at 35.04 3-5, for eight miles at 40.16, for nine miles at 45.27 3-5, for ten miles at 50.46 3-5, and for eleven miles at 56.23 2-5.

Shrubb's mark for fifteen miles is 1.20 4-5.

GIVE THE CHILDREN PLENTY OF FRUIT

It Helps to Keep Them Well.

In a growing, active child the cells of which the body is composed are being worn out—and replaced — very rapidly. This dead tissue must be gotten rid of somehow, and the danger is that the eliminating organs—the Bowels, Kidneys and Skin—may not do their work well enough. Then the blood becomes poisoned and the child does not thrive.

Nothing has such an invigorating effect on these organs as ripe fruit juices. Apple juice increases the action of the kidneys; other fruit juices stimulate the liver to secrete more bile, and bile produces easy and regular movements of the bowels; others stir up the glands of the skin to throw off more waste matter.

The difficulty is that to get these effects a great deal of fruit must be eaten, and the excess of pulp and woody matter may upset the digestion. The better way is to give the children "Fruit-a-tives", which are tablets made of concentrated fruit juices with valuable tonics added.

"Fruit-a-tives" have the combined effect of the different fruit juices, helping all the eliminating organs to work properly, curing Constipation, toning up the system, and keeping the children plump and rosy. 25c. for a trial box. 50c. for regular size—6 boxes for $2.50, Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

SCANDAL IS FEARED IN PARIS

Effort Being Made to Suppress Steinheil Case in France.

WOMAN'S LOVER TESTIFIES

Paramour of Madame Steinheil Suspected of Having Killed Her Husband and Stepmother, Gives Damaging Information—Dreyfusards Are Struggling to Force Full Publicity in the Entire Case.

Paris, Nov. 30.—The possible developments of the political side of the Steinheil case can best be likened to a powder magazine, and the Dreyfusards are moving heaven and earth to explode it, absolutely regardless of the national scandal that may result.

M. Berry, Conservative, gave notice in the Chamber of Deputies Saturday afternoon, that he intended to present an interpellation on the matter.

The sensational afternoon papers were filled with the wildest rumors and the most minute recitals concerning the death of M. Faure. It has been predicted already that Madame Steinheil will be declared crazy and locked up in an asylum, and that in this manner all further proceedings will be stifled. As a matter of fact, the experts agree that she is to-day a complete nervous wreck, even if she were responsible at the time of the crime.

Several newspaper pretend to know the name of the assassin of Steinheil and Mme. Japy, as well as that of his accomplice.

Magistrate Andre has ordered that an autopsy be performed on the bodies of M. Steinheil and Mme. Japy, on the new theory that they were poisoned before they were strangled.

M. Couilland testified that he saw Mme. Steinheil pour rum into the glasses of her husband and mother on the night of the crime—something which she never done before.

Doctors who took the stand testified to the absence of any evidence that the victims had struggled or suffered during the strangulation, and suggested that a drug had been administered beforehand.

M. Couilland also testified that since the murders Mme. Steinheil had ordered him to destroy various bottles in the family medicine chest.

"Contrary to custom," he said, "Mme. Steinheil's attitude on the night of the crime towards her husband and mother was amazingly amiable."

Maurice Borderel, a rich retired merchant, a widower with three children, described his acquaintanceship with madame. After having yielded to her charms, following an introduction at her own home, he said:

"For a month it was an exquisite idyl. Mme. Steinheil said she adored me, and each meeting she made new avowals and swore I was the only lover she had ever had."

She said she hated her husband and would get a divorce and marry him, but he insisted that Mrs. Steinheil could not have hoped to marry him, as he had distinctly advised her against securing divorce, at the same time declaring that he could never wed her on account of his children.

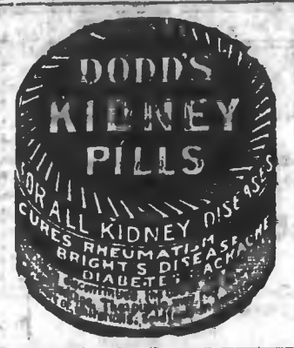
"It is impossible for me to believe," he said, "that the woman who was so gay and light-hearted over the telephone in the morning committed these atrocious murders at nightfall."

Dies Rescuing Dog.

Hamilton, Nov. 30.—Miss T. Ververanan, Whitfield avenue, a young Polish woman, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon in trying to save the life of her dog. She was walking on the radial tracks near Irondale, with her husband and the dog was trotting along behind them. The motorman sounded his gong, and the woman and her husband got off the track, but the dog refused to follow them. Just as the car was right upon the dog the woman made a dive for it and was struck by the car, receiving injuries from which she died in the city hospital last evening. An inquest will be held by Coroner Balfe.

Superior Branch Open.

Winnipeg, Nov. 30.—Saturday marked the inauguration of the first regular passenger and freight service on the Grand Trunk Pacific between Fort William and Lake Superior Junction.



BOY PERSONATORS FREE.

Tomlinson and Arnett Out on Suspended Sentence.

Port Arthur, Nov. 30.—The boys, John Tomlinson and John Arnett, convicted of personation, appeared before Mr. Justice Britton for sentence at 10.30 Saturday morning.

Their counsel, Mr. A. E. Cole, renewed his application for leniency. Addressing the boys the judge told them they had been convicted of a serious offence, but, taking into consideration the jury's recommendation to mercy and the pleas that had been made in their behalf, he had decided to release them on suspended sentence on condition that they would give their own recognisance to appear if called on to give evidence at the next Assizes.

In the meantime his lordship suggested that the crown confer with the Attorney-General's Department in reference to the reserve case as to the legality of the Dexter Grand Trunk poll.

SAW SWEETHEART AT MURDER.

Young Girl Confesses to Knowledge of Brutal Crime.

Belleville, Ill., Nov. 30.—A new turn was given to the mystery which has surrounded the death of Peter Waeltz, 64 years old, whose body, with neck broken, was found at the foot of a stairway here last Sunday, when Miss Nellie Morton, 17 years old, confessed to the police that she sat watching the old man sink into unconsciousness while her sweetheart, Sydney Baker, held a chloroformed handkerchief to his face. Baker is a photographer, and Miss Morton is in his employ. Baker has not yet been found.

Waeltz was a well-to-do farmer, and when last seen by his friends had $75 with him.

Cattle Embargo Strict.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—An order-in-council passed on Saturday provides that no vessel from any American port with cattle on board will be allowed to touch any Canadian port; that no Canadian cattle will hereafter be exported to Europe except from Canadian ports; that no vessel clearing from a Canadian port with cattle from the United States will be permitted to take Canadian cattle on board; that no vessel which has touched a port in any of the affected states will be allowed for a period of twenty-one days to take cattle from Canada.

The Government has been advised that the Canadian Pacific Railway is refusing to carry American cattle through Canada via way of Winnipeg.

Tanners In Bad Way.

Washington, Nov. 30.—At Saturday's session of the tariff committee the duty on hides was denounced as a bounty on one industry for the benefit of another, by C. M. Jones, president of the New England Shoe and Leather Association. He predicted "that within three years every independent tanner would be driven out of business by the packers."

Steamer Bennington Released.

Brockville, Nov. 30.—The steamer Bennington of the Rutland line was taken off the rocks yesterday morning, where she had been stranded since Thursday night, and proceeded under her own steam to Ogdensburg for repairs. She was leaking badly forward, ten feet of water being in one bulkhead.

Eye on U. S. Tariff.

London, Nov. 30.—The Chamber of Commerce is taking action toward requesting the Government to take action for the protection of British interests in connection with the expected revision of the American tariff laws.

Embezzler Gets 15 Years.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 30.—William Montgomery, former cashier of the Allegheny National Bank, which failed for over $1,000,000 some time ago, was sentenced to serve fifteen years in the Western Pennsylvania Penitentiary Saturday by Judge Yong of the United States Court for embezzlement and the abstraction of over $500,000.

Hugh John Takes Oath.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—Hon. Hugh John Macdonald of Winnipeg took the oath of allegiance Saturday morning as member of His Majesty's Privy Council for Canada.

He had previously taken the oath of office in the reign of Queen Victoria, but not since King Edward ascended the throne.

Autos Barred Out.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—According to the report of the committee of the Privy Council, approved by the Governor-General of Canada, the anti-automobile act passed at the last session of the Prince Edward Island Legislature has been declared within the power of the Provincial Legislature to enact.

Haytian Troops Beaten.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The State Department on Saturday received the following despatch from Minister Furness of Port-au-Prince, Hayti:

"The Government troops have been defeated and the insurgents are marching upon the capital. Situation serious."

Big Industry For Welland.

Welland, Nov. 30.—It is reported that fifteen acres of land have been bought here by an English tin plate company. The company have signed agreements to locate a plant in Welland and to employ 250 men.

The woman suffrage movement has gained a new and notable adherent in Mme. Melba, the famous opera singer.

The Canadian Government has extended the quarantine regulations on cattle to the States of Delaware and Maryland.

At New York, Miss Julia Osgood, 23 years old, a sister of John Cleveland Osgood, a Colorado millionaire, was fatally hurt by an automobile.

Fully $30,000 worth of motor boats, launches and other light craft were destroyed in a fire which demolished one of the frame boat houses of the Toronto Canoe Club early yesterday.

J. Walter Curry, K.C., and A. O. White of Toronto have purchased the Mailloux farm from Hon. Dr. Reaume, and will erect a number of dwellings near the entrance of the Michigan Central tunnel.

Boy Housebreaker Sentenced.

Lindsay, Nov. 30.—"It was the devil that done it," was the defence of Cleveland Kent of Bobcaygeon, 15 years of age, arrested while housebreaking there. He broke into a widow's home and when she found him he struck her over the head with a club. She held him, however, until assistance arrived.

Magistrate Moore sentenced Kent to a term in the industrial school, not to exceed five years, nor to be less than two years.

John Dickenson Injured.

Hamilton, Nov. 30.—John Dickenson, ex-M.P.P., a director of the street railway, was very seriously injured by one of the company's cars late Saturday night near Crown Point. He was run into by a street car and had a narrow escape from instant death, as he was jammed under the fender when the car was stopped. He received a bad scalp wound and other injuries.

Six Smother In Mine.

Detroit, Nov. 30.—Six men were suffocated to death Saturday afternoon in the village of Oakwood, outside the western outskirts of Detroit.

They were at work 500 feet down in a shaft being sunk for a salt mine, when the canvas tube which supplied them with air became clogged and the shaft filled with gas.

Four bodies have been recovered.

Stabbing at Chatham.

Chatham, Nov. 30.—In a brutal fight in Simmon's poolroom, King street, at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, James Burleigh, white, stabbed B. Johnson, colored, with a knife in the left arm, inflicting a long, ugly gash.

Johnson's wound required several stitches to sew it up.

Dressed Meat Exempt.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—To meet the objections raised by the railway companies that the quarantine regulations were preventing the shipment of beef from the west through Canada in bond, authorization has been given for the shipment of dressed carcasses and other meat products in bond on Canadian railways.

Triple Drowning.

Thessalon, Nov. 30.—Two weeks ago Mr. William Menor and his son, D. Menor, with Fred Eno, left here for a few days' shooting down the shore east of the Indian Reserve.

Their boat has been found wrecked and there is no doubt all three have perished.

Locomotives Collide.

Boston, Nov. 30.—One man was killed, five persons probably fatally hurt and 35 more or less seriously injured in a rear-end collision of two locomotive passenger trains at the South Boston station of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad last night.

Charge Discrimination.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—The Board of Trade of Guernsey, Sask., is complaining to the Railway Commission that the C.P.R. rates on grain to Fort William for reshipment to points east discriminate against Guernsey in favor of other shipping points in the same territory. The case will be heard here to-day or Tuesday.

"CAN I GET WELL?"

If Your Trouble comes from the Kidneys, or from Kidney Poisons in the Blood,

YES!

And if you have been ailing a long time don't lose your courage. It takes a little time—takes some constitutions longer than others. But Doan's Kidney Pills will gradually drain the poisons out of your system; the pain in your back will stop; the sediment in the urine will cease; there will be no rheumatic pains; you will feel free and brighter, and when the last of the poisons have gone you will be well.

There is no way of getting the kidney poisons out of the system except through the kidneys, and no medicine so effective in taking them out as Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mr. W. Perkins, South Maitland, N.S., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know of the great cure I have obtained by using Doan's Kidney Pills. For six months I could not obtain a good night's rest, had to get up four or five times to urinate, and the urine was very thick and red. I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills and in a very short time I was right and fit again. I am very thankful to have found so speedy a cure."

Price 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

T.A.S.A.C. ARE THE CITY CHAMPIONS; DEFEATED Y.M.C.A. SATURDAY 29 TO 4; ABSTAINERS HAD THE BEST OF PLAY

The Y.M.C.A. seniors proved a light lunch for the T.A.S. Athletic Club's seniors in the game for the city championship at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon, and the Abstainers left the field victors by a score of 29 to 4 Neither team had its strongest line-up on, several of the "Y" back division being absent while the T.A.S. had to rake up a new wing line for the game. In spite of this and the fact that the teams have had no practice for several weeks, the game was a most interesting one and good rugby was played, none of the points being the result of fumbles. The weather conditions were perfect and the field was in good shape. Both teams adopted open tactics and the ball was always in sight with the result that the small crowd present found the game most enjoyable.

The "Y" never had a chance to win although had they kicked more when they had the wind in their favour they might have made the score closer. The T.A.S. with the wind in their favour ran up a score of 17 points in the first quarter and after that there was no doubt of the result of the game. The winners were superior in their back division and on the line, and had much the better of the play. They adopted most successful tactics on the back division using the on-side kick game with much effect. Three touch downs were scored on this play and another was the result of similar tactics. The backs handled the ball nicely, and combination end runs and criss crosses were effective and spectacular features of their playing. On the wing line the Abstainers had much the better of the battle giving their backs plenty of protection when on the attack and tearing holes in the "Y" line when that team were in possession o fthe ball.

The score by quarters was 17—0, 22—1, 29—1 and 29—4. The "Y" had no system behind the line and although they did some pretty individual work it was not effective as a rule They made the mistake of not taking advantage of the strong breeze blowing when playing with the wind and this undoubtedly kept their score down.

Quinlan at centre half for the winners, played a fine game throughout. His kicking to his outside halves for the onside play was perfect, and big gains invariably resulted on this play. He made several spectacular runs and hit the line hard. Crough did sterling work, getting over for no less than three touch-downs on runs from short kicks, coming up from behind to take the ball. Cahill at full back handled the ball cleanly and played splendid Rugby, getting away with some splendid runs, one of them in the last quarter being for forty yards. Lundy played his usual reliable and effective game at quarter, his tackling being a feature. Al the forward line did good work, the juniors being especially prominent.

Dick Evans at full back for the "Y" was reliable, handling punts nicely while he kicked well against the wind Laing did nice work at centre half, although he did not kick as well as usual. He was given poor protection from his wing line and had always to kick at close quarters. Dobson made his first appearance and did good work on the half line. Porter of the Rough Riders, was one of the most useful men of the "Y" men. He bucked well, and his tackling was splendid. Bobby Hall was the most prominent on the wing line ad never let up for a moment.

Gene Hurtubise was referee, and Dr. MacPherson umpire. Both gave every satisfaction. The game was not rough although there was one little mix-up and a number of players were penalized for high tackling and tripping.

The teams were as follows:

T. A. S.		Y.M.C.A
Cahill	Back	Evans
Craig Quinlan Crough	Halves	Archibald Laing Dobson
Lundy	Quarters	Porter
Clarke Fitzgerald Dorris	Scrimmage	Shirley Turner
	Wings
Hickey Davidson Fitzpatrick O'Brien H. Quinlan		Henderson Hayes Hall Armstrong Staunton

The T.A.S. won the toss and elected to play with the wind in their favour the first quarter. Laing kicked off to Quinlan, who returned to centre and it was T.A.S. ball on a fumble. A short kick from Quinlan to Craig, allowed the latter to get almost over the line, and on the second down Lundy bucked through for a try which was not converted.

The quick score seemed to demoralize the "Y" and the play remained in their territory. A few minutes latter Crough scored another try by quick following up of a short kick from Quinlan. Somebody moved the ball and the T.A.S. lost the chance to convert. A few minutes afterwards however, they scored a safety touch and followed it up by carrying the ball from centre on a series of end runs and criss-crosses, Craig finally going over after a criss cross with Quinlan, Crough missed converting it by a scant foot. Quarter time score T.A.S. 17, Y.M.C.A, 0.

At the beginning of the second quarter, T.A.S. playing against the wind continued to press The "Y" tackling was loose, and the Abstainers' backs were allowed to get away for big gains while the "Y" failed to kick when they had the wind with them. The T.A.S. kept up the short kick game against the wind, and Crough got over for a try which was not converted. The "Y" managed to get one point before half time, Laing kicking to the dead ball line. Half time score, T.A.S. 22, Y.M.C.A 1

Honours were even for some time at the beginning of the third quarter, the play ranging around centre field, although the "Y" did not have a chance to score. Finally Quinlan kicked to touch in goal for a point and a few minutes after Crough got another touch-down by fast following up of Quinlan's short kick across the field. Crough converted neatly and the score at the end of the third quarter was T.A.S. 29, Y.M.C.A. 1.

The "Y" had the best of the play in the last quarter, and had they made better use of their opportunities might have made the score much closer. They had the wind with them and the breeze had increased if anything but they preferred to try the running game and it did not get them much. They however held the play in T.A.S. territory for the quarter and if they had kicked would undoubtedly have scored as the Abstainers were tiring. However a safety touch and a kick into touch-in-goal was the best they could get before time was called.

CENTRAL'S GREAT BASKETBALL TEAM BEAT LOCALS ON SATURDAY 48-14

The local Y. M. C. A. basket ball team failed to show themselves in a class with the Toronto Central "Y" team, in their game in the "Y" gymn here on Saturday night. and the visitors left the floor with the big end of a 48—14 score in their possession. At half time the Centrals led by 29—5, and were masters of the situation at all points, their fast work seeming to sweep the locals off their feet. Despite the one-sided score, however, the game was always interesting and the large crowd which followed the play from th gallery, were well entertained. To watch the work of the visitors was well worth the price of from the gallery, were well entertained. To watch the work of the visitors was well worth the price of from the gallery, were well entertained. To watch the work of the visitors was well worth the price of admission. Fast and shifty, they play a lightning-like combination, the ball passing from one man to another with a speed that seemed to dazzle their opponents, and that gives them opening after opening for shots. That they took full advantage of such openings is apparent from the score, Every man on the team shoots with deadly accuracy, and they were finding the baskets on Saturday night from every angle. The Centrals employ the long passing game to the fullest advantage, the defence shooting the ball down to the forwards like a bullet. The ball invariably is handled cleanly too, and there are no fumbles, despite the speed at which the passes are made. They work free from their checks in a bewildering manner, and when on the defensive, check hard and close, allowing few openings. Their work was a revelation to the crowd and they made a most favourable impression.

The locals were handicapped by the fact that they were a picked team and that it was their first game together. They have had little opportunity to develop team work, and their combination therefore suffered in comparison with that of the Centrals. At times they got away with some clever passing, but it was spasmodic, and was generally broken up before it resulted in a shot at the basket. At times, too, there was a looseness in their checking that was costly, and the visitors were allowed five or six shots in succession when one at the most was all they were entitled to. During the second half the locals began to get used to the Central's system and did better work, especially in checking.

White and Sievert, the two Toronto forwards, are marvellous shots, and got most of the points for their team, although Miller, the centre, who was playing in Tompkin's place, owing to injury received by that player in the game with Hamilton a week ago, played splendid ball and was responsible for a lot of damage in the scoring line. Brittain and Swanson are two splendid defence men. They check closely and get the ball back to their forwards in clever fashion. Fitzpatrick was the pick of the locals, getting ten of their points and shooting well whenever he had an opening. Neither of the forwards got a basket, which speaks well for the work of the Central backs. Best scored two baskets on pretty shots and did some useful work on the defence, as did Laing, Dobbin and Sutherland, The forwards were checked too closely to be dangerous and they had hard luck in the few openings they got.

Tompkins, of the Centrals refereed the first half and Len Dobson the second. Both gave satisfaction.

The teams were as follows:

Toronto.		Peterborough.
	Backs.
Britton		Laing
Swanson		Best
	Centre.
Miller		Fitzpatrick
	Forwards.
White		Sutherland
Sievert		Dobbin

Peterborough drew first blood, Fitzpatrick scoring a basket from a foul soon after the commencement of play. Centrals quickly tied the score on a foul and then scored two baskets in quick succession. Fitzpatrick scored for Peterborough on a nice shot, but the visitors commenced to draw rapidly away from the locals. They soon accustomed theselves to the floor and quickly jumped the score to 21—3, scoring with bewildering rapidity. Best scored for the locals and then the visitors had another attack of scoring fever and brought the score to 29 before half time, while the locals failed to count.

At the beginning of th eseond half Best scored for Peterborough, but the visitors got two more before Fitzpatrick found the basket again. Four times more did the Centrals tally before Fitzpatrick once more scored for Peterborough, the score then standing 41—11. Two more baskets boosted the figure to 45 and Fitz made good use of another opening. Before time was called the Centrals scored a field basket and a foul, bringing their total to 48 points; while Peterborough scored on a foul.

The Chieftains defeated the Rustlers in an interesting preliminary game by 13 points to 10. The contest was close all the way. The Rustlers assumed an early lead and were out in front by 6—2 at halt time. The Chieftains managed to pull down the lead in the second half and finally won out. The teams were as follows:

Chieftains.		Rustlers.
	Backs.
Ray		Lees
Kirn		Pringle
	Centre.
R Hall		Dobbin
	Forwards.
Wallis		Meldrum
A Hall		Loomis

The following shows the number of baskets scored by each player;—

Centrals

Sievert, 9 baskets, 6 fouls, 24 points.
White, 6 baskets, 12 points
Miller, 4 baskets, 8 points
Swanson, 1 basket, 2 points.
Britton, 1 basket, 2 points

Peterborough

Fitzpatrick, 4 baskets 2 fouls, 10 points.
Best, 2 baskets, 4 points.

SOME BOUQUETS FOR DEN SIMPSON; THE TIGERS MISSED HIM GREATLY

The Toronto Globe hands out the following bouquet to Ben Simpson;

The contention of the Hamilton management to the contrary notwithstanding, the Tigers are a decidedly better team with Simpson, the great punting pedagogue, in the game than they are without him Hamilton followers have contended that they have not a one-man team, and while they are prone to point to Simpson as the greatest half in the country, they contend that they are just as strong when he is not in the game. The Tigers missed Simpsons' punting Saturday, and none of the other Tiger halves used the timely judgment which characterizes the work of the regular left half. He has a better pair of hands than Moore, Biggs or Tope, and Burton is no surer catch than Simpson.

It is doubtful whether Varsity will ever have a better opportunity to win the national title than that afforded Saturday. The Blue and White team was never better coached, and never in better condition physically. In the face of these facts the Tigers have had a hard season, have suffered considerably by injuries, and were without Simpson, the pivotal point around which many of their plays are built. It has been the custom of the Hamiltonians to call upon Simpson in the exigencies where disaster threatened. To say that he was missed goes without saying. The field was dry and fast, a condition which favoured Varsity rather than Hamilton.

FRED DOHERTY GETS SEVERAL OFFERS TO PLAY PROFESSIONAL

Mr. Fred Doherty of the Norwood hockey team last winter, is now in Warkworth with his brother. He states that the latter village will have a strong team this winter and will make a strong bid for the Trent Valley League. Norwood will not enter the City League, he says, but will probably play in the Trent Valley League.

Fred has had several tempting offers to turn "pro" and it is understood that Brantford, and Guelph have tried to corral him, but he is averse to professionalism. "Amateur sport for mine" are his words and it will be an exceptional offer that will induce him to leave the moneyless ranks. Fred is also considering playing in Sudbury where his former team mate "Joe" Powers is located, and as might be expected, is found between the flags of a team in the northern town. Doherty is yet undecided as to what he will do in the hockey line this winter.

RUGBY CLUB'S ANNUAL MEETING IS TO BE HELD TO-NIGHT

All Rugby enthusiasts in the city are asked to be present at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Club, which will be held at 8 o'clock this evening at the Y.M.C.A. It is the intention to elect officers and make other arrangements for next season in order to get the team underway in plenty of time. Every one interested in Rugby whether he be young or old is invited to attend.

"The Mikado" is the world's most famous musical play. 1d

LINDSAY ARE THE JUNIOR CHAMPIONS OF O. R. F. U.

Lindsay, Nov. 28.—The final game for the junior O.R.F.U. championship was played on the local gridiron this afternoon, between the Capitals, winners of the Toronto district, and the locals, winners of districts Nos. 2 and 3. It resulted in the championship being captured by the locals by the score of 5 points to 3. The teams were very evenly matched, and the game was very close, as the score would indicate. The Lindsay team are to be congratulated on winning the junior honours. The game is new to the town, and the team was organized only this season. They have come through the season without a defeat being registered against them in the league matches.

CURLING

The Curling Club will meet at their new rink on Wednesday night at eight o'clock, when the election of skips and general business will take place.

RANDALL OF LINDSAY IS TO PLAY WITH GALT

Randall, the tough little wing man of the Lindsay team, is going to Galt to play with Buck Irving's mercenaries.

The kid has been in the game for three years with Lindsay and has proven his mettle time and again. He came here from Smith's Falls and practically learned the game in this town.

For a wing man there were few juniors or intermediates, for that matter, that could get away from Randall, and he was a fair shot.

Buck Irving has lines out for Billy Stoddard, Lindsay's fast rover, to play with the Galt pros. this winter. Stoddard received a letter yesterday from Irving asking what inducement was necessary, but B.ll refused and will remain in amateur ranks.—Lindsay Watchman-Warder.

CHURCH HOCKEY LEAGUE TO BE ORGANIZED NEXT WEEK

A meeting of the various Boys' clubs of the different churches to organize a church hockey league, will be held in the Y.M.C.A. parlours, on Monday, Dec. 7th, at 7.45. Every church having a hockey club is requested to have representatives present.

The Executive of the Church Baseball League is also requested to be there to assist in organization.

RUGBY

Here was Ben Simpson's forecast of the victors given prior to Saturdays' big Rugby game;—

"I would rather play at Varsity," said Ben Simpson, "but I think that Rosedale will be more in our favour. It would be extremely funny if Varsity repeat the dose they handed out to the Rough Riders a couple of years ago, when they won out in the last couple of minutes of play by a try by Casey Baldwin. I hardly think they will, though," concluded Ben.

A weak Spring Gun

It is easy enough to have excellent tests of ammunition if the manufacturer uses only new arms in which to do the testing. All Dominion ammunition is not only tested in new guns of all makes, but must pass the almost unfair test of being shot in old guns with weak springs.

For all makes of arms. Costs one-third to one-fifth less than duty paying ammunition. Our guarantee puts all risk on the Dominion Cartridge Co., Ltd., Montreal.

BREAKFAST IN THE LORDS.

It is an Old Function Which Has Had Famous Devotees.

The customary breakfast given at the opening of the legal term by the Lord Chancellor in the House of Lords to about 300 guests is an institution which goes back to the days of the versatile Brougham. For the last forty years it has been held in the House of Lords, but at an earlier date it was given in the Lord Chancellor's residence. It is a relic of the times when breakfast was a great social function.

Many other great men had what may be termed the breakfast habit. Thus Mr. Gladstone was a regular giver of breakfasts and a constant attendant at them when given by others. Of recent years, however, the breakfast has fallen into desuetude as a social function, except at the universities, where young men are still found who are capable of consuming three or four courses and the while maintaining a genial flow of elegant conversation.

Recently an attempt has been made to revive the breakfast. Thus the King in 1907, at Newmarket, issued several invitations to breakfast parties. To our ancestors the meal was a solid one, of many dishes of meat, qualified by sack possets or small beer, the ancient equivalent of soda water. Tea was not known, and coffee was only to be found in the mediaeval analogue of the modern museum.

Railway Train as a Law Court.

Judge Sir Horatio Lloyd, who recently celebrated his 79th birthday, is noted for his practical, if unconventional, methods of dealing out the law. A few years ago, at the end of a tiring day at Mold, he had to try an important case, which had to be decided that day. It was, however, quite as important, if not more so, that his honor should not fail to catch the next train to Chester, where he was expected for further legal business. The train left in ten minutes, but the judge made up his mind in fewer seconds. "Come with me," he said to the counsel on either side. A rush was made for the station, an empty first-class compartment was secured, and as the train rattled along the arguments were duly set forth. As the train steamed into Chester Judge Lloyd delivered judgment.

Lord Pirrie, K.P.

Lord Pirrie, whom King Edward has created a Knight of St. Patrick, is the first baron of a creation that is two years old, and the chairman of the great shipbuilding and engineering establishment of Messrs. Harland and Wolff, in Belfast, Ireland. Born in Quebec in 1847, and educated at the Belfast Royal Academic Institution, Lord Pirrie is to-day a deputy lieutenant for the County and of the City of Belfast, and he has been High Sheriff of County Antrim and of County Down. In 1897 he was sworn in as a Privy Councillor, and one year later became the first honorary freeman of the City of Belfast.

Romance of an "Agony."

The following "agony" advertisement appeared in an English newspaper recently: "Cheailton.—I sang at concert with success "Love Me and the World is Mine"; it was to you my Sahib, I sang, for I turned to the east and thought of Kipling's last line in "Without the Aid of Clergy," and wafted it to you. The encore I gave was "When that one Ship comes back to me." Why did they cry? I did not, because I saw The Ship, and U coming back to the Love of C."

Taught Three Generations.

Mr. Wm. Harvey, who is about to retire from the headmastership of All Saints' Schools, Cricklewood, England, has scholars in his school who are the grandchildren of his first pupils.

An Expensive Task.

One of the most interesting developments of the C.P.R. system in the past few years, is the big tunnelling which has been going on for many months a few miles east of the Divide. Here, in order to overcome the steep grade of the Rockies, the company is building two spiral tunnels in the mountains on either side of Kicking Horse river. A thousand men are still at work on this undertaking, which is now approaching completion. The gigantic nature of the work may be judged from the fact that it is costing $1,500,000, the whole of, which is being spent for the purpose of enabling two engines to pull an ordinary train up a big hill at the rate of twenty miles an hour.

Rush For Lands.

The rush for pre-emption land in the Moose Jaw district continues. Official figures recently issued show that an area of 2,844 square miles of land in that district has been homesteaded and pre-empted during the past ten months.

FAMOUS NUN'S DEATH.

Mother Doyle Assisted Miss Florence Nightingale In Crimean War.

One of the most interesting survivors among the few who still remain of the noble band of women who nursed with Miss Florence Nightingale in the Crimea has passed away in Mother Mary Aloysius Doyle, at the Convent of Mercy, Gort, County Galway, Ireland. The venerable lady had attained the great age of 94 years, but her faculties were unimpaired. The great value of the services rendered by the first party of nurses who went out with Miss Nightingale led Mr. Sidney Herbert to request Miss Stanley, sister of the former Dean of Westminster, to select further reinforcements for her, and letters were written to all the convents in Ireland for trained volunteers. In the Community-Room of the Convent of Mercy, Carlow, that letter was read aloud, and all the nuns expressed their desire to go. Sister Mary Aloysius and Sister Mary Stanislaus, both devoted and enthusiastic, and personally strong, were chosen, and the departure was made with all promptitude. At Kingstown they joined others of the Irish contingent, and started amid loud demonstrations of admiration and approval. In London they received the benediction of Dr. Manning. Sailing from Portsmouth, they traveled across France, embarking again at Marseilles. They had a wretched passage on the old Egyptus to Gallipoli, where they disembarked. Miss Nightingale had not work at first for the new arrivals at Scutari, but as soon as Christmas was over she found calls for five, among whom was Sister Mary Aloysius, at the General Hospital. Here her first duties were in the stores.

They followed the campaign through and on their return to Dublin the sisters were received with every manifestation of affection, a grand Te Deum was sung, and a High Mass of thanksgiving offered. Subsequently Sister Mary Aloysius went to the convent at Gort, where her sister is still living. But, though living in quiet, her services had not been forgotten, and in the year of the Diamond Jubilee Queen Victoria conferred upon her the decoration of the Royal Red Cross.

A Source of Joy.

"What seems to be the matter with Mrs. Brown that she's ailing so?"

"Why, poor thing, she's got one of those newfangled diseases."

"She has? My, how fortunate she is, to be sure. Here I've had nothing more stylish than lumbago, and I'm three years older than she is."—Detroit Free Press.

Smart Set English.

The speech of the smart man and woman sufficiently betrays the modern attitude. To speak good English is middle class. The modern vocabulary is very small, and the greater part of it is composed of slang.—Black and White.

None Left Alive.

"An orator," said one of our statesmen, "was addressing an assemblage of the people. He recounted the people's wrongs. Then he passionately cried:

"'Where are America's great men? Why don't they take up the cudgel in our defense? In the face of our manifold wrongs why do they remain cold, immovable, silent?'

"'Because they're all cast in bronze!' shouted a cynic in the rear."

Bucolic Humor.

"Hiram, why don't you speak to that city gal out there a-sittin' on the grass with her back up agin your 'No Trespassing' sign?"

"Mandy, that young woman is beneath my notice."—Boston Transcript.

Canadian Girl Makes Hit.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—(C.A.P.)—Kathleen Parlow, Canadian violinist, achieved a great triumph at Bluethnerhall Saturday night. She was recalled twenty times. Her playing of Brahms' concerto aroused great enthusiasm.

On Friday she played with signal success before a critical audience at Gewandhaus Leipzig.

Huge Tin Plate Merger.

London, Nov. 30.—The Iron and Steel Trades' Journal states that English and American tin plate manufacturers at London have formed a combine which practically will control the industry throughout the world.

Bishop Farthing's Inaugural.

Kingston, Nov. 30.—Dean Farthing, the bishop-elect of Montreal Diocese, has been notified that his consecration will take place on Jan. 6, the Feast of the Epiphany, in Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal.

The Premier's Trick.

At a meeting in Liverpool on one occasion Mr. Asquith began a sentence, stopped in the middle of it, and took a gulp of water from a tumbler beside him. The audience roared. "Ah," said the Premier, "that's a trick I learned of Bob Lowe. 'If you stop to drink at the end of a sentence, depend upon it some other fellow will pop up to cut you short,' he said." As an example of the Premier's wit, the following might be recalled. One of the first law cases in which Mr. Asquith came into prominence was the famous trial of Hawke v. Dunn, when the Anti-Gambling League did their utmost to prohibit betting on Kempton Park race course. Mr. Asquith appeared for the league, and argued that the course was "a place within the meaning of the act." During the hearing various more or less acceptable theories were put forward as to what did not constitute a place. "Suppose," said Mr. Justice Wright, "I were to give you an area marked by the meridians of longitude, would that constitute a place in your opinion, Mr. Asquith?" "That, my lord," was Mr. Asquith's instant and witty retort, "would be merely a matter of degree."

The Magical Mirror.

An ordinary mirror of any size or shape, a piece of French chalk pointed so that it can be used to write and a silk handkerchief are the requisites. Draw upon the mirror with the chalk any design or words you choose. With the handkerchief wipe the glass lightly until it is perfectly clear and no writing or design is apparent. Having all this prepared beforehand, show to some one and request that he breathe gently on the face of the glass, when he will see a picture of his future wife, for the design drawn will show very distinctly. This can again be wiped off, and if breathed upon the design will be again visible.

THE word "OXOL" does not mean one food or one preparation. No "OXOL" is a name given to all goods for horses, cattle, swine and sheep, prepared by Messrs. S. K. and T. C. Windsor, of Australia, New Zealand, England and Canada.

The veterinary preparations as well as the compressed bales of fodder placed on the market of the world under the name of

"OXOL" for Cattle

are all of the greatest possible order of merit and may be used by farmers, graziers, dairymen and all owners of stock with the full assurance that these goods have the power in a very short time to double their incomes by feeding, fattening and curing all animals, which to them means money.

Scientific Meetings will be organized by Messrs. Windsor and held through out the Dominion of Canada, when farmers desirous of improving their knowledge of stock will have an opportunity of doing so and to be instructed on the life of stock from birth to death, free of any charge.

BRAVERY OF BRAKEMAN RESPONSIBLE FOR SAFETY OF TRAINMEN IN DISASTROUS FREIGHT WRECK AT THE BETHANY SIDING

Ernest Irvine Climbs Over Engine and Tender to Warn Comrades in Engine Coach Behind---He Was the Last Man to Jump And Was Seriously Injured---Signal Given Prematurely, the Supposed Cause of the Wreck ---Several Cars and Two Engines in the Wreckage Heap--Trainmen and Tramps Have Miraculous Escapes

WEST BOUND FREIGHT CUT IN TWO BY COLLISION

Examiner Special.

C. P. R. FREIGHT WRECK.

ENGINEER injured slightly.

Seven or eight cars of west bound train derailed and both engines of east bound double-header wrecked.

Supposed Cause—Signal given to east bound train that the other had cleared switch at the Bethany siding when it had not done so, resulting in latter being cut in two.

Cavanville, Dec. 1.—Standing on the Bethany siding waiting for an east-bound freight train to pass by on the main line, the rear end of a west-bound C. P. R. freight train, which had not yet cleared the switch was run into last night, about 9.45 o'clock, resulting disastrously for two engines and seven or eight freight cars, and seriously injuring Brakeman Ernest Irvine, of Ottawa. The cause of the accident is supposed to have been due to a signal given at the wrong time by the brakeman on the train travelling towards Toronto. It seems that this train was given orders to wait on the Bethany siding until the one from the west had passed. The brakeman, apparently, misjudged the length of his train and thinking it had cleared the switch and run totally into the siding, signalled the other to pass. The fright going west, which was drawn by double engines, answered the signal by moving.

A Loud Crash

In the stillness of the early evening there then came the loud crash. Travelling at a speed of about fifteen miles an hour the on-coming train dashed headlong into the stationary freight with a terrible force. The double "iron-horse" literally tore its way through the standing line of cars. Seven or eight of them were completely lifted off the track and scattered in a promiscuous heap in the ditch. The two engines that bore the brunt of the collision met somewhat similar fates as the cars in front of them. When stillness followed the impact it was found they had been almost completely destroyed.

Tender Falls on Brakeman

Taking in the situation at a glance Brakeman Irvine determined to risk his life by jumping. But he was a moment too late. The crash had come and instantly the heavy tender of the engines rolled down the bank and pinned him to the earth. When he was extricated from his perilous position, and Doctors Turner, of Millbrook; Gray, of Peterborough; and Hatlie, of Pontypool, were called it was discovered the trainman was seriously hurt. He had sustained a compound fracture of the left leg and with other injuries, was not in a very enviable condition.

Piles of twisted iron and broken box cars were the most conspicuous objects to be seen after the smoke had cleared away. The track, of course, was completely blocked and no train travelled over it last night or this morning.

A peculiar feature of the wreck was the fact that left standing alone on the main track was the van of the west bound track. The engines of the other train had ploughed their way through the box cars, knocking several of them from the track. But the van was more fortunate. Notwithstanding that the cars next to it tumbled off, it seemed to realize that it was protecting trainmen and remained where it stood. Otherwise it is quite possible a fatality would have resulted.

Considering that the east bound freight was travelling along at the speed of fifteen miles an hour it is miraculous that more serious results did not occur.

The freight train, travelling westward, after the accident, went along on its way to the next station minus the half-dozen wrecked cars and the unscathed van.

Tramps Escape

Riding on the train which had just passed through the station were a number of the "tramp" fraternity. It was at first thought that one of them had been killed. But tramps are usually born lucky, if not rich, and a few moments after the fears were expressed, a missing chemineur was seen to crawl from beneath a derailed and wrecked car.

Undaunted and believing that no more wrecks would occur, the "hobo" secured another outdoor seat on the freight for the west, which peacefully drew away from the scene of the wreck later in the evening.

Bethany siding is about three and onehalf miles west of Cavanville, seventeen miles from Peterborough and about five and one-quarter miles from Millbrook. The engines which suffered were Nos. 328 and 607.

Ernest Irvine, the Ottawa trainman, who was injured, and who was brought to Peterborough early this morning, is doing nicely in St. Joseph's Hospital, and is expected to recover from his injuries. He has sustained a compound fracture of the left leg and the member was attended to this morning by Doctors Gray and Young. It was found that it was not necessary to amputate the limb as had been feared.

It was most commendable bravery and foresight on the part of Irvine that resulted in his being injured, his plucky action undoubtedly saved a number of his comrades from being badly hurt or perhaps killed. Irvine was riding in the cab of the first engine of the east bound doublepheader, and when he saw that the crash was inevitable, instead of jumping from the train when he had a chance, as did the engineer and fireman, he made his way back over the tender and locomotive to warn the occupants of the other engine of the danger ahead. He succeeded in reaching them and warning them in time to allow them to jump and escape uninjured, but the plucky man had remained too long on the train for his own safety and had not time to jump before the collision came and the result was that he was pinned beneath the falling tender and suffered a fracture of his leg.

Effect of Train Service

The local that should have arrived in the city last night, failed to appear, and even to-day was still somewhere the windward side of the pile-up. The midnight had perforce to change its schedule and made an end run around the wreck using the main line of the G.T.R. to Peterborough, jumped to its own line at this city and converted the try by completing the trip to Montreal in good time. This mornings' train from Montreal passed through here to Port Hope by being transferred to the G.T.R. line in this city. It jumped to the main line at the Lakeside town and ran along to Toronto without any mishap.

The passengers that were on last night's local arrived in the city it was learned in the caboose of a freight train last night. This morning's local went through to Cavanville, where its passengers were transferred to an express that was waiting on the other side. The local backed down again to Peterborough, and was standing on a siding in the local yards.

LID GOES DOWN TIGHT ON WINNIPEG

Police Will Watch Gambling Dens With Eagle Eyes.

Examiner Special.

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 1.—There is a strong movement here in having the "lid" placed down tight in Winnipeg this winter. The recent raid on one of the gambling clubs of the city, in which a number of prominent men were captured by the police, has drawn the attention of the public to the fact that many such places exist in the city, and there is a general cry against the police for being lax in attending to their duties. The statement that has gone forth about a gambling mania in the city, is slightly exaggerated, to say the least. There are a number of clubs and resorts where games of chance are carried on, but it is contended by the authorities that these places are not any more numerous here than in any other Canadian city of the same size. It is not unlikely that the Attorney-General's Department will take the matter up, in which case the proprietors of the various resorts of questionable character will be obliged to take to the woods and Winnipeg will be "closed up tight" for the winter.

Fuel and Cartage Team Of Horses Struck By G. T. R. Engine Last Night

As James Hoar, driving one of the Fuel and Cartage Company's teams was turning off McDonel street to go south on Park street last evening at 5.40 o'clock, the G.T.R. express for Lindsay whizzed round the bend and was on him almost before he realized it. His horses were just stepping on to the track when the driver saw and heard the engine a short distance away. He pulled hard on his right rein, swerving his horses to one side, but not entirely clear of the train. It struck the horse on the left, hurling the two to one side. The horse that had been hit by the engine was seriously injured and this morning it was thought that it might not recover. The animal was placed on a waggon and taken to the company's barns, Aylmer street, where it was cared for. The driver's prompt action not only saved the horses, but himself. The G. T. R. authorities for the city were on the scene shortly afterwards obtaining information regarding the nature of the affair.

THE DEATH OF A SMITH PIONEER

Mr. James Northey at Age of 88 Years 11 Months Passes Away.

The death of one of the oldest residents of the Township of Smith, in the person of Mr. James Northey, occurred at his residence, concession 14, on Monday, the thirtieth day of November. He was born in Devonshire, England, in January, 1820, where he lived until 1842, when he sailed with his parents to Canada, landing at Port Hope. He lived there for six months and then moved to Bridgenorth, here, in 1852, he married Miss Mary Jane Roseborough. They then moved to the farm in Smith where his death occurred yesterday. He was a familiar figure in Peterborough and was well known here, as well as in Smith. His sons are —Wm. J., John, Thos. Henry, Samuel Albert, of Smith; and Alex., of Peterborough. His daughters are Mrs. Geo. Preston, of Smith, and Mrs. Sarah Preston, Peterborough. He has one brother living, Thomas, of Bobcaygeon, and two sisters, Mrs. Chas. McColl, Douro, and Mrs. Mary Clarke, of Collingwood.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, to Lakefield Cemetery.

COMPULSORY VACCINATION AT KINGSTON

Persons Who are Not are Liable to be Mulcted $50—Much Excitement.

Kingston, Dec. 1.—You must be able to show a vaccination scar or at least a certificate to show that you have been vaccinated within the past seven years, in Kingston to-day, or you are liable to be mulcted fifty dollars. Compulsory vaccination came into force here to-day and the authorities declare that those who have not complied with the instructions of the Board of Health will be dealt with according to the law. This means a fine of $50 and costs or a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months.

This state of affairs is due to the smallpox scare which has been causing great excitemnt among the citizens and loss of sleep and worry to the authorities.

PROTECTING CANADIAN CATTLE

It is not often that governments have it in their power to take action that so directly affects the people, as the Dominion Government has done in declaring a quarantine against all horned cattle, cattle products and horses from the States of Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey and New York. This was done as a precautionary measure to exclude animals infected with the foot and mouth disease, which has become epizootic in these states. The United States authorities at Washington are showing the true spirit of reciprocity by harmoniously co-operating with the Dominion authorities in having also established quarantine against the States mentioned. Thus the stock of these States is corralled within their borders. Cattle in cars from states where there is no quarantine, are admitted into Canada, but they must not be landed, except at certain pens, and after close inspection, and having been pronounced immune by competent veterinary surgeons. It was work of this kind that Dr. Johnston of this city went to Windsor to perform. The British Government has also followed the example of Canada, and has provided that no cattle, brought by vessels, from New York or Pennsylvania shall be admitted into a British port. Considerable cattle export trade proceeds from Philadelphia, and such a precaution is easily defended. It is stated that the contagion was spread by way of the Buffalo stockyards, but how it reached there, or where it originated is not known. The nature of the disease calls for prompt measures to stamp it out, for it seems to be exceedingly infectious and may easily be communicated over a wide area. The moment the disease, which affects the mouth and hoofs, is discovered upon a farm the animals must be slaughtered and thorough disinfection should follow. This is, of course, a hardship upon the farmer affected, but the hardship must be borne in the interests of the country at large. To stamp out hog cholera in Essex County, many valuable swine had to be sacrificed, but the means employed was effective. A farmer who has suffered by having one of his herd affected, should in protection to himself submit to what veterinary science demands as necessary, the destruction of the diseased animal and the adoption of the measures prescribed to prevent the infection of other animals on the farm. With proper precautions, honestly observed, the disease can be confined to small areas.

The action of the Dominion Government in taking such prompt steps to protect Canadian herds is only the application to a concrete case of a general policy which has been in practice for many years. The government has made the protection of the health of Canadian cattle a matter of special vigilance, and no doubt the measures it has taken so promptly in the present emergency, will serve to prevent the invasion of a disease justly dreaded.

A farmer with the gruesome name of Death, demands an injunction to keep Niagara Power transmission lines of 105,000 voltage off his farm, on account of the danger from such a powerful electrical current careering above his head. He evidently considers that one Death on the farm at a time is enough.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

Is without an Equal for COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS and all Affections of the THROAT and LUNGS.

All the most serious affections of the throat, the lungs and the bronchial tubes, are in the beginning but colds or coughs. Too much stress cannot be laid on this fact, and neglect to cure the cold very often causes years of suffering and in the end comes "Consumption." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup combines all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree with other absorbent, expectorant and soothing medicines of recognized worth, and is absolutely harmless, prompt and safe.

Mr. J. L. Purdy, Millvale, N.S., writes:—"I have been troubled with a hard, dry cough for a long time, especially at night, but after having used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, for a few weeks, I find my cough has left me. To any person, suffering as I did, I can say that this remedy is well worth a trial. I would not be without it in the house."

So great has been the success of this wonderful remedy, it is only natural that numerous persons have tried to imitate it. Don't be humbugged into taking anything but "Dr. Woods." Put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade marks price 25 cents.

THAT CONTRACT AND THE REVIEW.

The dear old Review is evidently troubled with the foot-and-mouth disease—it only opens its mouth to put its foot in it. On Saturday it printed a paragraph to the effect that the engineers of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission had visited Peterborough to see if the equipment of the Canadian General Electric Company's works was of sufficient capacity to warrant the Commission in awarding the company a contract, which the Review and its editor, the Conservative candidate, had positively declared a day or so before the election had been awarded it or he said more than that, and that was that the awarding of the contract was due to the exercise of the well-known energy and public spirit of the candidate. The situation was yesterday commented upon by the Examiner, and it was pointed out in effect that an attempt had been made to unduly influence the electors, and that that had been done by the employment of statements, which, according to the Review itself, as shown by the paragraph printed in its columns on Saturday, were not founded upon the facts. This statement plainly contradicted that made by the candidate a day or two before the election with a view to bringing him votes, which was made with the greatest positiveness and reiterated time after time, and was that the contract had been awarded through the influence of the candidate, and the plain inference was deducible that a man of such energy and influence, was entitled to the votes of the workingmen.

In reference to the criticism made by the Examiner we have received the following letter;

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In reply to the Examiner's severe arraignment of Mr. J. H. Burnham, and the Review, for what the Examiner calls a misstatement of the case of the Hydro-Electric contract and the C.G.E., made to wrongly influence the electors, I wish to say as news editor of the Review that the news item in the Review of the day before yesterday upon which the Examiner's article is founded, was not derived from any other source than the casual supposition of the member of the staff who wrote it, that the Hydro-Electric Government enquirers were here with a view to letting the contract. The mistake on his part was a natural one, and the inference of the Examiner a natural one.

The Government enquirers were here we find for the purpose of conferring regarding the contract, not for the purpose of letting it.

NEWS EDITOR OF REVIEW.
Peterborough, Dec. 1, 1908.

This is all very pretty. Apart from the generosity of thrusting the responsibility of such a lame and impotent excuse upon the news editor, the explanation is, in the language of the street, "too thin." Accepting the statement of the news editor as it is given, the responsibility reverts to the editor himself—the paragraph which the news editor was instructed to say was mere supposition, itself contains the refutation of the explanation submitted. The reporter or whoever wrote the paragraph was in personal communication with the Commission, and must have had something more than mere guess work to go upon. What weakens the inherently weak explanation is that it is an evident afterthought. The paragraph explicitly contradicting the positive statement made in October by the editor of the Review and the Conservative candidate, to influence votes, appeared on Saturday. The editor, unless the editing of the Review is as loose as its political morals, saw the paragraph, had all day Sunday and all day Monday to think it over, and the Review of Monday (yesterday) to contradict it in. Yet the editor failed to put in a line to set himself right or reconcile his contradictions. He couldn't do it. He was caught between two contradictory statements and doubtless trusted to luck to have the matter overlooked. It was only after the Examiner exposed the situation and called attention to the wide gap between profession and practice of self-assumed honesty, that the news editor is made the scape-goat of the sins of his chief. Nothing is left the editor of the Review and late Conservative candidate and still in the limelight, but to beat his breast and cry "Mea culpa!"

FISHING AND FISH SUPPLY.

The importance of good fishing grounds, especially to the Peterborough district, cannot be ignored, or even, perhaps, exaggerated, and there seems to be no reason why the waters in this vicinity should not be exhaustless. If the supply is regulated so as to meet the annual depletion by fishing, there is no reason why the day should come when our waters will be without a plentiful stock of fish. The following despatch will be of interest. The despatch is dated Belleville, Nov. 30th, and says:

Messrs. William Hill, John McGean and Fred Stewart, of the Government Fish Hatchery have completed the work of securing whitefish spawn for the hatchery there under the supervision of J. M. Hurley, Fishery Inspector for Eastern Ontario, over 40,000,000 spawn having been secured. Several crates were sent forward every day for the past three weeks. This is the largest amount of spawn ever secured, and it has taxed the capacity of the hatchery. Seven seines were at work, and out of nearly 40,000 fish secured not over 100 were destroyed, this being the best record in years.

The fish were secured at Telegraph Island Station, near Deseronto, and at Point Ann Station, and will be distributed in the various lakes throughout the province. Mr. Hurley is being highly complimented on his great results.

This re-stocking of our waters cannot be very well over done. Every year the number of fishermen is increasing and the danger of depletion becomes greater unless provision is made for maintaining th supply by liberal re-stocking with fry. The conditions justify the arguments that have been advanced for the establishment of a fish hatchery in the vicinity of Peterborough to supply fry for the waters in this district. The waters of Ontario are so numerous and of such large area and capacity that it will require more than one hatchery or two hatcheries to keep the supply up to the required quantity. The tourist "industry" so to speak, is a very important one for Peterborough, and is growing in volume and value every year. Fishing is the lodestone of attraction and so long as that in maintained at its best level so long will the tourist traffic with its large incidental advantages be maintained, and in addition the commercial side of our inland fisheries will be profitably developed.

POLITICS AND BUSINESS.

It is a regrettable circumstance that the political purposes and ambitions of the Review should cause a controversy over the awarding of a big contract to the Canadian General Electrical Company. It is a business matter which should not be discussed especially in the manner for which the Review is responsible, by dragging a business concern and its enterprises into a vote-bidding campaign. The people naturally have a deep interest in the Canadian General, and will readily join the Examiner in the wish that the company should receive a contract, not only of the value of $500,000 but of a million. The prosperity of the city and of the citizens is intimately bound up in the prosperity of one of our most important, it not most important, industrial establishments. Only trouble and injurious tendency follow an attempt such as made by our contemporary to mix politics and business.

BRITAIN'S NAVY.

Whether Lord Roberts' warning to Great Britain in reference to the alleged defenceless condition of her shores be justified by truth or not, there does not seem much basis for the complaints of the pessimists that the present Government is not doing its duty in the maintenance of the mastery of the seas. The naval estimates for the present year call for an expenditure of £32,319,500, an increase of nearly a million pounds over last year.

The Naval League Annual for 1908-9 contains an interesting article on the comparative naval strength of the various powers. It shows no change in their relative positions, Great Britain still being greatly in advance of all competitors, followed by the United States, Germany, France, Japan, Italy, Austria-Hungary and Russia, the latters' navy still showing the effects of the war with Japan. Battleships are divided by the writer into Dreadnoughts and pre-Dreadnoughts and armoured cruisers into Indomitables and pre-Indomitables Great Britain is credited with six Dreadnoughts and Japan with two. Other cruisers are outclassed by Indomitables as former battleships are by Dreadnoughts, and of these modern cruisers Great Britain has, or soon will have, afloat the only three yet constructed.

The strength of the various powers in the two classifications will be seen from the appended table:—

	Battle-ships	Armd cruisers	Total
Great Britain	44	12	56
United States	22	4	26
Germany	20	1	21
France	15	0	15
Japan	13	4	17
Italy	10	2	12
Austria-Hungary	6	0	6
Russia	4	1	5
	134	24	158

Great Britain's superiority in gunpower is even more marked than it is in ships, while in fighting vessels of the first-class her superiority is more than 10 per cent. over the combined strength in this respect of the two next highest countries—Germany and the United States. In other classifications of ships Great Britain shows like superiority, having no less than 108 cruisers, 16 of which are first-class, to 193 of all other nations, of which 48 are first-class. Of the 1,032 torpedo craft afloat, 289 belong to the British navy, which is also strongest in high-powered sea-going vessels and in submarine boats, having 60 out of the 169 known to be on the navy lists.

And as there is no reason to believe that British seamanship has deteriorated, it is fair to assume that Britannia still rules the waves.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Canadian West grows everything but wall flowers. At the dances there the men are the wall flowers—there are not enough girls to go round.

What constitutes a Liberal, and what constitutes a Conservative in this country? asks Goldwin Smith. That's easy, says the London Advertiser. Liberals are thieves and grafters, and Conservatives are the party of purity. Nearly every Conservative newspaper said so in the last election

The London Advertiser asks if any Conservative organ has been caught calling for the abolition of the Ontario Government patronage list. If there be such a list, by all means let it be wiped out at once.—Peterborough Review.

"If" there is such a list! The Review man, says the London Advertiser is too innocent to be in the newspaper business.

COMPLETION OF OTTER LAKE DAM

Concrete Structure Replaces Wooden Structure—More Water Reserved.

Lindsay, Dec. 1 (Special.—Mr. John Pearson, of Lindsay, who has had charge of the work in connection with the construction of a new concrete dam at Otter Lake, Monmouth township, was in town yesterday. The structure which was commenced about two months ago, replaces an old wooden dam, which was erected by the late Thos. Walters about 21 years ago.

The new dam at Otter Lake is a splendid structure. It is 165 feet in length, and has a ten-foot head. The area of Otter lake is four miles long, by one mile wide, and this new dam will afford a much larger capacity for reserve water.

Otter Lake empties into Burnt River, which is one of the feeders of the Trent Valley Canal. A staff of twenty-five men were engaged on the work, which was under the supervision of Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal, and Mr. Samuel Clegg, of Peterborough.

A TEMPERANCE UNION.

Members Limited to Fourteen Drinks of Liquor Daily.

"Signing the pledge" is no new thing, as is proved by researches in Italy. Interesting particulars of what would appear to be the earliest examples of written pledges to abstain from gambling and excessive drinking are given in the Turin Studi Medievali by Signor Girolamo Biscaro, who has discovered three such documents in the archives of Milan. The first of these records is an oath sworn on the gospels by Giacomo Pasquali and Armanino Duca to the effect that for two years they will abstain from gambling in Pavia or within three miles thereof and will likewise refrain from inducing others to gamble on their behalf. The penalty for any breach of this oath is fixed at 5 soldi, payable to Papio Bovatorio.

In the second document Perano de Bono promises Uberto de Proto to abstain from gambling for a certain period, exception being made on behalf of the game of bismentiro, at which, however, he was not to lose more than 2 denari on any one day. Further, he undertakes not to visit any inn for drinking purposes before the hour of vespers on Monday. A breach of either clause of the pledge involves the payment of 5 soldi to De Proto. By the third document Silete Ferrario expressed his willingness to pay 12 denari to his brother Lamperio should he be persuaded to play for money in any place of public resort or to spend more than 2 denari on intoxicants in any one day.

The motive for these contracts is not stated, but it is presumed that they were entered into by employees whose masters wished to keep their proclivities in check. There is nothing in the documents to suggest the existence of any organization for the promotion of temperance. The honor of being first in the field in this respect therefore still rests with Germany, where two temperance societies were founded in the sixteenth century.

Of these the Order of St. Christopher was formed by Sigismund de Dietrichstein on Jan. 18, 1517, and the Order of Temperance by the landgrave of Hesse on Dec. 25, 1600. The members of the one order were pledged to abstain from toast drinking, and the members of the other undertook not to drink more than seven glasses of liquor at a time, and that not oftener than twice a day.—Chicago News.

A PARISIAN RUSE.

The Dressmaker's Lure That Ensnared the Americans.

Grace Margaret Gould tells in the September Woman's Home Companion some of the ways the Parisian dressmaking establishments sell their goods to American women. Here is one ruse that she saw worked in one of the biggest establishments in Paris:

There was a sudden and evident commotion among the employees. "The princess! The princess! She has arrived!" they cried.

American eyes began to bulge.

Out from a magnificent equipage stepped a regally gowned grand lady, attended by footmen and maid and received by the whole bowing establishment, to the neglect of all other customers. She was in a gracious mood this day and easy to be pleased, praising their past efforts and selecting several of their new creations without regard to cost. After she had made her departure amid like ceremonies there was no need of the saleswoman bothering her head over suggestions. Every American woman present wanted a gown copied from the one the princess had bought, and she got it after much pleading and at a price far beyond the limit she had set.

And the point of this fable is this: The princess was no princess, but an employee of the house.

Every French gown has two prices—an American price and a French price. It is needless to say which is the greater price.

Along about April the cry goes up, "The Americans are coming!" and then the prices go up too.

Along about November, when the Americans have left, you might almost say they are giving away gowns, only the Frenchman never does give away anything. Then it is that the Frenchwoman in general and the French actress in particular selects her wardrobe.

FOR any man a Travelling Set is a necessity. This set is especially suitable for gift purposes at this season. It contains a pair of genuine Ebony Military Brushes, with sterling shields for engraving. Complete with comb in real morocco leather folding case. The price is

THE SANCY DIAMOND

Legend of Louis de Berquem and the Celebrated Gem.

A NIGHT LAMP FOR A KING.

Checkered Career of the Brilliant Stone After the Death of Charles the Timid. Some Facts About the Invention of Diamond Cutting.

Louis de Berquem, says tradition, was a poor jeweler's workman, but he fell in love with the daughter of a wealthy jeweler. This avaricious father would not give his daughter in marriage to any man not possessed of gold. Louis, having neither "expectations" from relatives nor favor at court, sought to make his fortune. He had often heard the father of his beloved remark that the man who discovered a method of cutting diamonds would become very wealthy, for up to that time they knew nothing more than to scrape off the gravel, and the diamond was left in its native state. Neither lime, fire nor the mill could affect the diamond.

After many investigations and deep thought Louis bethought himself that iron is fashioned with steel, which is only hardened iron, and it occurred to him that perhaps the diamond would yield to the diamond. He made an experiment, which was at once crowned with success.

A few days later he presented himself before the rich jeweler with two diamonds cut into facets. He obtained the hand he sought and amassed a great fortune by his secret, which he divulged only after he had become wealthy.

King Charles the Timid was the principal customer of Louis de Berquem. The fastidious enemy of Louis XI. then possessed a large diamond, since become celebrated, accounted among the finest of precious stones. But this diamond was ill shapen, and the fires which it held burned in vain.

Louis de Berquem cut and polished this stone, and nothing could equal the joy of Charles the Timid when the jeweler brought him the great diamond, so glittering with light that it lit up the darkness, and this to such an extent that the prince said, "It will serve me as a night lamp." Berquem received 3,000 ducats for his work.

As for the diamond, this is the one which was found in January, 1477, on the body of Charles the Timid after the battle of Nancy. A soldier picked it up, sold it for one gold piece to a priest, who in turn sold it for three pieces of gold to a merchant, who took it to the Duke of Florence.

From the hands of this prince it passed into the possession of the king of Portugal. He sold it for 70,000 francs to one of the companions of Henri III., Nicholas de Harlay, baron of Sancy. Since this time the first large diamond to be cut is known as "the Sancy."

This legend leads to other considerations of the cutting of diamonds ascribed to Louis de Berquem at Brussels in 1465.

Hardly any one will assert boldly that no diamonds were cut before that date, but it is reasonable to suppose that Louis de Berquem regulated cutting by arranging the facets.

Long before the birth of Louis de Berquem cutting was known in India. Even in Europe we find among the treasures of the churches thick diamonds cut into table and culet, the upper sides beaten into sections. In 1360, according to the inventory of the jewels of Louis, duke of Anjou, is found an entire series of cut diamonds. There is mention of a flat diamond with six sides, of a heart shaped diamond, of a diamond with eight sides, of a lozenge shaped diamond, of a diamond pointed on four sides and of a reliquary in which was set a diamond cut in the shape of a shield.

History informs us that 150 years before the first work of Louis de Berquem there were at Paris, at the corner of the Corroyerie, several diamond cutters.

The Duke of Burgundy, after a fastidious repast given at the Louvre to the king and the French court in 1403, offered to his noble guests eleven diamonds estimated to be worth 786 pieces of gold, the money of the period.

It is hardly possible to suppose that these were uncut diamonds; all of which goes to prove, notwithstanding some opinions, that Louis de Berquem did not invent the process of diamond cutting.

It is no less interesting to follow the fortunes of the Sancy a little further. It remained in the Sancy family some time, and Henri III. took it from them. It was destined to serve as a pledge for the raising of a body of Swiss soldiers, but the servant intrusted with bringing this diamond to the king was attacked, put to death, and the diamond was thought to be lost. Finally it was discovered that the servant had been assassinated in the forest of Dole and through the care of the priest had been buried in the village cemetery. Then the Baron de Sancy resolved that the diamond must not be lost. In fact, they found it in the stomach of the hapless, faithful servant, who swallowed it at the moment that he fell. According to the inventory of 1791 the Sancy weighed 33¾ carats.

It disappeared in 1792 to reappear in Russia. Its value is estimated at a million francs. Before the revolution it was among the French crown jewels.—New York World.

Sympathy For the Orphans.

An elephant while stamping through the jungle one day quite unintentionally stepped upon a mother bird, crushing it to death. Hearing the cries of the little brood in the bushes near by, she sought out the nest and with a sympathetic sigh said: "Poor little things! I've been a mother myself. I'll keep you warm." And she then proceeded to sit upon the nest.—From George T. Lanigan's Fable, "The Kind Hearted She Elephant."

A SIMPLE HOME REMEDY

Thousands of men and women who have felt the sting and torture of this dread disease, which is no respecter of age, persons, sex, colour or rank, will be interested to know that while for many years rheumatism was considered an incurable disease, now it is one of the easiest afflictions of the human body to conquer. Medical science has proven it not a distinct disease in itself, but a symptom caused by inactive kidneys. Rheumatism is uric acid in the blood and other waste products of the system, which should be filtered and strained out in the form of urine. The function of the kidneys is to sift these poisons and acids out and keep the blood clean and pure. The kidneys, however, are of sponge-like substance, the holes or pores of which will sometimes, either from overwork, cold or exposure, become clogged and inactive, and failing in their function of eliminating these poisons from the blood, they remain in the veins, decompose and settling about the joints and muscles, cause the untold suffering and pain of rheumatism and backache, often producing complications of bladder and urinary disease, weakness, etc.

The following simple prescription is said to relieve the worst cases of rheumatism because of its direct action upon the blood and kidneys, relieving, too, the most severe forms of bladder and urinary troubles: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. The ingredients can be had from any good prescription pharmacy, and are absolutely harmless and safe to use at any time.

THE CEMETERY COMPANY ERECT NEW GREENHOUSE

Work Accomplished by Mr. Frank Wise The Superintendent.

The Little Lake Cemetery Company have just completed a handsome new green house 62x30 feet in dimensions. It has been erected beside the other green house which is 47 feet by 20 feet. The new one will be for spring use only. The work was almost wholly done by Mr. Frank Wise, the superintendent, who is a carpenter, and mason as well as a florist.

The absolute purity and delicious flavour, the refreshing and invigourating qualities of "Salada" Tea, have made it the daily beverage of millions of satisfied users. 92

Camera Photos On Exhibit At Closing Of School Of Cookery

Interesting Feature to be Added by the Camera Club—Four Prizes Will be Presented to Winners.

NEXT MEETING OF THE CLUB

The closing exercises of the School of Cookery, which are scheduled to be held on December 18th, at the Y. W. C. A., promises to be very interesting. In addition to the programme provided by the ladies, there will also be an exhibition of the productions of local photographers. This portion of the exhibit will be under the supervision of the Peterborough Camera Club, and all amateur photographers are invited to take part. The club expects to have some fine specimens of the photographers' art on view and no doubt this section of the exhibit will prove a most interesting one.

Four prizes will be given to the winners of the exhibit. There will possibly be a dozen or more classes shown, for which points will be allowed, and the four with the highest number of points will be declared the winners. All amateurs desiring to compete or who are willing to assist are requested to consult the secretary of the club, Mr. N. A. Howard-Moore, 191 King street, or Miss McCalla, the secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

The next meeting of the Camera Club will be held on December 8th, when the exhibit will be further considered. On the same occasion there will be given an analytical demonstration of the composition of Sodium Salts. Mrs. Allan McCarthy will read a paper on "The Art of Negative Making."

Supplies For Fire Hall Must Be Purchased Through Chairman

Ald. Johnston Explains to Committee That Expenses Must be Curtailed—Other Members of the Same Opinion—Must Know What is Going On.

INSURE THE FIREMEN

A readjustment of a misunderstanding between Chief Howard on the one side and the Fire, Water and Light Committee on the other, was made at a meeting of the latter body last night. The last appropriation for the expenses of the Fire Department was reported by City Treasurer Adams to be nearly reaching the amount set apart and there was still a month or more before the time was concluded. Moreover, there were some accounts coming in, of which Chairman Johnston said he had no knowledge and he did not wish to "O. K." them without the consent of the whole Board. He said he did not want to sanction their payment, as the responsibility would then rest with him.

Chief Howard was present and said that some of the things referred to had been brought up in committee, and he had taken it for granted that he could go ahead and purchase them. Others he had found necessary at times, and believing that he had the same latitude which had been given him in other places, he had secured them without mentioning the fact to the chairman. The committee stated that everything must have the sanction of the chairman before it is procured and thus trouble will be avoided. The meeting last night was a friendly one, as the chief has the confidence of the committee, but they considered that the department must be so conducted that there should not be the slightest hitch in its working.

It was moved by Ald. Buller and Ald. McIntyre that the committee recommend to the council that insurance be placed upon the men of the fire brigade and chief, to protect them against accident.—Carried.

A Notice Of Action Against The Times Sporting Editor

Hamilton, Dec. 1.—Special—It is a poor game that two cannot play at, and M. M. Robinson, sporting editor of the Spectator, has decided to sit in the libel game started a couple of weeks ago by F. C. Mills, sporting editor of the Times, against him for criminal libel. Mr. Robinson has instructed Staunton, O'Heir & Morrison to serve a notice of action for libel on the Times for a series of alleged libels that have appeared in its sporting columns at intervals since July 11 till November 18. His solicitors stated this morning that Mr. Robinson would likely bring an action against F. C. Mills, also for libel. He claims that several paragraphs that are quoted in the notice hold him up to ridicule and reflect on his reputation. In one paragraph Mr. Robinson claims he is referred to as "Bobby the bobber," and he objects to other expressions concerning him.

Acetylene Gas To Supply The Lighting At Charlotte Street Rink

The lighting of the Charlotte Street Curling Rink will be by Siche gas, a complete plant having been installed and the pipes placed, and a large number of the jets are in position. Saturday evening these were lighted for a trial, and by their performance on that occasion nothing but satisfaction was expressed for the power and quality of its illumination. It is really acetylene gas that is produced in the large specially prepared tank in a room made to accommodate it, and the light is claimed to be restful on the eyes, but at the same time, is powerful.

Fire Alarm Boxes In East City Are Continually Robbed Of Keys

Nine keys for box 52 and four for box 53, both in East City, is the record since last July. This is one of the perplexing problems that Chief Howard has to deal with, and as far as solving it goes that is practically an impossibility. There is no explanation for this state of affairs, unless, as the Chief believes, it is the work of small boys. He does not think that adults would be guilty of an offence of this kind. He reported the affair to the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night in order that some action might be taken to insure these boxes always being provided with a key in order so that in case of fire it will always be possible to send in an alarm. The Chief also stated that false alarms have been sent in from those boxes.

Ald. Buller was much incensed at this state of affairs, stating that if the guilty parties could be apprehended they should be severely dealt with. On some of the boxes on the main street, what are called porch doors are added, and with these it is impossible to take the keys away. They also provide protection against sleet and snow in winter, and are altogether of considerable value. They cost $1.50 each. Ald. Buller moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that these be procured for all the boxes. Considering the protection they afford the fire alarm system, the committee decided that they were a good investment, and should be obtained.

C. P. R. Express Travels Over G. T. R. Line Because Of Wreck

It is not very often that the express trains of the C.P.R. have to travel over the G.T.R. line but this was the case last night. With the line blocked near Cavanville the local was held as it approached the scene of the accident and could not proceed further. The midnight, however, was sent along the main line of the G.T.R. to Port Hope where it was sent up to Peterborough. It arrived here this morning at one o'clock, backed down the transferring siding which extends from Townsend street to Park street and reached its own line to continue on its way to Montreal.

This morning again the train from Montreal went through the same performance. It came as far as Peterborough on the C.P.R. and to circumvent the blockade it was transferred to the G.T.R. line and proceeded on to Toronto via Port Hope.

Similar cases to this are infrequent but they have been done before, the one line helping the other in time of trouble.

INTERESTING DEBATE AT KNOX CHURCH

Young People's Society Had Enjoyable Evening Last Night.

"Resolved that city life presents more advantages to a young man than country life." This was the subject of a debate last night at the regular meeting of the Young People's Society, and proved a most interesting question, as the two sides presented their arguments. Mr. Enos Maybee led the affirmative side and had with him Messrs. H. McCannon and C. Stewart. Mr. Gordon Hall had the helm of the other side and with him were Messrs. Menzies and Patton. The decision at the conclusion was given in favour of the defenders of the interests of the country. The debate was thoroughly enjoyed by all those present. Mr. Ken Denoon made a capable chairman. The Mandolin Club was heard in several selections, which were pleasingly given. Next Monday night Miss E Warren will speak on "Commending Our Religion by Consistent Living."

A REMARKABLE PROPOSITION.

The manufacturers of Orange Meat (which is a high-class whole wheat flaked food, every flake being rich in proteids), are rewarding their patrons with a very generous gift. Get full particulars on a private post card to be found in every package of Orange Meat.

LADY WHO ONCE LIVED HERE DIES IN TORONTO

Death of Mrs. (Hon.) Sidney Smith—Has Relatives in Peterborough

Toronto, Dec. 1.—Death occurred on Sunday of the widow of the late Hon. Sydney Smith, who was a member of Sir John A. Macdonald's Cabinet in the days of Old Canada before Confederation.

Hon. Sydney Smith was a resident of Cobourg, and died there. Since then his widow has resided chiefly in Toronto.

The deceased lady was 83 years of age, and prior to her marriage was Miss Mary Ann Bennett, of Port Hope. She is survived by six children. Mrs. (Dr.) G. Herbert Burnham is a daughter, and her sons are Henry H. Smith, Winnipeg; Sydney and Frederick Smith, Ottawa, and W. B. and J. D. Smith, of Toronto. The funeral took place to-day to Port Hope.

The deceased once lived in Peterborough, where her husband practised law. Mrs. G. Herbert Burnham referred to, is a sister-in-law of Mrs (Dr. Boucher, and Mr. J. H. Burnham, of Peterborough.

DESTOY THE CAUSE
You Cannot Cure Dandruff Without Destroying the Cause of It
Many people wash their scalps Saturday night or Sunday to try to keep the dandruff down for the week, but on Monday night the scalp has begun to itch, and Tuesday morning will find a new supply of dandruff when the hair is brushed. There is but one real scientific way of curing dandruff; and that is to kill the germ that causes it, and falling hair, and finally baldness. There is only one preparation that will destroy the germ, and that is Newbro's Herpicide. It is an entirely new discovery and the only hair preparation that is based on the new scientific principle. In addition Herpicide is a very refreshing hair dressing for regular toilet use. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. McDermid and Jury, and Payne Drug Stores, Special Agents.

FINED $2 FOR CREATING DISTURBANCE

Man Arrested at the C. P. R. Station Last Evening—Daly Was Remanded.

At police court this morning a well known local character, Dennis Daly, was charged with vagrancy and was remanded for one week.

A man who was charged with creating a disturbance at the C.P.R. station last evening was fined $2. He had been drunk and proceeded to make things lively in the vicinity of the station so much that it was necessary to call in the police, and he was arrested and brought to the police station when he remained for the night.

He lets the punishment fit the crime (Mikado)on Thursday and Friday. 1d

LATEST NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

Minting Gold Coin for the Dominion—Preparations Well Advanced—Last Contract on Great Trans-Continental Line is Let to the Davis Company—Ontario Government Interference in Dominion Election Controversies Likely to Provoke Retaliation—The Premier Returns—Important Cabinet Meeting Friday.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Dec. 1.—News received from Mr. R Pearson, chief assayer of the Ottawa mint, who has recently been making investigations in the Kootenay and Boundary district, British Columbia, and who will also shortly examine the resources of the Yukon District, indicate that the production of Canadian gold coins will shortly be entered upon. Plans for the gold refinery to be erected in Ottawa have been completed and approved, and construction work will follow at once. Mr. Pearson estimates that almost the entire gold product of the Dominion will be required for the manufacture of coins at Ottawa, and that thus the golden stream that now flows from this great national resource, across the western border into the United States will be kept at home where it will do the most good. As a result of Mr. Pearson's inquiries in the Kootenay country, the assayer states that 120,000 ounces of gold are brought out each year with the copper product of that region, and that arrangements might be made to extract this valuable metal from the copper for the use of the Government mint at the Dominion Capital.

The last section of the Eastern division of the new Transcontinental Railway to be placed under contract is one of 204 miles through the clay belt of New Ontario. This portion of the line will be built by the Messrs. Davis, of Ottawa, who have just signed the contract. The contract in question begins 100 miles west of Lake Abitibi, and stretches westward towards Lake Nepigon. There are at present no means of communication with this district, and the contractors will themselves have to construct a waggon road northward from Jack Fish Bay on Lake Superior. This latter is now being surveyed, and it is expected that the most of the railway construction in this out of the way part of the Dominion will be under way next spring.

The statement that comes here from Toronto that the Ontario Government, being displeased at the acquittal of the men whom its agents charged with conspiracy in the West Algoma election, intend to further interfere in Dominion elections by appointing a commission to investigate the Conmee election, opens up an interesting vista of possibilities, which veteran publicists here are of the opinion will lead to undesirable consequences. In the first place, it is pointed out, that the local Government has no interest in Dominion elections that cannot be safely confided to the courts; that its refusal to accept the decisions of the courts, and to attempt to go behind them by means of "Commissions" would lead to a conflict between the permanent instrumentalities of the judicial system, and the temporary holders of administrative portfolios. And it is further pointed out that, if this were allowed to go on, it might occur to the Dominion authorities to inquire into the course and conduct of Provincial politics by means of "Commissions," which would have a higher standard of authority than any thing that Sir James Whitney could send into West Algoma or elsewhere for the political purposes of the party of which he is the local head. It is the opinion of these gentlemen, who have outgrown politics, and are now merely interested political onlookers, that the party temporarily in power in Ontario would do well to endure the ills they think they have, than to rush into others they know not of.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who returned from his southern trip somewhat earlier than had been anticipated, was in his office yesterday in the best of health and spirits. A Cabinet meeting will be held to-day to consider the work of the session, and to deal with the situation created by the defeat of Minister of Inland Revenue Templeman in Victoria. Earl Grey is expected to pay a flying visit to the Capital this week, when there will be a formal and important meeting of the Governor-General in Council.

REGULAR MEETING OF W. C. T. U.

Was Held Yesterday—Routine Business Transacted.

The City Union met Monday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. drawing room, with a fair attendance considering the weather.

The meeting was most interesting and helpful, as Mrs. Konner, a veteran in W.C.T.U. work, was in the chair.

Before reading the Scripture lesson which was Psalm 146, the president related the circumstances which led to the choice of this Psalm as the crusade Psalm of the W.C.T.U.

After the business of the Union had been finished, Mrs. Campbell gave an excellent report of the recent Provincial convention held in Barrie, which was greatly appreciated by the Union.

The meeting closed with the W.C.T.U. benediction.

THEY WOULD LIKE STREET LAMP

Many Believe Fire, Water and Light Committee Should Place One at Corner of Lake and Crescent Streets.

A citizen living in the south end of the city, is of the opinion that the Fire, Water and Light Committee should place a lamp at the corner of Lake and Crescent streets, as it is a particularly dark location. It would light up Crescent street, Lake street, and the surrounding parts of streets. He thought that the committee might be too busy with work already on hand, and merely makes the suggestion that if they have attended to all the requests that have been sent in, it would be in the interests of the whole eastern section of the south end to give the residents a light at this corner where the street railway makes a sharp turn and thus makes the pace more dangerous after dark. He hopes that the committee will find it possible to do something in this matter.

WORK THAT WEAKENS

Booth's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service For People Who Work in Peterborough

Many Peterborough people work every day in some strained unnatural position, bending constantly over a desk, riding on jolting waggons or cars, bending over heavy house work, lifting, reaching, pulling, all these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Booth's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs, Peterborough cures prove it

Mrs. J E Booth, 631 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., says:—"I cannot speak too highly of Booth's Kidney Pills as I have found more actual results in one box of them than in all else I had previously tried. For over a year I had suffered with headaches and spells of dizziness. I became so weak that I would have to support myself to keep from falling. My back was tender and a heavy, bearing-down pain had settled across the small of it. Numerous prescriptions had failed to give me any relief. I procured Booths' Kidney Pills at the Market Drug Store. They quickly cured me. I have no trouble since and am stronger than in a year previous. Although I am averse to having my name used I feel that everyone should know of such a valuable remedy."

"The Dog—His Day."

By TROY ALLISON.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Young Conway jabbed the oars into the water viciously.

"If I can't have what I want," he said sullenly, "I'll take what I can get. I'll ask her tonight."

Little Miss Pennell held on to the boat with both hands and gurgled delightedly.

"What a humble, doglike disposition is yours, Robert," she said admiringly. "I'm sure she will take you. She has been throwing herself at your head for six weeks."

"Thank heaven, women can never throw straight," he growled sullenly.

"Seems to me she has done very well," said Miss Pennell flippantly. "If you ask her tonight she surely will have achieved her aim. But I can't say that you look a willing victim.

HE WAVED HER DOUBTS ASIDE WITH AN AIRY GESTURE

That growl of yours was perhaps in accordance with your newly acquired doglike humility, but one couldn't exactly call it a yap of joy. Couldn't you force one little ecstatic bark, Bobbie, my child?" she suggested coaxingly.

"I wonder why on earth I like you. I've never been able to understand." He pulled the boat up to the sand bank and held it while she stepped ashore.

"Am sorry I'm so unaccountably fascinating."

She shook the wrinkles from her ruffled skirts airily and started to investigate the one deserted hut that graced the tiny island of sand and rushes.

"Upon my soul, it's a mystery." He took their lunch basket from the boat and followed moodily.

Miss Pennell turned aggrievedly.

"You have spoiled your lovely metaphor. Dogs have no souls."

"Neither—so some philosopher has argued—have women," he retorted.

"That philosopher had probably just been turned down emphatically by the lady he wrote about. But e'en though soulless I have an appetite. Would you mind if we unpacked the basket and ate right here and now?"

Conway set the basket on the sand and took out his pipe, while she spread the napkins. "I don't want anything—have no appetite." He puffed his briarwood vigorously.

"But, Robert, you must brace the inner man. Don't you remember you have an ordeal before you tonight? I should think it would take some nerve to propose to Miss Stubbs. She's so—er—almost fat," apologetically, "that one would have to work his imagination overtime to say to her the things that the heroine of a romance is supposed to relish."

"I never did like skinny women."

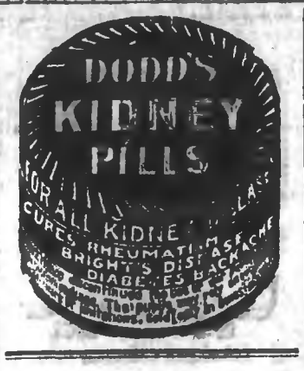
CURE SICK HEADACHE.



She hastily swallowed her bit of sandwich.

"If you want to call me little or petite or anything decently polite"—her eyes were flashing—"I don't object to you expressing your opinion, but I won't listen to anything so rude as 'skinny.'" She shook the crumbs from her lap and walked toward the water's edge.

"Oh, Robert, the boat's untied!" she wailed.

"Thunder!" said Conway, springing to his feet.

They watched it helplessly as it drifted. The girl at last sat down dejectedly.

"I'll not get back in time to dress for the dance."

"You'll be lucky if any one comes by in time to take us back tonight at all," he said forebodingly.

"In all my twenty-two years I've never met with such vexation." She dug the sand into holes with the heel of her small tan shoe.

"You at least have some cause for gratitude. It's not everybody that achieves such a ripe old age by calmly peaceful paths."

Little Miss Pennell eyed him miserably. "But it will soon be getting dark, Robert, and I am afraid out here all alone."

"Seems that I should count for something in the way of company," with slightly more amiability.

"Oh, you!" she returned gloomily. "But you will be so bad tempered because of Miss Stubbs. You were going to have a tete-a-tete with her tonight, you know."

"That's all over now," he sighed.

"Over? Can't you ask her tomorrow?"

He threw a pebble far out in the water and waited to see it splash. "I'm going to ask you again," he said slowly, "and you will have to consider it this time—to keep those old cats at the hotel from saying things."

She drew a quick breath, and her eyes were mutinous.

"Let them talk. They have to talk about something. I certainly shall not let their silly clatter force me into matrimony."

"But, Betty, I hate to have them say things. And I'm not such a bad chap"—

"I know you're not," said Miss Pennell, fast becoming more excited and angry, "but they can talk—and talk! I intended marrying you all along, but I won't be forced into it."

"What!" shouted Conway so loudly that a lone bird perched on a nearby grass stalk flapped its wings hurriedly.

She saw her false step and tried to retrieve. "I meant—perhaps."

"No; you don't renig," he said happily.

The shadows grew longer. He looked at his watch in the fading light.

"Too bad, but I must take you back in time for you to dress for the dance."

"How?" incredulously.

He waved her doubts aside with an airy gesture. "The hero of this romance knows how to relieve the heroine in distress, my lovely lady. See that hut?" dramatically. "Well, there are four canoes sheltered in it."

Little Miss Pennell dimpled appreciatively. "You dear!" she said.

She Liked Variety.

She is a very nice little girl, and yet she has an imagination so vivid that people can't help wondering once in awhile what is going to become of it. The little girl can and does tell the most marvelous tales, and when she is reproved she is entirely complacent and cannot see that her effective inventions are anything more than jokes. One of these she told to an interested neighbor at whose house she called frequently.

"How is your mamma, dear?" asked the neighbor one morning when the little girl made her appearance.

"She is very sick," answered the little girl earnestly. "Nelly (her sister) and I were up with her all night. We called the doctor." But when the kind neighbor went in haste to see her sick friend she found her in every respect as well as ever.

"Why did you tell kind Mrs. Blank such a story about me?" asked mamma seriously of her little girl at the first opportunity.

"Well, mamma," said the little girl, with a toss of her curls, "Mrs. Blank asks me every single morning how you are, and I get tired of telling her that you are very well."—New York Times.

[illegible] the Earl.

The Earl of Aberdeen is one of the kindest-hearted of men, with a great sense of his responsibility as a landlord. He makes a point of knowing, as far as possible, what is taking place on his estates. As he owns some 58,000 acres, this is no light task. On one occasion some years since he was walking in a remote country district, and stopped at a cottage garden to watch an old man digging. "Is this good soil?" asked the peer. "Aye," responded the peasant. "What is your next crop to be?" The old man leaned on his spade, looked severely at his questioner, and remarked: "You don't know nothin' about crops. You just hire a nice little bit of ground and try workin' it! You'll have summat better to do than to come worritin' busy folk!"

REFRIGERATOR DRAIN.

The Operation of Emptying It Cannot Be Attended by Disaster.

The blessings which come to us through the advancement of knowledge and science are never unmixed with their penalties. Take the refrigerator, for instance. It is a comfort and a convenience which has taken such a deep rooted hold on us that it is now a necessity, and, no matter how humble it may be, there is no home without a refrigerator. But a nuisance attending it is the matter of emptying the drip pan, which must be done at regular intervals, and because of the necessarily flat shape of this receptacle so that it may slide readily under the ice chest the task of disposing of the accumulation of water is more often than not attended by some spilling. No matter what amount of care is exercised, it seems almost impossible to pull the pan from under the chest without accident.

In some of the most up to date hardware and house furnishing stores there is now being shown an article of this character which greatly facilitates the removal of the pan. The latter may be filled almost to the point of overflowing, yet it can be pulled out without giving the matter the least care and carried anywhere without the least danger of disaster. It is almost impossible to upset its contents. Care in handling is not at all essential. Clad in her finest dress, a woman can dispose of the refrigerator overflow without danger.

The new refrigerator pan looks like a kettledrum more than anything else. It is a low, flat cylinder. Unlike the usual pan for this purpose, it has a covered top. Being more or less familiar with the approximate location of the drip pipe, the new pan is thrust carelessly under the refrigerator. The drops falling anywhere on its top, the water is conducted into the interior of the receptacle by means of a series of channels which carry the drippings to an inlet at one edge. At this point on the circular side walls of the can there is also a handle, by which it is pulled from its resting place and carried to the point of emptying. Under the handle there are also other openings to facilitate the precipitating of the contents, but in order that it may not overflow at this point they are covered with a hood of the same metal of which the pan is made. In transporting this receptacle from point to point, as is necessary, it is carried by the handle in precisely the same manner as a gripsack. This enables the pan to be made larger than those of the type in use at present because of its greater convenience, it being possible to carry a greater burden in this way. Any woman will recognize the convenience of this innovation and will wonder that the idea was never worked out before.

Brushing a Dress.

In brushing a garment that holds lint and dust place it upon the ironing board and sweep it with the whisk broom, always in the direction of the weave, which should be from the band to the hem. Even this process will not always insure a perfectly clean skirt, for the broom and brush scatter dust particles, but you will meet with good results by going lightly over the goods with a dry sponge. This sponge will take up all places of lint. It can be used to brush the collar and cuffs of a coat and is very convenient for dusting dandruff from a man's coat collar.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RUGBY CLUB; OFFICERS FOR NEXT SEASON ELECTED AT LARGE GATHERING LAST NIGHT

Probably the most enthusiastic meeting in the history of the Peterborough Rugby Club was that held last evening in the Y.M.C.A. and the interest shown was all the more remarkable when it is considered that the meeting was called for the purpose of making preparations for the campaign next season and that it will be nearly a year before the boys don the padded suits again. At few annual meetings has there been such a large and representative attendance, and it must be remembered too that the meetings have hitherto been called at the beginning of the season when interest in the game was to be expected. Some twenty-five enthusiasts were present last night and they entered into the spirit of the undertaking with a vim that promises great things for next year.

Briefly stated, the meeting decided that for next year a strong senior team should be placed in the field as well as a junior team if possible, and also determined to run the City League on the same lines as this year as well. All will be under the management of the Peterborough Rugby Club and each City League Club will be represented on the executive of the club when ever matters concerning the League are up for discussion. It is felt there is abundance of material for a first-class senior team if the men are looked after, gotten out to practice early, and well coached and the organization of the club now for next season's Rugby should bring about the desired results. Dr. MacPherson has consented to coach the team and his experience in this line is bound to bring results.

As is generally known the Peterborough Rugby Club was practically out of existence during the past season and had not the T.A.S.A.C. and Y.M.C.A. come to the rescue there would have been no Rugby. Now, however, that the club has been reorganized on a sound basis and with the united support of the different organizations of the city, no difficulty should be experienced in connection with the Rugby situation next year.

Mr. R F McWilliams, who was President of the Club last year, was in the chair and among those present were Dr. A W MacPherson, H R H Kenner, Eugene Hurtubise, J D Clarke, Ross Cameron, Jack Deannard, Frank O'Connor, H Davidson, Leo Derocher, H Giroux, T Henderson, J Downing, Geo Armstrong, F Turner, Geo Lundy, Claude Rogers, C E Sisson, Harvey Staunton, Geo McDonald, A C Yokome, F D Craig and others.

Mr. McWilliams explained the object of the meeting which was called, he said, in order to decide whether it was advisable to proceed with the organization of the club for 1909, and elect officers in order to prepare for next season. He pointed out that as the majority of the players were unable to get out in the afternoons it was advisable to start practising in September in order to take advantage of the longer days in order to practice in the evenings.

Dr. MacPherson explained the system in vogue at Varsity which he thought could be used to good advantage here. The executive of the Rugby Club there controlled all Rugby not only the three teams, but also the games for the Mulock Cup, and each faculty was represented on the executive. A captain for each team was chosen by the players at the end of a season for the following year and the captains were given the power to choose their own managers which was found to give better results as the two could work harmoniously together.

Messrs. Gene Hurtubise and H R H Kenner strongly advocated the idea of all the Rugby in Peterborough being controlled by the one club, and Messrs. O'Connor and Deamard, on behalf of the T.A.S. Athletic Club, and Messrs. Turner, Sisson and McDonald for the Y.M.C.A., were unanimous in supporting the proposition. Mr. McDonald advocated the forming of an athletic club in the city to carry on all branches of amateur sport. He pointed out that the better paying sports could help in financing those that were not such good money makers.

MR. DUNCAN WALKER, B.A.,

Mr. Clarke and other speakers approved of the suggestions of Dr. MacPherson, and it was decided to proceed with the election of officers for 1909 which resulted as follows:

Patrons and Patronesses—
Hon. J R Stratton, M.P., and Mrs. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. E G Patterson, ton, Mr. and Mrs. R A Morrow and Mr. and Mrs. B Morrow.

Hon. Pres.—H R H Kenner.
Pres.—Duncan Walker, B.A.
First Vice-Pres.—R F McWilliams.
Second Vice-Pres.—C E Sisson.
Sec.-Treas.—F D Craig.
Executive Committee—Claude Rogers, Geo Armstrong and Geo Lundy.
Coach—Dr. A W MacPherson.

It was decided to allow the secretary-treasurer to select his own assistant, his choice to be approved of by the executive.

Some discussion took place in regard to the election of a captain and manager. Finally it was decided that in view of the fact that there was no Peterborough Club during the past season, it would be advisable to wait until next season for the election of a captain and the same course was adopted in regard to the appointment of a manager.

The secretary was instructed to draft a resolution of congratulation and forward it to the Lindsay Rugby Club upon their having won the junior championship of the O.R.F.U.

It was decided to leave the matter of framing a new constitution of the club in the hands of the executive to be dealt with at an early date.

PETERBORO' MAY PLACE TEAM IN INTER-PROVINCIAL BASKETBALL UNION

The Central senior basketball team defeated Peterborough Y.M.C.A. team at Peterborough on Saturday after a good game. This trip is always looked forward to by the Toronto boys, as in previous years they have been treated royally by the Quakers "Ches." Tompkins, who had not recovered from the injury received in the Hamilton game of a week ago, went along as a spectator. Miller played centre in his place, the rest of the team being intact. Peterborough has a good fast team, who are improving all the time, and on their showing Saturday will likely make some of the best of them hustle to win. Their forwards found it pretty difficult to score on Centrals' strong defence, but at that they got away often enough to make things exceedingly interesting.

The visitors were entertained at a banquet after the game.

J. J. M. MacLeod, physical director of the Central Y.M.C.A., who was in Peterborough with the basketball team, interviewed the Y.M.C.A. officials there regarding the placing of a team in the proposed interprovincial league. They were enthusiastic over the idea, and promise that if they enter a team, it will be fast enough to make them all hustle. This league, when all arrangements are completed should provide some very fast ball, with Hamilton's senior team, Brantford, London, Central and West End Y.M.C.A., and possibly Peterborough in the Western series.—Toronto Star.

SHRUBB AT ROLLER RINK TO-NIGHT— WILL RUN A MILE RELAY RACE

There will no doubt be a big crowd on hand to-night at the Auditorium Roller rink, when Alf. Shrubb, the world's champion middle distance runner, will meet a number of local runners in a relay race that should prove decidedly interesting in view of the fact that it is the first appearance of the wonderful English runner in Peterborough. Every one in Peterborough interested in athletics will welcome the opportunity to see the crack in action, and a visit to the rink should prove interesting and instructive. Shrubb is in the best of shape having been engaged during the present autumn as coach of the squad of long distance runners in connection with Harvard University. He is at present very much in the limelight in regard to the Longboat controversy, and doubtless many local people will want to see the man who is regarded as the Indian's only serious rival. Local people have had an opportunity of seeing Longboat perform and a visit to the rink to-night will give them an idea of Shrubb's style, so that they will be able to form some idea of what a race between the two would produce.

A SENSATIONAL FINISH TO BOWLING GAME LAST NIGHT

The game last night at the P.B.C. came up to advance notices and the large crowd present were treated to one of the most exciting, nerve-racking contests in local ten pin annals. McIlroy's Pacifics and the Belmonts were the teams engaged, and the rooting of the large delegation of Belmont followers present shook the building. That their noisy support of their favourites went for naught was due to the fact that the element of luck, always a big factor in ten pins, obtruded itself at the last moment, the Pacifics winning out by an eyelash in the last frame, when it looked as it nothing could avert defeat.

The first game had been won by the Pacifics, but the second went to the Belmonts by a very large margin. In the final game the Pacifics had given up all hope and were only waiting to find out by how much they had been beaten, when the biggest surprise of the season was sprung on the crowd.

Wareham was the last man to bowl and was rolling on a strike in his last frame. He needed only nine pins to win out and ran into a difficult four-pin spare. An onlooker assured him that he needed the spare to win and Bill went after it, endeavouring to cut over an outside pin. He could easily have made three out of the four pin cluster by running into the bunch, but he took the word of the side lines and fell, getting only one pin, thus losing the match by two pins. It was a most unfortunate happening, but Bill and his Belmonts accepted the misfortune in a philosophical spirit and hoped for a better break of luck next time.

To-night the Examiner and Lang will hook up, and both teams are making predictions that they will carry off all three games. The Exam. will be strengthened by the addition of Rolly Glover, while Lang will have Hemstead and Hoolihan associated with him.

The scores last night follow:

McIlroy	176	146	154—	476
Connors	166	124	160—	450
Lillie	141	138	156—	435
	483	408	470	1361
Pollard	167	203	138—	508
Wesley	94	153	152—	399
Wareham	174	172	178—	524
	435	528	468	1431

"BILL" CROWLEY APPOINTED TRAINER OF EDMONTON TEAM

The first practice of the Edmonton hockey team was held last evening, says the Edmonton Bulletin, on the City rink from 7 to 8, and another this morning between 11 and 12 o'clock. All hockey players in the city are asked to turn out and practise with the team. The regular hours for practice will be announced shortly. Bill Crowley has been appointed trainer of the team. The boys are all in pretty good condition, and efforts will be made to arrange for some exhibition matches with Strathcona next week. Before the end of the week the team will settle down to hard work and will make every day tell in their favour. By the middle of December they should have plenty of team practice and be the fastest hockey team ever seen in the west.

Gardner, of the Montreal Shamrocks, will not be on the Edmonton line-up, as was at first expected. The club are negotiating, however, with Fred Taylor, of last year's Ottawa team and expect to land him all right. Taylor plays cover point and is certainly a star hockey player. He wrote the Edmonton club stating the conditions under which he would play with Edmonton and the club at once wired acceptance of these terms and expect to receive word every day that he is coming. Taylor is in Pittsburg at present and is in prime condition for hockey.

That the Montreal hockeyists are awakening to the fact that the defeat of Edmonton in the Stanley Cup matches will be no sinecure is evidenced by the following, which appeared in the Montreal Star last Friday:

"It is apparent Edmonton is looking for the Stanley Cup, and not coming east only for the purpose of cleaning up a little gate money.

Word has just been received from Pittsburg that Fred Taylor has received a handsome offer to play with the western team in the series against Wanderers the latter part of next month.

"Edmonton has practically bid for all the players of note available at the present time, and the team sent down to play for the cup will without doubt have a completely new line up to the one that went through the season last winter. Wanderers will consequently have to look to their laurels."

TURF

Printed notices have been issued announcing the winter meet of the Peterborough Turf Club, on the same date as the Lindsay racing association had picked on and made public. Why Peterborough horsemen should do such an unsportsmanlike action is hard to understand. However, the local association will stick to their dates.—Lindsay Post.

HOCKEY.

All lucbs interested in the Junior City Hockey League are requested to be represented to-morrow night at a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. when the last opportunityt o enter will be given. Clubs entering must pay their fees. The constitution will be drawn up also.

RUGBY

The following from the Lindsay Post is true it is somewhat ungrammatical:— "The locals said they would do the trick and they done it."

* * * *

Lindsay evidently had a hard task in defeating the Capitals on Saturday, judging from the following from the Free Press:

Lindsay can consider herself lucky to have this game on the credit side. The Capitals clearly had the better of the straight football, and it was only the fact that at the punting game the local kangaroo had the visitors crowded on to the ash heap that put the Scugog team in the running at all.

The Capitals are easily the most formidable bunch of pigskin chasers that the schedule has sent against the locals.

More than one member of the Lindsay team will look upon that scalp in future and wonder how it was lifted.

* * * *

The crowd was disappointingly small and all the financial comfort Lindsay derives from the game is the magnificent sum of — twenty cents Slightly over twenty dollars was taken in at the gate.

Secretary Gladyah, of the O.R.F.U. was present and handled the financial end of the game, and it did not take much generalship.— Lindsay Daily Warder.

BOWLING.

The Barkers had a workout against a strong scratch team on Saturday afternoon, Barber, Ferguson, Ford and Co., putting it all over their foes.

Lang's team, comprising Lang, Hoolihan and Hemstead, had a workout Saturday evening against Martin, Barber and Hay, the latter trio coming out on top.

Billy Wareham is probably the only bowler in the country who uses his third finger and thumb in tossing the ball down the alley. Tradition says that the second finger is the proper one to use and experts scoff at the idea of any other digit being brought into play. But Bill ignores custom, tradition, laws and everything else with such success that there are few bowlers in Canada his superior in individual competiton.

Hutch's Hams will put on their famous farce comedy "How not to bowl" on Thursday night. The Lock Works will be their opponents, and Hutch will endeavour to break his record of 86.

A large number of bowlers have already signified their intention of entering for the trophy which will be put up for individual competition starting early in December. As previously explained the entry is free and the less experienced trundlers will receive handicaps.

Dick Poulter will bring down his Merchant team of the Toronto League for a match game with a local team in the near future. A team will probably go up from here during the Christmas holidays.

"Bob" Was Late

—Recently a young Smith farmer made his usual trip into the city of an evening and left his horse and buggy in a local hotel shed. Some hours later, on returning, he failed to find his outfit, so there was nothing for him to do but to "beat" it home, while his boots were good. Some time after arriving home, none the worse for his walk, he heard a noise in the barn yard and on looking out what did he see? "Bob" had just arrived safe and sound.—Com.

OBITUARY.

MRS. GEO. B. SPROULE

News was received this morning by relatives, of the death in Boston, Mass., of Josephine, wife of Mr. Geo. B. Sproule, formerly a well known photographer of Peterborough. The remains were sent to Lindsay, a former home of Mr. Sproule, and will be interred there to-morrow. Her maiden name was Thirkell, a well known Lindsay family.

MRS. THOS. STEPHENS

Mrs. Stephenson, Omemee, widow of the late Thomas Stephenson, Esq., passed away last night, after a lingering illness of several years' duration, at the advanced age of seventy-eight years. Mr. Jas. Stephenson, city, is a cousin of the deceased. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from Christ Church to Omemee Cemetery. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, who was a former rector at Omemee, and a personal friend of the deceased, has been requested to officiate.

MRS. JOHN L. HOUEDRY

It is announced with deep regret, and with tender of deep sympathy, that on Sunday, November 29th, 1908, Mrs. John L. Houedry, died at the family home, Dod-de-Bretagne France, at the advanced age of 68 years, death being due to the natural infirmities of age. The deceased lady was the wife of Mr. John L. Houedry, of Houedry Fils, the well known propagaters and merchants of edible peas, and well known throughout the county and district by the farmers with whom their dealings have been of the most satisfactory and honorable character. Mrs. Houedry leaves behind her two sons, Mr. Maurice, manager of the Peterborough branch of the French establishment, Mr. Louis and two daughters. The interment took place in France to-day.

TO INVESTIGATE DEATH OF YOUNG ROLAND AYOTTE

County Constable Cochrane Empanels a Jury—Body Exhumed and Post Mortem to be Held.

An investigation is being held into the cause of the death of Roland Ayotte, whose death resulted from a bullet wound some time ago at Oregon, in Harvey Township. It will be remembered that he and another youth, Tommy Gordon, were out together, when in some manner Ayotte was killed.

Yesterday County Constable Cochrane went to Harvey to make some investigations, and to have the body exhumed from the cemetery at Young's Point. He also empannelled a jury. To-day Coroner Dr. Gray and Dr. Young went to Young's Point and a post mortem will be held in the course of a day or two.

CHINA KILN FOR LOCAL JEWELRY STORE

Assistance for the Painters of China—Full Stock of Supplies.

Mr. Oliver Milburn has added a china kiln to his jewelry store. This should certainly prove popular among the young ladies of the city who are at the present time so interested in china painting. The china is painted by the artist, then burnt in the kiln, retouched with the brush and burnt hard again so that the painting will remain permanently. Mr. Milburn also keeps a full line of paints, china and brushes.

LAWN TENNIS.

The paraphernalia of the Oval Tennis Club is out under the old apple tree and that of St. John's Tennis Club in the back wood shed piled on an old cooking stove, this is the reason the members of these two tennis organizations give for their being up in arms against the action. Their goods should at least be provided with some kind of a shelter for the summer, as they cannot carry their apparatus up and down to the oval. The tenns enthusiasts who have enjoyed the splendid opportunity offered by the ideal sward have appreciated it very much but they do not like the idea of their nets, etc, being cast out under an apple tree as they say has been done. They are looking forward to some better accommodation next year.

A CANADIAN EXHIBIT FOR SEATTLE

Arrangements are Now Being Made to Have Building Erected.

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—Arrangements are under way by the Dominion Government to construct a large building in which Canadian exhibits will be shown at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition to be held in Seattle in June. It will be three hundred feet by one hundred and the Government has notified Wm. Hutchison, Canadian Exhibition Commissioner now at London and shortly to be here, to go to Seattle as soon as possible to select the site and make arrangements. The display will consist of agricultural and horticultural departments, dairying, grain, and live stock, and will probably be the finest Canada has ever shown in any outside country.

Our great Mikado, sung by Mr. N. Greenhalgh in the Mikado.

GRANT MADE TO THE COLLEGIATE CADET CORPS

Nucleus of a Fund to Provide Uniforms and Equipments.

The Collegiate Cadets were made the subject of some very complimentary remarks at the meeting of the Board of Education last night. The report of the inspecting officer which was read last night was of a most satisfactory nature and in referring to it Mr. Hayes remarked that the cadets would endeavour to get uniforms and form a bugle band and that the principal was very anxious to see these improvements made. The $50 received by the Board from the Government had hitherto in most cases been paid direct to the instructor. Mr. Hayes moved, seconded by Mr. Hill, that this sum be handed over to Principal Kenner for the purpose of buying stores and equipment for the Cadet corps.—Carried.

It was suggested that the grant might serve as a nucleus for a fund for this purpose.

In commenting upon the report of the attendance at the Collegiate Institute during the past month Dr. Morrison took occasion to compliment the principal upon the very high average. He thought that he had never heard of such a high average before. Out of a total of 340 on the roll the attendance was 326.

DANGEROUS DEAD LIMBS FALL

Tree Rains Down Menacing Branches on Principal Street Corner.

If dear old Horace had strayed back from the Stygian shores beyond, and had been at the southeast corner of Hunter and Rubidge streets during the early hours of Monday night, he would have had another text for an ode of reproach to a tree that imperilled his life. That night it blew great guns, especially about ten o'clock, and the gale brought crashing to the street several heavy limbs of the dead Lombardy poplar at the corner of Hunter and Rubidge streets. If any person had been passing at the time his life would have been in great danger. The limbs were heavy and, falling from a great height, would have struck out the life of man or horse. The authorities could do worse than have this dangerous tree which has been a standing menace for some time, promptly removed.

PETERBOROUGH MACHINIST IN PORT COLBORNE FALLS FROM TWENTY-FIVE FOOT SCAFFOLD ALIGHTING ON HIS FEET

Examiner Special.

Port Colborne, Dec. 2.—W. J. Metheral, a young Peterborough machinist while working at the Government elevator here this morning fell from a scaffold on the tower a distance of twenty-five feet to dock, landing on his feet. It is thought that with the exception of being badly strained and the shock to his system, Mr. Metheral will suffer no serious results because of the accident.

Splendid Evening Spent With Knights Of Pythias In Pythian Castle Hall

Grand Officers on Belated Train Arrive Too Late for Dedication Ceremony—Mayor Rush Presides.

INTERESTING PROGRAMME

Marathon Lodge, Knights of Pythias scored a distinct success last night in connection with their smoker held in their hall on Simcoe street. The attendance was large, the programme excellent and as one man put it, "he had the best of a good time." The arrangements for the function were excellent and everything passed off in the most harmonious manner. There was a plentiful supply of pipes and tobacco and good cigars were passed around frequently.

A primary reason for holding the smoker was to have the hall dedicated by a number of the grand officers of the Knights of Pythias, but owing to a belated train service the visitors did not arrive in Peterborough until 9.30 o'clock and consequently there was not enough time to have the dedication ceremony, which is said to be of a very interesting nature, and is open to the public.

In their hall on Simcoe street, Marathon Lodge has one of the best fraternal gathering places in this part of the province. It is large, but cosy, and the decorations are most artistic. The walls are finished in red of a very pretty shade and numerous pictures add to the general appearance.

The gentlemen's coats and hats were checked in an ante-room last night, and the arrangement, which prevented inconvenience and confusion was greatly appreciated.

The programme was splendid. His Worship Mayor Rush, occupied the chair and made a neat opening address in which he welcomed the Grand Lodge officers to Peterborough. The National Anthem was then sung.

After a brilliant piano solo by Mr. Nichol, Mr. F C Freeland sang "Ben" and his excellent bass voice was heard to advantage. For an encore he sang "Old Black Joe," with quartette accompaniment for the chorus, the quartette consisting of Messrs. Greenslade, Cutting, Freeland and Pratt.

Grand Chancellor A R Whyte, of Hamilton, gave an address in which he congratulated Marathon Lodge on its splendid progress and the excellent quarters that had been secured. He also dealt with the many good points of Pythian Knighthood.

A duet, "Italia," by Messrs. Cutting and Mortimer Johnston was enthusiastically encored. Mr. Greenslade sang, "For the King," in excellent voice and was encored. An address was then given by Supreme Representative W. C MacDonald, of Toronto, and was followed by Mr. Fred Clarke with a banjo selection. For an encore he sang "The Water Melon on the Vine," with banjo accompaniment. The Mandolin Club made a great hit as also did Mr. F Pratt, who sang "Goodwin Sands." For an encore he gave "Eileen Alanah." Mr. Chas. Barber was heard to excellent advantage in a vocal solo, "Genevieve." For an encore he sang "Tuanita." Mr. Chas. Coleman gave a comic song and had to respond to an encore.

Short addresses were also given by Grand Prelate F Hubert, of Hamilton, Grand Keeper of Records, and Seals, Alex Coulter, of Toronto, and Grand Master of Exchequer, Burns, of Hamilton. The visitors had all nice things to say about Marathon Lodge and wished it every success.

Short addresses were also given by several local gentlemen, including Messrs. T E Bradburn, M.P.P., J H Burnham, A P Poussette and F H Dobbin. All congratulated Marathon Lodge on the success it had achieved.

The accompanist of the evening was Mr. Nichol, whose services were everything that could be desired.

The officers of Marathon Lodge, No. 59, Knights of Pythias, are as follows:

C. C., Bro. Middleton, D.D.S.; V.C., Bro. Hamilton; K.R.S., Bro. Savigny; Prelate, Bro. Dr. Neal; M. of A., Bro. Patterson; M. of F., Bro. Comstock; M. of F. Bro. Blewett; I.G., Bro. Foy; O.G., Bro. Latimer; M. of W., Bro. Freeland.

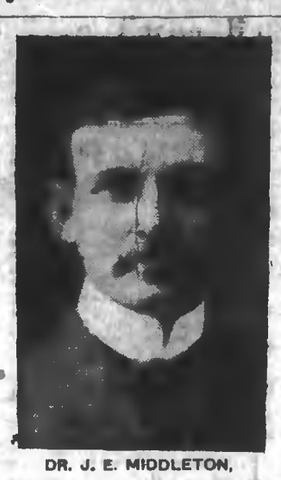
Visitors Present

The visiting officers of the Grand Lodge present were as follows:

Grand Chancellor—A R Whyte, of Hamilton.

Grand Prelate—F Hubert, Hamilton.

Grand Master of Exchequer — John Burns, Hamilton.



DR. J. E. MIDDLETON,
Chancellor Commander of Marathon Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

Grand Keeper of Records and Seals —Allen Coulter, of Toronto.

Supreme Rep.—W C MacDonald, P. G.C., of Toronto.

Marathon Lodge was organized in May, 1906 and has grown steadily, the membership being now considerably over fifty.

PREFERRED CENTRAL TO THE HOUSE OF REFUGE

John Cooper Gets Six Months in the Toronto Organization for Vagrancy

John Cooper showed a decided distaste for the County House of Refuge, when he was arraigned before the Magistrate on a charge of vagrancy this morning. John informed the Magistrate that he would rather go to Central Prison than be sent to the House of Refuge. The reason for his preference for the Toronto institution was not forthcoming, but he evidently meant what he said, and the Magistrate took him at his word, with the result that Cooper was committed to the Central for a term of six months at hard labour. He had pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy.

DONATIONS ARE COMING IN WELL

Subscriptions Towards Assisting Deserving Family are Increasing.

THE WEST PETERBORO PROTEST

The following is from the Kingston Standard, a Conservative journal of 50 years' standing:

According to Conservative authorities in West Peterborough the protest against the election of Hon. J R Stratton is founded on such strong grounds that it is almost certain to result in the unseating of Mr. Stratton. If this is the case then it seems to us a pity that the Conservatives should have included in their allegations one to the effect that large subscriptions to churches and charities were made in anticipation of the election and to influence the electors. Surely this is carrying the matter to an extreme, for it signifies, in effect, that the churches and the charities were actually parties to the bribery. That is to say if a candidate may not make subscriptions to churches and charities on the sole reason that an election is pending then by the same token a church or a charity should not receive such donations from a candidate during a certain time preceding the campaign. Is not this as ridiculous as it is unreasonable.

Let the West Peterborough Conservatives fight their protest out on rational rather than irrational grounds.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE.

The responsibility for the origin of the "foot-and-mouth" disease has been placed on the State of Michigan, and upon Livonia township in that State. Heretofore Michigan has been entirely free from anything of the kind, but her live stock interests have now received a staggering blow from which it will take them at least a decade to recover. The killing of condemned live stock, the embargo upon cattle-raising and the small dairy business will result in serious hardship for men whose means of livelihood are based upon thrift, frugality and hardwork, but in the interest of mankind the stock-raisers of Michigan must shoulder as manfully and as philosophically as they can, the burden which has become theirs.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

If a housewife finds her cooking stove gives her trouble and is not able to replace it with a new one, she adjusts herself to the conditions, exercises her ingenuity, studies the temper of her stove more closely, humours it and finds that with patience and forbearance she can rub along with it very successfully and comfortably for years. If she had been in a position to replace her stove she doubtless would have done so, and meeting somewhat similar trouble with the next one, might have made three or four changes during the time the old stove had been giving fairly satisfactory service. In a civilized country like Canada, when man and wife encounter little faults in each other and the inevitable little jars come, like sensible persons they adjust their little troubles, control their tempers, give and take, with the result they live on together, keep the home and children together, enjoy an average life of happiness, with the splendid consciousness that they are elements in maintaining in its integrity the indissoluable bond that holds together Christian society, Christian civilization and all that they represent. If divorces had been as easy to get as they are in the United States, these same home heroes might have been divorced and married half a dozen times during the period they were doing their share in strengthening the foundation and edifying the superstructure of a happy and virtuous Christian community. Statistics officially compiled at Washington, the capital of the United States, show that of twelve million marriages in the past twenty years, 945,625, or nearly a million have been dissolved by divorce decrees. That is one marriage in every twelve has been cancelled, one home in every twelve has been desolated, and the children in one home in every twelve have been turned adrift worse than fatherless and motherless. Not plutocratic predominance, not the disregard of the sanctity of human brotherhood in the mad rush for riches, but the wanton destruction of the home through the popular outrage and cheapening of the marriage bond, is the most menacing disintegrating influence in the national life of our neighbours. If we undermine the divine foundation of human society we must ultimately expect a fall. The penalty for the breach of divine law is inexorably exacted, sooner or later in God's own time and in God's own way.

BELLICOSE BRANTFORD

Brantford is becoming fuddled over the question of whiskey or no whiskey. It is bound to have it hot whether or not. The city council had passed the second reading of a local option by-law, which the voters of the city in January would give or decline to give the third and decisive reading. On Monday night the matter came up again. After the council went into Committee of the Whole to make certain technical amendments, an alderman took the bull by the horns and moved that the whole by-law be struck out. Three of the members, who had voted for the by-law at a previous meeting, were absent. To save the defeat of the by-law, four of its supporters left the chamber when the division was called, and the sitting broke up in the most admired disorder. The crowd in attendance, both antis and pros, stayed in the chamber and declined to accept the Mayor's orden that they should retire, claiming that as ratepayers the hall was as much their's as the Mayor's. The chief magistrate called in the police and had the crowd ejected. The Mayor and the citizens have given the reputation of Brantford a black eye. The action of the council seems peculiar. Two weeks before they had decided to allow the local option by-law to go to the people on a vote of eight to seven. From the outside it is impossible to fix the blame for the present contretemps. On general principles, however, it seems that the wishes of the people, their desire to express an opinion, should not be denied. If the people favour local option the by-law will be carried, if not it will, of course, be defeated.

GRENFELL AND LABRADOR.

In yesterdays' issue was a notice of a local social function on Japuary 1st prox., in the interests of Dr. Grenfell's Medical Mission on the Labrador coast. It is probable that before the winter is over Dr. Grenfell will himself visit Peterborough. Already human interest in this great altruist is intense. His life is at the same time a romance and a reality of human devotion to succour of suffering humanity, rarely paralleled in human history outside the story of the Nazarene, and further information regarding him and his work will be read with interest. Mr. P T. McGrath, a well-known Newfoundland newspaperman and magazine contributor, in the American Review of Reviews for December, tells the story of what Dr. Grenfell has done for Labrador;—

When Grenfell came to Labrador in 1892, Dr. Grenfell found the 3,000 permanent residents and the 30,000 fishermen from Newfoundland almost without religious or medical aid; in the clutches of merchants and traders who advanced them fishing outfits at enormous figures, and took their catches in return, contriving to keep them in debt during their whole lives, and maintaining this system of bondage for generations, with misery and destitution universal: with children barefooted and naked in a zero temperature, and parents so beggared as to borrow each other's clothes in order to come to him for treatment; with education virtually unknown, the ruling powers indifferent, if not criminally neglectful, and the region a veritable land of desolation for all connected with it. Within sixteen years he had effected a revolution so complete and comprehensive in the conditions of existence there as to seem almost a miracle. Beginning by clothing the naked and succoring the sick, he had gradually by judicious charity, encouragement of thrift, incitement to self help and industry, and the preaching of the doctrine of Practical Christianity, created a people comfortable, contented and free, in the main from the fear of perishing by hunger or nakedness,—formerly the fate of large numbers of the permanents.

The medical and spiritual needs of the "transients" have been as fully satisfied. Dr. Grenfell has built hospitals, orphanages, sawmills and workshops; he cruises among the fleet in a hospital ship, and has launches attached to the land hospitals for the conveyance of patients to and fro, since there are no roads; he has established eight co-operative stores, providing much of the capital out of his private means, and asking no interest on it; has built a schooner every winter for some years, with lumber from his own mills, on plans drawn on a shingle by a local genius of a shipwright unable to read or write; has started classes in weaving, carpentry and other trades; has opened day and night schools, and put into service sixty lending libraries donated by Andrew Carnegie; has installed his own electricity, telegraphs and telephones, has chartered the entire sea board and mapped the terrain nearby; has imported reindeer from Norway to replace the man-eating 'husky" dogs that are the terror of that region, and is now undertaking the most herculean task of all,—the raising of $100,000 to transform a moribund seamen's home in St. John's into a fishermen's institute. This will really be what the word implies in a country where fishing is the chief pursuit, and where such a headquarters in one of the world's greatest fishing ports has been a crying need for so many years.

The story is a marvellous one, and indicates that "Dr. Luke of the Labrador," well deserves all the praise which, without his seeking has been unstintedly showered upon him.

This shows generally what the man has done, what he wants to do, and its importance. Who that is able does not feel called upon to aid Dr. Grenfell in the prosecution of his truly noble enterprises. In this connection it is safe to say that generous interest will be taken in the annual dance, held under the auspices of the local branch of the Labrador Deep Sea Medical Mission in the interests of the medical branch of Dr. Grenfell's work.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The total immigration to Canada for the seven months. April to October, was 109,575, as compared with 212,024 last winter, a decrease of 102,449, or 48 per cent. The total immigration via ocean ports from the first of January until the end of October was 86,487, as compared with 204,617 for the same period last year, a decrease of 118,136. The immigration from the United States for the same period was 50,238, as compared with 49,455, an increase of 783. The figures will be received with satisfaction. About all the immigration Canada can assimilate at present is that of people who are prepared to take up farms, and to this class the newcomers from the United States chiefly belong.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—The first meeting of the Cabinet to consider the arrangement of the work of the approaching session is in progress this afternoon and an early announcement of the sessional programme may be looked for.

It is understood that the Government is favourably disposed toward the plan of dealing with the estimates that has been adopted both in Great Britain and the United States. That is, to refer the whole estimates to a select committee, representing both Government and Opposition This committee selects such items of the estimates as are not likely to become subjects of controversy, or upon which both sides may agree, and these by agreement, are passed without discussion when submitted to the House. In this way much valuable time is saved, and Parliament enabled to give better attention to important questions.

While there seems to be a general determination among members on the Government side to put a stop to the filibustering processes by which the last session was so unreasonably lengthened, at great expense to the country and inconvenience to the members, as well as depriving important questions of adequate deliberation, it is hoped that closure may be avoided through agreement between the leaders as to the limitation of debate on matters as they arise. If, however, the interminable and inconsequential loquacity of certain members, who are afflicted with the cacoethes loquendi, should refuse to submit to the discipline of party authority, it will be regarded that the freedom of debate, which is the pride of the Canadian Parliament, will be in no wise affected by an application of the closure.

The latest revenue statement shows that during the six months ended September 1st, Canada's domestic exports totalled $110,109,501, of which $60,638,071 worth have been taken by Great Britain and countries of the British Empire, and $41,429,231 worth by the United States. On the other hand, Canada imported $40,505,685 worth from the British Empire and $87,963,857 from the United States, of which $44,250,246, or more than half, represented goods admitted free of duty. Imports of free goods from the British Empire into Canada totalled $11,355,015, or less than 28 per cent. of the total imports from countries not under the flag.

Senator Tessier's case before the Railway Commission against the Ottawa Electric Railway Company for refusing to carry him free of charge was withdrawn when called at the Railway Commission yesterday morning. The Senator claimed that in virtue of his position as Senator, he should not have to pay fare over the line of this company, as it held a Dominion charter. No reasons were given for the withdrawal of the case, but it is presumed that the Quebec Senator was led to realize that his action was calculated to bring ridicule and humiliation upon the distinguished body to which he belongs.

The announcement of the resignation of Minister of Inland Revenue Templeman, is so far premature. Mr. Templeman has been an admirable and capable administrator, and was in the last election the victim of a peculiar alignment of circumstances. He had to combat the whole political forces of the British Columbia Government, in which he would have been easily successful had it not been for the wave of anti-Asiatic sentiment that for the time being dominated public feeling in that Province. Should he not be able to secure a seat, his place in the Cabinet will unquestionably be vacated, and in that event, Mr. Ralph Smith, the member for Vancouver, may become his successor, though many believe that as British Columbia refused to be represented in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Cabinet, she should be compelled to abide by that decision.

Apropos of the investigation which the Government has ordered into the character and quality of American illuminating oils imported across our Western border, a Winnipeg despatch to-day says: A sample of coal oil on sale at Neepawa, just analyzed at Winnipeg, was found to contain absolutely no kerosene at all. It was a combination of naphtha and gasoline and had a flash point below fifty. Stern measures are likely to be taken against the unprincipled shippers of this dangerous and fraudulent stuff, from which so many fatalities have resulted. The sale of a high explosive for an illuminant may land someone in the penitentiary, if the guilty parties can be reached.

Mr. C. H. Parmalee, ex-M.P. for Shelford, yesterday afternoon took formal possession of the office of King's Printer, to which he was recently appointed in succession to Dr. G. E. Dawson, C.M.G., superannuated. Mr. Parmalee, who is a practical printer, and an able newspaper man, has been for a number of years chairman of the joint committee of both Houses of Parliament upon printing and stationery, and there is no doubt but that he will prove a most competent official.

One of the first of the Provincial Premiers to feel the weight of popular resentment over their offensive and unprincipled interference in the recent Dominion elections is Hazen, of New Brunswick. In the Provincial elections in March last, Hazen's candidate carried Northumberland by 500 majority, and Carleton by 500 majority. The members, Donald Morrison and E. F. Smith, respectively, resigned the local seats to contest them for the Dominion. Both were beaten, and now in the local by-elections following, yesterday, the Liberals won Northumberland by 200, and Carleton by 147. This result is largely due to Hazen's sending a false affidavit against Hon. Dr. Pugsley in the Dominion election, and refusing to make the amends after its falsity was established. Premier Hazen's shrift will be short, and his government of brief duration.

THE VALUE OF COD LIVER OIL

No physician would dispute the value of COD LIVER OIL in nervous and pulmonary diseases, if the nauseous grease did not so derange digestion as to more than counteract the good done by the therapeutic principles of the oil.

In "BRICK'S TASTELESS" there is no grease. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, invigorates the nerves by nourishing them, and CURES Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis. Its timely use is an insurance against serious consequences, as the weakened system is a prey to germ diseases, such as Tuberculosis, Typhoid and Typhus Fevers, and Diphtheria.

"BRICK'S TASTELESS" is put up in eight (8) ounce bottles, retail price fifty (50) cents, and in twenty (20) ounce bottles, retail price one (1) dollar.

FRUIT JUICES CLEAR THE SKIN

The skin mirrors faithfully the state of the blood, and the blood shows how well—or how badly—the liver, bowels, kidneys and the millions of tiny tubes in the skin are doing their work. If these organs are not properly clearing out the waste matter, the blood will be poisoned and the skin sallow, "muddy" and sprinkled with pimples.

Plenty of ripe fruit helps more than any other food to cure this condition, but even more effective, as well as less expensive, are "Fruit-a-tives." These are little tablets of concentrated fruit juices, combined in such a way as to many times increase their action on those organs that eliminate impurities. One or two "Fruit-a-tives" a day will keep the blood pure and give the skin the clear glow of health. 25c for trial size box—50c for regular size—6 for $2.50. Dealers everywhere should have both sizes. If you are unable to obtain "Fruit-a-tives" in your neighborhood, they will be sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

County Council Property And Finance Committee Reports

The special report of the Chairman of the County Property Committee of the County Council is as follows:

Gentlemen,—As stated in a former report, expenditures that became absolutely necessary cropped up this year, and following your directions, when in Council last January, your committee, taking advantage of being assembled at the June session, were successful in making arrangements without putting the county to the expense of calling the committee together for that purpose especially. Your committee not having individual responsibility in carrying out your orders, such as is allowed to the individual chairman for bridge construction or supervision, where separate reports may be brought in, makes it my duty at this session, when in regular sitting of the Property Committe was necessary, to report to you in this way.

Following the recommendations of the Provincial Inspector, we had the paper removed from some of the buildings, and had them properly cleaned and smoothed, and coated with paint, thereby combating the danger of unhealthful germs lodging in cracks in the paper, etc.

We also effected an agreement with Mr. Shapter to have the steps in front of Mr Moloney's office, together with platform built of concrete, at a cost of $28, also the old wooden sidewalk that was past redemption, substituted by a concrete walk, extending from B rock to Murray streets, through the county property in front of buildings, at a cost of $341.55, and the work completed is to-day an evidence of the quality. Mr. Nesbitt kindly consented to supervise the work thereby saving the cost of an inspector.

A lease between the county and Horticultural Society has been signed by all parties required to do so, embodying stipulations recommended at the June session, in the County Property Committee report, and resolution of open council.

The above work has all been done of a permanent character and will require little or no expense for years to come.

It seems to me that it might not be out of place to say, that the caretaker, Mr. Nesbitt, and his assistant, Mr. Rae, exercise every effort possible towards protection and care of county property.

Respectfully yours,
W. J. PORTER,
Chairman.

Finance Report

The Finance Committee reported as follows:

That the account of D Conroy & Sons be laid over until after the Engineer reports upon the same.

That the account of Dr. Graham be left over to January session next.

That the account of the St. John's Industrial School be left in the hands of the County Solicitor, with power to act.

That no action be taken regardgarding McColl Bros'. account.

That the account of W D Robson re Robson's Bridge, be left in the hands of Messrs. Oakman and Darling.

That no action be taken re Protectograph.

That the salary of the Superintendent and Matron of the House of Refuge be raised so that the Superintendent receive $325.00 and the Matron $275.00 per annum.

That no action be taken re D McMillen account Norwood Bridge.

That no action be taken regarding letter copier.

That the payments in Schedule marked "A" be sanctioned.

That the accounts in schedule marked "B" be paid.

That the sum of $150.00 be granted North Monaghan for the purpose of digging ditch and building bridge.

Respectfully submitted,
A. BRÉSAULT.
Chairman.

There is Only One "Bromo Quinine"

That is Laxative Bromo Quinine

USED THE WORLD OVER TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Always remember the full name. Look for this signature on every box. 25c. E. W. Grove

WHY SUFFER?

Breathe Hyomei and Kill the Loathsome Catarrh Germs.

Just as long as you have catarrh your nose will itch, your breath will be foul, you will hawk and spit and you will do other disgusting things because you can't help yourself. The germs of catarrh have got you in their power; they are continually and persistently digging into and irritating the mucous membrane of your nose and throat. They are now making your life miserable; in time they will sap your entire system of its energy, its strength, its vigour and vitality.

But there is one remedy that will kill the germs and cure catarrh, and that is Hyomei, the Australia dry air treatment.

Joseph Dural, of Woodstock street, Tavistock, Ont., says: "Catarrh had given me all kinds of suffering for a long time. There was a swelling of the glands under the eyes and adjacent to my nose and the discharges would drop into my throat. I used several remedies, but never got the relief that I did from Booth's Hyomei. I have been so pleased with Hyomei results that I highly recommend its use to catarrh sufferers."

Mr. Madill, the druggist, will guarantee Hyomei to cure catarrh or money back. Don't delay this pleasant anti-septic treatment. Breathe in Hyomei and kill the germs.

Mr. Madill will sell you a complete Hyomei Outfit, including inhaler, for only $1.00. It is also guaranteed to cure bronchitis, asthma, coughs, colds, hay fever and croup.

WEDDING BELLS

CASE—GORDON

At the Methodist parsonage, Stratheona, on Wednesday, November 18th, 1908, James F. Case, of Stratheona, was united in marriage to Miss Mary E. Gordon, also of Stratheona, formerly of Harwood, Ont., by the Rev. H. E. Gordon. The bride was unattended and was prettily attired in a gown of point d'esprit over silk. Mr. and Mrs. Case will take up their residence among us. — Stratheona Plaindealer.

CASE OF BRONCHIAL CATARRH PROMPTLY RELIEVED BY PE-RU-NA.

MR. J. C. HERVUS PELLETIER

Bronchial Catarrh Unless Stopped Often Spreads To The Lungs, Causing Catarrh of Lungs.

J. C. Hervus Pelletier, Dep't de l'Agriculture, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "The Peruna is particularly efficacious in the cure of catarrhal affections of the lungs and bronchial tubes, and it is in consequence the remedy most appreciated here in Ottawa. Six bottles cured me this winter of bronchitis. I am completely restored and I owe thanks to the Peruna. I have recommended this remedy to a large number of my friends afflicted with the same trouble, and they have verified my good opinion of this valuable remedy."

CATARRH of the bronchial tubes often very quickly becomes catarrh of the lungs. Catarrh of the lungs makes the patient an easy victim to the germs that cause tuberculosis. Sound lungs protect themselves against disease germs.

Peruna has acquired a lasting reputation in relieving catarrh of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. This should prevent the tubercular bacilli from gaining any foothold in the lungs, and saves the patient from the inevitable result.

Mr. Wickliffe R. Smith, Editor of The Potlatch Herald, formerly Principal of the Schools at Cameron, Idaho, writes: "For some time I suffered with catarrh of the throat and bronchial tubes. I tried many remedies, but could find nothing that would give me relief.

"Finally I tried Peruna. Three bottles cured me, made me sound and well. I believe it will do as much for others as it did for me. I shall be glad to recommend it to those suffering with catarrh."

OLD "PARSON" BROWN IS CELEBRATING

For Twenty-five Years Connected With Coloured Mission in Montreal.

Examiner Special.

Montreal, Dec. 2.—One of the most famous old characters in the city, Rev. Robt. Brown, or "Parson" Brown, as he is known to friends and strangers alike, to-day is celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his connection with the Desriver street Mission. This mission is a little coloured church, the only one of its kind in the city. The congregation as well as the pastor are all coloured people. "Parson" Brown up to a few years ago used to divide his time between doing an expert cullinary act and preaching the Gospel. He was employed as chef by the Grand Trunk, and was the cook on the first dining car that went out of Montreal. The "Parson" always used to arrange his run so as to be in Montreal on Sundays however, and he was always to be seen in the pulpit of the little church on Desriver street, preaching to his coloured flock. His run on the Grand Trunk was to Brockville and return. The anniversary service took the form of a concert at which the talent and most of the audience were of the coloured persuasion.

NEWS OF THE COBALT MINES

Some Nancy Shipments—Price of Silver And the Shipping Mines.

Examiner Special

Cobalt, Dec. 2.—A force of eleven men are working on the British-American property near Gillies Depot. Their claims were formerly known as the Godfrey properties. A Montreal syndicate composed of the same men who own the Crown Reserve mine are at the back of the new company. The work was started ten days ago, and up to the present time several small leads have been uncovered. They will continue surface work for probably a month, when they will sink. An old shaft on the property is down fifty-two feet.

Nancy Helen Shipments

A twenty ton car of medium grade ore was shipped last week from the Nancy Helen mine to Cooper Cliff, says the Silver City News. The car will average 2,000 ounces. Another car of the same ore will be ready for shipment in the course of ten days. Two cars of screenings are waiting at the mine for shipment to one of the customs concentrators. Thirty-eight men are engaged in active mining operations under T. J. Brown.

Chambers Ferland

Owing to the break-down of the large compressor of the Nipissing mine, from which the Chambers-Ferland mine receives air for two drills, work in the No. 2 shaft of the latter company has been suspended. They expect to have their own power plant working in the course of a few days. At the beginning of next week they will ship two cars of ore, one of which is mostly grade and the other of lower quality. Over a carload of high-grade ore is bagged ready for shipment, but on account of the low market for silver at the present time it will be held at the mine.

Silver Bar Changes

Letters have been sent to the shareholders of the Silver Bar Mining Company notifying them that the transfer office of the company has this day been moved from Sudbury to Toronto, the Trusts & Guarantee Company acting as transfer agents. The former officers of the Silver Bar have resigned, the following directors have been elected; Hon. Thomas Crawford, A. J. Murphy, Haileybury. W. K. McNaught, M.P.P.; Norman Fisher, Haileybury, manager Temiskaming mine; John B. Kilgour, Toronto.

Price of Silver

Owing to the low price of silver several of the Cobalt mines are holding back their high-grade shipments, and among these is the Right of Way Mining Company. They are confining their work more to cross-cutting than drifting on their rich veins.

A WOMAN'S BACK WAS NOT MADE TO ACHE.

Thousands of Women Suffer Untold Misery Every Day With Aching Backs That Really Have No Business To Ache.

Under ordinary conditions it ought to be strong and ready to bear the burdens of life.

It is hard to do housework with an aching back. Backaches come from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is not to be wondered that they get out of order.

Backache is simply a warning from the kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from kidney troubles.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you in the same way as they have cured thousands of others.

SEVERE PAINS IN BACK.

SHIPMENT OF TILE GOES TO PLAINVILLE

Made in Peterborough and Used on the Butters' Big Farm for Cribbing Wells.

Recently a shipment of cement well tile was sent down the river by the steamer Monarch, to Gore's Landing, from the William Taylor Company Tile Works, to D. V. Butter and Sons, of Plainville. The latter are owners of five hundred acres around Plainville. They intend re-cribbing wells with the tile which makes a clean, strong and permanent job.

On Friday last they sank a well and cribbed it with eight of these three foot tile in the short time of seven hours.

BOARD OF EDUCATION TO BE PHOTOGRAPHED

A Record of a Historical Year in Educational Circles to be Kept.

The Board of Education for 1908 will be photographed in order to preserve a souvenir of one of the most important years in the history of education in Peterborough. Mr. Hill in proposing this step remarked that the present year has been a historical one inasmuch as practically three new schools had been opened. He thought that the Board with the solicitor, secretary, Principal Kenner and Public School Inspector Mowat should be photographed and the picture hung in one of the schools. A motion to this effect moved by Mr. Hill and seconded by Mr. Hayes, was carried.

Committee on Appointment

Mr. W. H. Hill read the following report of the Committee on Appointments:

Gentlemen,—In accordance with the resolution of the Board at its last meeting your Committee on Appointments advertised for a teacher for the Public School staff.

Before the selection was made, Miss Coveney, a member of the East City staff, tendered her resignation, and on account of the limited time, and the present scarcity of teachers, your committee thought it wise to select two teachers, one to do the supply and office work, and the other to take Miss Coveney's form.

After making all possible enquiries and satisfying themselves that they are securing the services of capable and energetic teachers, your committe would recommend the appointment of 1.—Miss Persie G. Meadows, of Courtland, Ont. Miss Meadows holds a first class professional certificate and has had three and a half year's experience in teaching, and her professional training has all been taken within this period of time.

2.—Miss Minnie E. F. Mann, of Peterborough. Miss Mann holds a professional second class certificate, and has had three years' experience since attending the Normal School.

These teachers have been engaged at initial salaries, according to the schedule adopted by this Board.

The report was adopted.

Mr Hill also read the following report, which was adopted:

When this Board first entered into an agreement with the Education Department to provide a suitable training school for Normal students, it was not then anticipated that more than a ten roomed school would be necessary. When in August last the principal of the Normal asked for seventeen rooms for observation purposes, members of the Board made representations to the Education Department that the annual grant of $1,500 first agreed upon would not be sufficient inducement for capable teachers to offer their services, as the extra work entailed by the Normal students is very heavy and exacting. The Education Department considered the matter carefully, and as a result this annual grant has been increased to $2,250.

It now becomes the duty of this Board to apportion this grant among the teachers in the training schools.

Your committee has consulted Dr. Merchant, Inspector of Normal Schools, and Mr. Walker, Principal of the Normal School, and as a result propose that the grant be apportioned as follows, for the year 1908-09:

(a) To each of the two principal schools, $150 per annum—$300.

(b) To each of the fifteen assistant teachers, $100 per annum.—$1,500.

This leaves a balance of $8450, which your committee considers the Board is entitled to use in order to defray certain expenses that were incurred in providing suitable accommodation for the Normal students.

The terms of payment of this grant to the teachers and the amount of each payment will depend upon the method of payment of the said grant by the Education Department.

On motion of Mr. Hill, seconded by Dr. Burnham, the St. James' Methodist Church be permitted to use the King Edward School for Sunday School purposes during the months of December, January, February and March.

Mr. Robinson called the attention of the Board to the fact that wind breaks or porches should be constructed at the north and south doors of the King Edward School. He pointed out that the smaller children had difficulty in opening the doors.

The matter was referred to the Property Committee, upon motion of Mr. Robinson and Dr. Burnham.

THE MILE OF COPPERS COMPETITION

How the Collection of Them is Progressing at the Y. W. C. A.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Board was held on Monday afternoon. The reports were encouraging. The membership roll has been increased by sixty-six new names, and the classes are growing in numbers and interest. The offering taken for the foreign work in Japan had amounted to $45. Already the "mile of copper" cards are being returned. We hope for a general response and that everyone interested in the public work of the Y. W. C. A. will contribute towards the raising of this mile (2633). The work of the Domestic Science Department will be closed for this season on December 18th, when there will be a large and valuable exhibit in Domestic Arts and Crafts, as well as a most interesting programme. Detailed notices will appear later.

November Was A Favourite Month For Weddings This Year

The vital statistics, as recorded at the City Clerk's office for the month of November, of the present year, shows that the eleventh month of 1908 has been selected by Cupid as a favoured time for his pranks. This is evidenced by the fact that there were nine more marriages in November of this year than there were in the corresponding month last year. The number of births also show an increase of one and there is a falling off in the number of deaths by five.

Following are the figures:

	1908.	1907.
Births	38	37
Deaths	16	21
Marriages	22	13

It's Glove Time at This Store

We have so arranged that really remarkable values will greet every visitor in our Glove Department.

It is never wise to buy your Gloves in "hit" or "miss" way. Your best policy is to buy these from stores which handle only the product of tried and tested manufactures.

Those are the only kind of Gloves you can buy of us—those brands which are universally recognized as being reliable.

The range of colours will please you, the woman who can't pick exactly the shade and style she wishes from our counters will hardly be suited at any other store—and as for genuine satisfactory economy, we certainly offer the chance.

Rev. Dr. Johnston of Montreal Gives Able Address on the West and its People—Large Attendance at St. Paul's Church.

LECTURE WAS ILLUSTRATED

Lord Whi'e for all mankind we pray
Of every clime and coast
O' bear us for our native land,
The land we love the most

In his address on the "West and its People" at St. Paul's Church last night, Rev. Dr. Johnston, of Montreal, imparted to his audience some of the fine sentiments of Canadian nationalism with which he showed himself to be deeply imbued. Dr. Johnston is the pastor of the American Presbyterian church in the Canadian metropolis and is one of the most noted orators of the Presbyterian church. He was formerly ly pastor in Lindsay and during that pastorate he had spoken before a Peterborough congregation, hence was not an entire stranger to those who enjoyed his talk on the great mission work that lies at the very threshold of the doors of the Canadian churches and in the hands of the people of this grand country. Dr. Johnston said in no uncertain manner that the future of Canada will be insured with the enrolling under the banners of Christianity all the peoples of different nations who are being fused together under the broad principles of Canadianism.

Rev. Mr. Pogue introduced the speaker in a few brief remarks, after which Rev. J R Webb led in prayer, The attendance was large, and the splendid stereopticon views were thoroughly enjoyed, Rev. Dr. Marsh had charge of the machine with the result that all the slides were brought out to their best effect.

A Great Work

The work that Canada is called upon to perform is one of the greatest that a nation has ever found itself tasked with. Rev. Dr. Johnston said that her protection must be in God. He referred to the many different classes of people who are coming to our shores, making their way into the interior and especially into the broad West, where they are settling and building up homes to become in a few years citizens with the rest of the population. Not a few of them are without the religion of Christ and the safety of the country requires within its boundaries a transforming power that will make them citizens of Heaven, a transforming power in which the unity of these races will be wrought out making them one in Jesus Christ.

The trip as planned by Rev. Dr. Johnston began at Montreal where the majority of the immigrants first put foot upon Canada's shores. It continued through to the vast prairie lands of the West where these people are working out a livelihood. The scenes vividly emphasized the opportunities that this country enjoys in its industrial possibilities in the wealth of arable land, the vast ranches on which thousands of cattle have replaced the countless buffalos that once roamed the rich prairie lands, the great supply of valuable timber and finally the unlimited mineral resources. This natural opulence is attracting the people and as they gather to take advantage of all this wealth, the religion of Christ should go with them. Rev. Dr. Johnston brought out the duty of the people in an interesting manner and at the same time in a way that was convincing. He spoke from a strong patriotic standpoint the importance of which he seemed anxious to impress upon his audience. The real salvation that everybody had something which he and she could do in the Christianizing of Canada was what one would gather to be the main point of his address. It might be said that he specially laid stress upon this idea "Canada united in Christ will be her strongest bulwark," and it is the importance of this thought he stated that was bringing about the great evangelization movement that was being evidenced by the men from one extremity of the country to the other.

Prize Lists Ready For The Next Poultrymen's Meeting

The Peterborough Poultry Association will hold its next meeting tomorrow night at which much business of importance in view of the coming poultry show in January, will be transacted. The poultrymen have been working diligently since the last meeting, making coops and getting out the prize list and reports as to the progress made will be heard. The prize lists are expected to be ready for the meeting.

During the past week the Secretary has been receiving many inquiries from outside points about prize lists and it appears that there will be a large crowd here to exhibit.

It is desirable that all the old members as well as prospective members be present in order that as many opinions as possible may be given on proposed plans in connection with the show.

Assessor's Appeals Granted By The Appeal Judge Yesterday

In the Court of Appeal held before Judge Weller, at the City Clerk's office last night, several appeals from the decisions given by the Court of Revision were considered.

Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared on behalf of fourteen government officials who have appealed against their assessment. The matter was heard before the Court of Revision and the Court sustained the assessor in the matter. The appeal judge reserved judgment until December 14th.

Assessor T. B. McGrath appeals against the decision of the Court of Revision, which had set aside an assessment of $300 upon the property of A. Comstock. Judge Weller placed the business assessment, which the court had struck off, at $275.

The assessor was also successful in having the business assessment of Metheral brothers upon their blacksmith shop on Aylmer street, restored to $300, the figure at which he had originally placed it. The Court of Revision had struck off the business assessment.

Death Came Suddenly While Patient Was Alone In Room

After an illness that has been of long duration, Miss Lillian Hill, daughter of Mr. Henry Hill, Jackson avenue, passed away with startling suddenness at the family residence last night. The family were preparing to retire for the night at eleven o'clock, and one of the members, as has been the custom, took a glass of water into the sick room for the daughter's use. The distressing intelligence was then gained that the daughter had passed away a short time previous, while the rest of the household were down stairs. While it was known that Miss Hill was in poor health, it was not believed that her condition was so low.

The deceased was 25 years of age. She is survived by her parents, one sister, and two brothers. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery.

He's got em on the list, sung by Ernie Dalton in the Mikado.

THE COLD WEATHER AND WOOD DEMAND

Many Requests This Morning With First Real Cold Snap.

The cold weather makes extra demands on the coal bin and wood pile with the result that those whose supplies in this respect are very limited find themselves called upon to replenish them. In the case of those who have not the necessary financial strength it means an appeal to charity, and with the first cold snap this morning the relief officer had a half dozen requests for wood. Asked as to the number of these which he would grant, Mr. Miller said that like everything else, careful consideration of the existing conditions was necessary.

Come and see Mr. John King as Pooh-lah (Lord High Everything Else) in the Mikado.

MESSENGER BOY NO. 42

"Messenger Boy No. 42," is a new play that possesses many elements of novelty. In addition to an interesting story told in a pleasing manner, there are ample opportunities for the introduction of a number of effective climaxes and situations, all of which have been taken advantage of. The comedy part of the play is fresh, bright and original; there being quaint types of characters that have never been introduced in any other play of this kind. In addition to this, one of the scenes affords a chance for the introduction of high class vaudeville specialties. These are not lugged in, but fit in naturally as part of the play. The scenic effects are superb, and range from the Bowery to one of the most interesting places in New York City. An effective piece of realism is shown in the third act, where a celebrated corn cutting machine in full operation, is depicted. One of the principal features of the play is the introduction of the wonderful canine thespians. William T. Stephens, who was the first to introduce acting dogs, has educated them and they have parts that give them a chance to show what they can do. It is safe to say that no actor on the American stage is quicker at picking up cues than these dogs, and no one ever saw an actor go through his work so cheerfully as these magnificent animals. Naturally they have heroic parts and act intelligently.

"Messenger Boy No. 42," with its wealth of scenery and effects, its clever company and other numerous novelties, comes to the "Grand" next Saturday—matinee and night.

THE MILLINERY SALE AT MISSES ALLAN & FELION'S

The especial attention of the ladies is directed to the business announcement made by the millinery firm of Misses Allan & Felion, in another column of this issue. It appears that a change in business is in contemplation at the beginning of the new year which requires that the present stock of millinery must be reduced and converted into cash before that date. To effect this object, a sacrifice of actual values has been decided on and bargains of a very interesting and attractive character are now being offered. Read the advertisement.

HELPED THEMSELVES FREELY

Halifax Marine Employes Made Free With Stores.

ENGINEER TOOK PRESENTS

Witness at Session of Enquiry Tells of Gratuities Ranging From $20 to $50 on Several Occasions—William Merlin Testifies That Workmen Took Any Supplies They Needed From Government Stock.

Halifax, Dec. 2.—The third session of the Marine enquiry opened yesterday morning. The usual crowd of spectators and witnesses filled the court room long before the opening hour.

W. S. Davidson of the Halifax Salvage Co. was on the stand most of the morning. He said the company had paid Captain Johnson, formerly of the steamer Lady Laurier, $400 in connection with the floating and salving of the steamer Mount Temple last spring. Payment to Johnson was in the nature of a gratuity. The Government steamer Lady Laurier had rendered valuable services to the company in connection with the Mount Temple job, but only such as would be expected from a Government vessel under the circumstances, and the firm would have resisted any charge for such services even if made by the Department.

In answer to Judge Cassels, Davidson admitted the Laurier had, when passing, run into Ironbound to see how the work on the Mount Temple was progressing.

William Merlin, an employe of the dockyard, as general messenger, proved the most difficult witness yet examined. His answers were so unsatisfatory at both sessions of the court that he was repeatedly warned by the judge. It is generally believed that Merlin can give sensational evidence in connection with dockyard stores, which are alleged to have been taken away by employes and others. He said that "most everybody around the yard" had the privilege of going into the stores to get small items such as rails, etc. The stores were wide open and all could go in and help themselves to nails and other things.

He handed in a list of seven names of those he had seen taking stores. He had spoken of fifty persons. After being on the stand a short time in the afternoon Merlin was excused and ordered to be ready to-day to answer questions properly.

First Engineer Ferguson of the Government steamer Lady Minto, on the route between Pictou and Charlottetown, was examined. He admitted receiving "presents" from firms doing work for his ship at both places. Those presents ranged from $20 to $50, received at various times. He thought it not wrong to take these presents, as it was the practice, especially on British ships.

Record Shipments.

Winnipeg, Dec. 2.—The extraordinary mild weather last month led to record grain shipments.

The daily shipments from Winnipeg to Fort William averaged 541 cars, or over half a million bushels daily, the total shipments for the month approximating fifteen millions, which ranks as a record for wheat shipments for any month in any year.

The Canadian Pacific is endeavoring to create a new record for the present week, but the heavy storm may interfere. The big outward grain movement leaves farmers in excellent position this winter.

Since the suicide of Morris Haas, who attempted to kill Assistant District Attorney Henry and later suicided at the county jail, relations between Biggy and the graft prosecution have been strained to the breaking point, in the attempt to fix the blame for Haas' securing a pistol while in jail.

THE POLICE CONSTABLE WAS SHOT

Simcoe Chief Is Charged With Attempting to Slay Aide.

IS ARRESTED BY CITIZENS

In Shooting Affair Early In the Morning Night Constable Wilkins Receives Four Dangerous Wounds—Says Chief Malone Tried to Kill Him—Motive For Shooting Is a Mystery—Chief In Jail.

Simcoe, Ont., Dec. 2.—Charged with attempting to murder Night Constable William Wilkins, who is lying dangerously wounded in Lynwood Sanitarium, Chief Constable A. W. Malone was arrested early yesterday morning, and is confined in the jail here.

Wilkins' left eyeball was pieced by a bullet, while three other bullets were fired into his back.

At 9 o'clock last night Dr. Stanton and a specialist from Hamilton made a search for the bullets, without result. They could not locate the bullet which entered the eye anywhere near the brain, and it appears that it must have taken a downward course and is located somewhere near his cheek bone.

They were also unsuccessful in their search for the bullets in the back. Wilkins is resting as easy as can be expected since the operations and further treatment will be decided on today.

Chief Malone has engaged W. E. Kelly of the law firm of Kelly & Porter, to look after his interests. He stoutly denies any knowledge of the shooting and is in a gloomy mood in his cell, declining to hold any conversation. His summary hearing will likely be postponed until further developments take place.

Malone was arrested on the statement of the wounded man that the chief constable was his assailant. The motive is not clearly known, but it is thought that Malone may have been apprehensive that Wilkins would make disclosures regarding his conduct. When taken into custody Malone had two revolvers and a flask of whisky in his possession.

The shooting occurred in a lonely spot in Lynwood Park, about 12.45 a.m. Several young men who had spent a social evening were passing near the park at this hour and heard revolver shots. Running in the direction of the reports, they were guided by hearing groans and found the night constable lying on the steps of Dr. Bowlby's residence, too weak to drag himself any further. Wilkins' face and clothing were wet with blood.

Dr. Bowlby being away, Dr. Stanton was summoned, and the latter had him removed to the sanitarium. On the way Wilkins said that Malone, while drunk, had shot him. At the sanitarium, it was found that one bullet had entered above his left eye, and three were lodged in his back. The assailant must have stood within a yard of his victim, as the powder from the revolver scorched Wilkins' face and the back of his coat was burned. Five shots were fired, the first taking effect over the eye and the second going wide, while the three following were evidently fired after Wilkins fell. He was too weak to permit of probing for the bullets.

A number of townsfolk were aroused and several hastened to Malone's house and pounded on the door, but there was no response. A telephone call was more successful, Malone being told that a negro had shot Wilkins, and that he (Malone) was wanted to assist in the capture. He was met on the street by Constable McQueen and taken to the sanitarium, where he was placed under arrest. On a brace of loaded revolvers and whisky being found, he was taken to the county jail.

It was learned later from Wilkins that Malone had made an appointment to meet him in the park about one o'clock in the morning.

A bullet was taken out of the wall and is apparently the second fired. There are houses within a few yards. Gas lights are usually kept burning in the park, but they were turned off Monday. Lynwood Park is a couple of hundred yards north of the business portion of the town. The River Lynn flows along the edge of the park.

No further light has been thrown on the motive, but it is understood that Wilkins made a statement concerning the shooting yesterday morning. Malone persisted in saying that he did not know why he was arrested.

Chief Malone was employed for some time as a police officer on the London, England, force, and served during the South African war. His home is in Strathroy, and he has been in Simcoe only about a year. He is Irish by birth and has a wife and family of four children.

Little is known of the past history of Wilkins, who is an Englishman, with wife and family of small children. He has been in Simcoe only a short time.

The scene of the tragedy has been visited by streams of people all day long and all the talk of the town is of the shooting. The date of his hearing depends upon Wilkins' condition.

Dead Number 135.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 2.—The death list of the Marianna Mine now numbers 135. It is believed only a few more bodies are still in the mine, and that these are buried under debris.

PREMIER HAZEN WEAKENED BY TWO

Bye-Elections in New Brunswick Go Against Government.

MINISTER BACKS LIBERAL

In Case of Hon. John Burchill In Northumberland Chief Commissioner Morrissey Supports Opposition Man While Rest of Cabinet Helps Conservative Candidate—Upham Defeats Owens.

St. John, N.B., Dec. 2.—The Hazen Government sustained two reverses yesterday, when bye-elections were held in two constituencies owing to the resignation of the members to contest the federal elections.

At Woodstock George W. Upham, Liberal, was elected over W. F. Owens, Conservative, by a majority of 193. The contest was bitterly fought, and the result is a decided blow to the Hazen Government.

Hon. John Burchill was elected in Northumberland County over James Swim, Conservative candidate by a majority of 190, with two small places to hear from. The situation in this county was peculiar, Burchill receiving the hearty support of Hon. John Morrissey, chief commissioner in Premier Hazen's Cabinet, while Swim was strongly supported by Hazen and the other members of the Cabinet. Burchill, however, pledged himself to give the Hazen Government his independent support.

BABE BURNED TO DEATH.

Little Girl Loses Life In Fire In Shack at Frankford, Ont.

Frankford, Dec. 2.—Mrs. E. Gamble was seriously burned and her two-year-old daughter was cremated in a fire which destroyed their shack at Glen Ross, and which was used as a boarding-house for the construction gang at this point on the Trent Valley Canal.

Mrs. Gamble received her injuries in an effort to rescue her baby. The heavy gale fanned the flames into a fury, and several other small buildings were destroyed.

Uprising Suppressed.

San Salvador, Salvador, Dec. 2.—A plot to overthrow the Government of President Figuerea was discovered and frustrated yesterday. Martial law has been proclaimed.

The revolutionary movement, which was started in the department of Sonsonato, was crushed immediately. Many persons well known in political circles opposed to the Government were implicated and have been imprisoned.

The public generally is satisfied with the Government's success in downing the revolt and tranquility now prevails throughout the country.

Templeman to Stay.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—The Free Press, Liberal, says in yesterday's issue: "The statement published both in and out of Ottawa that Hon. William Templeman, Minister of Inland Revenue, had tendered his resignation to the Premier is not correct. There are still hopes that some arrangement can be arrived at by which Mr. Templeman's valuable services can be retained for the country, especially in view of the requests to that effect from all the mining men of importance in Canada."

Laurier's Choice.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—It is learned that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will sit in Quebec East, thus involving a bye-election in Ottawa.

Those for the Liberal nomination prominently mentioned are Auguste Lemieux, Emmanuel Tasse and Dr. Chevrier. An Independent-Conservative candidate may take the field, but it is improbable that the Conservative party will undertake to nominate a candidate officially.

Twenty Below In West.

Winnipeg, Dec. 2.—Clear, frosty weather has followed the fierce storm which raged over the west Monday, and the thermometer has suddenly dipped to 20 below. The snowfall was unusually heavy, over an inch having fallen.

Taft Wins Again.

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 2.—Judge Taft and Senator Bourne defeated their Canadian opponents at golf again yesterday. Their opponents were R. L. Borden and G. H. Perley of the Canadian Parliament.

Boils and Pimples

Are caused entirely by the blood being in an impure condition, and the quickest and simplest way to get rid of them is to take a few bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters.

This purely vegetable remedy has cured thousands of cases of these painful and unsightly troubles during the past thirty years.

BOILS.

Mr. S. J. Weir, Riverview, Ont., writes:—"Last summer I had nineteen boils on my neck and back. I was off work for over two weeks. I took everything I could think of but to no effect. I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before I had used half the bottle the boils were gone. I took the rest of it, however, and I have not had a boil since."

PIMPLES.

Mrs. W. J. Crandon, St. Mary's, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with pimples on my face for a couple of years and tried a good deal of patent medicine, but they were not of much use. Finally I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and I was entirely cured."

SHRUBB BEATS LOCAL RUNNERS IN RELAY RACE AT THE ROLLER RINK; RUNS 3-MILE RACE THIS EVENING

Alfred Shrubb had no difficulty in cleaning up his first race in Peterborough, when last night at the roller rink he took three local runners into camp in hollow fashion in a mile and one-half relay race. There was a large crowd present to see the world's champion perform, and they were not disappointed. It was well worth the price of admission just to see the wonderful little Englishman in action. His style differs from most of the Canadian runners and looks remarkably easy upon the runner. He has a long spring stride that carries him over the ground fast with no apparent exertion, while there are no useless movements and no wasted energy whatever. Compared to Longboat's style Shrubb makes the Indian's gait look laboured and not nearly so effective.

It was hard, of course, for him to make world beating time upon such a small track where the corners cause difficulty but he was able to demonstrate to the crowd that he is a wonderful runner. He breezed around the rink thirty times like a quarter miler, and when he finished was unruffled. The mile and one-half was negotiated in 6.59, according to an unofficial timer, so that it can be seen that he was travelling some.

His opponents last night were W. Russell, Dick Webb and J Collins, each of them running ten laps, while the champion was going thirty. Shrubb wasted no time in setting up a lead and steadily drew away from the relay men until at the finish he was well over a lap ahead, in fact he beat the trio by over 100 yards in teh mile and one-half. The local boys did surprisingly good work, and the race was a most interesting one.

The rink should be crowded tonight, when Shrubb will run a three mile relay race against a number of local runners. It is not often that Peterborough people have an opportunity to see such a world-renowned athletic celebrity, and a big crowd should see him in action tonight. In view of his probable race with Longboat there should be even greater interest in getting a line on the man who is regarded as the Indian's only serious rival.

SHRUBB'S BEST OFFER TO LONGBOAT; WANTS INDIAN TO GUARANTEE THAT HE WILL RUN 10 AND 15 MILE RACES

Alf. Shrubb when shown the article in last night's Toronto Star in regard to a race between himself and Longboat ,characterized Flanagan's conversation as baby talk. Shrubb stated that he would like nothing better than to meet Longboat, but he wanted a square deal in the arrangements. He considered that his proposition to Flanagan was as fair as could be made and intimated that unless the Indian's manager comes to terms in a hurry he will find himself unable to arrange the race or series of races at all.

I wired him this morning, and also wired the same thing to the Buffalo people, that I would give Longboat the 20-mile race first if he would deposit $2,000 as a guarantee that he would run the 10-mile and 15-mile races afterward. Or I would deposit $2,000 as a guarantee that I would run the 15-mile or 20-mile race after the 10-mile race. If that is not a fair and straight proposition then I don't know what is. If Longboat wants to run with me on Flanagan's proposition of the 20-mile race first, he has got to put up his deposit. That is my final statement."

"I also told Flanagan to-night over the 'phone when he called me up, that I would consent to run 15 miles first and the other two after and would demand no deposit."

Shrubb also denied that he was ever beaten by Meyers in a relay race, as Flanagan stated in the Star last night. He said he would give Meyers 125 yards at any time in a two mile race. He also said that he has always beaten Meyers.

Shrubb will meet Flanagan, the Indian's manager, in Toronto on Saturday and see if a match cannot be arranged.

The article is as follows:

"There has been a whole lot of bally-hoo going on about this Shrubb-Longboat race," said Tom Flanagan, the Indian's manager, to-day. "I just want to set the thing right.

"Shrubb has not come to my terms, and I don't think he ever will in spite of what he says. I want a 20-mile race first, and Shrubb can have his choice of 15 and 10 or 10 and 15 miles after that. He says he wants $1,000 bet on each race. He can have that. All he has to do now is to name his dates and put up his money. It is up to Shrubb, and I'll tell you now, I don't think he will ever run the Indian. Tom will meet him any place, out doors or in for 20 miles."

Meyers, one of the men Longboat beat in relay races on Thanksgiving day, beat Shrubb in a relay the other day at Philadelphia, and beat him good, so a letter from Meyers to Tom Flanagan says. Meyers wants a race with the Indian at five miles.

Ice Is Promised Soon At Brock Street Rink If Cold Weather Stays

Lovers of ice skating will be pleased to learn that the Brock street rink is being prepared for the first manufacture of ice for the season, and that with a continuance of weather like last night it will not be many days before the steel shod young folk will make the frosty welkin of the old rink resound with their mirth and laughter.

Mr. C. G. Graham, when seen about the ice this morning, said that it all depended upon the weather for the early opening of the rink. Mr. John Thornbeck will be in charge once more much to the satisfaction of the skaters.

It was learned that the rink would be flooded at once, and as soon as the ice is formed there will be things doing.

EXAMINER BOWLERS TAKE TWO GAMES OUT OF THREE LAST NIGHT

The growing popularity of ten pins is evidenced by the fact that two more applications were received this morning for admission to the league recently organized at the P. B. C. alleys. Both applications were accepted, and the league now comprises twelve teams. Several other bowlers are talking of organizing business, shop and factory teams, and if enough entries are received, another league will be formed. It is felt that the big league already has enough teams entered, and any further applications for admission will be dealt with by the proposed new league.

One of the new teams in the big league has been entered by the Examiner, making two from there, to be known as A and B teams. Jim Clarke, Richea and DelaForse, are the stalwarts upon whom the B team will pin their faith.

The second team will be known as the Midgets, and will consist of Cyril Giroux, Carol Hayes and Maynard Brown.

The Examiner and Lang's team hooked up in last night's league fixture, and the last named trio are holding a post mortem this morning trying to figure out how it all happened. It was a two to one victory, Lang pulling out of the final game by a fairly good margin. All three games were close and hard fought, though the showing on the whole was hardly as good as expected, the scores being low throughout. Bert Huston was the star performer of the evening, closely followed by Hemsted, he of the cannon ball delivery. Lacheur, of the Examiner, was a good third.

The scores follow:

Examiner
Huston	174	130	166	470
H. Lacheur	160	165	121	446
Glover	117	145	169	431
	451	440	456	1347

Lang's Team
Lang	128	124	150	402
Hemsted	157	146	164	467
Hoolihan	135	142	161	438
	420	412	495	1307

MERCANTILE LEAGUE IS TALKED OF AMONG MANY LOCAL TEAMS

A Mercantile Hockey League is now being talked of among the factories and business office teams. Last winter there were many teams engaged and from the results there was a feeling that one of the teams had made the best showing, but there was no schedule to follow and it would scarcely be safe to say which team is referred to. If a schedule were followed out a conclusion could easily be reached. For this purpose there are some of the teams agitating the formation of a league that will be a success if it is put under way. There is Ackerman's Leather Workers who can turn out a fast seven, also the Quaker Oats, G. T. R., a combined team of Canoe Builders, the C. P. R., G. N. W., Bell Telephone and others. It is expected that the majority of those mentioned would get into the game. It depends on the teams themselves to continue the boosting of the idea if they want it carried out.

KAISER CHALLENGES HURTUBISE; WANTS MATCH HERE OR IN OSWEGO

The following letter from Charlie Kaiser is self-explanatory:

To the Sporting Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I would like to issue a challenge to Eugene Hurtubise, of Peterborough, through the columns of your valuable paper. I wrestled Hurtubise at Hamilton, on October 17th, and defeated him two straight falls in about thirty minutes, and defeated him fair and square. But I understand that he is crying around, saying he was in poor shape and was not given a square deal by the referee. If Mr. Hurtubise thinks he has any chance with me, although he weighs over 200 lbs. and I only weight 157 lbs., I will wrestle him again and will wrestle him in Oswego, N. Y., and the Oswego Athletic Club will offer a $500 purse for the match. If Hurtubise will consent to meet me in Oswego he can also have a $1,000 side bet, or if he is afraid to wrestle me in Oswego I will come to Peterborough and meet the lion in his own den and will guarantee to beat him, only it will be much quicker than he was beat before. I have wrestled over two hundred matches and have never been defeated.

Thanking you in advance for valuable space in your paper.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES KAISER,

Champion Welter-weight Wrestler of the World.

THE TURF CLUB REFUTES STATEMENT REGARDING DATES OF WINTER MEET

The sporting writers on the Lindsay Post and Warder staffs in their references to the Peterborough Turf Club's choice of dates for their winter meet, make statements which are neither gentlemanly nor justifiable. The Post says that the local horsemen selected the same dates as they had had chosen. It does happen that the Lindsay club have the same dates as Peterborough, but it is the fault of the Scugog sports if the "dope" sheet is right. The local turf men held their annual meeting on Nov. 4th, just a month ago, and the press announced that the winter races would be held at the Driving Park on Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 12 and 13. Last week it was announced that a meeting of the Lindsay turf followers would be held in the Simpson House, and it was then decided when they should have their meet. In the face of this the Lindsay papers say they do not understand how Peterborough horsemen should do such an unsportsmanlike thing. The local men say they might profitably take lessons from their Lindsay brethren, but they will not be dictated to by them in the matter of sporting etiquette. Lindsay sportsmen say they will stick to their dates. Surely they do not expect that Peterborough will back down. If the Scugog junk continue persuading themselves that they really were first in the choice of dates they will soon come to believe that such is an actual fact.

THE JUNIOR CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE TO MEET TO-NIGHT

There will be a meeting of the Junior City Hockey League in the Y. M. C. A. to-night, for the purpose of drawing up the constitution and making other arrangements for the season. All the executive officers are asked to be present, and the different clubs who intend to enter, are asked to see that they are represented. It is important that there should be a large attendance to-night, as the business to come up is very important.

RUGBY

The Lindsay Rugby team may play the Parkdale team, junior interprovincial champions, for the Dominion championship. The Parkdale team beat the Montreal III in Montreal Thanksgiving by the score 18—1. The game will probably be played in Toronto next Saturday.—Warder.

• • • •

A general meeting of the curlers is called for to-night at eight o'clock at the rink, at which all the members of the club are requested to be present. The new lighting plant will be in full operation and an idea of the suitability of the system may be gained by seeing it in action. It is desired that the club get away with an early start in order that a successful year will be the result.

HOCKEY

At the meeting to be held next Monday at the Y.M.C.A. to organize a Junior Church Hockey League, a Senior Church League will also be considered. Representatives are requested to be on hand.

• • • •

Representatives from clubs desiring to enter the Junior City Hockey League are requested to be present at the meeting at the Y. M. C. A. to-night. The constitution will be drawn up.

• • • •

The tickets and certificates for the various clubs of the Senior City Hockey League are ready, and may be secured from the secretary at any time at the Examiner office. Each city club is entitled to seventy-five tickets and twelve certificates.

TURF.

The Peterborough horsemen have arranged for ice races in that city on the same dates chosen for the Lindsay meet. Such tricks are habitual in Peterborough.—Lindsay Warder.

JUNIOR Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The regular monthly meeting of the Boys' Cabinet will be held in the boys' parlour on Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. All members are requested to attend, as much important business will be transacted. Reports are asked from all the committees.

Rev. J. D. Sawders, formerly pastor of Concord Avenue Church Toronto, is expected to arrive in this city to-day, from Watertown, N. Y., to begin a series of Pentecostal meetings in the mission room, at 176 McDonnel street, Christians and all others are invited to attend and hear the truth concerning this wonderful movement, which has spread over all the world, in the last two years. There is no organization, and members of all denominations may attend. Mr. Sawders says the Pentecostal Baptism of the Holy Ghost, has been badly misrepresented here, and he is one of the most prominent preachers and writers in this movement. Meetings will be held every day at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

TRAVELLER'S VALUABLE FIND.

Travelling on the I.C.R., Mr Harry Towers, St Paul street, St John, N B., found a box of Zam-Buk, the great skin-healer. He was suffering from badly chapped hands at the time so applied the balm. He says:—"Zam-Buk eased the pain and smartering, healed the cracks, and made my hands quite smooth. Finding it so good, I kept a supply handy, and have since proved it a wonderful healer. It cures, cuts, sores, or burns equally well, and I would not now like to be without a supply."

Mr. Towers is only one of thousands who are glad they have heard of Zam-Buk. There is no skin disease it will not relieve and cure. Its fame is spreading everywhere, and it is regarded as Nature's great "first-aid" in workshops, on the farm, or in the home. No traveller should be without it. Every home should have its box always ready for use. A little Zam-Buk rubbed regularly on the hands and face before retiring each night will keep the skin soft and free from chaps, cold sores, or disease.

If you have a cut, bruise, or some irritating skin disease, which has defied all ordinary remedies, apply Zam-Buk. It first cleanses a wound by killing off all harmful bacteria. Then it builds up new tissue cell by cell—just as a bricklayer lays row after row of bricks. Then it covers the wound with new healthy skin and the cure is effected.

Zam-Buk is also a cure for piles. It gives speedy relief and ends the throbbing, burning pains. Skin-diseases such as eczema, itch, ulcers, barber's rash, rashes due to blood-poison, etc., cannot resist its powerful healing virtues. Purely vegetable, it is an ideal combination of power and purity. 50c. a box from all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Reject cheap, harmful and dangerous substitutes.

The inquest will be resumed next week. County Constable Cochrane empanelled the jury.

AFTER SICKNESS

Vinol Built Up Strength for a Bowmanville, Ontario, Man After All Other Means Had Failed.

"I was sick with pleuro-pneumonia for twelve weeks, and after I got around I did not gain very fast, and I took nine bottles of Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, but the pains in my lungs were still there. I was in Jury & Lovell's drug store and they recommended Vinol, so I tried a bottle and before I had finished the first bottle the pains were all gone and I was getting stronger, and then I took another bottle, and now I am well, thanks to Vinol." John D. Graham, Bowmanville, Ont.

This is because Vinol is the best cod liver and iron tonic in the world. It creates a hearty appetite, strengthens the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood and replaces weakness with strength. The beneficial effect of Vinol in cases of feeble old people is simply remarkable.

We invite all old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, convalescents, or those suffering from chronic colds, coughs or bronchitis in this vicinity to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it does no good. We make this offer to show our faith in Vinol. McDermid & Jury, druggists, corner George and Charlotte streets; also Payne's Drug Store, corner George and Simcoe streets.

THE word "OXOL" does not mean one food or one preparation. No "OXOL" is a name given to all goods for horses, cattle, swine and sheep, prepared by Messrs. S. K. and T. C. Windsor, of Australia, New Zealand, England and Canada.

The veterinary preparations as well as the compressed bales of fodder placed on the market of the world under the name of

"OXOL" for Cattle

are all of the greatest possible order of merit and may be used by farmers, graziers, dairymen and all owners of stock with the full assurance that these goods have the power in a very short time to double their incomes by feeding, fattening and curing all animals, which to them means money.

Scientific Meetings will be organized by Messrs. Windsor and held through out the Dominion of Canada, when farmers desirous of improving their knowledge of stock will have an opportunity of doing so and to be instructed on the life of stock from birth to death, free of any charge.

THE TRACK AT DRIVING PARK

Will Soon be in Good Shape—Preparing for Christmas Matinee.

The track at the Driving Park has been levelled and smoothed ready for the snow, and it is expected that in a short time if a change in temperature is not experienced, everything will be in readiness for winter racing. The next event is the matinee on Thursday, December 24, when an afternoon of good sport is promised in two named races. There have been some asking since the horses were named for a place in one or both of the races but there are to be no additions now according to the officers, who will not stand for any change at this stage. The matinee should provide some fast bouts and the local men are preparing for the occasion.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS WHOSE TERMS EXPIRE

Understood They Will all Seek Re-election Again.

There will be four members of the Board of Education to be elected at the January elections unless the old ones are returned by acclamation. Those whose terms will expire are Messrs. R. Fair, this year's Chairman; Dr. Merrison, who was chairman of the Collegiate Institute Building Committee; Wm. Robinson and B. F. Ackerman. It is understood, although not officially stated yet, that they will all seek re-election.

Confidences Of Clients With Legal Fraternity Different From Those With Medical Men

Examiner Special

Prince Albert, Sask., Dec. 3.—It has always been generally understood that the confidence of clients with legal men and medical men, equally with that of the confessional, were sacred. However, in a case here in which Martha Ortloff was charged with the murder of her new born baby, the magistrate ruled differently. There was no direct evidence connecting the girl with the crime and the jury disagreed after having the case under consideration for six hours. A woman was seen to throw a bundle from the upper storey of the Humboldt Hotel, Melfort, and shortly afterwards a baby was found dying and Martha Ortloff was discovered in her room suffering from childbirth. Dr. Shadd who was called to attend her refused in the witness box to tell what she said, on the ground that it was private, but the judge ruled that the same law did not apply to medical men or to clergyman, that did between lawyers and their clients though he admitted that the law was harsh in the matter. Crown Prosecutor Lindsay refused to take advantage of the ruling, and the result was the disagreement of the jury.

LESLIE FIFE OF EDMONTON TAKES COAT THIEF TO POLICE STATION

Edmonton, Dec. 3.—A clever arrest was made yesterday by a young man named Leslie Fife, son of J. A. Fife, of the Edmonton High School, and formerly of Peterborough, Ont., whose fur-lined overcoat was stolen from the Shaffer's rink last night. This morning he was taking a search in the second hand stores for the missing article. As he walked into the Exchange Mart, McDougall avenue, he found a man just then endeavouring to sell the coat, which he recognized as his. He at once laid claim to the article, but the man in possession said he owned it himself. "Then you will come to the police station," said Fife, and grabbing the alleged thief he marched him off. At the police station the accused gave his name as Robert Arrowsmith, aged 18 years. He was placed in the cells and an information was sworn out by Fife.

Natural Gas People Must Have Solid Block Before Beginning Work

Mr. R. H. Leary has received a letter from Mr. C. E. Dittman, of Waynesburg, Pa., the representative of the American capitalists, who are interested in the development of a natural gas company in Peterborough. The letter in part is as follows:

"I had a letter from a contractor in Hamilton before I wrote you on the 22nd, and his terms are very nearly satisfactory, and he can commence drilling at any time we say so, but we will have to have the land in a solid block before we will move in. I cannot understand why that man is holding out, or in fact why any man will be so mean as to hold out his farm, for I must say that you people in that country may not have the chance you have now to get a test put down if you wait until the end of time. My people are very much in earnest in this matter and would like to get to work. You can impress on them that they have nothing to lose and everything to gain. I do not think that I can do any good by coming up, for they surely understand the situation by this time, and nothing that I could do would be of much use."

Some Citizens Seek Return Of Ward System Of Voting

A petition is being circulated in the city to be presented to the City Council at its final regular meeting next Monday night, requesting the council to take steps to have the election of aldermen changed to the ward system. The petition, it is understood, is being rather extensively signed by business men as well as others as many believe a change in the system for the better advantage of the city.

Supporters of the petition will probably be present on Monday night to advance their opinion.

THE DEATH BY DROWNING OF MR. AUGUSTUS SAWERS

Sad Happening This Morning at Town of Campbellford.

Information is received from Campbellford of the death by drowning at that place of Augustus Sawers, C.E., under circumstances that compel a belief in his own responsibility, for the ending of his life.

The deceased gentleman, was for some time past, and up to the time of his death, employed professionally with Messrs. Buchanan & Bogue, contractors, Campbellford.

The facts in connection with his death are that yesterday Mr. Sawers was confined to his bed at the Queen's Hotel, where he boarded. Early this morning before six o'clock the proprietor of the hotel, Mr. David Lynch, heard a slight noise in the hall upstairs. On investigating he found Mr. Sawers in the hall, quite without clothing. He called Mr. Fawkes, a fellow engineer, who was also a lodger in the house, who got Mr. Sawers to put his night shirt on and return to bed, he also returning to his room. A short time afterwards the landlady of the house, looked into Mr. Sawers' room but he was not there.

Immediate search discovered his night shirt hanging on the railing of the verandah of the hotel, and, in the snow, tracks of naked feet leading to the river. These were followed up to a point about twenty-five yards above the bridge, when they ended. The river at this point has a depth of about twenty feet. The river is being dragged for the remains which have not, up to time of going to press, been discovered.

THE WEATHER

We are now experiencing the first touch of a Canadian winter. Last night the themometer went down to the lowest point yet reached this fall, viz., 5 above zero. Lowest yesterday, 13 degrees above.

PETERBORO' WHISKEY TOO MUCH FOR HIM

Lindsay Man Informs the Magistrate That he Must Have Been Doped Here.

Peterborough whiskey was too much for John Biglow, who appeared before City Clerk Armstrong at the police court this morning, on a charge of being drunk. John explained to the court that he had never been in such a position before.

"I must have been doped," he stated. "When I woke up I was behind the bars. I don't know how I got there."

Biglow explained that he had just come from Lindsay and had a job here.

"I have just started," he remarked.

"You did not make a very good start," was the way the magistrate looked upon the matter.

John promised faithfully that it would never occur again.

"If it does," remarked Mr. Armstrong, as the Lindsay man left the court, "you had better be careful that it doesn't happen in Peterborough."

Splendid Rehearsal of the Mikado last night. Manager well pleased.

SNOW PLOWS WERE OUT TO-DAY

Made First Appearance on the Streets This Morning.

The snow plows made their debut this morning and thanks to the scarcity of snow and the light fall that occasioned their appearance this morning there have been no complaints so far about the sidewalk cleaning service. Every year it is the same old story of the work being done late in the morning, when it should be performed before the citizens leave their homes for work, at least that is what they expect and what they understand they are paying for. It is understood that new life will be put into the snow cleaning work this winter and at any rate until the beginning of the new year. After that—well it all depends.

The purity, flavour and strength of "Salada" Tea make it incomparably the best value on the market. It is infinitely more delicious and decidedly more economical than other teas.

CONTAGION AND ISOLATION.

A case at Kenora indicates the importance of isolation hospitals. A patient in the general hospital there was recovering from a mild attack of fever, when a patient was admitted whose disease proved to be diphtheria of a malignant type. He died; the recuperating patient took the disease and died. The nurse in attendance was also attacked and her life is despared of. It is stated that what proved to be the diphtheritic patient, had not developed the disease distinctly when admitted; but, certainly, any competent physician, should have noticed symptoms sufficient to arouse suspicion of the possibility of diphtheria. Ordinary caution would have suggested the isolation of the patient till the disease developed. It is little acts of carelessness like this, which bring disastrous results. It was leaving open a railway point carelessly which caused a recent railway wreck that accounted for three deaths; it was the carelessness implied in leaving the rear of a train on the main line which caused another serious railway wreck. It was the careless placing of a post of the performing apparatus, that caused the fall and death in a Toronto hospital of Marie La Blanche, a "thriller" performer at the Toronto Exhibition. The carelessness of the physician at Kenora who admitted a patient infected with drphtheria into a general hospital with such fatal results, may be detended by the excuse that there was no isolation hospital or other opportunity for isolation available. This does not altogether clear his skirts, yet at the same time it emphasises the unwisdom of the improvident economy of neglecting to provide efficient means of dealing with contagious diseases, with better chances of recovery of patients, and protection of the public health. By the way, what is the condition of the Peterborough isolation Hospital proposal? The city is authorized to go on with the work. Those in charge of the matter might take the public, which is so deeply interested, into their confidence and state what is proposed to be done. We never can congratulate ourselves upon certain immunity from an epidemic of contagious disease. We should be prepared for it. An isolation hospital, will of course cost something, but what cost can be set against the value of human lives, and the protection and maintenance of the public health? There may be no specitic cure for any form of contagious disease, but isolation, admitting reasonably good sanitary conditions, is a specitic for prevention of their spread.

CONSERVATION OUR SALVATION

The Ottawa Free Press prints a photographic picture of the dry bed of the Chaudiere, showing something that has never perhaps been seen before by human eyes. A few weeks ago these bed rocks were covered with many feet of foaming, tumultuous power-producing water. The present condition is primarily due to lack of rainfall, but it is indirectly due to waste of rainfall. If the upper reaches of the Ottawa and tributary streams had been put under control and the freshets of spring held in reserve, instead of having been allowed to rush away in wasteful magnificence in the springtime, there would have been an available supply of water for power and other purposes, even till the present and for some time to come. The watershed of the Otonabee has been subjected to the same rain dearth which has m.. the Ottawa River an immense arroyo, and ozralyzed millions of industrial capital. Yet, though the water in the Otonabee is somewhat below the normal level of this time of the year, it is still of sufficiently robust volume for all the demands made upon it for industrial and other purposes, and there is sufficient held in reserve in the north to insure a sufficient, if not plentiful, flow, till rains or melted snow bring about a normal equilibrium of precipitation and flow. These happy conditions, compared with Ottawa and other places, are entirely due to the system of retaining dams situated in the northern part of our watershed by which reservoirs are created, permitting of the water being stored and released so as to produce an equable flow throughout the year, instead of being allowed to rush wastefully in sweeping spring freshets. When it is remembered that the conservation of water which is, this year especially the salvation of Peterborough, has been accomplished by the help of dams built long ago, by or under the Ontario Government, before the waters passed under Dominion jurisdiction, largely through the initiative and operation of Mr. Stratton, when he was a member of the Ontario Government, we can better appreciate the advantages resulting to navigation, industrial enterprises and civic conveniences dependent upon an adequate supply of water. Since the waters came under the control of the Dominion Government the old dams, which were, many of them, dilapidated and leaky, have been strengthened, many of them have been replaced by new and substantial permanent structures, with the results of which we are to-day reaping the decided advantage. The unfortunate experience of Ottawa and other places this dry season and the contrastingly happy experience of Peterborough and other points on the Trent waters, not only justify but insistently call for an extension and elaboration of the conservation system in the Trent Valley district, and also its extension to other places. By extensive, if not reckless removal of nature's reservoirs, the original forests, we have made artificial conservation necessary. The metereological conditions this year have forced this subject into a position challenging attention. For the past six months or so the Atlantic Ocean has been thirstily drinking up the water supply of the province, with Jupiter Pluvius withholding a supply. Although local inconvenience has resulted to a certain extent, Peterborough has not suffered in her larger interests. We have reversed the time-honoured practice and instead of putting something by for a rainy day we have stored up a rainy day for our own time of need.

THE SCHOOL OF THE MASSES.

(Brantford Expositor.)

The Collegiate Institute should be spoken of as the school of the masses, rather than the school of the classes, and any appeal made for its better equipment should be regarded with as much favour as would an appeal made for the betterment of primary education.

In these days no child should be regarded as being possessed of even a rudimentary education who has not completed the high school course. He will be handicapped throughout his entire future if for any reason he should leave school at an earlier period. In most cases this additional educational equipment can be obtained without any seeming sacrifice other than that of the time thus taken from the wage-earning period, but any such loss will be more than compensated for by greater wage-earning power once the industrial is entered upon.

Abraham Lincoln was the author of the expression, "the Lord must love the common people because he made so many of them." The Collegiate Institute is the college of the common people, the only college which will ever open its doors to most of them, and as such it should be regarded by the entire electorate.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Kingston is suttering from an epidemic of bicipital incompetence. the city is in the thrpes of a smallpox scare.

The majority of the Provincial Government in Prince Edward Island is Hazard-ous; in fact it is almost all Hazard—the majority consisting of Premier Hazard and one supporter to the good.

Brantford beats us a few hundreds in population but we are ahead of them in high school equipment. The city papers there are pleading the cause of the better equipment of the city's Collegiate Institute.

Hon. Senator Ross is not one of the sleeping beauties of the Senate. As one of our foremost orators he was selected to speak Scotch in the purest and most forcible English at the St. Andrew's night banquet in Brantford on Monday night, and he made a great speech.

The new Conservative Government in New Brunswick is none too "steady on its pins." Two of the Conservative members of the Legislature resigned to contest seats in the Dominion Parliament; they were defeated and the two bye-elections for the Legislature resulted in the defeat of the Conservative candidates. It is not a healthy sign to see a Government only fairly seated in the saddle, begin to lose bye-elections.

Brantford will have its fill of voting on January 4th. With five mayoralty candidates in the field and a crop of twenty-five aldermanic aspirants, ten candidates for school trustees; and if the local option wing of the council holds its ground, four bylaws to be voted upon, the suffering elector will be confronted with the choice of making his mark forty-four times, and the returning officer will have to count that number of sets of ballots.

The British postoffice handled during the year ending March 31, 1908, 4,972,070,000 pieces of mail matter, an increase of 2.2 per cent. over the previous year. Undelivered articles numbered 31,278,000. The net profit of the department was $24,271,712, or $380,395 less than in the previous year. It is to be noted that the postoffice telegraph and telephone services are still a source of loss, the deficit being $4,145,854, an increase of $1,017,965.

No wonder some Conservatives are demanding the resignation of Mr. Leader Borden. They have no use for a man who can't even win a game of golf. Mr. Borden was beaten by President-elect Taft at Hot Springs, Arkansas in a game of golf. This is the second game Mr. Borden has lost at the hands of the same opponent. All Canadians would have liked to see Mr. Borden win over the President of the United States as a matter of patriotism.

The death of Mr. John Cameron, of London, removes one of the best known journalists of the Dominion. He was for a long time editor of the Globe, and was the founder of the London Advertiser. He founded it well, for it is in publication to-day one of our strongest and most enterprising newspapers. He was an ardent Liberal and foremost in movements for the betterment, physical, moral and intellectual, of his fellow men.

In the protest proceedings against Hon. J R Stratton in West Peterborough he is charged, says the Stratford Beacon, with having bribed the electors in the form of "large donations to churches and charities." It that is all his opponents have against him Mr. Stratton need not feel at all disturbed. A charge of using his means for the public good is a weak plea on which to unseat a member of Parliament. Too many public men use all the money they can get their hands on from the public for their own selfish ends. It is a high tribute to Mr. Stratton that he puts his money to better uses.

WHEN YOU CAN'T SLEEP.

There is many a man and woman tossing night after night upon a sleepless bed. Their eyes do not close in the sweet and refreshing repose that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right. Some constitutional disturbance, worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system, that it cannot be quieted.

Or again, you have, a sinking sensation, a feeling you are going to die; or perhaps, you wake in your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and rest leaves you for the night. If you allow these conditions to continue for a short period even, you will begin to feel your health declining. It is the nerves and heart not acting rightly, and they can only be set right by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They soon induce healthful, refreshing sleep, not by deadening the nerves, but by restoring them to healthy action.

Mrs. E. Nutt, St. Mary's, Ont., writes:—"I can gladly recommend your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as I was greatly troubled with my nerves. I was so bad I could not sleep at night without the lamp burning, but after taking four boxes of the pills I became all right again."

Price, 50 cents per box; 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

The Late Dr. Fletcher Honoured—Work of Government Officials Among the Indians—Premier to Sit for East Quebec—Ottawa Conservatives Disgusted at Foolish Emanations From Disgruntled Bourbons Will Allow Ottawa Seat to go to Liberals by Acclamation—Hon Mr. Lemieux in London Voices Union and Indivisibility for the Empire.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—In honour of the late Dr. Fletcher it has been decided by the Ottawa Field Naturalists to found a Normal School scholarship in his memory. Dr. W D LeSueur has been appointed Honourary Secretary of the Royal Society to take the place of the late Dr. Fletcher, whose great work at the Experimental Farm has been of such lasting benefit to the Agricultural interests of the Dominion.

The annual report of the Superintendent of Indian Affairs shows that during the fiscal year ending last March the Indians in Canada numbered 110,205, a decrease of 440. The preceding report showed the Indians in 1906-7 increased by 169. The falling off in the Indian population last year is attributed to increased activity of tuberculosis. The report notes that the Indians generally are becoming more self-reliant and the expenditure for destitution, which amounted to $372,000 ten years ago, has decreased to $163,000. The report is exceedingly creditable to the officers and agents of the Indian Department.

It is understood that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has elected to hold his Quebec seat, and that consequently a bye-election will be held in Ottawa city to fill the vacancy thus created. The foolish charge of the Montreal Gazette, that Sir Wilfrid's disqualification was to be sought in Ottawa on the ground of a letter written to Mr. H B McGivern, his colleague in the Ottawa election, is not only laughed at here, but so strongly resented by local Conservative managers that it has been practically decided to allow the election of a successor to Sir Wilfrid's Ottawa seat to go by acclamation.

The machinery for making practically effective the new system of old-age annuities has just been perfected, a final order-in-council approving the actuarial rates having been passed. Literature explaining the advantages of the system as a guarantee against penury in old age and detailing its investment features has been sent out for distribution by postmasters throughout the country, and applications for annuities received from intending purchasers will be promptly dealt with by the office in Ottawa. A staff of lecturers to explain and popularize the scheme will hold public meetings in all districts of Canada during the winter.

The splendid reception given to Hon. Mr. Lemieux in London at the dinner last night by the Canadian Club, is a matter of great gratification here. The sterling loyalty of Canada to the Empire was happily but most emphatically expressed by Lord Strathcona and Sir Frederick Borden. Hon. Mr. Lemieux gave forth a keynote which will reverberate around the globe that is girdled with British dependencies, or perhaps, as better expressed, Colonial allies, when he said:—"We must visit each other's shores so as to better understand and grasp the vastness and possibilities of the British Empire. Let us have the all-red route. We must have cheap communications to annihilate space and time. Let us have an all-red cable.—We must trade with each other. We in Canada have given you preference. It was a free gift. That policy has benefited the Canadian consumer. It has encouraged trade with Canada's best customer and money-lender, and it has offered an inspiring example to the empire."

CARRIE IN OLD LAND.

Nation Settles Down to Smash Bars in Glasgow.

New York, Dec. 3.—A cable despatch to The American from Glasgow says: Invited by English and Scotch prohibition societies, Mrs. Carrie Nation has taken up quarters in a modest hotel here, preparatory to a campaign of "smashing the drink evil" in the principal cities of the United Kingdom. She says she has left her hatchet at home, having made up her mind to strike at the root of the drink evil, and not at is mere outward semblance. She expects to make a systematic campaign, beginning with the cities of Glasgow, Dundee and Aberdeen, and embracing Edinburgh and London.

The police have warned Mrs. Nation's friends that she will not be allowed to offer any violence to saloon property or customers.

Quebec Liquor Men Are Taking Steps to Save Themselves.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—At a meeting of the Licensed Victuallers' Association yesterday it was admitted that the temperance campaign in this province had made great headway, and caused a big loss to the trade in Montreal. Prejudice against the liquor trade was on the increase, it was declared, and the association must strengthen itself for protection. The Legislature had placed additional restrictions upon saloonkeepers, despite the fact that a petition containing 70,000 signatures had been presented to Premier Gouin, praying that the license situation remain unchanged. Lawrence A. Wilson was elected president to lead in the new fight.

Steel Plant Stops.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Dec. 3.—The steel plant of the Lake Superior corporation closed down yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, according to the statement of General Manager Franz, from lack of orders. The rolling for the last order of the Transcontinental Railway was finished yesterday morning.

The management announces that the plant will reopen on Jan. 1.

To Libel the Ships.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—Following the judgment of Commander Spain blaming Capt. Dunlop of the Allan liner Corinthian for the collision with the Malin Head, near Quebec, the Corinthian will be libelled in the British courts. The repairs at New York to the Malin Head will cost $40,000. The Corinthian's repairs will cost $25,000.

Local Option in Massachusetts.

Boston, Dec. 3.—The champions of no license succeeded in inducing New Bedford and Marlboro to vote in favor of closing the saloons. Northampton and Fitchburg voted to continue the sale. Waltham and Quincy, strong no-license centres, repeated last year's verdict yesterday. Pittsfield again voted for license.

WHAT NEGLECT DID FOR HIM

Jas. E. Brant Suffered Torments From Kidney Disease.

Then He Used Dodd's Kidney Pills and Became a Well Man—His Experience a Lesson for You.

Athabasca Landing, Alta., Dec. 2nd, Special.—That Kidney Disease, neglected in its earlier stages, leads to the most terrible suffering if not death itself, and that the one sure cure for it in all stages is Dodd's Kidney Pills, is the experience of Mr. James E. Brant a farmer residing near here.

Mr Brant contracted Kidney Disease when a young man, from a strain, and, like hosts of others, neglected it, expecting it to go away itself.

But it kept gradually growing worse till after thirty years of increasing suffering the climax came, and he found himself so crippled that at times he could not turn in bed, and for two weeks at a time it was impossible for him to rise from a chair without putting his hands on his knees.

He could not button his clothes. He was troubled with Lumbago, Gravel and Backache, and tried medicines for each and all of them without getting relief, till good luck turned him to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills started at the cause of his troubles and cured his Kidneys. With cured Kidneys his other troubles speedily disappeared and to-day he is a well man.

If you cure your Kidneys With Dodd's Kidney Pills you will never have Lumbago, Rheumatism, Heart Disease, Dropsy or Bright's Disease.

BONI GETS ROAST.

Gould's Lawyer Deals With Him In Lawsuit.

Paris, Dec. 3.—The Princess de Sagan, who was Miss Anna Gould of New York, had her innings in court yesterday in the hearing of the case brought by her former husband, Count Boni de Castellane, to have the three children of the union placed in the custody of his mother, the Marquise de Castellane.

Without essaying the impassioned oratorical role played by M. Bonnet last week, M. Clemenceau yesterday coolly and calmly, but with cutting irony and keen ridicule, met the accusations brought against the Princess de Sagan, whose character, he insisted, was blameless. He mercilessly scored the reputation and character of Count de Castellane, and said he was wholly unfitted to have the custody of his children. He charged that the real purpose of the count was to raise money and satisfy his vengeance on the Prince and Princess de Sagan, even at the expense of the interests of his children, whose minds he had continually tried to poison.

Neither the Prince de Sagan nor the count was present in court.

TRAINMEN PUNISHED.

C.P.R. Officials Discipline Men to Blame For Wreck.

Toronto, Dec. 3.—C.P.R. officials have finished their investigation into the Bethany wreck and have disciplined those who were responsible.

Superintendent Oborne decline to give the names of those to whom blame is attached; but said the men acknowledged their guilt and had been severely dealt with.

It is learned that Conductor Parker and Engineer Johnson of the westbound (extra) crew had each been credited with a portion of the blame, and were either dismissed or suspended.

The brakeman who signalled the double-header ahead before the west bound train cleared the siding, it is understood, was exonerated, because he was acting under orders from his conductor.

Steamer Has Hard Trip.

St. Catharines, Dec. 3.—The steamer A. D. Davidson, Capt. Sloan, of the Wolvin Line, arrived at Port Dalhousie about 7.30 o'clock yesterday morning, after a hard battle with the elements. A tremendous sea was running all the way up. The trip up occupied 33 hours, while it is usually made under ordinary circumstances in about 12.

When she arrived at Port Dalhousie she was completely covered with about six inches of ice up as high as the pilot-house, and, owing to the heavy coat of ice, was drawing over 16 feet of water forward, and the hot water hose had to be used in order to get rid of it before she could enter the lock.

Another Switch Open.

Chatham, Dec. 3.—The G.T.R. express, which is due here from the west at 8.30, met with a serious accident at Prairie Siding yesterday morning. Some section men were working on the track and left the switch open on the main line while they went to the car house, it is claimed. The express came along and was derailed, and ran off into the switch and collided with a number of flat cars. Engineer H. Crouch was badly bruised and his leg was hurt. Fireman J. Cummings struck a telegraph pole and his left arm was broken. The engine was completely demolished. Two of the flat cars were knocked off the track and demolished by the impact.

Switchman Arrested.

Bowmanville, Dec. 3.—William Balsden, section foreman at Burketon Junction, was on Tuesday placed under arrest by Chief of Police Jarvis, charged with having, through his negligence, caused the wreck at Sandbank on Nov. 23. The charge against Balsden is that he neglected to light the switch lamps. He was released on bail of $2,500.

A warrant is also out for the missing brakeman—Read.

Read Is Elected.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Dec. 3.—At Summerside yesterday on the casting vote of the sheriff as returning officer, Capt. Joseph Read was declared elected for the fourth division of Prince. The election was a tie.

This makes the standing of the parties as follows: Liberals 17, Conservatives 12, with A. A. Arsenault claimed to be disqualified.

Charred Bones Found.

Brockville, Dec. 3.—Crown Attorney Brown was communicated with yesterday by the reeve of the Township of Augusta as to the advisability of holding an inquest on a charred skeleton found in the woods by James Vont, near Algonquin.

A coroner of the vicinity was called, and an inquest was not thought to be necessary, in which the crown attorney concurred.

Many years ago Mrs. C. Bolton, an elderly resident of North Augusta, mysteriously disappeared from her home, and, though diligent search was made no trace of her could be found. The story goes that she was last seen in the vicinity of Vont's woods, which she is supposed to have entered and died from exhaustion, having then traveled many miles. The portions of the skeleton found have been accepted by relatives as those of Mrs. Bolton, and they were buried yesterday in the family plot at North Augusta.

Algoma Bye-Election.

Toronto, Dec. 3.—The bye-election in Algoma will be held on Dec. 24, with the nominations one week earlier, the announcement having been made yesterday by Premier Whitney. Mr. Norton Henry Peterson of Bruce Mines, who was returning officer in the last provincial elections, will act in that capacity again.

The bye-election is necessitated by the election of Mr. W. R. Smyth to the Commons. Neither party has named any candidate for the coming contest, but apparently there will be a fight. Messrs. Edward Greig of Bruce Mines and Sam Marks of the same place are both said to be after the Conservative convention.

Schoolboy Killed.

Glencoe, Ont., Dec. 3.—Harley Taylor, 11-year-old son of Mrs. E. Taylor, was instantly killed by a shunting freight train yesterday morning. Harley and his brother Cecil were taking a short cut to school by crossing the railway tracks between North and South Victoria streets. A freight train stood in their way, and the boy, to save time, boarded an oil tank car to pass to the other side and was a moment later jolted off by a coupling being made.

English Liberal Beaten.

Chelmsfold, Eng., Dec. 3.—The Liberals suffered another disastrous defeat in the bye-election for a member of the House of Commons held here yesterday.

Capt. Prettyman, Conservative, running in one of the Middlesex divisions, was victorious over A. H. Dence, the Liberal candidate.

Alleged Forger Arrested.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—W. J. Wilds is under arrest, charged with forgery. He has been acting as agent for the Imperial and other insurance companies, and as such had as partner, a young man named Albert Chartier, 24 years of age. The charge is that Wilds forged the name of his partner's mother to a check for $214.21.

Find Body In Shed.

London, Dec. 3.—The body of an unknown man was found by the mourners at the funeral of Jacob Swarts in a shed at the Jewish cemetery Tuesday.

It is thought that the man was a tramp, and becoming exhausted had gone into the shed to die, and had locked the door after him.

PULP SUPPLY FOR THE LONDON TIMES

Lord Northcliffe Now in Newfoundland Looking Over the Limits.

Examiner Special.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 3. — Lord Northcliffe is now in Newfoundland, having recently arrived from Montreal, after having paid a round of visits in the Dominion. His Lordship's intention is to visit the properties of the Harmsworth Company which comprise many square miles of timber land from which are drawn the pulp from which the paper is made for the many publications of the Harmsworth company. This property is perhaps the largest in the world that is held by a private company for such a purpose, and it is being largely developed for the uses for which it was purchased.

Lord Northcliffe has been in Canada now for some time with a view to the development of the recently acquired business of the London Times, and there is no doubt that the fresh acquisition to his already vast business, will mean a further extension of the industry which has been inaugurated under the control of the company of which he is the head.

The purchase of this property met with considerable opposition in England at the time that it was carried through. But the influence of the Harmsworth companies was so great that it was quickly carried to a successful issue. At the present time Newfoundland is supplying all the pulp that is necessary for the manufacture of the paper required for the printing of all the Harmsworth papers and magazines, but there will undoubtedly be a still larger call now that the greatest of the world's journals has come within Lord Northcliffe's influence.

CANADIAN TRADE WITH MEXICO

Large Increase of Exports to That Country Expected.

Examiner Special.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—The reduction of the Mexican duty on wheat from one dollar, fifty cent gold, to fifty cents gold for the same quantity, which comes into effect on December 15th, has created a considerable amount of interest amongst the grain dalers here. The general opinion is that eventually it may lead to a large increase of exports to that country. Already this year shows that the trade of the Dominion has much increased with that country, and it is fully expected that with the opening up of the market as this new step foreshadows there will be a resultant increase of grain shipments. Both grain and flour dealers have so far looked upon the prophesied decrease of the duties with rather a blind eye, but now that it is an accomplished fact there is an expressed hope of a much larger trade being done. Already there is a talk of further transportation facilities between the ports of the North Pacific coast and Mexico, and a company has been formed in Seattle for the purpose of running a line of steamers to Mexico and it is currently reported that the Republic is prepared to grant a subsidy for the purpose. These vessels would operate between Puget Sound and Mexico, calling at Vancouver and Victoria. The question is being watched with the keenest interest by all who are interested in the shipping of freight, as well as by railway men, as it is fully believed that it may be the means of opening up new markets for the produce of the West.

Come and help the Amateurs in the Mikado.

THE ANNUAL CONCERT AT KNOX CHURCH

Will be Held on Tuesday, December 15th —Further Announcements.

The second annual concert given under the auspices of the congregation of Knox church will be held on Tuesday, December 15th. The committee who have charge of the affair promise as interesting an evening as that which was provided last year. As stated, this is the second annual affair of this kind and for that reason a special programme is being arranged. It will be the aim to eclipse the success of last year's concert, and the later announcements will be awaited with interest by those who are looking forward to the event.

Curling Rink The First To Be Lighted With Siche Gas

One Hundred Lights Provide Excellent Illumination — Curlers Like the Light—Cost Said to be Cheaper Than Electric Light.

OPERATED LAST NIGHT

Peterborough's new curling rink is the first of its kind to be illuminated with gas and the experiment, if such it may be called, is meeting with the entire approval of the members of the club. Last night all the lights were on and attracted considerable attention from pedestrians going and coming along Charlotte street. There are altogether one hundred jets in the entire building and they afford a most excellent light. The effect on the eyes is very restful and at the same time it is bright in every part of the rink. There are no shadows and a proper idea of the lighting power and quality of Siche gas may be gained, only by a visit to the building when all the lights are in use.

Mr. Jas. Hugill, superintendent of the factory, installed the system for the Siche Gas Company, at Georgetown, a suburb of Toronto. When the ice has been made the illumination will be increased 20 per cent. according to his statement. One cannot but fail to appreciate the splendid illumination that is secured. The gas is turned on at a main tap and each individual jet is then lighted. One section only may be used and a feature is the fact that if only one jet is in use only the amount of gas required for that will be generated. Mr. Hugill states that directors of the rink will realize a very substantial saving by the use of Siche gas. Mr. John Moore, of Keene, was present last night and secured figures from Mr. Hugill on the estimated cost of installing the system in the Keene rink.

The Rev. Dr. Workman Case May Be Echo Of Civil Court

Hinted That Deposed Professor May Press Claim for Salary for Interval Since Deposition—Famous Case to be Appealed to the Church Court of Appeals Which Meets in Toronto in December.

FINAL APPEAL NEXT WEEK

Montreal, Dec. 3.—Special. — The case of Rev. Dr. Workman will again be to the forefront next week. Announcement has been made that the Court of Appeal of the Methodist Church, will meet in the Board Room, Wesley buildings, Toronto, on the evening of Dec. 8, and to this court, it is understood, Rev. Dr. Workman will take his case.

Long Delay in the Case

The claim of Dr Workman's friends that the delay of over a year in having the case finally settled, has been a great injustice to him They say that in no law court in the world would a case have been allowed to hang fire so long especially when the defendant is under no specific charge. The fact that he has been and still is uncertain as to what the final outcome of the case will be, makes it impossible to definitely settle on a course of action They further say that Dr Workman's opponents have been active in causing the delay

The Professor's Dismissal

The story of the trouble which culminated in this appeal is as follows, On Oct 22, 1907, the Board of Governors of the Montreal Theological College, dismissed Rev Dr. Workman from the staff of the college on the ground that "the doctrinal views of Dr Workman are not in accord with the standards of doctrine and articles of religion of the Methodist Church" This action on the part of the Board was based on the report of a special committee appointed to consider the case

In particular, it was alleged before the committee that the Rev Dr. Workman had described the account of the Virgin birth of Jesus as a "myth," and that he held unorthodox views with regard to the doctrine of the Trinity

Dr. Workman's Defence

Rev Dr. Workman denies both allegations In a phamplet prepared especially for members of the Montreal Conference of the Methodist Church, Rev Dr. Workman says,

"In every part my teaching is in harmony with all evangelical standards There is some divergence of statement of course, because historical exegesis requires it; but there is no rejection of vital doctrines, much less repudiation of the facts on which such doctrines rest . . When a young man at college I joined the Methodist Church I did so after much consideration, not because of Methodist training, but from personal choice as that I have always regarded myself as a Methodist of the Methodists When I entered the ministry of our Church I accepted honestly the great distinctive doctrines of Methodism, so far as I was able to understand them, and I have ever since endeavoured 'fully and faithfully to preach them'

"When I was received into full connection and ordained, I promised to oppose 'all erroneous and strange doctrines,' and to frame and fashion myself (that is, my life and thought) 'according to the doctrines of Christ,' and I have been diligent in my efforts so to do from that time until now."

The Court of Apyeal

The Court of Appeal is constituted of six ministers and six laymen as follows: Rev Dr. Shaw, Rev. James S Ross, Rev Alex. Langford, Rev. Stephen F Hughes, Rev. S. H Shorey, Rev Stephen Bond, and Messrs. N. W Rowell, K.C., Hon. Justice MacLaren, Judge S. A. Chesley, Alex Mills, B.A., J. R. Inch, LL.D, A. W. Briggs, B.A., Rev. Dr. Carman as president of the General Conference of the Methodist Church, presides over the court

Still Further Appeal

In case of further appeal, the question may still be taken before the General Conference of the Methodist Church, and as a last resort, it is said, the case may reach the civil courts in a possible suit for salary for the months Dr Workman has been compelled to await a final decision

Dr Workman is said to be still confident of a final vindication, though he will not talk about the case He is still living in Montreal, and during the past summer and fall has made several trips into Ontario towns, where he has occupied Methodist pulpits and has been well received by the Methodist people

OBSERVATION CARS FOR THE C. P. R.

Now Being Constructed in Angus Shops in Montreal.

Examiner Special.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—Work has commenced in the Angus shops here on a number of new observation cars that are intended for use on the trains that run on the C. P. R. tracks through the Rockies. For some years past similar cars have been largely in request by travellers, who have immensely appreciated the facilities thus afforded for viewing the scenery that was passed through, and the railway companies have decided to increase the number of these cars, which are on use in the mountain section of the road. New library and observation cars are now to run from coast to coast, so that travellers will now be able to watch the views on the prairies, or amongst the mountains or indulge themselves in the pleasures of reading. A large number of men are at work on the new cars, which it is stated will be most luxurious and comfortable.

LOWERING THE WATER IN CANAL

Preparing for Winter by Dropping Level Several Feet.

The water in the canal is being lowered to the usual winter level, being dropped several feet below the summer height. The superintendent stated to-day that this precaution was taken to avoid any possible break such as occurred several years ago. It will not cause any injury to the many fish which will winter in the Trent Valley.

My pro-to-plasmal ancestors will be in Mikado to-night.

A DECEMBER SALE OF PIANOS, ORGANS AND MUSIC

The Peterborough Music Company is putting on a decisive sale of pianos, organs, and small musical instruments during December. This ought to be good news to all who are contemplating making a princely gift of a piano or organ to some dear one on Christmas. This well-known music firm has recently undergone a change in its business personel — all interests therein having been acquired by Mr J. P. Cunningham. This sale is to help reduce the present stock on hand before the new year. Lovers of music are also directed to the special sale of sheet music at this store, as every piece has been marked down to the shortest demi-semi-quaver.

HOLD CANTATA AT KNOX CHURCH

Will be Presented on Tuesday, December 29th.

"At Miss Prim's" is the name of a cantata that has been secured for presentation at Knox church on Tuesday evening, Dec. 29th. It will take the form of a Christmas concert and is in charge of Mrs. Patterson-Mowry, who will have the responsibility of instructing the young people of the church, who will be seen in the production. This cantata is said to be a delightful little musical affair and in the hands of the Knox Church Young People should be well put on.

18 DAYS MORE TO DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

HAVE YOU DECIDED?

ON what you are going to give HIM for Christmas—if he is your son—perhaps he is your big brother—or he may be your father—there's a chance, too, that he is your lover—never mind who he is, you want to give him something on the "One Day of the Year" that he will appreciate, something that will be a lasting remembrance throughout 1909 and even longer. Let us suggest something that we know a man, no matter what his tastes may be, will be pleased with and will make him carry pleasant thoughts, for an unlimited time, of the giver. Christmas is closing in on us very quickly—just think, only eighteen days more to do what shopping you have to do, so do not leave too much for the last few days. There's a reason. You all know the story of flurry, confusion, dissatisfaction in service and all the rest—decide now.

We Suggest

SMOKING JACKETS, HOUSE JACKETS, DRESSING GOWNS, BATH ROBES

Any of these we think are quite in keeping with the gift giving idea and every man should have one of either the Smoking Jackets or House Coats and also a Dressing Gown or Bath Robe—there is nothing so free and easy for lounging in, nothing so proper either as a Smoking Jacket or House Coat—they save the business clothes from being crushed and soiled. The Bath Robe and Dressing Gown, too, are almost indispensable. See our immense showing in the Toggery Shop and have one laid away for you now while the assortment is unbroken.

Smoking Jackets and HOUSE COATS

The correct camel hair cloths in new reversible effects—collar and cuffs the same as the reverse side of the body. Warm, sensible and serviceable. Prices

3.50, 4.00, 5.00, 6.00, 7.50 to 12.00

Dressing Gowns Long Loose Robes

These are very useful garments, warm too, made of the same class of material as used in the House Coats, etc. The shades are very rich, the weight of cloth is heavy or medium, trimmed with fancy braids and cord. Prices

5.00 to 14.00

Bath Robes The Terry Kind

The Terry Bath Robe is the most popular on the market. The material is the same as is in the Terry Bath Towels, can be washed like factory cotton. One very special price for our Christmas trade

MANY SCOTCHMEN AT CAMPBELLFORD

Campbellford, Dec. 3.—The members of Gordon Camp invited members from Clan Alpine Camp, Peterborough; Mackay Camp, Madoc; and Rob Roy Camp, Belleville, to a banquet to celebrate St. Andrew's Day. Over two hundred men and women took advantage of their kindness.

The chair was occupied by the mayor, Bro. W. J. Dorsee, and the vice chair by Bro. R. Bull, Chief of Gordon Camp. The toast of the evening, "The Day and a'wha honour it," was given by Bro. John Bail Dow, Whitby; "Our Society," by Bro. A. Weatherson, Warkworth and Bro. R. Grieve, grand organizer; "The Ladies," by Bro. J. R. Bell and Bro. F. J. Linton, Peterborough; and "Our Guests," by T. H. Mackay, Peterborough. Songs were given by Bro. J. McIntosh, Belleville; Mrs. White, Campbellford; and Bro. R. Grieve, who sang "Bonny Dundee," and being loudly encored, responded with "Jessie's Dream,' which was also warmly applauded. Bagpipe selections were given by Bro. W. McIntosh, and Bro Thos. Bowie, Belleville; Bro. T. H. Mackay, Bro. A. Pollock and Bro. D. Robertson.

After the tables were cleared away dancing was entered into and carried on until a few hours beyond the twa'.

After the singing of Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King, the meeting closed, everybody going away thoroughly satisfied.

Mr. R. J. Davey is Musical Director of "the Mikado".

Junior Y. M. C. A. Notes

The Boys' Cabinet will hold their regular monthly meeting to-night at 7.30 o'clock.

The Managing Committee of the Boys' Department, will meet next Monday at 7.30 p.m.

The regular weekly athletics for the Business Boys will be run off to-night.

All members who intend using the Y.M.C.A. rink this winter are requested to hand their names to M. Collings or Mr. Evans as soon as possible.

Come in crowds to "the Mikado" to-night.

WOMAN AT HER BEST AT THIRTY-FIVE

Writer Says American Women Dress to Please Those Who Originate Fashions for Their Own Gain.

IDEA OF ONE MAN GIVEN

A woman is at her best between twenty-five and forty. Her best I consider the union of her physical, mental and sentimental beauty. Between the ages I have named all of these combine to make her a rare flower.

I speak in averages from many countries. This is not wholly true in America, for here women lose their sentiment very early, and no woman who has not sentiment is beautiful. American women are the most practical of all women. We hear that the French women are the most mercenary of women. That is not true. The French women will make tremendous sacrifices of money and station for the men they love. If the American woman has any sentiment it is before she reaches twenty-five. Sentiment she is taught, is girlish and foolish, and she is ashamed of it and smothers it. But up to that time she knows little. She has no head. She has merely enjoyed herself in the light, superficial way, and that is right.

After twenty-five she begins to read. It takes ten years of reading to know much. So it is not until she is thirty-five that she is really entertaining. Then, too, there is more hope that a woman will study her individuality and refuse longer to be a slave to fashions.

Here again I must qualify by saying this is not so true in America as in Europe, especially in France. The American woman, says: "It is the fashion." I must have it, no matter how I look in it." The French woman says: "The large hat is the fashion it shall not be for me because it is not becoming," and she persists in wearing a small or medium sized hat and remains beautiful. The American woman in her madness for fashion loses all sense of proportion. She is spoiling her beautiful body by destroying its fine lines. She does not consider that she is dressing to please the man who cares nothing at all about how she looks, but who makes dresses and ribbons, and flowers, merely to sell.—Alphone Mucha.

CURLING CLUB ADMITS LADIES TO PARTICIPATE IN THE 'ROARIN GAME DURING COMING WINTER

Attend to Much Business Last Night—Mr. J. H. Perguson the New Secretary—The Plans for Winter Discussed.

THE SKIPS WERE SELECTED

Curling in Peterborough during the season of 1908-9 should be more popular than ever Last night at an enthusiastic meeting of the curlers they decided to open their handsome new rink to all ladies who wish to curl, at a somewhat nominal fee of one dollar. This altogether with the fact that the club have their rink ready for the opening of the game, forecasts an interesting season

A large number were present last night, and everyone is well satisfied with the new structure The lighting system has been installed and the whole rink is illuminated The light is a clear, white one, and the whole ice surface will be evenly lighted

The new heating system was also used last night, and while it was cold outside, it was very warm inside

In opening the meeting President Brown stated that it was a great pleasure to be permitted to meet in this handsome building after the little place they had last year Judging from the way the people wished to join, the game this year was going to be the greatest in the city. It was now hard to keep the people out The meeting to-night was called for the purpose of electing skips, and this would be proceeded with at once.

Secretary R. M. Waddell then read the minutes of the last meeting, which were adopted.

Mr. Waddell stated that he would not be able to accept the office of secretary again, as he had held that office for three years.

On motion of Mr. T. F. Matthews and Mr. W. E. Talbot, Mr Harry Foote was nominated, but he could not accept. Several others were nominated, but all withdrew.

Messrs, Gerald Rackham, J. H. Ferguson, George Giroux and Dr Wightman were all nominated.

Mr. J. H. Ferguson was finally elected Secretary of the Peterborough Curling Club.

Selection of Skips

Mr. Matthews suggested that the skips be selected in open meeting and that a committee from these skips be appointed to arrange the rinks and to be very careful that all the old players are not put on the same rinks. This was adopted and also that the skip will choose his own vice skip.

Moved by R. Hicks, seconded by Mr. Brightman, that all the skips who were elected last year and who are on the membership roll this year be re-elected with power to add to their number.—Carried.

The Ladies Invited

It was suggested that the ladies be allowed to curl this winter. It appears that some of the ladies would like to get into the game, and some of the men are in favour of allowing them to curl

Mr Brightman expressed himself as very much in favour of allowing the ladies to curl in the morning or afternoon without a fee this year

Mr H. P. H. Kenner, when asked his opinion, said that by all means allow them to curl in the morning and afternoon

Mr C. N. Brown said he was in favour of allowing the ladies to curl, as he would o'w be here in the evenings

Mr Brightman moved that the ladies be invited to form a curling club

Mr T. F. Matthews moved in amendment, that a fee of $1.00 be charged each lady member for the use of the ice Mr. Waddell seconded the motion, and it carried

Eastern Ontario Association

A letter was received from the secretary of the Belleville Curling Club asking for the views of Peterborough on the proposal to form an Eastern Ontario curling association with Port Hope as the western limit, Lindsay the northern, and Prescott as the eastern, and that annual bonspiels be held. He is communicating with the other clubs in the district.

On motion of T. F. Matthews and Mr. Brightman, the communication was received, and action deferred to another meeting.

The following were elected as a schedule committee — Messrs. Giroux, Foote, and J. H. Ferguson.

Considerable discussion was aroused when the Peterborough bonspiel for this season was mentioned. It has been the desire for a long time to hold a big bonspiel here, and especially now that the curlers have such a handsome rink. No doubt it would be quite an attraction and many outside clubs would no doubt be glad to receive an invitation to take part in it.

On the other hand it was pointed out that as there were a great many new members this year who would wish to practise for a year before entering a bonspiel, and also that as many were obliged to pay an increased fee for membership and to buy a new pair of stances that they would not be willing to stand the expense.

Some thought the club should be content this season to work up enthusiasm in the local club, and to interest as many outside towns as possible to come here for friendly games. That would introduce the rink and go a long way towards advertising the next year's bonspiel. As a matter of fact, with some thirty local rinks a very good bonspiel could be held here without the additional expense.

There were many in favour of the bonspiel idea, so the matter was laid over until another meeting.

The Ontario District Tankard Cup won last year by H. F. Foote's rink, was presented to the club, along with a framed group photo of the rink. The presentation was made by Mr. W. G. Ferguson on behalf of the skip, and it was acknowledged by the President, and by a motion moved by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner.

The members of the successful rink were Messrs. M. C Tooley, D. Hall, R. M. Waddell and H F. Foote, skip. The trophy is a very handsome one and will be a very valuable addition to the club's collection.

A case will be purchased by the club in which to keep the trophy.

A meeting of the skips will be held next Wednesday night.

Music and Drama

At a recent performance by Mr. Mantell and his company of "Romeo and Juliet," a conversation between ladies sitting in the balcony was overheard. One of them said:

"My, but the clothes in this play are old fashioned!"

Her knowing companion answered:

"Why, yes. Shakespere always writes these old-fashioned plays."

ENGLISH SINGERS IN AMERICA

At the present time there is an invasion of English songs into the American theatrical world, and many of them have met with favour on this side of the Atlantic. It is probably due to a large extent to the personalities of the girls from the London Music Halls, who are now appearing in vaudeville in the leading American cities. Miss Clarice Mayne, who has been called the "English Elsie James," has met with success, a number of her best songs being, "Strolling Through the Park," "Its Always Fine Weather Indoors, and "I'm Longing for Some One to Love me." Miss Lucy Weston is another English comedienne who is drawing a large salary. Her two great song bits are, "Be Careful," and "When You Walk Down the Strand." Alice Lloyd is another whose weekly salary is told in no small figures. Another is Daisy Lloyd, who has just completed her engagement and is returning to London, after a successful tour of America and Canadian cities. Again there is Marie Lloyd, who has added several popular songs from those of the London invasion, if such it may be termed. Lastly Vesta Victoria, who is just beginning her engagement at the Lincoln Square Theatre, New York. The song which appeals most to her audiences is "Now I Have to Call Him Father." It is the story of a girl who thought her "steady company" was coming to see her, when all the time it was her mother he was quietly courting.

Harry Lauder, the most wonderful entertainer the land across the sea has ever sent over, has more than one song which he is offering in the long engagement which he is now playing.

PROFITS CONSIDERED LARGE

Excessive Prices Paid by Halifax Marine Agency.

WERE A QUARTER TOO HIGH

Dealers and Contractors Admit That Officials Allowed Them to Charge From Twenty-Five to a Hundred Per Cent. More Than They Got From Other Customers In Halifax — Gratuities Given.

Halifax, Dec. 3.—That sensational extravagance characterized the operation of the Marine Department here was the gist of the evidence adduced before Mr. Justice Cassels yesterday.

W. W. Howell & Co., charged the Government 25 per cent. more than other customers.

They made overcharges because they had dull times during the year, "and when the Government comes along with a job we charge heavily in order to make it pay for the poor times."

Another witness, Hoben, said his profits on Government jobs were sometimes up to 100 per cent.

Charles Longard, of Longard Bros., engineers, said:

"The firm's account with the Department amounted to $56,000 for three years. The fact of Agent Parsons not having paid his account had no connection with the Government account, which was their largest."

He had seen Halifax M.P.'s about getting Departmental orders. The firm was on the patronage list.

The firm had done a large amount of work on the steamer Lady Laurier. Prices were fixed after the work was done. He could not say whether the profits would not be 50 per cent. Asked whether they would be 100 per cent. in some cases witness said "No."

Arthur Stevens, bookkeeper for W. W. Howell & Co., marine engineers, was the next witness. Their account was over $28,000 for repairs, etc., to the Lady Laurier. There was no contract. The fixing of profits was left to him as manager and bookkeeper.

Asked whether Parsons had left it to him to fix prices, witness replied he never had any dealings with Parsons except to kick about not getting more work. The Marine and Fisheries Department was their largest account.

Asked how much more was charged the Government than ordinary retail customers, witness replied it was not less than ten per cent. more. It was never to his knowledge more than 25 per cent. more.

The first witness in the afternoon was Capt. C. T. Schmidt. He admitted he got $1,770 from Mr. Drolett for certifying work.

He got a dollar from Longard, as he was "too stiff with him."

He caused one firm to lose a $50,000 job, and they were still friendly.

Mr. Stevens, bookkeeper with W. W. Howell & Co., was called. He told how Mr. Howell had a contract on the Lady Laurier. They did work on the recommendation of the members.

The members did not know the prices they were to ask.

"Did you get those fat contracts with the fat profits you have spoken of in consideration of the subscriptions to the party fund?"

"I don't think so. We were the only Liberal firm, and with the recommendation of the members were independent."

"What is your reason for making overcharges?"

"We have dull times during the year, and we must make one job pay for another. When the Government comes along with a job we charge heavily in order to make it pay for the poor times. A jobbing shop is a charity shop, and it's only by overcharging on some jobs that we make the whole year pay."

HON. LEMIEUX FETED AMID NOBILITY

Canadian Club Gives Him a Banquet in London.

MANY NOTABLES PRESENT

Duke of Argyll, Hon. Sydney Fisher, Sir Frederick Borden, Lord Strathcona, Henniker Heaton, Mr. Buxton and Hamar Greenwood Attend—Mr. Lemieux Discusses French-Canadian Loyalty.

London, Dec. 3.—(C.A.P.)—The Canada Club dined Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux at the Ritz Hotel, under the presidencey of Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson last night.

A distinguished gathering was present, including the Duke of Argyll, Hon. Sydney Fisher, Lord Strathcona, Henniker Heaton, Postmaster-General Buxton, Col. Seeley and many other notable men.

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson proposed the toast to "The Dominion of Canada," remarking that if the mother country continued to refuse to meet the advances of Canada in respect to the preference, circumstances might compel the Dominion to look in another direction, a statement to which there was some dissent.

Lord Strathcona, responding, said he trusted and believed that Canada would never look elsewhere. (Loud applause.)

Sir Frederick Borden, in a happy speech, declared there was no fear that Canada would step aside from her present path of trade. (Hear, hear and applause.)

"We claim the right to dictate and control our own trade policy, and we concede to the statesmen of the mother country the same right. We did not give the preference for the purpose of making a bargain. (Cheers.) Canada had defied her neighbor and conquered. (Loud applause.) Canada's heart was with the mother country, and Canada knew if the United States lowered her barriers it would be only for her own convenience." (Hear, hear.)

Going to the question of imperial defence, Sir Frederick asked if Canada was not doing her duty by building up the material for an army while the mother country did that which she was much fitted to do, namely, maintaining a navy equal to the two-power standard, plus 10 per cent. (Applause.)

Mr. Lemieux said happily many things which people did not even suspect came under the observation of a traveler.

Lemieux referred to the "intellectual preference," and predicted a volume of British periodicals read in Canada in the near future would reach far greater proportions.

"Let us correspond fearlessly. The imperial penny postage was established for that very purpose.

"We must trade with each other. We in Canada have given you the preference. It was a free gift." That policy had benefitted the Canadian consumer. It encouraged trade with Canada's best customer and money lender, and it offered an inspiring example to the rest of the empire. (Loud cheers.)

Mr. Lemieux concluded: "If you come to Canada, by all means come to Quebec, or else you will not have seen Canada. Jean Baptiste is happy, is free. Therefore he is loyal. Nothing could swerve his loyalty to his king. (Cheers.) He values his British citizenship and knows what an asset in his national life is the prestige of the British crown. I conclude in the words of Sir Wilfrid Laurier: 'Between two races old enmities have ceased to exist, now there is nothing more than a spirit of emulation. We are loyal to the great nation which gave us our life; we are faithful to the great nation which gave us our liberty." (Applause.)

Hamar Greenwood proposed the guests, Col. Seely responding, paid a tribute to the services of Lord Strathcona, Hon. Mr. Lemieux and W. L. Mackenzie King, to the Empire.

MALONE PLEADS ALIBI.

Simcoe Chief Says He Was at Home at Time of Shooting.

Simcoe, Dec. 3.—Constable Wilkins, who was murderously attacked in Lynwood Park early Tuesday morning, is holding his own and Dr. Stanton, who is attending him said last night that he would likely recover. There is the danger, however, that blood poisoning may set in.

Chief Malone, who was arrested for the shooting, made a statement yesterday, declaring that he was at home when the shooting occurred. He stoutly maintains his innocence.

Malone's hearing takes place Saturday. So far as can be ascertained, no bail has been asked for.

His defence will evidently take the form of an alibi.

Editor Not Guilty.

Winnipeg, Dec. 3.—The jury found John W. Dafoe, editor of the Free Press, not guilty of libel against F. C. MacLaglen in connection with the row at Hon. Clifford Sifton's pre-election meeting.

The judge pointed out that there was nothing to connect Dafoe personally with the libel. A civil action is threatened against The Free Press Co.

HORD ALEXIS FLEES FROM SCENE

Haytian Ruler Is Deposed by the Revolutionists.

GEN. LEGITIME PRESIDENT

With Jeering, Shouting Mob Bidding Him Leave the Country, Late Chief of Haytians Takes Refuge on Board French Vessel—The Aged President Wanted to Fight to Last, But Is Hurried Away.

Port au Prince, Hayti, Dec. 3.—President Nord Alexis has been deposed and Port au Prince is in the hands of the revolutionists.

Gen. Antoine Simon, the leader of the insurgents is marching upon the peninsula with an army of 5,000, and Gen. Legitime has been proclaimed the new President.

At the last moment, President Alexis yielded to the urging of those about him and decided to take refuge aboard the French warship. At five o'clock a salute of 21 guns announced his departure from the palace. Thousands had gathered there early in the day and they had surged around the entrance threatening to tear down the walls to drive out the President and his loyal followers. As the hours passed, the great mob became infuriated, shouting for him to leave the country. The mob was armed and men and women, beside themselves with rage, heaped curses on the head of the aged man, who had been deposed from the Presidency of the republic, but who had fiercely expressed his determination to fight to the last.

So serious was the situation that the French Minister, M. Carteron, and other foreign representatives, together with members of a specially appointed committee, forced themselves upon the President, who finally consented to withdraw. Shouts greeted him as he stepped from the precincts of the palace and into a carriage, which had been provided. M. Carteron, carrying the French tri-color, sat beside him, and the Minister threw the folds of the flag over the shoulders of the deposed President, to protect him. An immense crowd of men and women had assembled at the wharf, and the arrival of the Presidential carriage, escorted by a battalion of infantry and a squadron of cavalry, under command of Gen. Hippolite, was the signal for wild tumult and riot.

All along the route, the people who lined the streets shouted, jeered and cursed at the fallen President, but when the landing stage was reached, the mob lost all restraint. The scene was tragic and shameful. Infuriated women broke through the cordon of troops and shrieked the coarsest insults into the very face of the President, who strove bravely to appear undismayed.

PAQUETTE SENTENCED.

Counterfeiter Must Serve Five Years and Pay $1,000.

Windsor, Dec. 3.—Fred Paquette of Amherstburg was yesterday sentenced in Detroit to five years in the house of correction, and to pay a fine of $1,000 for counterfeiting to which he pleaded guilty.

Paquette begged for a light sentence, saying he was led into the crime after being released from prison, being advised by Fred Dumouchelle of Walkerville and others, to return to his old tricks.

The prisoner is over 50 years of age and has spent nearly half his life in prison. Dumouchelle will be sentenced next Tuesday.

Fred Morneau of Windsor, withdrew his plea of not guilty, as an accomplice and pleaded guilty. Sentence was deferred.

"Its Only a Cold, A Trifling Cough."
Thousands have said this when they caught cold. Thousands have neglected to cure the cold. Thousands have filled a Consumptive grave through neglect. Never neglect a cough or cold. It can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the medicine you need. It strikes at the very foundation of all throat or lung complaints, relieving or curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Sore Throat, and preventing Pneumonia and Consumption.
It has stood the test for many years, and is now more generally used than ever. It contains all the lung healing virtues of the pine tree combined with Wild Cherry Bark and other pectoral remedies. It stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts, loosens the [illegible] and aids nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulations. Don't be humbugged into accepting an [illegible] Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and price 25 cents.
"Mrs. J. Brewster, Grafton, N.S., writes:—"Two winters ago I suffered severely with a very bad cold and asthma. I was so bad I could not get my breath, and very often thought I would choke. My husband became very much frightened, and got me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and it gave me almost instant relief. I can recommend it to anyone having the least kind of a cold."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST LAND REGULATIONS

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of intending homesteader.

DUTIES—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

MERCANTILE LEAGUE SUPPORTED BY MORE OF LAST YEAR'S TEAMS

In mentioning the formation of a Mercantile League in the city, an unconscious omission was made when the C.G.E. team was forgotten and also Cressman's Invincible Counter-Hoppers, the latter doing brilliant work on ice last winter. There is also the Auburn Woollen Mills that could easily put a team on the ice and in fact the more one looks over the situation the stronger is the impression that this league would prove very interesting. The mercantilers would have to play during the best hours they could secure which would probably be from 6 to 7, or from 10 to 11. There might be other hours that could be obtained but this is an after thought. If the league does not materialise it will mean that the teams will play as do the American Rugby teams, follow no fixed schedule, but the preference is to get under way with a league which is bound to be a success and will provide plenty of fun for the opposing teams.

STRATFORD HAS UNIQUE DIFFICULTY; HAS TOO MANY HOCKEY PLAYERS

Stratford, Dec. 2.—The hockey situation here seems a little uncertain at present, although it is assured that there will be the usual good brand of hockey

The uncertainty arises through the proficiency of the juniors. The team which last year won the junior championship is recognized as fast enough for any company, and it is thought by some that it would be a sane move, and one in the interests of hockey in the town, to play this team in the intermediate series. The majority of the players on the team are yet eligible for junior hockey. Rankin, the goal-keeper, will not be able to play, but all the others will be out. This assures as strong a team as played last year, for there are several men capable of filling Rankin's place creditably

There are so many other fast young players in the city, however, that it seems a shame to debar them from playing in the junior O.H.A. because the last year's team is still eligible The Collegiate team is thought by many strong enough to make a splendid showing in the junior series, and it is certain that, augmented by some of the other young players, it would take a fast team to prevent them scoring a victory.

Ramsay Rankin, the big cover-point, last year studying at Varsity, is in Stratford again, and will almost surely play. He will add greatly to the strength of the senior team.

JUNIOR CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE ADOPTS CONSTITUTION AT MEETING LAST NIGHT

At a meeting of the Junior City Hockey League in the Y. M. C. A. parlours last night, the question of the constitution of the league was taken up. President Jas. D. Clarke was in the chair and the following teams were represented: The Chieftains by Harry Munro, the Otonabee A. C. by G. Harris, the Peterborough Collegiate Institute by Harry Hall, the T. A. S. by J. Deannard, and the George Street Methodist Church by Stanley Wade.

It was decided to adopt the constitution of the Senior City League, with a few changes necessary to fit the junior teams.

The amendments adopted were as follows:

That any Junior City League player be allowed to play two junior O. H. A games and then drop back to the Junior League without affecting his eligibility in that organization and that the Chieftains' Junior O. H A team be allowed to draft players from the league.

That Junior City League players be permitted to play in the Church League if they so desire.

That no player who has played in the Senior City League be allowed to play in the Junior League.

It was decided that the Senior City League should be approached in regard to allowing the Junior League to use the rink the hour preceding the senior games, the juniors in return to sell one hundred tickets for the Senior League, to defray the expenses. Another meeting will be held on the 15th, when the schedule will be drawn up. Every team is expected to have its entrance fee paid before that time.

The prospects are bright for a most successful season, as a large number of junior teams have signified their intention of joining the league,

SHRUBB WINS RACE AGAIN EASILY— LAST APPEARANCE HERE TO-NIGHT

Alf Shrubb again demonstrated his wonderful ability as a runner at the Roller rink last night, when he defeated three local runners in a mile and one-half relay race, that was very interesting. A big crowd was on hand to see the English crack perform, and they were well entertained, as Shrubb gave a splendid exhibition. He seemed to have accommodated himself better to the sharp corners of the rink and sped around in decidedly speedy fashion, making a big hit with the crowd, who were able to see in his style the reason why he has been able to hang up so many world's records.

His opponents last night were Montgomery, Webb and Hatcher, each of whom ran ten laps. Shrubb won handily by over a lap, doing the distance in 6.45, which is fourteen seconds better than on Tuesday night.

To-night Shrubb will make his last appearance in Peterborough and there should be a big crowd on hand to see him perform. It will be the last opportunity to see the champion and with so many people interested in athletics, and especially in running, they will surely take advantage of the chance.

PETERBORO' CLUB CONGRATULATES LINDSAY WINNING JUNIOR O.R.F.U. TITLE

The Lindsay Daily Warder says: Throughout the past Rugby season the friendliest of feelings have existed between the Peterborough and Lindsay Rugby teams, despite the fact that they were rivals for district honours. A letter of congratulation was received to-day from Secretary Fred D. Craig, of the Peterborough Rugby club, expressing the satisfaction felt in Peterborough sporting circles at Lindsay's victory on Saturday, the result of which gave the locals the junior O.R.F.U. championship. The letter expresses a good-fellowship, which should always exist between sporting organizations in the two places and is deeply appreciated here.

The letter is as follows:

Peterborough, Ont., Dec. 1.

Len Nesbitt, Esq., Secretary Lindsay Rugby Club.

Dear Sir,—At the annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby club, held last evening, by the unanimous vote of the members present, I was instructed to write your club, congratulating them upon having captured the championship of the junior series of the O.R.F.U.

To win such honours in your first year of Rugby and to go through the season without a loss, is a most creditable performance, and our members feel that you are indeed to be congratulated upon your showing.

While your victory was gained through the defeat of a Peterborough team, yet we want you to feel that we are glad to see you champions of the Ontario Union. We hope that you may see your way clear to play for the junior Dominion title, and that if you decide upon that course you may be successful in the play off with the winners of the Parkdale-Varsity third game.

Again congratulating the junior champions on behalf of the Peterborough club and hoping that they will be in the game next season. I am,

Yours most sincerely,

FRED D. CRAIG,

Sec.-Treas. Peterborough Rugby Club.

CURLING.

The team for Scotland and how to finance it are the little things that are worrying the curling world. Out in Manitoba they tried to levy a dollar a head on the membership of the Manitoba Curling Association to pay car fares, etc. But whereas about $2,000 was expected from this source only $1,200 actually came into the treasury.—Telegram.

BANKERS TAKE THREE STRAIGHT FROM GRAYS—STILL AT TOP OF LEAGUE

The Bankers last night defeated the Greys three straight games in the ten pin league series at the P.B.C last night, and the moneyed men now have a strong hold on first place in the league race with six wins to their credit and no losses. The Lock Works are a good second, and the latter expect to at least maintain their position after the games to-night when they will meet the Midgets, the latest addition to the league. The original schedule called for a game between the Hams and Lock Works, but the admission of two new teams to the league has necessitated a rearrangement and the Lock Works will not meet Hutch's trio until next week. There will probably be a double-header played to-morrow night and a game on Saturday night between the Hams and the Examiner B. team.

In last night's games it was the Bankers all the way, though they had to fight every inch of the way in the final game, winning by only fifteen pins.

Ferguson was again high man for the winners in total pinnage, and also had the high singles. The scores follow:—

Greys

Clancy	101	125	148—	374

Barber	147	132	153—	432
Ferguson	138	164	184—	486
	443	455	496—	1394

"Wait till we meet the Bankers," is the monotonous refrain heard from every team in the league. Just wait till they do and some of them will be sorry they spoke.

Billy Wareham had an average of 184 in six consecutive games last night.

McIlroy in four consecutive games yesterday toppled over 835 pins, an average of 208 3-4 per game. His score by games was 225, 175, 223 and 214.

Billy Wareham has high average in the league games to date, having rolled an even 175 for the six games played. Herb Martin has an average of 183 for three games.

After a strenuous debate in which the principles and proprieties of an up-to-date newspaper office were violated, the business end and the editorial department of the Examiner decided to settle their argument by a game of ten pins at the P.B.C. alleys last night, and naturally the scribes had the last word in the controversy, putting it all over the business end in a four-game series by nearly 300 pins. The scores follow:

LINDSAY ARE TO PLAY FOR DOMINION TITLE

A very interesting special Rugby meeting was held last evening in the Simpson House parlour, among the members of the team to decide the game to be played with Parkdale, now champions of Canada, and the local twelve.

After a brief discussion with Mr. Carew in the chair, it was finally decided to have the game come off on Dec. 12th in Toronto.

It is expected cheap rate fares will be issued by the G.T.R. If so, a large number of town citizens are expected to follow the boys and help them on to victory.

The line-up will be given later, as a heavy practice will be put on every other night until the date of the game.

It was said by one of the twelve this morning that the game would be played snow or shine and they would keep the Parkdale team a-going for the pigskin.—Lindsay Free Press.

HOCKEY

Belleville, Dec. 2.—There were two important meetings of hockeyists here last night, when intermediates and junior O.H.A. teams were formed, perhaps no city in Ontario contains better material to choose from The intermediate team will be selected from the following well-known players, with Sandy Burrows as manager, H. Deyman, from Collingwood C. Claremont, Marmora; H. Westgate, Sherbrooke; C. Webster, Valleyfield; E Green, W. Petter, Dr. Gilbert, Bert Allen, J. Bucke, Karl Spangenberg, Walter Reeves, C. Storms, C. Dolan, Bowen, and others There is enough material in this bet for the formation of a strong team. The officers elected last night were; President, H. Corby, ex-M.P.; First Vice-President, F. R. Lingham; Second Vice-President, C. Sulman; Third Vice-President, L. W. Marsh; Secretary, H. A. Fish; Treasurer, Karl Spangenberg; Manager, S. R. Burrows; Committee, H. A. Fish, S. R. Burrowes, Karl Spangenberg, and George Jones. The juniors' officers are: President, F. R. Lingham; Secretary, H A. Fish; Treasurer and Manager, R. Arnott; Assistant Manager, Lane Spangenberg.

Ottawa Citizen: Fred Taylor does not blame Lorne Campbell, the P.A.C. captain, for the trouble in Pittsburg, but claims that the league managers, not the players are ruining the game. Taylor says things are "fixed" so as to keep the league teams closely matched in the race for the championship, and that most of the games are prearranged in order to keep up the excitement and draw the crowds Lake remained at Pittsburg, and will, it is understood, join the Bankers Taylor says he has had enough of Pittsburg hockey, and expects more of the Ottawa boys home in a day or two Fred says Joe Dennison and Tommie Westwick are playing splendid hockey for youngsters.

Guelph Herald: There ought to be some friendly scraps in the Canadian Pro League this winter, with the numerous family groups playing on different teams Con. Corbeau will play for Toronto, and Harvey Corbeau his cousin, for Berlin Then two afforded some exciting scraps last winter Walter Mercier will be on the Guelph's line-up, and Robert Mercier on Galt's Goldie Cochrane will also be seen under "Buck" Irving's management, and others of the family will play for Berlin And there's probably more to follow.

RUNNING.

"I will beat Longboat just as easily as I ran away from Hayes," declares Dorando Pietri. "I don't know whether or not I will race Longboat, but if I do I will beat him. I will also beat the Englishman, Shrubb, if he will run over the Marathon distance. I won't race him ten miles, however. Just now arrangements are under way to race Longboat. If the match is made it will be decided either at Toronto, Buffalo, or Madison Square Gardens."

Tuberculosis Campaign.

Galt, Dec. 3.—The first meeting in a campaign conducted by Dr. Geo. W. Porter, under the auspices of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, was held yesterday afternoon at the City Hall.

A provisional committee was formed, consisting of the mayor, Judge Black, the medical men and ministers present, Mr. Goldie and Mesdames Shurly, Cherry and Lutz, to commence the work of educating and agitating for the proposed consumptive hospital.

To Build Cars.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—Letters patent issued yesterday to Messrs. E. J. Estes, G. S. Hart, F. H. Markey, R. C. Grant and W. G. Pugsley of Montreal, for the organization of the Canadian Palace Car Co., with a capitalization of $1,500,000, to manufacture in Canada parlor, dining and sleeping cars, on rights obtained from the American Parlor Car Co. of New York.

Babe on the Throne.

Pekin, Dec. 3.—The strict mourning which has been observed in this city since the death a fortnight ago of Emperor Kuang Hsu and the Dowager Empress of China was suspended long enough yesterday morning to permit the ascension to the dragon throne of the baby emperor, Pu Yi, who becomes ruler of the kingdom under the name of Hsuan-Tung.

Independent 'Phone Meeting.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Dr. J. F. Demers of the National Telephone Co., Quebec, and F. Page Wilson of Toronto, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Independent Telephone Association, are the Canadians attending the independent telephone convention here.

Montreal Grain Exports.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—During 1908 no less than 32,500,000 bushels of grain have been exported through this port up to the close of navigation, as compared with 29,500,000 bushels shipped last year.

Runaway Accident Fatal.

New York, Dec. 3.—Dr. Andrew J. McCosh, the well-known surgeon, and a son of the late president of Princeton University, James McCosh, who was injured in a runaway accident on Saturday last, died yesterday in Presbyterian Hospital, of which he was the house surgeon. He was born in Belfast, Ireland.

Blizzard at Sault.

Sault Ste. Marie, Dec. 3.—During the past 36 hours, a blizzard has prevailed in the Soo and along the north shore, accompanied by a high wind and considerable snow. About 14 inches of snow has fallen, and navigation is almost at a standstill. The storm shows no sign of abatement this morning.

Jap Steamer Founders.

Kobe, Japan, Dec. 3.—The Japanese steamer Ginsei Maru has foundered off Wei Hei Wei. The entire crew and all the passengers on board were lost.

THIS APPEAL IS TO YOU!

The Hospital for Sick Children

REMEMBER That Every Sick Child in Ontario Whose Parents Cannot Afford to Pay for Treatment is Treated Free.

SICK BUT NOT NEGLECTED.

The Hospital is not a local institution, but provincial. The sick child from any place in Ontario, who can't pay, has the same privileges as the child living in Toronto.

The Hospital had last year in its beds and cots 1,245 patients—868 of these were from 341 places outside of Toronto. Seventy-five per cent. were children of poor people who could not afford to pay.

This Charity appeals to fathers and mothers of Ontario for funds to maintain the hundreds of sick children that it nurses every year.

Since its foundation the Institution has treated 14,456 children. 10,800 of these were unable to pay and were treated free.

HAPPY WITH HER DOLL.

BEFORE. AFTER.

There were 51 cases of club feet treated last year.

If you know of any child in your neighborhood who is sick, or has any deformity, send the parent's name to Secretary.

"THIS IS YOUR BOOK."

The Hospital's Cry is not for Itself, but for the Children, as your Dollars go not to the Hospital but to the Children.

WOMAN OF NINETY-ONE YEARS OF AGE PASSES AWAY

Death of Mrs. Christina Leitch—Scotland Was Her Birth Place.

Within nine years of the century mark there passed away this morning Mrs. Christina Leitch, at the residence of her nephew, Mr. Robt. F. MacGregor, 509 Water street. Mrs. Leitch was born, March 15th, in the year 1817, in Balhaldie, Perthshire, Scotland and came to Canada in 1857. She has therefore lived in Peterborough for 40 years. Her husband predeceased her about sixteen years ago. She was a member of St. Paul's church for years and is well and favourably known in this city. She has no children living, but one brother, now in Australia, survives. The funeral will be held to-morrow, afternoon from the residence of her nephew, at 2.30 o'clock, to the Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. Robt. Pogue will officiate in the funeral ceremony.

WEDDING BELLS

PAKENHAM—BUCH

Norwood, Dec. 2—Special—The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Buck, Asphodel, was the scene of a very pretty wedding this afternoon, when there took place the marriage of their youngest daughter, Miss Lillie B. Buck, to Mr. Wm. E. Pakenham, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pakenham, of this place.

Only the relatives of the contracting parties were present. The marriage was solemnized under an arch of evergreens and white flowers, the Rev. W. H. Adams, pastor of the Methodist Church, conducting the ceremony. The bride, who was unattended, entered the parlour leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march played by her cousin, Miss Ruby Buck. She wore a beautiful gown of white lace over silk and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. After the ceremony and the receiving of congratulations, the party repaired to the dining room where a sumptuous repast was served, the table being decorated with pink carnations, smilax and evergreens. Mr. and Mrs. Pakenham left on the afternoon express for Toronto, the bride travelling in a green ladies' cloth suit with hat to match, and wearing a set of beautiful mink furs, the gift of the groom. The guests present from out of town were Mr. and Miss Pakenham, Peterborough; Mrs. D Sanders, Mrs. Parsons, Mr. F. H. Buck, Toronto; Miss Hewitt, Brighton. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Pakenham will reside on Belmont street.

FOOT OF SNOW FALLS IN DUMMER YESTERDAY

It was strange, nevertheless true that yesterday morning there was a foot or more of snow in the vicinity of Warsaw. Mr John G. Hardill, traveller for T. Kinnear & Co., was in the Dummer capital yesterday and reports that the downfall of the beautiful was simply marvellous, considering the dearth of it in Peterborough. Mr. Jos. Crowe, stage driver, discarded the wheels and left the village in the east for the first time on runners. He found, however, that on nearing the city the snow was rather scarce and travelling by the winter method was somewhat uncongenial. Mr. Hardill experienced a similar difficulty when he crossed the snow zone in Douro township.

AN OPS TOWNSHIP MAN SUSTAINS INJURIES

Omemee, Dec. 3. — Special.— Mr. Robert Thornton, of lot 12, concession 8, Ops, was the victim of a painful accident on Tuesday. He was engaged carrying feed for his cattle from the barn to the basement, and on entering the latter place he had the misfortune to strike his head on a beam.

The blow was a severe one, and besides stunning Mr. Thornton, inflicted a severe gash in his head from which the blood flowed profusely.

The injured man was conveyed to the house and Dr. White was summoned. The wound required ten stitches and to-day Mr. Thornton is resting comfortably, although suffering somewhat from the blow received.

THE CURLING STONES HAVE ARRIVED IN CITY

The forty pair of curling stones that were imported direct from Scotland are being rapidly disposed of and those who want to secure a pair are advised to do so at once. Mr. W G Ferguson who has been interested in the bringing of them here, states that they will not likely last long, as the new members who are coming in have to have them, and the players of other years who suffered in the fire last winter are supplying themselves with new ones. The stones are of the very best quality.

THE word "OXOL" does not mean one food or one preparation. No "OXOL" is a name given to all goods for horses, cattle, swine and sheep, prepared by Messrs. S. K. and T. C. Windsor, of Australia, New Zealand, England and Canada.

The veterinary preparations as well as the compressed bales of fodder placed on the market of the world under the name of

"OXOL" for Cattle

are all of the greatest possible order of merit and may be used by farmers, graziers, dairymen and all owners of stock with the full assurance that these goods have the power in a very short time to double their incomes by feeding, fattening and curing all animals, which to them means money.

Scientific Meetings will be organized by Messrs. Windsor and held through out the Dominion of Canada, when farmers desirous of improving their knowledge of stock will have an opportunity of doing so and to be instructed on the life of stock from birth to death, free of any charge.

Missing Detective Returns and Explains in Owen Sound.

SAYS HE WAS THREATENED

Private Sleuth Securing Evidence Against Liquor Men Tells Story of C.P.R. Driver Who Bribed Him and Companion — Told They Would Be Shot If They Stayed in Town—Sold His Notes.

Owen Sound, Dec. 4.—Evidence of a sensational character was given in the Police Court yesterday afternoon in connection with the charge of having sold liquor, brought against Chas. Crook.

The raid on the hotels was conducted by three "spotters" from Toronto, who attended court here on the 25th of last month for the purpose of giving their evidence. At that time the court adjourned till the following day, and that some night two of the detectives disappeared. One of them, C. F. Stewart, was discovered at his home in Toronto. The other missing man has not yet been discovered.

The first witness called was Eudo Saunders, chief of the License Department, Toronto, who declared that Stewart had visited his office and handed over to him certain documents which he had placed in an envelope and sealed in the presence of Stewart and Provincial Detective Miller. Mr. Saunders produced the envelope.

Stewart declared in evidence that a C.P.R. driver named George Pumple had bribed him and his companions, Alexander Coorien and Claude Pownall, to leave town. Pownall had approached witness in the hotel on the night of their disappearance from the town and said that he had been told they could get $500 or $750 if they left the town, and if they remained they would be shot. Witness was frightened for his life and agreed to skip. In company with Pownall he met Pumple and on the same night they also met H. G. Tucker, solicitor, who is defending all the accused implicated in the liquor raid. Mr. Tucker offered to give the man additional $5 if they would hand over to them their notes concerning the times and dates of their visits to the hotels.

They accepted the offer and got the money.

Witness then went on to relate how he and Pownall boarded a freight train at Owen Sound, of which the driver was George Pumple. During portions of the journey to Orangeville, there they got off, they had at times ridden on the bumpers, on the top of an open car containing stones, on the platform of the caboose, in the caboose itself and on the engine.

While they were riding on the engine Pumple handed a roll of bills to Pownall, who had counted them and handed witness $50 in the form of four $10 bills and two $5 bills. That money he handed over to Mr. Saunders in Toronto.

In cross-examination witness declared that no sooner had he reached Toronto than he made up his mind to return to Owen Sound and give evidence. He was sorry that he ran away.

Bonus to Trolley Line.

Dunnville, Dec. 4.—The bylaw to give a bonus of $15,000 to the Dunnville, Wellandport and Beamsville Electric Railway Co. for a trolley line from here to connect with the T., H. & B. at either St. Annes or Smithville, was carried yesterday by 312 to 23. It required only 197 votes.

Wm. Graham, contractor of Toronto, is reported to be ready to proceed at once to build the road.

Old Man Burned to Death.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Dec. 4.—William Elliott, 73 years, met a tragic death early yesterday morning, when his residence was burned.

Mrs. Elliott has been in Detroit for some time, where she is ill, in an hospital, and Mr. Elliott was alone in the house. It was evident that he had made an attempt to escape by a rear door, but had been overcome by smoke.

RIOTING ABUNDANT IN HAYTI

Looting and Disorder Follow Overthrow of Nord Alexis.

POWERS PREPARED TO LAND

Warships in Harbor at Port au Prince Are Ready to Interfere If Disorders Commence Again—General Simon is Now the Popular Choice For President—Twelve Persons Are Killed—Alexis Courageous.

Port au Prince, Dec. 4.—For many hours during the night following the flight of the President, Nord Alexis, riot and pillage prevailed in Port au Prince.

The populace, maddened by the spirit of revolt, gave full vent to their passions. They looted stores and residences and fought among themselves over the booty, and were only held in check by the armed forces hastily gathered together by Gen. Perdevin, which fired a volley into the mob, and finally drove the rioters into seclusion.

In all 12 persons were killed and many wounded before order was restored. A committee of public safety placed scores of citizens under arms yesterday and comparative tranquility now reigns.

American, French and German ministers have jointly given notification that if disorders commenced again they would land forces from the warships. Those already here were reinforced at daybreak by the United States gunboat Eagle and British cruiser Scylla.

Nord Alexis, the deposed President, spent a restless night on board the French training ship Duguy Trouin. He has been the object of much consideration on the part of the commander of the ship and other officers. There is something in the wonderful nobility of the fallen President that holds the admiration. Past 90 years—how many years beyond that mark nobody knows—Nord Alexis faced his foes with the strength and determination of a man in the very prime of life.

The sentiment of the people is strong in favor of Gen. Simon, and he will probably be elected President, if the chambers can be assembled without delay. Gen. Simon has arrived at Gressier, which is only about 12 miles distant. He has a strong army under him, and will enter the city on Friday morning.

A great quantity of stolen articles have been taken to the central police station, and about 150 looters, men and women, have been arrested. The last body of troops which were stationed at the cross-roads, the division under Gen. Millionaird, passed through the city yesterday, with their arms, munitions and several heavy guns, on their way to the south. The authorities did not dare to disarm them, fearing they would resist. Three divisions were at one time entrenched at the cross-roads for the purpose of checking the advance of the revolutionists from the south, but they were greatly depleted by desertions, until there remained only a fraction of the original army.

Reforming the Lords.

London, Dec. 4.—The committee of peers appointed in June, 1907, to consider reforms in the Upper House, is expected to issue a report shortly in favor of reducing the number of peers by one-third.

The report of the committee, it is also believed, will recommend that the right to sit shall be dependent upon distinguished services to the country, of election by the peers, not on heredity alone, and that a certain number of life peers may be elected.

Lord Rosebery is president of the committee.

France Revises Tariff.

Paris, Dec. 4.—The Tariff Commission of Parliament, which has spent the last six months in taking testimony, has completed a project of tariff revision. This will be submitted to Parliament in January. The proposed revision is designed further to strengthen the arm of France in enacting of concessions from other countries. With this end in view the maximum rates, according to the project, are to be increased by an average of 20 per cent.; the minimum rates generally remain unchanged.

Power Meeting.

Windsor, Dec. 4.—At a special meeting of the City Council it was decided to send out notices to the municipal councils of Leamington, Kingsville, Ridgetown, Wallaceburg, Dresden, Comber, Harrow, Cottam, Woodslee, Tilbury, Wheatley and all other municipalities of sufficient size to be interested in the Niagara power proposition, to call a meeting at Windsor, on Dec. 10, to take action on submitting bylaws to the electors.

Steamer Bornu Ashore.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—The steamer Bornu of the Elder-Dempster Canada-Mexico line is ashore at Gaspe, where she was loading lumber for Havana. A heavy gale swept her from her moorings. It is expected she will be floated soon.

The Bornu was one of the last boats to leave port this season.

College Course For Civil Servants.

Kingston, Dec. 4.—Prof. Adam Shortt, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, is in consultation with the senates of the Canadian universities to arrange a uniform civil service examination, so that the work may be taken up in the colleges.

The professor is anxious to have an educated class of civil servants.

RUNS AMUCK IN LUMBER CAMP

Joseph Milroy Shoots Five Men Near Dryden, Ont.

ONE VICTIM CANNOT LIVE

Seized With Berserker Fit Fires Five Shots in Lumber Bunk-House and Wounds Four of His Companies, Richard Denna is In Precarious Condition—Shoots Without Warning—Is Arrested.

Dryden, Dec. 4.—A terrible and evidently unprovoked and cold-blooded shooting occurred in a lumber camp out in Wainwright Township, two miles from here, about midnight Wednesday night, in which four men were wounded, one of whom will die. The shooting was done by a young Canadian named Joseph Milroy, and his victims are Richard Denna, shot in the pit of the stomach; Daniel Foy, shot in the neck and right side; K. Stanton, shot in the knee, and an unknown man, shot in the thigh.

There were fourteen in the party in camp, and all were quietly sitting around the room, according to reports which have been received from the scene, when, without a moment's warning or provocation, Milroy jumped up and shouted: "Stand back; I am going to shoot." He was flourishing an automatic revolver, and before anyone could escape he fired five shots in rapid succession, every one of which took effect. Milroy then made his escape, but was captured yesterday morning about a mile from the scene of his crime by Constable Rollo. He expressed no regrets, and after inquiring how many of his shots had taken effect, he observed that he would have shot the lot if he had had time. Milroy was an employe of the G.T.P. and the three men who were seriously wounded are teamsters in a lumber camp.

The wounded men were taken to Kenora yesterday morning. Denna is not expected to live, but the others will recover. Milroy will be up for preliminary hearing on Saturday.

Denna came to the west from London, England.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

The funeral of late Postmaster John Cameron of London, Ont., took place yesterday afternoon.

Fire early yesterday destroyed the Oakville pop works, and the adjoining dwelling of John O'Connor.

At Chipman, N.B., shortly after beginning work, Samuel Drost, aged 50, was run down by an engine and instantly killed.

Nine professional safe-crackers arrested at St. Paul, Minn., may include the men who have been terrorizing Manitoba and the west recently.

Rev. S T. Bartlett of Sackville, N.B., will temporarily succeed Rev. Dr. Crews as general secretary for the Sunday school and Epworth League of the Methodist Church in Canada, Newfoundland and Bermuda.

Daring Jewel Thief.

Pittsburg, Dec. 4.—While the principal business street of the north side, near the Pennsylvania Railroad station, was crowded with people, a robber fastened the outside door of Theodore Frey's jewelry store, imprisoning the proprietor and his clerks, smashed the plate glass show window, secured two trays of jewelry valued at $12,000, and ran away. A boy kept him in view until officers arrested him.

Insurance President Suicides.

St. Paul, Dec. 4.—Timothy R. Palmer, who resigned last Friday as president of the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Co., committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself at his home on Grand avenue. Melancholy caused by ill-health is the only known motive.

Factory Burned at St. Kitts.

St. Catharines, ec. 5.—Early yesterday morning the building formerly occupied by the Woodburn Sarnen Wheel Co. was destroyed by fire, with stock owned by the Welland Vale Manufacturing Co. The loss will be about $60,000.

Gulf Steamer Beached.

Vancouver, Dec. 4.—Rapidly filling with water as a result of a collision with a heavy laden coal barge, the gulf ferry steamer Charmer was beached at the entrance to Vancouver Narrows yesterday afternoon to save the vessel.

Scotch Machinists Deported.

Winnipeg, Dec. 4.—Eighteen Scotch machinists, who were brought out to act as strike-breakers,, were deported last night at the expense of the C.P.R.—the men having been found to be undesirable citizens.

Pembroke Inquest Ends.

Pembroke, Dec. 4.—The Pembroke fire inquest was concluded last night, but the verdict will not be given for several days, as Coroner G. E. Josephs has the evidence of over 40 witnesses to peruse.

Thirty-Five Jap Fishing Boats Lost.

Tokio, Dec. 4.—Thirty-five Japanese fishing boats were caught in a typhoon Wednesday, off Hatsu Island, in Kwatsu Bay, and were wrecked.

It is reported that 350 fishermen lost their lives.

Labor's Slate.

Brantford, Dec. 4.—Brantford labor men have endorsed a strong slate for the aldermanic field this year. At a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council a platform was set forth in which public ownership of public utilities, independence in municipal affairs, and employment of union men on civic work, were the leading features. An aggressive battle is promised in all the wards.

Killing Justified.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Miss Estelle Stout, who on Wednesday shot and killed Henry H. Hornberger, a picture agent, was exonerated by a coroner's jury yesterday. The jury found that Miss Stout shot Hornberger after he had felled her sister with a blow, and while Miss Stout believed her sister's life was in danger.

Diphtheria Among Mennonites.

Winnipeg, Dec. 4.—An epidemic of diphtheria has broken out among the Mennonite settlers around Steinbach, and has been permitted to run unchecked for some time, as the people were absolutely ignorant of the nature of the disease. Twelve deaths have occurred to date.

Hastings Fire Debentures Disposed Of; Meeting In Interests Of Local Option

Examiner Special.

Hastings, Dec. 1.—Anyone who is good at guessing will have a chance to win a ladies' gold watch at Xmas. A local grocer has on display in his window a large cake of naptha soap, which you would imagine was large enough to do the washing of the village for some time.

Mr. J. R. Bickell has rented the flour mills, and is prepared to do all kinds of grain chopping.

Mr. Arthur Knight has opened up a tailor shop in the new "Tracey Block."

The committee in charge of the fire debentures, has disposed of them to the Union Bank. Tenders were received from several parties out of town.

Mr. Alex. Greenley purchased the office building near the ball grounds, and has had it moved by Mr. Sherwin to its new site.

Mr. Jas. O'Leary has rented his farm and sold by auction, November 23rd, all his farm stock and implements.

Mrs. Jos. Carter, Sr., visited friends in Peterborough last week.

Miss Moore, of Omelton, is the guest of Mrs. (Rev.) Barrett, at the parsonage.

Mr. Ray Merrills, of Campbellford, spent Sunday with friends in town.

Mr. and Miss McKee, of Warkworth, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Thos. McKee.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beavis visited at the home of his father, Mr. John Beavis.

Mr. Wm. Oakman attended a meeting of the county council in Peterborough last week.

The pupils of the Methodist Sunday School are busy making preparations for their annual concert, which will take place on Christmas night.

Messrs. Hess and Huycke have raised the price of turkeys from ten cents to ten and a quarter cents per pound, and the farmers around town are hustling them in.

The recent rains and snow falls have materially improved the condition of the soil, and the farmers are making the most of their opportunity. They have evidently not forgotten the old adage, "He that will not when he may, when he will he shall have nay."

Mr. Geo. English has returned, after spending some eighteen or twenty months in the vicinity of Wolsley, Sask., looking after his interests there. For some months past Mr. English has been in a somewhat critical condition, owing to impaired health and the return trip was undertaken in rather a weakened state of body. However, he reached home in safety, although very much fatigued. His son, William, met him in Toronto and accompanied him to his home near Hastings. His many friends and neighbours are glad to see him once more and wish him a speedy recovery.

The many friends of Mrs. William Code are pleased to see her home, after having spent some time in Toronto, under the care of a specialist.

Special meeting under the auspices of the Peterborough Cheese Board, was held in the Town Hall, in Tuesday evening, December 1st. Some important subjects were discussed, such as "The Importance of Low Temperature in the Dairy Industry," and "The Testing of Dairy Cows," etc. The addresses were illustrated with lantern views, thus enabling the speakers to reproduce some new features. The speakers were Messrs. Geo. Barr and C. F. Whitley, of the Dairy Commissioner's staff, Ottawa; and Mr. Robt. Ward.

Mrs. Wm. Oakman visited with friends in Peterborough last week.

Miss Lila Drummond, of Keene, is visiting friends in Hastings and vicinity.

Mr. O'Dell, Public School Inspector, has been visiting our town in his official position.

Messrs. E. W. Valleau and H. A. Wilson have purchased fifteen acres of timber from Mr. Andrew McGee, and intend to begin operations at once cutting it up into saw logs and cord wood.

The rooms over the post office, formerly used by the I. O. F., have been leased to the Fire Brigade, and are being fitted up for a club room, where the boys may spend their evenings together and so further the work of the brigade.

The Rainbow made her last trip to Peterborough on Saturday, the 21st.

The townspeople who have been annoyed by some cows running at large, will be pleased to know that a number of them have been placed in pound, and it is to be hoped that their owners will look after them in future. "A place for everything, and everything in its place," is a very good motto.

The choir of the Presbyterian Church gave a song service at the evening meeting last Sunday.

The free will offering in connection with the Methodist Church last Sunday amounted to over $120, with a number of envelopes still to be brought in.

A public meeting in the interests of local option was held at Bethany Church on Tuesday evening, and more meetings in the vicinity will be held at a later date. Capable speakers at each meeting are presenting the important question and striving to further the interests of temperance reform.

Mr. E. J. Lang, of Norwood, visited this section last week, in the interests of the Capital Cream Separator Company.

A number of young people from Havelock attended the "At Home," held in the Town Hall here on Friday night of last week.

At a recent meeting of the Asphodel Council it was moved and carried unanimously that the council deeply regret the death of their colleague, Mr. W. J. McMillan. They found him a trustworthy member careful of the interests reposed in him and energetic in the performance of his duties. Resolved that a copy of this be sent to Mrs. McMillan.

A quiet but interesting wedding was solemnized by Rev. Father O'Connel, at the R. C. Church, on Tuesday, 24th inst, at 8.00 a.m., when Miss Bridget Doherty became the bride of Mr. Lawrence Doherty, of Percy. Miss Lynch, of Burnley, was bridesmaid and Mr. Jos. Doherty, of Hastings, was groomsman.

After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's brother, where wedding dinner was served, after which the happy couple drove to their home in Percy.

The many friends of Mr. John Thompson, formerly of Asphodel, congratulate him on his escape from the recent wreck at Havelock.

Havelock Electric Light Plant Is Able To Supply Light To Village

Examiner Special.

Havelock, Dec. 3.—Miss Stella McWilliams, of Marmora, is the guest of her sisters Mrs. Clarke and Miss Minnie McWilliams.

The "At Home" in the Town Hall on Friday night last, was a success as usual, and a very delightful evening was spent. A number of out of town guests were present. The music was furnished by the Misses Smith, of Norwood, and was highly appreciated by all.

A number in town have received invitations to the Hockey Boys 'At Home" at Marmora, on Thursday night, Dec. 3rd.

Mr. Fred Fenton, of Campbellford, spent Sunday in town with friends.

Mr. Powers, of Belleville, is the guest of his brother, Mr. Charles Powers, of town.

In order that the Cordova stage may return in time to make connections with the afternoon west express, it leaves Havelock at 8.30 a.m., instead of 9 as before.

The house occupied by Mr. Young, Cordova, was sold by Mr. Ghent for the sum of $250.

On Sunday last a series of meetings were commenced at Round Lake Methodist church by Rev. H. A. Frost and J. J. Mellor. These meetings will be continued every night for two weeks with the exception of Saturday.

Miss Minnie McWilliams returned home Friday after a week's vacation with friends at Belleville, and at her home in Marmora.

Mr. Geo. Sherry, barrister, of Norwood, was in town on Friday.

Dr. Harry Andrews has returned to his home in Toronto, after a weeks' vacation with friends in town.

The Electric Light Company have supplied the C.P.R. with lights during the past week, also the main streets, and expect this week to have the lights in all parts of the village as before. The lights will be more appreciated now than ever, having been so long in darkness, and lamps are indeed scarce and a great bother in keeping them supplied with oil, trimming the wicks and always having the glasses shining. It has also made it bad for business, on open nights in the stores, because the streets are so very dark, that people, especially ladies, do not venture out, so that in many many ways, we sigh for the bright electric lights, to so shine again.

Miss Bessie Rose was in Lindsay on Saturday.

Misses Lillie McNichol and Bertha Bryans visited Miss Josephine McNicholl at Norwood, on Saturday.

Mr. Jas. Covet, of Victoria, passed away on Monday morning at 6 o'clock, after a long illness. Deceased was 55 years old, and leaves to mourn his loss, a wife and three daughters, who reside at Victoria. The funeral takes place on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, service being held in the Victoria Methodist church, of which Mr Covet has been a life-long member. from thence the remains will be laid to rest at the Victoria cemetery. The funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Mellor. The sympathy of a host of friends is extended to the bereaved wife and family.

Miss Stella McWilliams returned to her home in Marmora, on Tuesday, after a few days' visit in town.

Old Downeyville Boy Killed In Collision On American Railroad

Examiner Special.

Downeyville, Dec. 1.—The following from the Owosso Free Press in regard to the death of Wm. D Ryan, has caused much grief and excitement here where he has two sisters residing. A brother lives in Ops township and a cousin, Mrs. Jas. Crowley, resides in Peterborough:

Engineer Wm. D Ryan, residing at 114 South Cedar street, Owosso, and A. Gregan, of Toledo, were instantly killed in a head-on collision on the Ann Arbour Railway about 3.30 o'clock Saturday morning, the trains coming together between Lakeland and Hamburg. Clifford Collier and Draper, Engineer, are in the hospital, Collier is badly injured and may die. It is said that Engineer Ryan was coming north with 107, a light engine, and Engineer Draper was southbound with engine 45. Draper and Collier jumped when they saw the impending collision, but the two men, Ryan and Gregan, used no opportunity to save themselves. It was foggy at the time of the accident.

Five cars on the southbound train and fifteen on the north are said to to be smashed up. The flying wreckage evidently bore the telegraph wires down and broke them, the track is badly blocked. Responsibility for accident has not yet been fixed by the railway officials. That there was a blunder on someone's part is evident from the disastrous consequences. There are various rumours more or less circumstantial, but none authoritative as to where the blame lies. Dwight Ball was Mr. Ryan's regular fireman, but had been laying off for a few days and on the last trip south an extra fireman was used.

Gregan was fireman of the Toledo yard engine, and evidently came up from Toledo to Ann Arbor on another train, exchanging there with Mr. Ryan's fireman. This is the supposition as Gregan did not start out with Mr. Ryan Engine 45 was of the large type and 107 was a mogul. The momentum when they came together was terrific.

Mr. Ryan was about 46 years of age and leaves a young wife and five small children. He was a member of St. Paul's Catholic Church, of the Maccabees, the Ann Arbor Employees' Relief Association and of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Previous to his entering the employ of the Ann Arbor Railway, several years ago, he was an engineer on the Grand Trunk Railway. Wm. Ryan was universally known as a quiet, genial man with hosts of friends and the reputation of being a careful and competent engineer. The sympathy of all is extended to the bereaved family in their sudden affliction. Men and women cried like children when they came to view his remains.

Funeral services over the death of the late Wm. D Ryan, who was killed on Saturday morning by a collision, were held at 7.30 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Paul's Catholic Church, Rev. Father P J Slane officiating. The church was crowded to the doors by sympathizing neighbours and friends of the bereaved family. Rev. Father Slane preached one of the most eloquent sermons ever heard in this city. He drew a powerful lesson from Mr. Ryan, who faithful unto death, died at his post of duty while working for the support of his family, he said he knew him before he was married and since he was married.

Despite the inclement weather scores of carriages followed the hearse bearing Mr. Ryan's remains to their last resting place in the Catholic Cemetery.

The inquest set for nine o'clock this morning at the office of Dr. A W Pearson of Hamburg, to inquire into the cause of the wreck on the Ann Arbor Railway early Saturday morning, which resulted in the death of two and serious injury to several others, was postponed until this afternoon, and then adjourned until Dec. 7th, at the same place. Railway Commissioner Glasgow and Attorney J D Ryan, of Chicago, brother of Engineer Ryan, were present to attend the inquest.—Owosso Free Press.

Everything She Ate SEEMED A BURDEN TO CARRY.

HAD STOMACH TROUBLE FOUR YEARS.

When your food has not been properly digested, your body has not received the benefit it should. The exertions of the gastric juice have been confined entirely to removing the unmasticated undigested portions of food which they cannot properly digest as speedily as possible from the body, thereby only giving the blood a small percentage of nourishment with which to feed the tissues. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the bowels, promotes perfect digestion, makes pure blood, tones the stomach, and thus restores perfect health and strength to the debilitated system.

Mrs. D. A. Francisco, Rossland, B.C., writes: "I was suffering from stomach trouble of the worst kind for about four years. Everything I ate seemed a burden to carry. I always arose in the morning with a sickening and feverish taste in my mouth and was also troubled with swellings in my hands and feet, which my physician said was due to the disordered state of my stomach. I tried everything that was purchasable, and also consulted two or three physicians, but could find no relief until one of my neighbors told me of a wonderful cure by Burdock Blood Bitters. I used altogether ten bottles and am now perfectly cured. I wish to recommend B.B.B. to anyone who may be so unfortunate as I was.

HANDS COVERED WITH ECZEMA

Helpless as a babe for three months, not able to do a thing. Hands and wrists covered with torturing "weeping eczema." Itching, irritating, mattering sores prevented sleep for a month. Skin peeled off and finger nails rotted away. Such was the torture brought upon Miss Violet McSorley, by an attack of eczema in its most violent form.

Miss McSorley, who resides at 75, Gore Street, Sault Ste. Marie, whose portrait is on the left, says—"I was attacked by eczema which quickly developed, and in a short time completely covered my arms and wrists. So bad did it become that for three long weary months, I was absolutely helpless and had to be fed with a spoon like a baby. Right up to my elbows was covered with agonising, itching sores, which at times became practically unbearable. As the disease developed and became more angry, my skin peeled off, leaving raw sores. The palms, fingers, backs of my hands and wrists were all in a shocking state, and I was forced to be bound up in poultices, unable to do anything.

"I endured terrible agony all the time, and for a whole month I had hardly any sleep on account of the cruel itching and torturing pains. The raw sores were soon in a foul condition, and all my finger-nails, except two, fell off.

"During the different stages of my trouble I sought the advice of three different doctors and received treatment, but although obtaining slight relief at first, there was no cure. At one time blood-poisoning set in and amputation was feared. This was prevented by the timely introduction of Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk was brought to my notice and my mother bought some. The very first application seemed so soothing that I felt encouraged to continue the treatment. After a few applications of Zam-Buk, the itching abated and I was able to sleep at night. I persevered, and as I did so my ailment disappeared. The foul sores were banished, and new healthy skin formed over the places. New finger-nails appeared, and now, after a complete course of this wonderful healing balm, my skin is in a beautiful condition and my cure is complete."

WHY ZAM-BUK IS BEST.

The great advantages of Zam-Buk are its remarkable purity, and the fact of its being so readily absorbed by the skin. Its refined composition accounts for this, and hence also for its superiority over all old and crude ointments, salves and embrocations. In Zam-Buk there are no rancid animal fats or mineral poisons to clog the pores and irritate a delicate skin. It contains only the pure rich balsams of the most healing plants, and these balsams are so refined that the skin absorbs them at once, and is immediately stimulated into healthy activity. Zam-Buk is the ideal healer for all diseased, irritated, and injured conditions of the skin.

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES.

Zam-Buk is unequalled for eczema, cold-sores, chaps, chilblains, sore-faces and lips, winter eczema, piles, ulcers, festering, sores, scabs, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, sprains, diseased ankles, bad leg, abscesses, ringworm and sore heads, and all skin diseases. Of all druggists and stores, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Price 50c. a box, 3 for $1.25. Strongly avoid any goods "just as good," which are sometimes offered when Zam-Buk is asked for.

FREE BOX.

KIDNEY DISEASE

COMES ON QUIETLY.

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body and many people are troubled with some kidney trouble, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as brick dust deposit in the urine, highly colored scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent or supressed urination, burning sensation when urinating, etc.

Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for, if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes.

On the first sign of anything wrong Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go to the seat of trouble, strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble.

Miss Albertha B. Clarke, Stony Creek, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with kidney trouble for several years; my back was weak, I had such terrible headaches, and was so restless I could not sleep at night and tried everything without any benefit. Meantime a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got four boxes and they completely cured me. I now feel as well as I ever did and would advise everyone suffering from Kidney Disease to try them."

Price 50 cts. per box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering specify "Doan's".

DAIRY MEETING WAS HELD AT KEENE

A Very Successful Gathering in the Otonabee Village.

Examiner Special.

Keene, Dec. 1.—A meeting in the interests of dairying was held in the town hall last night. The speakers were Mr. Ward, inspector of cheese factories; Mr. Barr and Mr. Cowan. Lime-light views were shown illustrating the different ways of caring for milk and cheese. Dr. Harrison was chairman and Mr. Geo. Gillespie, of Peterborough, also spoke briefly. Miss M Harrison sang a solo, "Come Back to Erin."

On Thursday, Nov. 27th, the death occurred very suddenly of Mr. Wm. Redpath, an old and much respected resident of Otonabee. The deceased was in his 80th year. The funeral was held on Saturday to Fife's Cemetery. The bearers were six grandsons of the deceased. Besides his wife there are three daughters and three sons left. The daughters are Mrs. Alex. Spiers and Mrs. Crane, of Otonabee and Mrs. Wm. Spiers, of Lang. The sons are Nelson, of Birdsall's; Andrew, Lakefield, and Alex., of British Columbia.

Villiers' cheese factory meeting will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 2, in the factory.

Mrs. W Howson spent last week in Peterborough.

Mrs. J N McIntyre visited her sister, Mrs. Wm. Reid in Peterborough last week.

Mr. A. St. A. Smith spent Sunday in Peterborough.

Mr. Geo. I Gall was in Peterborough on Monday.

SERIOUS FIRE DESTROYS NORTH SMITH RESIDENCE

Forty Dollars Consumed in the Fire—Owner Sick in Bed.

Examiner Special.

North Smith, Dec. 3.—A serious fire occurred here on the 21st Nov., when Mr. Green's house was burned. A small part of the contents was saved but most of the contents along with $40 in cash were burned. What makes it much more severe on the family is the fact that Mr. Green who has been ill for over two months is still confined to his bed.

Mr. Wilson is the superintendent of the Union Sunday School to be held in the True Blue Hall.

Mr. Harry Orowe has purchased all the wood to be found about the scene of the building operations just completed, from Messrs. Conroy.

Commercial Spraying Of Apple Orchards Thoroughly Discussed

From the Canadian Dairyman.

The subject of "Commercial Spraying of Apple Orchards," provoked a lively discussion, and was ably dealt with, by a number of experienced orchardists at the convention of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association in November. "As an apple buyer," said Mr. Mack Smith, of Burlington, "I always get the best fruit out of sprayed orchards. Most farmers are lax in the matter of spraying. This is due largely to the fact that they sell their prospective output to buyers early in the season. One acre of apples properly looked after will produce as much as 10 acres uncared-for. The worst pest of our apple orchards is the codling moth. To control it in my own orchard, I spray and use bandages.

"In an orchard that I have had for about four years, I conducted experiments in spraying, and recorded the results. In 1906, the fruit graded 44 per cent. No. 1; 35 per cent. No. 2, and 19 per cent. culls. In 1907, the result was 29 per cent. No. 1; 24 per cent. No. 2; 37 per cent. No. 3, and 10 per cent. culls. During these two years, the spraying was left to the hired help and the results were not satisfactory. I decided, therefore, to do the spraying this year in person and the results were as follows: 80 per cent. No. 1; 20 per cent. No. 2, and practically no culls. The main variety in the orchard was Ribston. For an insecticide in the Bordeaux mixture, I use arsenate of lead instead of Paris Green, believing it to be more effective."

Mr. D. Johnson of Forest said that thoroughness in spraying is essential to success. Slipshop methods are of no use. He used Bordeaux mixture and Paris Green. For the codling moth, the chief spraying is performed just after the blossoms fall. Mr. Johnson sprays four times during the season and always sprays with the wind. He stops his outfit three times at each side of the tree so as to apply the material effectively at all angles. Mr. Johnson stated that he has not much faith in the much-lauded "mist-spray." He uses a nozzle that will deliver plenty of material. "Our co-operative fruit growers' association has purchased a gasoline power sprayer, which is used in all our orchards. It is equipped with two hose, one to be operated by a man on a ladder and the other by a man on the ground. Ten years ago, my orchard of 25 acres yielded only about 400 barrels of fruit. Since receiving careful spraying and attention the yield has gradually increased until last year 2,800 barrels were harvested."

"We must study the pests that we are to combat and how to control them," said Jas. E. Johnson of Simcoe, "if we desire to be successful. We must spray thoroughly and at the right time, the latter point being the more important of the two. A hand sprayer will handle from 10 to 12 acres, while a power sprayer is good for only three or four acres more. Spray four times: First, early in spring for fungi; second, when buds are opening for the bud moth; third, when the blossoms fall, for the coddling moth; and, fourth, three or four weeks later for tussock moth." Mr. Johnson's method of spraying, and the solution that he uses, were described in the April 8th issue of The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World.

Mr. J. C. Harris of Ingersoll, said that he does not spray until the blossoms are about half fallen. To cover his orchard, it takes about 10 days. He then repeats the operation. He uses Bordeaux mixture and Paris green. Mr. G. C. Caston, Craighurst, referred to the great damage that is being done in some sections by the oyster shell scale. Mr. J. E. Johson said that the use of an excess of lime in the Bordeaux mixture will kill it.

"After the oyster-shell scale hatches it can be treated easily by any mixture," said Mr. A. N. Brown, of Wyoming, Dela., who was present. "The lime-sulphur wash applied during the dormant season also will kill them. For a general insecticide, arsenate of lead is much better than Paris green. Commercial orcharding depends upon commercial spraying."

P. T. Barnum once said, "The people like to be fooled," but times have changed since Barnum's day. The people do not like to be fooled—and they will not be fooled if they can help it. The way the great majority of thinking people now buy goods of established, trade-marked merit proves it.

For over fifty years the Ostermoor has been the only well-known and trade-marked Mattress. And thinking people have come to recognize the Ostermoor trade-mark shown above as a guarantee of quality.

Mr. H. N. Bate, one of Ottawa's leading business men, bought an Ostermoor Mattress in 1853—55 years ago—and in a letter to the makers, speaks thus highly of it,—

"The Ostermoor Mattress you sold me fifty years ago has been in constant use in our house ever since, and, I am glad to say, has given great satisfaction."

This is the opinion of scores of prominent, wealthy Canadians, who can afford to pay any price for a mattress.

We are agents for the genuine Ostermoor Mattress, and endorse the makers' guarantee of lifetime satisfaction to you. 30

KIDNEY DISEASE

COMES ON QUIETLY.

Perhaps no ot' organs work harder than the kidneys to ve the general health of the body a people are troubled with some kin Kidney Complaint, but do not suspect it may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as brick dust deposit in the urine, highly colored scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent or supressed urination, burning sensation when urinating, etc.

Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for, if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes.

On the first sign of anything wrong Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go to the seat of trouble, strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble.

Miss Albertha B. Clarke, Stony Creek, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with kidney trouble for several years; my back was weak, I had such terrible headaches, and was so restless I could not sleep at night and tried everything without any benefit. Meantime a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got four boxes and they completely cured me. I now feel as well as I ever did and would advise ever one suffering from Kidney Disease to try them."

DAIRY MEETING WAS HELD AT KEENE

A Very Successful Gathering in the Otonabee Village.

Examiner Specia.

Keene, Dec. 1.—A meeting in the interests of dairying was held in the town hall last night. The speakers were Mr. Ward, inspector of cheese factories; Mr. Barr and Mr. Cowan. Lime-light views were shown illustrating the different ways of caring for milk and cheese. Dr. Harrison was chairman and Mr. Geo. Gillespie, of Peterborough, also spoke briefly. Miss M Harrison sang a solo, "Come Back to Erin."

On Thursday, Nov. 27th, the death occurred very suddenly of Mr. Wm. Redpath, an old and much respected resident of Otonabee. The deceased was in his 80th year. The funeral was held on Saturday to Pitt's Cemetery. The bearers were six grandsons of the deceased. Besides his wife there are three daughters and three sons left. The daughters are Mrs. Alex. Spiers and Mrs. Crane, of Otonabee and Mrs. Wm. Spiers, of Lang. The sons are Nelson, of Birdsall's; Andrew, Lakefield, and Alex., of British Columbia.

Villiers' cheese factory meeting will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 2, in the factory.

Mrs. W Howson spent last week in Peterborough.

Mrs. J N McIntyre visited her sister, Mrs. Wm. Reid in Peterborough last week.

Mr. A. St. A. Smith spent Sunday in Peterborough.

Mr. Geo I Gall was in Peterborough on Monday.

SERIOUS FIRE DESTROYS NORTH SMITH RESIDENCE

Forty Dollars Consumed in the Fire—Owner Sick in Bed.

Examiner Special.

North Smith, Dec. 3.—A serious fire occurred here on the 21st Nov., when Mr. Green's house was burned. A small part of the contents was saved but most of the contents along with $40 in cash were burned. What makes it much more severe on the family is the fact that Mr. Green who has been ill for over two months is still confined to his bed.

Mr. Wilson is the superintendent of the Union Sunday School to be held in the True Blue Hall.

Mr. Harry Crowe has purchased all the wood to be found about the scene of the building operations just completed, from Messrs. Conroy.

Commercial Spraying Of Apple Orchards Thoroughly Discussed

From the Canadian Dairyman.

The subject of "Commercial Spraying of Apple Orchards," provoked a lively discussion, and was ably dealt with, by a number of experienced orchardists at the convention of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association in November. "As an apple buyer," said Mr. Mack Smith, of Burlington, "I always get the best fruit out of sprayed orchards. Most farmers are lax in the matter of spraying. This is due largely to the fact that they sell their prospective output to buyers early in the season. One acre of apples properly looked after will produce as much as 10 acres uncared-for. The worst pest of our apple orchards is the codling moth. To control it in my own orchard, I spray and use bandages.

"In an orchard that I have had for about four years, I conducted experiments in spraying, and recorded the results. In 1906, the fruit graded 44 per cent. No. 1; 35 per cent. No. 2, and 19 per cent. culls. In 1907, the result was 29 per cent. No. 1; 24 per cent. No. 2; 37 per cent. No. 3, and 10 per cent. culls. During these two years, the spraying was left to the hired help and the results were not satisfactory. I decided, therefore, to do the spraying this year in person and the results were as follows: 80 per cent. No. 1; 20 per cent. No. 2, and practically no culls. The main variety in the orchard was Ribston. For an insecticide in the Bordeaux mixture, I use arsenate of lead instead of Paris Green, believing it to be more effective."

Mr. D. Johnson of Forest said that thoroughness in spraying is essential to success. Slipshop methods are of no use. He used Bordeaux mixture and Paris Green. For the codling moth, the chief spraying is performed just after the blossoms fall. Mr. Johnson sprays four times during the season and always sprays with the wind. He stops his outfit three times at each side of the tree so as to apply the material effectively at all angles. Mr. Johnson stated that he has not much faith in the much-lauded "mist-spray." He uses a nozzle that will deliver plenty of material. "Our co-operative fruit growers' association has purchased a gasoline power sprayer, which is used in all our orchards. It is equipped with two hose, one to be operated by a man on a ladder and the other by a man on the ground. Ten years ago, my orchard of 25 acres yielded only about 400 barrels of fruit. Since receiving careful spraying and attention the yield has gradually increased until last year 2,800 barrels were harvested."

"We must study the pests that we are to combat and how to control them," said Jas. E. Johnson of Simcoe, "if we desire to be successful. We must spray thoroughly and at the right time, the latter point being the more important of the two. In handling the codling moth, one day's delay may ruin the whole crop of fruit. Large orchards should have more than one spraying outfit. A hand sprayer will handle from 10 to 12 acres, while a power sprayer is good for only three or four acres more. Spray four times: First, early in spring for fungi; second, when buds are opening for the bud moth; third, when the blossoms fall, for the coddling moth; and, fourth, three or four weeks later for tussock moth." Mr. Johnson's method of spraying, and the solution that he uses, were described in the April 8th issue of The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World.

Mr. J. C. Harris of Ingersoll, said that he does not spray until the blossoms are about half fallen. To cover his orchard, it takes about 10 days. He then repeats the operation. He uses Bordeaux mixture and Paris green. Mr. G. C. Caston, Craighurst, referred to the great damage that is being done in some sections by the oyster shell scale. Mr. J. E. Johson said that the use of an excess of lime in the Bordeaux mixture will kill it.

"After the oyster-shell scale hatches it can be treated easily by any mixture," said Mr. A. N. Brown, of Wyoming, Dela., who was present. "The lime-sulphur wash applied during the dormant season also will kill them. For a general insecticide, arsenate of lead is much better than Paris green. Commercial orcharding depends upon commercial spraying."

P. T. Barnum once said, "The people like to be fooled," but times have changed since Barnum's day. The people do not like to be fooled—and they will not be fooled if they can help it. The way the great majority of thinking people now buy goods of established, trade-marked merit proves it.

For over fifty years the Ostermoor has been the only well-known and trade-marked Mattress. And thinking people have come to recognize the Ostermoor trade-mark shown above as a guarantee of quality.

Mr. H. N. Bate, one of Ottawa's leading business men, bought an Ostermoor Mattress in 1853—55 years ago—and in a letter to the makers, speaks thus highly of it,—

"The Ostermoor Mattress you sold me fifty years ago has been in constant use in our house ever since, and, I am glad to say, has given great satisfaction."

This is the opinion of scores of prominent, wealthy Canadians, who can afford to pay any price for a mattress.

We are agents for the genuine Ostermoor Mattress, and endorse the makers' guarantee of lifetime satisfaction to you. 30

Practical Fashions for the Young Girl's Winter Wardrobe

COATS, cloaks and wraps of all kinds play a most important part this winter in the season's outfit, for with the introduction of the gown throughout, for morning as well as afternoon wear, the separate coat or skirt naturally comes int prominence. Even for school wear a shirt waist and skirt costume is no longe as fashionable as is a simple gown of lightest weight serge or cloth, with which is worn in the street a long coat of fur or cloth in some dark color or of rough material to correspond with the texture of the dress.

With the exaggeration and all too clinging lines done away with, the prevailing fashions of the seasons are followed out quite as much for young girls as for their older sisters and mothers. In street suits and in all long outer wraps the Directoire designs, with their high waist line, slender hips, long, tight sleeves and unusual length, are carried out altogether, modified, of course, to be appropriate to an unusually slender girlish figure, but quite evident notwithstanding. One style of coat excellent for morning wear is on the order of the old polonnaise, which fastens over the gown and, half fitted in to the figure, covers the entire dress. A cloak of this style makes possible the lightweight plaids and cashmere dresses, which are excellent for the schoolroom, but scarcely warm enough to be worn out of doors with only a short jacket as covering.

Instead of three piece cloth suits dresses of velveteen, chiffon velvet and light colored cloths are worn a great deal this year for the matinee, luncheons, card parties, &c., and over these gowns the new long skirted Directoire coats are extremely smart. Finished with a soft jabot of lace at the throat or with a wide collar of mink or white fox, a three-quarter length, semi-fitted coat of light gray cloth, for example, or of black velvet, will make a most serviceable garment for all kinds of wear. An excellent plan for a girl who can afford to be handsomely gowned, but must still give some thought to economy, is to have made a costume of black or brown velvet or velveteen, the coat of a model that would be suitable as well for an extra wrap should such be desired. Black is so popular this season as to have invaded the realm even of the outfits of young girls not yet out, and since such is the case advantage might just as well be taken of the fact, for there is nothing so generally serviceable as a gown and coat of black velvet.

For a young girl a velvet gown should be fashioned with the utmost simplicity, altogether the prettiest models being those which are absolutely plain, relieved only by collar and cuffs and perhaps a deep yoke or cape of heavy or baby Irish lace. Corduroy is another material excellent for the style of costume just described, and separate corduroy jackets are quite as smart as are those of the different varieties of silk and cotton velvet.

For the evening and for carriage wear over a dainty party frock long, sleeveless capes are being seen once more. The capes are all decidedly voluminous and long enough to completely cover and protect the gown. Lined with fur or wadded satin and finished at the throat with a wide fur cape, these new evening capes are delightfully warm and comfortable.

There are many evening cloaks still made with full, long sleeves, but as fashion demands a tight sleeve this year the only cloaks which look quite up to date are those so cut as to allow of folds of the material falling quite over the arm from the shoulder, but cut all in one piece with the rest of the cloak and having a wrist opening only, no arm hole. Hy many these wraps are preferred to the capes, and, indeed, they do possess many advantages over the wrap, which leaves no opening for the hands.

Light gray or oyster color is an attractive shade for an evening cape, but the soft blues and the many new shades of pink are especially pretty and sure to be becoming to a young girl. White cloth is ever serviceable, but is considered somewhat old for a girl not yet out.

So fascinatingly pretty are all the linings, in the selecting of an outdoor wrap of any kind this part of the cloak should be given almost as close attention as the cloth or velvet covering. For the first time in many years the popularity of a plain white or cream satin lining is on the wane and its place taken by the most exquisite flowered and shaded effects. Flowered taffetas and brocades of all kinds are at present very much in demand, while all shadings of silk or satin are also seen. In lining the jacket of a three piece costume the satin should have some reference to the shade of the cloth—a tone lighter, perhaps, or of some color introduced in the trimming of the dress. For a separate cloak or an evening wrap there are many charmingly pretty designs to be found among the figured and flowered silks and taffetas, which are as effective as the more expensive brocades and are far more youthful.

There is only one drawback to the one piece cloth gown that is so popular this winter—the uncertainty of the American climate, which is one day so cold as to necessitate the warmest garments procurable, the next so balmy as to make even a cloth waist uncomfortable. The only solution to the problem is to have the dress made with waist and skirt separate, so that, according to the weather, a thin lace or lined cloth bodice may be worn. The new skirts sit high on a band of stiff gros grain and, requiring no added belt, look equally pretty with a shirt waist or an elaborate cloth bodice.

For school wear a dark or soft satin waist should be provided with coat and skirt costume, to be worn interchangeably with the waist designed with the dress. For the more elaborate costume for Sunday and afternoon wear the most attractive bodices are of a dotted or figured net the color of the cloth and velvet, over a foundation of chiffon or china silk either white or the tone of the rest of the gown. At the neck is a transparent collar and narrow round or square yoke of finest tucked white or cream colored net, while the long, tight sleeves of the colored net with their transparent lining are finished only with a full one inch frill of net. There need be no lace at all on this style of waist and yet it will be very smart.

Separate white waists of silk or crepe de Chine are not yet quite beyond the pale, and for a velvet or corduroy gown, or even a light weight cloth costume, a pretty white bodice will be found a decided relief to wear occasionally instead of the dark colored one of heavy texture.

Save for very young girls the jumper, guimpe and suspender dresses are all completely out of date, but a reminder of this style of dress is still to be seen in the school frocks for young girls, which have dark net and marquisette bodices strapped elaborately with wide bands of the same cloth of which the rest of the costume is made.

In the schoolroom wash waists of heavy embroidered linen or of madras made on severe tailor lines, with turned down collar and silk tie, are still worn, but the lingerie bodice is considered out of date this winter and should be laid away, not to reappear until the spring. In the long run the wearing of fine lingerie waists underneath heavy cloth and fur coats is one of the most inpractical and expensive fashions imaginable. A good silk or even a fine wash flannel waist may cost more at the outset, but will far outwear the more delicate texture and will reduce the laundry bill, and is, besides, infinitely more in keeping for the time of year, and in combination with cloth or cheviot, than the thin, cold looking cotton shirt waist.

Remove Grease Spots.

AFTER taking spots out of any material rub the moist place gently with the palm of the hand until the fabric is quite dry. The palm of the hand has a threefold value in this connection. Its warmth quickly dries the material, it prevents the formation of rings, so prone to follow in the wake of a rubbed out spot, and the even motion of the warm hand acts like an iron in pressing out the wrinkles caused by rubbing.

PRACTICAL TALKS BY THE APRIL GRANDMOTHER

"SO-CALLED plain girls sometimes owe their reputation for lack of beauty solely to excessive thinness," explained the April Grandmother, who had been listening quietly while her granddaughters discussed the personality of a schoolmate. "Although such girls may have eyes as bright, hair as abundant and skin as fair as any famous beauty of their particular set, their noses and mouths have the effect of being too large for the size of the face, their figures look angular and their extremities apparently out of all proportion, merely because of the absence of that dainty roundness which is one of the chief attractions of a young girl. It should be retained as long as possible, for if such delicate curves are vanquished by either illness or mental depression they are never recovered, although any amount of extra flesh may afterward be acquired.

"When a girl, and especially one having strongly marked features, is exceedingly thin, although apparently in excellent health, she should carefully consider her ordinary diet and decide whether or not it is directly responsible for her physical condition. It is quite possible that her thinness is due to malnutrition resulting either from the habitual use of certain foods which cannot readily be assimilated, or from insufficient nourishment. Fear of coarsening the complexion often deters girls from eating butter, whereas if that article of food is pure, cool and spread upon cold bread it is not in the least degree injurious to the cuticle. It is only when butter is heated that it becomes acid and, by upsetting the stomach, produces blotches upon the face.

"To eat lean and especially fried meat several times daily is apt to make a growing girl thin, but if she is unwilling to give it up to any extent she would better confine herself principally to broiled or roasted mutton and beef.

"Milk is an excellent fat and beauty maker, while cream, which is also a flesh builder, is simultaneously a complexion wrecker. The same may be said of fresh eggs, which are apt to coarsen the skin and should usually be dispensed with in favor of raw or cooked sweet fruits and green salads, olive oil-dressed.

"The chief articles of food for the would-be-plump girl to eliminate from the menu served at the average American table are sour pickles and foods highly spiced or seasoned with quantities of vinegar, pepper, sauce and salt.

"The thin girl who is ambitious to attain curves cannot drink too much fresh, pure, non-iced water at her meals, and if not strong physically she should occasionally take a little sweet cider or a very small glass of native wine.

"Between the very hot and the very cold baths which take off flesh comes that happy medium the tepid bath, which at one and the same time cleanses the body and helps to increase its weight. Such a bath should always be taken just before going to bed, as its warmth will induce sleep, for want of which many growing girls remain so excessively thin that their bones seem to be directly underneath their frocks. But unless the bedroom is well aired sleep is never profound and no matter how thoroughly ventilated it may be, the atmosphere cannot be pure so long as foul vapors enter the apartment from uncovered plumbing pipes.

"Therefore when the basin is not in use it should be closed with a tightly fitting rubber stopper and flushed with a little clean water, while the strainer at the opening of the safety waste pipe should be covered with a piece of white paper. Having assured herself that her sleeping quarters are absolutely sanitary, the candidate for plumpness should observe that ancient axiom 'Early to bed and early to rise.' It is the part of wisdom to woo sleep before midnight, and of health to get up in time to take the appetite inducing, before breakfast walk.

"Youthful energy and devotion to outdoor sports help to keep many young girls excessively thin, whereas in many cases such exercises should be indulged in moderately. It is a good plan, however, to sit outdoors as much as possible, as that induces drowsiness, one of the best of all remedies for the nervousness which makes so many studious school girls reed slender. These 'cat naps' should be taken in a recumbent position instead of in a chair, as that attitude does not thoroughly rest the body.

"As physical curves and cheerfulness of mind generally go together, the thin girl should cultivate whatever sense of humor she may be blessed with and laugh heartily whenever opportunity offers. Laughter thoroughly shakes up every portion of the body, but especially the stomach, thereby aiding it to digest food. If the thin girl finally becomes just a shade too plump, curves are certainly prettier than a sharp featured face, a gaunt neck and a pair of pointed elbows."

HOW TO MAKE DESK SETS.

GIVEN a number of cardboard boxes and several yards of flowered silk, any girl may make for herself an attractive and substantial desk set. The blotting pad should first be bound all round with the covering material, and the blotter so tacked upon it that only a narrow edge will show, while each corner is firmly held in position by pieces of silk covered cardboard shaped similarly to those of metal used on shop blotters.

Paper and envelope cases are made by gumming the cover upon a medium sized confectionery box and cutting away one of the oblong sides. Then the lid front of the box is cut half way down, and between it and the full sized back a similarly shaped, silk covered sheet of cardboard is fitted. The silk should then be pasted smoothly over the outer side of the box and its edges finished with a narrow gold or silver tinsel gimp attached with tiny fancy beaded tacks.

Pin and pen trays may be made from silk covered wedding cake box lids, while the ink and mucilage bottles should be encased in small, square boxes sufficiently tall to cover their rims, but shorn of their covers. The red ink bottle should go into a similar box of smaller dimensions in order to readily distinguish it from the others.

A small calendar should be tacked to a piece of silk covered cardboard fitted with an easel backing or with a ribbon hanger, and for the engagement list a frame be made in imitation of the flat surfaced affairs used sometimes for cabinet sized photographs.

A convenient desk box is an oblong of about one or two by six inches, divided into compartments for pens, clips and rubber bands, while one for postage should be just a degree smaller and partitioned to accommodate special deliveries, domestic and foreign stamps. Or the pens, bands, clips and postage may be kept in visiting card boxes, silk covered and furnished with lids swinging on ribbon hinges.

Home Made Christmas Gifts.

THE girl who wishes to bestow more Christmas gifts than her allowance will warrant may hope to carry out her generous ambition if she is blessed with the energy and patience to make a number of articles likely to prove more acceptable than those which represent merely the expenditure of money. One of these home manufactured articles is an oblong box covered with moire or satin embroidered in ribbon work or hand painted and containing three rolls of lingerie ribbon which may be drawn through eyelet holes in the side of the box.

Nearly every woman is delighted to receive a pin cushion, especially one of plump, square proportions which may be suspended by a narrow but stout ribbon from a hook when travelling. Another convenient type is a two inch high circular affair, with an upright post in its centre through which may be stuck a needle. This is a wonderful comfort to the owner of weak eyes who has difficulty in threading a needle. A third cushion is intended for the vanity purse or shopping bag and consists of a small circular mirror with a silk covered, thickly padded back edged with narrow ribbon through which pins may be stuck.

Coat and blouse hangers padded with scented cotton batting and covered with satin, silk or embroidered muslin are decorated with broad ribbon bows attached to the root of their hooks, while for the hat box are flat, round sachet pads of kindred materials, those of silk being bordered with plaited or quilled ribbon and those of lingerie fabrics with Valenciennes lace.

The girl who can knit rapidly should devote herself to making the new muffler, which is V shaped in the centre so that it will fit perfectly at the back of the neck, snugly across the throat and lie smoothly over the chest. They are done in knitted silk or fine zephyr in all colors and are greatly appreciated by those women who habitually wear blouses having transparent collars or guimpes.

Another attractive article which is easily put together consists of a flat silk covered box, large enough to be divided into four compartments. In the centre is an oblong for a small bottle of toilet water, on the right a book of soap sheets and on the left a hand painted or embroidered satin powder box. Such an outfit will prove an immense convenience to a woman preparing for a hasty journey, as it will readily fit into the average sized travelling bag.

A small fancifully woven willow basket strung with narrow ribbon makes a dainty "housewife" if lined throughout with delicately tinted silk or satin. The cover should be padded to make a cushion for needles and pins and the lower portion fitted with button, bodkin, thimble and scissors compartments.

Tourist toilet cases are made of rather wide oblong strips of silk or canvas, lined with rubber or oiled silk and bound with narrow ribbon. At one end is a deep envelope for the sponge and at the other pockets for the various manicure instruments. In the centre are compartments for hat, hair and tooth brushes and for the combs. These cases roll up compactly and have envelope flaps which fasten with silken loops over fancy buttons.

A novelty in cretonne and silk work baskets has a base of four squares of stiffened material with pointed upright sides surrounding a deep bag shirred doubly two inches below the top and fitted with ribbon strings. When these are drawn the bag can be crushed down into the lower or box portion. It is equipped with a stout ribbon or silk cable handle, formed of twisted strands of the material, and is lined with silk or linen. To one of the other sides is attached a pin cushion and to the other a four leaf needle case. In a closed condition the article should measure about five by ten inches and when opened should be about fourteen inches high.

Picture Puzzle Fad.

A PICTURE puzzle craze has struck the land, and old as well as young have succumbed to its fascinations. Some of these puzzles are most elaborate and sell as high as $8, but any clever girl can make them if she learns how to use that very simple tool a jig saw or if she has a brother who likes to have fun in this way.

The first requisite of the puzzle is an artistic colored picture, and if you have any old magazines or English periodicals, you will find among them very choice things for the purpose. Paste the picture on a thin piece of white holly wood exactly matching it in size, and then with your little jig saw carve it up into all sorts of fantastic pieces. Before you cut your picture up, however, study it well to get it photographed on your mind or else you may find it impossible to get it together again. Keep the puzzle in a box and don't let any of the little pieces get astray, for the loss of even one piece will hopelessly disfigure the picture. Choose pictures with a good deal of detail in them, for this sort are far more interesting to work out than the others.

SOCIAL AMENITIES for the SCHOOL GIRL.

ALL girls give more or less consideration to the behavior when in society, but how many think anything about retaining their "company manners" at home? Yet for maintaining harmony nothing is so essential as the continuous practise of those little courtesies which oil the wheels of domestic life quite as effectually as they make matters smooth in other directions.

Politeness means, above all else, consideration for others, and while so entitled to consideration as the members of one's family? Yet, alas! far from being courteous and considerate to them they are often the victims of our worst moods. Good manners should be so ingrained, so much a part of our natures, that we cannot possibly put them aside like a garment on entering our homes.

Whether in public or private, there is no trait more offensive than curiosity. Some girls never seem to realize this, and therefore get themselves much disliked. They go about making of themselves a perpetual interrogation point, and assume an aggrieved air if ever thing they ask is not immediately answered. Others in public manage to restrain their curiosity because they know it is bad form, but make up for this inhibition by unceasing questioning at home.

Where there is an older and a younger sister in the family the older often suffers grievously through the curiosity of the younger girl. Where are you going? With whom? When? What are you going to do? are part of a torrent that pours out morning, noon and night. Such a girl is likely to begin the morning by asking her sister at the breakfast table whom her letters are from, and if told wishes to know what the writers say. If not informed she sulks, and thus starts the day unpleasantly for both.

Now to act like this is unreasonable and unkind, for letters are extremely private things and often of so intimate a nature that their contents cannot be shared, or do they usually contain matter to be passed on to the members of the family.

As to opening another's letters, that is a social offence difficult to condone, and indeed, it is nothing short of a crime, punishable by law, if one wishes to make a grave matter of it. But of course the girls who do this atrocious thing do not think of it as criminal. They do it either from inordinate curiosity or because they like to tease, and think it a huge joke to worry an older sister by opening her letters, especially if they have any reason to suppose she receives letters from her men friends. It is not, however, a joke, and no girl of honor or with the slightest sense of delicacy will permit herself to do such an ignoble thing.

Do try to be as sweet and charming at home as you strive to be elsewhere. Get up and go to bed good mannered. Speak to the members of your family as courteously as you would to Mrs. Modish. When she addresses you I am sure you are all well bred enough to say "Yes, Mrs. Modish," or "No, Mrs Modish," as the case may be. Use this form also with your mother. It will charm her ear and satify her in a way that the careless, spahod "Yep" and "Nope" never does.

Keep careful watch over your voice as well as your words at home. It happens so often when girls are annoyed that they run their voices to a strident key most distressing to hear and really painful to the nerves of their elders. If you allow yourself to do this in private you will do it in public unconsciously sometimes and produce an unpleasant effect. Girls naturally become easily excited, and so it behoove them to be especially careful to control their voices, for one of the greatest attractions they can have is a speaking voice of sweet, modulated tones.

ODDS AND ENDS OF RIBBONS.

BITS of ribbon, fancy silk and delicately hued satin large enough to cover the palm of the hand are worth preserving, according to a young girl who has a happy knack of fashioning such materials into all manner of favors for cotillions and luncheons.

These scraps are kept in separate boxes according to their width and coloring, so that when any special shade or combination is needed it may readily be found. They are gathered in various ways. Some are from bargain counters, where often are to be picked up for the proverbial song remnants of plain and striped moire, Pekin striped satin and French brocade, the latter in charming patterns representing the lily, rose, tulip and orchid in natural shades. A surprising amount of material may be culled from discarded portions of the wardrobe, the lining of evening gowns, the back and side gores of taffeta petticoats, portions of satin blouses, fan sashes and scarfs, hat trimming and parasol covers.

Anything which is not faded, soiled or worn will make a covering for a handkerchief, neck, ribbon, ruff, glove, belt or veil bottle, less better adapted to cover a tea cosy, pincushion, sofa pillow, hair receiver, a tray, match safe or brush broom holder.

A paper pad for use has a ribbon covered upper leaf, while its under leaf is gummed to the ribbon covered lid of a flat box containing matching envelopes.

Narrow ribbons are used chiefly for trimmings and for covering elastic suspender and knee gores, as well as for the armlets used to hold up long wrinkled gloves.

TRIBUTE TO WORTH OF PROF. KINCAID

Resident of Peterborough in His Early Days—To Go to Russia on Behalf of Study of Entomology

The Seattle Post-Intelligence contains an account of the request made to Prof. Trevor Kincaid, a nephew of Mr. John Kincaid, Peterborough, by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology at Washington City to visit Russia next year. The paper states:

Prof. Trevor Kincaid, of the University of Washington, in which institution he is head of the department of zoology, has been asked by the chief of the bureau of entomology at Washington City to visit Russia on behalf of the bureau next year, there to continue the work which he did so successfully in Japan, in collecting and bringing to this country parasites to destroy the gypsy moth, which is creating such havoc in the states along the Atlantic seaboard. He is inclined to accept this offer, although, without hesitation, he rejected an offer previously received from a wealthy Eastern man to accompany the latter on a special collecting trip to Borneo, a trip to delight the heart of a man of Professor Kincaid's tastes.

Professor Kincaid declined the first offer, notwithstanding the appeal which it made to him, because he believed he could do more valuable work on behalf of science in directing the classes which are under him at the university. He is inclined to accept the latter offer on account of the still greater good which he can accomplish if the mission which he is invited to take should prove successful. His stand on both propositions throws a light on the character of the man.

Professor Kincaid is a Washington man, trained in our schools and in the university of which he is now one of the honoured professors, and the people of this State feel a warm interest in his career. In his chosen field of entomology he has taken place among the foremost scientists of the world. Last year, in recognition of his knowledge and capacity, he was asked to visit Japan on behalf of the department of agriculture, to discover and to bring back to the United States some parasites, believed to exist there, which would prey upon and destroy the gypsy moth. His mission was a success, and demonstrated that the pest can be eradicated or reduced at least to almost negligible proportions if the parasites can be bred in this country. It was scientific work of the highest character and also of the largest practical value. Such men as Professor Kincaid perform public services, without pecuniary reward and with but a shadow of real appreciation, rivalling or surpassing that of the greatest inventors in the industrial world. Their value to the world is out of all proportion greater than that of any of the great captains of industry, who accumulate millions merely by the display of financial and executive ability, directed principally to their own profit.

OPINIONS OF WARD SYSTEM OF ELECTING ALDERMEN

In connection with the movement for ward election of the members of the City Council, the Examiner interviewed a number of prominent business men this morning for the purpose of finding out what was the prevalent opinion of the proposed change. In every case they favoured the idea. Mr. Jas. T. O Lang, of Lang & Muher, stated that he considered it the best form of municipal representation. He would support the proposed form of election if it came to a test of the popular opinion, as he felt that every ward will, under that method, receive attention from the Council. Parts of the north and south wards have no representatives while in the centre of the city nearly all the aldermen are found. The duty therefore, of looking after the welfare and interests of the unrepresented parts falls upon the whole council and "what is everybody's job becomes nobody's."

Ex-Alderman Robt. Leary was also seen and likewise voiced his approval of the idea. In fact he was one of those who helped advocate the plan when he was one of those who sat around the civic board, and he was still unchanged in his views. He believed that all the citizens should support the plan as the wants of different section would receive more attention if each ward was properly represented.

These feelings were voiced by others who for similar reasons approved of the ward system.

HOW SHE DID IT

"You look very much excited, dear," he said, when she entered the parlour, where he was waiting for her.

"Well, I thinkI ought to look excited," she answered. "I've just had the most awful argument with ma." And she began to weep hysterically.

"Why, what is the matter, my darling? he inquired, as he slid an arm around her waist and endeavored to soothe her. "What was the argument?"

"Oh, how can I tell you? She said you were only trifling with me, and that you would never pop the question; and I told her she did you a great injustice, for I believed that you would pop the question tonight. She said you wouldn't and I said you would and we had it hot and heavy. Dear George you will not let ma triumph over me, will you?"

"W—why, certainly not," answered George.

"I knew it, my darling," the girl exclaimed. "Come, let us go to ma and tell her how much mistaken she was.

And they did, and ma didn't seem to be very much broken down over the affair after all.

THE TOMATO INDUSTRY IN ONTARIO

Average Increase From 800 to 8000 Since 1891—The Average Yield.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Some observations on the tomato industry in Ontario were mentioned by Mr. A. G. Turney, of Guelph, at the convention of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association in November. He pointed out that most tomatoes in the province were grown for canning purposes. The acreage for this purpose has increased from 800 in 1891, to 8,000 this year. There are 50 factories, the majority of which have been erected in the past five years. Most tomato seed comes from the United States. One ounce will supply plants for one acre. There is not much seed selection practised. It takes about 175 days from planting to ripening of the fruit.

The average yield in Ontario is 175 bushels an acre. Four hundred bushels an acre would give a profit of from $50 to $60. For fertilizing the soil about 20 tons of manure are used per acre. Mr. W. C. McCalla, of St. Catharines, calculated that a crop of 450 bushels of tomatoes an acre would cost from $65 to $75. The cost of growing, however, depends upon local conditions.

IRRIGATION AND ITS EFFECTS

Mr. W. T. Macown Presents Paper at the Convention of Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

A paper on "Irrigation and its Effects on the Growth of Vegetables and Small Fruits," was presented by Mr. W. T. Macoun, at the recent convention of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association. The various methods of irrigating were mentioned as follows: 1. By means of the furrow system. This is of much benefit to potatoes. The garden hose may be used. Movable sprinklers are used in Nova Scotia for lettuce. 2. By the use of engine power. Experiments in irrigating vegetables have been conducted by the New Jersey Experiment Station, and the results were beneficial. The benefits are more marked in certain years. Mr. Rowsome of Burlington irrigated celery this year with excellent results.

Irrigation is of advantage, also, to small fruits. Generally speaking, however, very little work in the irrigation of small fruits and vegetables has been attempted in Canada and the eastern states. Mr. Weaver, of Chatham, stated that he had experimented successfully with irrigating potatoes and sugar beets, the potatoes being most benefitted.

MAPLE LEAF FACTORY COMPLIMENTED

By Dairy Instructor for the Improvements That They Have Made.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

At the annual meeting of the Maple Leaf Cheese factory in Peterboro County recently, Mr. R. Ward, Instructor for the Peterboro district, congratulated the patrons upon the factory which they had, upon their maker and upon their excellent cool curing room. He commended them upon the improvement which had been made in the general appearance of the milk cans and in the milk coming to the factory and that they paid by test. "Paying by test," he said, "is the only proper way. Then there is no adulteration and no trouble; it is the only right and fair way.

"Although the past season has been an unusually hot one, the milk delivered came in in very fair condition. Some was over-ripe, it is true but, on the whole, it was very satisfactory." Mr. Ward strongly endorsed the cow testing association and said that patrons were inclined to lay too much stress on the selling price of cheese. A sixteenth of a cent on the selling price is a comparatively small matter when one could easily cheapen the production and thereby save one-quarter or one-half a cent and in many cases, more on the production end. Corn will lessen the feed bill and I am glad to note that more and more is being grown.

"Pure water and salt must be supplied the cows. The milk must have right care at the farm. Then we can get the best cheese and the most out of it, when a skilled maker is employed. Milk should be delivered at 70 degrees F. or under. Then satisfactory results will follow."

NO PROFIT FOR PROPIETOR IN COOLING ROOMS

Dairy Commissioner Bain Says That the Patrons Alone Benefit by This Step

From the Canadian Dairyman

"If the proprietor of a cheese factory were to ask me if it would pay him to put up a curing room in his factory I am afraid that I would have to tell him that I do not think that it would," said Mr. G. H. Barr, Assistant Dairy Commissioner at the Maple Leaf factory, Peterboro Co., Ont., recently. "Cool curing is a splendid thing, but the proprietor of the factory derives very little benefit from it. The patrons of the factory are the ones who derive the most profit."

"In Prince Edward County a number of the factories have put up cool curing rooms. A factory at Belleville saved $500 in 1907 on account of having cool curing rooms. This amount was saved on 100 tons of cheese. The figures are quite in keeping with those obtained at the Government cool curing rooms. Any 100-ton factory will save between $400 and $500 in a season with a cool room through their being less strinkage, the cheese not drying out so much as in the ordinary curing room. We have said nothing of the extra price obtained for the cheese when cool cured. Although there is very little increased price, still, when a buyer wants the best or if there are any 'plums' going, the cool cured cheese get it every time. The cool cured cheese are always right and are always in demand.

"The Dairy Division at Ottawa will give any assistance possible to factories in building cool curing rooms. Blue prints, from which any contractor can estimate and construct a cool curing room, can be had for the asking. Any information which has been accumulating at the department for years will be gladly given to all who ask for it. The department will even send out a man if necessary to give the information."

NEW IRREGULARITIES.

Session of Marine Enquiry at Halifax Yesterday Revealed Little.

Halifax, Dec. 4.—The Marine Department inquiry is nearing its end and the rush at the Court House is not so great as in the sessions of a week ago. Little that was sensational was adduced at yesterday's session, most of the evidence lacking the interest of the earlier testimony. The greatest portion of the afternoon was devoted to the examination of the prices of beef and fish and grocery supplies. The inquiry will, it is expected, be concluded this afternoon, and if there is no more startling evidence to come Halifax will not have made a bad showing for a supply port, so far as the transactions shown are concerned.

A number of dealers who furnish provisions and other supplies were called and stated that prices charged were ordinary. One dealer said he sold halibut to the Government ships three cents per pound cheaper than he did to his customers.

Howard Wentzell, head of the wholesale grocery firm of Wentzell & Co., said that in three years his firm did $5,000 business with the Department. His goods were sold mostly by contract. The members for the county did not intervene in his behalf.

All the dealers called stated that they granted no favors, made no presents, and were under no obligation to any official of the Department. The inquiry will resume to-day.

AMHERST SELLING OUT.

English Lord's Magnificent Library is Under the Hammer.

London, Dec. 4.—The dispersal of the famous library of Lord Amherst of Hackney, one of the greatest book sales of modern times, began in London yesterday afternoon and attracted biographers and collectors from all parts of the world.

This magnificent collection was brought together during the past half century, at a great cost in money and labor, and it is being sold in consequence of the heavy financial losses entailed by Lord Amherst through an attorney who got away with a trust fund, of which Lord Amherst was trustee, to the extent of $1,250,000.

At a private sale on Wednesday 15 fine Caxtons were disposed of, supposedly to J. Pierpont Morgan, but numerous treasures still are left, and the bidding yesterday was spirited. The celebrated Mazarin Bible was sold to a London dealer for $10,250, while the "Apocalipsis Scannis," an original block book of the Low Countries, brought $10,000. This same volume was auctioned at the Crawford sale in 1887 and brought $2,500.

King Charles' copy of the Cambridge Bible brought $5,000. A total of almost $50,000 was realized yesterday from the sale of 150 lots.

That Civic Jaunt.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—Evidence was concluded yesterday in the Supreme Court in support of the action to disqualify the seven aldermen of the finance committee for alleged illegal expenditure of the city's money during a civic jaunt to Europe by Mayor Payette and daughter, and the assistant city clerk and Madame Beauset.

It was demonstrated that six steamship fares had been paid for the European trip and that the money had been taken out of the city funds. The evidence on behalf of the aldermen went to show that the finance committee had passed a resolution authorizing the mayor's trip and granting him $1,500. The mayor testified that he had paid his daughter's expenses.

Educational Bill In Danger.

London, Dec. 4.—Another deadlock has arisen between the Government and the Church party, which threatens the doom of the education bill, backed by Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Education.

This has been brought about by a demand made by the Archbishop of Canterbury, for a larger grant for non-rate aided schools than the Government was willing to allow. It is the opinion in the lobby that the Government will withdraw the bill.

Seriously Injured.

Port Arthur, Dec. 4.—I. U. Johnson, an employment agent, while on the steamer Edmonton, fell into the hold and sustained a broken arm and his back was very seriously hurt.

Will Be Blocked.

Brantford, Dec. 4.—City Solicitor Henderson has informed the city clerk that another meeting of the council is necessary before the local option by-law can be voted on. Mayor Bowlby has called a special meeting for Monday night, but the hoteimen say the issue will be blocked by a vote in the council.

City Clerk Leonard was yesterday threatened by the local option supporters that if he failed to publish the bylaw court costs would be asked for against him.

Hits Merchants.

Windsor, Dec. 4.—The quarantine against any animals coming into Canada through this port is proving to be disadvantageous to many local merchants. Under the present circumstances no hay, straw, or fodder can come into Windsor. Many merchants buy goods in Detroit and other American cities, which comes packed in straw or hay. Such goods are now being held up on account of the straw packing in the boxes.

To Go to the Penitentiary.

Brantford, Dec. 4.—Joe Gillies, aged 40 years, who has a long criminal record for house robbery, was yesterday afternoon sentenced to five years in Kingston Penitentiary.

Four years' penalty was also given Fred Douglas, Six Nations Indian, who stole several horses.

Two Barrie Bylaws.

Barrie, Dec. 4.—Two important bylaws will be voted on by the electors next January. One is for $15,000 for a water front park, the other $12,000 for electric light works. It is likely both will be defeated.

For New Armory.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—Rodolphe Forget, M.P., honorary colonel of the 65th French-Canadian Regiment, has subscribed $5,000 towards the erection of the new armory, which will cost $100,000.

HEAD-ON COLLISION.

Engineer Killed and Three Injured In Pembroke Wreck.

Pembroke, Dec. 4.—A head-on collision yesterday morning at 8 o'clock on the C. P. R. main line one and a half miles east of Pembroke, one man was killed and three injured, viz.:

Fred Rowe, Ottawa, C.P.R. engineer, instantly killed.

R. Crawford, Ottawa, fireman, leg injured.

Baggageman, sprained knee.

Engineer Nagle, Smith's Falls, bruised.

A locomotive in charge of Nagle and Fireman Patton of Carleton Place was running light easterly, while the passenger train was westbound, both at about 40 miles an hour. They were almost together before the danger was noticed. Rowe was killed as he sat in the cab, after reversing and thus warning his fireman, Crawford, whose left ankle was sprained from the jump. Both engines were demolished.

Nagle was caught under the coal from the tender after the upset, but was soon freed. Patton was hurled out just as he prepared to jump.

TEN SLOOPS LOST.

Seventeen Perish In Fierce Storm on Atlantic Coast.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 4.—Seventeen persons perished in a storm which has lashed the Newfoundland coast during the last forty-eight hours. In all ten fishing vessels have gone ashore, most of them breaking into fragments on the rocks. The victims of the gales were members of the crews of three of these craft. The fishermen were all residents of Newfoundland fishing villages.

The storm began Tuesday evening and developed into a blizzard. A northerly gale caught many small schooners and sloops off the coast, and in scudding for harbor before the blast many of them lost their bearings in the thick snowstorm.

MUST LOSE EYE.

Operation on Constable Wilkins Is Inevitable—He Is Improving.

Simcoe, Dec. 4.—Constable Wilkins, who was murderously attacked in Lynwood Park early Tuesday morning, is reported as resting easily, and is able to turn in his bed. The bullet wounds in his back are progressing nicely and no danger is looked for from these unless pus should form.

Dr. Edgar of Hamilton has been communicated with as to whether it is advisable to remove the left eye immediately or if the operation should be delayed for a few days. If no poison is communicated from the wounded eye and no inflammation of the brain results from the operation, there is hope of Wilkins' recovery.

Hit by Train.

Chatham, Dec. 4.—Jacob Oldham of Wallaceburg, while loading hogs on a siding at the Tupperville station, was struck by a fast freight before he could get his horses off the track. One leg was broken. A horse was killed.

Three Years For Bad Boy.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—Albert Bonin, a youth, concerned in the recent Geoffrion Club scandal, was sentenced to three years in the reformatory yesterday, having been found guilty of indecency.

Custom Receipts Fall.

Chatham, Dec. 4.—So far this year there has been a decrease of $3,400 in the customs and inland revenue receipts for Chatham and its outports. The total receipts for last year were $45,000, and it is expected that the close of this year will show a total decrease of $5,000.

Must Give Back Ring.

Windsor, Dec. 4.—Ferdinand C. Bellemore, manager of a local drug store, alleges that on Christmas, 1903, he became betrothed to Miss Whitely, and bestowed upon her a diamond ring as a sign of the contract. Miss Whitely is said to have hypothecated the ring to wipe out an obligation, and when the engagement was broken off Mr. Ferdinand was told to get his ring the best way he could. He decided to sue for recovery. Yesterday Mr. A. R. Bartlett, acting judge in the Division Court decided that the ring must be returned to Bellemore. It is said the judge found a precedent for his decision in a similar case brought during the reign of Charles II.

Made In Canada Gold Coins.

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—The first gold coins to be minted in Canada will be made from Canadian metal. Four gold bricks, aggregating between 60 and 70 ounces, the product of Dr. Reddick's Larder Lake mines, have reached the Royal Mint.

A peculiar feature of the new coin will be a small "C" underneath the King's head, to show that coins were made in Canada.

Negro Spirited Away.

Brownstone, Ind., Dec. 4.—Prompt action by the authorities here and at Seymour yesterday averted the possibility of mob law in the case of a negro who is accused of having assaulted Mrs. Harold Donnettell, near her home, two miles south of Seymour on Wednesday.

Baltic Has a Foundry at Last.

Perrie, Dec. 4.—A. St. Johns and A. R. Crenkur, both experienced machinists of St. Catharines, have opened up the foundry owned by Henry Searey. Since the Dyment foundry was burned in 1906, all endeavors of the different councils to arrive at some basis of conciliation with Simon Dyment, who owns the foundry, proved futile. He wanted a bonus from the town.

Dog Saved Lives.

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—A pet dog saved Dominique Poirier, Friel street, and his family from being asphyxiated by coal gas yesterday morning. Its furious barking awakened Poirier, who dragged himself to a window, and after reviving saved the others in the house.

Prisoner Assaults Guard.

Kingston, Dec. 4.—Because Guard Macdonald reported him for insubordination, James Young, a prisoner at the penitentiary, struck Macdonald in the face with his fist. Young was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Hunter and sent for trial.

Drops Dead on Track.

Lindsay, Dec. 4.—The lifeless body of Mrs. Mark Waters was found on the C.P.R. tracks yesterday afternoon. No marks of violence were discovered and the coroner decided that heart failure was the cause of death.

Protest In Brockville.

Brockville, Dec. 4.—Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, may have to face an election trial for alleged irregularities in his election. There is a rumor that a protest has been prepared.

Four Years For Mail Thief.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—Louis Lecavalier, nicknamed "Hook," the mail driver, who stole a bag of registered mail not long ago and then fled, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary yesterday.

New Generator.

Port Arthur, Dec. 4.—Owing to drought causing a scarcity of water to run the city power plant, a new 4,000 light generator is being purchased.

FARMERS SUFFER LOSSES BY FIRE TO HOUSE AND BARNS

Mr. Daniel Moloney's Brick House and All Its Contents Burned at Midnight---Occupants Have Narrow Escapes ---Mr. Frank O'Brien Loses His Barns and Grains.

THE ORIGIN OF BOTH FIRES IS AS YET UNKNOWN

In the midnight stillness a mysterious fire broke out last night in the home of Mr. Daniel Moloney, Douro, destroying the building and its entire contents. The family were all asleep in the house when the fire started and it was only in the nick of time that they were aroused from their slumbers and learned that a destructive fire was in progress. They barely escaped with their lives. Everything was burned including the substantial brick residence and all the furniture and clothing of the family.

Mr. Moloney came to Peterborough this morning and had to borrow a pair of boots to do so.

As intimated above the origin of the fire is unknown. It began between twelve and one o'clock and continued until the house was a mass of charred ruins.

Mr. Moloney resides in Douro on the road extending north from the school to the east of Nassau. He is fortunate in having a house on another farm and to-day has moved his family there. It could not be learned to-day the extent of the loss, but no doubt it will be great, as the contents of a well-furnished farm-house are difficult to replace. The barns and other buildings were saved.

Otonabee Barn Burned

On Tuesday night of this week Mr. Frank O'Brien who lives in Otonabee on the boundary between that township and Douro, suffered the loss by fire of his barns and outbuildings. The fire started about 8 o'clock in the evening and Mr. O'Brien is at a loss to determine the cause. The barns are half a mile from the C. P. R. tracks and as the wind was blowing the opposite direction, the sparks could not have travelled that distance.

The buildings were of the log variety and not only were they consumed by the flames but also a quantity of grain, feed and implements. The house, however, was saved.

It is understood that the insurance on the building amounted to $400, but the extent of the loss is not exactly known.

Pleaded To Be Allowed To Go And Were Ordered To Leave The City

The two strangers, Jas. Smith and John Burns, who were arrested at the C. P. R. station a week ago yesterday, appeared before City Clerk Armstrong at the police court this morning, on a charge of vagrancy. They have been spending the interim as the guests of the hostelry upon the hill.

Both men pleaded not guilty to the charge and were finally allowed to go, on their promise to get out of town as quickly as possible.

Robt Crerer, night operator at the C. P. R. station, testified that the two men came into the station waiting room about one o'clock in the morning. He had notified them that it was against the rules to allow people to remain there and had asked them to leave, but they refused to do so. He had told them that he would be forced to call in the police and they said that he could do it if he wanted to.

P. C Adams testified that he had been informed that two "hard looking characters" had been seen at the station, and on going down had found Burns asleep on the floor near the radiator, while Smith was sitting in one of the chairs.

Smith asked permission to give evidence, and informed the magistrate that he had been working at Depot Harbour, and was endeavouring to get as far as Hull, where he hoped to get work with his cousin in the cement works. He explained that work had been scarce and wages poor, and the result was that he had been unable to do anything more than pay his board. He pleaded to be allowed to go.

"It is the first time that I have been in court or behind the bars," he stated, "and it will be a lesson to me. I have been eight days in gaol and they have been the longest eight days that I have ever seen."

Burns' story was the same. He, too, had been working at Depot Harbour, and was endeavouring to make his way east. His home, he said, was on Wellington street, Toronto.

Both men admitted that they had no money, but as they expressed their sincere intention to walk right out of town, the magistrate took them at their word and allowed them to go.

Another Effort To Be Made Re C.P.R. Crossing At Aylmer Street

The Council has decided to take up the question of securing protection at the Aylmer street crossing of the C. P.R. It was brought before the Railway Commission, who decided that the city had to pay one-quarter of the cost of providing protection The case was reopened, all the evidence was again heard and the result was the same. Ald. Elliott stated that during the last week two persons had had narrow escapes at this crossing, and he considered that something should be done as soon as possible. Ald. Morrow was of the same opinion and moved, seconded by Ald. Tovey, that the clerk be instructed to take the necessary steps to re-open the question with a view to accomplishing something.

The House Of Providence Gets A Grant From City Of $250.00

The sub-committee appointed to consider the request of the House of Providence for a grant, reported last night at the committee meeting of the Council, that they held a conference with Rev. Father McColl and learned that there are fourteen adults and five children in the House of Providence from the city, and that, of these only one is being paid for, by the Charity Board. The city has through the Charity Board, been paying the Protestant Home for the maintenance of several inmates, and they were of the opinion that the two homes should be treated alike, and recommend that a grant of $250 be made to the House of Providence up to the end of 1908.

Classes Of Instruction For Members Of The 57th Regiment

Sergt. Instructor Bingham, of the London School of Infantry, is in the city and a drill class will be organized at once. All officers, non-commissioned officers and men who intend taking a course of instruction in these classes will meet to-night at eight o'clock in the drill shed for the purpose of organization.

At the conclusion of the classes the officers will go to Toronto for examinations, and examinations will be held here for regimental non-commissioned officers' certificates.

Women Upset From Canoe In Crossing The Otonabee River

In attempting to cross the Otonabee river in a canoe at the south end of the street railway two ladies were upset. Luckily the canoe turned turtle when the passengers were not very far from shore. They hung on to the craft and although the water was seven or eight feet deep they managed to return to shore in safety. Had they been out in mid-stream the probability is that a fatality would have occurred.

COUNCIL PRACTICALLY DECIDES TO PROVIDE A BUILDING TO BE USED AS ISOLATION HOSPITAL

The members of the council seem to be averse to concluding their term without taking definite steps to provide an isolation hospital of some description. Mayor Rush was looking over the pages of the "big boo," so to speak, and found that the Property Committee had not taken any action in the solving of this much discussed question. They had, in fact, returned it over to the council, who in turn handed it over to the committee again, but it was apparently given the hook.

Last night Ald. Elliott suggested that some building on the outskirts of the city be rented, in order that the city be prepared for any emergency that may arise. Ald. Phelan stated that he had learned from good authority that small pox has cost the city of Kingston $14,000. Ald. Morrow remarked that he did not think that any person would rent a house to be used as an isolation hospital. Last year the cost of one case was $300, which would be sufficient to pay the interest on a splendid hospital. Ald. Bradburn said that he would call a meeting of the Property Committee this afternoon to handle the matter and arrive at some decision in order to present it at the council meeting Monday night.

COUNCIL IS WILLING TO PURCHASE PROPERTY OPPOSITE GEORGE ST. CHURCH FOR THE LIBRARY

It is now practically assured that the new Public Library site will be the lot on the south-east corner of George and McDonel streets, now owned by Mr. J. J. Lundy. The report of the Property Committee recommended the purchase of this property. The price is $5,000, and Mr. Lundy has agreed to extend the option another 30 days and will wait until the first of March for the payment of the money without interest. Aldermen Bradburn and Elliott moved that this offer be accepted. Ald. Buller wanted to know if the committee could not secure some suitable location in the south end, but there were none that possessed the many suitabilities as that opposite Central Park. The motion carried.

CITIZENS WILL DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT THE EXHIBITION GROUNDS BECOME PUBLIC PROPERTY

The citizens will be given an opportunity of expressing their opinion regarding the purchase of the fair grounds by the city, when a by-law will be voted on at the January elections for this purpose. The amount of money required to secure this large and valuable property is $30,000.

The fair directors have succeeded in increasing the fair receipts to such an extent that they have a surplus. They fee. now that it is time for the city to take hold of the affair and make it a municipal undertaking. To accomplish this the directors claim the city should purchase the grounds and give the exhibition a permanent home. Until such is provided the fair people refuse to erect new buildings and it would be almost useless to endeavour to hold a fair next year with the present buildings, which are not fit for such purposes. If the city buys the property, which will cost $30,000, the fair directors will erect the buildings.

Mayor Rush asked the committee of the whole council if they desired to do anything in regard to the matter.

Ald. Buller at once said yes, and he moved the following motion, which carried without further discussion.

Moved by Ald. Buller, and Ald. Tovey, that the council submit a by-law to the people in January, for the purchase of the fair grounds for fair and park purposes; the price to be $30,000, and an option to be secured.—Carried.

EIGHT CASES TO COME UP BEFORE JUDGE WELLER IN PETERBOROUGH COUNTY COURT TUESDAY NEXT

Eight cases are to come up at the winter sessions of the County Court which opens before Judge Weller on Tuesday next. Seven of the cases are non-jury actions. Following is a summary of the cases;—

Wilkins vs. Grover.—In this action the plaintiff, Frederick W. Wilkins, is a civil engineer, residing in Norwood, and the defendant Helena Louise Grover, is a widow residing in Kingston. The plaintiff claims the sum of $164 and interest there on with judgment for professional work rendered in the capacity of an architect, surveyor and in other ways. Geo. J. Sherrin, Norwood, for the plaintiff; R. E. Wood, Peterborough, for the defendant.

The other seven cases are non-jury actions and arise out of the Trent Valley Sugar, Provisions and Cold Storage Company, Limited. In the case of Carton vs. Pilkey, the plaintiff, Michael Carton, is a retired merchant living in Peterborough, and the defendant, David Pilkey, is a farmer residing in the County of Ontario. The plaintiff claims judgment against the defendant for the sum of $250, which amount he alleges the defendant by a promissory note promised to pay to the order of the Trent Valley Sugar, Provision and Cold Storage Company, Limited.

The cases of Carton vs. Wm. Arbuckle, Carton vs. J. Emmerson, Carton vs. Michael Kennedy, Carton vs Gordon Ellworth Reynolds, Carton vs. Noble L. Stevenson, and Carton vs. Balsdon, are similar in detail. Solicitor for the plaintiff, W H Moore, K.C., Peterborough; Solicitor for the defendants, Lyman T Barclay, Whitby.

Many New Members Are Joining The Local Poultry Association

The Poultry Association held their regular meeting last night, at which some thirty enthusiastic members were present. The association are making preparations for their January show on the 5th, 6th and 7th, and have engaged Mr. J. E. Bennett, of Toronto, as their judge. Treasurer Joseph Kelly reported that within the last month sixty-three members had joined for the coming season, and only four of these belonged during the past year. This number, in addition to the old members, all of whom are expected to join, will make the membership run up to about 130.

A special meeting of the association will be held on Tuesday evening, December 8th, to continue the work of arranging for the show. It will be held in the Bank of Montreal Chambers. A number of the prize lists, which are now out, were distributed last night.

Fenelon Falls Youth Shot In The Leg By Hunting Companion

A shooting accident occurred in Fenelon Falls on Saturday. The victim was James Northey, son of Mr. W. Northey. Jim, with his companion, Ronald McIntosh, were off for a hunt, and McIntosh stopped on the road to load the gun, when by some way it was discharged, the charge entering Northey's leg back of the knee. The bullet entered between the two main arteries. Dr. Johnson was called, and it was found necessary to administer chloroform in order that the bullet might be extracted. However, the wound was dressed, and the patient is doing well.

Two Anniversaries Of Marriages Celebrated Together

The celebration of the thirty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Fitzgerald, and the second marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Fitzgerald, were jointly celebrated last evening at the residence of the latter, 637 Union street. Guests to the number of about twenty were present, including some from Bethany, the home of Mrs. P. Fitzgerald (nee Miss Hanna), and a delightful time was spent.

The occasion naturally recalled to memory incidents in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fitzgerald of bygone days. Among these were that thirty-five years ago yesterday, there was a foot of snow on the ground, but which later disappeared. Two years ago yesterday the thermometer dropped away below zero.

The Idea To Extend Polling Day Was Thought Out Too Late

It nearly happened last night, at least it might have happened if it had not been discovered that the time was a fortnight too late. One of the aldermen at the Committee meeting of the Whole Council brought forward the question of extending the polling hours on the day of the municipal elections. It was said that a large number of ratepayers do not turn out to vote owing to the fact that they cannot get away in time. The council has the authority to lengthen the time for voting, but the by-law that was necessary should have been passed before November 15th. It will, therefore, be another twelve months before any change in this regard can be effected.

C.P.R. OFFICIALS ARE IN THE CITY TO-DAY

A party of C. P. R. officials paid a visit to the city this morning, going over the yards and especially to the Quaker Oats Company. Those who constituted the party were Messrs. Jas. Oborne, General Superintendent; J. K. McNeillie, Superintendent; A. L. Hertzburg, and D. Carmichael, Assistant Superintendent; Mr. W. S. Dodds, station agent accompanied them in their local inspection.

AMATEUR PRODUCTION OF THE MIKADO WAS MARKED BY SPLENDID SUCCESS

Gilbert and Sullivan's Famous Comic Opera Delightfully Presented by Peterborough Amateur Operatic Company---Principals and Cast Scored a Triumph---The Audience Was Most Appreciative.

THIS DELIGHTFUL OPERA WILL BE REPEATED THIS EVENING

Gilbert and Sullivan's famous comic opera "The Mikado" received a most admirable interpretation at the hands of the Peterborough Amateur Operatic Company at the Grand Opera House last evening before an audience that was not as large as it should have been, but that was most enthusiastic and unanimous in praising the production. Considering that it was the work of amateurs the presentation was phenomenally successful and fully merited all the complimentary things that were said of it by the local theatre-goers who were fortunate enough to be present last night. "The Mikado" has been given several times before by amateurs in this city, but never has it been seen with such pleasant results as attended last evening's most delightful performance. Even the successful presentation of the opera a year ago under the same direction was surpassed, and it is safe to say that no better amateur production along operatic lines has ever been staged in this city.

The production went with a swinging smoothness that speaks volumes for the work of the director and the ability of the cast, and there was not the slightest semblance of a hitch. The singing of the principals was faultless and pleasing, lines were given with a spirit that showed that their significance was appreciated, and the chorus work was of a very praiseworthy character, evidencing careful drilling upon the part of the conductor, Mr. R. J. Devey, to whose untiring efforts a great measure of the success of the enterprise is due.

The story of the Mikado is too well known to theatre goers to require any attention here nor is it necessary to comment at any length upon the humour of Gilbert's book and lyrics or upon the tunefulness of the music as written by Sir Arthur Sullivan. It abounds in catchy numbers both for principals and chorus, and its gems are known to all lovers of music. Somehow the Mikado numbers never lose their charm or freshness, and in spite of the hundreds of so-called comic operas that have been turned out since the Mikado was written, the opera is still a pronounced favourite. It is rather an ambitious vehicle for amateurs, but last night's cast found no difficulty in demonstrating their ability to handle it effectively.

The stage staff of the Grand had employed all their energies upon the scenic investiture and the result of their efforts were seen in two very pretty settings, which with the brilliant Japanese costumes of the performers made a series of charming stage pictures that added much to the enjoyment of the production. Special attention seems to have been paid to costumes and in this important detail the company was not found lacking.

As has been said all the principals were most pleasing in their work, and there was little of the amateur in the presentation. Mr. Ernest Dalton scored one of the biggest hits of the evening by his most funny interpretation of the part of Ko-Ko. The role of the Lord High Executioner is a most humorous one, and Mr. Dalton was able to make the most of it, his work being of decidedly high class order throughout. Mr. George Chandler's portrayal of the part of Nanki Poo, the wandering minstrel, was crowned with complete success. He combines a pleasing stage presence with dramatic ability, and a splendid tenor voice, which enabled him to appear to splendid advantage in his vocal numbers, of which there are several in the score. Mr. John King as the pompous Poo Bah, "with a sense of family pride," made the part stand out prominently, and his clean cut interpretation left nothing to be desired. He threw spirit into his lines and added to his excellent acting the notable asset of a magnificent bass voice, which was advantageously displayed throughout. Mr. N. Greenhalgh was a dignified Mikado, and sang the title role in a manner that was most pleasing to the audience. He has a splendid voice and good stage presence.

A most charming Yum-Yum was Miss Florence Lancaster, who not only acted her part with a naturalness and ability that is refreshing in an amateur but who also sang most delightfully, making her numbers decidedly effective. Mrs. R. J. Devey was capital as Katisha, her portrayal of the exacting role being spirited and successful, while her vocal numbers were skilfully presented. Mrs. W. A Greenslade as Pitti Sing, and Mrs. Armstrong as Peep Bo, did splendid work in their parts, and Mr. Avann was effective and pleasing in his acting as Pah Tush.

The large chorus, comprising in all forty-two people, was splendidly drilled, and its work throughout was most creditable not only to the members but the director. The fan drill and other movements were skillfully executed, and the vocalism of the chorus was excellent, the organization being well balanced and harmonious in execution. In the finale at the end of Act I. the chorus excelled itself by its magnificent work, and another bit was made in the closing chorus. The male members scored a success in the opening chorus, while the ladies had their opportunity later in the chorus "Comes a Train," in which they were most successful.

The musical numbers were really excellently presented. Mr. Chandler's clear tenor was displayed advantageously in his opening solo, the tuneful number "A Wandering Minstrel," and later on he repeated his triumph in the duet "Were You Not," in which Miss Lancaster also made a decided hit. Miss Lancaster's best effort, however, was the Fan song, which she rendered most pleasingly and had to respond to a well merited encore. Mr. King had several splendid opportunities to display the resonant qualities of his fine voice, and took full advantage of them, his first number "Young Man Despair," being a triumph. Mr. Dalton's gems were "The Lord High Executioner" and "Tit Willow," the latter being one of the big successes of the evening. The applause that followed was earned, as Mr. Dalton gave a capital rendition of the number. Other pleasing musical numbers that were clevarly presented were the "Three Little Maids," by Miss Lancaster, Mrs. Greenslade and Mrs. Armstrong, "A Madrigal," by Miss Lancaster, Mrs. Greenslade and Messrs. Chandler and King, and "The Flowers that Bloom in the Spring," by Messrs. Dalton and Chandler.

The playing of the orchestra, which was also under the direction of Mr. Devey, was a big factor in the success of the affair, and their work throughout was of a most creditable nature. They played the "Mikado" music as an overture and the number was much appreciated.

To the members of the cast and to Mr. R. J. Devey, the energetic conductor much credit is due and they have to be congratulated upon presenting to the people of Peterborough such a musical treat. Great credit is due to Mr. D Cesar Waring as stage manager, who handled the stage so well that to one not knowing our own boys and girls would have thought it a company of professionals.

THE REVIEW'S WEAKNESS.

For hypocritical assumption of political virtues, the Review under its present editorial management is without a double; never a day passes that it does not thank heaven that it and the Conservative party are not sinners like the Liberal party, that its skirts are clean and that no guilt or wrong doing in connection with the purity it stands for. Yesterday the Review quoted the serious charges, (reproduced in another column), which have been made in the Globe of grave derelections of duty on the part of the Whitney Government, and in commenting thereon the Review says: "It (the Globe) "should be required to be specific "also, and to furnish particulars, at "least to some extent." And yet he, himself, in his own county, is assailing the conduct of an election under the "general tones of the act," without a single specific allegation of any kind whatever. But of one thing he feels assured, and that is, that "in this district there is no ground for the Globe's charges." The Review writer poses as the custodian of all the virtues of the party to which he belongs, or rather, we might better say, which he makes it appear belongs to him. But he conveniently forgets that he has been the would-be beneficiary of all its political vices, and they have not been a few, nor very little ones. We have little doubt that the Globe has an ample warranty for its charges of an unscrupulous abuse of the power of the local government that were exercised in the vain attempt to overthrow the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but it is most refreshing indeed to find his Peterborough representative challenging the Globe to submit Mr. Whitney's conduct to a "commission" of Mr. Whitney's choosing and appointment. Let our neighbour possess his soul in patience. There may be a commission, but to inquire into the improper influences that were injected into the Dominion elections by the agents of the Whitney Government. Such a commission must proceed from the authority of the Parliament of the Dominion, whose integrity was sought to be attacked. Does the Review, with all its knowledge of the methods of the party in the recent election in West Peterborough seek such a commission? The Review's weakness consists in the strength of its hypocritical assumption of superior virtue for itself and its party, in the face of evidence known and appreciated by every intelligent reader.

STRAINING AT A GNAT.

The Toronto News, the Mail and Empire and ther Conservative journals are rolling up pious eyes of reproach because the Liberals of Fergus advertised a meeting to agree on a site for a new postoffice it is proposed to erect in that town. This action is regarded by these immaculate purists as an act of corruption, of political wrong-doing of the deepest hue. In what way? A postoffice is to be built in Fergus. A site is necessary. If the citizens hold a meeting to reconcile conflict-claims, and to come to an agreement upon a site one element of complication would be eliminated. By way of illustration. If the Conservatives of Peterborough had held a meeting in 1882-3, to settle the site of the postoffice to be erected here, their would not have been the expensive squabble that resulted between two factions of Conservatives each wanting, or wanting to furnish, a different site. To save wrecking the local party over the question, the Solomonic judgment was given that both sites should be purchased, the postoffice erected on one and the customs house on the other, although there was room on either lot for both buildings. Thus was peace purchased as between the two Conservative factions at the expense of the public. If the Conservatives at that time had anticipated thes enable action of the Fergus people, and held a meeting to decide upon a lot which would have been satisfactory, the public would not, as was done, have been held up for the price of an additional corner lot, and of two separate buildings, which, from a structural point of view might have been economically combined on either of the two rival lots. If the "Grits" of Fergus agree upon a site for the new postoffice the Government will be saved the extra cost of buying an additional lot and putting up another building. We know persons so painfully pious that it is misery to live with them. These journals mentioned are so painfully pure as to provoke moral nausea and one would not expect them to fail to condemn the iniquity of Mr. Borden Borden bribing the electors of British Columbia en bloc by promising, if he were placed in power, to increase the provincial subsidy. They strain at a gnat and swallow a subsidy.

A RESULT OF FORESIGHT.

There is one thing about our Conservative contemporary, the World, of Toronto, that commends it generally to respect, if not always to agreement, and that is that in spite of its hide-bound Conservatism, it has an inherent principle of honesty that some times breaks loose from the straw fetters of partisanship and declares itself superior to political prejudice in a candid and refreshing manner.

In pursuance of its policy in advocacy of state-owned railways to develop the magnificent northern estate of this province, it points out the splendid results that have followed the initiating by the Ross Government of Ontario, of northern railway development, which was followed by such remarkable practical results. The World says:

NORTHERN ONTARIO IS COMING TO THE FRONT BECAUSE THE ROSS GOVERNMENT HAD THE WISDOM TO START, and the Whitney Government equal wisdom to continue and push forward. A STATE-OWNED RAILWAY FROM NORTH BAY IN THE DIRECTION OF HUDSON BAY. The result has been that the greatest silver mines in the world have been opened out, and other kinds of mining propositions are in sight. A new agricultural area has been opened up, new timber lands opened up, and a great trade will in consequence flow south to the lower portions of the province. This same state railway is supplying an outlet for the Grand Trunk Pacific, so as to reach its own eastern system by way of the new road from Cochrane to North Bay. Not only is all this so, but the state road is actually paying. It need not surprise anyone, then, if THE GOVERNMENT IS FORCED BY THESE CIRCUMSTANCES TO CONTINUE THIS POLICY OF RAILWAY DEVELOPMENT IN THE NORTHERN PORTION OF THE PROVINCE.

We are quite willing to give Sir James Whitney the credit for adopting the logic of conditions, and for carrying forward the policy of his predecessors the advantage of which had been so amply demonstrated before his accession to power, that, even if he had desired, he could not very well, without publicly flying in the face of the best interests of the province, have reversed, or even neglected it.

It is fair, therefore, while attention is called to the beneficent results of this provincial railway enterprise to remember that we owe it originally to the much maligned Ross Government.

And it might not unwarrantably be recalled that the railway enterprise in question is only the natural outgrowth of the policy of development in relation to the Ontario northland urged and impressed upon the Liberal government, if not originated, by the then representative of West Peterborough, who is therefore not unworthy of much credit for the results that have since developed, are continuing and will continue to continue—if such a form of expression is permissible — for years to come, with ever-increasing ramifications and growth in volume and value.

CANADIAN FORESTS.

Summer 10 of the bulletins of the Canadian Forestry Association is as follows:

Following close on the reports of wide-spread havoc from forest fires, more destructive and extensive than for several seasons past, comes the startling announcement that, instead of the eight hundred or one thousand million acres of forest land with which Canada has been credited, she has only about one hundred millions acres of merchantable timber, that is timber fit for pulwood or saw-timber.

Thus, at least, is the estimate of Dr. Judson F. Clark, whose general knowledge and wide practical experience of the subject entitle him to rank among the first of Canadian forestry experts. In addition to serving for several years as Forester to the Province of Ontario, Dr. Clark has had several years' experience in the timber business in British Columbia, in addition to considerable service under the U.S. Forest Service Dr. Fernow, head of the Faculty of Forestry of the University of Toronto, is not quite so pessimistic, placing Canada's area of merchantable timber at some two hundred million acres.

How far this removes Canada's timber suply from the "inexhaustible" stage in which Canadians have so long been accustomed to place it may be readily surmised. It must, however, be remembered that the world's demand for timber is yearly increasing, while the sources of supply are yearly becoming more restricted. In a very few years Canada will stand almost alone as a timber-exporting country—alone, at any rate, on this continent.

The imperative necessity, therefore, of husbanding this country's timber wealth is at once apparent, and it is a necessity that cannot be met by individual effort. To meet the case, there must be action by the governments, both federal and provincial, in the direction of the conservation of the timber wealth in their possession; fortunately by far the greater proportion of it is still in their hands. This must mean more adequate protection of existing forests from fire and the introduction of a system of scientific forestry which will bring about such treatment of the forests as will ensure their producing the greatest possible crop of timber, to say nothing of the reforestation of denuded areas and the planting up of waste areas not now bearing forests.

PATRONAGE LIST IN ONTARIO.

Conservative newspapers that effect to sneer at the abolition of the patronage lists by Liberal Ministers at Ottawa would show some sincerity were they to demand the abolition of the extreme patronage system worked under the Whitney Government in Ontario. Never in the whole history of this province was the power of government patronage used for party purposes as systematically and as insolently as by Cabinet Ministers in the present Ontario Government.

As never before the licensing power is used wholly for party purposes, and holders of liquor licenses are coerced into doing campaign service. As never before the power of the Crown in the matter of mining claims and timber limits is exercised wit party ends in view. As never before the civil service is made part of the campaign machinery. As never before the administration of justice, the most sacred obligation of the government, is under the gravest suspicion, and the action of the Attorney-General's Department during the recent Dominion elections in respond to a demand for organizers and polling booth helpers from party friends in Northern Ontario gave just ground for suspicion. Indeed, were protests filed and prosecuted in at least a dozen constituencies there would be revealed a system of coercion and a prostitution of the offices of the Provincial Government in the Federal elections, involving Cabinet Ministers and Conservative candidates and members of Parliament, such as might surprise and possibly shock even the smug hypocrisy of the Toronto Conservative journals. From what is known of the facts in several constituencies not even partisan administration of Ontario justice could hide the corruption and criminality in which some Conservative candidates and party leaders were involved in the recent Dominion elections.—Toronto Globe.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Brantford Expositor invites any person who is sceptical as to the existence of an Ontario Government "patronage list" to peruse the Public Accounts of the province.

Of the 22,609 miles of railway operated in Canada in 1907, Ontario had the largest share, 7,638 miles. Manitoba, 3,074 miles; Saskatchewan, 2,025 miles and Alberta, 1,323 miles.

There's nothing Hays-y in the outlook of the president of the Grand Trunk Pacific. He foresees that Prince Rupert, the Pacific terminus of the G.T.P. will be a big city in a few years.

The frantic anxiety of the British suffragettes for votes is amply explained. Mrs. Humphrey Ward's sister says votes for women would give them added value and dignity in the eyes of men and they would be sought in marriage, or they would seek outlets for their energies in countries where women are at a premium.

Within the last thirty years exclusive of the present year, 1956 persons are known to have perished on this continent in forest fires or fires caused by burning forests. The death list for 1908 amounts to 296, perhaps even more. The average annual loss of life from this cause has thus been about seventy-two, in addition to the incalculable loss of value in destroyed timber.

The Democratic party in the United States is dropping Bryan as presidential candidate. He is a nice man, a clever man and an honest man, but he can't win elections and won't do. Those good Conservatives who favour the deposition of Mr. Borden because he is not a winner, have their contentions strengthened by the attitude of the Democrats across the border. Mr. Borden is unable to win anything but respect; but respect does not carry the patronage, and is therefore unsatisfactory to the average practical Conservative politician.

New York State has adopted a marriage license system. The fee is only a dollar as against $2 for the same document in Canada—no doubt a proper expression of the relative value of Yankee and Canadian brides. But there is a condition attached to this bargain day price for brides. Both bride and groom have to appear in person before the issuer of marriage licenses, tell their story, answer prescribed questions and swear to their statements. How would a blushing Canadian bride-to-be like to submit to such an ordeal? If the man were worth it she wouldn't mind so much, for once married in this country brides stay married, while in the United States, there may be for all we know a divorce coupon attached to every marriage license.

THE SALVATION ARMY AND MOVING PICTURES

Examiner Special.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—The moving picture craze which has captured Montreal has spread to the Salvation Army, and Commissioner Coombs has conceived the idea of using them in connection with his evangelistic work. The commissioner is now in Montreal and will use them in connection with the addresses that he will deliver this evening and to-morrow at the Citadel. These pictures are a series of films showing the Life of Christ, from Bethlehem to Calvary. The meeting this evening will be for soldiers and ex-Salvationists in the Citadel, and to-morrow evening in Stanley Hall, when the Hon. W. A. Weir will preside and the subject will be "a Modern Crusade."

Canadian Statesmen Not Anxious to be Buried in House of Lords —An Early Session of Parliament is Certain—First Canadian Gold Coin—Liberals Want to Keep Weak Opposition Leader Where He Is—Railway Commission's Report on the New Transcontinental Line.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—The news from London that the scheme of the British House of Lords for reforming themselves contemplates that the Governor-General of Canada shall be ex-officio a member of the "reformed" Lords, and that twenty years service in the House of Commons shall also make a Commoner a member of the Upper House, does not appeal to the ambition of Canadian statesmen. Most of our foremost men on both sides of politics, are already members of His Majesty's Privy Council, and that is a dignity, and a degree nearer the Throne, than is occupied by the gentlemen of the Upper House ermine. The necessity for suppressing the vacuous youths and the offensive old men to make the Tory majority [illegible] of Lords, can not and it not be in any such processes he will of the British people is going to be established in its natural and rightful supremacy, and no sop to Cerberus can stay its march of national supremacy.

The burning question of the hour is, "When will Parliament meet?" According to the best information the coming session will be called for January 15th, though if the Auditor-general's report, and other important public reports can be had from the Government printing house in sufficient time, it may be even earlier. An authoritative announcement will be made in a few days.

The first Canadian gold to be coined at the Mint here will be from a half dozen small gold bricks, aggregating 70 ounces, brought to the Mint yesterday from the Dr. Reddick Larder Lake gold mines. There being no Canadian gold coins authorized at present, the gold will be made into English sovereigns. Permission to mint these was granted to the Ottawa branch of the Royal Mint last year.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, just before sailing for England yesterday, announced that he was not an aspirant for H. L. Borden's position as leader of the Canadian forlorn hope. This news is received with great contentment by the Liberal leaders, for they recognize that in a weak and inconsequent leadership of the gentlemen who are anxious to break into the pressure of office and enjoyment there is a good prospect for an indefinite supremacy of Liberal principle.

The National Transcontinental Railway Commission reports that excellent progress is being made with the construction of the new National Railway between Moncton and Winnipeg. The whole of the line is under contract, and on the eastern and western ends, where the contractors were able to reach the scene of operations with their men and supplies without great difficulty, work is well advanced. Considerably over 150 miles of steel has been laid, and there is a great deal more of the grading completed, while much progress has been made in grading, rock cutting and bridging other portions of the line. Most of the actual work has been done from Moncton to the St. Lawrence and from the St. Lawrence to Weymontachene, two hundred miles west, so far as the eastern end is concerned, and from Winnipeg to Superior Junction, so far as the western end is concerned. There has also been considerable construction work in the centre of the line in the vicinity of Lake Abitibi. The total expenditure on the road is now over forty million dollars.

Procurator for Alberta and Oblate Order.

Examiner Special.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 4.—Rev. Father P. O. Cornelier, bursar of Ottawa University, has been appointed procurator for Alberta for the Oblate order and will leave for his new position early next week. Father Cornelier was born in Montreal, has been with the college for three years in the capacity of bursar. He was one of the most able men who have filled the position at the university, and his appointment to the new post is taken as a tribute to his ability. He will in his new position look after the affairs of the whole province, and will be stationed at Edmonton.

CHAMPION HOAGLAND BEATS FIELD OF SIX IN 3-HOUR WALKING MATCH

The Trenton American says:

Willie A. Hoagland, the American champion heel-and-toe walker, of Auburn, N.Y., last evening won the three-hour heel-and-toe race at the Second Regimental Armory. Hoagland was opposed by a field of six walkers, including Brown, the New York State wonder, and Sinclair, of Brooklyn, besides Weier, Reed and Knowles, of this city. He covered 19 miles and 3 laps, beating out Reed by a single lap.

The surprise of the race was the showing of young Reed, the newcomer in the walking game. Reed has never before been in a race of such length, and was an unknown quantity when the event started. Previous to the race Hoagland was picked by the wise ones to win, but there was hardly a person in the hall except Reed himself who thought that he would beat Weier.

Before many miles had been reeled off, however, it was apparent that Reed was to figure in the fight for second money. By consistently following the pace set by Champion Hoagland, Reed lapped Weier during the first five miles and at the 12th mile added another lap to his advantage. Champion Hoagland tried hard to shake Reed during the early stages of the race, but it was only after two hours had been covered that he set out a sprint that resulted in Reed's defeat.

There was a good race for fourth money between Brown and Knowles, with the Trentonian winning out.

BELLEVILLE CLUB'S MANY CANDIDATES FOR POSITIONS ON INTERMEDIATE TEAMS

Belleville Intelligencer: Hockey will be run on the proper lines in this city this winter, and the Intermediate O.H.A. team will make 'em all step some. If you don't believe it cast your eagle eye over the following list of players, every one of whom is ready to go on the ice and fight for a place:

In goal the contenders will be Charlie Dolan, Pat Robbid and a lad named Clairmont, of Tarmora, who is going to commercial college, and who is said to be a second Winchester.

Cover—It may be Doc. Gilbert, Storms Reeves or a lad named Deyman, of Collingwood, who is said to be nearly as fast as his famous brother, the pro. hockeyist.

For point—Whoever beats Pepper out of the place will have to travel some.

For rover—Take your choice of these: Bert Allen, Ernie Geen and a flyer named Westgate, from Sherbrooke, who goes to commercial college.

And these husky and fast boys are prepared to go out and win glory on the forward line: Karl Spangenberg, Jack Burke, Bowen, Webster, of Valleyfield or Lindsay, of Albert College.

Others may be dug up before the referee's bell rings, but at this distance it looks as though a swift team can be picked from the above bunch.

The chances are the team will be in a strong group. It looks like Lindsay, Peterborough, Oshawa and Belleville.

LINDSAY TO PLAY OFF WITH PARKDALE FOR JUNIOR DOMINION CHAMPIONSHIP

This being Lindsay's first year in the pigskin game and winning the championship without a single defeat seems of a remarkable character. The boys, under Manager McHugh's and Capt. Cotton's instructions, have certainly put up a fine season, and to complete the autumn work they will meet on Saturday the 5th inst., the Parkdale twelve for the Dominion Junior R. F. U. championship at Toronto.

At last it is expected that the Lindsay boys will play this game on Saturday. Word was received by the manager of the local team that this was the date chosen and the Lindsay boys will likely accept the invitation.

The team from its last workout on the grounds could not be in better shape and the rules of the game as well as the signs have been well planted into their caps, not in their boots.

The game in the town has not taken on the hold on the town citizens it should, and the boys cannot do the work unless the support is given them by their townspeople, for whose name they are fighting to win the championship and have it put down as "Lindsay Junior R. F. U. Champions of Canada."

The locals will leave on Saturday morning of the before mentioned date for the Queen City and those following them, it is expected will get club rates.

The following is the expected lineup which will form the stone wall against the Parkdale twelve.

Sylvester, full back; B. Greene, F. Greene, and Cotton, halves; Kilten, quarter; McQuorrie, Dougan and Newton, scrimmage; McHugh, Koyl, Conway, Murdie, McKenzie, McGregor, wings, spares, Bigelow and Nesbitt.—Lindsay Free Press.

MIDGETS MAKE THEIR DEBUT BY TAKING THREE FROM LOCK WORKS

The Midgets signalized their entry to the ten pin league by taking three straight games from the Lock Works at the P.B.C. last night. The bowling was not up to the mark, both teams being off colour, but despite rather indifferent work of the trundlers the games were always interesting, particularly the final contest which was so close that a spare would have thrown it to the Lock Works on the ninth frame, but the whole three members of the team ran into successive splits, and thus the game was irrevocably lost, seven pins only separating the teams at the finish.

The scores in all cases were small, the Lock Works failing to reach the four hundred mark in any game, and the Midgets were very little better, exceeding the figure mentioned in only two games. Giroux was high man for the winners with 464, the high single of the evening being a small 167.

To-night a double header will be played, the Exam B's making their debut in league company against the great and only Hutch's Hams, while Big Chief Martin and his Iroquois braves will endeavour to take the scalp of the mighty warriors from the B.A.C. To-morrow night the Midgets and the little busy B's from the Exam. will hook up.

Last night's scores follows:

Midgets

Giroux	167	152	145—	464
Brown	114	125	117—	356
Hayes	147	133	128—	408
	428	410	390—	1,228

Lock Works

Westbrooke	99	130	115—	344
LePlante	114	131	148—	393
Lacheur	121	112	120—	353
	334	373	383—	1,090

SHERRING VS. LONGBOAT AND SHRUBB

Proposal That He Should Meet the Englishman and the Indian.

There are many fans in town who would like to see Billy Sherring take a crack at Longboat, Dorando & Co. Indoors Sherring would stand a grand chance of trimming them all. The best judge of space in the games with wonderful sprinting abilities. Sherring would make a grand showing indoors, while on the road he would be just about as good. There is no doubt but that the Hamilton runner is just as good to-day as when he won the Athens' race, and he could pick up a very nice little bank roll in a couple of races with Longboat and Shrubb. Sherring, Shrubb, and Longboat represent the bunch of long-distance runners, but it is hardly likely that Billy will make the trip as the other pair have done. But is still looking ahead to Athens.—Hamilton Spectator.

PITRE OF SHAMROCKS TO PLAY WITH EDMONTON

Pitre yesterday handed over his health officer's badge and uniform to the authorities at the City Hall, and drawing his pay right up to the moment has quit his job to go west and play for the Edmonton team, whose offer, which is said to be $1,200, he has accepted. He will be back here towards the end of the month with the challengers. He leaves for the west to-day.

The loss of Pitre to Shamrocks will be considerable. The Irishmen are getting their team under way now. One of the officers of the club said this morning that they had forwarded two contracts to outside men to be filled in and returned. The team, he also said, should be pretty well known by another week.—Montreal Star.

A MEETING OF THE TURF CLUB

Was Held Last Night — Arrangements Completed For Christmas Matinee

A meeting of the Turf Club was held last night in the City Hotel, when business connected with the Christmas matinee, which is to be held on the afternoon of the 24th, was transacted, and everything is now in readiness for the event. Mr. Martin Connors was chosen as starter and, with Mr. William Rudkins, will also act as judge. Mr. Herb Kendry and Dr. King will be timers. The men who will act at the gate are Messrs. Fred Boland, Jas. Sutherland and John Clancy. The matinee is causing considerable interest among the local horsemen and those interested in clean races, and a good turn out is expected.

WILL WRESTLE IN THE GRAECO-ROMAN STYLE

Raou. de Rouen, the French wrestler, will have an opportunity of showing just how good he is at his favourite style of Graeco-Roman wrestling, when he meets Manigoff, the clever Turk, at Shamer Park next Friday night.

Manigoff is one of the best Graeco-Roman wrestlers in the game to-day, and he has taken the measure of all the aspiring champions on the other side of the line, so that his appearance here to-morrow night for the first time, should be the means of bringing a large crowd to see the big fellows battle for the premier honours.

For the winner of this match will undoubtedly be the one to claim the championship of America, and as de Rouen feels keenly his defeat at the catch-as-catch-can style by Yusuf Mahmout, two weeks ago, it is up to him to show that he is master of them all at his own favourite style.

The usual preliminaries will precede the main bout.—Montreal Star.

RUGBY

It looks like Parkdale Canoe Club I. team for the Dominion Rugby honours in the junior series.

Varsity III. has defaulted its C.R.U. semi-final game for Saturday against Dr. Weismiller's crew, and President Hendry has ordered Lindsay, winners of the Junior O.R.F.U. to meet Parkdale, winners of the Interprovincial here on Saturday. Harry Griffith will likely referee.

Lindsay will be a custard pie for the Canoeists, who really have a team of intermediate calibre. Down Montreal way they say Parkdale I. would trim any of the intermediate teams without disturbing the creases in their pants.—Toronto Star.

First National Missionary Policy As Described By The Secretary, J. Campbell White

Interdenominational Missionary Campaigns in Leading Canadian Cities—Co-operation of Canadian Churches.

A SEPARATE CONVENTION

J. Campbell White, General Secretary Laymen's Missionary Movement writing in The Presbyterian on the Laymen's Missionary Movement says:

The churches of Canada are moving steadily toward the adoption of a definite policy which contemplates the evangelization in this generation of their share of the world. This will be the first time in history that the combined Christianity of a nation has declared and accepted its proportion of national and international religious responsibility. During the months of September and October, under the auspices of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, interdenominational missionary campaigns were held in twenty-four of the leading cities of Canada, reaching all the way from Sydney, Nova Scotia, to Victoria on Vancouver Island. It was a transcontinental campaign four thousand miles long, crowded into seven weeks. Although held during the period of active political agitation immediately preceding the general Dominion elections, the interest displayed and the readiness of men to take hold of the missionary enterprises of the Church, impressed the leaders of this campaign as unprecedented and truly marvellous.

While the whole series of meetings was planned by the Canadian Council of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, it had the most cordial endorsement and co-operation of the various missionary societies. Twenty-one secretaries and district superintendents of the Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian Missionary Boards took active part in the campaign, some of them covering the entire series from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Never before have the secretaries of all these boards undertaken to co-operate in this splendid and promising fashion. It was the greatest exhibition of Church unity ever witnessed in North America. More impressive still, perhaps, was the fact that the bulk of the speaking at all the meetings was done by laymen, over twenty of whom took active part in the work. Several of these mene left their business for a period of from two to six weeks each, and at their own expense travelled from Toronto and Montreal as far east as Halifax and Sydney, and west to Vancouver and Victoria, in order to assist in enlisting the men of Canada as backers and advocates of an adequate missionary programme. Such practical demonstration of conviction on the part of business and professional men commanded attention everywhere, and produced an impression upon other laymen more profound and permanent than would have been otherwise possible. It was my great privilege as General Secretary of the Movement to take part in the whole series of meetings.

Will Canada evangelize her share of the world, was the one question asked and considered by all of the twenty-four cities visited. After careful consideration of the responsibilities involved, lasting in most cases through a period of three days, an unqualified affirmative was given to this question by every city. Practical plans were also adopted by each city looking towards the immediate securing of the funds required to meet its share of the aggregate amount needed.

An equitable distribution of the non-Christian world among the Christian nations, gives Canada about forty millions of people to evangelize, outside of her own territory. To maintain an adequate force of workers among this number it is estimated that $3,200,000 annually will be required. At present Canada's contribution to foreign missionary work is about $800,000 per year. To meet the home missionary problems in the Dominion itself, it has been estimated by Home Missionary leaders that $1,300,000 annually would suffice. The total for Home and Foreign Missions would thus be four and a half millions annually. As Canada has 900,000 communicant Church members, an average of $5.00 per year from all of them would produce the total amount believed to be needed. As the cities, however, are important centres of wealth and influence, it was recognized that their contributions should be higher than the average required from the entire Church. As a matter of fact, the sums deliberately assumed by the twenty-four cities visited work out an average of $7.38 per church member. The lowest average undertaken by any city is $5.00 per communicant. Winnipeg undertook $10.00 per member, the highest standard ever set by a city; Calgary $8.88; Vancouver $8.62; Toronto and Montreal $8.33 each. In the twenty-four cities visited there are 209,000 church members. They contributed last year to missionary purposes a total of $542,000. They have now undertaken to increase this to a total of $1,544,000 annually. In other words, 23 per cent. of the church membership of Canada have undertaken to raise over one-third of the entire amount needed to prosecute the missionary work of the Dominion on what is believed to be an adequate scale.

This represents only the action of the twenty-four cities in which campaigns have been held. But there were present at these centres hundreds of delegates from other cities and towns who have returned to set similar methods into operation in their own communities. In each of these cities an interdenominational Co-operating Committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement has been appointed, charged with the duty of assisting all congregations in the city to reach their maximum missionary efficiency, and also to take the initiative in propagating the work throughout the surrounding district. The culmination of the entire campaign is to be a Canadian Laymen's Missionary Congress, to be held at Toronto, March 31 to April 4, 1909. Two thousand men from every section of the Dominion will be brought together on this occasion, to consider and adopt an adequate national missionary policy.

All of the Churches in Canada are co-operating to the full extent of their power in this national campaign of education and enlistment. There will be a complete separate convention held by the men of each of the denominations during the forenoons of the Congress period. All of the afternoons and evenings will be given up to the sessions of the Laymen's Missionary Congress. This will be the largest, the most representative, and the most influential body of men ever assembled to consider their own and their nation's responsibility for the evangelization of the world. It will be the first time in history that a national missionary policy has been adopted.

Many of the most influential Christian laymen of North America and of Great Britain will share in the discussions. Some of the most distinguished men who have served in India and China during our generation will be present. Massey Hall has been secured for all the sessions of the Congress. Details of the programme are being wrought out with the utmost care by the Canadian Council of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, of which Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., is the chairman. It is confidently expected that the representative men of Canada will adopt at this Congress a missionary policy which will challenge the attention, the admiration and the imitation of Christendom.

A DOCTOR'S ADVICE

For Chronic Coughs and Colds a Prominent Atlanta Physician Says Nothing Equals Vinol.

"I want people to know, that I believe the most valuable cod liver oil preparation, the best body-builder, health-restorer and strength-creator known to medicine to-day is Vinol.

"I advise Vinol in my practice, and find it has no equal for healing coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and sore lungs.

"I have used Vinol in many cases of indigestion, mal-assimilation, and for patients who have no appetite, were anaemic and run-down, with splendid results. I have also found Vinol to be a boon to the aged.

"I believe Vinol to be well worthy of any honest physician's endorsement." Dr. J E Ennis, Atlanta, Ga.

Vinol contains no injurious drugs, but it actually does contain peptonate of iron and all of the medicinal, curative elements taken from fresh cods' livers, without a drop of oil to upset the stomach and retard its work.

Those who try it and receive no benefit may have their money returned on demand. McDermid & Jury, druggists, corner George and Charlotte streets, also Payne's drug store, corner George and Simcoe streets.

SOME DON'TS FOR POULTRY KEEPERS

Some Timely Advice That Poultry Men Will Appreciate.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Don't keep old stock nor drones, it don't pay.

Don't let the young cockerels run with the pullets.

Don't forget to save a few barrels of road dust.

Don't put off fixing up the poultry houses till cold weather.

Don't forget to put in one or two cloth windows for fresh air.

Don't forget to put away some green stuff and clover for the winter months.

Don't put your fowls in winter quarters without a thorough cleaning of the floors, roosts and interior.

Don't let the fowls waste the feed—a shallow box with a slat follower will do the business.

Don't forget that a wire screen door is as beneficial in winter, as in summer, for the hen house.

Don't advertise yourself as a specialist, or an expert, if you have not exhibited your stock at the poultry shows.

Don't forget that plenty of fresh air, as well as clean food and fresh water, is essential to good health and prosperity.

Don't let the nesting material remain too long in the nests; fresh straw with tobacco stems, or lice powder, in the nest boxes is very attractive to "biddy."—F. C. E.

SENTINEL LODGE TO HOLD CONCERT

First Regular Meeting of Sentinel Lodge Held This Week.

The first regular meeting of Sentinel Lodge, No. 66, L.O.B.A., was held on Tuesday evening last in the Orange Hall, Simcoe street. There was a large attendance of members and after the transaction of the regular business a pleasant evening was spent. It was decided to give a social and entertainment on Friday evening, the 11th inst., in the Foresters' Hall, George street, over the Crystal. A musical and literary programme will be provided and refreshments served at the close.

It is expected that the Rev. A. H. Bracce, of Cobourg, will be present and deliver an address.

DEATH OF PROMISING YOUNG MAN

Frederick Harold McLean Passes Away at Age of 23 Years.

Death summoned last night at the early age of twenty-three years and two months, Frederick Harold McLean, 337 McDonel street. About thirteen months ago the deceased became ill from tuberculosis and gradually became weaker until death summoned him last night, a few minutes after five o'clock. The young man came to Peterborough about three and a half years ago with his parents, from Midland, where he was born. He was a painter by trade and was well known among that fraternity in Peterborough. He was a member of No. 4 Company, 57th Regiment, and was well liked by all his acquaintances there.

Surviving him, besides his parents, are three brothers, Robert of Toronto, Charles of Parry Sound, and George of Peterborough, and two sisters, Lillian at home, and Martha in Toronto. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery. The Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's Church, at which the deceased was an attendant, will officiate at the funeral.—Midland and Toronto papers please copy.

SATISFACTORY YEAR AT YOUNG'S POINT FACTORY

Value of Milk Per Standard Reaches Sum of $29.42.

The annual settlement meeting of the patrons of the Young's Point Cheese Factory was held at the factory on Tuesday afternoon, November 24th at which a large number of patrons were in attendance. The secretary presented his report, which showed that though the make of cheese was smaller than usual, owing to the dry summer, the quality of the cheese was excellent, and the high prices realized made it a profitable season for all concerned.

Following is a synopsis of the report:

Amount of milk received, 750,648 lbs.

Amount of cheese made, 69,703 lbs.

Number lbs. milk to 1 lb. cheese 10.77.

Average price of cheese, 11.80c.

Value of milk per standard to patrons, $29.42.

Gross value, $8,407.85.

Largest patrons, James Northey, Sr., John McFarlane, Joseph Harvey.

A. A. Smith, secretary.

A CHRISTIAN SCIENCE DAILY

Recently Instituted in Boston—The Daily Monitor.

Christian Science has now its own daily paper. As the founder of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy started twenty-five years ago a monthly publication called The Christian Science Journal, which was the first periodical to circulate a current literature "that healed." Fifteen years later The Christian Science Sentinel, a weekly paper, was established, and now appears the first issue of The Christian Science Monitor, a daily, in which it is hoped by Mrs. Eddy and her followers that their cause will find fuller expression. Published in Boston, the Monitor, apart from the views it is intended to promulgate, is, judging from the first issue, a newspaper in a real sense. It has a comprehensive and well-selected service of news, and in its main features is not easily distinguished from the ordinary American daily. There is a sporting page, a financial page and a page for women and children, while the editorials deal with topics of general interest. The career of this novelty in journalism will be watched with interest. — Toronto Globe.

SECURES CHEQUE FOR $100 ON A NEW PIANO

Mr. Lowry's Estimate of Popular Vote Was 14,350,000.

Mr. S. W. Lowry, while in Buffalo a day or two prior to the Presidential elections, was given an opportunity, and accepted it, of making an estimate on the amount of the popular vote. Prizes to the extent of $7,500 were offered by the Poppenburg Piano Co., and Mr. Lowry received a cheque yesterday for $100 on one of their pianos. His estimate of the vote was 14,350,000.

Publication Of The Milk T ts Supported By The City Fathers

Some of the milk vendors of the city are much opposed to the monthly testing of the milk, and especially to the publishing of the results. Mayor Rach stated at the meeting of the Whole Council last night that several had spoken to him regarding it with a view to having the practice discontinued. When it was broached to the rest of the aldermen there was a general decided negative reply, all the members being satisfied that the regular monthly inspection is a step in the right direction, and was leading to the improvement of the quality of that which was now being delivered.

The milkmen contend that their milk will not test high after it has been drawn around in the cans. Ald. Gillespie stated that this was all nonsense. Milk will last exactly the same no matter ho wlong it has been carried around, so long as the cream was not floating. The aldermen being all opposed to the discontinuance of the testing, the monthly reports will be published after they are made.

Modern Bridge At Smith Stree Will Cost Nearly $50,000.0

One of the important questions that is before the city council is the Smith street bridge, which has more than once received attention from the authorities, who feel that the old wooden span should go and a modern structure replace it. At the meeting of the whole council last night Ald. Phelan asked the committee to decide on what sum they would ask for to build the bridge. The engineer's estimate for an 18-foot span was $40,0 and for twenty-four foot spa which wo accommodate the street railway tr that the ter sum be asked for, and if smaller bridge is deci upon extra money need not used. T was carried. The counc intends build a thoroughly mo n bri and the size decided upon depend upon the intentio of Street Railway Company.

WEDDING BELLS

KEMP—COVENEY

The wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock at the residence of Mr. Stephen Coveney 84 Dunlop street, of his eldest daughter, Elizabeth, who was united in marriage to Mr. Frederick Thos. Kemp. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Pearson, pastor of the George Street Methodist Church, in the presence of about twenty guests.

After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding repast was served and hearty congratulations bestowed upon the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemp will reside in Douro.

The Fraternal Visit Of Prominent Officials Of The Painters Association

The Newly Organized Peterboro' Branch and its Work — Addresses by Messrs. Hughes and O'Hearn.

WHAT OFFICIAL ORGAN SAYS

The Canadian Painter and Decorator in its last issue says:

The newly organized Master Painters and Decorators' Association received a fraternal call on the evening of November 3rd from Mr. Stewart N. Hughes, ex-president of the International Association of the United States and Canada, and Mr. Jas. J. O'Hearn, chairman of the Commmittee on Furtherance of Organization of the Canadian Association.

The visiting friends were met at the station by President Cook, and other members of the Peterborough Association, and escorted to their hall, Simcoe street, where the meeting was held.

President Cook occupied the chair, and after briefly expressing the pleasure it afforded him on behalf of the Peterborough Association to welcome their friends from Toronto, called upon Senator O'Hearn as the first speaker.

Senator O'Hearn congratulated the master painters and decorators of Peterborough on having formed an association, and said it was a pleasure for him to meet President Cook who was an old friend. He was pleased to be present, although he had to leave other important engagements in order to do so. He was always willing to do what he could in order to benefit his fellow craftsmen. Their interests as painters were one, and it should be the desire of all to elevate the standard of the craft. Painters as a rule did not hold the position in the community which they should. They were just as intelligent and capable as the members of any other craft but whilst manufacturers and other business men were represented on public boards and in our Councils, it was seldom that you found a painter being thus honoured. The object of an association is to elevate the trade. It creates confidence and you are not pitted one against the other. It does away with the cut-throat policy which usually obtains where there is no organization. All others have their organizations, and surely it cannot truthfully be said that the painters have not brains enough to organize. Wherever it has been tried it has proven a great success, and no doubt it will prove equally successful in the City of Peterborough. It gives an opportunity of meeting on friendly terms, and you will find that the other fellow is not such a bad chap after all when you come to know him better. You can be mutually helpful in discussing your difficulties. You don't meet to rob the people or put up jobs on the community. By getting a fair price, you can do better work, and will consequently be in a position to give your men better pay. Ask the master painters of Toronto, Hamilton, London or Galt, and you will find that they will bear me out as to the beneficial effects of an association. You should elect good officers and then heartily support them. There was something better than the almighty dollar to be sought after. The goodfellowship of your fellowmen was infinitely better than dollars and cents. In concluding an excellent and inspiring address the Senator spoke of the great educational factor of conventions and expressed the hope that Peterborough would be well represented at the Canadian Convention next summer.

Mr. Stewart N. Hughes, of Toronto ex-president of the Master House Painters and Decorators' Association of the United States and Canada, was next called upon. Mr. Hughes said that the ground had been so thoroughly covered by the Senator that it left very little for him to add to what had already been so well said. However, he wished to congratulate the master painters of Peterborough on the step which they had taken. Men were becoming wiser in the matter of bettering their respective callings. Builders' Exchanges were drawing the trades together in an affiliation which should prove mutually helpful. The painter was no longer following the chimney sweep to clean up the "muss," but he was regarded as an artist, whose views carried weight when the decoration of the home was under discussion. The exchange of ideas was always helpful. He advised the reading of trade journals, by that means you get in touch with the best minds throughout the country. He spoke of the success which had attended the organization of the Toronto Association. The coldness and jealousy incident to keen competition had been turned into warm-hearted fellowship and a desire to see your fellow-craftsmen prosper. They bore no enmity toward the workmen. They wanted the best and were willing to pay the highest wages. Mr. Hughes humourously told of his visit to the International Association at Buffalo some years ago. He felt like a bump on a log on that occasion, but was so inspired by the convention that he determined to do what he could to further association work in Canada. The Canadian Association was organized, and has been a great success ever since its inception. The name of the International had been changed so as to include Canada. He was satisfied with every cent that he had laid out in association work. He considered it the best outlay he had ever made. There was a fraternity of feeling in the association which could not be valued in dollars and cents. The best of good feeling existed amongst the master painters of Toronto, and they were always willing to help each other to the utmost of their ability. He advised the Peterborough Association to make their meetings interesting by the reading of practical papers followed by discussions. It would be wise to plan to have a large deputation present at the next Canadian Convention, and also at the great International Convention which was to take place in Baltimore in February next. He could assure the members of the Peterborough Association that the Toronto brethren would be only too happy to assist them in any way. An excellent book on prices and measurements had been issued, and he would be pleased to send a copy to each of the members. He was sure they would find it a great help in the important matter of figuring. He would suggest that they be not over-anxious to get all the painters into the association. There were always a number who were better on the outside. It was only the cream of the trade that they needed to make their organization a success. He hoped the association would see the wisdom of inviting the Canadian Association to meet in their city at an early date, as the convention always proved a great uplift to local organization.

Mr. H. G. Hawkins, of the Canadian Painter and Decorator, was called upon, and assured those present that the aim of the official organ was to elevate the standard of the painting and decorating trade. The columns of the Journal would always be open for the discussion of trade matters, and he hoped full advantage would be taken of this privilege.

Mr. W. Edwards, seconded by Mr. J. P. Shevlin, moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Toronto friends for the able and inspiring addresses which they had delivered. The motion was carried amidst applause.

Senator O'Hearn briefly responded to the vote of thanks and assured the members of the Peterborough Association that it had been a great pleasure to meet and have a heart to heart talk about matters which were of vital interest to all master painters.

A number of the Peterborough friends spoke of the difficulties which confront them, but they were all quite sanguine that the association would aid very much in bringing about a better condition of affairs in the painting trade.

President Cook said he was delighted with the meeting of that evening and was quite sure that the local association would reap great benefit from the fraternal visit of the Toronto friends.

Mr. W. Edwards said the facts presented by the visiting brethren had been a revelation to him, and although they may not have the same advantages as those which obtain in the larger cities, yet he was convinced that the association would have a most beneficial effect upon local conditions.

Mr. Shevlin said that the local painters were at the mercy of the general contractors. He could not see why a carpenter should be asked to look after the painting. Painters are almost forced to be dishonest in order to come within the figures forced upon them. A job that is worth $150 could not be done for $100, and yet they were expected to do it. The painter's profits have not increased in ratio to the increased cost of living. Mr. Shevlin spoke of other difficulties with which they had to grapple, and he was a firm believer that if the members of the association put their foot down on the present methods of doing business, that a much better state of affairs would speedily be brought about.

Mr. G. H. Duncan expressed his delight at being present, and regretted that there was not a larger attendance. He would do all in his power to make the association a success.

Mr. J. N. Watson was of opinion that if each member put his shoulder to the wheel the association was bound to be a success. He was delighted with the addresses to which he had listened, and was quite sure they would inspire those present to give their best efforts to the upbuilding of a strong association.

After a pleasant half hour spent in social chat over general trade conditions, the meeting adjourned.

PRINCE RUPERT HARBOR

It was erroneously reported in a recent press despatch that the surveys made by H.M.S. "Egeria" last summer indicated that the Brown Passage between Dundas and Stephen Islands, the most direct entrance to Prince Rupert Harbour, is so studded with reefs as to make safe navigation impossible. This is emphatically contradicted by Mr. W P Anderson, the Chief Engineer of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, at Ottawa, who was on board the "Egeria" last month and saw the captain's plans of the survey of the passage. There are reefs on each side of the passage, but the passage itself is clear for a width of between two and three miles. Stenhouse shoal and Hammer Rocks mark the northern limits of clear water and the North Breaker, which shows well above the water, is the southern boundary of the clear passage. When these points have been marked by lights, there will not be the slightest difficulty or danger in entering through that approach. A gas buoy has already been moored on Stenhouse shoal, just outside of the passage; with that aid alone and with the North Breaker showing, the largest sized vessel can now go through in perfect safety, day or night. It is the opinion of the Chief Engineer that Brown Passage presents as clear an approach as any vessel need desire.

Board of Works Hold Final Meeting For The Present Year

Ald. Phelan's Committee Have Arrived at End of Their Tether After Four Busy Seasons—Their Concluding Business.

A CLAIM FOR DAMAGE

The last meeting of the Board of Works for the year was held last night, when the committee cleared off the slate and got everything in shape for Monday night's meeting. All the members were present and they closed a most successful season.

Sewer Extension

Mr. Taylor was present and asked to have the Aylmer street sewer extended north of Smith street. He had a couple of new houses there and as there is only a stretch of about 150 feet he thought it could easily be done.

The chairman stated that if the council could get the assurance of the water commissioners that the water would be laid the council would lay the sewer.

The clerk was asked to write the commissioners and see what they were intending to do.

Mr. Little was present and stated that he had been charged with street watering and the service had been extremely unsatisfactory.

Engineer Hay will make a report on the matter.

S. Hartley wrote the committee in reference to supplying stone for crushing. No action was taken on this item.

Clause two of the building bylaw will be amended, cutting out the word iron and substituting the word concrete. Thus the bylaw will read, brick or concrete walls inside the fire limits.

The Peterborough Light and Power Company was granted permission to erect three poles on the west side of Donegal street north of Murray street.

The bylaw for $21,000 to pay for the extension of streets will be increased by $500 to provide for the purchase of a strip of ten feet on the street at the Normal school.

It was moved by Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Morgan that Father Keilty, of Douro, be offered $10 in settlement of the damage sustained by his pony some time ago in Ashburnham.

A letter was received some time ago from Wm. Logan claiming damages to his blacksmithing business while the Brock street bridge was being rebuilt. The bridge was closed for a month and a half.

There was no cause of damage to Mr. Logan's business as he had access at all times to his blacksmith shop. The city solicitor stated that there was no legal claim against the council. The committee therefore decided to take no action.

Mayor Rush Acknowledges Support Of The Aldermen

When the members of the council were almost ready to depart last night, after all the business had been completed, Mayor Rush took the opportunity of thanking them for the hearty and generous support they had given him in the civic undertakings and business during the past year, and for the invariably friendly relations that have made the council meetings so harmonious, and, necessarily beneficial to the interests dealt with. His Worship complimented them upon the cordiality shown in the discussions and in the carrying out of the different work. This expression was greeted with applause from around the board.

A RIDICULOUS "MYSTERY."

The Mail and Empire of to-day uses half a column of its precious space in an attempt to make merry over what it calls the "mysterious disappearance" of Hon. J. R. Stratton, with the view, as is insinuated, of evading service of notice of protest of the West Peterborough election. It is certainly very unkind and inconsiderate of Mr. Stratton to decline to neglect his business and not to sit with folded hands in some conspicuous and well advertised spot, waiting for the "officers of the law," to pass him a blue paper.

The opera bouffe absurdities developed in the pursuit of Mr. Stratton by his political opponents are too absurd to be even ludicrous. As the very moment when the great mind of the intellectual giant for the Mail and Empire was grinding out the pig-wash about the "mysterious disappearance" of Mr. Stratton, that gentleman was sitting quietly in one of his business offices in Toronto quietly attending to his business, not a hundred yards distant from the office of the Mail and Empire.

As a matter of fact he has been particularly occupied in over-taking the arrears of business; necessarily accumulated during his enforced absence in the election campaign, which he fought to so splendid a finish. Within the past ten days he has been in the eastern part of the Dominion atttending to important business interests he has there. What it is that troubles the Mail and Empire and his more vicious political opponents is not that he is not to be found where he is wanted, but that he has a very inconvenient way of turning up where he is not wanted except by the electors who gladly give him their confidence.

GREAT AMOUNT OF BUSINESS BY QUAKER OATS CO. AND C.P.R.

Both the Quaker Oats Company and the Canadian Pacific are "feeling their oats." To-day the despatcher sent a a freight train of thirty-three cars loaded to buffers with Quaker Oats, totalling a weight of 1350 tons. This immense consignment, which was produced and loaded in twenty-four hours, went to Montreal as a distributing point, and is a vivid demonstration of the great producing capacity of the Cereal Works, as well of shipping capacity of the C.P.R. and the big demand for Quaker Oats.

A Big Night For Aldermen At Their Last Meeting Of Ter

It looks like a big night for the Council at their last meeting of the year on Monday night next. They met in committee last night and prepared things in order that there would be a smooth running Monday night. In other words they oiled the civic cogs and the last regular assembly of the present body of representatives should be a great finish to the year's work. Among the things to be considered are two important by-laws, one the purchase of the Exhibi grounds at a cost of $30,000, and other for the appropriation of $4 for the erection of a new bridge the Otonabee at Smith street. T are a few of the details, other imp ory questions will be dealt with it is expected that the skeleton hospital will be finally and satisfacto settled.

Meeting Of Committee On The Laymen's Banquet For To-nig

The committee are making preparations for the Laymen's banquet in the George Street Methodist Church Sunday School room next Tuesday night, will meet this evening at the Y. M. C. A. The delegates from the different churches who are selling t kets are requested to report to-ni when final arrangements will made. Tickets for the banquet m be secured at the door or from representatives of the churches the committee.

THE SIMPLE WORD "YES" FROM TONGUE OF A POLISH COUNTESS MEANS THE ENDING OF THE STRANGE QUARREL OVER CROUSE MILLIONS

Why Mrs. Crouse McVickar Must Enter Upon Legal Ordeal of Poverty—She is Daughter of D. Edgar Crouse and Next of Kin—$2,000,000 Locked in the Vault.

THE COUNTESS POTULICKA

Locked in the vaults of the New York Security and Trust Company are two million dollars credited on the books to Dorothea Edgarita Crouse. Somewhere in Poland lives the one human being whose "yes" or "no" can unlock the vaults and place this fortune at the disposal of its rightful heir. If the Countess Potulicka, of Poland, is asked a certain question and answers "yes" to the satisfaction of an American jury, Dorothea Edgarita Crouse, known in childhood as "Dodo" and now Mrs. John A. McVickar, of the Teaneck district of Englewood, N. J., will be worth $2,000,000 in her own right; if the Countess's "yes" means "no" to the jury one of the boldest attempts on record to secure a fortune by means of the "bogus baby" swindle will have been frustrated. And the question which the Countess Potulicka alone can answer is: "Are you the mother of Dorothea Edgarita Crouse McVickar and was the late Daniel Edgar Crouse her father?"

According to the friends of Mrs. McVickar, here is the story upon which the question hinges:

The placing of $2,000,000 of the late Daniel Edgar Crouse's fortune in trust for Dorothea by consent of the other claimants was a guarantee of her legal and moral right to the name of Crouse. At the age of eighteen her hand was sought in marriage by Mr. John A. McVickar, a prominent young New York clubman and nephew of the late E. S. Jaffray and of Bishop McVickar, of Rhode Island. The two young people were most happily married and their beautiful home in Englewood is the scene of social gatherings to which invitations are welcomed by the best of people. And it is quite as much this happy life with husband, children and friends as the control of her $2,000,000 legacy which concerns her to-day. Few more cruel situation have been invented by the master minds of fiction.

Behind this question, now raised again after fifteen years of silence on the part of the heirs to the Crouse millions, is a strange romance of human eccentricity and passion. Daniel Edgar Crouse inherited a fortune of several millions from his father, a wholesale grocer, of Syracuse, N. Y. He was fat and lived an odd existence. He lived almost alone in Syracuse. His companions were his trainer and driver, Jack Feek, and a very few other men who had more or less to do with horses. Mr. Crouse built a palatial stable costing $750,000, and so circumscribed was the circle of his intimates that it is said that less than fifty people ever saw the inside of it. He visited New York frequently and his friends there were such men as Robert Bonner, Frank Work, Frank Ferguson, the horseman, and various hotel men. In his will he left $1,000 to Thomas Gay, the head waiter at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Despite his peculiarities Crouse was fairly well liked. He broke friendships readily and at all times was very secretive about his personal affairs. He was known moreover as a hater of women.

When he died, in 1892 it was found that his will had been drawn less than a month previously. He made handsome bequests to his jockey, his private secretary, his valet, his cook and his housekeeper. But the bulk of his estate was to go, as worded in the will, to his "next of kin." Seventeen cousins and nephews thereupon joyfully prepared to divide the millions among themselves, when suddenly a Syracuse lawyer, Louis Marshall, appeared. He secured a copy of the will and said he was acting for interested parties in New York. Then men who had known Crouse for years began to talk of a certain "Grace Wilson" and her daughter, who was, they said, Crouse's child.

This lady, who is known to be one and the same with the present Countess Potulicka, went to England in June, 1887, accompanied by a maid and a physician. The physician, it was said, accompanied her by direction of Mr. Crouse. She was twenty-seven years old then, tall, handsome and refined in her appearance. Her health was delicate. On Sept. 17, 1887, she was at Leonard-on-the-Sea, a watering place near Hastings. On that day a baby girl was born to her and a few days afterward the parish minister christened the child Dorothea Edgarita Crouse Wilson. The full name of the Syracuse millionaire was Daniel Edgar Crouse.

The mother was supplied with a monthly allowance of $500 and she lived quietly in London for some years after the birth of her child. Her social position there was never questioned. She spoke frequently of her husband as "Ed" and sent many letters and cablegrams addressed to "D. E. Wilson, care Mr. Richards, with D. Edgar Crouse, Syracuse, N. Y." She said her husband was a millionaire and that their marriage was being kept a secret until his father died.

CHATS ABOUT FAMOUS BOOKS AND THEIR AUTHORS

By F. M. D.

It must not be supposed that the Scottish nation, had not also produced by the time of Ascham eminent writers in prose and verse.

Early Writers of Scotland.

John Barbour, of Aberdeen, in the fourteenth century, had written a great poem, entitled "The Bruce," which, although he styled it a romance, has been regarded as true history by leading writers upon Scotch affairs. It is written in eight syllabled verse, and recounts the deeds of forty years, from the death of the Maid of Norway in 1290 to that of Lord James Douglas in 1330. Andrew Wyntoun, also, a Scotch priest, prior of St. Serf's at Lochleven, had written in 1420 "An Oryginale Cronykil of Scotland," embracing all the time from the creation to 1408.

"Blind Harry" also, who led a tramp-like sort of life, wandering about Scotland, reciting poems for a livelihood, had in the latter part of the 15th century composed "The Wallace," a poem of some 12,000 lines, dealing with the life and alventures of the great hero of Scotland.

The second era of English literature extending from about 1450 to 1600, had produced Robert Henryson, to whom the fine ballad in Percy's Reliques, entitled "Robin and Makyne" is ascribed. William Dunbar, also, according to Sir Walter Scott, the greatest of Scottish poets, and Gavin Douglas, known as Archibald Bell-the-Cat, from his having put to death in the presence of James III. certain obnoxious upstarts, who, owing to the King's favour had risen to positions of influence and wealth.

Archibald Bell-the-Cat.

Brewer tells the story of the nickname in this way: James III. had made favourites of certain architects and masons. One mason, named Cochrane, he created Earl of Mar. The Scotch nobles held a council in the Church of Lauder for the purpose of putting down these upstarts, when Lord Gray asked: "Who will bell the cat?" "That will I" said Douglas, and he fearlessly put to death in the King's presence, the obnoxious minions. The term "bell-the-cat" is taken from the fable of the cat and the mice. The mice agree in the fable that someone must bell the cat—the only trouble is, to find someone capable of performing the feat.

Sir David Lyndsay of the Mount, John Bellenden, and John Knox, were also writers of this era. The last named being the great Protestant reformer.

George Buchanan.

A greater than any of these, however, one whose life story is a most interesting one, was George Buchanan, in all probability the greatest Latin scholar, and the greatest writer of Latin verse, any nation outside of Italy, has ever produced.

George Buchanan was born in Dumbartonshire, in February, 1506. His father was the possessor of a farm in Stirlingshire, but died early, leaving his widow and children in poverty. In 1520 he was sent by his uncle, James Heriot, to the University of Paris, where he studied with great earnestness, and trained himself in poetical composition. His uncle died, however, two years later, and Buchanan was forced to return to Scotland. There he joined some French troops that had been brought over by the Duke of Albany, in an unsuccessful inroad into England. Following this little episode, he entered St. Andrews' University and graduated as B. A. in 1525. He returned to Paris the following year, and in 1528 obtained his M. A. degree. On leaving the university he was appointed a professor at St. Barbe College, and after three years' service in that institution returned to Scotland as tutor of Gilbert Kennedy, Earl of Cassilis.

Buchanan's Franciscanus.

In Paris Buchanan had embraced the Protestant faith, and he signalized his return to Scotland by a poem entitled "Somnium," which was a bitter attack on Monastic life. This pleased James V., who appointed him tutor to one of his sons. Thus encouraged, he wrote "Franciscanus," a work which very naturally procured him the bitterest hatred of all of the Roman Catholic faith.

Cardinal Beaton caused Buchanan's arrest, and had it not been for his fortunate escape from an upper window of the place where he was guarded, there is no doubt but that he would have shared the same fate as Patrick Hamilton, nephew of the Earl of Arran, and of George Wishart, both among the earliest of Scottish reformers, who were burnt at the stake for the promulgation of their reform doctrines. Buchanan returned to Paris, and there found, to his dismay, that Cardinal Beaton, his enemy, was on a visit to the city. He went to Bordeaux, where he acted as professor of Latin. After three years, he returned to Paris, and after a stay of another three years there as regent in the College of Cardinal leMoine, he went to Coimbra, Portugal, on the invitation of his friend, Govea, the eminent jurist, philosopher and poet. Buchanan was not allowed, however, to remain long in peace in Coimbra, as the clergy, mindful of the ridicule he had heaped on their order by his works, brought him before the Inquisition and he was sentenced to confinement in a monastery. This durance lasted several months, and it was whilst in this prison that he composed the magnificent version of the Psalms, which has rendered his name famous.

On his release, Buchanan sailed for England, but soon returned to Paris, whence, after a few years of varied employment, he returned in 1560 or 1561 to Scotland.

In 1562 he was appointed tutor to Queen Mary, who read Livy with him daily.

Buchanan Flogs King James.

Scotland was soon afterwards rent almost asunder by political troubles, and Buchanan, who had sided with Murray, the regent, was given the tuition of James VI. It was through the sound tuition and stern discipline of Buchanan that James acquired that learning that earned for him the title of the "British Solomon." The fear that he instilled into the heart of his royal pupil was so great that it is on record that James, even after he was seated on the throne, was thrown into a state of great agitation one night by the appearance of his frowning tutor, in a dream. Buchanan was once asked how he came to make a pedant of his royal pupil, and replied that it was the best he could make out of him. The following shows very clearly the stout stuff of which the stern old pedagogue was made.

"The young King being one day at play with his fellow pupil, the Master of Erskine, Buchanan was reading and desired them to make less noise. As they disregarded his admonition he told his majesty, if he did not hold his tongue, he would certainly whip him. The King replied, he would be glad to see who would bell the cat. Buchanan lost his temper, and throwing his book from him, gave his majesty a sound flogging. Here we have a second instance of the use of very clear idea of the kind of personthe term, "bell-the-cat," as well as a The story goes that the Countess of Mar rushed into the room, and taking ality embodied in George Buchanan. the King in her arms, asked how he dared to lay his hands on the Lord's anointed! The answer of the enraged tutor, is altogether too inelegant to transcribe.

Dies in Poverty.

Buchanan held certain public offices, being for a short time a director in chancery, and also Lord Privy Seal. But his latest work, De Jure Regni, which upheld the right of the people to control their rulers, alienated from him the affections of James. He died in his 77th year so poor that his remains were buried at the expense of the City of Edinburgh.

Scotland has never produced a greater scholar than Buchanan, and he well deserves his place amongst the immortals of British Literature.

NO MORE HEADACHES

Suffered From Constant Headaches—Cured by "Fruit-a-tives" When Doctors Failed.

"I was a sufferer from fearful headaches for over two years, sometimes they were so bad that I was unable to work for days at a time. I took all kinds of medicines, was treated by physicians, and yet the headaches persisted. I was rarely free from headache. A short time ago I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" and I did so with, I must confess, very little faith, but after I had taken them for three days my headaches were easier and in a week they left me. After I had taken a box of the tablets my headaches were quite cured. My appetite was always poor and my stomach bad, and now my appetite is splendid and my digestion is excellent. I had become thin and weak from the constant headaches, but now not only have I been cured of all these awful headaches, but my strength is growing up once more, and I feel like a new man. I have taken in all three boxes of "Fruit-a-tives." I am exceedingly grateful to "Fruit-a-tives" for curing me, and I give this unsolicited testimonial with great pleasure, as I hope thereby some other sufferer of headaches will be induced to try "Fruit-a-tives" and will be cured."

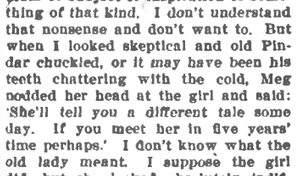
"Today in the park I met old Lady Meg Duddington. It was piercing cold, but the carriage was drawn up under the trees. The poor spaniels on the opposite seat were shivering. She stopped me and was, for her, very gracious. She only 'Lord helped me' twice in the whole conversation. She was full of her ghosts and spirits, her seers and witches. She has got hold of an entirely new prophetess, a certain woman who calls herself Mme. Mantis and knows all the secrets of the future, both this side the grave and the other. Beside Lady Meg sat a remarkably striking girl, to whom she introduced me, but I didn't catch the name. I gathered that this girl, who had an odd mark on one cheek, almost like a pale pink wafer, was, in old Meg's mad mind, anyhow, mixed up with the prophetess as medium or subject or inspiration or something of that kind. I don't understand that nonsense and don't want to. But when I looked skeptical and old Pindar chuckled, or it may have been his teeth chattering with the cold, Meg nodded her head at the girl and said: 'She'll tell you a different tale some day. If you meet her in five years' time perhaps.' I don't know what the old lady meant. I suppose the girl did, but she looked absolutely indifferent and, indeed, bored. One can't help being amused; but, seriously, it's rather sad for a man who was brought up in the reverence of Lord Dunstanbury to see his only daughter, a clever woman, too, naturally, devoting herself to such childish stuff."

beside Lady Meg sat a remarkably striking girl.

Such is the passage. It is fair to add that most of the captain's book is of more general interest. As he implies, he had had a long acquaintance with the Dunstanbury family and took a particular interest in anything that related to it. Nevertheless what he says has its place here. It fits in with and explains Lady Meg's excited and mystical exclamation to Mr. Pindar at Morpingham, "They may speak through her!" Apparently "they" had spoken, to what effect we cannot even conjecture unless an explanation be found in a letter of the Kravonian period in which Sophy says to Julia, "You remember that saying of Mantis' when we were in London—the one about how she saw something hanging in the air over my head—something bright." That is all she says, and "something bright" leaves the matter very vague. A sword, a crown, the nimbus of a saint—imagination might play untrammeled. Still some prophecy was made. Lady Meg built on it, and Sophy, for all her apparent indifference, remembered it and in after days thought it worthy of recall. That is as far as we can go, and with that passing glimpse Sophy Grouch—of course the mention of the wafer-like mark puts her identity beyond question—passes out of sight for a time. Indeed, as Sophy Grouch, in the position in which we have seen her and in the name under which we have known her, she passes out of sight forever.



Chapter Six

LADY MEG left London for Paris toward the end of 1865 or the beginning of 1866, but we hear nothing of her doings until the early summer of 1868. The veil lifts then, so far as it ever lifts from before the face of the Paris period, and shows us the establishment in the Rue de Grenelle. A queer picture it is in many ways. It gives reason to think that the state of mind to which Lady Meg had now come is but mildly described as eccentricity.

The eminent Lord Dunstanbury, Lady Meg's father, had been one of that set of English Whigs and Liberals who were much at home in Paris in the days of the July monarchy. Among his friends was a certain Marquis de Savres, the head of an old French family of royalist principles. This gentleman had, however, accepted the throne of Louis Philippe and the political principles and leadership of Guizot. Between him and Lord Dunstanbury there arose a close intimacy, and Lady Meg as a girl had often visited in the Rue de Grenelle. Changed as her views were and separated as she was from most of her father's coterie in Paris, friendship and intercourse between her and the Savres family had never dropped. The present head of the family was Casimir de Savres, a young man of twenty-eight, an officer of cavalry. Being a bachelor, he preferred to dwell in a small apartment on the other side of the river, and the family house in the Rue de Grenelle stood empty. Under some arrangement, presumably a business one, for Marquis de Savres was by no means rich, Lady Meg occupied the first floor of the roomy old mansion. Here she is found established. With her, besides three French servants and an English coachman—she has for the time apparently shaken off the spaniels—is Mlle. Sophie de Gruche, in whose favor Sophy Grouch has effected an unobtrusive disappearance.

This harmless if somewhat absurd transformation was carried out with a futile elaboration smacking of Lady Meg's sardonic perversity rather than of Sophy's directer methods. Sophy would probably have claimed the right to call herself what she pleased and left the world to account for her name in any way it pleased. Lady Meg must needs fit her up with a story. She was the daughter of a creole gentleman married to an English wife. Her mother being early left a widow, Sophy had been brought up entirely in England; hence her indifferent acquaintance with French. If this excuse served a purpose at first, at any rate it soon became unnecessary. Sophy's marked talent for languages (she subsequently mastered Kravonian, a very difficult dialect, in the space of a few months) made French a second native tongue to her within a year.

The times were stirring, a prelude to the great storm which was so soon to follow. Paris was full of men who in the next few years were to make or lose fame, to rise with a bound or fall with a crash. Into such society Lady Meg's name, rank and parentage would have carried her had she cared to go. She could have shown Sophy the emperor of the French at close quarters instead of contenting herself with a literal fulfillment of her promise by pointing him out as he drove in the streets. But Lady Meg was rabid against the empire. Her "Lord help him!"—the habitual expression of contempt on her lips—was never lacking for the emperor. Her political associates were the ladies of the Faubourg St. Germain, and there are vague indications that Lady Meg was very busy among them and conceived herself to be engaged in intrigues of vital importance. The cracks in the imposing imperial structure were visible enough by now, and every hostile party was on the lookout for its chance.

She saw the emperor drive in the streets.

As we all know, perhaps no chance, certainly no power to use a chance, was given to Lady Meg's friends, and we need not repine that ignorance spares us the trouble of dealing with their unfruitful hopes and disappointed schemes. Still, the intrigues, the gossip and the royalist atmosphere were to Sophy in some sort an introduction to political interests and no doubt had an influence on her mind. So far as she ever acquired political principles—the existence of such in her mind is, it must be confessed, doubtful—they were the tenets which reigned in the Rue de Grenelle and in the houses of Lady Meg's royalist allies.

Jean Coulin.

So on one side of Lady Meg are the nobles and their noble ladies, sulking and scheming, and on the other, a bizarre contrast, her witch and her wizard, Mme. Mantis and Pharos. Where the carcass is, there will the vultures be. Should the carcass get up and walk, presumably the vultures would wing an expectant way after it. Mme. Mantis, the woman of the prophecy about "something bright," had followed Lady Meg to Paris, scenting fresh prey. But a more ingenious and powerful scoundrel came on the scene. In association with Mantis, probably very close and not creditable association, is Pharos, alias Jean Coulin. In after days, under the republic, this personage got himself into trouble and was tried at Lille for obtaining no less a sum than 150,000 francs from a rich old royalist lady who lived in the neighborhood of the town. The rogue got his money under cover of a vaticination that MacMahon would restore the monarchy, a nearer approach to the real than he reached in his dealings with Lady Meg, but not probably on that account any the more favorably viewed by his judges.

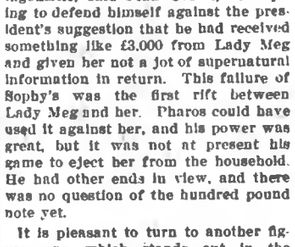
The president's interrogation of the prisoner, ranging over his whole life, tells us the bulk of what we know of him, but the earliest sketch comes from Sophy herself in one of the rare letters of this period which have survived. "A dirty, scrubby fellow, with greasy hair and a squint in his eye," she tells Julia Robins. "He wears a black cloak down to his heels and a gimcrack thing around his neck that he calls his 'periapt'—charm, I suppose he means. Says he can work spells with it, and his precious partner Mantis kisses it (italics are Sophy's) whenever she meets him. Phew! I'd like to give them both a dusting! What do you think? Pharos, as he calls himself, tells Lady Meg he can make the dead speak to her, and she says that isn't it possible that, since they've died themselves and know all about it, they may be able to tell her how not to! Seeing how this suits his book, it isn't Pharos who's going to say 'No,' though he tells her to make a will in case anything happens before he's ready to 'establish communication'—and perhaps they won't tell, after all, but he thinks they will! Now I come into the game! Me being very sympathetic, they're to talk through me (italics again are Sophy's). Did you ever hear of such nonsense? I told Master Pharos that I didn't know whether his ghosts would talk through me, but I didn't need any of their help to pretty well see through him! But Lady Meg's hot on it. I suppose it's what I'm here for, and I must let him try—or pretend to. It's all one to me, and it pleases Lady Meg. Only he and I have nothing else to do with each other! I'll see to that. To tell you the truth, I don't like the look in his eyes sometimes, and I don't think Mrs. Mantis would either!"

Marquis de Savres.

As a medium Sophy was a failure. She was antagonistic, purposely antagonistic, said Jean Coulin, attempting to defend himself against the president's suggestion that he had received something like £3,000 from Lady Meg and given her not a jot of supernatural information in return. This failure of Sophy's was the first rift between Lady Meg and her. Pharos could have used it against her, and his power was great, but it was not at present his game to eject her from the household. He had other ends in view, and there was no question of the hundred pound note yet.

It is pleasant to turn to another figure, one which stands out in the meager records of this time and bears its prominence well. Casimir, marquis de Savres, is neither futile nor sordid, neither schemer nor impostor. He was a brave and simple soldier and gentleman, holding his ancestral principles in his heart, but content to serve his country in evil times until good should come. He was courteous and attentive to Lady Meg, touching her follies with a light hand, and to Sophy he gave his love with an honest and impetuous sincerity, which he masked by a gay humor lest his lady should be grieved at the havoc she herself had made.

Last among the prominent members of the group in which Sophy lived in Paris is Mme. Zerkovitch. Her husband was of Russian extraction, his father having settled in Kravonia and become naturalized there. The son was now in Paris as correspondent to one of the principal papers of Slavna. Mme. Zerkovitch was by birth a Pole, not a remarkable woman in herself, but important in this history as the effective link between these days and Sophy's life in Kravonia. She was small and thin, with auburn hair and very bright hazel eyes, with light colored lashes. An agreeable talker, an accomplished singer and a kind hearted woman, she was an acquaintance to be welcomed. Whatever strange notions she harbored about Sophy in after days she conceived from the beginning and never lost a strong affection for her, and their friendship ripened quickly from their first meeting at Lady Meg's, where Marie Zerkovitch was a frequent visitor and much interested in Pharos' hocus pocus.



Chapter Seven

SOPHY'S enemies were at work, and Sophy was careless. Such is the history of the next twelve months. Mantis was installed medium now, and the revelations came. But they came slow, vague, fitful, tantalizing. Something was wrong. Pharos confessed ruefully, what could it be, for surely Lady Meg by her faith (and, it may be added, her liberality) deserved well of the unseen powers? He hinted at the evil eye, but without express accusation. Under "the influence" Mantis would speak of "the malign one," but Mantis when awake thought Mlle. de Gruche a charming young lady! It was odd and mysterious. Pharos could make nothing of it. He, too, thought Mlle. Sophie—he advanced to that pleasant informality of description—quite lavishly and entirely devoted to Lady Meg, only unhappily so irresponsive to the unseen, a trifle unsympathetic it might be. But what would you? The young had no need to think of death or the dead. Was it to be expected, then, that Mlle. Sophie would be a good subject or take much interest in the work, great and wonderful though it might be?

The Farmers Should Have Larger Representation In House Of Commons

There seems to be a feeling amongst farmers that their interests and welfare are neglected in public, especially in the parliamentary line. The question is, "How shall the farmers overcome these obstacles?" The answer is simply by organizing and showing their strength and their requirements. On account of this feeling, farmers' clubs are becoming popular, and are receiving considerable attention.

In order to help ourselves, the first stepping stone towards that end is to organize a farmers' club. Business men of every description have their organizations, where they meet and discuss matters in relation to their business. Why should not the farmer, who is in the majority, and who is also the backbone of our country have his organization to inquire into his interests, and to work for his interests, and that would be a place where he could exchange opinions with his fellows?

Such an organization need not be strictly a farmers' club. It may be the Grange, the Farmers' Association, or the Alliance, or whatever it may be christened, so long as it is a farmers' organization to deal with the farmers' interests. Now that the long winter evenings are again at hand, farmers, especially the younger folks, require something to pass the long evenings, and what could be more beneficial than a club meeting every month to cultivate their talents and where they could meet each other in a sociable way?

The object of our club is for its members to gain information, and to exchange views. We have subjects prepared and discussed by able members of the club. We generally have a lively discussion after the lecture, where old and young take part. After the subject has been dealt with, our programme consists of music, both vocal and instrumental, readings, recitations and an occasional dialogue, closing with the National Anthem. Everyone goes home feeling that the evening was spent in a profitable as well as a sociable way.

Through these club meetings, our people become able to explain themselves in public and they can soon give a free and easy address. They soon get rid of that fear and nervous feeling which comes on when one requires to say a few words in public. In the summer time we have a club picnic. Everybody goes to it and everybody feels young again. In the winter, about New Year's time, we have a hot fowl supper, at which occasion the town people consider it a rare privilege to have the opportunity to share it with us and to satisfy their appetite with the best that the land can produce, and to have it fresh and to have it in its purity. After all is said and done, the farmer folk feel that we are to be considered first.

PRICES PAID FOR LIVE HOGS

Considerable Space Given to Discussion During Past Few Years—Bacon Exports Declining.

TO CONSIDER THE QUESTION

From The Canadian Dairyman.

During the past few years, at different periods, considerable space has been occupied in the columns of our agricultural press with discussions between our leading pork packers and our farmers over the prices paid for live hogs. Our farmers have charged the packers with manipulating prices for their own gain, and with making large profits, while not paying the farmers a fair price for their hogs. These discussions have created considerable hard feeling, in some quarters at least. Judging by the tone of one of the letters on this subject published on page four of this issue, this feeling is still prominent.

Without attempting to pronounce on the merits of the points at issue, we would like to draw attention to some aspects of this question which strike us as being of such vital interest, that they should not be lost sight of. It is of supreme importance, both to our farmers and to our packers, that we shall not lose the position that our bacon has won on the British market. Were that position to be lost our export bacon trade would be ruined, many thousands of our farmers would have to give up hog raising, and our packers would lose a large part, if not all, of the money that they have invested in their mammoth pork packing establishments. For three years, Canada's exports of bacon to Great Britain have been declining. During the same period the Danish farmers have increased their exports by about 50 per cent. In other words, while our farmers and packers have been falling out with each other over the price of hogs, and, therefore, not making any progress, the Danish farmers have been stepping in and walking off with the biggest share of the British bacon trade with a fair chance, apparently, that they will get it nearly all if we are not careful.

It, therefore, behooves both our farmers and our packers to try to get together again on this question. The Bible says that every kingdom or house divided against itself shall not stand. While we are fighting, the Danes are making hay. If this keeps up, what will our position be in a few years from now?

The situation is one where it will not do for us to let prejudice or our feelings run away with our common sense. There are some millions of dollars at stake. We believe that the Dominion Government should take up this matter and deal with it in a more comprehensive and thorough manner than has yet been attempted. If the packers are making anything like the profits one correspondent in this issue claims, the Government might be justified in endeavoring to assist in introducing some of the methods that are proving so successful in Denmark. The first step to be taken is for our Government, our packers, and our farmers to endeavor to get together to deal thoroughly with this important matter.

ORGANIZING OF THE FARMERS

To Show Their Strength and Requirements—Needs Often Neglected.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

In an address delivered before the Canadian Club, Toronto, Mr. C. C. James, the talented Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, drew attention to the fact that, while there were 175,000 farms in Ontario, with an investment of $1,200,000,000, and an annual production of $200,000,000, out of the total members elected recently to the House of Commons, in Ontario, only six were farmers. This is a condition that should be remedied. The farmers are the only people who can remedy it.

Why is it that our farmers, as a rule, are unable to hold their own in matters of public debate with city men? It is because they do not have enough practice in public speaking. In the United States, we believe it will be found that the proportion of farmers in the State Legislatures and in the National Congress, is larger than it is in Canada. In the United States, the Grange, or the Patrons of Husbandry, is much stronger than it is in Canada. In some of the States forty thousand to sixty thousand farmers are members of the state grange.

The local Granges hold meetings at regular intervals. These local organizations are run purely by the farmers. They are independent of the Government, and raise their own funds. They encourage the young men on the farms to attend their meetings, and to debate subjects relating to agriculture. In this way, thousands of young, bashful country boys have developed into capable and powerful public speakers.

The history of the Grange in Canada has not been a success. In the early days of the order some serious mistakes were made. It was a mistake for the Grange to try and run a third party. The order, we believe, has profited by these mistakes. There is need in Canada for a proper organization of the farmers among themselves. Unless we organize through some such organization as the Grange we may expect to have to take a back seat to the city men, and be represented by them in our Provincial Legislatures and in our House of Commons.

QUESTION FOR PATRONS OF FACTORIES

Does Each Individual Cow Pay?—Weeding Out Often Beneficial.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Possibly some patrons of cheese factories and of creameries have never faced the one vital question in connection with successful dairying, does each single cow in the herd return a profit? Our attention was recently called to one herd where a little weeding out would result beneficially. On a herd of 22 cows the annual profit was only $115. But if the eight poorest cows had been disposed of, there would have been a profit of $139. This means that all the labor attendant on the care of eight cows for one whole year could have been saved, that $280 worth of feed would have been on hand, and still the profit would have been eleven dollars more.

In many districts whole herds might be raised to a higher profit-earning standard. Grading up and more careful feeding must be considered, but too much emphasis cannot be placed on the necessity of discovering whether each individual cow in the herd adds to the total net profit. A little time, ten minutes a month, a little arithmetic, and with only a slight cash outlay, the record of each cow can be had permanently in black and white for reference, for study, and for determined vigorous action towards more profit per cow.

Under the present system of cow testing associations organized by the Dairy Division, Ottawa, just the information each man needs is to be had with the least possible outlay. We feel that we cannot give better advice to factory owners, makers or patrons than this, get a cow testing association organized as quickly as possible.

TRUE DETECTIVE STORIES

The Suffering Woman Who Became Desperate

INTO this short story I shall pack the great emotion of a woman's whole career. In doing so I shall relate certain events in the lives of the men she knew—her husband among others. This is necessary. Women do not live for themselves in the sense that men do, and their histories are but patchwork made up from bits of the records of those who know them well.

Early in October, 1871, Old Kirkbride was arrested at the old Hudson River station at Thirtieth street and Ninth avenue, New York city. In his pockets were $2,000 in counterfeit $10 notes. In chasing counterfeiters what is wanted is not so much their bad money as the plates from which the bills were printed. So Kirkbride was promised immunity if he would tell the source of his supply. He named David Keene, a wholesale liquor dealer who lived in 117th street, near Second avenue.

A few nights later secret service operatives, of whom I was one, started out with Kirkbride to trap Keene. Kirkbride was given $1,500 in marked money with which to buy $5,000 in counterfeit. He was to go to Keene's house, ring the bell, enter, make the deal, pay out his good money for the bad, leave the house and then go back in half a minute and ring the bell, as if he had forgotten something. The ringing the door bell the second time was to be his signal that he had the counterfeit and Keene had the $1,500 in genuine notes. Then, as Keene opened the door, we were to rush in, overpower him and arrest him.

A man named Newcomb and I were assigned to lie flat on our stomachs in the back yard to prevent Keene from escaping when the other officers came in the front way. After climbing five alley fences we reached our positions—not a moment too soon. The back door opened and a lamp that was on the kitchen table sent out a triangular shaft of light into the darkness. Keene came out, passing within a few feet of me, lifted up a large flat stone and took out a tin cashier's box. Returning to the house, he closed the door after him and we knew negotiations had begun.

In half an hour I heard the front door close and a moment later came the second ring at the door bell. When Keene came to the door Kirkbride had time only to say, "Oh, Dave, I wanted to"—and the officers rushed past him and made the arrest.

Keene knew instantly he had been betrayed, but he did not flinch and he did not talk, except to answer questions. In the house was found a large amount of excellent counterfeit—the celebrated old Poughkeepsie "tens" and St. Nicholas "twos"—but only $1,450 of the good money Kirkbride had paid. We looked high and low for the odd fifty dollar bill, but couldn't find it. Keene insisted that he didn't have any more and finally explained that Kirkbride had paid him only $1,450. Then we stood Kirkbride up and finally found the missing fifty tucked into the folds of his old fashioned "made up" necktie.

Again we promised immunity to get the "man higher up." And that brings us to the woman whose life is the thread upon which the events in this narrative are strung. Keene said he got his counterfeit from Harry Cole.

Harry Cole was one of the remarkable men of his day. Keen, shrewd, resourceful and secretive, he had all the qualities that go to make up a successful man of his type. In middle life he had married a widow with six children—"Dutch Eva" she was called merely because she was German—and for years they both peddled counterfeit along the Erie Canal. So far as I know she would have been a good woman if she had married the right kind of man, but, idolizing Harry as she did, she evidently thought whatever he did was right and helped him. They were clever and prospered. The Erie Canal soon became too thin a field for them. They felt their power and wanted an opportunity to extend themselves. So they came to New York.

In New York Cole bore the same relationship to the counterfeiting business that a great merchant does to the manufacturers who make the things he sells. He didn't make any counterfeit, but he distributed it on a big scale. He was a jobber selling to retailers, and his deals were with men who could afford to take from $1,000 to $20,000 at a time. And while he traded in big bills, Eva, his wife, was a distributer of counterfeit fractional currency. Their home was in Eighty-fourth street.

When we got ready to take Cole we put up the same kind of a job on him that we had put up on Keene. Keene, who had been betrayed by Kirkbride, came along to buy his own liberty by turning traitor to Cole. With $1,500 of marked money that had been given him he bought $7,000 of counterfeit, and Cole and his wife were both arrested before they could realize what was happening.

Cole took his arrest calmly. Eva was panic stricken. Her Harry was in jail! He might soon be in the penitentiary! She might be with him, for that matter, but she did not seem to think of herself. Her whole anxiety was to get him out of the toils. And straightaway she began to bargain. In her forgetfulness of self it appeared to her that information we most desired pertained to the identity of the maker of her counterfeit fractional currency. And the words came tumbling out of her mouth so fast that we could hardly have stopped them had we desired. "Tom Condon's the man. Let Harry off, and I'll help you get Condon and his plates." Little did she realize how small were her fractional currency affairs as compared with the famed "Poughkeepsie tens" and their maker.

The next day Cole, quailing before a prison sentence, confessed that his source of supplies was Joshua D. Miner. When we heard Miner's name we realized that we were getting very close to the plates. Miner was a big New York contractor—the first, I believe, to use steam drills in rock work. He was wealthy for his day and lived in the north side of Sixty-seventh street, between Ninth avenue and a street that used to be called the Western Boulevard.

Cole said that when he wanted to replenish his supply of counterfeit Miner always met him by appointment at night in the middle of the Boulevard near Fifty-ninth street. The meetings were always momentary—a mere exchange of a roll of good money for a roll of bad—and they went their different ways into the shadows. He did not know whether Miner owned the plates himself, but suspected that if he did not he dealt directly with the owner.

"IT'S ALL A LIE—IT'S ALL A LIE," SHE SAID.

A few days later Cole was sent to Miner to negotiate for the purchase of the plates. He quickly learned that Miner knew who possessed them, and that Miner was, in fact, their owner. Moreover, the forged notes having had a great run, Miner was not reluctant to sell the plates, evidently believing it would be advisable to set his engraver to counterfeiting a new note. At any rate, Miner agreed to sell the plates for $1,500 and to turn them over to Cole the next night. Cole was to go to his house and together they were to walk down the Boulevard. They would meet another man, who would hand the plates to Miner.

The next day six detectives besides myself were instructed to follow Cole to Miner's house, trail them to the meeting place on the Boulevard, and, after the completion of the transaction, arrest Miner and the man who was to give him the plates. One man was to stand here, another there and do certain things. I was the only exception. I was to keep my eyes open and do whatever circumstances might seem to require.

It was a rainy night. Dressed like a working man and carrying a dinner pail, I trotted back and forth along the street in front of Miner's house. In a little while I saw Cole go in. In a few moments both Cole and Miner came out. I passed them, and my clothes touched Cole's as I went by. I kept on toward Ninth avenue, and, after I had gone half a block, turned on my heel like an upright shaft and began following the pair. I kept far enough behind so that they would not be likely to notice me, and then jogged along a little faster, until at Fifty-ninth street I had nearly caught up with them.

At this point a man stepped from the strip of green in the middle of the boulevard into the centre of the street. Miner went to meet him, while Cole stood on the sidewalk. Miner and the third man remained screened for a moment under an umbrella. Then the third man resumed his journey down the boulevard.

All the while I kept on my little dog trot, contriving, however, sometimes to let the third man overtake me—he was also trotting, evidently in fear—and sometimes overtaking him. We had gone a few blocks when I heard a great commotion back where I had left Miner and Cole. I knew Miner was being arrested. He was yelling, "Murder!" "Police!" and "Help!" I knew the time had therefore come to nab the man I was trailing, and as I preferred to get him, if possible, without either of us doing any shooting I reached for an inspiration and got one.

"I saw you grab my friend's pocketbook," said I as I ran up to him and caught him by the arm. "You've got to go back to the saloon with me and give it up."

"I didn't grab it," said he; "it was the other fellow."

"Oh, yes you did," said I, "He had just paid for a drink and turned around to speak to some one when you took it. Come along; you've got to go."

He muttered a little, but came. On the way back I met another secret service man.

"Isn't this the fellow that stole Bill's pocketbook?" said I, apparently seeking confirmation of my charge.

The other detective gave an affirmative reply, and the three of us continued our journey up the boulevard. When we reached the place where I had left Miner and Cole we found Miner under arrest. Detective Kennoch had taken him into custody after a fierce fight. Miner had knocked out three of Kennoch's teeth, and Kennoch had given some hard blows in return. Cole stood on the sidewalk while the fight was proceeding, though he said he would have jumped in if Miner had seemed likely to get away.

The moment we saw the mud becovered man the man I had brought back spoke up:—

"What does this mean?" said he.

"It means," said I, "that you are under arrest for counterfeiting. You will have to go with me to the Bleecker street station of the secret service."

On the way down he begged that he might go over to his house in Fifty-third street. He said his wife, who was ill, would worry about him. He had just gone over to get a pail of coal; when the thought occurred to him to do another errand, during the course of which he had been arrested. His wife would wonder at his prolonged absence. But I couldn't let him go.

Before we reached the secret service headquarters he told me his name was Thomas Avey. His true name, however, was Thomas Ballard, and he was one of the most expert engravers of counterfeit plates that ever lived. He even surpassed the efforts of all other counterfeiters of his day in making bank note paper with silk threads in it. This he did so well that the government was compelled to abandon the particular type of paper in use at that time. Ballard's achievement at paper making is the more remarkable when the fact is considered that he did the work at home, using a common washtub, boiler and screen in place of the expensive machinery used in mills.

As the time drew near for the opening of Miner's trial public interest in the case became intense. Ballard was confined in the Ludlow street jail, but Miner had found bail. Many of his business associates rallied to his defence, though the general opinion was that he was guilty. At the height of the excitement Ballard broke out of jail and escaped.

Miner's trial opened in the middle of December, and the day before Christmas a verdict was brought in. It was an acquittal. Perjured testimony had freed him. Nine other indictments stood against him, but he was never tried on any of them. He never, however, recovered his good name. Others understood. In fact it was generally believed that Miner, through the use of money, enabled Ballard to break jail. Ballard was captured three years later in Pittsburg, tried, found guilty and sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment. He served his full time and, I think, is still living.

Miner, of course, felt very bitter toward Cole, who had betrayed him, and not long afterward an event took place that may or may not—I thing it does—illustrate the depths to which he permitted his desire for revenge to descend. I had taken charge of the Philadelphia branch of the Secret Service when Mrs. Cole came to me one day with trouble pictured all over her face. Harry had been arrested in New York charged with the forgery of certain school bonds that purported to have been issued by the authorities of Allentown, Pa. He was not guilty, of course, and Eva wanted me to save him from the penitentiary.

I suspected that her confidence in him was misplaced, but nevertheless took the trouble to get the facts and look into them. I found that the accusation against him consisted of the statement of a New York broker, who swore that on a certain day Cole had sold him the fraudulent bonds. And, by looking up my records, I found that on the day named Cole was in jail.

I told Eva of my discovery and she was overjoyed. Would I go to New York and testify in his favor? She would pay my expenses. She would never forget it. She would help me catch other counterfeiters, and so on. I told her I would go as a simple act of justice—of course declining her offer of expenses—and I did. Cole was acquitted.

But in 1877 his trail again ran across mine and I saw that he was headed for the penitentiary. The country had been deluged with counterfeit fifty-dollar notes that purported to have been issued by the Third National Bank of Buffalo, the Broadway National and the Central National of New York. I learned that a man named Joe Gordon was circulating these notes in Philadelphia, and I shadowed Gordon to Cole's home, Cole having removed from New York after his arrest in the Miner case. I also learned that Charles F. Ulrich, perhaps the most noted of all counterfeiters, engraved the plates and that Jacob Ott printed the notes.

I sent for Eva and had a long talk with her. I reminded her of the time when I saved her husband from the penitentiary by going to New York and testifying in his behalf, and then told her I felt sure he was circulating the counterfeits made by Ulrich. In conclusion I urged her to help me get Ulrich.

She looked at me in blank amazement. Positively and on her sacred word of honor Harry had not sold a bad bill for years.

"But I have shadowed Gordon to your house," said I, "and I know he is passing counterfeit. And I know Ott is doing the printing."

But she stuck to her story. It was true that Gordon had come to their house, but he had come only to try to induce Harry to help him circulate the spurious fifty dollar notes—a proposition that, according to her story, Harry spurned.

A few days later I met Harry and told him the same story I had told Eva. He denied the accusation in the most positive terms. Then I said to him:—

"Harry, I know you are helping to pass these counterfeit notes, and unless you put me in the way of catching Ulrich I will put you in the penitentiary within six months, just as surely as your name is Cole and my name is Drummond. Now don't think I am bluffing. I am not. I mean what I say. And don't make the mistake of going home and telling Eva of what I have said, and adding:—'Drummond is lying to me. If he had the evidence against me that he says he has he would prosecute me. He would not overlook such an opportunity to add to his reputation.' Don't tell her this, I say, and don't think it yourself, because it is not true. Now tell me where I can get Ulrich."

Not a word. He didn't know. He had not seen Ulrich for years. I had accused him wrongfully.

I continued my investigation and soon found that the counterfeits were undoubtedly being printed near Sharon Hill, a suburb five miles out from Philadelphia.

A day or two later the man who was shadowing Cole trailed him to Sharon Hill. Cole walked two miles beyond the station, then returned and took the train back to Philadelphia. He had not entered a place during the entire trip and his journey was apparently purposeless. As a matter of fact he was afraid to go where he wanted to because he saw my man behind him.

In the meantime I had placed a man as an employe in a paper warehouse where I knew Ulrich had gone to buy paper. For weeks he watched each customer. Finally Cole came in and bought a sheet of tracing paper, which was rolled up in scroll like form, Cole carrying it away in his hand. From the paper warehouse he went home.

This was on a Saturday. I stationed six men around the house. I knew the tracing paper was for Ulrich and I felt that Ulrich would either call for it or else Cole would take it to him. In either event there would be an opportunity to learn where Ulrich lived.

The watch on the house was kept up until after dark Sunday night, when Cole came out, with the roll of tracing paper in his hand. One of my men followed him until Cole turned sharply around a corner and passed the outlet of an alley. Cole walked on a few steps, then returned and went back to his house. When he turned around he no longer had the roll of tracing paper. He had given it to Ulrich when he passed the alley, as I afterward learned.

By this time Eva was becoming greatly alarmed for the safety of her husband. She went to Mrs. Ott one day and told her that Ott, who had the plates, must give them up. She and Mrs. Ott had a hand to hand fight as the result of which Eva got hold of the plates. Ulrich found it out and took the plates away from Eva. All of these things I found out afterward. Ulrich then took the plates and buried them.

To make a long story short, we finally found Ulrich, found his plates, arrested him and arrested Cole and Ott and one of Mrs. Cole's sons, who, we understood, worked the press on which the notes were printed. Eva's worst fears seemed about to be realised. Her husband and her son were in the shadow of the penitentiary. She was desperate, and in her desperation this is what she did:—

She went to District Attorney Valentine and said she felt it to be her duty to tell him what kind of man I was.

"When I first knew Drummond," she said, "he had just been released from the penitentiary, where he served a ten years' sentence. He had hardly a coat to his back and was hungry. I bought him a new suit of clothes and gave him food. And now he is about to repay my kindness by trying to send my husband and my son to prison on perjured testimony."

Mr. Valentine at once advised her to tell her story to Mr. Brookes, chief of the secret service, which she promised to do. And before she had got out of the building Valentine called me to his office and advised me to get ready for what was coming.

Eva was as good as her word. She wrote to Chief Brookes and told him the false story about me that she had told to Valentine. Mr. Brookes wrote her to come to his home in Philadelphia on a certain day and lay all the facts before him. He also wrote me to be there.

I reached the house a little before the time set for her arrival. The meeting was to take place in the parlor—a room that was separated from the sitting room by sliding doors. Mr. Brookes told me to go into the sitting room, that he would close the doors, and that after he had said some things to Eva which he intended to say I should suddenly open the doors and appear before them.

Eva came on time and, after a little preliminary conversation Mr. Brookes began to impress her on the importance of the matter that brought her to his home. When he ceased speaking I opened the doors and walked into the room. Mr. Brookes rose, pointed to me and began:—

"Here stands the man," said he to Eva "who is the cause of all your misfortunes. More than any other man in the world you may well consider him to be your enemy. He has put your husband in jail; he has put your son in jail; it is his intention to put both of them in the penitentiary. You have every reason to regard him with horror.

"Now, if there is anything truthful that you can say against him it is your duty to say it. If you know anything that is in the slightest way derogatory to his character tell it to me. There he stands. Destroy him if you can. Tell me your story."

In the days when I used to seek my recreation with a gun in a forest I have seen wild animals at bay shot through the heart. I have seen them fall in their tracks, their bodies shaking with their last convulsions, and I have seen the light go out of their eyes. When Mr. Brookes finished his statement I was reminded of these scenes. Eva, who had been standing, as it were, gave a quick look about the room as if in search of a friend who was not there. All that a tortured soul can tell through the eyes was told in hers. And she sank on her knees before me as if I had been friend instead of foe.

"It's all a lie—it's all a lie," she said amid her sobs. "I know nothing against this man. I said I did only because I thought it would save my husband and my son."

Eva never saw her husband free again. The trials came on and Ulrich was given what we now know as an "immunity bath." The jury that was sitting in the case of Eva's son resented the idea that a mere boy should be convicted of an act of minor importance while a great criminal like Ulrich went free and acquitted the son. Ott was convicted and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. Cole was convicted and given twelve years. He died in Trenton prison in 1885, after having served only six years of his sentence.

Shortly after Cole was sent to the penitentiary he wrote to me and asked me to come and see him. I went.

"Do you know," said he, "that after I had that talk with you in Philadelphia I went home and told Eva exactly what you had told me not to tell her? I told her I believed you were bluffing; that you had no evidence upon which to send me to the penitentiary. I reasoned it out exactly as you said I might. But I was wrong. You told the truth. I see it now. But it is too late."

Eva is dead too; and of the seven detectives who went with Cole to arrest Miner that rainy night I am the only one who is alive to tell the tale.

The Principles Adopted By The Dominion Grange At Its 34th Annual Meeting

The Investigation of Bonus Concerns—Taxation of Railways—Commend Government for Institution of Rural Mail Delivery.

WOMAN'S PLACE IN GRANGE

From the Canadian Dairyman.

Strengthen the British Preferential Tariff.

Gradually eliminate the principle of protection from the tariff.

Receive advances from the United States looking toward better trade relations in a friendly spirit.

Pay no more bounties or bonuses.

All concerns asking for favors from the Government should have their affairs investigated.

High licenses for automobiles and county control of the roads.

Civil service reform.

Punish graft in Government service.

Taxation of railways.

These are some of the principles laid down and adopted by the Dominion Grange at its 34th annual convention held in Toronto on Nov. 26 and 27th. It was one of the largest gatherings in the history of this institution and the most representative, and the members were practically unanimous on all the pronouncements made.

Grand Master J. G. Lethbridge referred in his annual address to the growing power and influence of the Grange. Its deliberations were never more closely watched and criticized than they are to-day. Members must therefore be moderate in their demands, and ask for justice and justice only. Continuing he said: "As loyal citizens we submit to laws which enrich the few at the expense of the many; to laws which exempt from taxation certain classes, increasing the burdens of other classes, but while we submit we do not approve, and we conceive it to be our duty to our fellow-agriculturists and our privilege as citizens to use all constitutional means to have such laws removed from the statute books of the country."

The Grand Master emphasized the need for senate reform. He commended the government on the adoption of free rural mail delivery and hoped it would be extended so that all farmers will benefit from it. More railway taxation and further reduction of freight rates were needed. He advocated a very heavy tax on automobiles and suggested registration stations, where all chauffeurs should be obliged to register.

LEGISLATION

The report of the committee on legislation presented by Mr. E. C. Drury was the most important matter presented to the convention. Though most of the recommendations had been discussed and adopted at previous gatherings, the keenest interest was voiced in the discussions. The recommendations are as follows:

TARIFF

1. That the British Preference be strengthened by further lessening duties on British goods.

2. That the principle of protection be gradually eliminated from the tariff.

3. That advances from the United States looking toward better trade relations be met in a friendly way.

There was not much discussion on these points and on motion they were unanimously adopted.

BOUNTIES AND BONUSES

"We believe that this practice has a strong tendency to corrupt not only the management and organization of the companies interested, but the political life of the nation. In this regard we would particularly urge that the bounties on iron and steel be discontinued entirely at the end of the term they are granted for, and that no further additions should be made in future to the list of bounty-fed industries. We would also condemn the using of the people's money in the bonusing of an all-red line of fast passenger steamships. We do not believe this project would be of any material advantage to the nation at large."

This part of the report also carried unanimously.

INVESTIGATING BONUSED CONCERNS

There was considerable discussion on the clause regarding a thorough investigation of any business or concern asking for favors from the government. The woolen industry was given as a case in point. If the government had the power to make a thorough investigation of this industry, its promoters would not have the face to ask for special favors. Tariff advantage puts into the pockets of the woolen manufacturers $1,708,000, or $518,000 more than they pay out in wages each year. This clause was carried and embodied in the report.

AUTOMOBILES ON THE HIGHWAYS

By far the most important part of the report was that dealing with automobiles on country roads. The committee's report as first presented asked for three things in controlling automobiles: County control of the roads; restricting the use of the roads for automobiles to three days a week; and making owners of automobiles responsible for all damages and expenses to roadways caused by them.

Strong objection was raised to clause two and the generally expressed opinion of the meeting was that a higher license should be charged automobiles and that the money from this license should go to the municipalities to maintain the roads. Objection was taken to county control as it would create different regulations controlling automobiles. After further considering the clause dealing with this part of the report was amended to read as follows:

1. That counties be given the power to control all motor traffic on the roadways in their own districts.

2. That automobile owners be compelled to pay for all damages caused by them.

3. That a high provincial license be levied on all automobiles. The proceeds to be distributed among the municipalities according to population, for the purpose of keeping the roads in repair.

RAILWAY TAXATION

The clause on this subject was held over for discussion till after an address on the subject by Mr. H. J. Pettypiece, Forest, Ont. Mr. Pettypiece said the equalization of taxation was the first duty of government. Railways are taxed the same as other property except in Canada. In the United States every different State has its own system of taxation, and imposes a tax, either by taxing the capital, earnings, or assessed value, at from $500 to $1,200 a mile, while in Ontario only $60 a mile is received. The Grand Trunk, Michigan Central, and Canadian Pacific Railways, which have about the same mileage in the United States as in Ontario, pay an average rate of $471 a mile in the former country, and $85 a mile in Ontario. Farm property in Ontario in 1907 paid taxes at the rate of $5.35 for each $1,000 invested while the railways only paid $1.55 for $1,000 invested. In the United States private freight cars, such as those used by the big packing concerns, pay a tax while in Ontario they do not. Mr. Pettypiece recited some of the objections railways make to taxation. Such as having to pay duty on the coal they use—so has the other taxpayer; the hard winters in Canada—farmers and others have to endure these hard winters also, and the fewer people to the square mile in Canada than in the United States. In closing Mr. Pettypiece stated that if all the lands and moneys given to railways as subsidies were paid back to the people it would more than wipe out the Canadian National debt.

The clause of the report asking for the proper taxation of railways was unanimously adopted.

DIRECT LEGISLATION

After an address by W. C. Good, of Brantford, on the initiative and referendum, the clause in the legislative committee's report dealing with this matter was discussed. Mr. Good stated that if people had the right to initiate legislation by petition, or to compel the reforming of important legislation passed by Parliament to the people, there would be better laws passed, and laws not in the interest of the people at large would not be enacted. Several of the United States, including Maine, South Dakota, Oregon, Massachusetts, Missouri, Michigan and Ohio, have adopted this principle in all State legislation and find that it works well. He strongly recommended the adoption of this principle in Canada, and especially in Ontario.

After considerable discussion in which it developed that many members did not understand the subject, on motion of Mr. Goodfellow, seconded by Mr. Coyle, it was decided to refer the matter to the individual Granges for discussion and to report upon at the next annual meeting.

On motion of W. L. Smith, seconded by W. C. Good, a committee was appointed to draft a bill dealing with railway taxation to be placed in the hands of James McEwan, M.P.P. for presentation at the next session of the Legislature, with provision for submitting it to the people and also any substitute legislation that the Legislature may enact on this subject. The committee named for this work is: H. J. Pettypiece, W. L. Smith, and W. C. Good.

OTHER TOPICS

Several other questions were dealt with by the report and all of them carried without much discussion. Among these were: Civil Service Reform; Grafting in the Public Service; Deprecating the Increased Expenditure in Both Dominion and Provincial Affairs; Objecting to the Payment of a Deposit of $200 by Candidates for Parliament, and On the Issuing of New Stock to C. P. R. Shareholders at par, When the Stock is Worth Considerably More Than That Figure. The forestry policy of the Provincial Government was commended.

EDUCATION

Mr. J. L. Morrison, Arthur, Ont., presented the report of the committee on education. There was little change to report from last year. Improvement in the qualification of teachers had not been as marked as was hoped for. Continuative class work in public schools was commended and also the teaching of agriculture. Rural school trustee associations were formed and were commended for every inspectorate. The part eliciting most discussion, was that which was amended to read as follows:

"We would again strongly protest against all methods either designed or calculated to develop the military spirit among our school children and we would impress upon educationists the importance of directing the instruction of loyalty and patriotism towards the service of the State."

AGRICULTURE

The report of the committee on Agriculture, presented by Mr. J. L. Warren, Acton, congratulated farmers on the increased yield in crops the past season. There was more feed for the coming winter than last winter. The quality of beef animals was not as good as it ought to be and farmers should make more improvement along this line. The silo was recommended and also the growing of mangels instead of turnips, owing to the ravages of insects upon the latter. Early after harvest cultivation was needed to keep weeds in check as they were becoming more widespread, and farmers must take more vigorous action. Prices for dairy products are likely to continue high, and dairymen must study the cost of feed and use the silo in feeding dairy cows more than they do.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were passed:

1. We desire to commend the Dominion Government for inaugurating Free Rural Mail Delivery. At the same time we would urge the necessity of going carefully and profiting by the experience of other peoples, who have adopted this system.

2. As the matter of direct legislation is to come up for discussion at the meeting of the Social and Moral Reform Council, of Canada, on December 8th next, we would respectfully urge that the council send the question out to the various bodies represented therein with the view of securing thorough discussion. The Dominion Grange believes that this reform means much for the political education of our people, and for the purification of politics generally and with this in view has recommended it to all subordinate Granges for discussion. It suggests to the other bodies affiliated with it in the council the propriety of doing likewise.

3. That the legislation committee petition the Legislature to have the Drainage Act amended so as to provide that all cases coming before the drainage referee be held at the town hall nearest to the point at which the question arises and that the services of Court Crier and Sheriff be not required in connection therewith.

WOMAN'S PLACE IN THE GRANGE

Miss Robinson, of Middlemarch, made an address on this subject that met with hearty approval of all present. The Grange was the first organization that gave women a place in its affairs equal to that of men. Place women and women's work in the Grange in a high place and the Grange will prosper. Progress in the granges of the United States was due to the place given women in the organization.

THE GRANGE GROWING

The report of the Grand Secretary, Mr. W. F. W. Fisher, showed that rapid progress has been made during the past couple of years; 22 new granges were organized in 1908, and 30 during the past two years. The present number of granges in the Dominion is 86. The financial position is strong, the auditors' report showing a balance on the right side of $358.37.

A letter was read from Mr. E. Stone Wiggin, Princess Park, Douglas Harbor, Queens Co., N. B., reciting the difficulties the farmers have to contend with there in marketing their produce and stating his intention to establish granges as a means of bettering the position of the farmer.

The Rev. Dr. Shearer, addressed the convention and asked for the co-operation of the Grange in the work of social and moral reform. The Jabel Robinson prizes given to the individual granges making the best showing in the number of meetings held and the percentage of attendance during the year were awarded: First prize to the Ninth Line Grange, and second prize to the Apple Grove Grange.

Undigested Food

When any portion of food remains in the stomach and refuses to digest, it causes the torments of indigestion. This undigested food rapidly ferments, irritating the sensitive coating of the stomach, while other parts of the body, particularly the head, suffer in consequence.

So long as this undigested food remains in the stomach, the discomfort continues. A few doses of stop all fermentation, sweeten the contents of the stomach and give natural assistance that relieves the stomach of its burden. The use of Beecham's Pills gradually strengthens the stomach nerves and soon restores them to a normal, healthy condition.

Beecham's Pills positively cure all stomach troubles, while their beneficial effects on the liver and kidneys greatly improve the general health.

Beecham's Pills have been used and recommended by the general public for over fifty years.

Prepared only by the Proprietor, Thomas Beecham, St. Helens, Lancashire, Eng.

Sold everywhere in Canada and U. S. America. In boxes 25 cents.

FREE DISTRIBUTION OF SEED

How the Farmers May Obtain It Free From the Government.

From the Canadian Dairyman.

By instruction of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a distribution is being made this season of samples of superior sorts of grain and potatoes to Canadian farmers for the improvement of seed. The stock for distribution has been secured mainly from the Experimental Farms at Indian Head, Sask., and Brandon, Man. The samples consist of oats, spring wheat, barley, peas, Indian corn (for ensilage only) and potatoes. The quantity of oats sent is 4 lbs., and of wheat or barley 5 lbs., sufficient in each case to sow one-twentieth of an acre. The samples of Indian corn, peas and potatoes weigh 3 lbs. each. A quantity of each of the following varieties has been secured for this distribution:

Oats—Banner, Danish Island, Wide-Awake, White Giant, Thousand Dollar, Improved Ligowa, all white varieties.

Wheat.—Red varieties, Red Fife (beardless), Chelsea, Marquis, Stanley and Percy (early beardless), Preston, Huron and Pringle's Champlain (early bearded). White varieties, White Fife (beardless), Bobs (early beardless).

Barley. — Six-rowed. — Mensury, Odessa, and Mansfield. Two-rowed. Invincible and Canadian Thorpe.

Field Peas.—Arthur and Golden Vine.

Indian Corn (for ensilage).—Early sorts, Angel of Midnight, Compton's Early and Longfellow; later varieties, Selected Leaming, Early Mastodon and White Cap Yellow Dent.

Potatoes.—Early varieties, Rochester Rose, and Irish Cobbler. Medium to late varieties, Carmen No. 1, Money Maker, Gold Coin and Dooley. The later varieties are as a rule more productive than the earlier kinds.

Only one sample can be sent to each applicant, hence if an individual receives a sample of oats he cannot also receive one of wheat, barley, peas, Indian corn or potatoes. Lists of names from one individual, or applications for more than one sample for one household, cannot be entertained. The samples will be sent free of charge through the mail.

Applications should be addressed to the Director of Experimental Farms, Ottawa, and may be sent in any time from the 1st of December to the 15th of February, after which the lists will be closed, so that the samples asked for may be sent out in good time for sowing. Applicants should mention the variety they prefer, with a second sort as an alternative. Applications will be filled in the order in which they are received, so long as the supply of seed lasts. Farmers are advised to apply early to avoid possible disappointment. Those applying for Indian corn or potatoes should bear in mind that the corn is not usually distributed until April, and that potatoes cannot be mailed until danger from frost in transit is over. No postage is required on mail matter addressed to the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.—Wm. Saunders, Director of Experimental Farms.

A HEALTHY HAPPY FAMILY

Since Child's Life was Saved by Psychine.

Mrs. E. Obediah of Ohswekin, Ont., declares that Psychine saved her child's life. It was then suffering from Pneumonia. This was in March, 1907. On August 11th, 1908, 17 months after, she wrote:

"The condition of my family's health is decidedly good. I give Psychine to each member of my family, eight in number and I consider their good health is due to Psychine which we recognize and believe to be the greatest of Tonics. My husband and myself pin our faith to Psychine because it has done so much for us in times past when hard pressed with sickness. I would be glad if you referred me to any skeptical person and you can use my name for this purpose."

No words of ours could be stronger! This is only one of the thousands of testimonials we have. Psychine is the greatest of tonics for the throat, lungs and stomach and no home should be without it. Sold by all druggists and stores at 50c and $1.00 bottle. Free trial on application to Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Toronto.

STRANGE QUARREL OVER THE CROUSE MILLIONS

things happened. First, Mrs. Wilson—or Crouse—received information upon which she told her friends she had secured a divorce from her Syracuse husband; second, she met Mr. Siegbert Kosterlixtstrelit, or Kosterlitz, as he preferred to abbreviate his long name. He fell violently in love with her and shortly afterward they were married. Little Dorothea Crouse continued to live with her mother and her step-father.

That Mrs. Grace Wilson-Crouse-Kosterlitz, now the Countess Potulicka, is a woman of rare charm and intellectual endowments is evident from the varied romance of her own life. Born near St. Clairsville, Ohio, in 1867, she was celebrated in the neighborhood where she spent her tender years for her great girlish beauty, her fascinating manners and her beautiful voice. She was in great demand at church entertainments and recitals and never failed in capturing the admiration of her auditors.

Her father died when she was about thirteen years old, and after four years of struggling widowhood her mother abandoned housekeeping and Grace married a rich merchant named Wilson, of East Liverpool, O., against his parents' objection. They refused to admit their son's wife to the household.

But young Wilson was decided, and with his beautiful girl wife removed to New York. Shortly after that the husband died and Grace was left alone in the great metropolis.

Here her beauty and her charming qualities stood her in good stead and in due time she met Daniel Edgar Crouse, who, according to statements made by friends of the young millionaire, proposed marriage and was accepted.

Angered at their son's desire to wed one whom they considered a social inferior, Mr. Crouse's parents threatened disinheritance. This, to the world, deterred him, but in fact only added to his determination to make Mrs. Wilson his wife, and according to the allegations upon which Mrs. McVickar's claims will rest, the nuptials were secretly celebrated at the palatial home of one of his wealthy friends. After living together in New York for scarcely more than a fortnight Mrs. Wilson-Crouse departed for England with the maid and the physician; there, as has been described, the little Dorothea Edgarita was born. Thereafter Crouse was divorced and the pretty mother became Mrs. Kosterlitz.

At this point the romance takes an odd new turn. In a little more than a year Mr. Kosterlitz died and his young widow returned to New York with her mother, who had joined her in London, and the little Dorothea. And here Daniel Edgar Crouse hunted her up and tried to induce her to marry him again! He urged that his parents were now dead and that disinheritance was impossible, but she hesitated and went to Zanesville, O., to visit her brother. Here she lived sumptuously at the leading hotel attended by a French maid, and displayed great sums of money, always sending the hotel clerk a crisp hundred-dollar note each week to pay her bill. She remained in Zanesville a month and then went to Steubenville, O., to visit friends. She was at that place with little Dorothea when Daniel Edgar Crouse died and left the will, executed less than two months previously, bequeathing his vast fortune to his "next of kin."

This was the status of affairs when the Syracuse lawyer, Louis Marshall, appeared upon the scene to the great discomfiture of the seventeen and more of the Crouse cousins and nephews who supposed themselves the "next of kin" contemplated in the will. They had always supposed D. Edgar Crouse to be a bachelor. As a result of Mr. Marshall's activities, he representing the interest of Dorothea's guardians, now the New York Security and Trust Company, the Syracuse heirs agreed to divide the estate with Dorothea. This, of course, was a recognition of her claim that she was "next of kin" equally with them. By the terms of this agreement $2,000,000 was placed in trust for the little girl, the principal to be turned over to her upon her twenty-first birthday.

That birthday came on the 17th of September last. Thirty days were allowed the trust company in which to transfer the $2,000,000 of gilt-edged securities to Dorothea, now Mrs. John A. McVickar. Happy in the anticipation of coming into the control of what she had always supposed was her rightful fortune, Mrs. McVickar had planned a dinner and dance at her Englewood home in celebration of the event. The caterer was engaged and the invitations were out when, the last week in October, like a bolt from a clear sky, came the news from Syracuse that the Crouse cousins and nephews had secured an injunction restraining the trust company from paying over any of her securities to Mrs. McVickar. The double significance of this turn of affairs is apparent. Not only must the young wife defend her rights in her property, but she must herself reopen the whole question, which it was supposed her mother's affidavit had settled when she was a child. Whether or not this affidavit upon which Justice Van Brunt permitted the Crouse heirs to compromise with her guardian fifteen years ago is still a valid legal instrument in her favour is a legal question which may require months to decide. If not, her mother, the Countess Potulicka, must be brought from far-off Poland again to testify in her daughter's behalf. Meantime, the happy little household in Englewood must rest as patiently as it may upon the devoted loyalty of its friends.

Charles O. Maas, counsel for Mr. and Mrs. McVickar, said to a World reporter: "These Syracuse people entered into the agreement with their eyes wide open. They distinctly consented that this money should be paid to my client when she should come of age, and it was so ordered by the courts. Now, thinking that we shall seek a compromise rather than have the whole story thrashed out again, they have alleged fraud and conspiracy fifteen years ago and so secured this preliminary injunction to keep Mrs. McVickar's money tied up in the trust company. But we shall see whether this good and honourable young wife and mother is to be made a victim of their greed. You may rest assured that justice will be done and that my client will not suffer. The victory and vindication which little 'Dodo' Crouse won in her babyhood will be duplicated."

Herself a child of romance, Mrs. McVickar's own marriage vies with her mother's in its romantic beginnings. Young as she was when she returned from the French convent, where she had been educated, she vowed, so one of her friends informed the writer, that when she married she would marry no man who did not love her for herself alone. At this time the impecunious ones among the European nobility had begun to hear of the advent of this new and beautiful American heiress. They had read American and European newspapers and knew of her great prospects, and she found herself besieged by importunate suitors. There were Prince Nicholas Galitzin, a poor but dashing young Polish officer; Lord William Neville, of England, and Baron von Zedlitz, with his castles on the Rhine; there were Lord Hamilton, Count de Rougemont and Marquis Montebello. But all of these, by her own good sense and her mother's wise advice, were passed by with harmless coquetry. To escape them she and her mother came to America. The titled fortune-hunters followed whereupon back to Europe fled the prize they sought.

And it was then, on that return voyage, that Miss Crouse met the American gentleman who won her hand. It happened that she was seated next to young Mr. John A. McVickar at table and the first words that passed between them were her "Please pass me the salt." The smile that repaid McVickar led to his obtaining an introduction that same day, and before the Oceanic reached Liverpool the romance between the couple was well under way. Mr. McVickar found that the business which took him abroad permitted his returning on the same ship with Miss Crouse and shortly afterward their engagement was announced. Six months later they were married in the Church of the Blessed Sacrament by the Rev. Father Taylor in the presence of twenty guests, including members of New York's most exclusive old families.

Since then nothing has happened to mar their ideally happy life until the sudden action begun last month by the heirs of the Crouse estate.

ALL INDIGESTION WILL VANISH PROMPTLY

Five Minutes After Taking Diapepsin You Are Relieved of Misery.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to stomachic trouble knew the tremendous digestive virtue contained in Diapepsin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourest, acid stomach in five minutes besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50 cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as Heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, Belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, Nausea, Headaches, Biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach and intestines clean and fresh.

If your stomach is sour or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't tempt you, why not get a 50 cent case to-day from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is often sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapepsin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

WONDERFUL ADVANCE MADE IN THE OUTPUT OF COBALT ORE DURING PAST FIVE YEARS

Authentic Figures Compiled From The Most Reliable Source—The World's Record Silver Camp

CURRENT YEAR THE BEST

Examiner Special

Montreal, Dec. 5.—The Montreal Herald in a special Cobalt edition issued this morning gives an interesting estimate of the output of the Cobalt mining camps for 1908. The Herald says:

It is a trite saying that figures can be made to prove anything in a company prospectus, and there can be no gainsaying that Cobalt has suffered severely in the past from clever and unscrupulous manipulation of figures. But the days of manipulation are past in so far as any necessity for it is concerned. We have actual proved facts and figures now—figures certified by specific returns.

And these figures show Cobalt silver camp to be in many ways the world's record silver camp. In the short period of five years its output has grown from 191 tons in 1904 to 22,921 tons at a very conservative estimate for the current year (basing the returns for the last quarter on those certified for the first three quarters by Mr. A. A. Cole, the mining engineer of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Government Railway). The value of the ore shipped from Cobalt has grown from $136,218 in 1904, to $10,002,385 for the current year.

By the end of the current year the total output from Cobalt since the first shipment of ore from that camp in 1904, will have reached the enormous total of close on 46,000 tons, valued at $21,353,471.

Here are some plain figures, authentic, apart from the current year's estimate, and taken from tables compiled by Mr. Alex. Gray, than whom there is no man who has done finer constructive work for Cobalt to establish the camp as a serious business proposition in the eyes of the mining world. These figures are more eloquent than columns of mere newspaper statement could be. They show have produced since the first claim what Cobalt's negatives and positives was staked and the first ton of ore shipped to the smelteries:

Output.	Tons.	Value.
1904	191.55	$ 136,218
1905	2,236.01	1,473,196
1906	5,836.59	3,764,113
1907	14,851.34	6,301,095
1908 (estimated)	22,706.41	10,022,385
Totals	45,921.90	$21,353,471

These figures, it should be noted, include the value of the by products.

The current year when it closes will bring to an end the most astounding period of Cobalt's brief, but tremendously progressive career. The total shipments of ore for 1908 will total upwards of 22,706 tons, or within five hundred odd tons of the total volume of ore shipped from 1904 to 1907 inclusive, with a value of $10,002,385, or within $1,350,000 of the total value of all the ore previously shipped from the camp.

It is significant of the progress made during the year through the extension of mining plants by the mine owners—steam plants are now in operation on nearly one hundred properties, and upwards of sixty mines have installed compressors—that there has been a slight but appreciable increase this year in the value per ton of the ore shipped. The decrease of the value of 1907 is due to a small proportion of concentrates.

LATE NEWFOUNDLAND NEWS

St. Johns, Nfld., Dec. 5.—Captain Clayton Morrissey, master of the Gloucester fishing schooner Arethusa was fined $100 and costs, charged with two offences against the fishery laws by fishing within the three-mile limit. Several other captains have been fined similar amounts, and as a result the American fishing interests at Gloucester have filed claims for damages against the Newfoundland Government. These claims will be submitted to The Hague Tribunal.

The price of fish is the lowest on record, and owing to the foreign market being glutted the merchants have stopped buying, causing a serious loss to hundreds of fishermen all over the island. The situation is very gloomy and cannot be relieved before three or four months.

The past season has been a very successful one for the brick manufactories on the northern coast. The three factories have turned out 1,500,000 brick, which is 200,000 in excess of last year. The brick-makers hope next year to turn out 2,000,000 or more. The local brick according to experts is superior in many respects to the imported article.

Deer were never so plentiful as this season on the West coast. Thousands have been seen crossing the country, and the sportsmen are having fine sport. The Peninsula of Avalon is actually alive with game, many of the deer being exceptionally large.

Typhoid and scarlet fever are prevalent in the city at present, and a number have succumbed to the effects of the diseases. The water is very bad and a sample of it has been sent to McGill for analysis, but the report has not arrived yet.

The captains of the schooners Henry M. Stanley and Essex, of Gloucester, are incensed because they are obliged to pay duties on barrels and gasoline brought along for the voyage. In one case the duty on barrels was paid under protest, but a lot of gasoline was placed in bond, awaiting advice from the vessel owners at Gloucester. The fish owners say that as the barrels and gasoline are part of the fittings for the trip, they should not be deemed dutiable. The matter will be immediately brought before the Department at Washington for decision as to whether this action by the government violates the provisions of the Modus Vivendi, under which American fishermen are operating at Bay of Island, suspending settlement of the matter at The Hague Tribunal.

INTERESTING IMPRESSIONS OF A PETERBOROUGH BOY WHO HAS GONE TO THE SUNNY SOUTH TO RESIDE IN THE HISTORIC STATE OF THE LONE STAR

Rain Comes Very Rarely and Irrigation is Depended Upon ---Orange Grove Covering Eight Hundred Acres---The Happy Mexican People---The Place Where the Mocking Birds Sing---The Artesian Wells.

MR. ROSCOE KENDRY INTENDS TO RESIDE IN TEXAS STATE

From Raymondville, a town in the State of the Lone Star, comes an interesting letter from Mr. Roscoe Kendry, a Peterborough boy, who is a brother of Mrs. W. B. Bletcher, city, and who has taken up his residence in the Sunny South. Mr. Kendry left some time ago and has sent the following letter to a friend here about his impressions on Texas State:

"Regarding the climate of southwest Texas I would say that in my opinion it cannot be surpassed. Health being the first consideration that must be dealt with I certainly think that the Gulf Coast country has a 'little' on the best of them.

"The town of Raymondville is a pretty little spot, situated about seventeen miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and about forty-six miles north of Mexico. The main line of the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico Railroad passes through it. The town is hardly three years old as yet, and is the coming commercial centre of this coast land. Malaria, yellow fever, typhoid and other diseases of that sort are as yet unknown in this part. The climatic conditions are of the best—never too hot and never too cold, and fanned and cooled by the eternal breezes from the gulf. One thing that cannot be depended on, and that is rain. But irrigation takes the place of it, and very good results are being obtained. In some localities canals are built through the country and some get their supply of water in this way. As yet there is no canal through 'Raymondville,' but here we irrigate by means of artesian wells. These vary in depth, being all the way from twelve to eighteen hundred feet. One peculiar fact is that this water is quite warm when it first comes from the pipe, but on being allowed to stand for a couple of hours in a pail it will become as cold as spring water. No need of windmills, pumps, etc., on these wells, they are always ready and flow all the time. One is sufficient to irrigate one hundred and sixty acres, and the flows have been registered at three to four hundred gallons per minute. On being analysed by United States officials it has been found that this water contains magnesia and sulphur, but not in very large quantities.

"Regards soil there are two distinct kinds, viz.:—A sandy loam and a chocolate-black. Both are good for fruit purposes, and also cotton. With this soil, climate, and an abundance of water, we are able to grow bananas, oranges, figs, dates, lemons, grapefruits, etc. Besides these, cotton and sugar-cane are grown extensively in these parts. All kinds of garden truck will mature all the year round. Every day we have fresh celery, lettuce, etc., grown right at our own doors. Tomatoes do exceptionally well and you can see them all sizes, some ripe, others just in blossom. Of these, viz.:—Tomatoes, cabbage, beets, carrots and mostly any garden truck, three and sometimes four crops can be gathered. A new grade of cotton that is being experimented with here is the Egyptian. It grows larger than ordinary cotton and sells about 26c to 30c per lb. The ordinary sells from eight to ten cents per lb. In fact anything that can be grown in California can be grown here, and lots of things that can't be grown in California are shown at their best in this soil. Raymondville is 500 miles farther south than Southern California. The houses are mostly all built 'bungalow' style and as there is no stone here at all, there are not any stone foundations.

"Negroes are not tolerated in this part at all, in fact if one does happen to get off the train, he generally gets on again quicker than he got off.

"Mexicans are used for working the land, and they are certainly a happy lot. Very easy people to get along with, and not bad workers. Their language is a good deal like the Spanish. About two weeks ago I visited the old City of Matamoras, in Mexico, and enjoyed myself immensely. It is a nice city, just opposite Brownsville, which is on this side of the Rio Grande. The windows on their houses are all grated on the outside after the old Spanish custom.

"We have all the song birds here now from the north, and their music is of the sweetest, mocking-birds, whippoorwills, and other sweet songsters. The season is now open for deer and quite a number have been shot near here. 'Coyotes,' panther, wild cats, wild rabbits, are very plentiful here, and quite a number have been killed. Also, wild ducks and geese, we have an abundant supply. Rattlesnakes, black and pilot snakes grow to be quite a size. Some have been killed lately that have measured nine feet. Of course, these kinds of things are not counted as drawbacks to the country and cannot last forever. There is all kinds of good fishing in the gulf and swimming at this time of the year would be a rare thing for you. But we generally ride over every Sunday on horse-back and enjoy a salt-water bath down here, right where you can enjoy it any old time of the year.

"Yes, this is where I expect to make my future home, and I like it better every day I'm here. Of course every town has its 'knockers,' and we are not without them here, but Raymondville is going to outgrow these and show them that it is not the fault of the land and 'what won't grow,' but 'what can be produced with proper care.' It is being done every day, and I guess will continue so.

"One large orange grove here covers eight hundred acres. After planting an orange tree (barring accidents), right from the nursery, it will bear fruit in about two years and a half. Some have been known to start bearing eighteen months after transplanting. Ebony and mesquite wood are the most popular of trees here. Every tree, bush, or shrub has a thorn on it. I guess this will be all, and hope this will give you a general idea of the Gulf Coast Country."

THE CHRISTMAS GIFT SEASON

A Clearing Out Sale That Offers Unexampled Opportunities.

The daily resort of a great proportion of Peterborough citizenship for everything in the line of books, stationery and fancy goods is just now at the "Holiday Headquarters," 417 George street which offers attractions to the Christmas purchaser such as have never before been presented in Peterborough, and are not, probably, to be duplicated between Toronto and Montreal.

At the Peterborough Book Store, 417 George street, they have to-day on display over ten thousand dollars' worth of goods specially selected for the Christmas trade, that are to be turned over to the public at what are practically nominal prices—that is, everything is marked so low, with a view of a complete clearing out by January 1st, as to give intending purchasers an opportunity of buying it at near factory prices.

It is worth the while of anyone, whether they intend to buy or not, to take a look through the magnificent display of holiday wares that are open for inspection at the Peterborough Bookstore, and all visitors will find themselves welcomed by a staff of courteous clerks, both ladies and gentlemen, who take pride and delight in showing the visitor about among the artistic treasures that abound in every aisle, and that burden, though tastefully displayed, every counter. To look through the Christmas cards and calendars alone is a dream of beauty, and the most surprise of all is experienced when you price some exquisitely artistic production that strikes your fancy and find to your surprise and delight that it is quite within the most modest means. It is indeed surprising that the achievements of our schools of art and design, in conjunction with the new methods of mechanical production, are able to offer for common use at low prices, goods that are not only treasures of art, but also of permanent value, as a feature in refined households, that a few years ago would be beyond the reach of all but the wealthiest.

The department of toilet articles will appeal strongly to those who wish to combine in their Xmas gifts features of artistic excellence and practical utility. The display of brushes, combs and mirrors in ebony and sterling silver appeals strongly to gentlemen and ladies of good taste, who can appreciate real value and artistic merit.

A look at the children's sleighs and baby cutters will quickly convince you of what is needed to make the little hearts happy.

The brass goods display is one that will not elsewhere be found outside a metropolitan city. Its frames, mirrors, letter holders, book racks, ink wells, writing outfits, vases, candle-sticks, etc., are very beautiful, and no one can look over them without coveting, even if they do not purchase some of these lovely creations, either for themselves or their friends.

Never before have such creations of exquisite elegance been offered for the inspection of the critical buyer as are here this year offered in the leather goods department. The variety is infinite, and what will most surprise is the very moderate prices at which these goods, heretofore held up at exclusive rates, are to be had at the Peterborough Bookstore to-day.

In stationery there is a bewildering variety of lovely goods, that have only to be seen to be admired, and to the critical admirer to become his or her property.

There is a splendid display of cut glass articles of ornament and utility, bought at a manufacturer's sacrifice, and in which Mr. Stratton shares the advantage with his customers. Such a chance to buy fine art ware at low prices may not for a long time again occur.

There is a wide variety of dainty French china, Sevres ornaments, ravishing fans and hundreds of other articles that appeal to the refined and elegant taste.

But in the book department there is such an array of variety and excellence and artistic beauty that words fail us to give the reader even the faintest idea of the attraction and values to be found there. Bibles, gift books, religious books, Prayer Books and Hymnals, toy books and miscellaneous books are in almost endless profusion, with only one uniform feature, and that is a price so low as to excite the wonder of the enquirer.

All are made welcome at the Peterborough Bookstore, and no obtrusion in the way of pressing wares upon your attention; and just at the present time we know of no place where one can spend a more pleasant or profitable hour than in even a cursory examination of the treasures now on exhibition in such bewildering and exquisite profusion at the Peterborough Bookstore, 417 George street, Peterborough.

LOST HUNTER SIGNALS PASSING TRAIN AND BREAKS HIS LENGTHY FAST OF FORTY-EIGHT HOURS

Havelock, Dec. 5.—Special.—Mr. John Hart, of the Sudbury Line, spent a few days in town last week, receiving the glad hand of his many friends. Mr. Hart had quite an experience this year, while hunting, having wandered too far into the woods and became lost. He was lost from Saturday morning until Monday noon, during which time he had to fast. He would walk all day, and at night would build a fire and remain until the break of day, not sleeping but thinking of what route he would take the following day. On Monday morning he was wending his way along, when the whistle of an engine drew his attention and he at once made his way in that direction, arriving in the clearing just in time to signal a passing train, which stopped and carried the long lost wandering boy back to the place from whence he came.

Burglar Worked Hard To Gain Entrance To Store But Bell Of The Till Sounded An Alarm

Man at Bailleboro Bored Thirty-two Holes in a Store Door to Cut Out Piece of the Wood—Pulled Back the Lock and Entered.

HE SECURED NO LOOT

The burglar who entered the hardware store of Mr. William Fell, Bailleboro, a few nights ago, evidently followed the principal of perseverance that is being preached so widely today to young men if they wish to make a success of their business. He made more than one attempt to gain an entrance which he finally affected without making sufficient noise to attract any of the nearby residents.

It was sometime between one and two o'clock that the affair took place. The stranger commenced operations on the lower part of a double door which was bolted on the inside. He removed the moulding from one of the panels evidently thinking that it would then fall out, but in this he was mistaken for it was solid and refused to act as he had expected. He next turned his attentions to the windows in the upper part of the door. He bored through a small hole in one corner making holes in each corner and then easily breaking it out. By this means he pulled back the bolt but there was another one at the bottom which he could not reach.

Bored 32 Holes

To loosen this he started to bore out a square hole at the bottom of the door and altogether made thirty-two holes. A task that must have taken considerable time. At length he opened the door and made his way inside. In the meantime Mr. Fell who lived in one corner of the building which is divided into different apartments was awakened by a strange noise which aroused his suspicions. He was alarmed when the heard the bell of the till ring some time afterwards, and hurriedly ran to the store just to hear the footsteps of someone going out at the rear door.

No money was taken and no other articles were missed. It is believed by the villagers that the man thought he was in the post office as it was only removed a few months ago, and was before that time entered several times.

HIS WORSHIP MAYOR RUSH,
Who will accept another term as Mayor if the people demand his services

SOCIALISTIC SUNDAY LECTURE TO BE GIVEN TO-MORROW AFTERNOON

A lecture of a socialistic character will be given to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon in the Union Hall over Mr. C N Brown's store, on Simcoe street at 3 o'clock. The lecturer will be Mr. Wilfrid Gribble, of Toronto, provincial organizer of the Socialistic party of Canada. He invites, according to his circulars, the working men and women to hear what he has to say. Mr. Gribble is represented as being an interesting and forcible speaker, has the eloquence of earnestness and a great fund of humour. He has travelled widely and has served a number of years in the British Navy.

TROUBLE AROSE FROM ALLEGED SPREADING OF FALSE REPORTS

An episode in which two were directly interested and which was witnessed by very few more, occurred in a Water street residence a few evenings ago. According to the information received it resulted rather disastrously for a dressing case and a man's head.

The trouble, it is stated, arose from the fact that one of the two men was reported as having circulated false statements concerning his fellow-man. The latter called him to his office by telephone, and on his arrival there at once ensued a terrific combat, at least, so the rumour goes. When stillness once more reigned it was found that a dressing case was broken, a head hurt and a man was seen fleeing down the street minus his hat. We understand that both parties consider their differences effectively settled.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETING OF PETERBOROUGH CLUB

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Club was held last night, there being a large attendance of members. The election of officers resulted in Dr. Boucher being re-elected president of the club and Mr. W. R. Morris the secretary-treasurer.

THE WEATHER

The thermometer dropped down during the night to 5 degrees below zero—the coldest of the present season. This morning at seven o'clock it was 2 degrees below. This is the first zero weather and it breaks no great records for time.

LADIES' BENEVOLENT ORANGE ASSOCIATION TO HOLD CONCERT

A social and entertainment under the auspices of Sentinel Lodge, No. 66, Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, will be held in the Foresters' Hall, George street, on Friday evening, Dec. 11th. An excellent musical and literary programme by the best local talent will be given. Refreshments will be served after the programme.

It is expected that the Rev. A. H Brace, of Cobourg, and Mr. R. H Holland, of Port Hope, will be present and deliver addresses. Admission adults 25c., children 10c. God Save the King.

OPERETTA IS TO BE GIVEN BY SEPARATE SCHOOL CHILDREN

A delightful operetta and cantata, will be given in the St. Peter's school hall on Friday night, Dec. 11, by the boys of St. Peter's school, and the pupils of the Sacred Heart school. The children have been well drilled in their parts and the operetta promises to be characterized by the success which usually marks similar undertakings under the same auspices.

The wonderful nature-fertilized volcanic soil of the Island of Ceylon imparts to tea a delightful fragrance and delicious flavour. The uniformly excellent quality of "Salada" Tea bears testimony to this fact. 1d

BROOKS HANGS HIMSELF WITH TOWEL— THE LINDSAY JAIL BREAKER WAS FOUND DEAD IN HIS CELL EARLY THIS MORNING

Examiner Special.

Lindsay, Dec. 5.—Wm. Brooks, one of the two men who escaped from the gaol here on Saturday of last week, committed suicide in his cell last night by hanging himself with a towel. His body was discovered this morning. Brooks was under sentence of eighteen months in Central Prison for horse theft, and was also due to face another charge of gaol breaking. He has been despondent since he was re-arrested and felt his position keenly. The worry had a strong effect upon him, and was, no doubt, the cause of his taking his own life. It will be remembered that Brooks was arrested some time ago on the charge of stealing a horse [illegible] was sentenced to eighteen months in the Central Prison. He was awaiting his removal to Toronto when last Saturday he and another prisoner, Fred Mallory, found an opportunity to escape, and did so by climbing over the wall of the gaol yard by climbing on a wood pile, when the turnkey's back was turned. The two were at large until Monday evening, when they were captured at Pefferlaw, near Canningtom, by Provincial Detective Semkly. They were dressed in the gaol garb, but had effected an ingenious exchange. The trousers are half yellow and half black, and the men had divided the colours and in some way sewed them together again so that they made trousers of one colour.

He Places Himself In The Hands Of Citizens Of Peterborough

As the municipal elections are approaching and the situation is being canvassed, interest in mayoralty and aldermanic candidates is developing. Having in mind the custom of giving a mayor a second term if his course in office seems to deserve it, and desirous of learning Mayor Rush's attitude towards the mayoralty, the Examiner called upon him yesterday.

"Mr. Mayor, there are many inquiries made as to your feeling in regard to a second term as mayor. Would you care to be quoted upon the subject?" asked the Examiner representative.

"I am quite willing to state my position. I have not heard of any candidate coming forward, because I suppose almost everybody I meet seems to be expecting me to take a second term; and so many have spoken to me to this effect that it has occurred to me that I might be given, and perhaps, ought to accept a chance to finish the work I have had under consideration.

"The position has taken more of my time than I anticipated and if I took a merely personal view of the matter, I would retire now.

"I suppose you know, Mr. Rush, that a great many of our best citizens want to see you continue in the office for another term?"

"Yes; I am aware of that, and feel flattered by it. I am naturally pleased that so many personal representations have been made to me to stand for another term, and you might publicly express my appreciation of the kindness of those who have stated their satisfaction with the work of the year."

"Then can you authorize the Examiner to say that you will be a candidate for the mayoralty for 1909?"

"Yes, I think I may venture that far. When I became a candidate last year I said I only wanted one term and had no ambitions for a second. Personally, I feel that way now; but if my services have given reasonable satisfaction and if there is a bona fide desire for a continuance of my services, which will permit me to see accomplished certain work to which I am more or less committed, I am ready to waive personal considerations and place myself in the hands of my fellow citizens. To have the honour and privilege of serving the interests of Peterborough comes to me more as a duty at the present time than otherwise."

Was More Seriously Injured Than Was At First Supposed

Mr. W. J. Metheral, son of Mr. Jos. P. Metheral, Aylmer street who fell from a scaffold at the big elevator at Port Colborne on Wednesday morning was more seriously injured than the telegraphic despatches recording the accident would indicate. He was brought to his home in this city last night and will be laid up for several weeks at least. Both ankles are badly sprained and bruised, while his back was strained and he was badly shaken up. The accident was angularly unfortunate inasmuch as it was Mr. Metheral's last day on the work, as the contract was practically completed. He fell about twenty-five feet.

Was Arrested In Opera House For Causing Disturbance In The Gallery

Thomas Fitzgerald went to see the "Mikado" at the Grand Opera House last night. There is nothing remarkable in that as a good many others were also present. But Thomas differed in respect of falling into the hands of the police before the performance was over, and as a result appeared before Magistrate Dumble at police court this morning charged with creating a disturbance. Mr. J. J. Turner, Sr., gave evidence to the effect that Fitzgerald had been chewing tobacco and expectorating on the floor, and that he had been warned and afterward arrested when he did not desist. He had informed Mr. Turner that it was a free country.

Fitzgerald denied that he had expectorated upon the floor. He had had a seat in the front row of the upper gallery and had put his feet upon the railing in front of him. The house constable had told him to take them down and also stated that if he did not like the way things were run he could get his money back. He had gone down stairs and was refused a refund of the admission charge. He returned to the gallery and took another seat, after which he was arrested. He admitted that he used chewing tobacco and had some with him last night.

The case was adjourned until five o'clock this afternoon.

P. C. Newball effected the arrest last evening and had his knuckles badly torn in getting his man out of the gallery.

Peterboro Man Drowned While Fording Goulais River In Algoma District

Chief Russel has received a letter from Sault Ste. Marie, in which the tragic death of an old Peterborough County boy, John Sage, is recorded. The deceased, who had been a resident of the Algoma district for the past ten years, is a brother of Mr. Henry Sage, of Smith, and a daughter, Miss Annie Sale, who formerly lived here, resides in Toronto.

The letter is as follows:

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Dear Sir,—I write you for the purpose of finding out some information in connection with finding some relatives of John Sage, who was drowned near Sault Ste. Marie on Nov. 27th. I was with him when he was drowned crossing the Goulais River with his team. The water was about three or four feet deep, with a strong current. The horses turned and went down stream. He took to the horses and I leapt on some boards that he used for a waggon box. We drifted down into about twelve feet of water. He went under with the horses and I kept on the two boards until a boat came to me.

I think he has a daughter living in Peterborough. He has a farm and some chattels, such as hay, waggon, sleighs, cutter, buggy, some household goods, etc. He has been living up in Algoma for six or seven years near Belleview, on the Algoma Central Railway.

THOS. J. ROWERS,
Bailiff and District Constable.

EIGHT PROTESTS ARE FILED AGAINST THE MEMBERS-ELECT

Toronto, Dec. 5.—Special.—To-day is the last day for filing protests against the return of members elect for the Dominion Parliament. The following protests have been entered:

W. Thoburn, North Lanark; T. Wallace, Centre York; Wm. Germain, Welland; F. L. Fowke, North Ontario; Geo. Gordon, Nipissing; Alex. McGill, Norfolk; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Ottawa, and Hon. J. R. Stratton, West Peterborough.

New Custom Work Sawmill For The Village Of Lakefield

Mr. John McGrath, well known in Peterborough in connection with the lumber business, and for the past four years, superintendent for the Tate-Lillicrap Lumber Company, will erect a new sawmill in Lakefield.

Mr. McGrath has purchased the site of the old White sawmill and will at once erect a suitable building thereon. A complete equipment of machinery is ready for installation. All that is to be done, therefore, is to erect the building and place the machinery and it is expected that the mill which will have a capacity of 15,000 feet b.m., daily, will be ready for operations on January 1st. The establishment of this mill will be a boon to Lakefield and vicinity and there is no doubt of its being well conducted.

Mr. McGrath in addition to his experience of four years in Lakefield has had 30 years' experience in the lumbering business with the Dickson and Rathbun Companies, and his enterprise and business capacity will no doubt be appreciated.

D. Vinette Wins Action Against The Bell Telephone Co. In A Wages Case

Magistrate Dumble decided at police court this morning that the Bell Telephone Company should pay D Vinette $16 for work done by him in connection with the stringing of the wires of the telephone line between Apsley and Mt. Julian. Vinette had laid an information against the company for non-payment of wages.

The complainant was the first witness. He stated that Mr. Bremner, foreman of the Bell Telephone Company had told him to go to Apsley to do some wire stringing, and that he and three others had gone. They were told before they left Peterborough that they would be paid therefor. Afterwards Mr. Bremner had stated that they would be paid at Apsley and then, once more, that they would be paid at Peterborough. He had worked eight days there.

Geo. Gagnon, who was one of the three companions of the complainant gave similar evidence.

Mr. F W Doan, resident manager of the Bell Telephone Company, testified that he had secured the foreman for the Apsley company as a favour to them to allow them to get their line finished. He had informed the men that they were going to work for the Apsley Company and would be paid by them.

Foreman Bremner was called, but his evidence did not throw much light upon the case, as he seemed to have a very hazy recollection of the circumstances.

The Magistrate gave his verdict in favour of the plaintiff. Mr. F H Kerr appeared for the Bell Telephone Company, and Mr. R McWilliams for Vinette.

ANOTHER PIPE DREAM.

Mr. Stratton, would welcome as a decided novelty some statement made by a Conservative newspaper regarding himself that has some semblance to the truth. In The Toronto World of to-day is printed an alleged report of an alleged election protest saw-off conference between alleged leading members of the Conservative and Liberal parties held yesterday at the King Edward Hotel. Amongst those described as being present, is Hon. Mr. Stratton, of whose movement on the alleged occasion details are given, so that the writer can not take refuge in the explanation of his false statements, that Mr. Stratton's name was furnished him by error.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Stratton was not present at the alleged conference, had no knowledge of its meeting-place, knows nothing of what was done, and is not troubling himself over the matter in any way.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION.

Time after time the Examiner has advanced the idea, by both suggestion and elaboration, that ordinary business principles and business common sense applied to civic administration would produce results satisfactory beyond the expectation of those who regard as a necessary evil, the ordinary slipshod and easy-going management of civic affairs, so generally prevalent throughout the province. It is a pleasure to note that the administration of our greatest spending department, the Board of Works, has furnished an excellent example of what the practice of the foresight which business principles suggest, can effect, and that, on this one score alone, the ratepayers are treated to a saving of about $4,000.

The matter of cement required by the city next year is in question. The chairman of the Board of Works had the foresight to call for tenders for cement required by the corporation, at a time when the market was most favourable, instead of waiting till the cement was actually required, when naturally the more urgent needs of the city would give the manufacturers an obvious advantage in negotiations as to prices.

The cement used this year cost the city $1.75 per barrel. Add to this, storing, inspection and testing, six cents per barrel, making the gross cost of the cement used by the city this year $1.81. The contract has been closed for next season's supply of cement at $1.25 per barrel. The storing, unloading and testing will cost an additional three cents per barrel, making the gross price of next year's cement, $1.28 per barrel, as against $1.81 last year.

It is estimated that there will be used next year on city streets and other corporation work, 8,000 barrels of cement. Taking the difference between next yea's price and that of last year at 50 cents per barrel—the actual difference being 53 cents—the present contract nets the city a saving of $4,000.

This timely purchase of city cement is a concrete example—no pun intended—of the benefit of doing city business on business principles, on exactly the same principle that a citizen would apply to the transaction of his own business. The chairman and members of the Board of Works are entitled to a large degree of credit for their profitable departure from the traditions that too largely find favour in the management of municipal business. The incident also emphasizes the importance and advantage of having the business element of our citizenship liberally represented in the composition of our Board of aldermen.

The Examiner in the discharge of a duty to the public has unfortunately, had too much justification for criticizing the administration of our several Boards of Works in connection with the general management, and in some cases, mismanagement of our streets. It is, therefore, a genuine pleasure to give credit to an action of the present Board of Works which is so palpably in the public interest, and in line with the principles of sound business, which should govern all administrative civic bodies. It is to be hoped that the successors of the present Board will take a leaf out of the latter's book and apply and extend the principles, upon which was based the very satisfactory deal in cement which has recently been effected.

There is yet vast room for improvement in connection with the administration of our streets. No one complains that sufficient money is not spent: the rub is the lack of value received and the results obtained. One of the cardinal principles of an effectively conducted business, especially one involving great detail, is system. There is infinite detail in connection with the matter of dealing with our fifty-two and a half miles of streets. There is need of the adoption of a comprehensive and workable system, whose application will provide for due and timely attention to every detail, so that nothing will be overdone nor underdone, nor neglected. It would seem to be possible to devise a system which would definitely fix responsibility, insure coordination of action and service, and a dovetailing of details that would result in a complex but united and harmonious whole.

Thus will dispersion of energy, overlapping of work, unnecessary expense, and consequent waste of money, be avoided. Thus would the street work for the season be foreseen and anticipated, as in the cement contract of this year, and provision made for dealing with every exigency that can arise in connection with street making and maintenance, and such prevision and precaution made possible as would make the authorities masters of our streets instead of our streets being the masters of our authorities.

No one body of aldermen, no one Board of Works is responsible for the conditions that have been in existence and fatal operation for years and years, as represented by absolute lack of system and happy-go-lucky management of the expensive and important matter of street making and maintenance. If a workable system were devised and applied there is not the slightest doubt that every year would see a saving, as in the cement contract, of $4,000 a year in regard to our street expenditure, with no impairment of, but substantial improvement in results.

A SPIRIT THAT PAYS.

The action of Mayor Rush at what was practically the last business meeting of the City Council on Monday night, in expressing his appreciaton of the support the aldermen had given him during the year, may by some be put down as a pleasant formality, that was to be expected from a gentleman of the Mayor's well-known courtesy. But it was much more than that, it was the expression of an attitude towards the council that has had a distinct business value. As the Examiner pointed out in advocating Mayor Rush's advancement to the presidency of the council, his attitude of courtesy towards the aldermen has developed a corresponding spirit on their part. He has refrained from departing from the traditions of the office in taking too much upon himself, in witholding himself from gratuitously meddling in debates, and has contented himself with performing the unwritten but definitely prescribed duties of a mayor as presiding officer at meetings of council. He has refrained from creating causes of friction and the development of cross-purposes. There has consequently been no friction; the meetings of the council have been harmonious; attention has not been distracted from business. Consequently meetings have been held for business and the business has been done, with fewer meetings than in previous years. A man who knows his place and keeps it, who knows his duty and does it, whether he be a mayor or a menial, is the man who will be appreciated and give satisfaction in the position he occupies. Mayor Rush and the aldermen who have worked with him in council the past year deserve credit for their mutual attitude of harmony and co-operation especially as this harmony and co-operation have been of benefit to the interests dealt with. The succeeding mayor and board of aldermen have set an example in the regard mentioned which is worthy of imitation.

ANOTHER FALL FROM GRACE.

The editor of the Review, who is, at the same time, the Conservative candidate-defeat, was, as members of his own party assert, raised to that bad eminence by corrupt manipulation of the local Conservative machine. He got off in the political race to a bad start, and has been running a wobbly course ever since. He has preached political purity with pharisaic unction, and at the same time has accepted abundant advantage of crooked devices to advance his personal and party interests. Ex uno disce omnes. A day or two before election day he issued a flaring Review "extra," embodying a double falsehood, with the obviously sole object of corruptly promoting his own candidature. This "extra," which was extra strong and extra wrong, asserted the falsehood that the Ontario Hydro-electric Commission has awarded a big contract to the C.G.E. Company, and the additional falsehood that Mr. Burnham, the Conservative candidate, had been instrumental in securing the contract, and suggesting the corrupt idea that thereby he had established a claim to the votes of the workmen affected. The Examiner at the time exposed this diaphanous dodge, and held that if this contract had been awarded, it was because the tender was the lowest and Mr. Burnham was not entitled to one iota of credit. Mr. Burnham and the Review reiterated this falsehood from time to time and up to last Saturday, when by accident the Review through the "error" of a reporter on the staff as is alleged, and doubted, blundered into the light and stated that the engineers of the Commission had visited the Electric Works to ascertain if their equipment justified the awarding of a contract. The Examiner then quietly pointed out that "out of his own mouth" the editor of the Review and the candidate, had been convicted of a double-barrelled offence, corruptly appealing for political support and doing it on false pretences—equivalent to buying votes with counterfeit money. Next day the Review reiterated the statement made in the corrupt and practically fraudulent extra. It said:—

It (the Examiner tries to make out that the Review or Mr. Burnham or both, asserted a falsehood when they said prior to the election * * * that a Hydro-Electric contract had been awarded to the C.G.E., and that Mr. Burnham with others was entitled to much credit for it. THE CONTRACT WAS LET TO THE C. G. E., AND THE C. G. E. HAVE IT. The news item in the Review (stating in effect that the contract had not been awarded) which the editor of the Examiner gloats over, was in error. But it must be remembered that the item was not written by or on the authority of Mr. Burnham. Mr. Burnham has nothing to take back.

Hasn't he? Read the following from the Globe of Friday, Dec. 4:—

The Hydro-Electric Power Commission meets to-day to consider the tendering for the electrical equipment for the power line. The Commission's engineers HAVE A REPORT TO SUBMIT WHICH WILL LARGELY GOVERN THE LETTING OF THE TENDERS.

The Examiner regrets to be compelled to devote so much attention to a business matter; but in the interests of truth and fair dealing it is compelled to expose the devious moral meanderings of the "only honest man in politics," and prevent this champion of pure election methods from exercising with impunity, his talent and penchant for corrupting the electorate—buying votes with the cheap currency of undeserved influence advanced as a merit—and as a bribe—on grounds that had no existence.

The Examiner earnestly hopes that the Canadian General Electric Company will be awarded the big end of the contract for the electric equipment of the Niagara Falls Power transmission line. As a matter of business precaution the vast of inspection by the engineers of the Commission can easily be justified, but Peterborough citizens who are familiar with the Works, are convinced that if the awarding of the contract depends upon sufficiency of equipment and capacity to do [illegible] work, the contract [illegible] an important share of it will come to Peterb[illegible]

GRAFT AND CAMPAIGN FUNDS.

The Montreal Gazette says that there is a measure of truth in our statement that the patronage system was continued, not adopted, by the present Government. "The patronage system was in existence when the Liberal Government came into power. The patronage system, as utilized by the Conservatives, was not free from abuses, but they were of small consequence when compared with those which have developed under Laurier."

If the Gazette believes that graft existed in a comparatively mild form before the present Government came into power, how does it account for the downfall of Sir Hector Langevin some sixteen years ago, and for the letter written by Alexander Mackenzie more than thirty years ago, in which he described himself as in a state of siege, defending the treasury against grafters?—Ottawa Free Press.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The attitude of Mr. Brodeur's critics is not quite logical. They would not allow him to go on with his own quiet work of reforming his department, upon which everything shows he was actively engaged, and in which he was met at every point by interested disloyalty and intrigue. They insisted upon having the whole business dragged out into the daylight. Mr. Brodeur, sure of his own purpose and integrity, acceded to their demand. Now they say that because he has allowed the public exposure of things which he could have privately discovered and dealt with, he must go. It isn't logical, and it isn't just, and in the light of what the testimony shows this conduct to have been, will only make him stronger with fair-minded men.

Manitoba Liberals Flood Courts With Election Protests — Are Pursuing Roblin—Eight Months Revenue and Expenditures Statement—Return of Ministers From Europe—Important Order by Railway Commissioners—Death of Edward Devlin.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—This being the last day for entering protests, the topic of controverted elections is the most prominent subject of interest to-day. The much vaunted project of wholesale protests in Quebec seems to have "died a'-bornin'," and there will be few protests in that province. It is understood that the Manitoba Liberals will take a vogorous stand in the courts against the high-handed methods of the Roblin government and its employes in the recent elections. Petitions have already been filed against Alexander Haggart, Winnipeg; G. H. Bradbury, Selkirk; Glen Campbell, Dauphin; W. H. Sharpe, Lisgar; Dr. Roche, Marquette; W. D. Staples, Macdonald, and A. J. Meighen, Portage la Prarie, and, with the exception of Winnipeg and Selkirk, are almost entirely on statutory grounds. In these two there are special counts, some of the points of which are of considerable interest. In Winnipeg evidence is promised to show that Mr. Haggart and his committee used his position of chairman of the Board of License Commissioners to levy tribute on the hotelkeepers to raise election funds, and there was a conspiracy between the local government and the Licensed Victuallers to have the bars remain open on election day without danger of prosecution; that members of the local government and their employees exerted undue influence in many directions.

The will of the lamented Dr. James Fletcher, Dominion Entomologist, was filed for probate by his widow yesterday. The estate, all personalty, is valued at $14,314.

The statement of public revenue and expenditures for the first eight months of the present fiscal year, as reported to the Finance Department up to the end of the month, issued to-day, shows a total revenue of $55,115,227, a total expenditure on consolidated fund account of $45,376,957, and a total expenditure on capital account of $22,-156,394. The great bulk of the latter was, of course, on the National Transcontinental Railway. As compared with the corresponding period of last year there is a decrease of $11,547,200 in revenue, an increase of $3,832,501 in expenditure on consolidated fund account, and an increase of $5,500,907 in capital expenditure. The decrease in revenue is accounted for mainly by the falling off of $10,178,378 in the customs receipts, and $480,796 in excise. The postoffice revenue increased by $77,000.

The probability of Parliament being called together for the despatch of business at the earliest practicable date in January receives confirmation in the information, just received, that Postmaster-General Lemieux and Finance Minister Fielding, who are in Europe on public business, will sail for home about December 20th.

The Board of Railway Commissioners has made an important order in regard to the lighting of passenger cars on Canadian railways. The orders require that henceforth all cars must be lighted by acetylene gas under the absorbent or commercial acetylene system, or by the Pintsch compressed oil gas system. The order is made in the interests of the safety of the travelling public, and straight rules regarding the use of light are made. Under any system of gas lighting the working pressure must not exceed 150 pounds to the square inch.

Edward Devlin, Sr., who has been for many years prominent in local business and political life, died yesterday morning from heart trouble. Deceased was seventy years old and settled in Ottawa forty-five years ago. He became one of the largest drovers in eastern Canada, and built up a large cattle export trade. He leaves a family of seven children, all residents of Ottawa. He was an enthusiastic Liberal, a capital public speaker, and from the wide extent of his business had a large influence in the Ottawa Valley, where he was known among politicians as "The Senator."

MAN WHO STOLE THE CLOCKS RECENTLY WILL LIKELY BE DEPORTED

George Batley, who was found guilty of stealing a number of clocks, etc., when he appeared before Magistrate Dumble some time ago, may be deported. Mr. Devlin the officer in charge of deportations, was in the city to-day to investigate the case, and it is likely that Batley and his family will return to the place from whence he came.

ENGLAND

A number of fox hounds belonging to the Quorn pack broke away from the huntsmen during a recent run, and ran on the Midland Railway near Kegworth Station. Seeing an express from Leicester approaching, workmen tried to drive the dogs away, but the animals huddled together like sheep. A signalman put the signals against the express, which slowed down. The hounds scattered when the train was close upon them, but one dog was killed, others having narrow escapes.

For the last three years an anonymous donor has added five shillings to every shilling given at the Westbourne Wesleyan Church, on the Bournemouth circuit. This year, however, the donor announced that, as some people regarded his offer in the light of a bribe, he would give the same sum as in 1907, viz., £280. The collection at the meeting realized £1 more than last year, and the anonymous donor has forwarded a cheque for £285.

At Liverpool, recently, Arthur Edward Benson was sentenced to four weeks' imprisonment for being a stowaway. Prisoner was found on the Oceanic during the voyage. He entered into conversation with the passengers, and ascertained the name of one, and, when spoken to, personated the man. Benson had previously been before the court for stowing away on the Lusitania, but, telling a plausible story, he was allowed to go.

There was a novel development of the herring industry at Yarmouth when the Norwegian steamer Jokul arrived filled with barrels and salt from Bergen, the object of her visit being to buy herrings. These were salt-cured and packed in the barrels, all the requisite operations being performed on board, while the steamer lay in the harbour. When her cargo was completed she sailed for Bergen and will return on a similar trip.

The Bristol guardians, at a recent meeting decided to substitute margarine for butter in the dietary of the workhouse inmates. At the meeting one member, who characterized the substitution as contemptible, was reminded that he had not only eaten margarine under the impression that it was butter, but had praised it in the presence of a member of the committee who knew he was eating margarine.

Mr. Thomas Chaplin, of Nacton, Suffolk, who celebrated his 100th birthday on June 29, has just died. On attaining his century Mr. Chaplin remembered the arrival by coach of the news that Wellington had defeated Bonaparte at Waterloo. He was a non-smoker and was employed as a gardener for eighty-four years.

Mrs. Maria Ludlam was entertained at the vicarage of Oudby, Leicestershire, on her hundredth birthday. When visited by a reporter she was found enjoying her pipe of tobacco and chatting to her youngest daughter, aged seventy-three. Her only dread is, she says, the awful motor cars, hundreds of which pass through this well-known village daily.

IRELAND

An explosion of gas has almost demolished a house in the Knock district of Belfast. The house had just been completed, and the tenant was making final arrangements to go into possession. A plumber was seeing to the gas fittings and detecting a leakage he lit a match. There was immediately a terrific explosion, which broke every window in the house, plaster was torn from the walls, and pictures, etc., were all broken. A large hole was torn in the hall ceiling of the room above. The workman was found in the hall suffering from burns, but his injuries were not dangerous, and after a time he was able to proceed home.

A remarkable case of poisoning has occurred in the Mount St. Joseph Orphanage, Limerick, which is conducted by the Sisters of Mercy. After partaking of dinner, five children became seriously ill, and later on in the afternoon several more were attacked, the symptoms tending to show that the little ones were victims of ptomaine poisoning. The Sisters lost no time in summoning medical assistance, and soon five doctors were on the scene. So general was the attack that 56 children were soon under treatment, most of them being the elder girls. Eight of the children subsequently succumbed.

The recent exceptionally mild weather prevailing in Ireland was responsible for a good many "freaks" in the vegetable world. In the County of Wicklow perfectly ripe, sweet raspberries have been gathered; in Orkney Galway splendid mushrooms have been picked, and in the same county primroses and wild strawberries were in bloom last month.

John Reid, Garlow Cross, Navan, has been awarded £40 damages for the malicious burning of 20 tons of hay on his lands in August last. Several times lately the gates of the fields in which his valuable thoroughbred horses are turned loose, have been opened, and the animals scattered.

The tenants of the Holroyd-Smith Estate, County Cork, have signed agreements to purchase their holdings on the following terms: 7s. 6d. in the pound off first term rents, 1s. 6d. off second term—a half year's rent to be paid in hand, and a half year to be added to the purchase money.

At the eviction of a herd at Athewry a few days ago there was a conflict between the police and people watching the proceedings. The police charged with batons, and many people were injured, some seriously. The crowd retaliated with stones, and the police had a busy time.

Among the applicants at Dowegal, Ireland, for old-age pensions were three peasants whose ages are 111, 108 and 106 years. One of them does not understand a word of English, and still affects the knee-breeches, swallow-tail coat and caubeen of two generations ago.

SCOTLAND

A real jungle puzzle has arrived on a month's visit to the Scottish Zoo, Glasgow. This animal of an unknown variety, from the French Congo, was bought in London by Mr. Frank Bostock, the great animal trainer, for £1,360. Glasgow has christened the animal "Umeka." It was originally known as "What is it?" owing to the fact that naturalists have failed to discover its species. It is about the size of a leopard, with the spots of the jaguar but as it came from the Congo, where there are supposed to be no jaguars, experts have hesitated in giving it a name. In colour the Umeka is like the cheetah, and its tail resembles the leopard's.

A young man, named James Wallace, is in custody in Aberdeen, in connection with the dispatch of an infernal machine to a young couple about to be married. Towards the end of September a young Aberdeen man, named Thomas Rowe, was about to be married to a Miss Kemp, who received a box supposed to contain a wedding gift. The case was sent by parcel post, and on being partially opened by a little boy in the house a pistol was seen inside. It was afterwards discovered that the pistol was fixed so as to fire into two ounces of gelignite. Then the box was fully opened. Wallace declares that he is innocent.

A curious accident occurred recently in the Glasgow Central Police Office, when Christina M'Intosh or Kerr, who had been apprehended for disorderly conduct, became so violent while being conveyed in the hoist to a cell in the second story that she threw herself off the seat and thrust her right leg through the door of the hoist. The turnkey immediately stopped the hoist but the limb was severely lacerated by being hoist and the second landing. She caught between the floor of the had to be removed to hospital.

His Majesty has decided in future years to make more use of his Highland residence at Balmoral, than he has done in the past, and in order to render it more convenient for him he has given orders for extensive alterations to be carried out there during the coming winter. The principal of these will be the construction of a new main drive to replace the present narrow tortuous one that is extremely difficult to drive a motor car along. The main entrance is also to be considerably altered.

Mr. W. Campbell, the new Scottish Court of Session Judge, was recently installed in office by Lord Skerrington. As the new judge is the first Roman Catholic appointed to the Scottish Bench since the Reformation, it was feared that ultra-Protestants would make a protest in court, and there was a large gathering of the public. Extra precautions had, however, been taken in the interests of order, and the ceremony passed off without a hitch. Lord Dufferin presiding.

Palpitation of the Heart.

One of the first danger signals that announce something wrong with the heart is the irregular beat or violent throb. Often there is only a fluttering sensation, or an "all gone" sinking feeling; or again, there may be a most violent beating, with flushings of the skin and visible pulsations of the arteries. The person may experience a smothering sensation, gasp for breath and feel as though about to die. In such cases the action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in quieting the heart, restoring its normal beat and imparting tone to the nerve centres, is, beyond all question, marvellous. They give such prompt relief that no one need suffer.

Mr. Sylvester Smith, Hampton, N.B., writes:—"I was troubled with palpitation of the heart and tried doctor's medicines, but they only gave me temporary relief. I heard of your Heart and Nerve Pills and bought two boxes and before I had used them I was completely cured and would recommend them to all similarly affected."

Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON QUESTIONS

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club, for December 6th, 1908.

Solomon chooses wisdom—I Kings, iii 4-15.

Golden Text—The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. Prov. ix 10.

Verse 4.—What is the chief dependence alike of a king and a citizen?

What was the chief object of sacrifices in those days? Was it to appease God or to develope a spirit of giving to God; and did they have any idea that it prefigured the death of Jesus?

What are the chief benefits to the givers of money given to the church, to missions and to the poor?

Which is the richer man and the one who has lived to most purpose, he who dies leaving no estate, but having given to God's cause $20,000.00 during his life, or one who dies leaving an estate of $20,000.00, and having given away practically nothing during life?

Verse 5—Are such visions or dreams as Solomon had, unusual in these days to spiritually minded people?

How could Solomon distinguish this dream from an ordinary dream?

Does God still give his children a choice as to what they would like or does he choose for them?

If God does not choose for his children, does he influence them in their choice, and what is the difference in the two supposed methods?

Verse 6.—What help is it to us, to be able to praise God for the lives of our fathers and mothers?

Do you think it probable that our fathers and mothers, on the other side, look back and see their sons and daughters here, and take pleasure in their prosperity?

Verse 7—Should we like Solomon, recognize the hand of God, in putting us into our present position?

Are great men ever boastful; and is true humility always a mark of greatness?

Verses 8-9— Solomon's chief desire was, to have wisdom to properly administer the trust committed to him; what should be our chief desire?

No matter how grave our responsibilities, or difficult our position, is it absolutely sure that God will give us in answer to our prayer, the necessary wisdom and facilities to successfully administer our trust?

Should all men in positions of public trust, feel their insufficiency and call upon God as Solomon did?

Verses 10-13—Why did Solomon's request please the Lord?

Does God to-day answer every true or wise prayer, as he did this prayer of Solomon?

Would not all public and private sin and folly be prevented if men only relied upon God?

What is some of the evidence that God gave Solomon great wisdom?

Verse 14 — If our prayers are for goodness, and not greatness, to be of service and not to be served, may we depend that God will give us every other necessary thing, without our asking? (See Math. vi :31-34.) This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.

Will every true Christian have all the riches and honour, that are good for him?

Verse 15— Were God's promises in this case conditional upon obedience, and are they so conditioned in every case?

Verse 15— Does communion with God always make us strong and brave and generous?

Lesson for Sunday, December 13th, 1908—Solomon dedicates the Temple — I Kings viii.

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters By Using Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Isaac Brock, 119 Years Old Last Birthday.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of McLennan county, Texas, has lived for 119 years. For many years he resided at Bosque Falls, eighteen miles west of Waco, but now lives with his son-in-law at Valley Mills, Texas.

Some time ago, by request, Uncle Isaac came to Waco and sat for his picture, holding in his hand a stick cut from the grave of General Andrew Jackson.

Mr. Brock is a dignified old gentleman, showing few signs of decrepitude.

His family Bible is still preserved, and it shows that the date of his birth was written 119 years ago.

Born before the United States were formed.
Saw 22 presidents elected.
Pe-ru-na has protected him from all sudden changes.
Veteran of four wars.
Sound horse when 99 years old.
Always conquered the grip with Pe-ru-na.
Witness in a land suit at the age of 119 years.
Believes Pe-ru-na the greatest remedy of the age for catarrhal troubles.

IN speaking of his good health and extreme old age, Mr. Brock says:

"After a man has lived in the world as long as I have, he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so.

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for ailments that arise directly to the effects of the climate. For fifty years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States.

"I have always been a very healthy man, but, of course, subject to the affections which are due to sudden changes in the climate and temperature.

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy Pe-ru-na, I have found it to be the best, if not the only reliable remedy for these affections. It has been my standby for many years, and I attribute my good health and extreme old age to this remedy.

"It exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine.

"When epidemics of la grippe first began to make their appearance in this country I was a sufferer from this disease.

"I had several long siages with the grip. At first I did not know that Pe-ru-na was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that la grippe was epidemic catarrh I tried Pe-ru-na for la grippe and found it to be just the thing."

In a later letter, Mr. Brock writes:

"I am well and feeling as well as I have for years. I would not be without Peruna."

Yours truly,
Isaac Brock

A letter dated July 3, 1906, written for Mr. Brock by his wife, Sarah J. Brock, states:

"Last winter I had just gotten up out of a spell of sickness, when I commenced taking Peruna. I think it improved my health very much."

In a postscript, Mrs. Brock adds: "He receives a great many letters inquiring about what Peruna will do. I do not answer them all, as I think they should get a bottle and try it."

A SQUIRREL CENSUS.

Police In New York Are Busy Counting Denizens of Park.

New York, Dec. 5.—The most difficult census ever undertaken is now being carried on in Central Park—a counting of the squirrels which live there. The undertaking is made necessary to determine whether the Central Park squirrels are becoming extinct.

Whatever the cause, however, of the decrease in numbers a dozen policemen have been given the job of taking the squirrels' census. Each policeman is furnished with a pocketful of nuts and another pocketful of colored strings. With the former he is to entice the squirrel so that he can tie one of the latter about his tail to avoid double counting. The men detailed for this peculiar employment have had to put up with a great many gibes from their fellow-cops, especially since it was learned as a result of their labors that the squirrel population was somewhere between 761 and 41,208, the two extreme figures turned in.

TO HAVE ICE PALACE.

Montreal Arranges to Have Bigger Winter Carnival Than Ever.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—At a meeting last night it was decided to hold a winter carnival in Montreal, Feb. 10 to 20.

It was determined to hold the carnival despite the opposition of railways and Board of Trade who contended that the ice palace advertising hurts immigration.

Merchants and hotelmen say that Canada has outgrown such prejudices and they have already subscribed $10,000 for the celebration. Ed. Sheppard, president of the arena was made chairman of the committee to conduct the event, which is intended to be made a more elaborate affair than was held in Montreal 18 years ago.

It was decided to have an ice palace.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

The London (Ont.) Conservative Association last night elected William Gray president.

Charles Stern of Windsor, who was robbed of $150 last March in Detroit, yesterday identified Fred Lewis on the street in Detroit as the thief.

Alex. P. Gilbert, assistant general freight agent of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, was acquitted of a charge of unlawful rebating.

Right Rev. George Holmes, D.D., Bishop of Moosonee, has resigned his position owing to ill-health. He will, however, accept a similar appointment in Athabasca.

Statute In the Way.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—The Civil Service Loan Association, which has been projected in Ottawa, has met an unexpected obstacle in the terms of the Ontario statute governing such institutions.

It has been discovered that to do business as contemplated a large deposit would be required. The officials state, however, that the association will be incorporated and will continue in business.

The Great Art.

Culture is the ability to use learning intelligently and effectively—in doing sensible and beautiful, rather than startling, things. As the poet says, "Of all the arts, great music is the art to raise the soul above all earthly storms." To the truly cultivated, the New Scale Williams Piano lays bare the secrets of the world's best music. Its grandeur of tone, superb action, and sympathetic touch, enable the performer to interpret every mood of the composer. Mechanically, the New Scale Williams is absolutely faultless. "I predict for it a distinctive place among the great pianos."—Ben Davies. Mr. Davies' prediction has come true. To-day, the New Scale Williams enjoys a prestige that is the admiration of the music-loving world. In the homes, on the concert stage, in the studios of the teachers and artists, it is the honored guest. It is safe to say, that among the great pianos, the New Scale Williams is greatest. 5

TO MAKE LIVES MORE CHEERFUL

An Idea Suggested by a Local Citizen for Unemployed

Dear Sir,—While sitting in my office this morning I noticed several men out of work, standing around stamping their feet, brushing their hands, and giving an occasional shake—evidently to keep warm. It occurred to me that something might be done to make life more comfortable for these persons and the many others who are standing on the corners of the streets, in doorways, and perhaps many going to other places where they are not welcomed unless they spend their money, that their wives and family need. Men out of work cannot stay at home, their nature is to want to see something, to do something, and to meet their fellowmen, to talk and exchange thoughts, and without any definite object they stroll up town. Many whose clothes are suitable for the kind of work they are accustomed to do go up town in those clothes with a hope that they may be able to secure a job, and be ready for that job.

Now, I would suggest that the City Council or a business club, or jointly, secure a large room. I have in view the store on Simcoe street, lately occupied as Liberal Committee rooms, be engaged for the winter, heated and lighted, and furnished with a dozen or more seats and tables, daily papers and other literature, and once per day a large bowl of good substantial soup. Engage someone to take care of the place. One among the unemployed, use the lower part for the men, and the second storey for the women and children. Have the ministers, professional men and business men, or any one who may be so disposed, walk in and address the boys and girls, for say ten to twenty minutes—not longer—at a time, not go into any discussion to offend any party or creed, but simply to interest and amuse, object to make life more cheerful. If this suggestion meets with the approval of the City Council and business men of Peterborough, I for one, will be pleased to do all I can to carry it out.

Yours very truly,
W. H. RUSE.

THROW AWAY ALL YOUR FEARS

Backache, Gravel and Rheumatism Vanish Before Dodd's Kidney Pills

Proved Once Again in the Case of Mrs. Fred Krieger, Who Suffered From the Worst Forms of Kidney Disease

Palmer Rapids, Dec. 4. (Special).—The thousands of Canadians who live in daily terror of those terrible forms of Kidney Disease known as Backache, Gravel and Rheumatism, will be deeply interested in the story of Mrs. Fred Krieger, of this place.

"I was for years a great sufferer from Kidney Disease, Gravel, Rheumatism and Backache," Mrs. Krieger states; "It all started through a cold, but I got so my head ached, I was nervous, my limbs were heavy, I had a dragging sensation across my loins, and I was totally unfit to do anything.

"Reading about wonderful cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to buy some. After using a few I found they were doing me good, and this encouraged me to continue their use. Eight boxes made me well.

"I have been able to do my own work ever since and to-day I am completely cured. Dodd's Kidney Pills gave me health, and I feel like a new woman."

If you feel your kidneys strong and healthy you can never have Backache, Rheumatism or Gravel. Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to make the Kidneys strong and well.

Dairy Commissioner Barr's Interesting Address Given At Special Dairy Meeting

The series of meetings under the auspices of the Peterborough Cheese Board have been most successful. In all fourteen meetings have been held and the attendance has ranged from 50 to 150. Addresses have been given by Messrs. Whitley and Barr, of Ottawa and have been most interesting and profitable.

Mr. Barr's address has been as follows:

The quality of our cheese and butter depends very largely upon the quality of the milk and cream delivered by the patrons.

Defects in the milk or cream may be covered up to some extent by a skillful maker, but sooner or later they will develop and injure the quality of the goods.

Patrons should be deeply interested in the quality of our dairy products for several reasons.

Poor cheese or butter means less consumption, less consumption means lower prices. Fine cheese and butter means increased consumption, and nearly always higher prices and larger profits to the producers.

Poor quality may come from other causes than improper care of the milk at the farms.

The employing of careless and inexperienced makers.

Poorly equipped factories.

Impure water supply at the factories; unsanitary conditions in and around the factory, and poorly constructed curing rooms, will injure or spoil the quality of our cheese.

I will only discuss two of the points affecting the quality of our cheese. The care of the milk at the farm and cool curing rooms. Cool curing of cheese simply means keeping the cheese in a room where the temperature of the room is controlled by the use of ice. A temperature of 58 or 60 degrees giving the best results.

Will it pay to build a cool curing room?

If I were to ask a private owner of a cheese factory this question, he would probably say: "No, it would not pay him," and he would be stating a fact. But if I asked the patrons if it would pay them to have such a room, their answer would be: "Yes," if they have given the subject careful consideration. In a cool curing room the cheese do not lose as much weight in curing as in an ordinary room. This saving in weight goes directly into the pockets of the milk producers. What will this amount to in one season in a factory making 100 tons of cheese? At the Government cool curing rooms during the time of their operation, the average saving in shrinkage was 1.34 per cent.

If a cheese factory making 100 tons of cheese would make the same saving in weight, it would equal 2,680 lbs. of cheese, which, at 12 cts. per lb. would mean an increase return to the patrons in one season of $321.60. Some claim even a greater saving than this. A patron of one of the factories in the Belleville district made the statement at a meeting in Belleville last year that the patrons of his factory estimated they saved $500 by having a cool curing room in 1907.

In any case the saving in shrinkage would pay for a cool curing room in three years.

This is not the only advantage, the quality of the cheese would be better both in flavour and texture, giving the factory a better reputation and in some cases higher prices for the cheese.

The Care of Milk at the Farm for Cheese Making

The foundation of successful and profitable dairying is, pure, clean milk. Pure, because the butter fat is the most valuable constituent, and its removal changes the character of the product manufactured.

Clean, because cleanliness affects the flavour of both the milk itself and the product manufactured from it. Healthy cows fed on wholesome food will give good flavoured milk.

To keep the milk properly after being drawn from the cow, two things are necessary. Keep all foreign matter out of the milk, and keep the temperature low, to prevent the growth of bacteria.

How Best to Accomplish These two Things

Have clean stables, clean cows, clean milkers, bright tin milk utensils, do not expose the milk to impurities in the atmosphere. Two methods are generally used to lower the temperature, aeration, and the use of cold water or ice. Aerating is done by either dipping the milk with a dipper, or by running it over or through some style of aerator.

Experiments conducted by the Dairy Division, Ottawa, during the past season, demonstrated that exposing the milk to the atmosphere by dipping, or running over aerators was not a reliable or safe practice, 38 per cent of the curds from milk so treated at one farm, and 61 per cent. at another farm were gassy, and not clean in flavour. The places where the aerating was done, we considered good; much better than hundreds of places throughout the country where patrons are keeping their milk. Milk cooled without aeration in the same places only gave 6 1-2 per cent. of the curds gassy, and these so slightly gassy that there were no bad flavours on them.

The milk which gave such good results was strained directly into the milk cans, sitting in a tub of cold water, it received no aeration whatever, and the covers were put on the cans as soon as milking was finished, the cans remaining in the water all night. Milk so treated arrived at the factory the following morning in excellent and uniform condition every day during the hotest weather in July and August last. This is the chief advantage of cooling milk in this manner, but it has also this to recommend it, practically no time was required to take care of it, when we arranged the tubs so that the water used to cool the milk, overflowed from the tub into the watering trough, when enough water was pumped to water the cows the milk was cooled quite enough. When we carried the water from the well to cool the milk, we found about 200 lbs would cool the milk from 9 cows. From the good results obtained by treating the milk in such a simple and inexpensive way, we trust every cheese factory patron will make an honest effort to so arrange things, that in 1909 all the milk for cheese factories will be cooled without dipping or exposing it to the air in any way, and the covers put on the cans as soon as possible after milking, by so doing we believe practically all bad flavours in the cheese will be done away with, our cheese makers will have shorter hours and not only make finer cheese, but will make more cheese per 100 lbs. of milk.

HOW TO REDUCE FAT PROPORTIONATELY

Proportion is the thing. A fat woman yearns to reduce her abdomen, but she doesn't want to produce a scrawny neck. This fact condemns the dieting method of reducing. You can't starve the fat off one place and not off another. Simply impossible. But why try dieting, or even exercising, when there is a better way of reducing fat than either.

Try the following: One-half ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, 4 3-4 ounces Peppermint Water. Any druggist will fill the above cheaply. Take a teaspoonful, after meals and at bedtime and see if in a few weeks you are not losing about a pound of fat a day—not from places where you are normally plump, but from those that are overly fat. The receipt works like a charm, I am told, and though it produces delightfully apparent results, yet it is perfectly harmless. Doesn't even cause wrinkles, they say who have used it, nor interfere with one's diet, which are two other exclusive and important differences it possesses over all other fat reducers I ever heard of. Instead of being harmful, in fact, as so many of the advertised remedies are, it improves the health and appetite and complexion.

TEMPERANCE MEETING AT CRYSTAL SUNDAY EVENING

To-morrow night a Gospel Temperance meeting will be held at the Crystal at 8.30 o'clock. The chair will be taken by Dr. Scott, the speaker of the evening being the Rev. J. G. Potter. Special music will be rendered by St. Andrew's choir. Everybody will be welcomed to this meeting.

WANTS A MEETING OF RATEPAYERS

To Discuss Municipal Matters—A Letter From Mr. Allan McCarthy.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In looking over the columns of your paper, I see that some of the townships of the county are intending to put up a strong fight for Reeveship. What about our city? My idea would be for the ratepayers of each ward to call a meeting of the ratepayers at some convenient place and invite our present Aldermen to give an account of their stewardship and discuss municipal matters generally both past and future and find out whether or not they intend to ask the ratepayers for their support. If not we should have time to communicate with men that will stand up without fear or favour for the right of the ward they represent. Has such been done in the 5th Ward, (East City)? I answer No.

One of the first petitions presented to the Board of Works this spring, was for a pavement walk to be laid from Monroe avenue to Nicholls Oval Park, along the east side of Concession street. This was duly signed and certified to by nearly every ratepayer along this street. When the time came for inspection, a 'bus was hired and these men came in a body—by the way this is the safest way to pass along this street, for what broken pieces of sidewalk are left on this side of the street are ornamented with large nails, working their way upwards 4 or 5 inches, making it dangerous for pedestrians, and on one part no boards of any description. When this body of men came to a small creek to be filled in, 8 feet deep and 30 feet long, the chairman said that was too great an undertaking and would cost too much for East City. (A regular Niagara River to cross.)

I might say this was the second petition presented to the council for a pavement on this same street. If the bridge was the stumbling block, why was not the pavement laid to the bridge? Who is to blame for these two petitions being ignored?

I understand one of our aldermen tried his best for his ward, but it is hard to fight single-handed. Now, when we get back to the ward system, we can, I hope, pick men whose interests are centred in East City, and not on George street. Other pavements, not even petitioned for, were laid where they were not as much needed.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this favour, I remain,

Yours truly,
A. McCARTHY.

THE USE OF CHURCHES AS DINING HALLS

To the Editor of The Examiner:

With your permission I would like to call attention just at this time to an important matter, not that I want to use your columns just for to say something, but for the simple reason that I have something to say. In the days of the Apostle Paul the churches were cursed with the same thing that prevails largely to-day, viz., that of turning the churches into common eating houses.

Ther only eating and drinking that is scriptural, allowed in the church is partaking of the Lord's Supper.

In Paul's day they held their high teas and big suppers etc., in the churches. Read 1 Cor. 11, 18 to 34. Hear him. "First of all, when ye come together in the church I hear that there be divisions among you - - When ye come together therefore into one place this is not to eat the Lord's Supper - - What, have ye not houses to eat and drink in? or despise ye the church of God and shame them that have not? What shall I say to you? Shall I praise you in this? I praise you not - - If any man hunger let him eat at home, that ye come not together unto condemnation."

How many to-day despise the place set apart for divine worship and turn the Sanctuary into a common eating house and place of amusement. Men professing to be able ministers of the New Testament and others promoting and encouraging this most unscriptural thing and damaging the spiritual welfare of the church ought to be heartily ashamed of themselves. I say this fearless of the frown or ill-will of any. I am persuaded that the great bulk of your readers will, in their inmost soul, say I speak the words of truth and soberness.

Yours
JOHN CARLISLE.

OBITUARY.

MR. LOCHLAN McINTOSH

Word was received by relatives in the city last night that Mr. Lachlan McIntosh passed away at his home in Lindsay, after having suffered for three years from heart trouble. He was about 54 years of age, and was very well known here, and especially among the curlers, who will regret very much to hear of his death. He was one of the curlers who went from Lindsay to Winnipeg a couple of years ago and secured several trophies. He was also a well known railway engineer, having driven the G.T.R. flyer for some time between Toronto and Peterborough, until he was seized with heart trouble. Since then he has been able to get around, but never could return to his work on the engine. Messrs. Angus and Alex. McIntosh, of this city; John, of Springville; James of Milwaukee; and William, of Winnipeg, are brothers. Mrs. Chas. Davidson, of Peterborough, is a sister, and another sister resides in Portage la Prairie.

MRS. WM. DRUMMOND

Keene, Dec. 4. — Special. — The death occurred yesterday at four o'clock p. m., after an illness of about two months, of Mrs. Wm. Drummond, of Keene. Deceased was seventy-three years of age. She was born in Scotland, coming to this country about sixty years ago. Her maiden name was Anna Knox. She is survived be her husband, one daughter, Mary, at home, and two sons, John and James, of Otonabee. Messrs. John and Alex. Knox, of Otonabee, are brothers of deceased lady.

The funeral will take place on Saturday at 1.30 p. m., to Keene Cemetery. Rev. Mr. McDonald, of Keene Presbyterian Church, will officiate. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved family.

The Percentage Is Received By Those Who Entered Grain In The Field Crop Competition

The Objects for Which the Contest Was Instituted by the Dominion Government.

SUCCESS OF LOCAL FARMERS

Through the Department of Agriculture of the Dominion Government, Geo. H. Clarke, Seed Commissioner, has issued a booklet giving an interesting summary of the results of compilations in standing fields of seed grain.

In the introduction it says:

The educational work of agricultural societies and farmers' institutes has been largely confined to holding annual summer of fall fairs, and farmers institute meetings during the winter months. These institutions have served a useful purpose and still have their place, but latterly there has been a well-marked movement to pay less attention to what may be termed the old style institute meetings, and inaugurate in their stead practical demonstrations and field lectures. As a result of this change in policy, we now have the open air and orchard meetings in summer, where practical demonstrations are given in weed identification and various systems of cultivation, and where full opportunity is afforded for the discussion of the perplexing problems of agriculture. It has been found by this system, greater interest can be aroused and more good accomplished than by the old style winter meetings. The same change is noticeable in live stock work; practical stock-judging courses are now taking the place of hall lectures.

The Plan Followed

The objective work of the seed branch in connection with the seed trade of Canada is two-fold: that of enforcing the provisions of the Seed Control Act, which treats with the quality of the seeds that may be sold for seeding and conducting educational work with a view to increase the supply for commerce for the best quality of seeds of all kinds of crops.

The field competitions in seed grain have been organized on a basis which is thought to accomplish the latter object, and also to provide a satisfactory means to a more equitable and effective distribution of funds used for prizes by agricultural societies. The plan followed is to judge the standing field of grain at as near maturity as possible, from the standpoint of their suitability for seed purposes. The advantages of this system over that of making awards on small exhibits of threshed grain are numerous, and so obvious that they need scarcely be mentioned. The field is the only place where a proper estimate of the value of grain for seed purposes can be made; such important points as purity of variety, freedom from injury by disease and insects, strength of straw and uniformity of the crop can be determined in the field, and there only. It is a fact worth noting that in distributing prizes on this basis, the money goes to those who are deserving of it through their own efforts. It is common criticism of the live stock judging ring that the ordinary farmer has little encouragement to make entries, because the wealthy breeder, who can afford to buy show stock, takes all the prizes even though his competitors may be equally careful and skilful in the breeder's art. In field grain competitions, this objection is removed; the well-to-do and the poor farmer are on practically an equal basis. Any man who takes the trouble to secure grain of pure variety and free from weeds and foreign grain, by careful cultivation of his land, can compete successfully with his rich neighbour. Through the Experimental Farms, anyone can secure a small stock of pure seed grain of any desired variety. The use of such pure seed is the first essential to success in the field competitions, and the next is that this seed can be grown on land that is free from weed contamination. Good seed and clean farming are the things that make for success in field grain competitions.

In the summer of 1906, forty agricultural societies in the Province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta conducted these field competitions with wheat and oats. During 1907, forty-nine competitions were held in these provinces, and a start was made along similar lines in the Province of Ontario. From both a commercial and educational standpoint, these competitions have been pronounced to be an unqualified success wherever tried, as indicated by the fact that in the districts where they have been previously conducted, the numbers have been increased this year and the work has been extended to other provinces.

Mi-o-na cures dyspepsia. If any of the readers of the Examiner are suffering from stomach trouble of any kind Mr. Madill will sell you a box of Mi-o-na for 50 cents with an absolute guarantee of relief or money money back.

Neil Murray, of Huron Road, Goderich, Ont., says; "I suffered with indigestion for over four years and had been given over as incurable by many doctors. I had become a nervous wreck through loss of sleep, and whatever I did eat did not remain on my stomach for over two hours. I would suffer with vomiting spells that would almost kill me, perspiration as large as beads would break out all over my body and leave me in so weakened a condition that I would be unable to stand, not a night's rest in over six months and was so weakened and run down that my family thought I would die. My heart was greatly weakened and would flutter and a sharp pain would come through me and cut off my breath. I was reduced in weight from 150 to less than 110 pounds. Doctors would give different causes for my trouble, yet none of them gave me the slightest relief. I commenced treatment with Mi-o-na and when one-half of the first box was used I could eat my meals without suffering the dreadful vomiting spells. I used about ten boxes in all, and I am entirely cured. My stomach is as strong as ever and there is not the slightest trouble with indigestion. I have gained about 40 pounds in weight, am strong and healthy and like a new man. I will always speak highly of Mi-o-na, as it cured and I believe kept me from sure death when all else had failed."

Thinks Property Committee Made Mistake In Selection

Some Other Site Preferable on Account of its Inconvenience—Half Population South of Charlotte Street.

SOME SUGGESTIONS MADE

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir—Permit me to express my regret that the property committee last evening decided to purchase a lot opposite the Central Park for the Public Library, for the following, amongst other reasons—

1—This lot is on the back of the city at some distance from the path of the travelling public to whom we owe much for incidentally advertising our progressive city.

2—It would be an inconvenient location for about two-thirds of our citizens, particularly those engaged in mechanical pursuits for whom I submit the Library was primarily intended.

3—I think the southwest part of the city is entitled to some consideration inasmuch as it has no public park, not even a field in which the boys may play baseball without trespassing. The Nicholls Hospital, Normal School, Collegiate Institute, Armouries, Y. M. C. A. and no less than four parks are all on the northeast side of the city.

A glance at the map indicates that about half the population live south of Charlotte street, and I have no doubt a number of suitable locations could be obtained in the district bounded by Charlotte, Aylmer, Hunter and George streets, where a beautiful building would be an object of admiration to many chance travellers, as well as easily accessible to the many leaders in the south end.

Allow me to suggest some of these—

1—The large vacant lot on Hunter street immediately west of the new Bell Telephone office.

2—Either of the two western corners of Hunter and Aylmer streets.

3—The north west corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets.

4—The south side of Charlotte street

The properties are either vacant lots or the site of comparatively cold frame buildings too purchase which $5000.00 (the proposed price of the Lundy lot) would go a long way.

The general advance in the value of property in the vicinity of the Library would soon make harmonous surroundings for a fine public building.

I am very much pleased that the council are taking a decided action in this matter. I do not think it the best policy in the interests of hte city to cluster all our "show" buildings in one section, where to be seen a special trip must be madq by the stranger who happens in for an hour or two on business.

Some of the public buildings already erected have been robbed of a large part of their real worth by their unfortunate location, if one is to judge by the remarks now being made.

Yours truly,
J. W. BENNET.

NOVA SCOTIA ENQUIRY ADJOURNS

Halifax Probe Is Concluded—To Resume in Ottawa.

BELIEVES IN OVERCHARGE

Marine Agent Parsons Declares That He Worked on Principle That Government Should Pay More Than Ordinary Purchaser—Extra Crew of Men Needed For Fixing Up Admiralty Grounds.

Halifax, N.S., Dec. 5.—Judge Cassels has finished his work here. The enquiry came to an end yesterday afternoon, although several witnesses from here may be summoned to Ottawa to give their evidence.

At the conclusion of the evidence, Mr. Watson, addressing the court, said that his learned friend and himself considered that from the evidence already adduced, sufficient had been shown to indicate the course of dealing in the Department at this agency, as well as the prices paid and they thought the enquiry should be adjourned.

Mr. Watson said that it would be necessary for some witnesses to attend before the court at Ottawa, and he named Mr. Hings, foreman of Longard Bros.; Mr. Wilson and Hon. David McPherson.

Judge Cassels agreed to the adjournment, and thought the investigation might be resumed at Ottawa on Tuesday week.

The afternoon session was chiefly levoted to the examination of Agent Parsons. Dealing with the large increase of employes in the dockyard during the month of October, Mr. Parsons said that in his opinion they were necessary by the demands of the Department. He said that the trees required thinning, the paths kept in condition, and the Admiralty grounds looked after.

Towards the latter part of his evidence, Mr. Parsons made what was taken to be an important admission. He said it was recognized by him, and acted upon, that in work and materials supplied to the Government a little extra should be charged than to an ordinary person.

Counsel also brought out the fact from Mr. Parsons, that previous to the stranding of the Lady Laurier a year or two ago off Yarmouth on an uncharted shoal, the location of the dangerous reef had been reported to him by some fishermen, but that the information had not been sent to headquarters, as a result of which the steamer went ashore and the repairs consequent thereon cost about $30,000.

Mr. Parsons was then examined by his own counsel, and explained the outstanding account he had with Longard Bros., stating that it was due to his financial inability to pay the bill, and not because of any favors or hope of reward from the firm.

Employes Can Sue.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—The judgment of the Supreme Court affirming the judgment of the late Judge Burbidge in the case of the appeal of the King v. Desrossiers, affirms an important principle of railway law.

The respondent was the widow of a brakeman on the Intercolonial, who was killed while coupling cars.

He was a member of the Intercolonial Benevolent Society, and the Government held that by reason of the Railway Department's contribution of $6,000 to the funds of the society the man had signed away the right for his heirs to sue for damages and that all the widow was entitled to was $250.

Judge Burbidge awarded the widow $4,000.

Ready to Bottle Venezuela.

Willemstad, Dec. 5.—Three Dutch warships, the battleship Jacob Van Heemskerk and the cruisers Friesland and Gelderland have made a demonstration against Venezuela. Together they steamed Thursday along the coast from Puerto Cabello to La Guaira, at a distance of 3,000 yards from the shore.

The demonstration is regarded as indicating that the preparations for an effective blockade of the Venezuelan coast are completed.

Ask Extensions.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—Extensions of time will be asked for by the following railway companies: Guelph & Goderich, Ottawa, Northern & Western, Walkerton & Lucknow, and Tillsonburg, Lake Erie & Pacific.

"Don't Neglect a Cough or Cold."

It can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the medicine you need. It is without an equal as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Pain in the Chest, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Quinsy and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

A single dose of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will stop a cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs, the healing properties of the Norway Pine Tree will proclaim its great virtue by promptly eradicating the bad effects, and a persistent use of the remedy cannot fail to bring about a complete cure.

Do not be humbugged into buying so-called Norway Pine Syrups, but be sure and insist on having Dr. Wood's. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and price 25 cents.

Mrs. A. Elles, Innisfail, Alta., writes: "Last spring I had Typhoid fever and Bronchitis, which left me with a terrible cough. I tried doctor's medicine but got no relief until my husband got me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before I had finished it my cough was cured. My husband also uses it whenever he has a cough. I would not be without it."

WAR CLOUD LOOMS UP ONCE MORE

Austria Calls Out Her Reservists to Fight Turkey.

GERMANY MAY ASSIST HER

Two Steamers With Troops on Board Leave Fiume on Secret Mission and Two More Will Follow — First-Class Volunteer Forces Are Called to Arms — Despatches Say Germany Will Lend Aid.

Vienna, Dec. 5.—Two steamers of the Hungarian-Croatian line with troops aboard left Fiume yesterday under sealed orders. Two other steamers will follow to-day. It is supposed that their destination is Cattaro, a seaport of Austria on the Adriatic contiguous to Montenegrin territory. Warlike rumors continue in circulation, but on official denials yesterday prices on the Boerse advanced considerably and an optimistic feeling prevails in official circles.

With reference to a reported frontier fight between Hungarians and Montenegrins at Bilek, in which it was alleged that a Hungarian, Lieut. Treitler, had been killed, the Government last night made absolute denial of the report. It explains that Lieut. Treitler committed suicide owing to a love affair.

Sixty Thousand Reserves.

New York, Dec. 5—A cable despatch to The Herald from Berlin says: Austria-Hungary is preparing for all emergencies. The papers yesterday published the fact that a large number of troops are being sent from Budapest to Bosnia, while the latest bit of news is that 60,000 of the reservists of the first-class have been called to the colors, showing clearly that Austria is under no illusion as to having only to do with Servia and Montenegro.

Austria can afford to snap her fingers at both of those powers, but she knows that Turkey is behind them.

All this goes to show how true it is that Austria foresees that serious coercive measures will have to be taken should the Turkish Government persist in its policy of inactivity as regards the boycott.

M. Von Szoegenyi-Mavich, Austro-Hungarian ambassador at the German Court, has just had an audience of the Kaiser, whose health is almost restored. Despatches were afterwards sent to Baron Von Aehrenthal to the effect that Germany stands firmly by her ally.

A despatch to The Herald from Constantinople tells that the assassination there of Ismail Pasha, aide-de-camp and personal friend of the Sultan, has caused an immense sensation. The Minister of Police declares the crime was not political, but the public is of a different opinion. The assassination has caused an immense sensation.

The Balkan situation is unchanged. The boycott continues, and Marquis Pallavicini, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, has made fresh representations to Kiamil Pasha, but his efforts have been neutralised by the influence of the Young Turks committee.

MAY MAKE PEACE.

Ontario Politicians May Wipe Slate Clean at "Saw-Off."

Toronto, Dec. 5.—On both sides at the official "saw-off" meeting in Toronto yesterday, there was a general consensus of opinion that the best thing told was to "wipe off the slate." It would have been "wiped off" yesterday but for Centre Toronto and South Ontario. Mr. Robinette has blood in his eye, and Peter Christie has put up his ante of $1,000.

A prominent M.P. said at noon yesterday: "The whole matter is hung up till to-morrow, when the Liberals will hear from Ottawa. No petition will be filed till then on either side."

Peter White, Jr., sized up the situation thus: "We are trying to settle in two days' time what heretofore has always taken from three to four weeks."

The general impression last night was that if Peter Christie and Tom Robinette would lie down there would be no contests in Ontario.

Drummond Protests.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—Sir George Drummond, president of the Bank of Montreal, has issued a strong statement against the proposed lease of the Mexican Light, Heat & Power Co. by the Mexican Tramway Co. He says:

"My opinion of this proposed lease is in no way modified by reflections. It is not, in my opinion, in the interest of the Mexican Light, Heat & Power Co. to accept it or any modification of it.

Sixty-One Families Homeless.

Centralia, Pa., Dec. 5.—Sixty-five families are homeless in this city as the result of a fire which wiped out three squares of property in the heart of the town. The fire started in a building occupied by a moving picture show. Total loss $100,000.

Performing Animals Burned.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—Six monkeys, a black bear and several cats were burned to death in a fire here yesterday morning. The blaze started in a quick lunch on St Lawrence Main, and spread to the animal show next door.

ANOTHER WARNING TO BRITAIN

This Time It Is Airships Britain Needs to Fear.

COULD BOMBARD LONDON

Sir Hiram Maxim Says That Continental Flyers Are Nearest Menace to British Power and Warships Would Not Be Able to Protect Cities From Attack by Night—Endorsed by Other Speakers.

London, Dec. 5.—Sir Hiram Maxim took the British nation to task for its small interest in aerial machines in a lecture before the Society of Arts. He reproached England for being behind other first-class European countries in progress toward a solution of this form of locomotion.

"Does any one doubt for a moment," said he, "that in case we find ourselves at war with a continental power flying machines will be used for bombarding English towns both on the coast and inland? The City of London within a year's time can be attacked without our enemy needing to fear the boasted British fleet.

"A French engineer of international renown tells me that by this time next year there will be plenty of machines on the market capable of crossing and recrossing the channel several times at night and in darkness without stopping," he continued.

"There is only one way of combatting this danger and that is by constructing machines ourselves. Our achievements in this line thus far are insignificant because we lack the imagination of the French and the Americans. They began by believing, we by doubting."

Sir Hiram went on to say that he thought the Wright aeroplane a rough and imperfect piece of mechanism, but if equipped with a trustworthy motor it could be made much more serviceable.

Other speakers seconded Sir Hiram's warning that it is full time for England to wake up unless she wants to find herself at the mercy of the continental military fliers.

Poll Officers Sentenced.

Hamilton, Dec. 5.—William Lawson, who was appointed as deputy returning officer in the provincial elections, was sent down for two months, and Harry Dillabaugh, his poll clerk, was sent down for four months for tampering with ballots. It was the first case tried under the new Controverted Elections Act passed by the Legislature last session, and was heard by Justice Anglin and Justice Clute.

The evidence showed that Lawson allowed Dillabaugh to have a book of ballots, and that Dillabaugh took them to W. S. McLaughlin, Liberal chairman in Ward 5, and offered to sell them for $100. The defence was that the whole thing was a joke, and that the act did not apply.

Three Sentenced For Manslaughter.

Auburn, N.Y., Dec. 5.—Raymond Allen, 10 years of age, was yesterday found guilty of manslaughter for shooting aged John Jetty at Port Byron. James Allen, 19 years, and Ethel Lyons, 17 years old, pleaded guilty to being accomplices. Ray Allen was sentenced to not less than 17 nor more than 20 years; James Allen, to not more than seven years, and the girl to three years.

The trio had been living in the Montezuma swamp, subsisting on what they could steal from farmers. They were returning from a night foray for provisions when they met Jetty in their path, and Ray, who carried a shotgun, shot him dead.

Pope Recovered.

Rome, Dec. 5.—The Correspondenza Romano, a Vatican organ, asserts that, contrary to reports in circulation that Pope Pius has suffered a relapse and again has been obliged to take to his bed, the pontiff has practically recovered from his recent indisposition, and yesterday descended from the third floor of the Vatican, where his private apartment is, to his official quarters on the second floor.

There he received Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, and the pontiff and the cardinal worked together for several hours on pontifical affairs.

"Third Degree" For Madame.

Paris, Dec. 5.—The scene and the surroundings of the crime are to be reconstructed in the Steinheil residence and Mme. Steinheil will be further interrogated under those conditions. It is hoped that this will bring out a full confession.

Want Canal Improved.

St. Catharines, Dec. 5.—St. Catharines' Board of Trade has decided to unite with the Kingston board in an appeal to the Government to have the enlargement and improvement of the Welland Canal undertaken without further delay.

Revolution In Salvador.

Managua, Nicaragua, Dec. 5.—A revolution has begun in Salvador under the leadership of former Vice-President Prudencio Alfaro. The cities of Ahuachapan, Usulutan and Santans have been captured by revolutionists.

Set Fire to Coal Oil.

Brantford, Dec. 5.—Fire yesterday morning did $1,000 damage at the wholesale grocery of George Watt & Sons. Thursday night a quantity of coal oil leaked from a large tank on the floor. Yesterday morning an employe, noticing that some goods had been damaged in this way, lit a match in order to investigate. Immediately the place was in flames.

Not Improperly Used.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—The case against the members of the finance committee was taken en delibere yesterday by Judge Charbonneau, A. W. Atwater spoke for the aldermen, while City Clerk Beauset issued a statement denying that any of the city's money was used improperly by the party when abroad.

Chinese Smuggler Caught.

Buffalo, Dec. 5.—Duck O'Brien, wanted in connection with the smuggling of several Chinamen into the United States last summer and who has since been making his home across the river in Canada, was captured early yesterday in this city. Later he was sentenced to a year.

Friday Is Unlucky.

Port au Prince, Dec. 5.—Gen. Antoine Simon, the leader of the successful revolutionary movement against Nord Alexis, has decided to postpone his entrance into Port au Prince, until to-day, because Friday is regarded as a day of ill omen.

Nord Alexis will go to Jamaica.

Mayes Is In Earnest.

St. John, N.B., Dec. 5—C. S. Mayes, dredging contractor, has issued writs against Geo. McAvity, claiming damages of $50,000. This action arises out of Government contracts in St. John harbor, and is an echo of the recent political campaign.

G.T.R. DOCKS BURN.

Damage in Fire at Portland Amounts to $500,000.

Portland, Me., Dec. 5.—After the firemen had brought under complete control the fire which destroyed two of the eight docks of the Grand Trunk Railway here early yesterday, the flames, which had communicated to the Dominion line steamer Cornishman alongside, broke out with renewed vigor, and before they were subdued they caused damage estimated at about $200,000 to the vessel and her cargo.

Officials of the Grand Trunk stated that the loss on the docks, with the contents of the burned sheds, would reach perhaps $300,000, making the total loss caused by the fire approximately half a million dollars.

The vessel and cargo are fully insured, while the dock losses are covered by blanket insurance by the Grand Trunk Co.

Kingston's New Hotel.

Kingston, Dec. 5.—The Chicago and St. Louis promoters of the Chateau Rideau, which they propose erecting in McDonald Park on the harbor front, presented their scheme to the Board of Trade yesterday. They ask for a free site and a bonus of $100,000 in sums of $25,000 as construction proceeds, and also exemption from taxation for twenty years, and gas, electricity and water at cost price. The estimated cost of the Chateau is $400,000.

Natural Gas Explodes.

Brantford, Dec. 5.—Part of the interior of the Moffatt Building on Dalhousie street, on the second floor of which is located the Elks' lodge room, was wrecked by a natural gas explosion late Thursday night. Some one extinguished the fire in the small gas stove in the lavatory, but failed to turn off the supply of gas. When a member of the lodge, which was in session, struck a light, there was an explosion.

Condemned Man Is Saved.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 5.—Robt. Hooker, negro, sentenced to be hung yesterday at Lexington, obtained commutation to life imprisonment by the act of Governor Willson Thursday. Hocker shot Newton Veal, a prominent farmer, to death. Governor Willson says he was satisfied that the entire story was not told at the trial.

Civil Servants Appeal.

St. John, N.B., Dec. 5.—The civil servants have decided to appeal the case of Abbott v. City of St. John to the Privy Council to determine whether or not municipalities can tax civil servants on income. The cost of the appeal will be about $4,000, and the Government employes all over Canada will contribute.

Pure Inventions.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Recent newspaper stories connecting the President with narrow escapes from accidents by being run down by automobiles, messenger boys and latterly a fire engine, have resulted in the giving out at the White House of an official statement characterizing the stories as "pure inventions."

For Murder of Daughters.

Marbed Three, Ark., Dec. 5.—Following the mysterious death of his two daughters by poisoning, Wm. McBroom, a millworker, was arrested here yesterday, charged with murder.

Killed by Falling Tree.

North Bay, Dec. 5.—Gordon Wright of Ivanhoe, aged 22, was crushed and instantly killed by a falling tree.

WRECKAGE COMES ASHORE.

Soo City of Chicago Believed to Have Foundered In Atlantic.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 5.—It is believed here that the steamer Soo City bound from Chicago for Texas, foundered with all hands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence during the blizzard which raged off the coast of Newfoundland early this week.

Wreckage, apparently from the Soo City, has been picked up near Cape Race. Lifebuoys, deck boards and other gear washed ashore bore the name Soo City.

The names of the crew, in addition to Capt. Dillon, are: Second mate, Angus McIntyre, Chicago; first engineer, Chas. Warwick, Michigan City, Ind.; second engineer, N. J. Duncan, Chicago; purser, James Anderson, Montague, Mich.; oilers, Frank Kelly, Alpena, Mich., and George Brown, Chicago; firemen, Frank Schwirm, Michigan City, Ind., and Samuel Olebaky, Chicago; coal passers, F. L. Weaver, Dowagiac, Mich., and another man, name unknown to Mr. Greenbaum, who shipped at Ogdensburg, chef, Max Standers, Chicago, and second chef, Charles Warnock, Chicago.

BORDEN SEEKS VOTE.

To Find Out If Tory Members Approve of His Leadership.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—It is understood that R. L. Borden will issue a circular letter to the Conservative members-elect of the new Parliament, asking them to decide as to the leadership.

It is also stated that he will not appear in the House until this matter has been passed upon by the party.

It is not likely that anyone will oppose Mr. Borden, but there may be an effort made to postpone any action until the second session of the new Parliament, so as to enable the Conservative members to consult their constituents before taking a vote.

A Queer Case of Smuggling.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Dec. 5.—Warrants charging Capt. Frank D. Root, local manager at the American Soo for the Great Lakes Towing Co., and Harry C. Busse, cashier, with smuggling, have been served. Two more warrants on members of the crew of the lighter Reliance will be served. The lighter, which is the largest in the world, will also be seized.

The case grows out of the stranding of the steamer Canadian. The Reliance went to its assistance. Large quantities of canned goods, tea and sugar, were thrown overboard. It is alleged that afterwards they were picked up by the Reliance crew, brought to the American Soo, without paying duty, and were divided among the crew.

Union Man Goes Down.

New York, Dec. 5.—Francisco Yannicola, who was president of the lamplighters' Union, was sentenced to the penitentiary yesterday for one year for conspiracy.

Evidence was adduced that Yannicola, fearful that he was about to lose his position, with its $100 a month salary, urged the lamplighters employed by the Welsbach Street Lighting Co. to go on strike last August and commit acts of violence.

In sentencing Yannicola, Justice Zeller said: "The court believes that men of your class bring labor organizations into disrepute. If it were not for men of your character employers would have no trouble with their employes."

Hot Chase After Assailant.

Hoboken, N.J., Dec. 5.—Shot four times in evident mistake for her sister, Mrs. Leneasey, whom she was visiting in her boarding house here. Miss Annie Turner was removed from her sister's home to Mary's Hospital in a dying condition yesterday.

Stanislaus Lehman, a boarder in the house, who had been requested to leave, was arrested for the shooting after a chase for several blocks in which about six hundred school children, out for a recess, took part.

Car Light Regulations.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—The Board of Railway Commissioners has ordered that henceforth all passenger cars must be lighted by acetylene gas under the absorbent or commercial acetylene system, or by the Pintsch compressed oil gas system.

The order is made in the interests of the safety of the traveling public, and stringent rules regarding the use of lights are made.

Wreckage Found.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 5.—Down bound boats yesterday report having passed through a quantity of wreckage in Lake Superior off Vermillion Point near Whitefish Bay. Among the wreckage was a life raft.

No boat has been reported here as missing. It is the general opinion here that if there has been a wreck it has been an upbound boat, likely a lumber carrier.

Lemieux Goes to France.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—Before Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux returns to Canada he will go to France to join Hon. W. S. Fielding and assist the Minister of Finance in his negotiations with the French Government over the treaty of commerce arranged a year ago.

It is claimed in Ottawa that there is every reason to hope that this treaty will be ratified by the French Senate after the Christmas recess.

Two Killed at Crossing.

Rochester, N.Y., Dec. 5.—While driving home from Batavia at an early hour yesterday morning, John W. Perry and his son were killed by a fast train. The horse was torn to pieces.

All Druggists

Their Green Gown.

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

"I'd love to go, Aunt Lily, but you know I haven't a decent thing to wear." Mildred looked wistfully at the invitation in her hand.

Miss Weston thoughtfully turned a worn little ring on her slim finger as she surveyed her pretty niece.

They looked very much alike, Miss Lily and young Mildred, only the aunt was slender to thinness and her once golden hair had faded to ashen blond, but her eyes were as beautiful and long lashed and full of depth and sweetness as they had been fifteen years ago, and her skin was as fair and her lips were as red as Mildred's.

"The check book tells a sorry tale, dear," she said at length, "but perhaps I can help you out of my magic clothes dress."

"Aunt Lily! I can't take anything more from you. You have given me your embroidered muslin and the pink silk—and I have worn them out. Don't tempt me!" The girl covered her ears and closed her eyes tightly.

"Don't be foolish, Mildred," protested Miss Weston. "I want you to go to the Patterson dance, and you must have a new gown. My green tissue can be altered and will make you a sweet frock. Come to my room and try it on."

Reluctantly Mildred followed her aunt to the pretty front room where the older woman spent much of her time.

The furniture was rather old fashioned, but of fine quality, for it had been purchased in the days before Lily Weston had lost most of her fortune.

Miss Weston spread the green gown on the bed and surveyed it with a strange yearning in her eyes. It was of fine silken tissue in a tender leaf green and embroidered here and there with a tiny golden flower.

A pair of green slippers with gold buckles and green stockings were tucked in one corner of the box from which the gown had been produced.

"It is lovely, Aunt Lily! I suppose you have worn it to dances too."

"I wore it more than once, Mildred, and had the happiest times of my life. Now you must wear it, and I hope you will be equally happy." She bent and kissed the girl tenderly, and Mildred felt a warm drop on her cheek, but when she looked at her aunt Miss Weston was smiling.

"Come," she said blithely, "get your workbasket."

Mildred danced with tireless energy at the Patterson ball. The green gown was vastly becoming to her fair beauty, and she had never looked more charming.

Lester Stearns had succumbed to her loveliness and in the fragrant coolness of the conservatory he asked Mildred to marry him. She was radiant with happiness when Mrs. Patterson approached her, followed by a tall stranger.

"Mildred, dear, Captain Gray has requested an introduction to 'the girl in the green gown!' Miss Lane—Captain Gray! Now, Mr. Stearns, you may take me into the supper room." With a little nod she was gone with the reluctant lover.

Mildred looked at her new acquaintance, and decided at once that she would like him. He was a man in the prime of life, with a brown, rugged face that told of an out of door life. Strength and kindliness were in his gray eyes and vigor in his large, well muscled frame.

"I have seen your gown before, Miss Lane," said Captain Gray abruptly.

"You must be mistaken," laughed Mildred. "I have never worn it until this evening."

"It was worn by another girl," he said thoughtfully, "a girl who looked just as you do. It is fifteen years ago that I saw her last, and she wore the green gown."

"It must have been Aunt Lily," said Mildred constrainedly.

"It was Lily Weston—then."

"It is Lily Weston now," said Mildred, "and she is just as sweet and lovely now as she ever was, I am sure!"

"I am sure of that, too," he remarked gravely.

"I had no frock to wear tonight, and I wanted to come so badly, and Aunt Lily brought this out of her treasure chest and fixed it for me. I know it was the dearest thing she owned, yet she lent it to me."

"She was always unselfish and loyal to the core, and I could never understand"— He paused and looked at her strangely, wistfully.

"What?" asked Mildred warmly. She suspected a romance in the past of sweet Aunt Lily.

"I am a simple sailorman, Miss Lane, and I confess to not understand the ways of women. I was a lieutenant in the navy when I met Lily Weston and fell in love with her. We became engaged and were to be married. This green gown I brought to her from China, and she wore it several times while I was on leave. We had a foolish quarrel one night, my last night ashore. It was a matter of trifling jealousy on my part, and before the evening was over I had seen my folly. I wrote on a programme that I was repentant and asked her to meet me in a certain cosy nook on the stairs." He paused and sighed.

"And?" suggested Mildred.

"She was surrounded by admirers, and as I had no other opportunity I slipped the programme into her hand as we passed each other while dancing."

"And then?"

"She never came. I waited until after midnight, and then when I had seen her depart with her friends I left. I have never seen her since." Captain Gray's voice shook a little as he concluded his story.

"How utterly ridiculous!" exclaimed Mildred. "Why, it seems to me if you truly loved each other you would not have quarreled, and yet you have never forgotten Aunt Lil, and she—why, it is your picture that is on her dressing table—a young officer in a cap and uniform!"

"You are sure?" The captain bent over her eagerly.

"Positive. Come and see us tomorrow, Captain Gray. I—am sure she will be glad to see you," cried Mildred impulsively, holding out her hand.

"Thank you, I will," he said resolutely.

* * * * * * * *

When she reached home Mildred flew straight to her aunt's chamber, where Miss Weston sat reading and awaiting the girl's return.

"Aunt Lily," cried Mildred excitedly, "have you kept the ball programme you had the last night you wore this gown?"

Miss Weston stared a moment, and then her eyes grew said and retrospective. "I—believe so, dear," she said at last, "but please do not ask to see it!"

"I must, auntie. Please show it to me."

Without a word Miss Weston opened a small sandalwood box on her dressing table, and from it she took a yellowed lace handkerchief, a withered bunch of roses, a little green and gold fan and lastly a dance card, crumpled and faded.

"Here," she said, holding it out in her hand.

"Look at it, Aunt Lily, and see if there is not a message written on it—a plea for forgiveness by some one you cared for long ago." Mildred's voice quivered with excitement.

Miss Lily read and grew white. "What is it?" she stammered pitifully. "I don't understand."

Mildred took her in her loving young arms and told the story, and then and there Lily Weston laid bare her heart to the girl. It had been a miserable mistake—she had never read the message penciled on the programme, and she had grieved all the years.

"He is coming tomorrow, Aunt Lily," whispered Mildred, and then she tiptoed away, radiant in the knowledge that her aunt had at last attained the happiness that had lain so long within her reach, quite unexpected.

"It is all due to the green gown," whispered Captain Gray to his long lost sweetheart when he came the next day.

Down in the garden Lester Stearns was repeating his words of love to Mildred. "I think it was due to the green gown that I really knew," he murmured tenderly.

Cattle Slaughtered.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Dec. 5.—As a result of Government inspection of the Dold stock farm, Niagara Falls, N.Y., over 150 head of cattle affected with the foot and mouth disease were slaughtered yesterday afternoon under the supervision of United States officials. As soon as the cattle were killed their bodies were buried in deep trenches and covered with lime.

Automobiles are now prevented from crossing the bridges from the United States into Canada, in accordance with an order posted yesterday afternoon.

Closed For Repairs.

Toronto, Dec. 5.—Referring to the recent despatch from Sault Ste. Marie that the rail mill of the Algoma Steel Co., Limited, had shut down and would remain closed until Jan. 1 next, Charles D. Warren, president of the company, said yesterday that the mill would reopen at an early date, as soon as a few necessary repairs and adjustments to the plant had been made.

AN EASY VICTIM TO CONSUMPTION
The run down system is an inviting field for the germ of Tuberculosis. You cannot avoid breathing in the germs—they are everywhere—but a robust system is immune from their attacks. To rebuild a weakened system there is nothing that contains so much virtue as COD LIVER OIL, but the virtue is not in the grease. In fact the grease retards the beneficial action of the really valuable principles of the OIL by deranging the digestion.
In "BRICK'S TASTELESS" the grease is eliminated. It presents the valuable principles of COD LIVER OIL in a palatable form, combined with phosphorous in the form of the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, the nutritious Liquid Extract of Malt and the Bronchial Tonic and Sedative Fluid Extract of Wild Cherry Bark.
ARM YOURSELF AGAINST CONTAGION.
"BRICK'S TASTELESS" will build up the enervated system and will cure Bronchitis, Pulmonary Affections, and the deranged or disordered nervous system. Make your body healthy and you need have no fear of germs or diseases.
Read Brick's guarantee with each bottle.
"BRICK'S TASTELESS"
is put up in eight (8) ounce bottles, retail price fifty (50) cents, and in twenty (20) ounce bottles, retail price one (1) dollar.

GREATEST VICTORIAN ACTOR.

Loyalty Was Sir Henry Irving's Chief Characteristic Throughout Life.

All great men possess many facets, but if I were asked to describe the outstanding quality of Irving's character in a word I should unhesitatingly write—loyalty, says a writer in The London Sphere. He was loyal throughout life to the men and women with whom he was associated as a thousand and one little letters breathing the graces of old-world courtesy show.

As an example of loyalty to an art Irving's career is an inspiring record. His beginnings and some of his equipment were dead against him. Coming from Somerset yeoman stock with a (maternal) dash of Cornish Methodism he was born in what he afterwards called a "God-forsaken little village" which he revisited only once after he left it at the age of four. He went to London in 1849 at the age of eleven, left school (in Lombard street) at the age of thirteen, and started his economic life in a lawyer's office. But he was so conscious of his destiny that he varied the monotony of an office stool by joining the City Elocution Class, and in 1856 he made his debut as an actor in Sunderland.

It was with ten years' experience behind him that he made his bow to London. He added only eighty-three new parts to his repertoire (thirteen of them Shakespearean) in London, but it must be remembered that he added enormously to his labors by management. As a commanding figure in the society of his time he had to play an innumerable round of other parts, now presiding at the professional dinner, now reading Becket to a non-theatre audience, now laying the foundation stone of a theatre; added to which his American tours necessitated him to breathe a new atmosphere. Thus Ellen Terry is obviously right when she speaks of the work, work, work which his life involved. The wonder is not that he crumpled up at sixty-nine, but that he did not collapse long before that period.

How—why was it all done? Certainly not for the money gain. From 1878 to the summer of 1905 he earned £2,261,637 and spent £2,168,280, so that his annual profit was but £3,457, which hundreds of men make with infinitely less trouble. No; it was not money. It was, I believe, the inspiration which theologians call the soul that impelled him to work, and that helped him to bear misfortune.

KNOWS WHAT IT MEANS.

King Consults With John Burns Regarding the Unemployed.

John Burns, fifteen years ago, was arrested and locked up in London for leading a procession of the unemployed and making a fiery speech. On a recent Sunday he was summoned to Sandringham to spend the week-end with King Edward. Mr. Burns slept under the King's roof, lunched with him and dined with him and came back to town with the King in his special train.

Mr. Burns is now the "Right Honorable John Burns," because he is a member of the British Cabinet and President of the Local Government Board. The King summoned Mr. Burns to Sandringham so that he might learn at first hand something about the problems of the unemployed, a problem that the Government is preparing to solve.

Mr. Burns himself knows what it is to be one of the hungry unemployed. He was for several years a 'longshoreman, and became the leader of the 'longshoremen's strike. That strike resulted in his being locked up. In the eight-line biography he wrote for "Who's Who" he says, "I came into the world with a struggle, am struggling now, and there's prospects of my continuing it."

The struggle isn't as fierce as it was, for Mr. Burns now consorts with the mightiest in the land. The King likes him and always speaks admiringly of "my friend Burns." Burns' former associates in the labor party do not like Mr. Burns nowadays. They do not like to hear of him wearing court costume and dining with the King. Mr. Burns doesn't mind, because he is still the true friend of the poor of England, who always look to him for guidance and advice in their troubles.

Gave His Friend a Ducking.

Mr. Sydney Buxton, the Postmaster-General who, when he opened the exhibition of the G.P.C. Arts Club recently, humorously suggested that he should offer a prize for the most artistic telegraph pole, is very fond of a joke. He can shoot a driven partridge and throw a dry fly better than most of his contemporaries. His skill in the latter direction being challenged on one occasion, a contest between himself and another member of the House of Commons was arranged. Friends of both parties, who constituted themselves as umpires, all agreed that Mr. Buxton was the better fisherman; and when he overreached himself and fell into the river they agreed still further that he must be awarded the palm for awkwardness. Upon which Mr. Buxton got his revenge by slying tripping his opponent up and giving him a ducking.

Inspiration at the Barber's.

Mr. Walter Emanuel, of Punch, has been telling how he turns out his weekly column of jokes and his humorous books, which enjoy so large a circulation. "Some of the incidents and ideas," he said, "come to me at the barber's while I am being shaved. I have no doubt that individual often wonders why a vacuous smile suddenly appears on my lathered countenance." Mr. Emanuel also acknowledged his indebtedness to the half-penny press. "I have a theory," he said, "that there is a joke in every single fact in a newspaper—even in a threepenny paper." Mr. Emanuel's reputation as an artist—in one of his books he gave some studies of fleas!—induced a young lady to ask him to draw a pig for her album with his eyes shut. This he regards as the hall-mark of fame.

Getting Ready.

"What is your son doing this year?"

"Fitting himself for college."

"In what school?"

"Oh, in the sporting goods store and in the pipe section."

MARKET WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

Meat Very Plentiful—Fowl Was Fairly Cheap—Butter is Normal.

Different kinds of meat were the principal figures at this morning's market. Upstairs there were piles of fowl; downstairs there were waggons of beef, pork and lamb. Prices were practically the same as a week ago. Butter was down to 27 cents and eggs were as high as 30 cents. Apples were fairly cheap; potatoes were again selling at 80 cents a bag. The market was largely attended and from the standpoint of the citizens was rather encouraging.

RUGBY

The idea of having one club to control all lines of sport is evidently beton, as the following despatch from Tigerville indicates:

Hamilton, Dec. 4.—There is a likelihood of the Hamilton Football Club seeking incorporation as a club and going into the athletic business on a larger scale than it has been doing by branching out into other lines of sport.

Another proposal that has met with favour in the eyes of the officers of the Football Club is the formation of a big athletic association like the Toronto Amateur Athletic Club, to handle all branches of sport, the Tigers to take a large block of stock in the new association, and to advance the necessary money to finance the association.

The Tigers are in good shape financially. For the past four or five years they have been accumulating money with a view to purchasing permanent grounds, and there are several thousand dollars to the credit of the trustees of the fund.

The matter will be discussed at the semi-annual meeting of the club next month.

Annual Affair Of Closing Of Central Smith Cheese Factory

Complete Report Will be Given in Monday's Issue—Mr. D. Hughes Charles Was Chairman—Peterborough Men Present.

VERY SUCCESSFUL MEETING

The annual meeting of the patrons of the Central Smith cheese factory was held last night in the fourth annual and like the season was a success in its every feature. Not only were the patrons with their wives and families present, but also a large number of the farmers from the surrounding country, as well as a fairly large representation from the city. Supper was provided from six o'clock until after eight, and was followed by a musical programme and speeches by prominent dairymen. The people of the prosperous township of Smith crowded the hall which proved all too inadequate for the large gathering. It was a characteristic country meeting, everybody being acquainted with his neighbours, and a friendliness and animation which is seldom found at other meetings was very much in evidence.

The tea provided by the ladies was well prepared and as well served. The farmers' wives once more showed themselves proficient in the culinary art, and quantity was as marked as quality. Many complimentary remarks were passed on the excellence of the spread which in no small measure was responsible for the enjoyment of the evening. As one of the speakers remarked, the annual tea and concert in connection with the business of the year seemed to have taken on the form of a thanksgiving, and as such everyone assisted in bearing out that idea.

The programme

After the wants of the inner man had been duly attended to, the programme was presented. Mr. D Hughes-Charles accepted the position of chairman, performing his duties a satisfactory manner and in his own genial way he secured the best of order. The musical numbers consisted of several cornet selections by Mr. John Miller, and songs by the Orpheus Quartette, composed of Messrs. Miller, Thornton, Cole and Lillie. The music was heartily enjoyed encores being deservedly given.

The chairman in his address said that he was in sympathy with all the efforts and labours of the farm, and as he personally knew many of the Smith residents, and was aware of the excellent progress that had been made in the affairs of the Central Smith factory, it was a great pleasure to him to be honoured with the position of chairman. During the evening Mr. Hughes-Charles kept the audience in good humor with witty sallies and anecdotes.

Millbrook Lawyer Purchases Practice Of Mr. Geo. Edmison

Mr. Robert Ruddy, K.C., of Millbrook, has purchased the law practice of Mr. Geo. Edmison, K.C., who has for many years conducted a law office in Peterborough. Mr. Edmison has retired from active practice. He will future devote his whole attention to his duties as police magistrate for the county and Mr. Ruddy will continue the practice formerly carried on by him at the same office.

He will be welcomed in local legal circles and also as a citizen of Peterborough.

EXAMINER B'S SUCCESSFUL DEBUT; TAKE THREE GAMES FROM HAMS; IROQUOIS SCALPED THE B. A. C.

The double-header at the P.B.C. last night proved quite an attraction, and a large number of ten pin enthusiasts were on hand to watch the games. The Examiner B's were making their first appearance and they made the occasion a memorable one by taking three games from Hutch's Hams. It was easy money for the B's all the way through, though they were forcibly reminded that they were in a game in the last contest, when they only managed to squeeze out on the last frame by five pins.

The work of Fred Rishea was the surprise of the evening. The diminutive one had high scores in the first two games and started off with a promise of a two hundred score in the third game, but ran into a series of splits that pulled down his score. Clarke also distinguished himself, while DelaFosse was improving all the time, making his best score, of the night in the last game.

The feature of the Ham's work was the new record hung up by Chris. Graham who rolled his team mate out for the cellar championship by rolling 50 in the first game. This is six pins less than the previous record held by Hutch, and it gets Chris all the silverware. The other Hams lived up to their title, but they expect to do better against the Lock Works next week when, it is rumoured the league will allow them to use a push ball or the alley broom.

In the second game the B.A.C. gave the Iroquois, alias Martingales, a big scare. The genial secretary of the league, Herb Martin, from whom his team expected big things, was not in form and his team mates had to do their prettiest to win two out of the three.

The feature was easily the excellent bowling of Best in the second game, when the B.A.C. stawlwart rolled a total of 199. His team mates supported him well, and the game went to the B.A.C. In the last game, however, he fell away again and so did his fellow bowlers, and the result was a victory for the Indians.

The scores follow:

B. A. C.
Best	122	199	101	422

HOCKEY

The annual meeting of the Trent Valley Hockey League will be held at the Dineen House, Havelock, on Friday night of this week at eight o'clock, when the business of last year will be wound up, and the officers for the coming season elected. Madoc, the winners of the league last year, and the Marmora, Stirling, Warkworth and Norwood clubs will be represented at this meeting. It is not known yet whether Havelock will enter a team this season or not.

Edmonton is going into the professional hockey game neck and crop, and hang the expense. For a city of twelve thousand inhabitants they are handing out contracts with reckless extravagance. The chances are that if they fail in their Stanley Cup endeavours they will break up and Edmonton will have the team they placed on the ice last season. It is just another indication of the unfortunate lack of cohesive organization in the hockey world. The Stanley Cup has deteriorated from a championship trophy into an incentive for the gathering of barnstorming professionals.—Montreal Herald.

• • • •

If Lord Stanley should come to Canada and see what his hockey trophy now amounts to he would probably ask that it be re-named. He presented the trophy to encourage hockey; it has lived in the game to grow gate receipts and make fat salaries for a bunch of professional players. Instead of helping hockey it has become a detriment to the game, and it would be a grand thing indeed if it would follow the Minto trophy so far west that it would be practically out of the game for good.

So here's hoping Edmonton wins it! For Edmonton, you know, is no metropolis, and once the silverware reached the dome of Frank Oliver there would be little inducement for the eastern teams to go after it. Edmonton could not furnish big gates and the only inducements the big hockey in the east recognize are gates. And then the road to Edmonton is long and cold and the railway rates are high.—Toronto Telegram.

"Billy" Crowley, the former aggressive hockey player of Peterborough, is manager of the Edmonton hockey club. He is a very popular personage in the western city, and they are beginning to name streets after him.—Lindsay Post.

Peterborough will only have a junior team in the O.H.A. this year. Time was when the Electric City cut quite a figure in hockey circles. The papers of that town took pleasure in referring to Belleville and Cobourg as dead hockey centres, but my what a difference a few years make. Today Cobourg has two teams entered in the O.H.A., and Belleville promises to figure prominently in that organization, while Peterborough can only gather together a septette of juniors.—Lindsay Post.

HOW TO FEED HEAVY TEAM OF HORSES

From the Canadian Dairyman.

I have a team of horses weighing about 2,500 lbs., which I would like to ask a question or two about.

1. How should they be fed in a shanty?
2. Does it make any difference whether they are watered before or after the meals?
3. How much oats should a team be given weighing that number of pounds?
4. Is it advisable to clip horses working hard every day in a shanty?—T. B. L., Carp, Ont.

(1) Horses of the weight mentioned (2500 lbs) should be fed a daily ration somewhat as follows, when on hard work: Morning, 5 lbs. oats and about 3 lbs. hay each. Noon, 5 lbs. oats, 1 lb. hay each; night, 3 or 4 lbs. oats and 8 lbs. hay each. If possible to secure other feed, oats should not be fed alone. A mixture of four parts oats and one part bran gives the best results. Where this mixture can be secured, the amounts given above would prove satisfactory. Saturday night a bran mash should be fed in place of the oats. Sunday morning a much lighter oat ration than usual, and Sunday noon and evening about the normal ration. The hay should be well shaken to ensure its being free from dust and no mouldy or badly cured hay should be used if it can possibly be avoided.

(2) Horses should be watered before being fed their oats.

(3) Answer included in reply to question No. 1.

(4) Unless the horses are in the hands of an exceedingly careful driver, would not consider it advisable to clip them while in shanty. Stables are not infrequently cold and horses when working, sometimes have to wait to be loaded, so that if not protected by a normal coat of hair, they are apt to catch cold.—J. H. Grisdale, Agriculturist, C. E. F., Ottawa.

SECURES CHEQUE FOR $100 ON A NEW PIANO

Mr. S. W. Lowry, while in Buffalo a day or two prior to the Presidential elections, was given an opportunity, and accepted it, of making an estimate on the amount of the popular vote. Prizes to the extent of $7,500 were offered by the Poppenburg Piano Co., and Mr. Lowry received a cheque yesterday for $100 on one of their pianos. His estimate of the vote was [illegible]

$20,000 FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

Roland Boswell Went to Europe on the Day He Had Promised to Wed Miss Cummings.

Statement of claim was filed at Osgoode Hall to-day in the breach of promise suit brought by Wilhemine Cummings, of West Toronto, against Roland Boswell, of Aurora. Miss Cummings, it is set forth, accepted Boswell's proposal of marriage on June 13, and the wedding was to have taken place on July 30. She expended some $150 in preparations for the event, and asks $20,000 damages to cover the injury to her feelings. Boswell started for England on the afternoon of the day fixed for the wedding.—News.

It will be remembered that Boswell paid a short visit with friends in Peterborough before sailing for the Old Country.

THE NOMINATION OF OFFICERS

Was Held Yesterday at St. Peter's T. A. S. Meeting—Other Features.

The nomination of officers was held at the meeting of St. Peter's T. A. S., and the election will be held in two weeks. The society is making good progress and the membership keeps growing apace. The addresses, one each Sunday, by members of the society, are very interesting and popular. Mr. George Ball spoke yesterday, handling his subject in a splendid manner. Preparations are being made for the anniversary concert, which will be held on January 9th.

RAPHAEL TUCK & SONS HANDSOME PUBLICATIONS

The products of the Raphael Tuck & Sons Company, fine art and book publishers, Montreal, which are displayed in local stationery stores, are being received with much favour. The high-class colour printing employed and the apt illustration of meritorious design are worthy of attention. Their juvenile and toy books, calendars, booklets and Christmas cards, certainly represent the newest in the line of artistic publications.

OBITUARY.

JAMES JUDD

The death occurred on Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock of Mr. James Judd, after an illness extending over five weeks. The deceased was born in the Township of Dummer, and was seventy-five years of age. He was well known in the city and the county, as he had more recently lived in Peterborough for quite a number of years. About forty years ago he married Miss Annie Greer, who, with eight children, still survives him.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the family residence, 16 Stewart street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

MUSIC WAR AMONG THE LOCAL DEALERS

Hessell Gets Three Months—Berlin Youth Who Pleaded Guilty To Robbing The C. P. R. Office

Wm. Hessell, the Berlin youth who was arrested early last Monday morning on a charge of stealing $3 and two tickets from Peterborough to Bobcaygeon from the C.P.R. station office on Sunday evening of last week, was sentenced by Magistrate Dumble at police court this morning to three months in the County Gaol with hard labour. It will be remembered that the operator at the station had left the office for a few moments, leaving the door open and during his absence some one entered and stole the articles mentioned. Hessell had been seen around the station and was suspected as soon as the theft was discovered. The police were notified and the youth was arrested early the next morning and was remanded for a week.

This morning he elected to be tried by the Magistrate and pleaded guilty.

Chief Rossel stated that High County Constable Cochrane had reported that the boy had been arrested some time ago on a charge of theft in Havelock and after appearing before County Magistrate Edmison, was sent back to his home in Berlin because it was thought that the boy's mental condition was not good.

"Anyone who steals is not in his right mind" commented the Magistrate.

Hessell who stated that he was 21 years of age, was sentenced to three in the gaol with the warning that if he ever appeared before the magistrate again he would not be let off so easily.

Frank Hughes pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined $2, which was paid.

Dennis Daly charged with vagrancy pleaded that he had been working with Mr. Wm. Croft for some time and that he could get work in the country without difficulty. In fact he informed the Magistrate that he would have been out on a farm by this time if he had seen the man he was looking for.

Mr. Croft stated that the man had been working for him, but had left him some weeks ago.

Daly was allowed to go with a warning that he must not appear again on a similar charge, "if you do," commented the Magistrate, "you will get the whole six months."

Lieut.-Col. Greenwood Coming Back To Canada From Africa

Glad to Get Back and Will Probably Remain Permanently In This Country.

Word has been received in Toronto that Lieut.-Colonel H. S. Greenwood, who is well known in Peterborough, and highly thought of, one of the district engineers stationed in Johannesburg, South Africa, doing railroading and other engineering work for the Imperial Government since the close of the Boer war, has reached New York from England, on his way to Montreal and Toronto.

Before going to South Africa eight years ago, Colonel Greenwood was employed by the Canadian Government doing engineering work on the Cornwall Canal and the Trent waterways, and prior to enlisting for active service in 1900 he was assistant superintending engineer of the Trent Canal at Peterborough.

The colonel is very glad to get back to Canada once more, and hopes to make his home here in the future.

Death At Unexpected Moment Of A Prominent Methodist Evangelist Of This County

Mr. Joseph B. Forster, Warsaw, Succumbs While Walking Across the Floor on Sunday Morning.

WELL KNOWN IN THE CITY

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, Dec. 7.—With the somewhat sudden death early Sunday morning of Mr. Joseph Bell Foster at his residence, there has passed away an interesting figure, prominent for many years in Methodism in Warsaw. The deceased, who was about 75 years of age, was born in England, but has lived the majority of his years in Canada. He is very well known throughout the county on account of his connection with the Methodist church. He has on several occasions occupied pulpits in various churches of this denomination. He has spoken at the Salvation Army Barracks in Peterborough and is represented as one of the first men to assist General Booth when the latter began his evangelistic career in Mile End Square, London, Eng.

A week ago Mr. Foster went to Bethel church about three miles north of this village to assist in the services. He became ill there but his illness was not thought to be of a serious character, making his death yesterday morning a surprise. He arose early as usual and requested something to eat. But in the course of his wife's preparations of the morning meal he suddenly became dizzy while walking across the floor. Mr. Aaron McGuire of Peterborough, a brother of Mrs. Forster, who was present, steadied him to a chair where he died a few moment later.

Mr. Joseph Forster, of Peterborough, is a cousin of the deceased. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Recommencement Of Work In Wm. Hamilton Foundry

At seven o'clock this morning the whistle of the Wm. Hamilton foundry blew for the first time in more than a twelvemonth. There were forty-five employees present and work will now be rapidly pushed forward. Last week about thirty-five men were working in preparation for the opening and on Saturday alone forty-eight tons of castings were manufactured on a new contract.

'By March 1st, 1909," remarked Mr. W. H. Collier, to-day, "we expect to have all the work we can possibly do."

Sudden Demise Of Prominent South Monaghan Resident

Mr. William Rutherford Dies Unexpectedly at Residence of His Son-in-Law, Cavanville —Well Known for Activity in Agricultural and Municipal Methods.

FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON

Mr. Wm. Rutherford, one of the best known and most universally respected residents of South Monaghan, died suddenly yesterday at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Alex. Hunter, Cavanville, where he has had his home for some time past. His death is attributed to an affection of the heart.

The deceased gentleman was a member of a family which was among the first occupants of the township, settling upon lot 6, in the second concession of the township. He was the second eldest son of the late Richard Rutherford, and was in his 77th year at the time of his death. He was a farmer and a most successful one; practising advanced methods, and always taking a deep interest in everything that could promote the interests of agriculture. His interests in this direction led to his active association with agricultural societies, he having been many years president of the township society, and always an active participant in its affairs. He was also for years prominent in the management of the Peterborough Central Exhibition as president and director. His familiarity with, and knowledge of, live stock made his services as judge much sought after at exhibitions at Lakefield, Norwood, Cobourg Millbrook, and elsewhere. When the Grange movement was active in this vicinity, Mr. Rutherford regarding it as a means of promoting the interests of the farming community, was connected with its operations. His public spirit as a citizen was not confined to agriculture. He took an active part in municipal matters, and was for a long time a member of the township council, and reeve for several terms. Mr. Rutherford was a staunch Liberal in politics and in religion a Presbyterian, worshipping at the Centreville church. He lived the greater part of his life on the beautiful farm, lot 6, in the 3rd concession of South Monaghan. In 1858 he was married to Margaret, daughter of the late Wm. Smithson, of the same township, and sister of Mrs. John Riddell, 550 Homewood avenue, city, and sister of Mrs. Geo. Matthews, Lindsay. Mrs. Rutherford died about four years ago. To the marriage were born ten children, of whom four survive, three sons—Wm. S., residing on the homestead; John, living in the Canadian Northwest, and Frank, civil engineer of St. Catharines—and one daughter, Mrs. Alex. Hunter, Cavanville. Mr. Rutherford is also survived by two brothers, John, of Minneapolis and James of Dakota, and one sister, Mrs. Jas. Perrin, 736 George street, city; Mr. Percival Rutherford, a nephew, also resides in Peterborough. The funeral took place this afternoon to interment at Centreville Cemetery.

CAN FIND HIM ON THE JOB.

The Lindsay Post says:

"Conservative papers are amusing themselves with a wonderful story of the alleged "disappearance of J. R. Stratton," all because some half-baked bailiff who was sent to serve him with protest papers didn't find him in his office when he called. Mr. Stratton is a man interested in many enterprises and those who really want him can find him on the job somewhere around."

THE WAVE ROLLS ON.

A despatch from Winnipeg giving further evidence of the importance of railways as media of transportation, in building up a new country, shews that the wave of progress still rolls on. The despatch is to the effect that Western Canada is engaged in national undertakings of much greater magnitude in proportion to population than is the case with any other country in the world. Statistics compiled from official sources show that railways have contributed to the business building of the West to a most remarkable degree, one new town having been put on the map in western territory every other day for the past eight years. The Canadian Pacific Railway's new line from Saskatoon west to Wilkie has made rapid progress in the past season. The work of locating the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific between Edmonton and Prince Rupert, which has occupied nearly two years, has been completed, the surveying parties forming the big force, having reached Ashcroft, B.C., on their way out in the week. The National transcontinental section, which embraces that territory from Winnipeg east, will employ four thousand men throughout the winter. Hundreds of cars of railway material are now being shipped from the head of lake navigation over the lake Superior branch and unloaded at Waco station, from which point satisfactory work in distributing material can be carried on throughout the winter.

These facts show that there was abundant need and abudant warrant for the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, which has even in the course of construction been a mighty factor in the opening up, which means building up, of the country and the development of its resources and, more than that the discovery of new resources. These facts which are only a slight forecast of what will come from the completion and operation of the Transcontinental, are a stern rebuke to the myopic minnows of politics, who in hope of a petty party gain, opposed, and some still oppose an enterprise, which promises the creation of a new Canada, with the attendant result of immeasurably contributing to the growth and prosperity of the Canada of to-day. Railways are so rapidly removing the waste places of the country that soon there will be no place in which the pessimist can hide even his diminished head.

STABILITY OF CANADIAN SECURITIES.

Apart from the absolute character of the soundness of Canadian Government securities, a value is given by their steadiness and indifference to the diplomatic influences which induce fluctuating values in the securities of nations associated with the larger field of international interests. Commenting upon this condition the Finance Chronicle points out that the United States should be able to dispose satisfactorily of $30,000,000 of Panama Canal Bonds, bearing only 2 per cent. interest, doubtless strikes many Canadians as strange. The rate is much lower than any paid on Dominion Government securities; but the explanation is, of course, immediate. Artificial bolstering up of United States bonds is secured through the law requiring their purchase by national banks as a basis for note circulation. But the disadvantages of so arbitrarily limited a currency are now universally recognised. The experiences of last autumn abundantly proved that the loss entailed upon general business interests far outweighs any possible gain enjoyed by the Treasury Department.

As compared with any government issues which depend upon a "natural" market demand, Canadian securities certainly show favourably indeed — and fluctuate exceedingly little. More than one careful financial journal in the old land has commented upon the contrast which the steady course of Canadian "Threes" affords to that of Consols during the past year or so. Small investors particularly are reminded that Consols as the "barometer stock" of the world are attested by a political disturbance anywhere. On the other hand, the stocks of colonial governments, lying outside any possible danger zone of European conflict, are inclined to greater stability—provided local conditions do not become abnormal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Now let the Mail and Empire, which flagellated the Liberals of Fergus for daring to consult in order to agree to a site for a new post office, lay the lash upon the backs of those Brantford Conservatives, who met to decide who should be appointed police magistrate of the city.

It is sufficient answer, says the Globe, to Mr. Hanna's denial, that any patronage list exists to ask the readers of the daily papers if they ever saw an advertisement asking for tenders for the supply of groceries or meats or provisions for the public institutions in Toronto, or, for that matter, any institution in the Province.

The Kingston Standard will wake up some fine morning to find itself read out of the Conservative fold. It maintains its disgusting attitude of independence, or rather of speaking the thing it thinks. It now demands that a Provincial Conservative convention be called prior to the meeting of Parliament, in order that the party may see where it is at. The Mail and Empire and the News, which professed independence long enough to discover its fiscal hollowness, won't hunt in company with a party renegade like the Standard, which, by the way, may be a sounder Conservative sympathizer than any of its sneering party contemporaries.

It is stated that Mr. Borden, leader of the Conservative party, will issue a letter to the members-elect belonging to his party, asking them to decide the matter of the leadership. It is further stated that he will not appear in the House till the matter has been passed upon by his party. Mr. Borden goes very gently and caninly. Since the people voted want of confidence in him at the last elections he does not feel quite sure of his following-elect are satisfied. Though there may be some who think they could fill the position better than Mr. Borden they may have some difficulty in persuading others to share thir opinion. It is, therefore, probable that for the coming session, at least, Mr. Borden will remain the leader.

The beauty of high protection is illustrated by an incident, which shows that Uncle Sam regards eternal vigilance as the price of liberty—to tax even the mouths of poor sailors' families. Sailors on an American vessel found some food supplies afloat on Lake Superior. They were going to waste and they wisely took them home. The Great Republic narrowly escaped losing a few cents of duty, but the wide-awake customs officer seized the food and thus vindicated the great principle that even the families of sailors cannot have cheap food without paying tributes. To impress the lesson the vessel also has been seized. It's only millionaires and predatory big corporations that are permitted to get something for nothing under a protective tariff.

We are glad to note the acquittal of Mr. Dafoe, editor of the Winnipeg Daily Free Press, who was charged with a libel for having exposed and severely condemned the ruffianly tactics of Winnipeg Conservatives in having Hon. Mr. Sifton howled down at a public meeting by an engaged gang of hoodlums. These libel suits that are intended to gag the press and to interfere with its freedom of expression in the public interest and for the public welfare are getting to be the too common recourse of the evil-doers who suffer by such exposure, and it is gratifying to find in Winnipeg, strongly Conservative as it is, a jury that would not permit political prejudice to do a gross injustice to an elector of the opposite political faith. The case was one which concerned the independence and integrity of the press, and we congratulate Mr. Dafoe on the successful issue that resulted.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

Opening of Parliament Approaches —Grand Trunk Pacific to Enter Pacific Coasting Trade—Lord Strathcona's Successor Likely to be Sir Hugh Montague Allan—Railway Casualty Experience Likely to Suggest New Legislation.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—His Excellency Earl Grey came up from Montreal on Saturday and returned yesterday. It is believed his visit had to do with the calling of Parliament for business end that the formal announcement will be made this week. The date will probably be January 20th, although many speculate on the 13th as the possible date. Inasmuch as it would be impossible for many of the members-elect to reach Ottawa by the last mentioned date, it may be taken for granted that the following week will witness the Parliamentary gathering.

To realize the development that is anticipated from the completion of the Grand Trunk continental line it is announced that the G. T. P. will enter the coasting trade between Victoria, Vancouver and Prince Rupert the ensuing summer, with two fast modern passenger steamers. This will not only cut into the American control of the coasting trade, but will be a means of development for the Pacific coast line of British Columbia.

A report comes from London that Canada's grand old representative, the veteran Lord Strathcona, is to be succeeded by Sir Hugh Montague Allan, of Montreal. No immediate change, however, is anticipated, as Lord Strathcona is, despite his advanced years, still in vigorous health and would relinquish duties to which he has applied so much earnest devotion, with reluctance. However, a change during the coming year is probably inevitable.

Official information gives the information that during the first ten months of the present year 242 railway employees were killed and 250 injured while engaged in the railway service. Of the killed 72 were run over by cars, 23 met death in collisions, 19 in derailments, 21 in fires, 57 in explosions and 13 were caught between cars. This condition of affairs is understood to be engaging the attention of the government, and may lead to additional railway legislation during the coming session.

JAIL-BREAKER REPORTED.

Harry Churchill Is Caught and Released In Texas.

Toronto, Dec. 7.—Harry Churchill, the escaped Toronto jail-breaker, is still at liberty. He was arrested at Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 10 for picking pockets at Dallas and was taken to the latter city. But the following telegram tells of Churchill's luck:

"Thomas Moore, alias Churchill, was released here. Party refused to prosecute in the case.—B. F. Bradenburg, Chief of Police."

Dallas is probably only one of a good many likely places that didn't get a circular telling of the escape. Anyway, although the arrest was made Nov. 10, for picking pockets, the first intimation the local police department had of it was when the usual scrutiny of the current issue of the Chicago publication known as "The Detective" revealed his portraits and the facts of his arrest. He, with six others, got away from Toronto jail July 17. Only one, a boy, has been recaptured.

Three-Year-Old Shot.

Walkerville, Dec. 7.—Childish curiosity on the part of Albert Cecile's five-year-old son, Isadore, resulted in the accidental killing of three-year-old Bernedette Cecile at Sandwich East on Saturday.

When Ottawa Was Chosen.

It was exactly half a century ago that the Parliament of old United Canada was informed that Queen Victoria had selected Ottawa as the future seat of the Canadian Government. That was the beginning of Ottawa's greatness. Three years before Bytown, beside the roaring Chaudiere, had been incorporated as a city, but a ragged-looking city it was, judging from the sketches of the place made at that time. Old Town stretched along the bank of the Ottawa from the Rideau canal to the Rideau river, and there was another town near the Chaudiere Falls where a suspension bridge spanned the river to Hull. Barracks Hill, on which the Parliament Buildings now stand, was then a rough tract of land with stones cropping out, and here and there clusters of brush, and it contained one or two buildings of undressed stone. Sparks street was a country road, and Sandy Hill, the fashionable "West End" of modern Ottawa—although it happens to be in the southeastern part of the city—was then a cow pasture.

Snuff-Boxes Worth $175,000.

The Earl of Rosebery owns the costliest collection of snuff-boxes in the world. Many of them are solid gold and some are set with brilliants. A curiously-inlaid enamel snuff-box was at one time the property of Napoleon Bonaparte. A small black box studded with three diamonds belonged to the eminent statesman Pitt; while another, plainly inlaid with fine gold, was used by Fox. Although the collection only comprises twenty-two boxes altogether, its estimated value is $175,000.

Banks' First Strong Room.

In the Bank of England's museum may be seen the old oak chest which was the Old Lady of Threadneedle Street's first strong room. It is a little larger than a common seaman's chest, and in this the bank stored its cash, notes, and valuable papers. Today the strong-room is a formidable-looking object, built of armor-plate, boasts of huge doors that weigh many tons, and represents the latest skill and science of the engineer and locksmith.

Good Form In Stationery.

Good form in stationery has always been considered a mark of a woman's refinement. Nevertheless the styles change in that accessory, and the latest fads this season are very dainty. Neutral tints are permissible, and usually one, such as gray, is more in vogue than any other. Blue is popular, but it is an indeterminate kind. Plain white is seldom seen, merely as a matter of fad, but it is always good form.

ELECTION PROTESTS ARE NOW ALL IN

Fifty-Seven Is Total of Appeals Registered on Saturday.

QUEBEC HAS THIRTY-FIVE

Liberals Will Contest Every Conservative Seat and Tories Will Kick on Twenty-Four—Some Surprises Are Sprung In Protests Filed In Ontario — Sir Wilfrid Laurier Is Attacked In Ottawa City.

Toronto, Dec. 7.—Eight Federal elections were protested in Ontario on Monday, Dec. 7.—The outcome of Saturday's contestations in the Province of Quebec is that thirty-five seats have been petitioned against.

All of the eleven Conservative members elected on the 26th of October are contested, while the Conservatives have entered petitions against Rimouski, Temiscouta, Montmagny, Lotbiniere, Port Neuf, Quebec County, Quebec Centre, Montmorency and Bellechasse in the Quebec district, and Brome, Stanstead and Drummond and Arthabaska, in the eastern townships, with Huntingdon, Chateauguay, St. Mary's, St. Lawrence, St. James, Hochelaga, Maskinonge, Joliette, Montcalm, Berthier, Two Mountains and Beauharnois, in the Montreal district.

The Liberals contest: Mr. Monk, Jacques Cartier, Mr. Dohery, St. Ann's; Mr. Ames, St. Antoine; Mr. Perley, Argenteuil; Col. Worthington, Sherbrooke; Mr. Price, Quebec West; Mr. Forget, Charlevoix; Mr. Blondin, Champlain; Paquet, L'Islet; Nantel, Terrebonne.

Disqualification and annulling of the election is asked in every case on both sides of the House, but the Conservatives have gone one better. By counter petition they ask for the personal disqualification of the three Ministers, Hon. Messrs. Brodeur, Fisher and Lemieux, as well as Hon. Mr. Taschereau, Minister of Public Works in the Quebec Government.

Two petitions were entered against the Conservative leader, F. D. Monk, for Jacques Cartier.

Conservatives claim to have positive proof that it took $40,000 to defeat young Lorenzo Robitaille in Quebec County, while $25,000 were expended in the vain effort to beat Dr. Paquet in L'Islet. William Price is also of the belief that they spent at least $30,000 against him in Quebec West, while it required $18,000 to pull Mr. Lapointe through in the Liberal stronghold of Kamouraska. Then they put a fund of $20,000 at the disposition of Mr. Pouliot in Charlevoix in the vain attempt to down Rodolphe Forget in his county.

Saturday, four by Conservatives and four by Liberals. They are—by Conservatives: Fowke in South Ontario, maj. 287; J. R. Stratton in West Peterboro; Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Ottawa, maj. 640; Wm. M. German in Welland, maj. 800. By Liberals: Geo. Gordon in Nipissing, maj. 16; Wm. Thoburn in North Lanark, maj. 6; Tom G. Wallace in Centre York, maj. 44.

Centre Toronto is not on the list, although at 11 o'clock Saturday morning it was stated positively that the petition had been sent to Osgoode Hall. It will be noted that Thunder Bay and Rainy River is also omitted.

The Liberal leaders still maintain that they prefer to "wipe off the slate." They have all the seats they need from Ontario. It was evident Saturday afternoon that negotiations were still on between the two parties.

The six petitions filed Saturday may quietly drop out if the necessary $6,000 is not produced within four days to back them up.

The usual stereotyped charges of electoral corruption and wrong-doing accompanied each protest.

Seven In Manitoba.

Winnipeg, Dec. 7.—Protests have been filed under the Dominion Controverted Elections Act against seven of the eight Conservative candidates returned in Manitoba in the federal election of Oct. 26 last.

The petitions are against Alexander Haggard, Winnipeg; S. H. Bradbury, Selkirk; Glen Campbell, Dauphin; W. H. Sharpe, Lisgar; Dr. Roche, Marquette; W. D. Staples, Macdonald, and A. J. Meighen, Portage la Prairie, and with the exception of Winnipeg and Selkirk, are almost entirely on statutory grounds. In these two there are special counts.

Two Each In New Brunswick.

St. John, N.B., Dec. 7.—Protests have been filed in four New Brunswick constituencies, as follows:

Against Hon. Mr. Pugsley (Lib.), in St. John City and County; Dr. Daniel (Con.), in St. John City; O. S. Crockett (Con.), in York County, and Dr. McAllister (Lib), in Kings-Albert.

All protests were filed within five minutes of closing time.

Daniel and Crocket were the only two Conservatives elected in New Brunswick.

One In P. E. I.

Halifax, N.S., Dec. 7.—On Saturday a petition from the office of A. McDonald of the law firm of Matheson & McDonald, wherein Louis T. Tanton of Charlottetown is the petitioner, was filed in the Supreme Court here against the election and return of L. E. Prowse, Liberal candidate elected at the late Dominion election in Prince Edward Island.

None In Nova Scotia.

Halifax, S.S., Dec. 7.—There will be no election protests in this province.

Two In British Columbia.

Victoria, B.C., Dec. 7.—Petitions have been filed against the return of G. H. Barnard for Victoria and Ralph Smith for Nanaimo.

Surprise to Premier.

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—The protest against the election of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Ottawa came as a surprise. The Conservative party executive had decided against the proceeding and it is thought to have been done by the Toronto executive.

Sisters Reunited.

Marine City, Mich., Dec. 7.—Mrs. W. H. Conley of Marine City has left for Toronto to join her sister, Mrs. Ira Phillips, of that city, from whom she has been separated for fifty-three years.

The sisters lost all trace of each other more than half a century ago. Through a Toronto acquaintance who mentioned that she had met a woman who greatly resembled Mrs. Conley, correspondence was begun which showed that the Canadian lady was Mrs. Conley's sister.

Mrs. Conley, accompanied by her son, will spend the holidays at Toronto.

Shot In St. Louis.

Deseronto, Dec. 7.—News was received here yesterday of the murder of a Deseronto man named Pope Flood, who was shot and instantly killed on the street in St. Louis Saturday by an intoxicated man.

Flood was formerly an operator employed in the Great Northwestern Telegraph Co.'s office here, and was making preparations to return to Montreal, Que., where he had secured a situation with the same company.

Provincial Appointments.

Toronto, Dec. 7.—William Meinhardus, Gravenhurst, has been appointed license commissioner for the district of Muskoka, instead of John S. Gibson, resigned.

Walter Wallbridge Denison, Toronto, is appointed a notary public.

John Jennings Creelman, Montreal, is now a commissioner for taking affidavits for the Ontario courts.

Woman Eats Rat Poison.

Brantford, Dec. 7.—Annie Babcock, aged 34 years, employed at A. E. Brown's house, Murray street, took a dose of rat poison yesterday morning and expired before medical assistance arrived.

The woman was subject to headaches and took the poison in mistake for a powder to cure her malady. No inquest will be held.

Champlain Tercentenary.

Albany, N.Y., Dec. 7.—President Taft and party, including his Cabinet officers and ambassadors from France, Great Britain and Canada, are expected to attend the Lake Champlain tercentenary celebration in July next. Plans for the fete were yesterday submitted to Governor Hughes. L. O. Armstrong, M.P., of Canada, is on the committee.

Stopping Car; Meets Death.

Brantford, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Flanders, 13 Oak street, was fatally injured at the Cainsville crossing of the Brantford & Hamilton Radial Railway yesterday afternoon.

She was endeavoring to stop one of the fast east-going cars when the front end struck her, inflicting severe injuries to the skull.

The fatality is the second recent one in which the victim in each instance misjudged the clearance of the car. The motorman said he had seen the woman's signal and was stopping the car for her.

Congress Convenes To-day.

Washington, Dec. 7.—To-day at 12 o'clock both Houses of Congress convened for the beginning of the second session of the sixtieth Congress.

To-morrow will be given up by both Houses to the reading of the President's message. The general report is that it will prove to be a conservative and carefully prepared document, and it is not believed that a great many recommendations for legislation along new lines will be ventured upon by the President.

The Face In the Moonlight.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Christian Rudowitz, a Russian refugee, must go back to Russia to stand trial on a charge of murdering three people, unless he is saved by the intervention of the Department of State or of the President.

It was asserted that identification upon which Rudowitz was arrested here was on the description of a man obtained in the moonlight.

Steamer Clemson Overdue.

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 7.—The steamer D. M. Clemson of the Provident Steamship line, bound up from Lake Erie, is several days overdue at Duluth, and grave fears are entertained for her safety. She was loaded with coal for Duluth and passed the Soo Nov. 30, since which time nothing has been heard from her.

Stabbed In Barroom.

Victoria, B.C., Dec. 7.—Atall Lokbai, a Roumanian, was stabbed and badly wounded by a countryman of unknown identity Saturday evening in a bar.

Artillerymen Go Through Bridge.

Lawton, Okla., Dec. 7.—Three artillerymen were killed when a bridge gave way on Saturday when a detachment were galloping to a prairie fire. Eight men were on the bridge when it collapsed. It was in poor repair.

WHY AM I ILL?

HOW TO TELL.

Does every cold affect your back, and cause a feeling of chilliness, followed by disturbance of the kidney action.

Does the use of spirits, tea or beer excite the kidneys? Are you easily worried and annoyed over trifles? Are the feet and hands cold? Circulation bad? Do the feet and legs swell? Is there puffiness under the eyes? Do you have rheumatism, poor eyesight, headaches and backaches? Is there gravel or any unnatural action of the kidneys?

If you have any of the above symptoms your kidneys are either weak or diseased, and these symptoms are warnings of more serious troubles to follow; Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Dropsy.

Whatever you do, whatever you think your disease is, look well to your kidneys at the first sign of anything wrong. Give them just the aid they require in Doan's Kidney Pills, the Great Quaker Kidney Medicine, and see how well and fit you feel after even a few doses.

Mrs. O. Warren, Radisson, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with very severe pains in my back for years. I tried everything I could think of but they did me no good. A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking two boxes, I have not been troubled since."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1,25, at all dealers or The T. Milburn Co Limited, Toronto.

Suffragettes Interrupt Chancellor Lloyd-George's Speech.

WERE CHAINED TO SEATS

With Prison Garb Under Their Cloaks Agitators Attend Meeting In Albert Hall and, Armed With Whips, Fight Removal—Chancellor Announces Suffrage Clause In the Coming Franchise Bill.

London, Dec. 7.—The gulf between the suffragists and the suffragettes, the latter being the term generally used to describe the militant section of the female agitators, who believe in street riots and attacks on Cabinet Ministers as the quickest means of attaining the suffrage for their sex, was further widened Saturday afternoon by a fierce demonstration indulged in by the suffragettes at Albert Hall against David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who was addressing the Woman's Liberal Association.

The Chancellor had hardly got beyond announcing that he was present with the object of making known the Government's intentions regarding the problem of woman suffrage, when a great uproar broke out. Strident voices from all parts of the hall shrieked: "We want deeds, not words."

The stewards of the hall, and there were 350 on hand to deal with the anticipated disturbance, at once moved down the aisle of the women who had interrupted the speaker with the idea of ejecting them. They found them chained to their seats.

There then began a confused struggle between the men and the women, but finally the chains were cut and the suffragettes expelled. But the numbers of the disorderly seemed to increase rather than diminish. Some of the women were armed with whips, and they replied vigorously every attempt to eject them.

There were fierce tussels every few moments in different parts of the hall, and every time Mr. Lloyd-George made an attempt to speak his voice was drowned with mingled groans and cheers.

The uproar was at its height when a dozen suffragettes who recently had been released from prison, divested themselves of their outside wraps and appeared in their jail garb. Their clothes were liberally stamped with broad arrows.

This exhibition acted on the sisterhood like a red rag to a bull. Megaphones and bells were brought into use, and the noise became deafening. The stewards at length lost their tempers, and as they continued their work of throwing out the demonstrants, the clothes of many of the women were torn off their backs.

At the end of half an hour or more the opposition became worn out, and Mr. Lloyd-George was able to continue his speech with only an occasional interruption. He assured his audience, which totaled fully 8,000 people, that there was a majority in the Cabinet, and the Liberal party was in favor of woman suffrage and that a suffrage clause would be included in the Government's franchise bill, which however could not be introduced until the eve of the dissolution of Parliament.

Boats at Fort William.

Fort William, Ont., Dec. 7.—Yesterday at noon twenty-one boats were in the harbor, all freighters, with a carrying capacity each of from 100 to 400 bushels. For this late date in the season, the number of boats exceeds any previous record.

The steamer Tampa, with coal from Cleveland, arrived Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, after a very stormy passage up the lake. Very little damage was done to the steamer.

Three Days In Woods.

Wetaskiwin, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Thomas Wagner had a terrible experience during the past week, when she lost herself while returning from the bush, where her husband was cutting lumber. She wandered around for three days and two nights, and was found in an exhausted condition by a search party, which was organized immediately after her disappearance was known. She was about six miles away from her home at the time.

Member of Reichstag In Hysterics.

Berlin, Dec. 7.—The debate in the Reichstag Saturday on the imperial budget resulted in animated discussion of the naval program. Several speakers of various parties criticized the increased celerity in building battleships, a fact that a member of the Centre party said was taken as a challenge by other nations.

During the debate, Lt.-Col. Goltz, a commissioner of the Federal Council, suffered an attack of hysterics and had to be carried, shrieking and sobbing from the building.

Strathcona's Successes.

London, Dec. 7.—The Mail says the successor to Lord Strathcona has not yet been appointed, but it is understood the post has been offered to Sir Montague Allan, who is not, however, going to decide immediately.

WHAT BEAUTIFUL HAIR!

How often do we hear that exclamation of a certain woman's hair or a certain man's hair.

A prominent scientist and hair specialist emphatically states, and has proven, that any man or woman can have luxuriant, lustrous hair, by using a famous prescription called Parisian Sage.

Parisian Sage is now made and sold in Canada. Wm. Madill, the druggist, is the agent in Peterborough, and the readers of the Examiner can buy from him for only 50 cents a large bottle.

Wm. Madill knows that Parisian Sage will beautify the hair, cure dandruff and stop falling hair, and that reason he sells it under a guarantee to cure or money back.

If you cannot obtain Parisian Sage where you live, you can get a bottle for 50 cents from Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont., express charges prepaid.

ASQUITH STAGGERED.

Twice Defeated on Big Measures, Tories Say End Is Near.

London, Dec. 7.—The Conservative politicians and press are raising a chorus of joy over the defeat of the Government's Education Bill, and are prophesying the early termination of the Liberal administration.

The collapse of the Government's two most pretentious and most carefully prepared measures within a few days of each other, together with the Liberal defeat in the Middlesex Parliamentary election, following several successive rebuffs at the polls, give support to the assertion that the Liberals have lost the country's confidence.

On this ground the Government's opponents are urging it to invite a vote of confidence by going before the country in a general election, and are taunting it with being afraid to do so.

It is well within the range of possibility that the next six months may see a general election. A few people say that a general election will come early in the new year.

Some of the Liberals suggest that the Government should frame a press bill, curbing the power of the Lords, and that when that body throws it out the Government should appeal to the country on that issue.

The most important legislation this session having failed, the only noteworthy project left to consider is the Irish Land Purchase Bill, but the chances of it passing is poor.

The Liberals object to the scheme of the committee of the House of Lords, directed towards reform in the House, because their party under the proposed plan would be assured of only a small fraction of the members of the Upper House. Colonial representation in the House of Lords finds general favor, and suggestions are heard that if the colonies are given seats, India should not be left out.

Universal Premium Tax.

New York, Dec. 7.—All the speakers at Saturday's session of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents agreed that the premium tax should be the same in all the states of the Union.

Equal taxation for both local and outside insurance companies in Canada had proved beneficial, said L. Goldman of Toronto, and he believed the arguments were even stronger for a pursuance of that policy by the various states of the Union.

Argued For Free Barley.

Washington, Dec. 7.—At the ways and means hearing free barley from Canada was the theme of the argument of Charles L. Feldman, representing the Buffalo Maltsters' Association.

The present duty is 30 cents a bushel, and since it was imposed Feldman said, the malting industry in New York State has, to a large extent, been destroyed.

G.T.P. In Coasting Trade.

Victoria, B.C., Dec. 7.—Announcement is made from Montreal that the Grand Trunk Pacific will enter the coasting trade between Victoria, Vancouver and Prince Rupert next summer with two fast modern passenger steamers, to be ordered at once.

PRESENTATION TO MR. GEO. CHANDLER

Members of St. John's A.Y.P.A. Remember Him Before Departing for England.

Mr. George Chandler left to-day for New York, whence he will set sail shortly for England. Last night he was pleasantly surprised by the members of St. John's A.Y.P.A., with which he has been prominently connected for several years, holding the office of secretary. As a mark of appreciation of his services and his active interest in the society, he was presented with a handsome stick pin. Mr. Chandler appropriately acknowledged the remembrance and thanked the members for their kindness and the assistance given him in his office as secretary. Mr. Chandler has taken a prominent part in the city's musical circles having been one of the tenors in St. John's choir. He very recently played the part of Nanki Poo in the Mikado, which was produced at the Grand last week, and has frequently appeared in various concerts. It is understood that Mr. Chandler after an extended visit to his home will return to Peterborough. He has been one of the staff of J. J. Turner & Son's decorators.

Mr. Chandler was also presented with a seal leather bill book by Rev. Canon Davidson, and with a silk umbrella by Mr. R. J. Devey on behalf of the choir.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES AT BETHANY

Rev. J. G. Potter Conducted Services for Dr. Marsh.

Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's Church, preached anniversary services yesterday for Dr. Marsh, at Bethany, Dr. Marsh having been there for two years. The evening service was held in the Methodist Church, on account of it being larger than the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Dr. Marsh desires to thank the Methodists for their kindness in giving up their evening service and allowing the Presbyterians the use of the church.

In the evening Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Adams sang a duet and Rev. Mr. Potter a solo. A quartette also assisted in the singing. An anniversary concert will be held this evening, and a pleasant time is anticipated.

SERVICES AT ST. PETER'S TO-MORROW

To-morrow is the fast of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin and as such is a holy day in the Catholic Church Masses will therefore be celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral at 6, 8, 9 and 10 o'clock, the last mass being a high mass. A special collection will be taken up in aid of the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Will Of The Late Alex. Hamilton Leaves An Estate Amounting To $200,000---Legacies To Children

The following Toronto despatch will be read with interest here. The late Mr. Hamilton was a former resident of Peterborough, and his family are well known here:—

Toronto, Dec. 7.—Mr. Justice Britton gave judgment Friday on the application for a construction of the will of the late Alexander Hamilton, of Sturgeon Falls, who left an estate valued at $200,000. The application was made by the Toronto General Trusts, the executors.

Mr. Hamilton devised his fortune by a will dated March 17th, 1908, modified slightly by a codicil dated May 2nd, 1908, a few days before his death.

The executors were directed to invest $20,000 to provide an annuity for the widow, who would, in addition to maintenance and clothing of each of their nine children, so long as they resided with the mother. The widow also inherited the house. A sum of $20,000 was left to each of seven of the children with directions in most cases that it should be invested and held in trust for them until they reached the age of 35. In the meantime, they were to receive annuities up to $500. The other two children were to divide the residue of the estate, after the payment of the estate, also at the age of 35, but till that period they were to be allowed $1,000 a year each.

Mr. Hamilton also left $10,000 to be invested for the benefit of the children of his brother, Robert; $500 each to two nieces; $250 to a sister, Mrs. Anderson, living in Ireland; $250 to W. Dundas, mail clerk, apparently a nephew, and $150 each to the surviving children, six or seven, of another sister, Margaret Dundas, of Fermanagh, Ireland.

His Lordship decided that four of the children, Mabel, Lottie, Erma and Herbert, were entitled to receive their legacies upon reaching the age of 21.

With regard to the amounts the children are permitted to draw till they are entitled to receive their legacies, His Lordship held that these were to be deducted from their legacies and were in addition to the $300 a year allowed to their mother for their maintenance.

The Principles Of Socialism--- Lecture By Provincial Organizer--- "The Capitalist Is A Parasite"

The principles of Socialism were expounded by Mr. Wilfrid Gribble, Toronto, provincial organizer of the socialistic party in Canada, to a small audience in the Union Hall, Simcoe street, yesterday afternoon. About two dozen men were present, and they followed the remarks of the speaker with close and earnest attention. Mr. Gribble is a forcible and impressive speaker, who makes his points quietly and his explanations in a simple manner that adds force to his arguments. He is evidently very enthusiastic over his subject which has doubtless been made the object of much earnest study.

Mr. R Mitchell occupied the chair and introduced the lecturer in a short speech.

Some of the most significant features in Mr. Gribble's address of about an hour and one-half follow:

I am not here to entertain you or say pretty things to you. I'm here to tell you the truth. Other Socialistic speakers have no doubt talked to you in impassioned language and have fired your enthusiasm so that that night you were red hot. Then you forgot all about it as soon as the temporary effect had worn off.

We of the working class own nothing. I have seven or eight dollars in my pocket, and that is all I own.

There is plenty in the world for everyone and yet there are more hungry children to-day than there ever were.

We as a class have got to get up and take over the means of production.

Between us and our inheritance is a small class who own what we want, and who dictate to us the terms on which we live or die.

I hope the hard times will never go unless capitalism goes with them. I hope they last until the working men wake up.

We own our labour power, our life force, our power to take hold of raw material and turn it into finished articles, and we sell that power in the market like butter, eggs or cheese.

You working men get just enough to live on. You don't rest to-night because you have worked to-day, but so that you can work to-morrow.

Are you going to wait for a Moses to lead you into the Promised Land? Because if you are you will wander around in the desert for eternity.

The capitalist class has no intelligence at all. The capitalist has no useful office in society. He is merely a parasite who sucks the blood of society.

You working men are the only intelligent class. You have lots of intelligence but not much sense. You want some horse sense; you want to get rid of a little of the dope and think for yourselves, and then there will be something doing.

There is plenty of raw material to produce every good thing we want, but between us and the raw material there is the capitalist class. We must remove that class if we hope to enter into possession.

You may talk about right and truth and justice, as long as you like, but men are moved by their material interests and not by the sense of right and wrong.

There is no such thing as absolute right or wrong. Power has always been the right.

The sooner you quit talking about your rights and commence to use your power, the quicker you will get your rights.

The club that our primeval ancestor used to get his dinner with is still in existence to-day. It hangs, a little more polished, from the belt of every policeman.

That's what policemen and soldiers and sailors are for, to keep you working men down.

I want you to realize that you are nothing but slaves, a lot of cattle who will remain such until you free yourselves.

It looks ridiculous for me to come here and talk Socialism to two dozen men out of a population of 15,000 people. But you must remember that in Europe there are thirty million members of the greatest political movement in history.

The aim of socialism is not to bring about the social revolution. That will come without the Socialists. Our aim is to guide and teach so that when the revolution does come the people will be educated. The greater learning, the more peaceful will be the revolution.

Capitalism is sitting on the safe valve of a boiler and it will explode some day.

In doing something for the women and children of the present day, I feel that I am regaining some of my lost childhood.

The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of several Socialistic songs, including the Red Flag of Freedom.

Druggists Not Allowed To Counter-Prescribe---Trouble In Toronto

In Toronto there is a war between the Medical Council and the Retail Druggists' Association regarding the alleged counter-prescribing of the latter for customers who ask for lotions, etc., which the druggists sometimes makes up contrary to the Medical Act. A druggist it is understood fills out a prescription which a person may ask for and which has been ordered by a doctor, but it is against the law for them to diagnose a case and sell a preparation of their own unless it is already in bottles on their shelves, labelled and ready for sale. In other words a man could not state his ailment to a pharmaceutist and the latter prepare a lotion for him. This is the law as stated to a reporter by one of the leading druggists of the city.

The Toronto medical men are said to have "spotters" enter the drug stores for the purpose of learning whether the druggists are keeping within the law.

Mr. Jas. A. Fife Has Accepted The Inspectorship Of Schools

Mr. Jas. A. Fife, former Science Master at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, but during the last two years Mathematical master in the Edmonton High School, has been appointed to the position of school inspector of the Strathcona district, which in situation to Edmonton is the same as East City or Ashburnham to Peterborough. Referring to his appointment the Edmonton Bulletin contains the following:

"At the end of the present year the resignation will take effect of J. A. Fife, mathematical master in the Edmonton High School. Mr. Fife has been appointed to the position of inspector of schools for the Strathcona district in place of John Ross, who is now acting deputy minister of education, and will, upon Mr. McKenzie's return be his assistant.

"It is expected that Mr. Ross will take up his position as assistant to the deputy early in the year. Mr. Ross has been school inspector in the Strathcona district for several years."

Mr. Fife's Peterborough friends will learn with pleasure of his success in the west.

PRIVATE ART EXHIBIT.

The Refreshment Committee will look after the tea, ice cream, X-mas pudding, cake and candy tables in the gymnasium. Kind friends of the Y.W.C.A. have promised to loan old-fashioned, and modern specimens of needlework. One white crochet bedspread displays a life-size peacock pattern. Another exhibitor will show work for which she spun the yarn. Hammered brass, basketry, and modelling will form a part of this interesting exhibit, besides clever manual training work. Friends who can loan anything for this Domestic Arts and Crafts exhibit are requested to send parcels, directed to "Arts and Crafts," care of Miss McCalla, secretary, a day or two before Friday, Dec. 18, 1908. 1d

SCHOOL OF COOKERY CLOSING

The Y.W.C.A. ladies who are in charge of the Domestic Science closing, Friday afternoon and evening, Dec. 18, have their arrangements well under way. The Domestic Arts and Crafts exhibit, together with that of the Camera Club will take place in the green drawing room, while the Food Sale and classes at work will be conducted in the gymnasium. The programme will cover from 3 to 6 in the afternoon, and 8 to 10 in the evening. A short pantomime entitled, "The Reveries of a Bachelor," will be one of the features of the evening. Afternoon tea will be served from 3.30 to 5.30, and ice cream and cake, and tea, from 9 to 10 p.m. Mrs. Cressman and Miss Nicholls will be the hostesses in the green drawing room in the afternoon, and Mrs. Roger and Mrs. Walsh in the evening.

A table committee will take charge of the art, embroidery, needlework, crochet and knitting, lace and manual dexterity tables, while the camera exhibit will be looked after by a club committee. Ribbons will be awarded this class of work. Mr Fred Roy being the professional judge, Miss Hatton and Mrs. Hughes-Charles completing the judging committee. 1d

LAST COUNCIL MEETING OF THE YEAR

The last regular meeting of the City Council for the year will be held this evening, and it is expected that there will be a lengthy and busy session although a number of matters were practically disposed of at the Committee of the Whole Council on Thursday night of last week. Amongst the most important business to come up to-night is the consideration of two by-laws, one for the purchase of the Exhibition grounds at a cost of $30,000, and the other providing for an appropriation of 40,000 for the erection of a new bridge over the river as recommended by the Board of Works.

It is expected that the isolation hospital question will also be decided to-night, at least an effort will be made to dispose of the question, of which so much has been said and so little done in the past few years.

Special Showing of

New Black Dress Goods

Varied as this assortment of New Black Dress Goods is, every weave in the collection can be highly recommended for its exceptional beauty.

There is a real lustre and an evenness of weave peculiar to these particular fabrics which warrants us in claiming they are the finest Black Dress Goods ever shown in Peterborough.

Mourning Orders Receive Special Attention

The showing of Black Fabrics especially suitable for Mourning Dress is the most complete in town.

Our Dress Making Department invites Mourning Orders, which receive preference over all others. The quality of our work and materials is of highest character, yet our prices will make a strong appeal because of their extreme reasonableness.

See the splendid assortment and the very low prices.

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL FOR MAN WHO STOLE LESLIE FIFE'S FUR COAT

Robert Arrowsmith was sentenced to six months in goal for the theft of a fur-lined coat belonging to Leslie Fife, son of Mr. Jas. A Fife, from the Edmonton city rink, a short time ago. Young Fife was responsible for Arrowsmith's arrest, having captured him and taken him to the police station. A despatch gives the following account of the police court trial:

Before Magistrates Wilson and Weeks Robert Arrowsmith, who gave his age as 22 years, but who looked much younger, pleaded guilty of what he said was his first criminal act, of stealing a fur-lined coat valued at $100 and owned by Leslie Fife, from Shaffner's rink on Wednesday night. He was sentenced to six months at Fort Saskatchewan, the magistrates remarking that a great many cases of petty theft had been reported to the police recently and they were determined to stop it at possible.

Arrowsmith had strayed into the city rink on Wednesday evening, and picked up the fur coat, which he saw with a number of others in the dressing room. He was given a severe lecture by the magistrates, and as there appeared no probability that he could get work for the winter and he had no money, he was given the sentence as above stated.

MAKING ICE AT THE CURLING RINK

If the cold weather keeps on there will be ice for curling at the Charlotte street rink in a few days. The first water has been put on and a foundation has been secured. The curlers are anxiously awaiting the opening of the game, and are pleased with the large number that have signified their intentions of becoming members and also with the many that have joined. There will be not a few who will play the game for the first time and altogether a splendid season is in view.

OPEN AIR SKATING RINK AND HOCKEY TEAM FOR WARSAW

Warsaw, Dec. 7.—Special—The village this year will have a skating rink. A company has been formed to undertake the matter, and already a site has been selected and a considerable sum subscribed to begin operations of providing an outdoor rink. The prospects are that a hockey team will be organized and that a team will be placed in either the City Hockey League or the Trent Valley League, if entrance can be obtained.

The regular meeting of the Belmont Club will be held this evening when among th general business that will be brought up will be the question of putting a team in the City League. There are a number of good men in the club and it is likely that the idea will be carried out.

THE FRUITS OF THE EARTH

Seem To Be Nature's Provision For Keeping Man Healthy and Warding Off Disease.

Cereals, vegetables and meat supply the elements needed for man's nourishment. Yet fruit — though it has very little food value—has proved to be absolutely necessary for perfect health.

Careful investigation has shown that all the common fruits act on the Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Skin. These are the organs that rid the body of dead tissue and waste products, and the fruit juices stir them up to more vigorous action, thus keeping the whole body clean and healthy.

But few people eat enough fruit. Realizing this, after several years of experimenting, a prominent Canadian physician succeeded in combining the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes in such a way that the medicinal action is many times multiplied. Then he added valuable tonics and made the combination into tablets called "Fruit-a-tives." They are really Nature's cure for Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness and Stomach Troubles. Mild as Nature itself — but more prompt and effective. Sold by dealers at 50c. a box—6 boxes for $2.50—trial size box 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

QUEEN'S STUDENTS AND POLICE FIGHT

The Annual Rush at Kingston Ends in Free Fight.

SIX STUDENTS ARE JAILED

Attempt to Enter Theatre Is Defeated By Squad of Policemen and a Long Battle Takes Place In Which Citizens Assist the Law—Clubs and Stones Were Used and Many Persons Were Hurt.

Kingston, Dec. 7.—Police and Queen's students clashed Saturday night, following the Alma Mater Society elections, when the students made their usual rush.

They stormed the Grand Opera House, where "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was being produced, and after Manager Branigan refused them admittance one of the hottest rows that has taken place in Kingston for years resulted. At one time it looked as if soldiers from the barracks would have to be called to quell the disturbance.

The students were out over 500 strong. The manager of the show, all the ushers, some soldiers and attendants lined up at the theatre door armed with clubs, and assisted the police in keeping out the crowd, but in the melee the fine glass front and railings were destroyed. All the exits had to be locked to keep the students out.

After an hour's fight the police drove the students out of the theatre corridor, and the fight was renewed on the street. The students armed themselves with stones, clubs, stole eggs from nearby stores and then went after the police. Orders were given that the ringleaders should be arrested. Citizens went in and helped the police, and free fights followed. There was a regular shower of eggs and stones, and several of the officers were struck with clubs.

The police succeeded in keeping hold of six of the main offenders until within a stone's throw of the police station, when there was another encounter. Students gathered around the officers and orders were given the latter to use revolvers and this alone had the effect of quieting the crowd. A couple of officers were kicked in the face and badly used up. Several students also received severe hurts from coming into contact with policemen's batons.

The row occurred right in the business centre and business was practically suspended. Many spectators were struck with eggs and stones, and several stores near the opera house also decorated with stolen hen fruit.

The students will be arraigned in police court to-day. Bail was asked and refused, and they were compelled to spend Sunday in the cells.

GETS PRAYERS FOREVER.

Albany Men to Have One Every Day as Long as World Lasts.

Albany, N.Y., Dec. 7.—While the world lasts and the Roman Catholic Church is in existence a prayer will be said daily for the soul of the late Peter Cagger of Albany. Mr. Cagger left $5,000 to Bishop T. M. A. Burke of Albany, in consideration for which a prayer is to be said during mass at least once each day forever for the repose of Peter Cagger's soul. The prayer is to be called the Elizabethan, in memory of his mother.

The rest of the property goes to William C. Cagger, a brother, whose home is in this city, but who has for several years been in France. It was provided in Peter Cagger's will that his brother was not to receive any share of the estate if he ever renounced his citizenship in the United States or allowed his children to be raised in any other faith than the Roman Catholic.

Falls Overboard.

London, Dec. 7.—Alfred Dobson, agent-general for Tasmania, while crossing the channel from Boulogne to Folkstone, Saturday night, was drowned. One of the officers warned him that he could not be allowed to remain where he was, whereupon Dobson threw up his hands and fell overboard.

Sir Robert Hart Coming.

Toronto, Dec. 7.—Over 400 delegates from all parts of the world will attend the national laymen's missionary congress, to be held in Massey Hall, March 31, April 1, 2, and 3. Sir Robert Hart, British Ambassador to China, will be present.

Skin Diseases.

A diseased or disfigured skin will always leave its stamp on the mind of the individual. Many people suffering from disfiguring skin diseases avoid society and lose all pride in their personal appearance. When the skin breaks out in eruptions and sores it is due entirely to an impure condition of the blood.

In all such cases Burdock Blood Bitters will quickly purify the blood and drive all the impurities out of the system.

ITCHING RASH CURED.

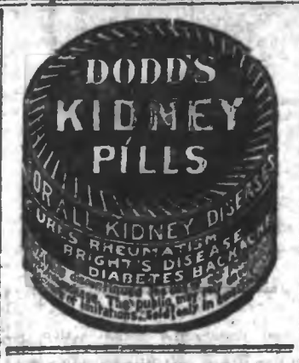
Mrs. J. J. Magee, Jr., Kinmount, Ont., writes: "In the spring of 1906 I was troubled with a Rash that broke out all over me. It was the worst on my face and head, had a dry, scaly top, and when I would get warm it would become very itchy. I tried the doctor's medicine but it did me no good, so I then got one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before it was all used the Rash was entirely gone."

SORES ON FACE.

Mrs. Harvey Barkhouse, Gold River, N.S., writes: "I was greatly troubled with Sores on my face and finally became so bad I had to go to the doctor about it, but he could do nothing to help me.

"I thought about Burdock Blood Bitters and decided to try a bottle. I cannot recommend B.B.B. enough, as I had not taken all the bottle before my face was cured."

For sale by all druggists and dealers.



EVIDENCE CONTRADICTORY.

Detective Is Positive That He Got Whisky In Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Dec. 7.—There was a somewhat sensational scene between Lawyer H. G. Tucker, counsel for Charles Crook, accused of illegal sale of liquor, and Stewart, the "informer," at Saturday's trial. Stewart swore positively to having been served with whisky, though the defence declared only local option beer had been served. Then Mr. Tucker reverted to the incident earlier in the week, when he was charged with having tried to bribe Stewart to affect his evidence, and said Stewart had in court admitted he might have made a mistake as to Tucker. This Stewart flatly denied and repeated he was sure the lawyer was the man. When the latter produced a black purse, Stewart was positive he had had a brown purse, which he had described.

Alex. Coorian corroborated Stewart as to the serving of drinks.

Wakeford and Pat Tansley, in giving evidence for the defence, said that they had been in the bar and ... observed that the detectives were supplied with only local option beer.

BAD FIRE AT KINGSTON.

Wormwith Piano Works Are Completely Wiped Out.

Kingston, Dec. 7.—Fire at 2 o'clock Sunday morning almost totally destroyed the Wormwith Piano Works and the wholesale grocery of W. G. Craig & Co., with a loss of over $120,000.

The blaze started in the varnish-room and quickly spread, so that it was impossible to save the pianos, over 200 of which were in course of construction. Men from A Battery went in and rolled out the safe. In this were notes to the value of $40,000. The staff numbered ninety men and boys.

All the machinery was ruined and the men lost their tools. The total loss is $90,000.

The building was a handsome stone structure, owned by the company, and was used for over twenty years by Fox, Stevenson & Wormwith.

Craig's wholesale grocery was in one end. The loss there is $30,000, with insurance of $26,000. One thousand dollars' worth of tea was saved.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

The United States have signed an arbitration treaty with Peru.

A Chinaman was blown to pieces in Vancouver while thawing out dynamite.

At Bayonne, N.J., Saturday, a 75,000 gallon oil tank exploded; loss $50,000.

J. S. Gibson, formerly license commissioner for Muskoka, has resigned to become a hotel clerk in Gravenhurst.

Owen Sound liquor interests may publish a paper temporary during the local option campaign, the three local papers being against the repeal of the bylaw.

The report that Germany and Japan propose to conclude an agreement concerning China, similar in terms to the American-Japanese understanding, is without foundation.

Jailbreaker Ends Life.

Lindsay, Dec. 7.—William Brooks, the young man who escaped from the ... here last week and was captured on Sunday evening at Pefferlaw, committed suicide in his cell in the county jail Saturday morning by hanging himself with a towel.

The deed was committed while the turnkey was away at breakfast. On returning he found Brooks dead. The prisoner had hanged himself by means of a towel tied to the grating in his cell door.

No doubt the fear of an extension of his previous eighteen months' sentence for horse-stealing led him to take his life.

Bank Teller's Suicide.

New York, Dec. 7.—While being driven to his home in Plainfield, N.J., from the railway station at Westfield, N.J., late Saturday, William L. Murray, paying teller of the Empire Trust Co. of this city, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

Girl Dies From Burns.

Walter's Falls, Dec. 7.—Miss Sarah McLean is dead as the result of a serious burning received early in the week. She accidentally set fire to the curtains and in attempting to extinguish the blaze, her light night clothing caught fire.

$600 For Two Fingers.

Kingston, Dec. 7.—At Napanee L. W. Maracle recovered $600 and costs from R. Taylor, brick maker, Frederickburg, as damages for the loss of the first front finger, and half of the second finger of his right hand in a machine.

Election Case Dismissed.

Chatham, Dec. 7.—William Marchand and Fred Harris of Tilbury charged by Conservatives with perjury in connection with the recent Dominion election, were tried before Judge Dowlin on Saturday and dismissed.

Suicide's With Rifle.

Leduc, Alba., Dec. 7.—After driving his wife and family to a school entertainment, Richard Duncan, 60 years of age, walked a mile up the road and shot himself with a rifle.

Asylum Scorched.

Montreal, Dec. 7.—About $20,000 damage was caused on Saturday by fire at the insane asylum at Verdun.

Place For Hindus.

Montreal, Dec. 7.—Brigadier-General Swayne, governor of British Honduras, who has been delegated by the Imperial authorities to look into the Hindus difficulty in British Columbia, is now in the city and he states that he is quite convinced that some six hundred of these people can be taken to Honduras at once and employed in farming, for that is the work they are most accustomed to at home.

He also believes that in a short time all of the 1,500 can be taken care of and the embarrassing question solved to the satisfaction of all concerned. Gen. Swayne says that he will treat direct with the men, as he understands their tongue.

LONGBOAT BEATEN AT TEN MILES; SMALLWOOD TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

SHRUBB CALLED TURN IN ADVANCE

When Alf Shrubb was here last week, in discussing Longboat's career with the sporting editor of the Examiner, the English crack said, "If Longboat races Smallwood on Saturday I think he will be beaten, as Smallwood is a runner of some class, who has given me some hard races at ten miles." Shrubb's dope in this case is about right, as the following despatch shows:

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 6.—Special.—Percy Smallwood, of Wales, England, defeated Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian, in a special ten-mile match race on Saturday night in the 2nd Regiment Armoury. The winner's time was 55.10 1-2, and he captured the event by a lap and a half. The track was fourteen laps to the mile. Both got a good start. Smallwood sprang into the lead, but he only held it until the beginning of the eighth lap, when the Canadian went in front and stayed there until the end of the first mile, which was covered in 5 minutes and 13 seconds. Smallwood once more took the lead in the second mile, and maintained it until the fourth, when Longboat spurted and put a quarter of a lap between himself and his opponent. Soon after the fifth mile the runners started to hit it up. The sixth was made in five minutes flat, or in faster time than the first. The Englishman once more went in front. At the finish of the seventh he had half a lap on Longboat, who looked to be tired. On the tenth lap off the eighth mile Smallwood lapped his man, amid tremendous excitement. Although he sprinted hard, Longboat could not cut his opponent's lead down until in the final mile, after a terrific burst of speed, he gained half the distance of the track upon the leader, but it was his last sprint, and once more Smallwood went ahead, and retained the lead until the finish of the race.

Summary: Time of miles—1st mile, 5.13; 2nd mile, 10.40; 3rd mile, 16.22; 4th mile, 21.55; 5th mile, 27.51; 6th mile, 33.00; 7th mile, 38.25; 8th mile, 44.56; 9th mile, 49.27; 10th mile, 55.10 2-5.

PETERBORO' AND OTHER CLUBS ASKED TO SEND ENTRIES TO O. H. A. SECY.

Toronto, Dec. 7.—A meeting of the executive committee of the O. H. A. to arrange the groups in all three series of the association will be held on Tuesday December 15th, and any team not entered by that date will not be included in the grouping.

Hockey clubs intending to enter teams in any series must send in their entries and their fees at once to the secretary, W. A. Hewitt, Daily Star office, Toronto.

Clubs are requested to make suggestions as to grouping, as the committee is desirous of doing its best to satisfy the clubs in the arrangement of districts, and secretaries are also requested to state specifically what series they desire to play in, so that their teams can be grouped properly.

The following clubs are requested to write to the secretary at once, stating their intentions: Alliston, Bowmanville, Berlin, Brockville, Brantford, Bracebridge, Clinton, Copper Cliff, Coldwater, Dunnville, Drumbo, Grimsby, Guelph, Hamilton, Hespeler, Huntsville, Listowel, Markham, Newmarket, New Liskeard, New Hamburg, Owen Sound, Preston, Peterborough, Port Colborne, St. Catharines, Sudbury, Smith's Falls, St. Thomas, Victoria Harbor, Welland.

Playing certificates will not be issued until after the first meeting of the executive, and will be sent out to all the clubs at the same time.

The rule books will be issued Christmas week, and will contain the usual information for clubs and players. Ten copies will be sent to each team.

HASSAN ABDALLAH IN THE LIME-LIGHT TO WRESTLE CYCLONE BURNS IN TORONTO

Our old college friend, Hassan Abdallah, the Sultan's favourite wrestler, you know, who was defeated by Gene Hurtubise here this fall in two-step time, is in the limelight once more, as the following Toronto despatch shows:

Toronto is to see one of the big Turkish wrestlers in action next week. (Manager C. W. Smith, of the Riverdale Arena, has succeeded in matching Cyclone Burns, the grappler, who beat Jim Stockly, the English champion and won the title at Wigan, England, in April, and Hassan Abdallah, the Sultan's wrestler.

They meet next Friday night at Riverdale, best 2 in 3 falls. The Turk wanted Graeco-Roman, while Burns stuck out for catch-as-catch-can. They compromised since with a mixed style, the winner of the fastest fall having the choice of the style for the third fall. Hassan Abdallah weighs 210 pounds, while the Cyclone strips 198.

The Turk is the grappler who cleaned up the field on the famous Barzilian tourney a year ago. He was also third at Paris.

MIDGETS TAKE TWO FROM EXAMINER B AND ARE NOW IN SENIOR PLACE IN RACE

The Midgets of the ten pin league continue their victorious career and on Saturday night at the P.B.C. they took two games from the Exam. B, after losing the opening contest by four pins. In this game, Richea, of the B's was in excellent form, piling up a total of 183, the best single score of the evening. In the second contest, however, he went to pieces, and though his team mates toppled over the pins in championship form they could not quite overcome the handicap and lost the contest by 120 pins.

Carol Hayes was the most consistent performer of the evening rolling up a total of 472 pins, Giroux being a good second.

The Midgets are now in second place, but they will have to go their best to maintain their position this week as their next game is with the Belmonts on Friday night.

To-night the Bankers will meet Lang and the occasion will mark the last appearance on Peterborough alleys of one of the most popular fellows who ever rolled a ball down these or any other alleys, Charlie Hemstead, who has been transferred by his bank to Toronto, after three years' residence here, during which period he has endeared himself to everyone with whom he has come in contact.

The scores Saturday night follow.

BELLEVILLE LADIES ARE GOING TO "CURL"

Peterborough ladies who may intend to accept the invitation of the curlers to use the new rink during the winter may be interested to know that the ladies of Belleville have formed a club and are going to play the game this winter. The report of their meeting is as follows:

At an enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Ladies' Curling Club of this city, held on Friday, the following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Byron Hudson.
Secretary—Miss Helen Wallbridge.
Treasurer—Mrs. W. Ross Ostrom.
Managing Committee — Miss A. Percy Allen, Miss Her.

The prospects for the coming season are bright and the membership has so increased that it was decided to build a clubroom of their own on the curling rink.

THE CLEVELAND MAN APPEARS TO BE SOME BOWLER

Cleveland, Dec. 5—With a record of 1,590 pins in seven games, in competition, for an average of 227, Louis Franz looks the country over without seeing very many bowlers in his class.

His scores in these games were 201, 279, 215, 241, 209, 266 and 216.

Franz is bowling champion of Cleveland, and it is a peculiar fact that since he recently wrested that honour from its former holder, his stunts with the pins have far exceeded all his former performances, although he was always a crack bowler.

Franz had a previous mark of 213 as a seven-game average, and that was acknowledged as the high mark. It was never beaten. Now he has boosted it so high that there seems little likelihood of its being outdone.

In his second game in which he rolled 279, one lone pin left standing in the first shot of the fourth frame was all that stood between Franz and a perfect 300 score.

At the Ohio tourney at Canton several years ago he rolled 736 in three games, an average of 246.

Franz is a natural bowler. He has confidence in every ball he rolls.

"Accurate sight is the chief factor in good bowling," he says.

"I deliver the ball with as easy a swing as possible. My aim is to hit the 1-3 crotch. I don't lose my nerve, and that has won me several championships, because my opponents would go 'up in the air' at critical places."

Franz began to bowl in Germany when he was a boy, twenty-five years ago.

THE LADIES DESIRE TO ENTER CURLING ARENA

The ladies of Peterborough seem to be very much in earnest on the question of curling. It is very evident that if the officers of the Peterborough Curling Club can see their way to consenting to the use of their rink at certain stated times by the ladies, that a strong local curling organization composed exclusively of members of the gentler sex, could be formed.

OMEMEE WILL PLAY IN LINDSAY LEAGUE

The Omemee Beavers' Hockey Club re-organized Friday night for the coming season with the following officers:—

Patron—J. C. Eaton.
Hon. Pres.—W. McLean.
President—J. B. L. Grout.
Vice-Pres.—Charles Bent.
Secretary—M. L. Magee.
Treasurer—Dr. Sutton.
Manager—R. H. Johnson.

It was decided to enter a team in the Lindsay Town League.

CHURCH LEAGUE WILL MEET THIS EVENING

A meeting of the church league has been arranged for this evening in the Y.M.C.A., when all of the churches that intend entering this league should have a representative present as the hockey season is close at hand and it is necessary that the various teams get under way. There are many things that are to be discussed to-night, and none of the churches that have teams in prospect should be unrepresented.

HOCKEY

Galt O. H. A. intermediate will play in London on New Year's night with the London O. H. A. intermediates.

Guelph Herald: Buck Irving is intending to try out a number of players who have distinguished themselves on the Preston and other amateur teams—a plan that is sure to arouse a great deal of interest in these towns.

Brantford Expositor: Berlin has offered Rowley Young and Bruce Ridpath $45 a week to play with the Dutchmen. (Well, what do you know about that? Last year about ten plunks per week was Vogelsang's limit. Two elections in one year and another chance for Mayor Huber has just about sent Germantown bugs.

Collingwood News-Messenger:—Barrie, Collingwood, Orillia and Midland will likely form an intermediate district and it will play hockey from the start, as this group is composed of four of the fastest intermediate teams in the O. H. A., and the winners should not be far off for the championship. Look to past years, and we find that Collingwood has been in the finals for the past two years, and Midland champions last year. Jack Dyment says he has a fast bunch, and the way Orillia is working they should also be in front. Midland at first wanted to travel in senior company, but when they saw the clubs entering the O. H. A., they pulled in their horns.

Pete Sanagan, manager of the Eureka Hockey Club, announced this morning that this growing organization would place three teams on the ice this winter. A fast team has been entered in the intermediate series of the O. H. A., and according to the latest announcement, two teams are being organized to play in the junior series. Lots of material is available and Pete says he intends to confine his attention to the West Enders and to no other club. The players will get into shape shortly by doing regular road work. —Toronto News.

Shamrocks are said to have offered Harry Smith $700.

It has been announced that Riley Hern and Art Ross are as good as signed by the Wanderers. Johnston is also practically signed, while a contract has been mailed to Billy Kean, of Winnipeg. Erne Liffiton may also be on the forward line.

Edmonton Stanley Cup challengers will play in Fort William on their way to Montreal.

In the event of a formation of a new hockey league, as is now under consideration by the Montreal Hockey Club, application for admission will be made by the Emmet Hockey Club of Ottawa. As Ottawa Victorias have already signified their intention of breaking into the new league, this will mean four Ottawa teams playing in three senior hockey leagues, rather a new departure in the capital. The other two teams are Ottawa and Cliffsides.

Edmonton, Dec. 4.—A despatch sent out from Montreal hits Edmonton hockey enthusiasts a pretty hard slap and does it in the coolest way imaginable. About the only way to get back at these confident eastern men is to send down a hockey team after the Stanley Cup that will wipe the ice with the Wanderers and then take a short trip through Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba and clean up the other sceptical ones afterwards. Here is the despatch referred to, in which the insinuation is obvious:

"The Montreal Shamrocks are in communication with some of the Western men, including Joe Hall and Barney Holden, but so far have heard from neither. Shamrocks are a bit disappointed over the fact that McNamara has gone to Edmonton with Fred Whitcroft's outfit, but think it likely that when the Stanley Cup challengers come East they may leave McNamara behind them."

Brighton, Dec. 4.—It is expected that a league will be formed with Brighton, Colborne, Warkworth and Trenton as members. All of those places have a number of enthusiastic hockeyists and will have strong teams this season. A rink is under construction here and the enthusiasm shown augurs well for the success of the local club.

The Edmonton Bulletin says:—

All those who intend going east to Montreal with the Edmonton hockey team in December should hand in their names at once to the secretary, E. E. Chauvin, so that arrangements can be made for as good a rate as possible. The team will leave here for the east about December 15th, and will return some time in January. All subscriptions in aid of this plan of the Edmonton Hockey Club of putting a Stanley Cup team on the ice should be paid in at once to J. C. McDougall, the treasurer.

The team is now doing some good work every day on the City Rink, where they practice between 11 and 12. Old hockey men who have seen them work out, say the forward line is certainly fast. With another month's steady practice the team should be in pretty good shape by the end of December for their games with the Montreal Wanderers.

The club are still negotiating with Fred Taylor, of Ottawa, and with Si Griffiths and Petrie. To-day a despatch was received from Ottawa to the effect that Taylor would play this year with the Ottawa team, so the chances of the locals getting him are rather slim. Si Griffiths is at present out at the Pacific coast. He is a good cover and played with the Kenora team two years ago when they won the Stanley Cup. Griffiths did not play last year and might not be in very good condition for hockey now. The local club have made him a good offer provided he makes good, and expect a reply shortly. Advances have also been made to Petrie, but the prospects of getting him are not very bright.

RUGBY

London Advertiser.—The announcement that Ben Simpson and George Ballard, of the champion Tigers, will retire from the gridiron this year is to be regretted by all true lovers of sport. Hamilton little realize that they are undoubtedly the greatest exponents of real Rugby to-day. Both are "heady" players, and are invaluable to any team. They quit with glory, at all events.

The Bad Spot.

An Irishman one day was told to put up a signboard on which were the words, "To Motorists—This Hill Is Dangerous."

Away went Mike with the signboard and placed it at the bottom of a very steep hill. A few days later his employer went to see how the board was put up and, finding it at the bottom of the hill, sought and found Mike.

"You blooming fool!" he cried. "Why didn't you put that sign in the right place?"

"Shure and ain't it?" asked Mike. "Don't all the accidents happen at the bottom?"—Harper's Weekly.

MRS. BRITON.

How Woman Upholds "British Pluck" Abroad.

"It is my order Go!"

The frail little Englishwoman, reclining in a cane chair on the verandah of the "great house" on a Jamaican plantation, looked quietly at the angry negro standing before her. He had a long "machete"—native cutlass—in his hand, and his face was convulsed with fury. Neither of them was aware that I had just come up within earshot. For all the woman knew, there was no white man within a dozen miles. She was living alone on the plantation.

"Ise not gwine. Me kill you first!"

He handled his machete threateningly. The woman did not move, or show the slightest fear.

"Go! I have discharged you!" she repeated.

His passion died before her calm ease, and, with a mumbled apology, he slunk off. When I praised her pluck, she said lightly:

"Oh, that's nothing! I have little troubles of that sort fairly often, and so does every other Englishwoman in the tropics, I suppose. If we didn't know how to manage the natives, there would soon be an end of all things!"

There would soon be an end of the British Empire, anyway. I have traveled widely, and lived in several British colonies. Everywhere I have found that the Englishwoman's sterling character and courage contribute more than anything else to the prestige which England enjoys among the yellow, brown, and black peoples. She is so different from their women.

In Penang I was once introduced to a lady who was well known as the heroine of an adventure with Dacoits. She had shot three of them who broke into her house one night, armed to the teeth. In Karachi I was honored with the acquaintance of a lady missionary who had won distinction by going alone to a fanatical Brahmin village during plague time, and compelling some measure of sanitation by the sheer force of her personality. In Bangkok I once met a young English girl who, so I was assured, had saved many lives by fighting unaided for several days an outbreak of cholera in a remote Siamese town.

These are types of the Englishwomen who build up and maintain the Empire.

LETTER ON A LATH.

Shipwrecked Captain Prepares to Send Farewell Message Home.

A piece of wood about four inches in length—part of a ceiling lath—upon which had been cut:

B. L. WATT,
452 28 ST.
BKLN NY.

constituted the "letter" which a shipwrecked man, believing that death was imminent, "wrote" to his wife.

The story of how this strange letter came to be written was told by Captain Wm. F. Watt, at the office of the Shipwrecked Mariners' Society. Captain Watt reached London recently from Rotterdam, where he had been landed by the steamship Manchester Spinner, which in mid-Atlantic had rescued him and his crew from the roof of the cabin of the water-logged schooner Grenada, on which they had spent four days and three nights without food, water or shelter.

"The Grenada," said Captain Watt, "sailed from New Brunswick on Aug. 9 with a cargo of laths for Vineyard Haven, Mass. On Aug. 27 a hurricane stripped every sail from the vessel and turned her on her beam ends. Subsequently the sea poured into the ship and waterlogged her. With no time to collect either water or food, the eight of us climbed on to the top of the cabin—25 feet by 30 feet. We had no covering beyond two strips of canvas. Rain fell pitilessly and at night it was bitterly cold. The next day I rigged a flag of distress from a bedspread.

"Hunger and thirst tortured us as the days went on and several vessels passed without seeing our signals. We all prayed for help, but on the fourth day I began to give up hope, and I scratched the message to my wife on the piece of wood, which I intended to tie to a ring which she had given me. I cut her name, 'B. L. Watt,' then the number of our house, 452, and the street, 28th street, and 'BKLN., N.Y.' for Brooklyn, N.Y. On the afternoon of the day on which I 'wrote' the message, however, the Manchester Spinner sighted us and took us aboard. When we were rescued some of the Grenada's crew were helpless and almost unconscious."

Mrs. Ward's Philanthropy.

Tall, stately, with beautiful white hair, Mrs. Humphrey Ward a charming personality, always beautifully dressed, and the possessor of some priceless lace. It is twenty-seven years ago since Mrs. Ward wrote her first book, "Milly and Olly," and since then she has written just over a dozen novels and many magazine articles. Mrs. Ward is a slow and exceedingly painstaking writer, much of her work being done at her pretty house at Tring. And when not engaged in writing she devotes her time and much of her money to practical work for the good of the poor. She is never so happy as when organizing entertainments or arranging holidays for slum children, and many an hour has the famous novelist spent helping in their amusement with tops, picture-books, and round games. In both literary and philanthropic work Mrs. Ward has always had a keen sympathizer in her husband, for many years a member of The Times' staff.

Bank of England's Water Supply.

It is not generally known that the Bank of England in London has its own water supply. One artesian well, which was sunk some years ago to a depth of 400 feet, gives a supply of 7,000 gallons per hour, and, as a direct consequence of the high cost of water in the City, the bank authorities have placed a contract to sink another well to give such an additional supply as will render the bank independent of the public supply of water.

By FORBES DWIGHT.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Cuyler stood at the gate watching the much decorated motor disappear down the road in a cloud of dust, out of which the white ribbons still fluttered in flamboyant fashion.

The ground before him was white with rice, while here and there a decrepit shoe, having done its duty in speeding the parting couple, lay in pathetic neglect, its brief moment of popularity now over.

With a grim smile Cuyler turned on his heel and made his way up the gravel walk, past the groups of pretty, laughing girls, each with its attendant train of satellites.

On the wide veranda the orchestra played lilting waltzes, to which apparently no one was listening, and near by the bride's mother, a portly, rather handsome woman, was talking gayly with a solemn faced young man, whom Cuyler recognized as the officiating rector.

"Where is Elinor?" he asked as Mrs. Trenholme turned to him with a welcoming smile which plainly invited him to join her.

"Elinor? Really, Fritz, I haven't the least idea. Isn't she down there on the lawn?"

Cuyler shook his head.

"She was standing beside me when they entered the motor," he explained, "and after they had started I found she had slipped away."

"I think," the rector interposed, "I saw her going through the house a moment ago. She went through the rear door, if I remember."

"Thank you," said Cuyler. He entered the hall, crossed to the door at the rear and stepped out on the broad veranda that commanded a fine view of the hills to the west.

Below him the formal gardens on the terrace were cool and green and, to his disappointment, apparently deserted.

Lighting a cigarette, he descended the broad steps and sauntered leisurely along the path that led down the terrace.

He had proceeded no great distance when from behind a clump of bay trees he caught the flash of a white dress.

He tossed the cigarette away and turned from the path. Behind the barrier of bay trees was a rustic seat, and, sitting very straight on this seat, her hands clasped and her eyes a most suspicious red, was Eleanor Trenholme. Cuyler was beside her in an instant.

"Well, well," he said lightly, yet not without a certain touch of gentleness in his voice, "this is rank desertion. It will never do in the world. Aren't you going to ask me to be seated?"

"I came here to be alone," she said acidulously. "I'm not sure that I want you here just now."

But nevertheless she moved over and made room for him beside her. Cuyler at once took the seat, looking at her searchingly meanwhile.

"You shouldn't feel about it the way you do," he chided gravely.

"And how do you think I feel?" she challenged.

Cuyler looked at her again. "Rather cut up, I fancy," he replied.

"You are wrong. I am not cut up, as you choose to call it, only—only"—

"Only what?" said he.

"Of course he's perfectly splendid," she said slowly, "and I am awfully proud of him, just as we all are, but—but somehow I can't help being selfish. I can't bear the idea of giving up Margaret to him. We've always been together, she and I, and—and—oh, well, I'm selfish, that's all there is to it."

Cuyler saw something glistening in her eyes. A tear coursed slowly down her cheek and hung in ridiculous fashion on the point of her chin. She brushed it away almost savagely.

"You see," Cuyler declared, "I was sure you would feel this way about it. That was why I came out here to find you."

"I'm not sure how I feel about it myself yet," said she.

"Oh, I can make a good guess," he replied. "You are very glad that she is to be happy, and yet there is a little ache in your heart that you can't deny, try as you will to do so. There is an end to something, just what you can't definitely decide, but something has gone out of your life. Of that you are certain. Isn't that it?"

"Yes. That is just it. How did you know so well?" she asked.

Cuyler turned to her, with a smile of understanding. "I have a brother," he said simply. "He was very close to me—closer, indeed, than any one else in the world—until one day he found the other and, of course, the greater happiness, just as your sister has done. It was tremendously lonely without him."

"But you got over it in time?" she asked quickly.

"In a way, yes; in another way, no," said he.

She looked at him questioningly. He was smiling down at her with a certain whimsical gravity.

"There is only one way to get even with these people—this sister of yours and this brother of mine," he asserted.

"And how is that?" she asked.

"Follow suit," said he.

Her brows wrinkled in a perplexed frown. "I don't exactly catch your meaning," she said.

Cuyler suddenly leaned toward her. There was something in his eyes that brought a quick flush to her cheeks.

"Let's not permit these other people to have all the happiness in the world. Let's reserve a little for ourselves," said he.

Her head was turned from him. Presently he saw her shoulders shake convulsively. At the same time she arose from the bench.

"I'm—I'm going down to the pond," she faltered, still refusing to look at him. "Please, please, stay here and don't come until I call you."

"Just a minute, Elinor," he pleaded. "I wanted to say"—

But with a little imperious gesture she moved away, leaving him there somewhat mystified and decidedly angry.

He sat down again on the rustic seat, drew out a cigarette and began smoking furiously. When it was burned out he lighted another and then another.

It was not until his fourth cigarette that a voice sounded faintly from the little pond at the foot of the terrace.

"Fritz!" it called. "Oh, Fritz! You may come now if you like!"

He hurried down the path. Elinor sat on the rail of the little boathouse. Her eyes were very red, and beside her lay a tiny bit of lace, crumpled and very wet.

"Elinor," he said contritely, "I didn't mean to make it any harder for you. I was trying"—

"Listen," she interrupted. "I came down here to have a last grand orgy of feelings all by my lonesome. Whatever tears I have for Margaret I wanted to shed once for all, and that's what I've done. I—I had to shed them now, because—because—what you've just said, you know—makes it—makes it—oh, Fritz, don't you see?"

The manner in which he sprang to her side told very plainly that he did see.

"And now," she said rather breathlessly a moment later, "we'd better go up to the house and tell them how I've got square with Margaret."

Stevenson on Idleness.

If a person cannot be happy without remaining idle, idle he should remain. It is a revolutionary precept, but, thanks to hunger and the workhouse, one not easily to be abused, and within practical limits it is one of the most incontestible truths in the whole body of morality. Look at one of your industrious fellows for a moment, I beseech you. He sows hurry and reaps indigestion; he puts a vast deal of activity out to interest and receives a large measure of nervous derangement in return. Either he absents himself from all fellowship and lives a recluse in a garret, with carpet slippers and a leaden ink pot, or he comes among people swiftly and bitterly, in a contraction of his whole nervous system, to discharge some temper before he returns to work. I do not care how much or how well he works, this fellow is an evil feature in other people's lives. They would be happier if he were dead.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Crazy to Expect It.

Harduppe—Say, old fellow, lend me a hundred, will you? Riggs—A hundred what? Harduppe—A hundred dollars. I— Riggs—Oh, stop your joking. Harduppe (earnestly)—Joking? I was never more serious in my life. I'm broke. Riggs—My dear man, you're not broke: you're cracked!—Catholic Standard and Times.

FOOTBALL WAR CRIES.

Britain Is Now Hearing Fierce Yells From the Colonies.

Once again a strange war-cry is being chanted in England. It is that of the "Wallabies," and is, as per sample, thus: "Win nang a lan. Win nang a lan. Win nang a lan—naur. Mu i an yilang. Bu rang a lan Bu rang a lan. Bu rang a lan—yang!"

Fearful as it looks, it sounds a good deal worse, while the gestures which accompany its delivery are terrifying; but the meaning is all right. The whole slogan, which is in the weird language used by the aborigines of Australia, may be translated: "We are pleased to meet you. May the best man win; but we'll beat you if we can."

The Maori cries are even more appalling than those raised by Canadian spectators; for, though the men of the Dominion nearly split the heavens, they vary their din by chanting their admiration of a favorite player, as: "Jones! Jones! We—like—Jones!"

One of the first colonial teams to use a native war-cry in England was that composed of Maoris, which some years back toured with much success in Great Britain. Before each match they massed, and exclaimed in ringing tones: "Ake! Ake! Kia! Kaka!" This was said to mean, "Be strong!"

The "All Blacks" also brought a war cry, which astonished spectators as much as their brilliant play. Here is the English version:

Leader: It is death! It is death!
Chorus: It is life! It is life:

This is the strong one, the man of the brawny tribe,
Who has come to us to cause
the sun to shine.
Hurrah! Hurrah!
He has caused the sun to shine!

The Maori chant was a prelude to every match, and was never omitted or allowed to be broken off. When the New Zealanders played Blackheath, the referee blew his whistle for the start while the visitors were greeting their opponents; but the strange cry went on to the end without a break. In the North of England, too, some unmannerly spectators burst into the local slogan before the Maori chant was finished. Again, however, the visitors were unruffled.

By far the most thrilling of British football slogans are those of the Welsh, who occasionally sing patriotic songs before beginning a match. The most remarkable instance was at Cardiff, when Wales defeated the "All Blacks," who had till then carried everything before them. After the New Zealanders had chanted their war-song the Welsh team sang "Land of our Fathers," and the vast assemblage of thousands took up the strain:

"The land of my fathers! The land of the free!"

The fervor, the unison, and the volume of sound electrified the New Zealanders.

A Life For a Life.

Miss Young, of the South Sea Island Evangelical Mission, who has recently returned to Brisbane, after four months among these truculent islanders, has many interesting things to relate as to their customs. Native murders, it appears, are of frequent occurrence, but a great many are the result of feuds between different tribes. Two Christian boys belonging to the mission at Malo were brutally done to death, and another Christian native at Fiu was also murdered. The crimes were unprovoked, but were committed because the islanders believed in having a life for a life. If a man belonging to a tribe is killed by another tribe there is no peace until the death is avenged, and it generally happens that the most inoffensive man in the offending tribe falls a victim. The native who was killed at Fiu left the mission station, accompanied by a child, to visit his garden some distance away. The bushmen came down, chatted with him, and they ate food together. Then the bushmen suddenly turned on him and killed him, to avenge a murder committed by his tribe some time previously. On another occasion, at Onepeiu, the head station of the mission, a native came and associated with the Christian boys, and shortly before daylight one morning this man secured an axe, struck a Christian boy on the head, and ran away. The injured boy was attended by a lady missionary, and subsequently recovered.

Huntly's Horse.

P. Huntly, the popular London, England, comedian, whose quaint utterances are quoted more than those of any other actor, is passionately fond of horses, and it is his ambition, we believe, when he has done with the stage, to devote his attention entirely to horse-breeding. Until then he has to content himself with trying his luck on the turf, and he has not been altogether unsuccessful. A dear little lady acting in his company was once questioned by a gentleman as to Mr. Huntly's hobby. The young lady must have had an extremely limited knowledge as to the proper equine equipment of a gentleman who "races," for when this topic was touched on, she replied, with a bright smile: "Oh, yes; I believe he has a horse." It is laughable to reflect on the solicitude with which Mr. Huntly must follow the doings of this solitary animal.

THE word "OXOL" does not mean one food or one preparation. No "OXOL" is a name given to all goods for horses, cattle, swine and sheep, prepared by Messrs. S. K. and T. C. Windsor, of Australia, New Zealand, England and Canada.

The veterinary preparations as well as the compressed bales of fodder placed on the market of the world under the name of

are all of the greatest possible order of merit and may be used by farmers, graziers, dairymen and all owners of stock with the full assurance that these goods have the power in a very short time to double their incomes by feeding, fattening and curing all animals, which to them means money.

Scientific Meetings will be organized by Messrs. Windsor and held through out the Dominion of Canada, when farmers desirous of improving their knowledge of stock will have an opportunity of doing so and to be instructed on the life of stock from birth to death, free of any charge.

One agent only to have sole control of the local trade.
